Turner cleared of breaking rules, makes statement

An Indiana House Ethics Committee cleared Rep. Eric Turner (R-Cicero) of breaking any rules after he lobbied against a bill that would have harmed his family's nursing home business.

Turner released the following statement: "I'm very appreciative of the House Ethics Committee's decision and clearing my record of service in the Indiana House of Representatives. The Ethics Committee voted unanimously that my brief comments regarding my expertise on the nursing home moratorium issue during the 2014 Legislative Session were consistent with House Rules and the House Code of Ethics.

"I fully support the recommendation from the House Ethics Committee to further examine disclosure requirements in the coming months. In fact, I willingly provided greater transparency in my answers to the Committee's interrogatories.

"I always believed I acted clearly within the House rules and the House Code of Ethics while offering my expertise on a particular issue. A core function of a citizen legislature is for members to bring their expertise to share with other members of the General Assembly. I offered my expertise on the nursing home moratorium in caucus because I have been involved in the industry as a passive investor in senior care real estate for many years.

"For 24 years, it has been an honor to serve the residents of House District 32 and I look forward to continuing to represent constituents and communities throughout my district in the next session of the Indiana General Assembly."

Guard gets land; Schools get armory

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Both groups looked as pleased as punch.

There were smiles on both sides of the table on the second floor of the Noblesville Schools Administration Building Wednesday afternoon for a historic meeting. Historic, let me tell you, because never before had the Indiana National Guard and Noblesville Schools met for a big land trade.

Noblesville Schools transferred land north of the City (on State Road 31), approximately 50 acres valued at nearly $1 million, and in exchange got a piece of property the Schools had sought for years. The armory, on Field Drive west of the high school, has stood as kind of an island surrounded by school property.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Libbie Conner told the Reporter a couple of weeks ago that at the next school board meeting she will revealed plans for that area.

It was a good exchange, for both sides. The National Guard doesn't have funds to purchase land like they received from Noblesville Schools and Noblesville Schools doesn't have funds to purchase the armory.

The citizen soldiers are expected to clear the building by May 31. Conner, at the school board meeting, likely will announce when Noblesville Schools will move in, and with what.

The National Guard hopes to come up with funding to build what likely will be a huge armory, which is what the state and national governments do with new armories today. Noblesville Schools, some believe, may announce, plans for a new football stadium on armory land, once they sell their current football field to Ivy Tech for more parking at a regional campus which will open this coming fall.

Noblesville Schools responds...

Student charges bullying

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Noblesville Schools, in the form of a press release email, gave a quick, firm and strong answer to charges from a Noblesville parent that bullying had been involved in a fight at East Middle School

The parent, Steven Patton, was quoted on an Indianapolis TV station (Channel 6) that his seventh grade son was bullied for more than a year.

The student's parents told TV-6 that taunts, racial slurs and indifference from school administrators ended violently and publicly when a video of a fight at Noblesville East Middle School was posed on several social media sites

The two boys fighting, Channel 6 reported, were suspended, but the father of one of the teens, Patton, said the video shows the culmination of nearly two years of bullying and threats.

Noblesville Schools responded to the charges.

"We are very disappointed that the news article about an altercation among some students at East Middle School last week had various inaccuracies in the report regarding the incident, surrounding circumstances and our policies and procedures regarding bullying," Noblesville school answered in its press release.

"Noblesville Schools wants to assure parents that our staff takes all reported threats to students very seriously, investigates them thoroughly and handles them at a zero tolerance status. Student safety is always our number one priority," Noblesville Schools said.

The Reporter attempted to reach Patton and could not do so before press deadline.

Patton, on the TV web-site, said his son was defending himself after another student threatened to stab him last week. He said other students blocked the bathroom entrance where the fight took place.

Patton said he told teachers that he was being harassed and subjected to racial slurs.

He said he also went to an assistant principal and warned that students were planning to attack him and nothing was done.

Noblesville Schools contends that nothing had been reported.

"Noblesville Schools requires our staff members to participate in anti-bullying training that includes definitions identification and reporting procedures for incidents of bullying," the School District said in its press release. "We have always encouraged and provided a means for students and families to anonymously or in person report any concerns to their teacher, to the office, or to make a confidential report."

Patton reportedly told TV-6 that his son received a five-day suspension during ISEP testing. He said his son kept the bullying from him until recently. He said his son's grades have suffered and he's become fearful and depressed.

The building which houses the Noblesville Armory sits now belongs to Noblesville Schools. The school system and the Indiana National Guard made a trade on Wednesday: The armory received land north of the City in exchange for giving the building to the school system.

