Hamilton County voters need to get out and vote

By FRED SWIFT

The coming primary election looks to be one that could set records for low voter participation. The only thing that might prevent this unwanted record is the Republican primary in Fishers where voters will be choosing nominees for their first city election.

But, even that balloting where six candidates are running for mayor, may not boost the voter turnout much if at all. One big reason is the almost total lack of contests in neighboring Marion County.

There are no contest there because of slating by both political parties. If a hopeful does not get slated by the party organization, he or she almost always drops out knowing the party bosses will get their slated candidate elected.

Fortunately, we do not have slating in Hamilton County. The candidates in the May primary run their own campaigns on a presumably equal playing field. Some do get financial aid and endorsements from various groups, but work and name ID are most important to success.

Unfortunately, the slating in Marion County holds down the vote in our county. This happens because the Indianapolis news media has no contests to cover and Hamilton County voters are so tuned into that media market that if they see or hear of no interest or urgency to vote, they think that applies here as well.

That's a bad assumption because in this county we choose our next local public officials in the Republican primary. Always? Well, for the past 56 years there has not been a Democrat elected to countywide office in this county, so yes, just about always.

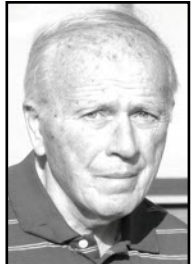

Veteran Hamilton County newsman Fred Swift will preview the various election races in Sunday's Hamilton County Reporter's email edition. The special election section also will be published in a Monday email edition and on Tuesday in the print edition of the Reporter.

You'd think the message of the importance of the primary would get around and more folks would want to participate. But, the percentage of voter turnout is generally going down, especially in off-year primary elections. So, you might want to pass the word that voting May 6 in this county might be a good idea even if our neighbors to the south see little need to show up.

It is not brain surgery placing "free" ads in the Reporter

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

I get it. I really do. I understand that some of you may not understand the sale of advertising in the Hamilton County Reporter.

It's something new, at least new to me, a guy who has been around the newspapers block a time or two. It's unique. Yes, I agree.

While spending a relaxing Friday afternoon trying to do a little of nothing, I received a telephone call from an extremely unhappy reader of the Hamilton County Reporter.

"It isn't fair," he said to me. "I just read a story in your newspaper which said my opponent (in the upcoming primary election) will have his ad in your Election Special Edition, free of charge. I read that the special section will run in your email edition on Sunday; your email edition on Monday and in your print edition on Tuesday."

"Free of charge. How about me?"
"Me" is not advertising in our Election Special. In fact, he isn't advertising in any newspaper. Said he doesn't believe in print advertising.

But, "Me" will be included in our Election Special coverage because he did reply with information on himself for one of our stories.

Of course, our free advertising isn't exactly free. Political advertising is no different than the ads you see in the Reporter each day. I've been preaching this for weeks, and week by week more and more business people in Hamilton County are understanding what we are all about.

Anyone, any business which purchases advertising in our Tuesday

Indiana State Police will participate in...

“Click It or Ticket” to boost seat belt use campaign

Motorists who refuse to wear their seat belts – beware. Indiana State Police today announced that Indiana’s 2014 “Click It or Ticket” seat belt enforcement campaign will begin Friday, May 9th and continue until June 1st.

This national mobilization will also take place over the Memorial Day holiday period and is supported by thousands of law enforcement agencies and traffic safety advocates across the country. In Indiana, more than 250 law enforcement agencies will conduct special patrols – day and night, to identify and ticket unrestrained drivers and passengers.

Although “Click It or Ticket” has been credited with increasing Indiana’s seat belt usage rate, we still have to improve to save even more lives. Statistics show wearing your seat belt increases your chances of surviving a crash by more than 50 percent.

Motorists should be prepared to see more law enforcement on the roads during this special enforcement period. Special patrols will take place around the clock, and if law enforcement finds you on the road unbuckled at any time, you can expect to get a ticket. No excuses and no exceptions.

“Click It or Ticket” is an annual enforcement effort that is supported by federal highway safety funding awarded to more than 250 state and local law enforcement agencies from ICJI’s Traffic Safety Division. Indiana’s enforcement mobilization is reinforced by paid, statewide advertising combined with targeted public outreach efforts aimed at comprehensively promoting the life-saving benefits of regular seat belt use to all motorists.

print edition will have that same message carried in our email editions of that same week, Wednesday through Sunday. At no additional cost. That’s where the freebie comes in. The very reasonable price for an ad in our weekly print edition, I believe, gives the advertiser the extra of being in our well-read email editions on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Reporter is the only newspaper, or whatever different name our opponents may call us, is the only newspaper ever published on Sundays in Hamilton County.

