Another year, another state championship for the Carmel girls swim team. The Greyhounds won their 28th consecutive title Saturday at the IUPUI Natatorium. Carmel's run is the longest active state championship in the country, and is the second longest overall.

May I have this dance...

By JANET HART BAKER

Life's a dance. You must listen to the music. You must listen with your heart. It is only then that you know the steps to take to get to where you need to be. Chuck and I have been taking dance lessons. No, we won't be dancing with the stars and no, we don't think we can dance, however, we have learned enough to get us through the first dance at our wedding reception.

When we first started taking lessons I realized that Chuck would have been a great Fred Astaire. On the other hand, I would not have been a great Ginger Rogers. I tried to use the excuse of having to dance backwards in heels but the truth is that I had not ever had someone teach me to listen to the music...to listen with my heart...until Chuck.

One thing that I had to learn was to allow Chuck to lead. He would say "let me hold onto you and I will get you where you need to be". Eventually, my feet trusted him just as my heart had done, so many months ago.

Each week it got easier. We learned the Waltz, the Cha Cha and the Foxtrot. So Carmel girls win 28th straight swim title on...

A record-setting day

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Back in the 1980's, when the Carmel girls swim team was just beginning its spectacular state championship streak, people used the term "broken records" to refer to when their vinyl records (Google it, kids) got stuck in a groove and repeated themselves.

Since then, the Greyhounds have been in a groove of excellence, winning state title after state title. On Saturday, Carmel added another crown, winning its 28th consecutive state championship at the IUPUI Natatorium. The 'Hounds won with 399 team points, well ahead of runner-up Crown Point's 209.

Carmel's streak is the longest active high school run in the nation, and is second on the overall list. First place belongs to Punahou High School in Honolulu, whose boys swim team won 29 in a row between 1958 and 1986.

Saturday's state finals were the fastest ever. There were nine new state records set at the meet, one after the other - like a broken record, if you will. Carmel was responsible for seven of those new records.

Staying connected...

Dillinger writes from Mexico

I am in Mazatlan, Mexico, resting and recuperating from my recent illness. I am doing amazingly well, by the way.

I just wanted to drop you a note, to let you know how great it is to get our local news, sitting on the beach, overlooking the ocean.

As a County Commissioner, I spend several hours a day either on the phone, back to the States, or on my i-pad, dealing with County issues, even while here on vacation. While that might sound like a burden to some people, it has been a way of life for me in all the 32 years I have been in public office. My duty's to the Public I represent, never end and I don't mind it at all.

Your online addition has been a great asset in helping me stay connected some 3,000 miles away. I look forward every morning, to getting my first cup of coffee of the day and firing up the computer and reading what is going on at home. What a great idea from you and Jeff.

The County Line...

Schools should teach cursive - that is, good old handwriting

By FRED SWIFT

Cursive writing, the new politically correct term for plain, good old handwriting, is back in the news as the state legislature considers a bill that would require Indiana schools to teach it.

Handwriting is still taught in the lower grades in most Hamilton County schools, but since 2011 it's optional on the part of the school district. Keyboarding which used to be known as typing, is mandatory in public schools.

By the way, the word cursive comes from the Latin for running, as in running letters together to construct words. I didn't know that until I Googled it. Google is such a good source of information, love it.

I know the younger generation has gotten away from handwriting, and often sees little need for it. But, it would be a shame if our future population did not know how to write or perhaps read the written English language.

I'd be lost if I didn't know handwriting. It takes longer, at least for me, to print, and often one finds himself away from the computer and in need of jotting down a note or writing out some information.

I just can't image why any school would not want to insist on teaching students how to write. I understand the need for youngsters to learn the keyboard these days. That's needed to get along in today's world, but not a reason to drop writing.

If a child is never taught to write, is he or she going to be taught to read the written word? A lot of information is still in written form, including historical documents which somehow don't seem the same in printed form.

