State Champions

The Noblesville baseball team won its first ever state championship Friday night, defeating Terre Haute North 2-1 at Victory Field. The Millers finished the season 28-8, and also won the Hoosier Crossroads Conference before making their championship post-season run.

Defense comes up big for Millers at Victory Field

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Yes, big hits in baseball are exciting.

But so are big defensive plays, especially if your team is the one making them. Just ask Noblesville fans, who were cheering every time the Millers turned a double play, got a big strikeout, got another big strikeout, picked a runner off...

And of course, they were cheering when Noblesville held up the big state championship trophy. The 2014 edition of the Millers made history at Victory Field Friday night, beating Terre Haute North 2-1 for the Class 4A title. It's the first-ever win for Noblesville's baseball program, and it was accomplished as part of an unforgettable game in front of crowd of 4,961, a record for a Friday night championship game.

"These guys have been good all year long," said Millers coach Justin Keever. "They won the toughest conference in Indiana (the Hoosier Crossroads Conference), they win the toughest sectional in Indiana, they go and play in a really tough regional, and these kids just found a way all year long."

Noblesville finished the season 28-8.

The Miller defense turned one-out double plays in the first and third innings, turning potential Patriot scoring opportunities into the end of the inning. Third baseman Connor Christman got the play started in the first inning, while shortstop Vinny Essig got it going in the third. Both times, the ball was played to second baseman Michael Carmosino, and he got it over to first baseman Dax McLochlin in time.

Keever said those double plays were big, especially in the first inning, with a run already on the scoreboard.

"They could have had a chance of hanging a crooked number there," said Keever, who credited starting pitcher Garrett Christman with inducing the first-inning double play.

Everyone had something good to say about Noblesville's defense.

"Defense came up big," said McLochlin. "I think the middle infield was great." He credited Carmosino, and Essig with making those big plays - of course, McLochlin made some of those big plays himself. Noblesville played error-free ball on the night.

Terre Haute North did score a run in the first inning, with first baseman Nathan Will batting home third baseman Zach Milam, who reached on a single. But that would be all for the Patriots, although they did threaten in the fifth and sixth innings.

Noblesville tied the game in the third inning. Catcher Bret Rundle reached first base on an error, and Austin Shirley came in to pinch run. Left fielder Andrew Wilson moved Shirley to third with a single, and center fielder Brian McLean sent Shirley home to score with a sacrifice fly.

The fifth inning was the most nerve-racking of them all. After THN loaded the bases, Noblesville sophomore pitcher Cory Conway (who relieved Garrett Christman earlier in the inning), found himself facing Will with a 3-2 count. The Patriot fans smelled blood, rising to their feet.

But Conway struck out Will swinging. A minute later, Conway ended the inning with another strikeout, catching designated hitter Cody Maloon looking.

The sharks were circling the Millers, but Conway literally strong-armed his team past them and back to the safety of dry land - or in this case, the batter's box.

"Cory's been really dynamic for us out of the bullpen, and we brought him out," said Keever. "I tell you what, he really delivered on some of those pitches there. I think that was the turning point of the ball game."

Noblesville did not waste the opportunity. Right fielder Zack St. Pierre drew a walk to begin the inning, and McLochlin got a chance to be the offensive hero. He blasted a triple to center field, and that got St. Pierre home. The Millers' lead was 2-1, and they never looked back.

"Oh gosh, that's crazy," said St. Pierre. "I knew going into the sixth inning, it was kind of important to get the lead-off guy on, and I was hitting lead-off. So I was trying to do anything I could to get on. I knew that the guys hitting behind me could definitely get me around. And Dax hit it, he hit it square. Just got to run."

"His first two bats, he had some really good swings, he just missed them," said Keever of McLochlin's big hit. The coach said that McLochlin struck the ball well, and it was just in time.

"My only fear was, it's such a huge ballpark that it's just going to get swallowed up," said Keever. "Obviously that was the ball game there, as it turned out."

Noblesville first baseman Dax McLochlin hit a big triple in the sixth inning that drove in the winning run for the Millers. McLochlin was also solid at first base on defense for the entire game.