Greenfield Avenue accident injures four

On April 30th, 2014 at approximately 2:17 p.m., police officers from the Noblesville Police Department responded to the 1600 block of Greenfield Avenue (Noblesville) in reference to a report of a two-car motor vehicle crash. A short time later, officers arrived on the scene and located two vehicles and five occupants involved in the crash.

Based on preliminary information, it appears that a 2007 Pontiac G6 was traveling west bound on Greenfield Avenue when for some unknown reason the vehicle crossed left of center and collided head on with a 2006 Hyundai Accent that was traveling east bound.

Democratic debate spans 15 questions on numerous topics

By JIM BLESSING

Hi. I want to discuss the Democratic Candidates Congressional debate that was held on Wednesday April 23rd at the American Legion Post in Carmel. There was a good crowd and extra chairs had to be brought out to seat all of the attendees (I know because I had to set them up).

All three candidates were present including: Shawn Denney, a school teacher, Allen Davidson, an engineer, and David Ford, a former weatherman with the military. [Note: David Ford is not related to JD Ford, the unopposed Democratic District 29 State Senate Candidate, who is running for the seat now held by Mike Delph.] The Congressional candidates are vying for the 5th District Congressional seat, currently held by Susan Brooks. The debate moderator, Mike Boland, a former Illinois legislator, did an excellent job of keeping the debate moving and covering numerous topics. Fifteen questions were asked ranging from the Affordable Care Act (ACA), environmental issues, right to work issues, educational issues, among others.

There was not a lot of difference in Denney's and Davidson's views on the issues. Denney was vocal on reducing the cost of education and noted that Tennessee is taking steps to provide no-cost education at two-year community colleges. He questioned why Indiana was not considering this step. Denney also was supportive of the ACA. Davidson hoped that the ACA would eventually become a single-payer system. He also voiced concern with the proposed Keystone Pipeline.

Ford had a quite different view on the issues, which put him at odds with the other two challengers and, as the evening wore on, raised concerns with many members of the audience. Ford seemingly dodged expressing views on several issues such as those related to the ACA, abortion rights, equal pay legislation, and regulatory agencies, labeling those issues as "irrelevant." He wanted to give states the authority on regulatory issues, criticized a single-payer healthcare option and emphasized the need for Democrats to reach out to disgruntled Republicans to build a coalition to beat Susan Brooks. Both Davidson and Denney essentially stated that they saw little, if any common ground between the Tea Party and the Democratic Party.

Based on this debate, I am personally backing Shawn Denney in this race. I feel he is an excellent communicator and will be the toughest opponent against Susan Brooks or Tea Party Republican David Stockdale, who is opposing her.

ACCIDENT

The driver of the Pontiac was transported to Riverview Health (Noblesville) and was treated and released. The driver and passenger of the Hyundai were transported by ambulance to I.U. Health Methodist Hospital (Indianapolis). One juvenile passenger in the Hyundai was transported by ambulance to Riverview Health and later to Riley Hospital for Children at Indiana University Health (Indianapolis). Another juvenile passenger was present in the Hyundai but did not sustain any injuries. None of the injuries appeared to be life-threatening at the time of this release.

Accident re-constructionists from the Noblesville Police Department are investigating the crash. Greenfield Avenue was temporary closed as investigators collected information and evidence pertaining to the crash. The cause of the crash is still under investigation. Identification of the drivers and passengers will be released after family notifications have been confirmed.

ARMORY

Neither group, likely, will act immediately. The Schools, yes, soon, if they sell what now is called Hare Chevrolet Stadium and Swanson Field. The National Guard is talking about building in 5 to 7 years.

When the Guard leaves the Field Drive site, it will be the first time in a very long time that there hasn't been an armory in Noblesville. The local unit already has taken up home at the Anderson Armory.

Currently, there are 83 Guardsmen in the local unit. About half, said LTC Cathy Van Bree, Director of Public Affairs, are from the Noblesville area.

I had to smile when National Guard folks at the Wednesday meeting talked about the local armory being too small. None, who I questioned, could remember the old, old armory on Logan Street, just beside White River.

I say with pride that I was a National Guardsman back in those days.

The old armory was a big part of Noblesville and of the Hamilton County towns and cities. Noblesville High played its home basketball games there. So did most of the Hamilton County schools, when the court was vacant and scheduling could be arranged. Sheridan did not. Principal, athletic director and coach Larry Hobbs had his own little basketball castle in which most of the sectionals of that time were played.