There is a bill in the state Senate that would make cursive mandatory right along with keyboarding. Although it seems a shame to have to make these subjects mandatory, the cursive bill should probably be passed. It has in fact passed the Senate before, but gets blocked in the House.

Maybe our state representatives should be urged to give this one more favorable consideration.

The Greyhounds won seven events on Saturday, six in new-record time. The only event that wasn't a Saturday record was junior Amy Bilquist's 50 freestyle, which she won in 22.17 seconds. Bilquist set that record the night before in the preliminaries, at 22.15 seconds.

"We were all coming in, hoping we would do our absolute best," said Bilquist, who moved here from Arizona this past year. "I was a little nervous my first time in Indiana at a big meet, and my team just rallied me. I couldn't have done it without them. They're truly amazing."

TEAM. Carmel may have a group of record-setting swimmers, but the Greyhounds' depth is the reason why they've won all these state meets. Carmel had 27 swimmers and one diver compete on Saturday, which means that all of them finished in the top 16 in that event. There were 18 different girls that scored points for the Greyhounds on Saturday - and there were certainly more that had the potential to make it to the Natatorium.

"It was a hard season in the sense that we had so many kids to choose from to make this team and to make this line-up," said Carmel coach Chris Plumb. "When you leave kids off the line-up who make the state qualifying time, that's really difficult."

"But they all pushed each other to be there, and they're all part of that."

Bilquist also won the 100 freestyle (48.93) and was part of the winning medley relay (1:40.83) and 200 free relay (1:31.37). Senior Hanna House and sophomore Veronica Burchill were also part of both winning relays, with junior Alex Clarke also on the medley and sophomore Claire Adams part of the 200 free relay.

It was a great introduction to the Hoosier state for Bilquist. Her first impression of Indiana swimming?

"Fast, ridiculously fast," said Bilquist. "Indiana swimming is truly world-class and the Carmel program is world-class and I wouldn't want to be on any other team."

Adams is turning out to be quite the world-class swimmer herself. Still only a sophomore, Adams collected another four state championships to add to the four she won last year. Since a swimmer can swim up to four events at state, Adams is now a perfect eight-for-eight in state events.

In addition to the 200 free relay, Adams won the 200 free (1:46.95) and backstroke (52.97) and was part of the 400 free relay, along with Burchill, senior Katie Lemen and sophomore Kendall Smith. The Carmel team came from behind to win that race, in a (what else?) record time of 3:21.20.

"It's a little bit of everything," said Adams. "It's fun to do, and it's really fun to have my team do it with me, too."

And by team, Adams means everyone that's been part of the Carmel program, even back to the days of vinyl records.

"They're with us while we're swimming, as well," said Adams.

Not to be overlooked, Burchill again competed on all three winning relays. Burchill also swam in the 50 freestyle, where she finished third.

Four seniors competed at state for Carmel. Along with their record-setting relay victories, House also finished third in the backstroke and seventh in the butterfly, while Lemen placed 12th in the 100 free and 13th in the 50 free. Shelby Spitz placed 12th in the individual medley. Laura Rokop finished 13th in the diving event.

Lemen will swim at Ohio University, Spitz has committed to Cincinnati and House will be going to Notre Dame. Rokop also said she will be diving in college as well.

now we are ready to rock and roll, well not exactly, but hopefully we won't embarrass our grandchildren.

Funny thing is that my fifteen year old granddaughter, Alecks, asked me if we were having only "old" people music at the wedding. I told her that the answer was yes and the reason being so was because we were old. I also told her that there would be no "twerking" because people our age could get hurt. I think I caught a glimpse of an eye roll.

Yes, in just a few days I will marry the man who has brought so much music into my life. Our first dance will be to the song "I Cross my Heart" and it will be sung by Chuck's son, Scott. The words are very much a description of our story, I think I might be dancing and wiping a few tears as my heart hears the music.

"You will always be the miracle that makes my life complete and as long as there's a breath in me I'll make yours just as sweet."

One thing I do know..It will be a dance...for the rest of my life.