Hello, Millers:

Great plays always produce championships

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Great teams make great plays in order to win championships.

H e l l o , Noblesville.

The Millers, in their 2-1 Class 4A state championship win over Terre Haute North Friday at Victory Field, made great play after great play.

Defensively. Offensively.

Pitching. Coaching.

The greatest of all, arguably, came in the bottom of the seventh inning as Noblesville was battling to protect its one run lead.

North T.J. Collett, only a sophomore but truly one of the state’s best hitters, reached base for a fourth consecutive time, opening the inning with a single. And, for the fourth consecutive time Coach Shawn Turner sent out senior speedster Lucas Davis to run for his catcher.

Bingo. Noblesville lefty Trevor Salmon picked off Davis at first, and the remainder of the inning was kind of easy for Salmon and the Millers. Nathan Will, who following the game was named the L.V. Phillips Mental Attitude Award winner, hit a weak grounder to Miller first baseman Zack St. Pierre for the second out. Cody Maloon, the Patriots’ designated hitter, grounded weakly to Miller second baseman Vinny Essig for the final out.

Noblesville had won its first ever state baseball championship.

Noblesville’s defense throughout the game was perfect and beautiful.

In the first inning after North had scored its first and only run in the game and with two Patriots on base, Noblesville pulled off an inning-ending double play on a grounder by Maloon, Connor Christman at third, to Michael Camosino at second to Dax McLochlin at first. Same thing happened in the third. Again with two Patriots on base, Will grounded into a double play, Essig at short, to Camosino at second to McLochlin at first.

Two huge, huge double plays.

Noblesville’s hitters did their part.

In the third, Bret Rundle reached first on a TH North error; Andrew Wilson singled, and the Millers tied the game on a sacrifice fly for Brian McLean.

The Millers missed on scoring opportunities in the fourth and the fifth. In the fourth, St. Pierre walked and stole second with only one out, but Noblesville couldn’t get him home. In the fifth the Millers loaded the bases on a single by Connor Christman; Wilson hit by the pitcher and a walk to Garrett Christman. Noblesville didn’t score.

But, third time was indeed charm for Noblesville when in the sixth St. Pierre walked and McLochlin sent a screaming triple over the head of Terre Haute center fielder Lane Dransfield. It was the game-winning blast.

Coach Justin Kever pieced together a three-pitcher night. Like throughout the tourney, Kever made the right pitching choices at the right time.

First, after starter Garrett Christman, with the score tied at 1-1, retired the first batter and then allowed a double in the fifth, Kever went to his sophomore relief ace, Cory Conway. He walked the first batter he faced; threw a wild pitch, and with Patriots on second and third Kever elected to walk Collett, loading the bases. Conway ended the inning by striking out Will and Maloon, the two big boppers on this Terre Haute team.

Conway got in trouble in the sixth, walking three batters. With the bases loaded and two out, Kever brought in another lefty, Salmon, who quickly ended the threat with a strikeout, the seventh of the night by Miller pitchers.

All season long, Kever talked about the depth of his Millers. He certainly hit the nail on the head with a truly great, great team performance and a state championship on the big stage at The Vic.

A record Friday state tourney crowd of 4,961 viewed one of the best state championship games ever, and watched it won by a super all-around Miller effort.

DEFENSE

The Patriots did give Noblesville one last scare, again loading the bases with two outs. That brought out senior Trevor Salmon, who would play the role of closer in this game. He struck out Milam, ending yet another threat. If you're keeping score at home, that's three strikeouts by Noblesville with the bases loaded.

"I knew I was going to get a chance in that game, and any chance I got, I was going to come in and do my job," said Salmon.

"That's why these guys are state champs, that's why they're HCC champs," said Kever. "It's because there's a different hero every night. They're always picking each other up. It's a great group to coach."

The Millers got runners on first and second with one out in the top of the seventh (Brian McLean singled, and Garrett Christman was hit by a pitch), but new pitcher Greg Hannum (he relieved the Patriots' ace Austin Hicks) ended that with a strikeout and his own groundout. That put three outs between the Millers and the state trophy.

