Finding a school for special kids

In affluent Hamilton County

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

As I sat and listened, there was a moment in which I pinched myself, wondering if I had fallen asleep and was having a nightmare. Am I still in Hamilton County, I wondered. The Hamilton County I've known all of my life. I sat there and listened to emotional people, some in tears. I sat there and listened to mad parents, parents who were scared, yes, scared, that their beloved Mosaics School was about to be lost.

Some two years ago Noblesville Schools, where Mosaics School is housed, announced that it would soon run out of space. Mosaics would need to find another home.

Mosaics is a school for special needs students. It's a cooperative effort of Hamilton, Boone and Madison counties schools. It is governed by the superintendents of Noblesville, Sheridan, Hamilton Heights, Westfield and Lapel-Frankton school systems. Those school systems also finance Mosaics, each paying its fair share based on numbers of students from each of the districts. Carmel and Hamilton Southeastern Schools once were part of the co-op, but pulled out a few years ago and now operate their own schools for special needs students.

Leaving Noblesville Schools, there was a plan put in place, led by Noblesville Superintendent Dr. Libbie Conner. No one, I know of, has put any more work and effort into given special needs students a school of their own than Conner.

The plan was for Noblesville Schools to purchase the National Guard Armory. Located on Field Drive, the armory has kind of stood as an island surrounded by Noblesville Schools. For years, Noblesville Schools had attempted to buy the armory, not for the building itself but for the 10 acres owned by the National Guard. It's prime land for Noblesville Schools in its planning for a new football field and perhaps even a new baseball diamond. With the recent agreement for Ivy Tech to move into what now is Noblesville East Middle School, Noblesville Schools lost a baseball diamond on 16th Street and there is interest from Ivy Tech to purchase the Hare Chevrolet Stadium land on which the football field sits. Ivy Tech wants the land for parking.

So far, so good. Ivy Tech gets its parking; Noblesville money from that sale to build a football field on land Noblesville Schools, following the purchase of the armory, now owns on Field Drive.

And, Mosaics moves into the armory building.

However, at the recent meeting of the Mosaics board, Conner had to announce that (following the purchase and following an inspection by architects hired by Noblesville Schools) the armory does not meet the codes for such a school and that over a million and a half dollars would be needed to turn the armory into a school for special needs children.

Somebody dropped the ball. Big time.

Conner said Noblesville, for security reasons, wasn't allowed to inspect the property until Noblesville Schools purchased the property. Because the sale took so much time to be completed (working with the federal government) Noblesville

Strength training important for women over 50

By SHARON MCMAHON

"I knew very little about osteoporosis before I was diagnosed. When I found out I was shocked..."

Ursula Andress, actress and former 'Bond Girl'

While most of my columns here will focus on aspects of nutrition and well-being, I digress this time to expound on another topic of personal interest to me – the importance of strength and resistance activity for women over fifty. Resistance training can counteract the weakening effects of modern and sedentary living. Obviously most of us ladies in a particular age category want to look as fit as possible, which is a great goal but not the primary factor I will discuss today.

Sorry to do this but here are some sobering statistics: According to the CDC (Center for Disease Control & Prevention) the latest statistics show that approximately 5 million women over 50 suffer from osteoporosis and 80% of those who suffer from the disease in this country are women. The AAOS (American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons) estimates that 70% of those who suffer injuries from falls do not return to their pre-injury status.

While the tendency to suffer from bone density issues is often hereditary, there are activities which can stave off some of those issues. (There are also nutritional objectives which I will save for another time.) Addressing mobility, range of motion, functionality, all of these are critical to our health and well-being. Strength training can also benefit a reduction in blood pressure, lower back pain, arthritic pain – not to mention increasing the ability to lift household items, climb stairs, participate in golf, tennis, etc.

Renew Sheridan plans for future growth

By JEFF JELLISON

Coveney

Renew Sheridan, a meeting that attracted government leaders, school staff, business owners, and concerned citizens, took place Thursday evening at Sheridan Elementary School.

The meeting was opened by Sheridan School Superintendent Dr. David Mundy stating, "Our focus should be coming together to talk about the inevitable growth Sheridan is about to experience and how we can help control the growth to protect our heritage."

During the meeting three groups outlined future goals that each felt needed to be accomplished to prepare Sheridan for the future.

