Traffic flow will change...

SE Old Town may get new look

By DON JELLISON Reporter Editor

Earlier in the Hamilton County Reporter, north/south 17th. a story was published about changes being made and changes being planned for the northeast side of the City of Noblesville.

A new Boys & Girls Club, perhaps. The Ivy Tech facility next fall in what has been Noblesville East Middle School. Noblesville Schools' movement in the purchase of the National Guard Armory on Field Drive.

Now, at a meeting in which residents were invited to attend, City Engineer John Beery talked about movement on what normally is referred to as Southeast Old Town.

It's an area which for years was a part of where Firestone Industrial Products was housed. Firestone at that time was the largest employee not only in Noblesville but in Hamilton County. Firestone ruled. Firestone was so strong that it pretty much had its way in Noblesville.

Now, left behind, is a slab of cement which covers the area of the torn down Firestone plant.

Firestone isn't gone from Noblesville. Firestone still owns that land between Division Street and Pleasant Street.

Beery's message wasn't so much about Firestone or not even what the city could do with the slab and the surrounding area. What Beery talked about is the city's plan to change the traffic flow on Cherry, Maple and Hannibal streets "feeding" into 17th

Currently, 17th Street traffic travel stop free. The stop signs leading onto 17th are at Cherry, Maple and Hannibal. But, those streets, perhaps because of the poor condition Logan and Clinton streets have become, appear to have become more traveled routes from downtown Noblesville to the southeast side.

Beery hopes to change things because he says surveys indicate that there is more traffic on Cherry, Maple and Hannibal, traveling to the east, than there is on Beery said he will present the plan to the Noblesville Common Council. It was not on the agenda as the Council met last night.

The small number of residents who attended the meeting, all who live in that area, seemed to be fine with those changes. They did have other concerns.

One of the concerns is a concern lots of Noblesville folks have when driving to the post office, or the 4H Grounds or other facilities housed on Pleasant Street. It is a street heavily traveled with shoppers going to east side stores.

Coming south on 17th Street, getting onto to Pleasant, can become a driver's nightmare.

Beery said, however, that there isn't enough travel at that intersection to merit a stop and go light; not even a four-way stop. He seemed to indicate that a round-about might be the answer in the near future.

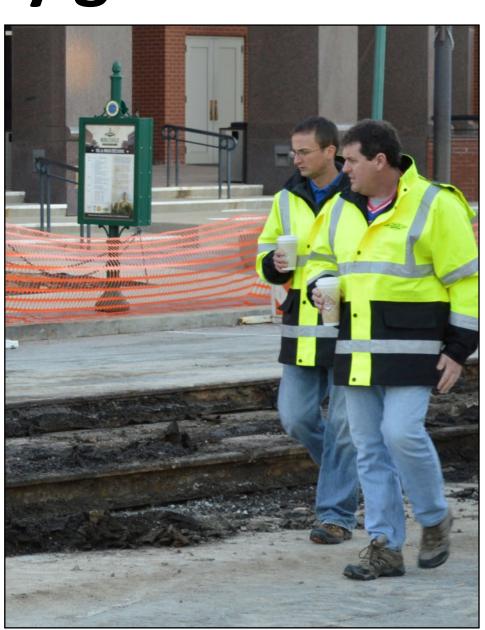

Another question from the audience concerned why 16th Street couldn't be extended to Pleasant. That would take a new street going straight through, or over, the Firestone slab.

Beery said that could never happen because the soil under what was the old Firestone plant could not be disturbed.

That may be a story for another time. Folks who knew and worked at Firestone in the company's heyday in Noblesville might remember a series of one-way streets to help get the huge volume of traffic into and out the plant's parking lots. Many of those one-ways are gone. Division Street (traveling east) is one-way from 10th to 14th. Firestone began at 14th Street. Going south, 14th Street is one way from Conner.

Noblesville City Engineer John Beery (right) will likely be going from one big project the 8th Street railroad rehabilitation, where he is pictured with project manager Andy Rodewald - to another in Southeast Old Town. Letter from the Westfield City and school leadership

Greetings,

Our community has witnessed several successes recently of which we should be

Last week, the Indiana Department of Education released the high school graduation rates for the class of 2013. Westfield High School had a non-waivered (students passing the end of course assessments) graduation rate increased to 98.4%, five percentage points higher than the previous year. These results, once again, reflect the quality of our administrators and teachers, the work ethic of the students, and the support from parents and the community. Everyone should be very proud of this achievement.

