Who is right?

Westfield Mayor or County Council

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

For most of the evening in the Commissioner's Courtroom at the Hamilton County Government Center in Noblesville, it was a calm time as the seven-member Hamilton County Common Council approved appropriations of federal and grant monies.

But, the evening didn't begin that way, when shortly after the meeting opened Ron Thomas addressed the Council on his nomination by the Council as a member of the Westfield Economic Development Commissioner.

"I came to introduce myself and answer any questions you might have," said Thomas, who is part of a family-owned business on the south side of Indianapolis.

Thomas resides in Westfield and from 2003-07 served on the Westfield Town Council (now, Westfield City Council). He served one year on the Council with now Westfield Mayor Andy Cook, who has rejected the County Council's nomination of Thomas.

The Council did not ask any questions of Thomas, but instead went into a debate on who holds the power, the Westfield Mayor or the Council, to nominate and appoint.

Council President Rick McKinney made a motion for the Council to approve the nomination of Thomas. Councilman Steve Schwartz following with the suggestion, "We need to talk about this."

Schwartz told The Reporter that his concern was voting for someone who Westfield Mayor Andy Cook didn't want.

"I spoke briefly with Mayor Cook and he believes the Council should have talked with him before making the nomination,"

Broken water line floods Sheridan High School

By JEFF JELLISON

With eight school days canceled and several two hour delays already in the books for this year the last thing Sheridan's new Superintendent, David Mundy, wanted to hear on Thursday was, a broken water line in the high school would force the cancellation of another school day.

"Although the water line break was not weather related it has just been one of those winters," said Mundy.

Sheridan school officials discovered the broken water line at 6:15 on Thursday morning and believe the three inch line poured water into the school for approximately five hours. Mundy indicated parts of Sheridan High School had as much as 5-6 inches of water standing. "It was running out the doors into the parking lot when I got there," said Mundy.

"Basically the entire west end of the high school including the gym had standing water," stated Mundy. The water damage will force the closure of the varsity gym. Sheridan has two home games remaining

Brooks calls for bipartisan solutions

Susan Brooks, the congressional representative for Indiana's 5th district (which includes Hamilton County), recently sent this weekly electronic newsletter address to her constituents:

Dear Friends,

This past weekend I had the honor to join my colleagues in delivering my second Weekly Republican Address since coming to Washington, DC. I was joined by Energy and Commerce Committee Chairman Fred Upton (MI-6), Representative Gregg Harper (MS-3) and Representative Martha Roby (AL-2) in calling on President Obama to support bills passed by House Republicans that address key issues he discussed in the State of the Union.

While we have many strong disagreements with the President, we focused on bipartisan solutions where the President and Congress can work together to address job training, smarter energy solutions, research funding and fairer workforce practices. Specifically, I discussed the SKILLS Act, vital legislation that will create an opportunity for underemployed and unemployed Americans to improve their skills and find good paying jobs. There are currently 4 million open jobs in this country that need to be filled. The SKILLS Act will help us fill these open positions by providing more immediate access to in-demand job training. This bill would streamline 35 overlapping workforce training programs within the federal government into a single Workforce Investment Fund, reducing barriers to employment opportunities. It is time to get Hoosiers into job training and back to work and I urge President Obama to call on the Senate to act on this legislation. We can't let politics get in the way of progress.

Sincerely,
Susan W. Brooks

on its schedule. Mundy continued, "We won't know for a couple of days the complete extent of the damage to the gym. We are already working on possible scheduling solutions for the remaining home basketball games."

"The school cancellations are beginning to get frustrating," said Mundy. "The biggest hindrance is the loss of continuity; however, our students and teachers understand the situation we are now in. They realize when they walk through the doors in the morning it is time to go to work."

Mundy praised the Sheridan community by stating, "The community has been very supportive through all of this. They realize we can't control weather, and within an hour of the announcement that a broken water line would force another cancellation members of the community, law enforcement and teachers showed up at school to offer their help."

7 county Speedway stores cited for Christmas alcohol sales

By JEFF JELLISON

Seven Hamilton County Speedway convenience stores have been cited for selling alcohol on Christmas Day.

