Pork chops and pancakes

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

While many service clubs throughout the nation, including many here in Hamilton County, are losing membership and some are dying out, that's not what is happening to the Noblesville Lions Club.

An organization which has been serving the community since May 6, 1942, the Noblesville Lions Club is going strong.

"Our membership grew 10 percent last year," said Clayton Fleming, secretary of the Lions.

Fleming believes the growth is due in part to all the many activities the club participates in.

"We are not a group which sits on its hands," Fleming said. "We're out working in the community."

That point, once again, will be made this weekend when on Saturday the club serves a pancake breakfast on the courthouse square from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. Breakfast seekers can feast on pancakes, sausage and a beverage, all for just $5 for adults and $3 for children under the age of 10. Also, the Lions will have Pork on a Stick for only $5.

Disinterest causing a crisis for local organizations

By FRED SWIFT

Are we becoming a disinterested society? Disinterested with our community and its institutions, that is?

Not all of us, but way too many folks are not taking part, or doing their part in the organizations that help produce the heart and soul of our communities.

Here's what I'm talking about. For years Hamilton County has had vibrant service clubs, charitable groups, political organizations, volunteer fire departments and churches, all served by volunteer members.

Some of these organizations are facing crisis due to declining membership. Not enough young people are filling the ranks as older members pass on. It's especially frustrating because we live in a county with a booming population of young to middle aged folks, people who have time and ability.

Here's an example of the problem: the Carmel Kiwanis Club in operation for 51 years, disbanded this spring be-

Commissioners talk "37 corridor" with County Council

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

There was nothing new to report. The Hamilton County Commissioners met last evening with the Hamilton County Council in an open-to-the-public "work session" before the regular council meeting.

It was an opportunity for the Commissioners to share with the County Council their plans, hopes and dreams for a "37 corridor" which in many ways would reduce the road gridlock in eastern Hamilton County much as the Keystone Parkway has done on western Hamilton County.

In many ways last evening session was the first in a series of "pep sessions" to get the long, long overdue project moving.

It was the Commissioners' first meeting of many meetings which will involve the County, the City of

Cicero to conduct study on building new government offices

By JEFF JELLISON

The Town of Cicero will conduct a feasibility study to determine the possibility of building a new government office building.

Paul Munoz, Director of Planning and Development for Cicero, stated "Right now we aren't going out and spending a bunch of money. We just need to get an understanding of future needs and the cost in-involved in meeting those needs." Munoz also stated, "We need to identify what our staffing, storage and access needs will be 20 to 30 years down the road."

Munoz indicated Cicero wants to keep its offices in the downtown area, which most likely means, town officials would consider demolishing the current building and construct a new facility at the 150 W.

Jackson Street location. The current facility houses Cicero Utilities offices, Clerk's office and the Planning Commission. Munoz indicated Cicero owns the land west of and north of their current offices.

"We have talked with two engineering firms. Once a firm is selected they would provide us with a conceptual design and cost to build the facility," stated Munoz.

Paul Thieme awarded FFA scholarship by Don Hinds Ford

Paul Thieme, a Future Farmers of America member of the Hamilton Southeastern HS FFA, has been awarded a $1,000 scholarship by Don Hinds Ford Inc. and Ford Motor Company through the National FFA Scholarship program.

Thieme is pictured with Bud Colglazier, the president of Don Hinds Ford Inc.

The Built Ford Tough - FFA Scholarship Program is designed to recognize FFA members' talents and accomplishments while encouraging their future academic achievements. The scholarship is one of 530 scholarships awarded by Ford Division, Ford Motor Company Fund and Ford Dealers to FFA members who are high school seniors planning to attend college in the fall of 2014, or current collegiate students. This program is a part of Ford's overall commitment to the National FFA Organization.

Ford has supported the National FFA Foundation since the first F-Series truck was introduced in 1948, and has sponsored the Built Ford Tough collegiate scholarship program since 1997. To date, the program has awarded $8,145,000 in scholarships to 8,184 FFA members throughout the country. Ford knows the value of hard work, and believes hard work should be rewarded. Education aspiring young people to become the leaders of tomorrow is just another way of ensuring a successful future.