Patriot catcher T.J. Collett hit Salmon's first pitch for a single, and pinch runner Lucas Davis replaced him on first.

But that wouldn't last long. McLochlin picked off Davis, turning the scoring threat into an out. Kever called that play "gigantic."

McLochlin then made an unassisted groundout to get two down. Essig, who had moved to second base, made the final groundout.

"It's all around just good ball," said St. Pierre. "Pitching and defense."

Christman went four and a third innings, while Conway and Salmon both threw an inning and a third. Christman and Conway (who got the win) each struck out three, while Salmon had one. But most importantly, the three only allowed six hits.

Oliver Wise is new Staff Assistant...

Sheridan resident joins Rep. Susan Brooks' office

Congresswoman Susan W. Brooks (R-IN5) is excited to announce Sheridan resident, Oliver Wise, recently joined her team as the new Staff Assistant in her Washington, D.C. office.

Wise graduated from Sheridan High School and recently graduated from Indiana University on May 9 with a Bachelors of Science in Public Affairs with a focus on public and nonprofit management. While at Indiana University, Wise served as an opinion columnist for the Indiana Daily Student. He also previously interned for the Congresswoman in the fall of 2013.

“I am pleased Oliver has joined our team in Washington,” Brooks said. “I know his strong work ethic and positive attitude will help our office better serve the people of Indiana’s 5th District. I enjoyed getting to know Oliver during his time as an intern for our office. He’s proof that internships can and do lead to meaningful career opportunities down the road.”

SERVE Noblesville to hold annual week of service from June 25 - 29

SERVE Noblesville, a partnership of neighbors, churches, businesses, and organizations whose goal is to “Connect Compassionate Neighbors”, will begin their annual week of service on Wednesday, June 25 at the Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds. Now in their third year, SERVE Noblesville plans and coordinates a wide variety of projects and events that create a sense of pride and ownership in Noblesville. Volunteers are still needed for this event. There will be a variety of volunteer opportunities regardless of how much time a person has available to volunteer (one hour, part of one day, or more).

Volunteers will meet at 8am each morning from Wednesday, June 25 – Sunday, June 29 at the 4-H Fairgrounds located at 2003 E. Pleasant Street in Noblesville. Volunteers are then sent out into the community on Repair Teams to repair homes, clean-up yards, paint at schools, or otherwise help a neighbor in need. Some teams stay at the Fairgrounds to “Craft with a Cause.” Sewing, crocheting/knitting, and non-sewing crafts will be available to serve families here and abroad, as well as serve local veterans and seniors. “Crafts with Kids” will be from 9 am – noon on Wednesday, June 25 and Thursday, June 26 and will create projects that benefit mission trips and seniors and honor our local firefighters.

Teen SERVE, sponsored by Young Life, will be on Friday, June 27 from 9 am – 3 pm at the Noblesville United Soccer Field located at 8501 E. 196th Street. Students will be painting the large fence. This event is a perfect service project for students in middle and high school. All Noblesville teens are encouraged to come with their friends.

Finally, the U Call We Haul program will pick up your usable, but unwanted, items for a Community Giveaway to be held on Saturday, June 28th at the Noblesville Boys and Girls Club Community Center (150 N. 17th Street—enter through the doors on the west side of the building). Everything at the Community Giveaway will be free and available on a first-come, first-served basis from 9am – 1pm. Call 317-770-9920 to schedule a pick-up.

SERVE Noblesville would like to give special thanks to the following sponsors: Business sponsors: Imavex, Lowe’s, ServPro, and Walgreens. Non-profit sponsors: Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville, The City of Noblesville, Christmas in Action, Habitat for Humanity, Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds, Indiana Blood Center, and Young Life. Church sponsors: Bethel Lutheran, Cross of Life Lutheran Church, Emmanuel United Methodist Church, Faith Community Church, Green Valley Church of Christ, Hamilton Life Center, Roots of Life, and White River Christian Church.

