The Kroger's on West Logan Street in Noblesville was filled with shoppers Saturday morning who were buying food and other items before today's big snow storm was to hit Central Indiana. Many grocery stores in Hamilton County were also busy as people heeded the warning to prepare for the storm and bitter cold temperatures that are expected Monday and Tuesday.

Sunday publication is historical event in Hamilton County

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor
As a reader of today's Hamilton County Reporter's email edition, you're a part of history in the newspaper business in Hamilton County.

Never before has a Sunday newspaper been published in Hamilton County. No, not even back to the days of the old Ledger. The Reporter is owned and operated entirely by Hamilton County folks. The owner lives here, and walks your streets daily. All of our staff lives in Hamilton County. We know what "being local" is all about.

Never, on a Sunday, have Hamilton County residents awoken to a newspaper at their home, or, in this situation, a Sunday newspaper in their computers. And, wasn't it nice on this weather-beaten morning to be able to read your newspaper without ever opening the front door?

Please take the time, if you will, to think about that.

Forever, news and sporting events on Saturdays did not appear in a Hamilton County newspaper until at least Monday. If Monday was a holiday (no mail, all of that stuff) the latest news, sports, obits, etc. were dead issues until Tuesdays.

By then, obits were outdated. Funeral services were held, on occasions, before announcements ever appeared in a Hamilton County newspaper.

If by Monday, or Tuesday, you hadn't read what happened at the football or basketball game on a Saturday, you probably had lost interest in reading about it.

Waiting for the storm!

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Whenever a dangerous hurricane threatens land, the National Hurricane Center usually includes the following phrase in its storm updates: "Preparations to protect life and property should be rushed to completion."

That phrase can apply to any dangerous weather event, such as the winter storm that is expected to dump eight to 13 inches of snow on Central Indiana today. People in Hamilton County were certainly heeding the unspoken warning, as grocery stores and gas stations were packed with shoppers that were anticipating a major snow storm, followed by two days of bitter cold temperatures.

The Hamilton County Emergency Management Agency issued two releases on Saturday. The first announced that a Travel Advisory would begin at 1 a.m. Sunday. An advisory is the lowest of three levels, and means that routine travel and activities may be restricted due to hazardous conditions.

"There is no end time for the advisory as this will be contingent upon what occurs during the next few days," the statement said. "The Travel Advisory may be upgraded if conditions warrant."

The middle travel level is Watch, which means that only essential travel is allowed, such as to and from work and for emergencies. The highest level is a Warning, which means that all travel is restricted to emergency workers only.

A Winter Storm Warning began for Hamilton County and most points south at 4 a.m. Sunday and will be in effect until 1 a.m. Monday. The latest models indicate more than 8 inches of snow for Hamilton County with some forecasts of up to 12 inches. The heaviest snow is predicted to fall during the day on Sunday.

High winds will move in along with the snow creating dangerous wind chills as well as blowing and drifting snow. Wind chills of 30-40 below zero are expected. Blizzard or near blizzard conditions are expected as winds increase during the storm. (See the accompanying box for a list of warning terms.)

Hamilton County Emergency Management and the Sheriff's Office urge area residents to prepare for this weather event now. Conditions may not allow for a response once the storm has arrived since a major concern will be treacherous roads. Blizzard conditions may accompany this storm creating additional dangerous circumstances. Since loss of utilities is a possibility, all residents are encouraged to Know your winter weather terms

- During a severe winter weather outbreak, you probably hear about different watches and warnings. Here's what each one means:
- Winter Storm Warning: Issued when hazardous winter weather in the form of heavy snow, heavy freezing rain, or heavy sleet is imminent or occurring. Winter Storm Warnings are usually issued 12 to 24 hours before the event is expected to begin.
- Winter Storm Watch: Alerts the public to the possibility of a blizzard, heavy snow, heavy freezing rain, or heavy sleet. Winter Storm Watches are usually issued 12 to 48 hours before the beginning of a Winter Storm.
- Blizzard Warning: Issued for sustained or gusty winds of 35 mph or more, and falling or blowing snow creating visibilities at or below ¼ mile; these conditions should persist for at least three hours.
- Wind Chill Warning: Issued when wind chill temperatures are expected to be hazardous to life within several minutes of exposure.
- Wind Chill Advisory: Issued when wind chill temperatures are expected to be a significant inconvenience to life with prolonged exposure, and, if caution is not exercised, could lead to hazardous exposure.
- Winter Weather Advisories: Issued for accumulations of snow, freezing rain, freezing drizzle, and sleet which will cause significant inconveniences and, if caution is not exercised, could lead to life-threatening situations.
- Blowing Snow: Wind-driven snow that reduces visibility and causes significant drifting. Blowing snow may be snow that is falling and/or loose snow on the ground picked up by the wind.