DeVaney

DeVaney and Brenda Bush. DeVaney talked about long and short term priorities which included drainage, wastewater, economic development and parks.

Following Devaney, Nate Lichti from Hamilton County Area Neighborhood Development (HAND) spoke about the importance to create design standards to protect

Lichti

Sheridan's historic downtown. Lichti encouraged community members to explore public and private partnerships for downtown projects and gave a brief update on how HAND was involved with Sheridan community members in a revitalization project of a small downtown neighborhood.

cussed findings from steering committees and small groups. Coveney stated, “We kept hearing the need for Gateways in our community.” Coveny spoke about the increased number of people traveling through Sheridan and the need for signage directing visitors to the community.

Following the presentation Dr. Mundy opened the meeting to public comments and questions.

School board member Todd Burtron was the first to speak followed by Hamilton County Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt. Burtron and Heirbrandt’s statements were likely the most impactful statements made during the evening.

Burtron, a Sheridan resident who serves as Westfield’s Chief of Staff stated, “We’ve got to make some bold moves outside the norm to right our ship and make a statement Sheridan is a good place.” Burtron, commenting on nearby Grand Park, said, “There is an economic wind blowing through Sheridan and we have to make sure our sails are in a position to catch the wind.”

“You guys are on the right path,” said Commissioner Heirbrandt. “It is going to require taking some risks and you will have to make some bold moves. If you do that good things will happen,” concluded Heirbrandt.

SCHOOL

never got into the building until it became time for Mosaics to begin planning to move into the armory.

The land, not the building, was what Noblesville most wanted. Allowing Mosaics to use the building was icing on the cake. Noblesville Schools had purchased land north of the city, for nearly $1 million, and exchanged that land to the federal government for the armory.

With no preseason inspection, that’s like buying a mansion and later discovering there is no inside plumbing.

No one, including the Mosaics people, want, or can, put over a million dollars into turning the armory into a school. Even more so since Noblesville Schools clearly has stated that it will reclaim the building in five or six years.

So, now the armory will be used for storage. Yes, storage.

And, Mosaics must come up with a solution before the board meets again on May 23 at 9 a.m. at the Noblesville Education Services Center.

In Hamilton County, where high school campuses and school buildings resemble college facilities, surely there is an answer.

In Hamilton County, where government buildings resemble castles, surely there is an answer.

In Hamilton County, where schools spend millions of dollars for athletics facilities, surely there is an answer.

In Hamilton County, where today mansions stand where once corn was grown, surely there is an answer.

Surely in one of the most affluent areas in the state we can find a school home for 30-plus kids. Our kids. A school all their own, just like the 60-plus public schools in Hamilton County which house more than 53,000 students.

STRENGTH

There are many avenues to resistance and strength training which can be achieved by taking classes or working with a personal trainer. Some people prefer to utilize free weights, resistance bands, or exercise machines, or even their own body weight. Those with knee and back issues can effectively benefit from aqua workouts as well. Flexibility is crucial as well to maintain range of motion and balance.

At this point I will re-emphasize my passion for the importance of maintaining bone density, because without it we set ourselves up for a fall, both literally and figuratively. The pain of broken bones together with the loss of independence is something that we need to address. Having said that, I urge you to meet with your physician to access your risk for osteoporosis and the efficacy of strength and weight training for you. Studies of postmenopausal women report that strength training can increase bone mineral density in the spine.

Before beginning a program on your own or through a supervised class, it is very important to undergo a thorough medical examination to determine which activities are best for you. Your physician should provide you with a medical evaluation of fracture risk, muscle strength, range of motion, fitness, and gait. A stronger body will serve you well physically in the years ahead and boost your confidence in your appearance and energy level. Good advice for those over-50, definitely. Forty-somethings, not a bad idea for you as well!

Project to add parking office space to Nickel Plate District...

Meyer Najem breaks ground on new Fishers headquarters

Town of Fishers' officials, together with Meyer Najem leadership, broke ground on the new Meyer Najem headquarters today in the Nickel Plate District. The new two-story, 40,000 sq. ft. office building will not only house Meyer Najem, but also offers 17,500 sq. ft. of available office space and includes a surface parking lot with 125 total spots to be shared with the Town on nights and weekends. Once complete, officials plan on applying for LEED certification with the U.S. Green Building Council.

