Hamilton commissioners declare disaster for county

The Hamilton County Board of Com- sub-zero temperatures hampered clearing missioners has signed paperwork declaring a disaster for Hamilton County due to the recent severe snow and cold. Full ratification of the disaster declaration will be made at Monday's meeting of the Board of Commissioners. The disaster was declared with input from local municipalities, the Indiana Department of Homeland Security, Hamilton County Emergency Management, and other local officials.

Although no estimate of the total cost has been determined yet, the severe weather caused extensive damage to private and public property throughout Hamilton County. More than a foot of snow followed by of roadways causing dangerous conditions. This in turn forced many businesses and industries as well as government offices and schools to close. Public safety officials and highway workers spent numerous hours clearing roadways and assisting the public during the storm and are still working to help the county recover.

Declaring Hamilton County a disaster area permits local government officials to seek reimbursement of storm associated expenses from the federal government if a Presidential Disaster is declared.

HAND receives year-end gift, ready for new initiatives

HAND, the Hamilton County Area Neighborhood Development, put out this press release about a end-of-2013 gift and its 2014 goals:

"HAND is very grateful for one of the biggest end of year gifts we've ever received. We'd like to thank Herman and Kittle for their year-end contribution that helped us meet our Neighborhood Assistance Program (NAP) target.

Their gift will help us advance the goal of redeveloping a vacant building on 8th St. in downtown Noblesville. Also, by satisfying this goal, it means we are eligible for tax credits in 2014! Contact me if you'd like to reserve credits and support HAND in 2014.

As we ring in the new year, HAND is ready to continue its efforts to create additional quality affordable housing and begin new initiatives supporting the individuals and neighborhoods of Hamilton County.

Here are a few things we are working on

- Completing construction of Lakeside Gardens of Cicero

- Begin working with individual homeowners through Helping HAND, a home repair program through Neighborhoods NOW Applications due February 14th

- Welcome a new staff member as Outreach Coordinator

Complete funding for Roper Capstone and expansion of Spicewood Gardens

- Pursue additional affordable housing stone on the Horizon development opportunities

The Neighborhood Assistance Program (NAP) Tax Credits from the State of Indiana is an opportunity to pass along state tax credits to a limited number of Indiana income tax payers. The NAP program allows donors to direct their tax dollars to specific programs or projects they want to support. To be eligible, non-profits must qualify and apply annually to the Indiana Housing and Development Authority Community (IHCDA). NAP Tax Credits are equal to 50% of an individual or corporation's charitable contribution.

'This is an exciting opportunity for us to provide an added benefit to our donors,' said Nate Lichti, HAND's Executive Director. 'In addition to helping us launch a new project, donors get a significant benefit on their state taxes.

A huge thanks goes to not only Herman & Kittle, but also Tom Peck, Robert Johnson, Gary and Barbara Lamb, Gail Rothrock and Russell Brown for their support and donations. HAND was excited to be able to share 100% of these credits with these individuals and appreciates their support in HAND's development efforts.

HAND plans to participate again in Partnering with neighborhoods 2014, and will publicize when they're available. However, given the limited number of credits, we encourage you to let us know if you'd like to reserve NAP Tax Credits in 2014 (email ate@handincorporated.org).

farm right now, but I could also do a 20-by-20-foot backyard. I do a lot of edible landscape design. I'm hoping that will be my whole business someday. I'm getting there.

A house or property shouldn't be a liability. In the past, all houses were homesteads. They brought value to the family, and they weren't just a financial drain. I'm working on systems that take it more that way.

When I started to change how I was going to live my life, at first it was kind of terrifying. It's like you can't do anything about it. I was listening to the news all the time. Getting all worked up about things I couldn't do anything about it. These are things I have no influence over. And there's no need to stress over things outside of your sphere of influence, so I just completely stopped. I don't even know who's running for president; it doesn't make a difference who you elect. If a community can support itself at the food-supply level, that is a huge step. A few years ago, a guy from FEMA told me that within I-465 there are seven days' worth of food. There could be a truckers' strike, or a big storm could come through, and the grocery store shelves would be gone like that. Never in the system of humanity have we relied on so many different systems. If I had a magic wand, I would back us up 120 years, back when we were a much more agrarian society. Everybody's grandparents had a pantry. The kitchen through human history has always been the focus of the family, and it was always multi-generational homes. The old people took care of the kids, raised them. Middleaged people made money. This is the first time in any culture that we're living the way we're living, and it's just not sustainable. It can't work out.

Neighborhood Assistance Program Credits (Sold out)

In 2013, HAND received its first allotment of Neighborhood Assistance Program (NAP) Tax Credits from the State of Indiana. With a year-end donation from Herman & Kittle, HAND successfully satisfied this first NAP award. 100% of these contributions will support a proposed renovation project in Downtown Noblesville, known as the Roper Capstone.

In order to qualify, Hamilton County Commissioner Steve Dillinger told The Reporter, $950,000 in damages must be recorded.