Lane restrictions end Friday

Cicero causeway nears completion

By JEFF JELLISON
Cicero town officials have announced the Jackson Street/236th St. causeway will reopen in both directions on Friday.
The roadway which serves as the main east/west access route through Cicero has been restricted to one lane traffic for the last several months due to a three million dollar renovation, which includes a 12 foot wide extension constructed on the south side of the bridge over Morse Reservoir.

The extension will serve as a walkway for pedestrians and bicyclist to travel from one side of Cicero to the other.

DISINTEREST

cause membership was down to only six or eight members. Just a few years ago it was a thriving organization giving thousands to charity, sponsoring the high school Key Club among its many projects.
Not too long ago the Boxley Methodist Church closed its doors. Membership was so small the church could not survive.
Only a few years ago the Arcadia Volunteer Fire Department disbanded because there were not enough volunteers to answer the call.
Other groups, still operating, are in danger of closing down all because of few if any new members. Service clubs, veterans organizations, school alumni associations and small churches are among those with older memberships which are finding it nearly impossible to attract new members.

It's not hard to figure out the problem. A great percentage of the population is seeking personal pleasure over associating with others for a common good. Watching endless TV programs, playing on the computer, perhaps a golf addiction or simple restaurant and bar hopping can account for what a lot of our people spend their spare time doing.
It's a problem that's not easily solved. We're a changing society as the experts like to say, but this is not a good change. The answer to this pending crisis comes down to a simple question: Are we individually going to be part of the problem or part of the solution?

Noblesville, the City of Fishers and, most of all, the State of Indiana. All would need to be, eventually, on the same track with a project that would move traffic south from Noblesville and belong the Fishers area in getting motorists to Indianapolis more quickly, more safely.
“We'll be updating the City Councils at Fishers and Noblesville,” said Commissioner Steve Dillinger, who represents those two districts. “We’ve already had some conversations with the State.”
The State could be the key because what the Commissioners want is for the State to turn State Road 37 over to Hamilton County, much like the State turned over Keystone to the City of Carmel.
“I’ve personally gone to Indianapolis twice to talk with Luke (State Senator Luke Kenley, Noblesville),” Dillinger said. “He is very much interested in trying to help us. So is Kathy (State Rep. Kathy Richardson, also from Noblesville).
“Something has to be done; everyone knows that,” Dillinger continued. “We’re close to being grid locked on the east side of the county. We just need everyone to buy into the plan. We’re not at this time out looking for money. We’re not even certain how much the project will cost, although it has been projected at around $250 million.

“But, right now we’re just trying to get everyone on the same page,” the Commissioner added.
What the County would like to build is a four-lane Highway 37 with a series of overpasses along the way.
“We’re just trying to update everyone involved,” Dillinger said. “We’re not asking for their commitments at this time. We just want to try and get everyone going in the same direction.”
The three County Commissioners (Christine Altman, Mark Heirbrandt and Dillinger) met in the work session with Council members Paul Ayers (part of Clay Township, Adams and Washington Townships), Brad Beaver (at large), Jim Belden (at large), Meredith Carter (part of Clay Township), Amy Massillamany (Delaware, Fall Creek, Wayne Townships), Rick McKinney (at large) and Steve Schwartz (Noblesville, Jackson, White River Townships).

About the Lions

Meetings: Dinner meetings are held at 6:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at the Golden Corral restaurant, 15755 N. Point Blvd., in Noblesville.
Incoming Officers (July 1): Robert Guilkey, president; David Marsh, vice president; Joe Connerley, second vice president; Clayton Fleming, secretary; Bob Minton, treasurer; Jim Propes, membership chairman; Ed Shea, tail twister; John Hollenback, lion tamer; John Grimes, chaplain, and board of directors John Terhune, Dale Unger, Duke Miller, Steve Shaw.
Pork Chop Dinner: Friday, June 6, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m., courthouse lawn.
Pancake Breakfast: Saturday, 7 a.m. to 11 a.m., courthouse lawn.