- have an emergency kit prepared ahead of the storm.
- During the snow event, stay home if at all possible. Travel should only be undertaken for emergency reasons. Check local news as well as EMA and Sheriff's Office social media and Nixle (www.Nixle.com) for further travel restrictions. Staying off the roads helps keep everyone safer as well as allows county highway workers time and space to clear streets.
- Other snow safety tips:
- Walk carefully on snow covered or icy walkways
 - Avoid overexertion when shoveling or working in snow. Overexertion can bring on a heart attack, a leading cause of snow related deaths
 - Keep dry to avoid a loss of body heat. Dressing in layers helps trap body heat. Cotton is not a good choice of clothing material as it does not insulate well
 - Drive only if absolutely necessary. Let someone know your travel plans and times. Make sure you have an emergency kit in your vehicle
 - Clear your vehicle of snow and ice, especially windows, headlights, and tail lights, before driving
 - If your vehicle becomes stranded, stay with it unless shelter is less than 100 yards away. Run your car periodically for heat but make sure the exhaust pipe is clear of snow
 - Keep cell phones charged and accessible
 - Don't eat snow as it lowers the body temperature.
- If power goes out during a storm:
- Know where control valves are for all utilities. Shut off water at the main valve if pipes freeze
 - Check gas pilot lights when power is restored
 - Open cabinet doors and open faucets to help prevent freezing
 - Do not use gas or charcoal grills inside
 - Make sure kerosene and other heaters have adequate ventilation
 - Huddle with others to conserve body heat
 - Close off unneeded rooms. Stuff towels or papers around doors
 - Eat high energy foods
 - Hang blankets over windows at night
 - Check for the availability of shelters in the area. During a widespread extended power outage, shelters may be established by county officials
- Winds are expected to pick up after the bulk of the snow has fallen. Significant blowing and drifting of snow will occur,

Gas station lines were long all across the county, including at the Kroger's station in Westfield. Drivers are recommended to keep their tanks full to prevent gas lines from freezing.

From bananas to bread, not much was left in grocery stores around Hamilton County. Shoppers were stocking up on supplies in preparation of the snowstorm and bitter cold.

Westfield Fire and paramedics responded to Kroger located at State Rd. 32 and Carey Rd. in Westfield to assist a shopper that became ill.

STORM

especially in rural areas of the county. Along with this, temperatures will fall to subzero levels not seen in many years.

The National Weather Service is predicting a low of -14 for Sunday night/Monday morning, with temperatures only recovering to -10 during the day on Monday. The forecasted low is -15 for Monday night/Tuesday morning. Temperatures will "warm up" slightly on Tuesday, with a high of 3 and a Wednesday morning low of 0, before the Arctic air finally departs Indiana later that day.

The heavy snow, cold, and wind may hamper crews trying to clear area roads as chemicals are less effective at extreme temperatures and drifting closes already plowed roads.

County officials have worked with the Red Cross to identify shelters throughout the county. These will be open if needed, primarily if there is an extended widespread power outage.

The Hamilton County Emergency Operations Center will be activated at 11 a.m. on Sunday and remain staffed as needed throughout the storm. Additional information will be available on EMA and Sheriff's Office Facebook and social media sites.

Fortunately, county residents are heeding the warnings, and stocking up on necessary items before the snow arrives today. There were reports of long lines at the Kroger stores in Westfield and Noblesville. Reporter columnist Tamar Knochel went to the Meijer in Noblesville Friday night, and arrived to a full parking lot.