The month long investigation that led to the citation of more than 100 Speedway locations throughout Indiana began when Indiana Excise Police received a tip that a South Bend Speedway sold beer on December 25.

Indiana law prohibits the sale of alcoholic beverages from 7 a.m. December 25 until 3 a.m. December 26.

The seven Hamilton County locations include four in Noblesville, one in Sheridan, one in Carmel and one in Fishers.

Excise Police report Speedway has cooperated with the investigation.

Area Speedways that were cited could face a penalty that ranges from a $1,000 fine to suspension or revocation of their permit to sell alcohol beverages.

Wilson farm market ready for renovation

After months of waiting on the State of Indiana, Wilson Farm Market is ready to start construction and renovation of the ever-popular landmark located at 256th St. and US 31, halfway between Kokomo and Indianapolis, with its familiar "Wilson" on the roof.

Bill and Judy Wilson will be giving the market a brand new look, both inside and outside, where the business has been operating since 1968. A total remodel will be done on the inside with an expansion of both the bakery and the deli, along with a total change of the outside appearance.

The project is being completed by Amish craftsman and will hopefully be ready for opening this spring, pending any more harsh winter weather. The Wilsons work closely with many Amish families, who strive for the simpler things in life and quality in their products, for inventory in their family run operation and will use Amish craftsmen who are also known for their expert eye to detail and quality in their work.

The Wilsons are adding an additional six to 10 new job openings in addition to their veteran employees who return each season.

Huskies fall to Yorktown

Hamilton Heights dropped a 63-47 away game to Yorktown on Thursday.

The Huskies trailed 33-21 at halftime, although they played the second half closer. With the loss, Heights is now 7-11 for the season.

"We could not find a rhythm tonight," said Heights coach Scott Fernung. "Normally, we shoot better from the free throw line. Couple this with a low field goal percentage and we struggled tonight."

Haley Cook led the scoring with 20 points, with Caitlyn Hays draining three 3-pointers for nine points. Cook and Taylor Boyd each grabbed seven rebounds. Cook also made four steals and Kiley Walters handed out four assists.

Heights finishes its regular season by hosting Taylor on Saturday afternoon in a Carmel's 2 weekend games...

Much to be decided

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Can Carmel stay on top in the MIC Conference?
Is Zionsville a player in the upcoming Noblesville Sectional?

Lots to be answered this weekend in a pair of Carmel boys basketball games.

The Greyhounds on Friday will host Lawrence North in a conference game at the Eric Clark Activity Center. Carmel currently leads the conference with a 5-0 record. Pike is second at 4-1, followed by Lawrence Central 3-2 and Warren Central 2-2.

Despite only an 8-6 record, Lawrence North is in a dangerous path for Coach Scott Heady's 12-1, No. 2 ranked Greyhounds. The Wildcats appear to be hitting their stride, coming off victories over Fishers, 75-50, and Center Grove, 83-35.

Zionsville is 11-2 on the year, and appears to very much of a challenger in the powerhouse Noblesville Sectional. The Eagles have lost only to No. 5 ranked Brownsburg, 42-39, and to No. 1 ranked Hamilton Southeastern, 64-51. Zionsville has won 10 straight since its loss to Southeastern. "Lawrence North is one of the most athletic and talented teams we will play," said Carmel coach Scott Heady. "They have size and several players score and make plays. Their record is definitely no indication of how good their team can be on any given night.

"Zionsville is having a great season and has had some recent big wins. They are good inside and good outside.

"Playing back to back and on the road Saturday will be a challenge for our team," Heady added.

Carmel Probable Lineup

Player	Class	Ht.	Stats (pts per game)
Ryan Cline	Jr.	6-4	15.8
Zach McRoberts	Sr.	6-6	13.6
Michael Bruns	Sr.	6-3	11.3
Parker Barnhold	Sr.	6-2	4.4
Keegan Culp	Jr.	6-5	9.1

Westfield needs to get healthy...

Huskies need conference win

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Westfield, which faces two ranked teams this weekend, just wants to get healthy.