Fishers' Emily Moser won three medals at the girls state swim meet on Saturday, helping the Tigers to a third-place finish as a team. Moser was second in the 500 freestyle, sixth in the 200 free and also swam on the 400 free relay squad.

Tigers reach new heights at state

By RICHIE HALL

For the past few years at the state meet, Fishers had always seemed oh-so-close to being a top 10 or top five team.

It was like the Tigers were living up to their name, just waiting for the right time to pounce. They finally did this weekend, and the result was a third-place finish at state - by far the best ever for the Fishers' program.

"The fastest state meet in the history of the sport here in Indiana, and our girls really stepped up today," said Tigers coach Jay Chambers.

Fishers battled Crown Point for the runner-up spot the entire meet. In the end, Crown Point edged out the Tigers by six points, 209-203. Along the way, Fishers won nine medals.

The best event of the day came in the 500 freestyle, where juniors Emily Moser (4:48.80) and Abbey Schneider (4:51.47) got a 2-3 finish. Both would finish the meet on the 400 free relay squad, joining sophomore Maggie Jahns and freshman Lauryn Parrish to take fourth (3:27.88).

"I was very happy, and very proud of all my teammates, too," said Moser. She also placed sixth in the 200 free, finishing in 1:51.07.

That meant that Fishers ended the meet where it began, as it placed fourth in the first event of the day, the medley relay. Jahns, Schneider and Parrish joined freshman Lizzy Pfeifer to clock in at 1:44.66.

Parrish also placed fourth in the 200 free, at 1:48.98, and was fifth in the 100 free at 51.03. Jahns placed eighth in the backstroke (56.53).

"Crown Point swam spectacular, and our girls were still able to hang with them," said Chambers. "I was really proud of them."

Sophomore Cortnee Williams finished her great diving season strong, taking third with 480.10 points.

While the younger athletes certainly made a big splash at state, the seniors helped out as well. Ren DeBrosse was part of the Tigers' 13th-place 200 free relay (with Pfeifer, Lizzie Phillips and Moser), while senior Mary Thielking finished 15th in the 500 free. Chambers said that this group of seniors was the first that he had coached all four years.

"It's really just amazing," said Thielking. "We have such a great work ethic on our team. Everyone comes to practice with an awesome attitude every day. And you can really just see in all the girls, and all the guys, too, that everyone wants to get better and it's (great) to be part of a team like that."

Fishers fans had plenty to cheer about at the girls state swim meet, as the Tigers finished third, their highest place as a team in school history.

Hamilton Southeastern’s Allison Barnes, shown here swimming the 200 freestyle at prelims, was part of two medal-winning Royal relay teams. Barnes was part of the fourth-place 200 free relay squad, and the eighth-place 400 free relay team.

Sophomores step up big for Southeastern

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

No matter if it's an experienced team or young swimmers, you know the Hamilton Southeastern girls swim team is going to bring it every year at the state meet.

The Royals did it again, finishing eighth Saturday at the IUPUI Natatorium. The Royals won five state medals at the meet, and also had another relay in the consolation finals.

"I thought our girls really raced well today," said HSE coach Andy Pedersen. "A little bit better than yesterday, and I'm just really proud of them. It's a tough meet, and I think we're getting a little bit better each year."

Sophomore Robyn Clevenger had a nice meet, picking up a seventh-place medal in the 50 freestyle (23.50) and then finishing eighth in the butterfly (55.63). Clevenger was also part of HSE's two top-eight relays, including the 200 free relay. That all-sophomore group (Clevenger, Natalie Mudd, Lauren Blanchard, Allison Barnes) improved from eighth in the prelims to fourth in the finals, finishing the championship race in 1:35.65.

"That was a great highlight for us," said Pedersen.

Mudd also got an individual medal, placing seventh in the backstroke in a new Southeastern school record time of 56.08. She would close the meet by joining Clevenger, Barnes and sophomore Kylie Sutherlin for an eighth-place finish in the 400 free relay (3:30.86).

