Riverview Hospital to build...

New care center in Westfield

Riverview Health recently purchased 8.6 acres of land near Westfield High School on the northeast corner of US 31 and State Road 32 for a new care center. This comes as part of a partnership between Riverview Health and Westfield Schools, which was announced in June.

“Our intent is to build a 30,000-40,000-square-foot ambulatory care building to service not only the school employees and students, but the Westfield community in general,” said Larry Christman, chief operating officer at Riverview Health. “This will allow us to build vital relationships with the community and provide exceptional, high-quality care to the people of Westfield.”

Plans for the new clinic include multiple physician services as well as lab, radiology, fitness and physical therapy services. The care center will also house an outpatient pharmacy and the school system employee clinic.

As part of the long-term partnership with Westfield Washington Schools, Riverview Health will also serve as the exclusive healthcare provider for its students and employees, which includes the employee clinic and outpatient pharmacy as well as school nurses and an athletic training program.

Dillinger caught in his own traffic

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Steve Dillinger has been at his Hamilton County Commissioners job long enough to always be prepared for an upcoming meeting.

Wednesday evening on his way to meet the county’s two other commissioners, Christine Altman and Mark Heirbrandt, to present a session to the Fishers City Council on the heavily traveled Highway 37 between Noblesville and Fishers, Dillinger got a little extra help.

Bumper to bumper traffic in the Fishers area.

It’s always that way around the 5 p.m. hour in Fishers. Dillinger got caught in the middle, trying to get off the 37 Corridor onto 126th Street.

“It was terrible,” Dillinger said. “Traffic was back up and it was bumper to bumper.”

What the County Commissioners want to do is to turn the 37 Corridor on the east side of the county into what Carmel did with Keystone Parkway on the west side. The Commissioners hope the State will

Midland Trace Trail

A crowd of nearly 100 walkers, hikers, bike riders, runners, land owners and other interested parties showed up Thursday evening at Hazel Dell Elementary School in Noblesville for a hearing on the city’s propped Midland Trace Trail

It was a public hearing so John Beery and his staff accepted write-in and verbal questions only, questions which will be answered at a later date. However, the staff did stay and answered questions following the public hearing session. Written questions will be accepted by Briana Hope at American Structurepoint, Inc., 7260 Shadeland Station, Indianapolis, 46256 only until Aug. 21. Questions also can be faxed

Blue Stars Drum and Bugle Corps back in Sheridan

Jeff Jellison

The Town of Sheridan and Sheridan High School is once again serving as a home away from home for nearly 150 members of the world class Blue Stars Drum and Bugle Corps.

The group lives and practices at Sheridan High School while competing in the Drum Corps International World Championship conducted at Lucas Oil Stadium. The organization’s fleet of four buses, 2 semi tractor trailers, and box trucks and a semi trailer equipped to handle food service for the organization’s members and 40 adult supervisors arrived on Monday and will be in Sheridan through Sunday.

Obituaries

Doris Amick Roush

August 11, 1921 - August 6, 2014

Doris Amick Roush, 92, of Noblesville, passed away on Wednesday, August 6, 2014 at Harbour Manor Care Center in Noblesville. She was born on August 11, 1921 to Guy and Bertha (Brisentine) Amick in Tipton, Indiana.

Doris was a graduate of Anderson High School and attended Anderson Business College. She worked for several years at the Gospel Trumpet before becoming co-owner with her husband, Dow, of the Amick Monument Company. Doris and Dow worked together for 40 years and loved spending time with friends playing bridge and various other card games, and entertaining. They were members of Edgewood Country Club and enjoyed playing golf and the social activities. Doris was a member of Edgewood Ladies Golf Group, OLGA, Anderson Art League, Jo March Club, and various card clubs. She enjoyed gardening, cooking, and was an accomplished artist.

The family has many fond memories of time spent in Siesta Key, FL, with friends from Anderson. Doris was a woman of amazing strength, and maintained a smile and positive attitude through the very end of her life. Doris' family would like to thank all of the nurses and staff at Harbour Manor for their loving and tender care. Doris spent her final days in the skilled care of Harbour Light Hospice, and the family is very thankful for the assistance in making her passing peaceful.

She is survived by her daughter, Jane E. Cade of Noblesville; grandson, Cory B. Cade of Noblesville; great-grandson, Landon Cade; and sister, Ruth Ann Rector of Anderson.

In addition to her parents, Doris was preceded in death in 2009 by her beloved husband, Dow E. Roush, whom she married on November 10, 1943.

Services will be held at 4:00 pm on Sunday, August 10, 2014, at Randall & Roberts Funeral Center, 1685 Westfield Road, in Noblesville, with visitation from 2:00 pm until the time of service. Pastor John Davis will officiate.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Diabetes Association, Indiana Office, 8604 Allisonville Road, Suite 140, Indianapolis, IN 46250.

The Noblesville Pony League team, which in 16 games lost only to Arcadia during the regular season, defeated Arcadia in the semifinal round of the post season tourney. Jim Washburn handled the pitching and Mike Stern hit a three-run homer.