How can you beat that offer? You can’t. That is way, I believe, my Friday afternoon caller became so unhappy .... with himself.

An advertiser being in our email editions is a heck of a deal. The Reporter is read, daily, in Carmel, Fishers, Westfield, Noblesville, Sheridan, Cicero, Arcadia, Atlanta and in other areas of the county which don’t have their own names.

It is read throughout the United States and, yes, even throughout the world. That, too, helps our advertisers.

Those winter snowbirds in Florida and Arizona and other southern states we hear from are about to return home for the summer, home where they’ll do shopping at your business. Military folks from around the world who are now keeping track of “back home” with Reporter’s email I would think will remember you merchants making that possible by supporting the Reporter.

Just remember, Mr. & Mrs. Advertiser, purchase an ad at a very reasonable price in our Tuesday weekly, your same ad will run, free of charge, throughout the week in our email edition.

It’s that simple!

Two closures on 106th Street

There will be two separate, upcoming closures of 106th Street between Spring Mill Road and Illinois Street to facilitate two sanitary sewer crossings at this location. The first closure began on Thursday, May 1st and will be re-opened on Thursday, May 8th.

The second closure is scheduled to begin on Wednesday, May 14th and be re-opened on Monday, May 19th.

Detour routes will be posted in advance of the closure. The detour will utilize Spring Mill Road and Illinois Street.

Sheridan Community Singers recruiting performers

The Sheridan Community Singers organization is recruiting individuals to perform in their upcoming performance "Indivisible."

The patriotic musical will serve as a benefit for the Marion-Adams Emergency Relief Fund.

The group announced performances will occur on July 1 at 6:00 and 7:30 p.m. at the Six Points Wesleyan Church, 1545 West 226th Street, Sheridan

Practice will take place on Thursdays at 7:00 beginning May 8. Alternate practice will begin on May 6 for those that can’t make the Thursday practice.

Royals unload on Fishers

Mudsock sporting events, head to head battles between Hamilton Southeastern and Fishers in all boys and girls sports, are suppose to be close.

This track and field meet was not.

HSE won 12 of 16 events on route to a 96.33 to 35.66 knockout of Fishers last evening at Southeastern.

It also was Senior Night for Coach Chris Swisher’s team, and the 19 seniors on the squad did things their way.

“This crew of seniors really had a strong showing tonight,” sad Swisher.

Leading the way for HSE was Austin Hogan, who set a new school record in the discus with a 182-6 toss. Hogan also took home first in the shot put.

Jacob Wright won in both hurdle events and led the 4x400 realy team to a comeback victory.

“The meet was a great confidence builder for our team as we head toward tournament time,” Swisher said.

Nichwitz, distance runners shine as...

Lady Royals capture Mudsock

Some track and field followers around the state were starting to take a strong look at Fishers’ Lady Tigers for state championship honors later this season. That may still happen, but last evening in the annual Mudsock battle between Fishers and Hamilton Southeastern, it was HSE which captured a victory in impressive style, 80-52.

“Our depth really helped us tonight,” said winning coach Julie Alano. “Our distance runners really ran well as we won the 800, 1600, 3200 and the 4x800 relay. Rachel Nichwitz broke the 3200 run set by Jessica King last week.”

Nichwitz’s time was 10:50.34, the third fastest in the state recorded so far this season.

Southeastern’s depth showed up big in the relays, the Lady Royals winning the 3200 with Ciara McAree, Anna Ramsey, Courtney Pfanstiel and Grace Andritsch and the 400 with Alexa Jenkins, Brittany Goggans, Deneen McKinney and Kayla Seymour.

Other Southeastern victories came from King in the 1600 run, Breanna Hargrove in the 400 dash, Lindsey Schuler in the 300 hurdles, Samantha Zuber in the 800 run, Schuer again in the high jump, Lindsay Walton in the shot put and Alyssa McDougal in the discus.

Southeastern finished 1-2 in the 400 dash, the 3200 run, the high jump and the discus.

In a contest which featured some of the state’s best, it wasn’t a bad night for Coach Andrew Belloli’s Fishers team. The Tigers were led by Paris Carver, who won both the 100 and 200.

Lexi Smith shattered her own school record in the long jump. Abby Horn broke a pair of school records while finishing second in he 1600 and the 800. Emily Fletchall won the pole vault and Abbi Bartholomew captured the 100 hurdles. Fishers also won the 1600 relay with the foursome of Carver, Molly Gorgol, Adrianna Murphy and Bre White.