Southeastern's medley relay team placed 10th. Sutherlin, Blanchard and sophomore Charity Bennett joined senior Gabi Mazero, a true leader for the Royals over the past four years, to clock in at 1:47.38.

"The team has really progressed from the beginning of the season to the end of the season," said Pedersen. "I'm very pleased. Proud to be the coach of the Hamilton Southeastern girls. This is a great group of ladies."

Look Sharp! Meme gets third runner-up medal

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor
Some cynics believe that nobody remembers who gets second.

Don't believe that. Noblesville's Meme Sharp will long be remembered for everything she's done for Miller diving, and for Indiana high school diving in general. Sharp, a senior, finished second for the third year in a row at the state meet on Saturday, with a final 11-dive score of 492.35 points.

"I thought that was the best performance I've done all year," said Sharp. "I'm pretty happy with it. I don't think I could've done any better."

Sharp finished second only to Cardinal Ritter junior Sarah Bacon, who scored a remarkable 546.45. That broke the record set three years ago by Elwood's Mary Beth Dunnichay - an Olympic diver. Sharp was a freshman at that meet, getting ready to take the baton from then-Noblesville senior Katie Bittner, who won state as a sophomore in 2009.

When asked what some of her best memories of her career were, Sharp said, "My teammates. I love all my teammates. They make meets fun, they make practices fun and I just love diving. Diving in meets is always fun."

Sharp will dive at the University of Pittsburgh next year.

Once again, Hamilton County had a strong showing in diving. Fishers sophomore Cortnee Williams placed third (480.10) to earn a medal. Tigers senior Chloe Jones took 11th (412.55) and Carmel senior Laura Rokop was 13th (392.00). Noblesville freshman Dayana Popa dove in the preliminaries, taking 24th with a five-dive score of 172.15. The top 20 divers advance to the semi-finals.

Ingram places 9th in backstroke

Westfield senior Carin Ingram went out a winner on Saturday, as she paced the consolation heat of the backstroke.

Ingram swam in a time of 56.63. For scoring purposes, she placed ninth.

"It feels good to win my last race ever, even though it was the consolation heat," said Ingram, who will swim at Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va. next fall.

The Fishers girls basketball team made school history Saturday night, winning the North Central sectional by beating Westfield 46-34. It's the first time in school history that the Lady Tigers have won a sectional in that sport.

Tigers win first sectional...

Fishers tops Westfield

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor
They did it before and they did it again. Fishers, which back on Jan. 18 snapped Westfield's season-opening 11 game victory string, last evening knocked off the defending champions to win the North Central Girls Basketball Sectional.

Coach Michael Gaines' Tigers came away with a 46-34 victory to win the school's first girls basketball sectional title. Gaines said this victory was much like the earlier win. "When we beat them during the season, we got up by six points and then milked that lead," Gaines said. "It was much like that again tonight."

Exactly! Fishers, which trailed 19-18 at halftime, took a 29-24 advantage to the fourth quarter and then spent the rest of the night adding to that lead by shooting free throws. The Tigers canned 10-of-11 charity shots in the fourth quarter. Gaines said he thought all along that this team could win the sectional and he thought so even more as the Tigers caught fire down the home stretch. Fishers ran its current winning streak to eight with the victory and the Tigers now have won 16 of their last 17 games, losing during that period only to Noblesville, a team Fishers defeated in the semi-final round of the sectional. Fishers' next stop is the Kokomo Regional where the Tigers will meet Homestead at 10 a.m. on Saturday. "Winning our first sectional is great," said Gaines. "Winning the sectional and winning trophies is nice. but for me what this victory means most is being able to spend another week with this basketball team. That's what great about this." Fishers continued its hot shooting from 3-point range, nailing 5-of-14, including two each by Brooke Sugg and Kara Gerka. But, the Tigers' key to victory was a 13-of-15 night at the charity line. That and an outstanding defensive night. Fishers held Westfield to 26 percent shooting the field. The Lady Shamrocks connected on just 10-of-39 shots. They were 4-of-12 from 3-point territory, with Taylor Davis canning three of the long range buckets. A sophomore, Kara Gerka, led the Fishers offense, pouring in 21 points. She connected twice from the field and twice at the line while helping the Tigers fight off Westfield in the fourth quarter. "Gerk really stepped up tonight," said Gaines. "Her play was critical in this victory." Also scoring in double figures for the champions was Alex Hochstedler with 11 points and Sugg finished with eight. Another key to the Fishers victory was an seven-rebound night by Blake Inglis. Hochsedler pulled five boards. Kayla Brown was Westfield's leading scorer with 11 points and Davis finished the night with nine points. Brown had a double-double, collecting 10 rebounds.