This is the sixth year for the pancake breakfast.
Before pancakes on Saturday, however, will be the Lions Club’s annual summer tradition on the courthouse lawn, the pork chop dinner on Friday from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. That’s the biggie as the club serves pork chops, potato salad, baked beans, a beverage and a dessert for just $10. Children can get a hot dog for only $5.
“It’s a great deal, for only $10, considering the cost of pork chops today. That’s a real problem for us, the rising cost of pork chops,” Fleming said.
The Lions Club is known for making a buck anyway it can, and, of course, the money is used for all kind of projects throughout the city.
“All of the money collected through our fund raising events goes to scholarships for graduating seniors; local groups such as the Boys and Girls Club, Hamilton County Cancer Society; Third Phase Food Pantry; the Red Door program and many others,” Fleming pointed out.
The fund-raising also makes possible the eye screenings which are given to pre-school students so eye problems can be discovered and corrected at an early age.
The Lions Club collects eye glasses, which are sent to its eyeglass recycling center and then sent all over the world to help people be able to see. Hearing aids are also collected and loaned to individuals who can’t afford to buy them.

“We get requests from groups and individuals who need help and we review the requests and determine if we can help,” Fleming said.
A total of 1,350 pre-school children were reviewed for eye problems this year. About 10 percent were referred for additional help.
There are many other projects that the Noblesville Lions contribute to, including girls softball, boys baseball and basketball, Noblesville Orchestra, Noblesville Singers, Hamilton County 4H awards plaques, Hamilton County Special Olympics, Habitat for Humanity, Noblesville Rain Forest student project, Noblesville Fire Prevention project, Hamilton County D.A.R.E., Adopt-A-Street program, Diabetes Awareness Carmel leads the way, Fishers 5th, Noblesville 20th...

Three county cities ranked among Nerdwallet.com's "Best Small Cities"

California-based consumer Web site NerdWallet.com, a site that helps consumers save time and money by providing information on banking, credit cards, insurance, mortgages, shopping, travel, and more, has released their list of the twenty best small cities in the United States in which to live.

Three Hamilton County cities have made the list: Carmel is ranked No. 1, Fishers is No. 5 and Noblesville is No. 20. Nerdwallet.com defines "small city" as one with a population between 25,000 and 100,000.

Carmel residents earn relatively high median incomes — workers make an average of $53,228 a year — and incomes have grown by 15.5% over a three-year period. Poverty has decreased in recent years, with only 2.5% of the population falling below the poverty line.

"Carmel is a great place to call home," said NerdWallet analyst Divya Raghavan. "The city has experienced rapid growth in both population size and income levels in recent years."

NerdWallet cited Fishers' "low cost of living" as part of the reason for the city's high ranking. It also was rated second on the site's study of best towns for young families in Indiana.

"Family friendly activities abound in the area as well — this Indianapolis suburb offers recreational activities at the Geist Reservoir and plenty of golf courses," said Raghavan.

Noblesville earned marks for its continued growth in income (4.2 percent), as well as its low poverty marks (5.4 percent) and high amount of residents with health insurance (91 percent).

"We are pleased to be recognized as one of the best small cities in the US along with our neighbors in Carmel and Fishers. All of us in Hamilton County work hard to make this an outstanding place for people to call home," said Mayor John Ditslear.

For more information and details about the top 20 list, visit www.NerdWallet.com/cities.

Legacy Fund awards $160,000 in grants to county's not-for-profits

Legacy Fund of Hamilton County, an affiliate of the Central Indiana Community Foundation, awarded a total of $162,400 in grants as approved by Legacy Fund's Board of Directors at its May 12th, 2014 board of directors meeting.

The grant awards included $137,400 in grants made to 13 not-for-profits serving Hamilton County residents. The LINK Advisory Council, a youth-based philanthropic council created by Legacy Fund, also awarded $10,000 to three other not-for-profit organizations serving Hamilton County residents. An additional matching grant of $15,000 in partnership with the Hamilton County Convention and Visitors Bureau was made to help build capacity at county-based arts organizations (both organizations contributed $15,000 each to support the project).

The grants were made possible by Legacy Fund's Community Endowment Fund, and also The Sheridan Fund and the City of Noblesville Fund, which awarded city-specific grants. The Donald W. Johnson Fund for Shepherd's Center of Hamilton County, which addresses senior-focused issues, made an additional grant. The Legacy Fund Community Endowment Fund is an "unrestricted" fund created by donors with an interest in supporting Hamilton County. The City of Noblesville Fund was created to focus on Noblesville-specific issues. The Sheridan Fund was created by the Biddle Memorial Foundation and JBS United to address issues specific to the town of Sheridan. The Donald W. Johnson Fund for Shepherd's Center of Hamilton County was created in 2012 to better support the County's senior-needs. Grant allocations from the Community Endowment Fund are approved by Legacy Fund Board of Directors.