We're calling everyone, county and cities," Dillinger said, "to see how much damage was done. If we reach $950,000, we can receive from the federal government 75 percent of our damages. That includes all the services needed to keep the community moveable.

"This was the worst I've seen as commissioner," Dillinger said. "The good thing which came out of this was the cooperation from everyone."

you aren't supposed to eat saturated fat. And one day I thought, before we could grow miles of grain and mechanically squeeze the oil out, all they ate was saturated fat. So why are they saying you're not supposed to eat saturated fat when for the majority of human existence we have eaten nothing but saturated fat until modern agriculture, until it became easy to produce grain on a massive scale? That's when everything changed.

That was 10 years ago. At this time I was painting — really high-end stuff in wealthy people's houses. My dad used to always tell me wealth is how long you can go without income, so I've always thought about the value of a deep pantry. I can go a long time without income.

This led me to basing everything that I do on an ancestral way of thinking. That's before modern agriculture and all the modern systems we rely on. The food that we eat, I get it all from my farm.

My dad always had mistrust in the government and that has influenced me. And it led me to isolate myself. But about two years ago, I saw the need for community. It doesn't matter how prepared I am, if the people around me aren't prepared, I'm not as secure. That's when I moved back to Noblesville from Nashville, Ind., to try to start making a local food economy.

My business is The Sustainable Life, helping communities build a more independent life. I do homestead consulting and set up food production systems for people on any scale. I'm doing a 10-acre

For Carmel, Fishers, Westfield...

Weekend will have sectional flavor

Carmel's game with Center Grove Westfield got some of its players late tonight has been postponed to Jan. 28.

"Center Grove hasn't practiced all week," explained Carmel athletic director Jim Inskeep.

So, Coach Scott Heady has turned his overtime win against Tipton. attention to a Saturday matchup at Westfield.

"Westfield has played some very good basketball at times, and playing them on the road will be tough. They are a possible sectional opponent, so this game gives us a game. Their leading scorer, Tyler Osswald, measuring point as where we are at midseason," Heady said.

The junior varsity starting time at Westfield has been moved up to 5 p.m. in order to accommodate fans who want to see the Indianapolis Colts play that evening.

Westfield and Fishers also will have possible sectional measuring sticks. They will meet Friday at Fishers. That game is a Hoosier Crossroads Conference tilt.

It will be a contest which will match two teams which at times have struggled this season. Fishers is 3-7; Westfield is 1-5.

Coach Joe Leonard's Fishers Tigers, following a four-game losing streak, have won their last two games in impressive style the little things in both games," Rauch by beating East Chicago Central 69-62 and HCC foe Avon 75-70. Before beating East Chicago, Westfield came within three points of a Warren Central team which earlier in the season hammered the Tigers 65-46.

"We've played a lot of games so far this season, but I like that type of schedule," Leonard said. "We're starting to compete."

Fishers is led by a terrific 1-2 punch of Kortland Townsend (17.6 points a game) and Devin Chaudion (17.1). Chaudion is averaging 3.9 rebounds a game and sophomore Cameron Wolter is pulling 3.1 boards a contest. Chaudion and Zach Eaton each have 34 assists in 10 games.

following their post-season football play," Leonard said. "They're starting to get their basketball legs."

Westfield's lone victory was a 12-point The Shamrocks have lost to Pendleton Heights, New Palestine, Roncalli, Shelbyville and Zionsville.

Westfield is averaging only 46.3 points a senior, is averaging 10 points a game.

Fishers, which has beaten Kokomo, East Chicago and Avon, has lost to Southeastern, Pike, Brownsburg, Warren Central, Franklin Central, Carmel and Warren a second time. The Tigers are averaging 60.6 points a game, but giving up 66.9 points a contest. Westfield is allowing just 52.9 points a game.

"This weekend will provide two examples of fine Hamilton County basketball," said Westfield coach Eric Rauch

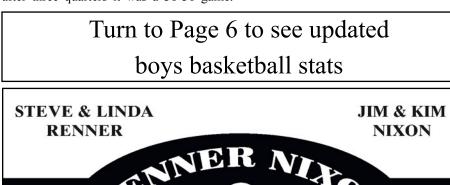

"We're looking for Tyler Osswald and Nick Ferrer to lead a group of younger guys.

"We really must be compassionate about continued. "We must defend with toughness and then turn around on offense and be able to score."

Carmel, the two-time defending state champion, is undefeated (7-0) and ranked No. 1 in Class 4A.

The Greyhounds, averaging 59.9 points a game, are giving up just 44.9 points a contest. They are led in scoring by hotshooting guard Ryan Cline (16.7) and veteran big man Zack McRoberts (13.5). Michael Bruns is averaging 12.3 points and Keegan Culp is at 8.3 McRoberts is the rebound leader at 6.7. Cline has hit 16-of-32 shots from 3-point range and Culp is 11-of-