It's going to be fun, I hope, to see what Noblesville Schools will do with the armory. Like with the National Guard gaining land it wanted, the land at the armory may be more valuable to Noblesville Schools than the armory itself.

Huskies open MIC with win

Hamilton Heights opened its Mid-Indiana Conference baseball play Wednesday evening at home, defeating Cass, 8-4.

A four-run fifth inning pushed Coach Craig Hawley's Huskies to the victory.

Baden Warner earned the pitching win with Aaron House recording a save.

At the plate, Lukas Sipe and Ian Nicholson each had two-run singles to key the offense.

"Braden Warner battled for us," said Hawley. "He threw strikes and kept us in a position to win. Aaron House did good work in closing it out."

"This was a real team win for us," Hawley added.

The Huskies, now 5-7 overall, will host another MIC game tonight, taking on Western.

Carmel wins at Lawrence

Carmel scored four runs in the top of the seventh to break a 4-4 tie and defeat Lawrence North, 8-4, at Lawrence on Wednesday evening.

The victory enabled the Greyhounds to sweep its two-game series with Lawrence North.

Carmel pitchers Matt Rearick, Nick Maier and Matt Wehner combined to allow Lawrence North just two hits. Rearick fanned seven batters in five innings. Maier picked up the victory.

Coach Dan Roman's club showed its power. Five of Carmel hits were good for extra bases. Thomas Baldwin and Tony Gianinni crushed home runs; Baldwin hit a triple and Baldwin, Gianinni and Garrett Pferrer each clubbed a double.

1 too many innings for HSE

One inning too many. That was Hamilton Southeastern's problem Wednesday evening at home against Zionsville.

The Eagles scored six runs in the top of the seventh to come from behind and pull out a 9-4 Hoosier Crossroads Conference victory over the Royals.

Southeastern got just six hits, including a pair of doubles by Tre Gantt and a double and single by David Herrmann. Aaron McGee also banded out two singles.

Southeastern today at 5:30 must go on the road to face this same Zionsville team.

With the loss the Royals fell to 4-8 on the year and 1-6 in the conference.

Early Oriole blast send Tigers to 2nd straight loss

Fishers dropped its second game in as many nights Wednesday, as Avon scored eight runs in the first three innings on the way to an 11-5 victory.

Senior Griffin Hulecki hit a two-out home run (his fifth of season) in the bottom of the first to tie the game at 1-1, but Orioles responded with four runs in the bottom of the second, and the Tigers could not recover.

Hulecki finished 2-for-4 with three RBIs. Junior Brad Burton got on base all three times and scored two runs.

Senior Mike Chakiry (1-1) started the game and took his first loss of the season after exiting with two outs in the 3rd inning.

Chakiry struck out five of his eight outs. Senior Grant Small and junior Joe Michel both pitched well in relief. Small threw the middle 2.1 innings and allowed one earned run. Michel pitched the final two innings allowing two unearned runs.

The Tigers, now 4-3 in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference and 12-4-1 overall, travel to Avon today to complete the HCC series.

Carmel, hitting .438, shows why

Moving to 7-4 on the season, Carmel scored four times in the first and never looked back while winning a 12-2, five-inning softball decision at Zionsville.

Coach Emily Good got five-hit throwing from her pitchers, and Carmel banged out 14 hits at the plate.

Pitchers Adrienne Jones and Kristyn Eckl combined for seven strike outs and walked just one batter.

Fourteen hits by Carmel was no surprise. As a team, the Lady Greyhounds are batting .438.

Jones and Haley VanNess led Carmel's punch, each with three hits. Ashley Tokarski, Riley Tejeck and Lauren Godden each pounded a double.

With 9-run inning, Huskies roar back to win

Hamilton Heights used a nine-run seventh inning to win a Mid-Indiana Conference game with Lewis Cass Wednesday 13-8.

The Huskies trailed 6-5 after six innings before going on their seventh-inning tear. After that, they held off the Kings to seal the win.

Morgan Burtron went 3-for-4, hitting a single, double and three-run homerun and totaling four RBIs. Shelby Wills, Taylor Rednour and Kayla Zink had two hits. Zink added two RBIs. Ashley Roberts and Claire Schildmeier had a hit each. Roberts pitched a complete game victory.

"We still have a lot to work on all around but the girls showed heart and determination tonight to come back and get a conference win," said HH coach Landi Lockwood.