We've also seen tremendous growth in other areas of our community. It seems like every week there is a new business opening somewhere in the city, and the city's planning staff is doing its best to keep up with permit requests. Grand Park continues to attract visitors from across the country who not only visit the park, but also spend money in our city and grow the local economy.

With all of these things in mind, it's fair to say that we are moving at the speed of Westfield.

In an effort to continue the momentum our community deserves, the City of Westfield and Westfield Washington Schools are partnering to provide our students - and the community at large - with a fantastic new stadium in a new location. While there is nothing that compels the schools to move from the current site, a new location would allow us to accomplish mutually beneficial goals. First, a new stadium would give our students the ability to achieve their potential in an updated and more appropriate athletic facility. Second, it would place one of the more valuable pieces of property in our city back on the tax rolls, thereby increasing development and generating revenue to fund city services. Both of these achievements will assists in creating a better quality of life for Westfield's residents and businesses.

The City will contribute $1.5 Million towards realizing this goal. This funding will come from the utility sale proceeds. Based upon the current site plan, the investment will create a payback for the City within a three- to four-year period, and allow the City to repeat the investment into another project.

If construction were to begin this year, the value would go on the tax rolls in 2016. From the school system's perspective, the sooner we get off the land we currently utilize, the sooner the community can being to realize the tax revenue.

We are all very excited about this project and the opportunities it will provide to our students and the entire Westfield community. By working together, we hope to continue the amazing momentum we have experienced, and continue making Westfield the place you want to mel Redevelopment Authority's local income tax bond rating from "AA-" to "AA" and affirmed the City of Carmel's general bond rating at "AA+" as part of a financial assessment in anticipation of bond sales to be held this week – a key refinancing move that will save millions of dollars in interest payments.

The S&P ratings were based on its finding of a very strong economy, adequate budgetary flexibility, strong fiscal management supported by good planning practices, strong budgetary performance and very strong liquidity providing very strong cash levels to cover both debt service and expen-

Standard & Poor's has raised the Car-struction of the Center for the Performing

"After an exhaustive look at our financial situation, I was very pleased that this independent rating agency recognized Carmel for our strong fiscal health," said Carmel Mayor Jim Brainard. "We work very hard to constantly monitor the city's financial health, working from a 10-year fiscal plan that is regularly updated and helps us be fiscally responsible when it comes to our redevelopment activity. These ratings confirm that Carmel remains a solid investment and continues to be focused in the right direction "

The Redevelopment Commission and its financing arm have been the architects of Carmel's redevelopment projects, including the Center for the Performing Arts (The Palladium and Tarkington and Studio theaters), the Carmel City Center and the Arts & Design District.

"We were very pleased to learn that our AA+ rating was confirmed, especially given the fact we constantly challenge ourselves to create unique and architecturally significant projects that will stand the test of time and benefit generations to come," said William Hammer, president of the Carmel Redevelopment Commission.

The AA+ rating is S&P's second highest rating. Ratings are meant to provide a reflection of the fiscal climate of a sovereign government and are based on the willingness of an organization or government to pay its financial obligations to creditors. It is essentially a credit rating of the city.

"The Palladium is already a magnet for economic development in Carmel. Thanks to this very positive bond rating, we are in position to get better interest rates on our bond sales, which continues to bolster our bottom line," said Corrie Meyer, executive director of the CRC.

Redevelopment bond sale results in $4.4M savings

The COIT Refunding Bond sale for the Carmel Redevelopment Authority was priced to yield more than $4.4 million in savings to the city of Carmel, selling at a 2.97 percent interest rate. This yield will exceed expectations on the combined $56.175 million in bonds refinanced today. The City of Carmel will see net savings of $4,478,780, or about $331,000 in savings per year, which is higher than the $190,000 per year savings that had been estimated.

On Wednesday, plans call for another Refunding Bond sale, this one related to bonds originally sold in 2005 to finance the construction of the Center for the Performing Arts.