NPD responds to suspicious package at Dollar General

Officers from the Noblesville Police Department officers were dispatched to the Dollar General store at 1197 S. 10th Street at around 4:04 p.m. Thursday in reference to a report of a suspicious package.

The officers arrived on the scene a short time later and made contact with a representative from the store. The representative reported that an unknown person called the store and indicated that there was a bomb in the parking of the Dollar General. Employees and officers were unable to locate any suspicious packages and the area was searched by a Fishers Police Department K-9 specifically trained to detect the presence of explosives.

The General Dollar was actually closed on this particular day due to maintenance work being done on their electrical system.

Traffic in the immediate area was diverted for a short period of time as employees and officers searched the immediate area.

The incident is currently under investigation. Anyone with information regarding the case is encouraged to contact the Criminal Investigation Division at (317) 776-6370 or tips@noblesville.in.us

US 31 updates...

Westfield Park Road opened at SR 32

On Friday, crews opened the new Westfield Park Road connection to SR 32 during the late afternoon hours. This new drive is located just west of the former location. Access to businesses on Westfield Park Road will be available via this new drive.

Reminder: Westbound I-465 exit ramp to US 31 restricted on or after June 23

Beginning around 9 p.m. on Monday, crews to plan to restrict the westbound I-465 exit ramp to US 31 to one lane at the top of the ramp. The bottom of the exit ramp will maintain two left-turn lanes and two right-turn lanes onto US 31. The ramp configuration is expected to remain in place through the end of the year.

For crews to safely place a barrier wall in this area, overnight restrictions will be necessary near the westbound I-465 exit ramp to US 31 on Monday, June 23, through Wednesday, June 25, between 9 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Reminder: Business access remains open during US 31 closure between Old Meridian and 136th streets

US 31 remains closed between Old Meridian and 136th streets, but business access remains open via local roads such as Pennsylvania and Illinois streets. Motorists are currently able to cross US 31 at 136th Street and 126th Street/Carmel Drive.

Great summer for Lady Millers

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

There is good news and not so good news coming out of the Noblesville girls basketball summer camp as the Lady Millers are about to head for a 13-team camp at Spiece Fieldhouse in Ft. Wayne. The camp will mark the end of Noblesville's summer season.

First, the not so good news. Two of Noblesville's top players, Erin Wood and Alexis Shannon, are injured and will not compete at Fort Wayne. Head coach Donna Keck said the injuries "aren't serious." Wood and Shannon just need time to mend.

Both players are coming off outstanding performances last season. Shannon was the eighth leading scorer in Hamilton County with a 11.8 scoring average. Wood was 13th, averaging 10.1 points a game. Shannon pulled 6.7 rebounds a contest and the 6-2 Wood averaged 5.8 boards a game.

The good news is that Becca Bergman is back to run the show at the point guard position. She missed all of last season with an injury. Keck reports that Bergman is healthy for what should be an outstanding senior season.

Having Bergman back not only gives Noblesville one of the best point guards in the area, also, Keck points out, allows those playing the point last season to move to their more normal positions.

There is some good news/bad news, too. Jessica Kiser, the only senior on the team last year, has graduated. Her "little sister," Emily, is joining the varsity as a freshman. Emily is 6-2, and is talented.

"Emily has so much talent," said Keck. "She is an unbelievable player. She can make us real big in the frontline. We will break her in slow. She may not start, but she will be a factor

"Losing Jess (Kiser) will be a factor, too," Keck said. "She was a great team leader."

While this Noblesville team will be big in its frontline, it will be small, but talented, in the backcourt. And, the Lady Millers will have experience everywhere.

"One of the keys," said Keck, "is working Becca back into the lineup."

Noblesville was 16-5 last season. Not counting the graduated Jessica Kiser, seven Millers played in all 21 games. Returning are Rachel Shipman, Shannon, Brooke Herron, Cori Cain, Wood, Katelyn O'Reilly, and Kayleigh Herron. Audrey DeFoe played in 18 games and Erin Flynn saw action in 16 contests.