Billy Casper Golf Selected To Manage Purgatory Golf Club

Purgatory Golf Club, located 40 minutes north of Indianapolis, has selected Billy Casper Golf (BCG) – the largest domestic owner-operator of golf courses, country clubs and resorts – to manage the 18-hole layout that, at 7,754 yards from the back tees, makes it “the longest course in Indiana.”

BCG will direct all operations at the daily-fee Purgatory, including course and property maintenance, staffing and training, clubhouse activities, food-and-beverage, merchandising, golf instruction, marketing and public relations, special events and financial management.

“Billy Casper Golf is the standout golf-course management firm,” says Mike Merchant, Owner of Purgatory. “It pays keen attention to detail and, behind the scenes, its purchasing power, marketing strength and ‘ACE the Guest Experience’ service program are good for golfers and the course.”

Purgatory has been named one of “America’s Top 50 Courses for Women” and “Top 10 Courses in Indiana” by Golf Digest, and “Top 50 Public Courses in America” by Golf World.

“A stellar course and loyal golfers make Purgatory one of the best in central Indiana,” says Peter Hill, Chairman and CEO of BCG. “Billy Casper Golf looks forward to bringing its expertise to Purgatory to enhance golfers’ experiences time and again.”

Spread across 218 acres of breathtaking landscape, Purgatory features a par-72, Ron Kern-designed golf course with six different sets of tees from 4,562 to 7,268 yards. Despite its “more heaven than hell” moniker, golfers seeking “sweet misery” tackle “The Purgatory Tee,” the 7,754-yard challenge.

With more than 125 white-sand bunkers and tall native grasses lining fairways and greens, Purgatory presents a stern test in accuracy off the tee and the short game. The 17th hole, dubbed “Hell’s Half Acre,” is a medium-length par 3 requiring a precise approach shot to avoid two acres of bunkers guarding the green.

A 7,000 square-foot putting green, 10,000 square-foot chipping area and a driving range make Purgatory a popular practice venue for golfers.

Affectionately named “The Lodge,” the stately clubhouse with a mountain feel features comfortable, hand-crafted furniture and “The Confessional,” a bar area where golfers congregate after their rounds. The Lodge is a pleasant setting for various catered functions in its banquet hall that seats 225 people.

Burroughs named Junior Program Coordinator at Indianapolis Rowing Club

The Indianapolis Rowing Center is happy to announce that Michael Burroughs will be the Junior Program Coordinator and Boathouse Manager, effective June 15. The current position is held by Jackie Kleinhans. Mike will train with Jackie from June 1 through June 15.

Jackie joined IRC in the summer of 2010. Over the past four years, Jackie has worked with the Masters rowers, Adult rowers, the RowIndy Program, Events facilities liaison, and of course the Head Coach for the Junior Rowing Program. She has also managed equipment maintenance and repair, and boathouse upkeep.

IRC has been very fortunate to have such a caring, passionate, hard working employee like Jackie, but the club know her move on to Smith College will help further her coaching career and IRC wishes her the best of luck.

Mike, originally from Northwest Indiana, graduated from Indiana University in 1989 with a degree in computer science and relocated to Indianapolis to start a career in high-tech startups that has spanned the last 25 years.

Outside of work, Mike's passion for teaching is fulfilled through his position as Adjunct Faculty at Butler University in the Computer Science department where this fall he will begin his 3rd year teaching their data sciences courses. Previously he has also held adjunct positions at University of Indianapolis and at IUPUI.

Formerly an avid tennis player, a foot injury in 2009 forced Mike to find a new sport. At his wife Tammy's urging he attended a Rowbics course and was immediately hooked on the sport of rowing. He shortly thereafter joined the Masters Team and has been an active member since then. He is a member of the IRC board and a co-chair of the IRC Events Committee.

Mike's passion for rowing was contagious in his family. His wife Tammy joined the Masters the year after Mike did and they now enjoy competing together. In 2012 his daughter Julia got hooked and started rowing as a novice for the IRC Junior Team. It was during this year, lending a helping hand to the girl's novice coach Eric Stoll, that Mike realized his passions for teaching and rowing could be combined and shortly thereafter he joined the IRC coaching staff. His son Collin also caught the bug and is just finishing his novice season as a coxswain.

Mike has recently completed the coursework component of the USRowing Level 2 Coaching Certification Program and expects to complete the on-the-water components this summer.

Outside of rowing and teaching, he enjoys both high tech and low tech tinkering. When not working to restore their old home in Indy or playing around with the latest technology gadgets, he enjoys videography and photography and hopes someday to brush up on the classical piano skills he has lost over the years.