"Meyer Najem is one of the Midwest's leading construction firms," said Fishers Town Council President John Weingardt. "The construction of their new headquarters in the Fishers' Nickel Plate District shows a commitment to our community and offers a flagship office space in the heart of our downtown."

While Meyer Najem will occupy the first floor of the building, the Town of Fishers will master lease the second floor and sublease space to other businesses. The project incorporates several green building elements; highlights include:

- Energy savings such as maximizing interior daylight to reduce electric lighting, a white roof to reduce solar heat gain and LED interior fixtures
- Locally harvested and recycled materials
- Three outdoor spaces designed to offer a connection to the Nickel Plate District amenities

- Bike storage facilities, indoor showers and designated carpool parking spaces to promote alternative transportation and active living

- Water saving fixtures throughout

"Meyer Najem is excited about the growth of our firm as well as being a part of the Nickel Plate District," stated President Tim Russell. "This project represents our commitment to the community and the growing town of Fishers."

The project is expected to be complete by the spring of 2015 and invests an estimated $5.5 million in the Nickel Plate District.

Noblesville High School hosts Project Citizen Showcase

On Wednesday evening Noblesville High School hosted their first Project Citizen Showcase. The U.S. Government students presented public policy proposals to panels of distinguished guests. The guests included Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear, faculty from IUPUI, a Noblesville city council representative, local business leaders and more (complete list below).

Students presented on topics ranging from clean energy and community gardens to textbook rental fees, technology in schools, raising the legal age of adulthood, and helping undocumented persons obtain legal work permits. Approximately 150 people attended the event.

Project Citizen is a good example of Noblesville Schools 21st Century learning skills as it gives the students opportunities to do the work of being participatory citizens by interacting with the real community outside of the classroom to bring about positive change to the world.

U.S. 31 construction update

Overnight lane restrictions between 146th and 169th streets
Motorists should expect various overnight lane restrictions on US 31 between 146th and 169th streets through the end of May while crews continue the remaining work on this contract. Overnight lane restrictions are expected between 9 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Temporary closure of Westfield Park Road near SR 32 on or after May 16
Beginning on or after May 16, crews plan to close Westfield Park Road near SR 32 for approximately 14 days while the drive is rebuilt just west of its current location. During the temporary closure, access to businesses on Westfield Park Road will be available via 169th Street.

Construction zone safety reminder
Driving safely in construction zones, like the one along US 31 in Hamilton County, requires undivided attention and patience.

To operate safely in a construction zone, motorists should:

- Be aware of changing conditions
- Pay attention to construction signage and flaggers
- Prepare for frequent stops
- Follow posted speed limits
- Stay in their lane
- Avoid distractions, especially mobile devices
- Remain calm
- Plan for delays

Driving aggressively in work zones can cost you in several ways. Indiana's Work Zone Safety Law includes steep penalties for driving infractions in work zones. The minimum fee for speeding in a work zone is $300, and that fine increases if you receive more than one ticket in three years. Drivers who injure or kill a highway worker could face fines up to $10,000 and eight years in prison

Three county teams to host softball sectionals...

Expect another tough 4A battle

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor
Every year the softball sectional that involves the Class 4A Hamilton County teams is difficult. This year is no exception.

Three of the teams are ranked in the top 20. While none of them have to face each other right away, it's certain that none of them are overlooking their first-round opponent.

Action gets underway Tuesday, May 27 at Carmel's Cherry Tree Softball Complex, which is hosting Sectional 8 this year. The No. 12-ranked Greyhounds take on North Central at 6 p.m.

Wednesday, May 28 will be an all-county day in the sectional. No. 15 Hamilton Southeastern will play Westfield at 5:30 p.m. to open the evening. That will be followed by No. 11 Fishers taking on Noblesville.

Zionsville got the bye, and will face the Tuesday winner on Thursday, May 29 in the semi-finals.

Carmel will be one of three county teams hosting a sectional this year. Hamilton Heights will welcome five other teams to Class 3A Sectional 24.

Play starts on Tuesday May 27, with Muncie Southside taking on No. 10 Yorktown at 5 p.m. The Huskies will follow that by playing Blackford at 7 p.m.