Tips for driving during planting season remind citizens that the farm planting season is upon us and often requires large farm machinery to be on the road. This requires drivers in rural areas to be alert to the possibility of encountering slow moving farm machines. Motorists should be prepared to slow or stop to avoid a collision with a farm machine turning into a field or driveway.

Tips for Farmers and Rural Drivers:

- •Farm machinery can unexpectedly turn onto a public road from a field or driveway. It is important for everyone to have patience and share the road.
- •Farm machinery travels slower than normal traffic, often at speeds of 25 miles per hour or less. Automobile drivers must quickly identify farm equipment and slow down immediately to avoid rear end crash-
- •Slow moving farm machinery, traveling at less than 25 miles per hour, are required to display a slow moving vehicle emblem on the back of the equipment. This is a quickly identifiable sign to other motorists. All lighting should be working properly and be and the use of highly visible markings, and highly visible.
- •Slow moving vehicles are required to pull farm machines and automobiles.

The Indiana State Police would like to off to the right when three or more vehicles are blocked and cannot pass on the left.

•Machinery that is half on the road and half on the shoulder may suddenly move completely onto the road. Machinery may take up more than one lane to avoid obstacles such as road signs.

•Determine if the road is wide enough for you and the machinery to safely share.

Last week, Noblesville defeated Carmel. Last night, at Hare Chevrolet Field, the Millers beat Hamilton Southeastern. This NHS victory came in the Miller Invitational, a meet which normally produces a dual battle between the Millers and Royals, beating up on the rest of the small school field.

It was that way again last evening. Noblesville powered its way to 199 points, followed by Southeastern 125, Greenfield Central 73, Frankfort 62, Delta 19 and Barclay, Jeff Spott, Matt Sraders and Steven Muncie South 14.

Noblesville had lots of strong performances, none better than in the 110 hurdles. Senior Max Milkey, in 14.93, edged Southeastern senior Jacob Wright, in 14.97. Milkey also won the 300 hurdles with a time

Noblesville was junior Jake Owens, who

Someday, perhaps someday soon, local won he 400 dash in 51.90 In second place 6-2, in the high jump and Austin Hogan's was sophomore teammate Joel Taylor. Owens came back to win the 200 in 22.50, edging out Southeastern senior Khalid Fuller, whose time was 22.52.

> Noblesville scored two wins in the field events, senior Seth Grossman clearing 12-6 in the pole vault and senior Hayden Camp leaping 20-9.25 in the long jump.

> Noblesville's Joe Lemna and Jordan Warne were 1-2 in the 800 run, Lemna winning in 2:03.60.

> The Millers also won the 1600 relay, Dontay Wells, Milkey, Tommy Agnew and Michael O'Reilly touring the course in 3:30.10.

> Southeastern won two relays. Drew Cho teamed for a 8:07.23 win in the 3200 relay and Willie Humphrey John Gay, Lloyd Turner and Fuller the 400 relay in 43.20. Noblesville's Agnew, Quentin Swaim, Cody Smith and Camp were a close second in

Huskies cruise past Anderson Prep

Hamilton Heights won against Anderson Prep Academy 18-0 on Monday.

Taylor Rednour went 4-for-4 with two doubles. Emily Willis, Ashley Roberts and Morgan Burtron had three hits each with Burtron adding seven RBIs and a home run. Claire Schildmeier had a triple and Emily Willis added a hit.

Kelley Baker pitched a complete game with three strikeouts.

"Defensively we are still looking pretty good," said HHHS coach Landi Lockwood. "Offensively our bats were better tonight, I was happy with the improvement we made. Our base-running took a couple steps back. We made a few running mistakes tonight that in close games would have cost us and

Shamrocks golf wins all-county meet

In a Monday all-county meet, Westfield beat Fishers 150-164 at Wood Wind. Timmy Hildebrand led the Shamrocks with a 34, followed by Thomas Lewis, 36, Pierce Dahl, 38 and Jeremy Ray, 42.

The Tigers were led by Jackson Brooker with a 39. Ben Otto and Thomas Jacocks both shot 40, and Drake Anderson shot a 45 to round Fishers' scoring.