Hoover

Hamilton Heights, one of those two ranked teams, is thinking more about staying on top of the Mid-Indiana Conference in a game Friday evening before taking on the rival Shamrocks from Westfield on Saturday.

Westfield will play at Brownsburg on Friday. The host Bulldogs are 12-2 and this week are ranked No. 5 in Class 4A basketball.

Hamilton Heights, on Friday, will host Maconaquah in a big conference game for the No. 12 (Class 3A) Huskies. In a conference in which much still is to be decided, Heights leads the Mid-Indiana with a 2-0 record, chased by Western 3-1, Cass 2-1, Northwestern 2-1 and Peru 2-2.

Then, on Saturday, Hamilton Heights and Westfield will continue a long Hamilton County rivalry by meeting at The Rock in Westfield.

Hamilton Heights will enter the weekend with an 8-3 record. Another conference game, this one with Eastern, was snowed out earlier this week and will be played on Feb. 26.

Westfield is 2-12, its Feb. 4 game at New Castle also snowed out and rescheduled for Feb. 28.

"We are just trying to get healthy and continue to improve," said Westfield coach Eric Rauch, whose Shamrocks haven't been able to survive a series of injuries and have lost their last 10 games after starting the season 2-2, winning both games in overtime.

"Last weekend," said Rauch, "we played better but shot just 26 percent from the field. It is difficult to win when you shoot that percentage.

"Both tams we play are ranked, which will provide great competition," Rauch added.

Brownsburg has lost only to No. 1 ranked Hamilton Southeastern, 62-40, and No. 2 ranked Carmel, 54-41.

Hamilton Heights on Friday will play a Maconaquah team which is just 3-7. The Braves have lost five straight. Their last victory was on Dec. 27 over Whitko.

"This is a big MIC game for us," said Heights coach Chad Ballenger.

"Maconaquah is led by a super athlete in KJ Walton. We will have to contain him. He is a very good slasher and getting to the basket. Adam Harts and Kyle Dinn are pretty good 3-point shooters who we will need to cover. They have a 6-4 big inside, Ben Stephenson, who we will need to block out.

"The key," said Ballenger, "will be our press and getting the game up-tempo. We need to make it an up-an up and down game. Maconaquah has struggled lately and has been affected by all the snow maybe a little more than us."

Ballenger then turned to what the coach called, "A big county game on Saturday.

"We always seem to struggle with them, coming off a big conference game," said Ballenger. "I want our guys to fight and compete. We have not put up much fight against them the last few years."

Westfield has defeated Heights four consecutive times. The Huskies' last victory over the Shamrocks was a 52-51 decision in 2007-08.

Heights Probable Lineup

Player	Class	Ht.	Stats
Hunter Crist	So.	6-1	16.0 pts., 2.9 reb.
Jadon White	Jr.	6-3	9.5 pts., 5.0 reb.
Conley Hoover	Sr.	6-0	8.1 pts., 2.7 reb.
Garrett Paull	Jr.	6-6	10.8 pts., 7.7 reb.

Hot Trailblazers have strong challenge

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

University's Trailblazers, hotter than a firecracker heading down the home stretch of the 2013-14 boys basketball season, tonight will begin a three game home stand by taking on Indianapolis Washington.

Coach Brandon Lafferman's squad is 9-7 on the year. The Trailblazers have won four straight and 5-of-8. Only losses in this stretch were overtime setbacks to Tecumseh, Seton Catholic and Ritter.

"We have three home games in a row over the next two weeks that should all be solid tests for our team," Lafferman said.

"Washington will be the biggest team we have faced all season, so this definitely will be our biggest challenge. We are going to have to work extremely hard on the defensive end and on the glass in order to come away with a win," the coach added.

Washington is 4-9, winning last time out over Ritter, 77-68, a team University has lost to, 86-84 in overtime.

Lafferman will look for some of his usual guys to come off the bench and step up this weekend. University will be playing without senior guard Anthony Maranto, out with a concussion he sustained last Saturday in the Anderson Prep game. Maranto is averaging in double figures in the scoring column.