This will be mainly a senior-junior loaded team. Cain, Kayleigh Herron, Bergman, Wood, DeFoe and Flynn are seniors. Shipman, Shannon and O'Reilly will be juniors. Brooke Herron is just a sophomore, and there is Emily Kiser as a freshman.

It's a great mix for success this season and for success in the future.

Noblesville was one of the teams high on the list for being selected to play in the Hall of Fame Classic. The Millers were not selected.

"I'm a little disappointed that we were not selected," Keck said.

Noblesville doesn't play in summer tourneys. The Lady Millers have spent most of the summer playing on the south side of Indianapolis and at Ben Davis.

"We're working trying to get better," Keck said. "We've played some good teams, like Ben Davis and Heritage Christian. The girls are working hard."

Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame announces Officers, Directors for 2014-15

The Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame announces the re-election of officers and new members of the Board of Directors, to serve terms beginning July 1.

Jim Callane of Kokomo will serve the second of his two-year term as President of the Board in 2014-15, while Executive Vice President Sam Alford of Nineveh, Treasurer Ray Pavy of New Castle and Secretary Steve Witty of Avon remain in their offices for the coming year.

Four new members have been selected to the Hall’s Board of Directors for a four-year term – Mark Baltz, Alan Nass, Jim Powers, Jr., and Bill Walker.

Mark Baltz of Zionsville is a 1970 graduate of Ohio University and a longtime official. A recipient of the Hall’s Center Circle Officials Award in 2013, he has officiated 38 Indiana high school basketball sectionals, 25 regionals, eight semi-states and three IHSAA state finals. He was recognized in 2005 by the IHSAA with the state’s boys basketball Outstanding Official Award and in 2011 with the Indiana Basketball Coaches Association Roy Gardner Award. Well known in football circles as well, he has 25 years’ experience as an NFL official.

Alan Nass of Huntingburg is a 1959 graduate of Huntingburg High School and holds bachelors and masters degrees from the Georgia Institute of Technology. A 1959 Indiana All-Star, he graduated as the 2nd leading rebounder in Georgia Tech history. Nass is the longtime President of Nass and Son Funeral Home in Huntingburg, a Past President of the Indiana School Board Association, the Board of Directors of the Holland National Bank and currently serves on the Board of Trustees of Oakland City University. He is a 2013 Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame inductee.

Jim Powers, Jr. of Carmel is a 1974 graduate of Elkhart Memorial High School and 1978 graduate of DePauw University. Currently managing partner of the Crowe Horwath Indianapolis office, he serves on the Board of Directors of St. Vincent Health and is a member of the Board of Directors and the treasurer of the Indianapolis Zoo. He is a 2011 Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame inductee. He and his father are one of the few father-son duos inducted into the Hall, and they become the 2nd father-son combination to have served on the Hall’s Board of Directors.

Bill Walker of Huntington is a 1970 graduate of New Castle Chrysler High School, receiving a bachelor’s degree from Indiana University and master’s degree from Ball State University. Employed at Huntington North High School for 33

Unearned run gives Tide win over Indians

The Tribe survived a bullpen battle from the fifth inning through one out in the ninth, but a Xavier Paul single in the home half of the final frame plated an unearned run to give the Norfolk Tides (30-45) a 2-1 walkoff win over the Indianapolis Indians (43-31) on Friday night at Harbor Park.

Paul’s ninth-inning single was his lone hit of the ballgame, and the DH found himself with the winning run 90 feet away after Francisco Peguero reached on a two-base throwing error to first and a wild pitch that moved him to third. Paul then worked a full count before turning the seventh pitch of his at-bat into the game-winning, walkoff knock.

Friday’s one-run affair remained tight throughout the evening thanks to a strong showing from Indians starter Jake Brigham. The righty began the game on a tear, recording two straight 1-2-3 innings in the second and third frames to preserve a scoreless tie through the middle of the contest.

The Tribe then obtained its sole lead of the game in the fourth inning as Norfolk booted a Matt Hague grounder to allow Chris Dickerson to race home and put Indy ahead 1-0.