"Walking in, a lady coming out stopped us and said she was in line for an hour and twenty minutes and told us to 'Have fun,'" said Knochel.

Knochel said she encountered only one empty shelf: The one that contained the bananas.

"The poor produce guy was stocking the shelves as fast as he possibly could," said Knochel.

There was some humor in the shopping trip, however, when Knochel got to the checkout line.

SUNDAY

Our Sunday editions, of course, won't have the large number of pages of nearby newspapers published in other communities. Our Sunday edition won't cost you $2.00, either.

All of our email editions will give our readers the very latest news. We don't really have a deadline, of such, but our nightly goal is to get into your computer by 3 a.m.

The daily emails are just a part of who we are. We will continue our Tuesday print edition, which mainly covers northern Hamilton County. That's Noblesville, Sheridan, Cicero, Arcadia and Atlanta. We've been putting that newspaper in your paper boxes now for over one year.

Advertisers and potential advertisers, we're being told, are excited with what we're doing. Any business which purchases a quarter, half-page, or full-page ad in our Tuesday print edition can run that same ad, free of charge, the following Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and

"With every register full to the racks behind them as if it were Black Friday, I noticed a lady in the line next to me taking a picture so I asked her if she was posting it to Facebook like I just did mine," said Knochel. "She said, 'No, I'm sending it to my sister. We live in Wisconsin. It NEVER looks like this before a storm up there.' I just laughed and thought of the way we make fun of the people down south when they get a big storm like this. It's all relative, isn't it."

Actually, the South won't be spared the cold weather. Subzero temperatures are expected Tuesday morning as far south as middle Tennessee, with Knoxville forecasted to reach 1 above. Atlanta's Tuesday low is expected to be 8. Even Florida will see bitter cold - Pensacola's low for Tuesday morning is predicted to be 16.

Sheridan Offers Shelter In The Event Of Power Outage

As the county prepares for the predicted dangerously cold temperatures the Town of Sheridan has identified Sheridan Town Hall and Fire Department as a shelter in case of a power outage.

Sheridan Police Chief Bob Shock said, in the event of a power outage during the extreme cold temperatures, Sheridan and Adams Township residents may come to Sheridan's Town Hall and Fire Department, both of which have an emergency generator. Residents are asked to bring their own blankets and pillows.

Shock, along with Sheridan Fire Chief Bret Merriman, are warning people to stay home during the extreme cold weather. "If you have to get out make sure you have plenty of gas, a blanket and layer your clothing. Let someone know where you are going and expected arrival time," said Shock. Both officials requested that if residents have elderly neighbors to please check on them and not to forget pets.

Sunday in the email edition. If we haven't already contacted you and you are interested to learn about the deal, call our ad guy, Mike Corbett, at 774-7747.

How do you beat that offer? You can't. Not even the folks who charge cut-rate prices can beat FREE.

The great thing about the email editions is that they will cover all of Hamilton County. In sports, they'll cover all sports, boys and girls. And, not only with box scores and game stories. We'll do pregame coverage; special features; Hamilton County stats, columns, ect.

Rural areas; the bigger cities; smaller towns, everywhere I go I'm being asked how to get on board with the Reporter. You can find out how by checking out information elsewhere in today's edition.

So, for now, I better stop writing and get ready to head for work. Oh, I almost forgot. Today is Sunday.

Close meets at Purdue...

Lady Tigers win, Avon boys squeak past Southeastern

With so many highly-ranked teams at the Hoosier Crossroads Conference swim meet Saturday at Purdue University, it was obvious that there would be some close scores.

And that's exactly what happened. Fishers came out on top of the girls' competition, and Avon squeaking past Hamilton Southeastern to win the boys' trophy.

The Orioles outscored the Royals by only nine points (419-410) in the boys race. A close meet was expected, as HSE is ranked second in the state and Avon is third. Southeastern won two events: Cody Coldren cruised through his 11 dives to win with 563.50 points, scoring 135 points better than second-place Austin Smith of Fishers. Joe Young won the backstroke in a time of 53.79 seconds.