Heartbreak at Blackford

Hamilton Heights senior Haley Cook scored 26 points for the Huskies in their sectional championship loss to Muncie Central Saturday at Blackford. Cook joined the Heights' 1000-point club this season.

Haley Cook ended an outstanding basketball career at Hamilton Heights with an outstanding effort, which on this night fell short as the Lady Huskies were defeated 40-39 by Muncie Central in the championship game of the Blackford Sectional.

Cook hit 5-of-11 shots from 3-point range while scoring 26 points for Coach Scott Fernung's squad. She also pulled 11 rebounds and passed out two assists.

It was a battle between the two teams from start to finish. The only difference in the game was Muncie Central's 1-point advantage over the Huskies in the second quarter. Heights got into foul trouble in the period.

"I was proud of our kids tonight," said Fernung. "They played hard."

On the offensive end, it was a battle between Cook and Muncie Central's Jayla Scaife, who finished with 18 points.

Caitlyn Hays hit a couple of 3-pointers and scored nine points for Heights.

Heights finished its season with a 9-12 record.

Golden Eagles finish 13-11...

Guerin girls reach final, fall to Chatard

The Guerin Catholic girls basketball team reached the Brebeuf sectional championship on Saturday evening, falling to Bishop Chatard in the final 64-45.

The Trojans led 18-9 after the first quarter and 36-10 at halftime. Kristen Schneider led Guerin with 14 points and seven rebounds, with Kristy Thiem grabbing six. Carly Osinski handed out four assists.

In a semi-final that was postponed to Saturday morning, the Golden Eagles beat Marshall 52-31. Schneider scored 15 points, with Thiem adding 11. Osinski earned a double-double of 10 points and 10 steals, and also handed out seven assists. Sarah Yount had five assists and Thiem blocked two shots.

Guerin Catholic ended its season with a 13-11 record.

Key conference win...

Millers win defensive battle

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Noblesville and Zionsville, two teams which later on this season likely will ride into the Noblesville Sectional as dark horses, Saturday afternoon went head-to-head in The Mill. Both did what both have done very well this season. Play defense. In this game Noblesville had a bit more defense than did Zionsville, and the Millers came away with a 33-29 victory.

Should they meet again in the sectional, that match-up will mean a little more than Noblesville’s regular season win. Still, the game yesterday was huge in its own way. It was a Hoosier Crossroads Conference contest and a win which may give the Millers a third-place finish in the loop.

Currently, Hamilton Southeastern leads the HCC with a 7-0 record and Brownsburg is second at 7-1. That 1-2 position isn’t expected to change. Southeastern’s last two conference games are with Westfield and Lafayette Jeff. Brownsburg’s final conference game is with Lafayette Jeff.

But, Noblesville can now nail down third place with a Feb. 21 win at Fishers, the result of the Millers’ Saturday win over Zionsville.

“This was a good defensive game,” said Miller coach Dave McCollough.

“We got some good shots which didn’t go in. Then, we didn’t get many second chance opportunities.”

Noblesville came away with only four offensive rebounds.

What, actually, put Noblesville into a position to win was a problem the Millers had throughout the game. Zionsville didn’t commit a second half foul until only 1:30 remained. But, Noblesville had the lead at that point and the Eagles had to foul in order to get back the basketball. It took Zionsville to the 12.6 second mark to finally commit enough fouls to send Noblesville to the line.