Created in 2002 by Legacy Fund to give Hamilton County youth an opportunity to be directly involved in their community and to inspire leadership in high school students through service, grantmaking and educational opportunities, The LINK Advisory Council made grants to support Second Helpings (a food rescue and re-use organization); Hamilton County East Public Library and Live the Way, Inc., which supports a community garden program in Noblesville.

"These broad-based, community endowment funds demonstrate our donors' commitment to Hamilton County," said Corby D. Thompson, board chair, Legacy Fund. "They also demonstrate our donors' faith in Legacy Fund's grants staff and board of directors' ability to identify critical issues and needs, and then support effective not-for-profits that are addressing those needs."

Riverview Medical Group welcomes new orthopedic physician

Riverview Health is pleased to announce that board certified physician, Tim Williams, MD, has joined Riverview Medical Group. Dr. Williams serves patients at Westfield Orthopaedics and specializes in hip, knee and shoulder replacement, hip and knee arthroscopy, as well as care of fractures, sprains and lacerations.

Williams

"Dr. Williams is a great addition to our team of physicians and will enhance the already high-quality orthopedic care provided by Riverview Health," said

Mary Valdez, vice president of Operations for Riverview Medical Group. "His expertise in total joint replacement and the non-operative and operative treatment of arthritis will help improve the overall quality of life for our patients."

Dr. Williams is a fellow of the prestigious American Association of Hip and Knee Surgeons and performs more than 300 joint replacements each year. He completed a fellowship in hip and knee replacement surgery at Harvard's Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston where he received advanced training in the care and treatment of arthritic joints. To schedule an appointment with Dr. Williams, call 317.867.5263.

Rep. Huston receives Indiana Chamber’s highest score for support of pro-jobs legislation

State Representative Todd Huston (R-Fishers) was awarded a 96 percent rating based on his strong support for pro-economy and pro-jobs legislation from the Indiana Chamber of Commerce. Rep. Huston received the highest score of all 100 State Representatives in the annual evaluation.

“Great progress was made during the 2014 legislative session and Indiana continues to outpace the nation in job growth and economic development,” said Rep. Huston. “Our unemployment rate is a low 5.7 percent which makes us the economic envy of the nation. By enacting new polices that promote economic growth and regulatory freedom, Indiana will continue along this path of success.”

Each legislative session, the chamber evaluates members of the General Assembly based on their votes in favor of or in opposition to key pieces of legislation related to jobs and the economy.

“It’s important that we accelerate the pace of legislation that will have real and positive impact on the Hoosier workforce. And this report holds legislators accountable to that. It makes it clear which legislators support pro-job growth and pro-economy issues, and which legislators do not. I’m happy to say that Rep. Todd Huston puts bettering Indiana’s economic climate as a top priority,” said Indiana Chamber of Commerce President and CEO Kevin Brinegar.

For the 2014 evaluation, the Indiana Chamber identified 32 bills to use as their grading criteria.

“I am honored to receive such a high rating from the Chamber. By enacting new pro-jobs policies, Indiana’s workforce is steadily growing and our economy is remaining strong. I will continue my work to make sure Indiana continues to be the best place to live, work and raise a family,” said Rep. Huston.

Music fans getting ready for GearFest in Fort Wayne

If you're a music fan who is traveling to Fort Wayne this weekend, be sure to stop by GearFest '14.

The annual celebration of musicians, the instruments they play and the equipment they use is scheduled for 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at 5501 U.S. Highway 30 West. It is open to the public and free. The event is presented by Sweetwater, which bills itself as "the number one online retailer of music instruments and audio equipment in the U.S.," according to a news release.

The release goes on to say: "GearFest is the largest music trade show open to the general public in the United States, featuring a combination of gear expo, entertainment events, flea market, musician’s mecca, and educational and musical demonstrations and workshops by some of the biggest names in the music industry.

Several musicians will perform and host workshops. This includes drummer Jason Bonham, the son of Led Zeppelin drummer John Bonham. The younger Bonham has been part of recent music projects of Jimmy Page and Robert Plant, both of whom are also well-known as part of that classic rock band.