"This was a heartbreaker and our boys team gave everything that they had," said Royals coach Andy Pedersen. "In the end, it just was not our day. We did have the opportunity to learn a lot about our lineup today and this meet, while tough to swallow, will help our team grow into the type of team that can be very competitive at the state level."

Westfield finished third with 269 points, but did have a double winner in Nathaniel Bledsoe. The junior won the individual medley (1:55.04) by a comfortable margin and the butterfly (52.05) in a little closer race, by 0.21 seconds.

Noblesville placed sixth, with Cam Gill taking third in the 100 free and backstroke. The Millers' medley relay team of Gill, Luke Conner, Alex Wolfred and Alec May also finished third.

Fishers was seventh, with its divers leading the way. Smith was the runner-up, Stirling Fordham third and Blake Childress fourth.

The No. 2-ranked Tiger girls won with 453 points. Sixth-ranked Hamilton Southeastern was close behind at 402, and No. 5 Zionsville was next with 346.

Fishers got off to a great start, as Maggie Jahns, Abbey Schneider, Lizzy Pfeifer and Laurn Parrish won the opening event, the medley relay, in a time of 1:48.06. Emily Moser then kept the victories coming with a first-place finish in the 200 free (1:54.69).

Mary Thielking paced the 500 free with a time of 5:12.88, and Schneider picked up a second blue ribbon with a win in the breaststroke (1:07.20).

The Royals had two wins. Robyn Clevenger, Natalie Mudd, Lauren Blanchard, Allie Barnes teamed up for a victory in the 200 free relay (1:37.72), then Mudd won the next event, the backstroke. Her first-place time was 57.65.

Noblesville finished fourth as a team. Meme Sharp won the championship with a victory over a talented field, scoring 490.05 points to get the win.

Westfield placed sixth. Emily Verbrugge had the Shamrocks' best finish, taking second in the breaststroke.

Bombs away from Lady Greyhounds...

Carmel’s 1-2 punch sends Braves reeling

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Carmel’s Lady Greyhounds hit visiting Terre Haute South with a pair of punches Saturday afternoon in the Eric Clark Activity Center. The first punch stunned the visitors. The second punch knocked out the Braves in a 65-48 Carmel victory.

The first blow came as Carmel opened the game by hitting four straight and five-of-six 3-pointers, two each by Emily Kmec and Abby Abel and another by Carrie Larson. In doing so, Carmel led 27-15 at the end of the quarter and once led by 15 points, 30-15, in the early stage of the second period.

“We knew South would come back,” said Carmel coach Scott Bowen. “They are a good basketball team.”

Carmel led 41-31 at halftime and then in the third period and Greyhounds went ice-cold, scoring just six points. The Braves were down only by four, 47-43, entering the final frame.

Carmel then delivered its second, the knockout punch. The Greyhounds outscored the Braves 18-5 in the fourth quarter.

“Sometimes the 3-pointer is like fool’s gold,” Bowen said. “That happens when shots don’t fall.”

The win, following a MIC Conference victory over Lawrence Central on Friday evening, enabled Carmel to even its record at 6-6.

“We’re playing well,” said Bowen. “We’ve won two straight (3-of-4). We’ve been in every game this season, except in the (92-31) loss to Lawrence North.

Seven Greyhounds got into the scoring column against Terre Haute South. Four scored in double figures, led by Abel with 18 points. Kmec and Kennedy Kantner each notched 11 points and Carrie Larson added 10.

Kantner, a 5-11 senior center, had a super day, recording a double-double with 13 rebounds. Olivia Christy, who scored eight points, was next in line with six rebounds.

Carmel outscored South 18-7 at the line. Trailing, South was forced to foul down the stretch, and Carmel connected on 11-of-16 charity shots in the fourth quarter. Carmel with a 37-27 rebounding advantage, also outscored South 26-5 on second chance points and 17-0 with points off the bench.

“We’re now looking forward to an interesting weekend,” Bowen said. “We’ve got a conference game on Friday at Center Grove and then on the road against a good Homestead team on Saturday.”

Guerin boys move to 10-2 as...

Holba, Brennan combine for 37

Guerin Catholic won another game against a quality opponent and this time the Golden Eagles did it on a big stage, beating Evansville Harrison 57-51 Saturday afternoon in the Legacy Showcase at Indianapolis Tech.