Noblesville beat Kokomo 154-166 in a Monday dual meet at Kokomo Country Club.

The Millers' Jackson Wright and Chase Kluth shared medalist honors with 38s. Also scoring were Josh Keating and Parker Deakyne with 39s, Noah Lodin with 41 and Josh Podzielinski with 43.

"We didn't play really well, but we didn't play very poorly tonight either," said NHS coach Gary Sewell. "We were able to get it around and get a win. We still aren't making may putts but we have played so many matches in the last two weeks we haven't had much practice time."

Heights, Westfield tennis teams win

The Hamilton Heights girls tennis team pulled out a nail-biting 3-2 win at home Monday night against Mid-Indiana Conference foe Western.

The deciding point came in a 3-set comeback win by the No. 1 doubles team of Hannah Roper and Melanie Magdun. Other wins come from Sarah Sipe (No. 1 singles) and Jessica Petty/Kennedy Weber (No. 2 doubles).

The junior varsity lost 8-2 but got wins from Theresa Magenheimer in singles and the doubles team of Lauryn Martin and Lexi Cherry.

The Huskies are now 2-2 on the season and 2-1 in MIC play.

Westfield came away with a victory Monday night over Alexandria 4-1. The Shamrocks swept in singles with No. 1 Laura Moore winning 6-2, 6-0. No.

2 Annika Mabe winning 6-0, 6-0 and No. 3 Lauren Schrader winning 6-1, 6-3. No. 1 doubles team of Arie Sprout and Megan Bell lost a close three-set match going to a third-set tiebreaker 6-2, 3-6, 7-6(3-7). No. 2 doubles Jessica Schrader and Meredith Roush won their match 6-4, 6-1.

Westfield is 5-4 on the season.

Five Lady Huskies are big college contributors

By CHUCK GODBY

hard for me to imagine rebounds. that many high schools across the country had as many as five former players starting for NCAA basketball teams, which was the case for Hamilton Heights High School.

Former Indiana All-Stars Jessica Carr and Dakota Weatherford, along with Caitlin Bischoff, Maddie Herr and Libby Ogden, were all starters and important contributors for their respective schools during 2013-14.

Carr, the Huskies' first Indiana All-Star in 2011, and the first in the school's girls basketball history to reach the 1000-points scoring plateau, was involved in a serious automobile accident in the preseason that non-shooting hand.

Entering her junior season at Valparaiso University, Carr was selected to be a team captain, but the season appeared to be over before it even started. However, she the team's third leading scorer at 10.4 per stunned everyone, missing only the Crusaders' first 10 games.

"I hated missing those first 10 games, but I was lucky to play more than half the season in the first place," Carr said. "I was blessed to heal faster than the doctors expected. My hand is still sore and still isn't 100 percent, but when I was playing it didn't bother me at all, which I was surprised and very happy about."

Her personal best was the final game of the season in which she led her team with 18 points and seven rebounds.

"I think I played well and kept improving as the season went on," Carr reflected. en points per game and chipped in 44 as-"It was rough at first getting back into the swing of things."

The Crusaders posted a 6-25 record, but she is optimistic about the future.

"We were very young. Half the players were new, either transfers or freshmen," Carr pointed out. "We were starting to peak as the season went along so I know next year we are going to do good things and change that record for sure.

"It came as a big shock to us," she said left her with a badly injured left hand, her of her team's strong HCAC play. "Everybody expected this would be a rebuilding year for this team due to the fact we lost five seniors."

Bischoff, who wears jersey No. 31, was game, and was the Panthers' best from three-point range shooting 38 percent.

"Coming out of high school I never imagined I could lead a team in rebounding or have the highest three-point shooting percentage. It's incredible what can happen when given the opportunity on a competitive team," she said after a season in which she played through a broken nose and two fractured fingers.

Bischoff will begin her final year at Ogden settled in nicely in her second season at University of Southern Indiana after transferring from IPFW. The second player to score more than 1,000 points at Heights, Ogden started 22 of 28 games for the 19-9 Eagles.

As a junior guard, Ogden averaged sevsists. Her 13 points against McKendree on Feb. 1 were a team-high.