"Other musicians include bass player Billy Sheehan, drummer Kenny Aronoff, guitarists Jason Hook, Shaun Hopper, Don Carr, Devin Townsend, Emil Werstler, Carl Verheyen, and Brad Davis, keyboard player Larry Dunn, and many more," said the news release.

On Saturday, GearFest will conduct its Producer's Panel, which features a who's who of producers and engineers that have worked with the most famous singers from all across the musical spectrum. The news release lists the following attendees: "Bruce Swedien (Michael Jackson, Paul McCartney, Count Basie), Bob Clearmountain (The Rolling Stones, David Bowie, Bruce Springsteen), Ed Cherney (Eric Clapton, Bob Seger, The Fabulous Thunderbirds), Mick Guzauski (Daft Punk, Earth, Wind & Fire, Mariah Carey), Ross Hogarth (Van Halen, Motley Crue, REM), Richard Chycki (Aerosmith, Rush, Mick Jagger), Bil Vorndick (Bob Dylan, Alison Krauss, Bela Fleck), and Fab Dupont (Queen Latifah, Jennifer Lopez, Bon Jovi). The panel will discuss a wide range of music recording and production topics moderated by Sweetwater's Editorial Director and noted author/journalist Mitch Gallagher."

GearFest will conduct hourly giveaways for musical gear. If you have your own guitar, bring it by for a free re-stringing and setup. Also, food will be available, and you can get a look at the new 132,000 square foot expansion of Sweetwater's campus.

Looking for the newest in gear? The news release said: "More than 200 manufacturers of musical instruments, music technology, and audio equipment will display all the latest gear; a rare opportunity to experience the products of more than 35 guitar gear manufactures, more than 45 recording equipment vendors, 20 software publishers, 20 microphone makers, and many more.

"In addition, Sweetwater will be offering once-in-a-lifetime sale pricing on many products."

The event is also offering a flea market for people to buy, sell or trade used equipment. Those interested should call (260) 432-8176 to pre-register.

A complete schedule of events is available at <http://www.sweetwater.com/feature/gearfest/schedule.php>

Pre-registering is also available at <http://www.sweetwater.com/feature/gearfest/register.php>

2014 Bobby A. Mills Memorial Golf Outing: Sponsorship Opportunities

We would like to invite you to be part of the Bobby Mills Golf Outing to be held on Sunday, July 27th (dinner, silent auction, and guest speaker) and Monday, July 28th (Golf Outing) at Harbour Trees Golf Course in Noblesville. We are very excited to announce that Noblesville’s own Tom Coverdale, the 1998 Indiana Mr. Basketball and a star on the 2002 IU National Runner-up team, will be our guest speaker this year!

This two-day event is being held in honor of Bobby Mills. Bobby was actively involved in Noblesville athletics and forever changed the lives of countless youth in our community. In honor of Bobby's will to 'pay it forward,' the Mills family has teamed up with Noblesville Youth Baseball and Noblesville High School Boys/Girls Basketball and Girls Golf to host an annual event to pay tribute to the work that Bobby did in our community. These organizations will receive 100% of the proceeds from our event.

If you are interested in sponsoring this event, there are several ways to get involved. We have seven different levels of sponsorship and are also accepting donations for silent auction items. We anticipate serving around 200 people at the dinner and nearly 150 golfers for the outing.

Please look over the sponsorship levels below, and let us know if you are interested in contributing. We would like to have a commitment by June 1st and payment by June 15th in order to prepare to properly recognize your sponsorship.

Who would’ve thought it?

HSE will play in semi-state

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Back during the first three weeks of May when Hamilton Southeastern lost five consecutive games and lost 8-of-11 contests, perhaps not even the most loyal Lady Royal softball fans could have complained all that much had Coach David Cook’s team throw in the towel.

HSE teams just don’t go through those kinds of losing streaks. Even more disappointing was the fact that Southeastern dropped three in a row to sectional area teams Carmel, Noblesville and Fishers.

But, for those who have followed the coaching career of Cook, they knew that wasn’t about the happen. “Cookie” throwing in the towel? Forget it.

Since that time, the Royals have beaten Carmel and Fishers in the Carmel Sectional. Last time out in the regional they defeated a Harrison team which had lost just two games and was ranked No. 2 in the state. Harrison also had defeated Southeastern during the regular season.