The Tuesday winners will play in the first semi-final at 5 p.m. Thursday, May 29, followed by the second semi-final with Delta and Muncie Central. The championship is set for 6 p.m., Saturday May 31.

Guerin Catholic will host Class 3A Sectional 26, the first time the Golden Eagles have hosted a sectional. This will be a five-team sectional, with play opening on Memorial Day, Monday, May 26 between Guerin and Beech Grove at 11 a.m.

"When I took over the program, I was told right away that we were going to host sectionals," said Ed Collins, first-year coach for GCHS.

Tuesday's games feature Bishop Chatard against Marshall in the 5 p.m. semi-final, followed by the Game 1 winner taking on Herron. The championship game is Wednesday, May 28.

"It's really exciting for us as a school to host sectionals, and obviously we're trying to put our best foot forward," said Collins. "It is definitely a wide-open sectional, but we should compete very well there."

In Class 2A action, Sheridan will travel up to Eastern to compete in Sectional 39. The Blackhawks will be one of six teams in action on Memorial Day.

Games begin at 10 a.m., with Tipton taking on No. 17 Elwood. The Blackhawks will play Alexandria next at noon, followed by the fifth-ranked host Comets facing Madison-Grant at 2 p.m. Taylor received the bye and plays the Tipton-Elwood winner on Wednesday, May 28.

In Class 1A action, University will play at Sectional 58, hosted by Lutheran. This is a five-team sectional, with the four games spread out over four days.

First up is a Memorial Day game between Indiana School for the Deaf and Bethesda Christian, with the winner making the semi-finals. On Tuesday, No. 10 Lutheran plays Eminence, and the Trailblazers will face the winner of ISD and Bethesda's game on Wednesday.

McLean’s double wins it...

Millers’ rally edges Royals

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Noblesville and Hamilton Southeastern, long-time rivals who on many a day have gone to war on a baseball diamond, did just that Thursday evening at Don Dunker Field in Noblesville.

McLean

Essig

One this night, in this Hoosier Crossroads Conference outing, Coach Justin Keever’s host Millers won the battle, coming from behind with three runs in the bottom of the seventh while pulling out a 4-3 victory over an upset-minded HSE team.

The win kept Noblesville in first place in the HCC, the Millers having entered the contest with a one-game lead over McCutcheon.

Noblesville picked up the victory as the result of a running-scoring double by Brian McLean in the bottom of the seventh, after pinch-hitter Austin Shirley, a sophomore, had tied the game on a single.

“These kids know how to play all seven innings,” sad Keever.

“This wasn’t our best night,” Keever said. “Their pitcher (Bryan Roberts) did a heck of a job. But, our kids stayed connected and won at the end.”

Roberts had held the state’s 7th ranked Noblesville squad to just five hits and one run (a home run by Vinny Essig) until the seventh.

Zack St. Pierre led off the seventh with a double. After Roberts fanned Trevor Salmon, Connor Christman reached base on an error, as St. Pierre scored on the play, Shirley then singled home pinch-runner Matt Swearingen with the tying run. Andrew Wilson’s grounder forced Shirley at second, Wilson beating a potential double-play throw to first. Running on the pitch, Wilson scored the winning run on McLean’s double.

“We’ve got to learn to close out games,” said Southeastern coach Scott Henson. “This is our seventh one-run loss of the season. We had them down tonight, and couldn’t close out the game.”

Roberts pitched extremely well for the Royals, allowing just three hits through five innings. Essig had the homer to left and Garrett Christman and Dax McLochlin collected singles.

Noblesville got to Roberts for two hits, coming off the bats of McLean and Garrett Christman, in the sixth, but McLochlin fanned and Essg popped to first to end the threat.

The winning pitcher was Garrett Christman. He went all the way and gave the Millers a shot at the seventh inning rally by striking out two and retiring the Royals in order in the top of the seventh.

Giannini hits grand slam walk-off as...

Carmel rallies to top NC

Fans who missed the first six innings of the Carmel-North Central MIC Conference baseball game Thursday evening at Hartman Field didn't miss a thing.