That’s when the Millers’ Sean Wilson connected on his team’s only free throws of the game. Wilson’s two shots put Noblesville up by four, and that pretty much was that for the afternoon.

One of Noblesville’s four offensive boards came into the hands of Joey Brewer, who stuck in a field goal to give Noblesville a 31-29 advantage.

Wilson led a balanced offensive punch by the Millers, scoring 11 points. Jake Mills and John Kiser each finished with eight.

The win was a costly one for Noblesville, however, as Kiser suffered a fourth quarter concussion and has been ruled out of playing the Millers’ next game, Tuesday at home against Lawrence Central. He is expected to play when Noblesville visits Fishers on Friday.

The win over Zionsville pushed Noblesville’s overall record to 12-5 with three games remaining before tourney time. The Millers now have won four straight and eight of their last nine games.

Hamilton Southeastern's Jack Chastain celebrates after winning the 126-pound championship at the New Castle semi-state. Chastain is one of five Royals who finished in the top four at New Castle, thus qualifying for the state meet next weekend.

County qualifies 13 for state

It was a Royal day for Hamilton County wrestling, as Hamilton Southeastern led the way at the New Castle semi-state. The Royals had five wrestlers finish in the top four, thus qualifying for next weekend's state meet at Bankers Life Fieldhouse in downtown Indianapolis. Westfield had three state qualifiers, Carmel and Fishers two each and Noblesville had one. Southeastern 126-pounder Jack Chastain won his weight class, getting an 8-3 decision victory over Perry Meridian's Aidan Kenny for the championship. Royal 113-pounder Austin Holmes took second. Southeastern had three fourth-place finishers: Edrece Stansberry at 120, Georges Brantley at 220 and Chet Maxey at 285. The Shamrocks' qualifiers were AJ Belden, who placed third at 126, Michael Steele, the third-place man at 152, and Dillon Eldred, who finished fourth at 138. Carmel's qualifiers were Eli Carlson, runner-up at 152 pounds, and Karl Wilhelm, who placed fourth at 106.

Fishers had two third-place finishers: Lance Syverson at 132 and Jordan Lile at 145. Noblesville's Ben Elliott finished fourth at 182 pounds. In the team standings, Southeastern was fifth with 54 points. Westfield was sixth with 25, Carmel tied for seventh with 22, Fishers was 10th with 19.5 and Noblesville placed 23rd with 8. Cathedral won the semi-state team championship, edging Perry Meridian 117.5-114.

McRoberts, Cline combine for 31...

More defense; another win

Reading about Carmel's most recent basketball game kind of is like reading about the previous game. And, the previous game. And... Nothing seems to change. Carmel wins again. Yes, that, too. Carmel, now 16-1 on the year after a Saturday 46-26 victory at Terre Haute North, always seems to win the same way. *A great defense. *A great 1-2 punch by senior Zach McRoberts and junior Ryan Cline. So it was at Terre Haute North. *McRoberts tallied 16 points and Cline added 15.

*Carmel's defense held the host Patriots to 9-of-27 shooting. Terre Haute scored 11 of its 26 points in the fourth quarter, well after Carmel had the victory in its bag. It was a close game only after the first quarter, when Carmel led 6-4. The Greyhounds outscored North 25-11 the next two quarters, and it was another victory for the state's No. 1 ranked Greyhounds. It was Carmel's eighth consecutive victory. Carmel had a big 27-12 advantage n the boards, led by eight rebounds from Keegan Culp and five each from McRoberts and Michael Bruns. Cline passed out four assists to go along with his double-digit scoring. The Greyhounds have just one game this week, playing a MIC tilt on Friday at Warren Central.

Huskies win again on...