Saturday at the Harrison Semi-State, the unranked Royals will face No. 3 rated Penn in the 11 a.m. opener. No. 1 ranked and unbeaten Crown Point will take on Huntington North in the second game. The two winners Saturday evening at 7 p.m. will play for the championship.

Although like in all sports it takes a team to win championship, the Penn-Southeastern battle will be highlighted by a freshman and a senior. It is quite a story.

Penn is led by senior Mackenzie Joecken. She is hitting .494; has 31 RBIs and has knocked four balls over the fence. She also is 12-2 on the mound with an awesome 0.71 ERA.

Southeastern’s freshman sandout is Savannah Copeland. She is hitting .378 and has 11 home runs and 32 runs batted in. On the mound, Copeland is 12-8 with a 2.72 ERA. In Southeastern’s win over Harrison, Copeland was 2-for-4 at the plate, hit a home run, scored a run and drove home three runs. On the mound, she allowed two hits, one earned run, struck out eight and walked one.

Penn has lots more firepower than just Joecken. Junior Moncia Smith is batting .432 with 38 runs knocked home. Sophomore Addison Pixley has driven home 33 runs and she is hitting .423. Another sophomore, Halie Hixenbaugh, has 34 RBIs and a .366 average. Penn also has a freshman of its own, Madelynn Newman, who is hitting the ball at a .455 clip. The Kingsmen also have a very good second pitcher behind Joecken. Another freshman, Denise Watson is 8-2 with a 1.24 ERA.

Southeastern also has muscle to go along with Copeland. How about junior “hitting machine” Madi Maloof with her .524 average. Maggie Armstrong is batting .375. Ashley Rohr is hitting .398. Rohr has 31 runs batted in and Maloof has 27.

This should be some kind of show between Southeastern and Penn. And, waiting in the wings will be 29-0 Crown Point or 23-5 Huntington North.

County athletes have good chance of winning blue ribbons

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Qualifying for the IHSAA girls state track and field meet is a big deal. But there are definitely several Hamilton County athletes who aren't satisfied just being at the big meet, which takes place Friday at Indiana University in Bloomington. Many athletes would like to get a medal, which one gets if she places in the top nine of her event.

Of course, everyone wants to win their event. There are several county athletes who are capable of doing just that.

The county has three top seeds. Not surprisingly, one of them is the Carmel 4x800 relay team. The Greyhounds squad cruised to a West Lafayette regional win in 9:15.69, easily the top time of all the regionals. Hamilton Southeastern is seeded second at 9:21.71.

One of the Royals' 4x800 runners is Rachel Nichwitz, and she has the top seed in the 1600 run, with a time of 4:55.81. Nichwitz has been busy during the post-season, racing in those events and the 800 run. But she has been successful. In addition to her top two times, Nichwitz is seeded fourth in the 800.

Fishers is seeded first in the 4x400 relay, thanks to its regional time of 3:55.24. Look out for the Tigers in the 4x100 relay as well, where they are seeded fifth.

Noblesville's Rachel Mather has a good chance of winning the high jump - and it's not out of the question that she could contend for first place in two events. The senior is seeded second in the high jump, with a regional-winning leap of 5-08. Oak Hill's Janae Moffitt is the top seed at 5-09.

Mather is seeded sixth in the pole vault, at 12 feet even. The first seed there is Angola's Kennedy Trine; her best effort is 12-06.

Of course, sometimes you can't take the seeds at face value. Just ask Hamilton Heights' Sierra Brown. Last year, Brown was the state champion in the 100 hurdles, winning the Huskies' first ever track blue ribbon in a time of 14.53.

This year, Brown is seeded 18th in the 100 event, with a regional time of 15.40. Everyone knows, however, that Brown is capable of much faster times. Brown is also participating in the 300 hurdles (seeded 11th) and the long jump (18th).

Westfield has a potential medalist in Karen Hubbard. The sophomore is seeded ninth in the 100 dash, which she won the regional in by finishing with a time of 12.43 seconds. Hubbard is also competing in the 200 dash, where she is seeded 22nd, and as part of the 4x100 relay, which is rated 13th.

Guerin Catholic's Rachel Yuska is running in the 800, and she is seeded 14th. Her regional time of 2:17.78 is not far away from the ninth place time of 2:16.39.

A list of top seeds and Hamilton County seeds appears on Page 11.