Or, not much. NC scored single runs in the first and third innings and Carmel notched a run in the bottom of the fifth. It appeared the visiting Panthers were in charge when they added two runs in the top of the seventh to take a 4-1 lead. Coach Dan Roman's Greyhounds had a different finish in mind. Carmel scored seven times in the bottom of the seventh and defeated North Central, 8-4. The Greyhounds won the game on a bases-loaded, walk-off home run by Tony Giannini. Giannini's home run made a pitching winner out of Carmel ace Ryan Campbell, who in relief threw to just two North Central batters in the top of the seventh. The home run was Giannini's first hit of the night and Carmel's 10th hit. Thomas Baldwin, Parker Massman and Evan Nixon each collected two hits. Baldwin drilled a double.

Sheridan drops heartbreaker... Bulldogs "walk" to win

"Heartbreaking." That's the label Sheridan coach Matt Britt put on his team's 5-4 loss at Clinton Central Thursday evening. Sheridan lost a one-run lead when the host Bulldogs scored two times in the bottom of the seventh. After two were out in the frame, Sheridan walked in the tying and winning runs. The two Hoosier Heartland foes were scheduled to meet again today at Sheridan at 4:45 p.m. Yesterday, Sheridan took a 4-3 lead with a run in the top of the sixth, but then couldn't protect that margin in the bottom of the frame. Jordan Kyriakopoulos continued his hot (.533) hitting with two of Sheridan's five hits, but Clinton Central pitching held Austin Hoover (.565) hitless in two official trips to the plate. Kyriakopoulos scored three of Sheridan's four runs. All five Sheridan hits were singles.

Hoover, who has a 2.00 ERA on the mound, was the tough luck losing pitcher. He went all the way and allowed just five hits and only two earned runs. Hoover fanned eight batters, but did walk six. With the loss, the Blackhawks fell to 11-8 on the year.

Down to the wire; Tigers win

In a matchup between two Hoosier Crossroads Conference foes and a game between two teams which will play in the same post-game sectional, Fishers pulled out a 6-5 victory Thursday evening at Zionsville. Coach Matthew Cherry's Tigers scored two runs in the top of the seventh and then had to fight off a Zionsville charge in the bottom of the frame. The same two tams are scheduled for a rematch tonight at 5:30 p.m. at Fishers. Offensively, Fishers was on the attack all night long, pounding out 10 hits. Griffin Hulecki and Taylor Canter each had two hits. Brandon Yoho got the pitching victory and Mike Chakiry picked up the save.

Fishers now is 17-7-1 on the season and 8-5 in the conference.

McCutcheon scored a run in the bottom of the fourth and that was the game's only scoring as the Mavs defeated Westfield, 1-0, and stayed within a game of first place Noblesville in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference. McCutcheon still has conference double-headers remaining with Avon and Hamilton Southeastern. Westfield collected just one hit in the shutout loss, a single by Jake Dietz. Jacob Robinson was the tough luck losing pitcher, allowing McCutcheon just six hits and no earned runs in five innings. McCutcheon scored the game's only run on Westfield's only error.

Ice return to Pan Am Pavilion to continue Clark Cup battle

The Indiana Ice will make their homestand in the battle for the 2014 Clark Cup Championship this Friday (5/16) and Saturday (5/17) as the team hosts the Waterloo Black Hawks from Pan Am Pavilion. Both contests are set to begin at 7:05 pm.

Indy relieved Waterloo of their home-ice advantage over the weekend, splitting a pair of contests with the Western Conference Champions at Young Arena.

The Ice jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first and second periods of Friday’s game one contest, but four unanswered goals gave the host Black Hawks a 1-0 edge in the series. Scott Conway and Josh Jacobs both lit the lamp for the visitors while Jason Pawloski made 31 saves on 34 shots.

Saturday’s contest stretched into the late hours of the night as Indy topped Waterloo 3-2 in double overtime. Joe Sullivan’s wraparound goal at the 6:49 mark of the second overtime split the series at one game apiece. Jacobs potted his second goal in as many nights while Mitch Hults also scored on one of the Ice’s 62 shots on net. Pawloski recorded 32 saves on 34 bullets for his sixth postseason win.

A weekend sweep would win the championship for either team while a split would send the series back to Waterloo for game five on Tuesday, May 20 at 8:05 pm Eastern.

Tickets for the Clark Cup playoffs, presented by Ivy Tech, remain the same at $15 for reserved seating and $10 for standing room only and can be purchased on Ticketmaster or through the Indiana Ice office at (317) 925-4423.