Fishers swept all three spots in the 100 hurdles.

Watson hurls complete game shutout as...

Huskies top Prairie, 5-0

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

It wasn't long ago that the left arm of Nathan Watson was stroking around in a pool while a swimmer for the Hamilton Heights Huskies. Last evening, at Heights in a game against Clinton Prairie, Watson's arm appeared to have transferred from swimming to baseball.

The lefty hurler allowed just seven hits as he pitched a complete game shutout as Coach Rick Hawley's Huskies slammed the door on Clinton Prairie, Heights winning by a 5-0 margin.

"His arm is getting stronger, for baseball," Hawley said. "It has taken him some time to come around."

Watson

Watson was in complete charge against Clinton Prairie.

The Gophers got two runners on base in the second. One was thrown out by catcher Mitch Howie trying to steal. In the fifth, Prairie's first two runners reached base. The Huskies again ended that rally, this time on a double play when Christian McGill ran down a liner in center and threw to second to double off a Gopher.

Hamilton Heights kept pecking away to put its five runs on the board.

In the second, Evan Haas led off with a hustle double and later scored on a single by Howie. Braden Warner followed with a double and pinch-runner Riley White scored on a ground out by Seth Harris.

Heights went up 3-0 in the fourth. Howie singled, stole second, advanced to third on a single by Warner and scored on a second ground out RBI by Harris.

Prairie gave the Huskies two insurance runs in the fifth. Sam Reel and Lucas Sipe both reached on errors. Reel scored on a single by Brady Spencer and Sipe scored on a wild pitch.

The Huskies, 1-1 in the Mid-Indiana Conference, next week will play two loop games, starting at home on Tuesday against Northwestern.

"We beat a good Cass team for our conference win," Hawley said. "We were tied with Western and had the lead run on base in the sixth, but then didn't let the win get away. Western is a good team."

"We're just trying to get better," added the coach. "Western is a good club. "We're getting there."

"We're trying to play well in the conference," Hawley said. "We're facing some good teams."

Greyhounds win, 24-0

There is a reason why Carmel's softball Greyhounds have an awesome .421 team batting average. Last night, there were 24 reasons as Coach Emily Good's club belted that many hits in a 24-0 victory over host Lawrence North. Carmel scored seven runs in the first, 10 in the second, one in the third, one in the fourth and finished up with a five-run fifth. For the season Katie Wede is hitting .548; Ashley Tokarski .545, Whitney Foyer and Adrienne Jones .476 each; Maddy Griffin .471; Lauren Godden .452; Jaclyn Kweder .449 and Sam Pash .447. Only one player on the team is batting under .300. Carmel hit six homers against Lawrence North, two each by Riley Tejcek and Godden and one each by Griffin and Foyer. Kweder and Wede added to the total, each with a triple. Kweder, Pash and Godden each stroked a double

Tejcek

Godden collected four hits and knocked home five runs. It was an easy night for the Carmel pitchers. Jones, the starter, went four innings and allowed just two hits while striking out nine. Reliever Kristyn Eckl didn't give up a hit and fanned four.

Mitch Daniels joins Hulman & Company Board of Directors

Mitchell E. Daniels Jr., president of Purdue University and the former Governor of Indiana, has joined the Hulman & Company Board of Directors.

"We're honored that Mitch has agreed to serve with us during this period of renewed focus on economic development and infrastructure improvement. We are positioned for growth in our business units like no time in our history, and Mitch's business acumen and understanding of the heritage of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway are tremendous assets," said board member Andre Lacy.

Daniels, who waved the green flag to start the 2012 Indianapolis 500 Mile Race, was the state's 49th governor, serving two terms after first being elected in 2004. At the conclusion of his term in January 2013, Daniels joined Purdue as its 12th president. He has set a bold agenda to enhance Purdue's strengths in research, technology and innovation and developed new standards for higher education affordability and accessibility.

Purdue has a long history of motorsports involvement in Indiana, including racing safety and engineering study. Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis offers a bachelor's degree program in motorsports engineering, and the Indianapolis Motor Speedway partners with Purdue to reach more students through a STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math) education program. IMS and Purdue also have teamed to study and improve gate entry plans during major race day events.

"I spent many a Memorial Day weekend at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway growing up in Indianapolis, and there's no more iconic racing facility in the world. Anything a Hoosier can do to help this priceless state asset, he should do," said Daniels. "The connection between Purdue and Hulman & Company is already strong and this new relationship will take us even further."