Warren Central, Gary Bowman Academy and host Tech were the other three game winners.

The Golden Eagles led all the way, but got a push from Harrison when the Evansville club outscored Guerin Catholic 23-15 in the fourth quarter.

Guerin led 10-9 after one quarter, 22-14 at half and 42-28 entering the final period.

“We bounced back from a rough offensive night Friday at New Castle (Guerin won by a point), and really moved the basketball well after the middle of the first quarter,” head coach Pete Smith said.

“Aaron Brennan was real solid, and I thought we played real solid defense on their best player, Ernie Duncan. The responsibility went to freshman Matthew Godfrey and Matt Labus, and they both really worked hard at the defensive end. Duncan didn’t get a lot of good looks, and that was by our intent. He is a tremendous guard.”

Harrison jumped out to a 9-4 lead with 3:57 left in the first quarter. After a Golden Eagle time out, Guerin raced out to a 16-0 run, and the score was never closer than the final margin of six points.

Junior Matt Holba led Guerin’s scoring with 19 points.

“Holba bounced back from a rough night at New Castle. He was more under control tonight. Whit Rapp made some really nice passes to him,” Smith said.

Brennan finished with 18 points and Rapp added 10 points.

Brennan completed a double-double with 13 rebounds. Holba had five boards; Rapp seven assists and Brennan four assists.

Guerin Catholic, now 10-2 on the year, will play at Chatard next Friday and then on Saturday will take on Louisville Ballard at Freedom Hall.

Just like 2013...

Carmel boys still winning in 2014

Carmel’s boys basketball team has started 2014 just the way the Greyhounds ended 2013.

Winning!
Coach Scott Heady’s No. 1 ranked, two-time defending state champions made a road trip Saturday evening, traveling to winning at Terre Haute South, 63-38.

It was Carmel’s seventh straight victory of the season.

This one was never a game, thanks mainly to a Carmel defense which entered the contest averaging just 46 points a game at the defensive end. The Greyhounds led the Braves 11-3 after one quarter, and Carmel allowed Terre Haute just 11 points in the first half.

Meanwhile, Carmel sizzled the nets at the offensive end. The Greyhounds hit 20-of-27 shots from two-point territory, although going just 5-of-19 from 3-point range. Carmel was 8-of-10 at the line.

Nine different Greyhounds scored in the game, led by Zach McRoberts with 18 points. McRoberts finished a double-double with 11 rebounds and he also had five assists, two blocks and three steals.

Carmel did a great job sharing the basketball, collecting 15 assists on 25 hoops. McRoberts led with five and Michael Bruns had four.

Also scoring in double figures for Heady’s club were Ryan Cline with 11 points and Bruns with 10. Cline was 3-of-8 shooting 3-pointers.

The Greyhounds now are faced with a big weekend, hosting Center Grove in a MIC Conference game on Friday and playing at Hamilton County foe Westfield on Saturday.

After easily beating Avon...

Guerin Catholic girls make it four in a row

By RICHIE HALL

It's been an up-and-down season for the Guerin Catholic girls basketball team, but it looks like the Golden Eagles are back on the right track.

Guerin won its fourth game in a row on two this week over Concord and Jennings County. Guerin Catholic plays in 3A.

"I told them this in the locker room: If you would've told me four games ago that we'd be 4-0 after the last four games, you could've bet me anything and I probably would've taken the bet," said GCHS coach Scott Miller. "But they turned it around, and now they're starting to play with a little bit more confidence.

"We told them they've gone from average to good," said Miller. Now he wants them to go from good to great.

It's a game of inches, and if we can change those games of inches, then we'll be really good," said Miller.

Three players reached double figures: Kristen Schneider had 15 points, including a 9-of-10 effort from the free-throw line. Sarah Yount had two 3-pointers on her way to 12 points, and Carly Osinski added 10. Schneider grabbed nine rebounds, and Kristy Thiem had three blocked shots.

Guerin's schedule calms down a little bit this week, with two games on the road. The Golden Eagles play at Bishop Chatard Friday as part of a boy-girl doubleheader, then travel to New Palestine on Saturday.