Paul's double 16 night

Garrett Paul had a double-double with 16 points and 16 rebounds and Hunter Crist poured in 17 points, caning 9-of-12 free throws, to lead Hamilton Heights to a 59-46 Saturday afternoon victory at Tri-Central. Also coming up with a big game for Coach Chad Ballenger's Huskies was Bo O'Laughlin with 13 points and Kury Miller with nine rebounds. It was the Huskies' seventh straight victory and the win brought Hamilton Heights' record to 12-3. Tri-Central jumped to a 17-11 first quarter advantage, but then the Trojans scored only nine points against a tough Hamilton Heights defense the next two quarters.

Hamilton Heights led 26-22 at halftime and then put away the Trojans with a 20-4 third quarter run. The Huskies, the leaders in the Mid-Indiana Conference with a 3-0 record, have two big loop games next week, hosting Northwestern on Tuesday and Taylor on Friday.

Katherine Chininis sets new vault record...

Miller gymnasts place 3rd at Connersville

The Noblesville gymnastics team finished third at the Connersville Invitational on Saturday.

The Millers scored a season-high 102.60 points. Columbus North was first with 107.775 and Connersville second at 104.45. Noblesville's Katherine Chininis placed second in the vault with a new Noblesville school record score of 9.50; that breaks the old record of 9.45, which Jessica Hilton got in 2001 and Katherine herself would later tie.

Constance Chininis placed fourth in the all-around with 35.025, and was third in the vault with a 9.00. Jenny Coy placed ninth in the vault with an 8.60, a season-high for her.

"The Lady Miller Gymnasts continue on their streak of outstanding performance and continue to make this coach proud," said Noblesville coach Jody Kiovsky Ramey.

Team scores: Columbus North 107.775, Connersville 104.45, Noblesville 102.60, Hagerstown 97.275, Northwestern 88.50, Muncie South 10.65.

These Kids Didn’t Get This From Me

By AIMEE GEBHART

I love my children, I really do. My 10 year old daughter and my 18 year old stepson are wonderful, beautiful souls. They light up my life in ways I never could have imagined. But there have been many, many times that they have left me baffled and bewildered, and I don't mean in a good way.

To tell me that she found dog pee on the carpet. I wasn't mad at the dog; she was home alone all day and didn't have many options. I asked Faith, "What did you do?" She said that she told Conor and that he saw it too. At that point I assumed that between the two of them they took care of the situation. How foolish of me.

A little while later, I went into the family room to turn on the light. That's when I saw it - the pee stain on the carpet. "Is this the pee from earlier?" I screeched. "Did no one clean this up?" Suddenly, both of them seemed to lose all comprehension of the English language. "Huh?" "Who?" "Wha-?" Clearly my shocked expression must have scared them into some kind of sudden-onset amnesia because the next words out of Conor's mouth were, "I didn't know what to use." That was backed up by Faith saying, "Yeah, I didn't know what to do." Wow. That's a pretty sad testament to our parenting that at age 15 and 7 they couldn't put their heads together to figure out how to use a paper towel! Thank Heavens the house never caught on fire. I suppose they would've sat there watching it, complaining, "Man, it's hot in here!"

Don't get me wrong. I know they aren't dumb – far from it. After all, even at that age Faith could shower herself, make her bed, fold laundry, memorize every word to every pop song, and make her own lunch. Even more impressive, she was able to work the U-Verse remote, which I'm pretty sure requires the skills of the gifted and talented. Conor has always been the master of cell phone technology, has beaten every video game known to man, and, I'm pretty sure, could hack into national security computer systems if he wanted to. Oh, AND he made the Honor Roll in high school. Of course if any school officials read this story, they may want to revoke his status.

I share this story, not to embarrass my children, but to connect with other parents who may be wondering what to do when their smart, capable children are lacking simple, common sense. If this sounds familiar, I'd be happy to share some of the life-skills classes taught at the Gebhart House. I can offer courses such as: Have Enough Common Sense to Come in Out of the Rain, No Kool-Aid Does NOT Count as a Serving of Fruit, Dog Pee Doesn't Clean Itself Up, and, my personal favorite, We Know You're Making Faces at Us When We Leave the Room. Please feel free to enroll your child, but act fast. I have a feeling space will be limited.