Martha Alwilda (Lehr) Wood

April 27, 1919 - August 7, 2014

Martha Alwilda (Lehr) Wood, 95, of Noblesville, went to be with her Lord and Savior on Thursday, August 7, 2014 at home surrounded by her loving family. She was born on April 27, 1919 to Harry and June (Passwater) Lehr in Noblesville, Indiana.

Martha was a 1938 graduate of Noblesville High School. She worked at Kenley Supermarket, and later as a cook for Durbin School. Martha was a life-long member of Clarksville Christian Church. She was very active in the church with the Christian Womens Fellowship, and a devoted servant. Martha enjoyed watching sports, especially baseball and basketball. She loved Jim Dandy Restaurant in Noblesville, and enjoyed their travels to Florida.

She is survived by her daughter, Alwilda (David) Dugger; daughter, Liz (Otto) Berlin; son, James L. (Jeneva) Wood II; daughter, Cindy Jones; 11 grandchildren; 34 great-grandchildren; and three great-great grandchildren.

In addition to her parents, Martha was preceded in death in 2011 by her husband of 72 years, James L. Wood; and seven siblings.

Services will be held at 11:00 am on Monday, August 11, 2014, at Clarksville Christian Church, 16600 Lehr Street, in Noblesville, with Pastor Steve Fair officiating. Visitation will be Sunday, August 10, 2014 from 2:00 pm to 5:00 pm at Randall & Roberts Funeral Home, 1150 Logan Street, in Noblesville. Burial will be at Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville.

Memorial contributions may be made to Clarksville Christian Church, 16600 Lehr Street, Noblesville, IN 46060; or Seasons Hospice Foundation, 8350 S. Emerson Avenue, Suite 140, Indianapolis, IN 46237.

TRAFFIC

relinquish State Road 37 and pay for 80 percent of the cost of building a super parkway between Fishers and Noblesville and south of Fishers.

Meeting with the Fishers Council was the Commissioners' still-another stop in trying to gain a united front in proceeding with the road project. Some have predicted that should Hamilton County move in that direction today, it would take three years to get approval and map out plans and then another three years to build the parkway. The Commissioners' final meeting with county government units will be Aug. 26 when they meet with the Noblesville City Council.

"The meeting with Fishers went very well," Dillinger reported. "It was a good meeting.

"They had a couple of concerns, one being who will maintain the road in the future, 20 years from now.

"But not doing it ourselves means that someday the State will and that would bring about another U.S. 31 which is going through Westfield and Fishers."

Everyone got a taste, just a small taste, of what the project will cost when while the Commissioner were in Fishers the Hamilton County Council was passing a resolution to purchase additional land for a roundabout at the intersection of 146th Street and Allisionville Road. (A photo of that proposed roundabout is pictured on Page 1). The cost of the project, when completed, is predicted to be over $20 million.

If all those involved in the State Road 37 project – Noblesville City, Fishers City and Hamilton County agree to move on with the project, Dillinger said the next step will be trying to gain support from State Senator Luke Kenley and State Representative Kathy Kreag Richardson.

"We've talked with them," Dillinger said. "I think we have their support."

Everything in place, everyone will head for Indianapolis and a chat with the Governor.

The City of Noblesville is developing a federal-aid project to provide increased trail availability and connectivity in Noblesville in accordance with the City's Comprehensive Master Plan.

The proposed Midland Trace Trail Project will run along the abandoned Midland Central Railway corridor, which is located approximately 0.2 miles south of State Road 32.

The corridor extends from Gray Road to the western property boundary of Hazel Dell Elementary. Instead of bisecting the school property the corridor turns south then east along the property line, follows an existing trail section north along the eastern side of the baseball fields, and reconnects with the railroad corridor on the east side of the school property. The trail then extends east to Willowview Road.

The majority of the area currently exists as an abandoned railroad corridor. The corridor between Gray Road to Hazel Del Road and from Mill Creek Road to Willowview Road is overgrown and unmaintained. The section between Hazel Dell Road and Mill Creek Road has been maintained as a gravel recreational path surrounded by trees.

The proposed path would be a 12-foot wide paved path with earthen shoulders. The existing trail on the Hazel Dell Elementary School property would not be widened to match the remainder of the proposed trail.

Construction of this trail would create a connection with the proposed Hazel Dell/Little Chicago Trail. On a more broad scale, the proposed trail would provide a critical connection between existing and proposed trail sections which would connect Noblesville to Westfield, Zionsville and the Monon Trail system.

The project will require the purchase of right-of-way. Approximately 12.2 acres of permanent right-of-way would be acquired for the proposed project. The proposed right-of-way corridor width is 40 feet.

Acquisition and relocation information was distributed at the meeting last evening.

Based on 2015 costs, the estimated right-of-way costs associated with the project is $750,000.

The right-of-way acquisition process is expected to start late this summer.

The approved environmental document is available for public review at the Hamilton East Library, 1 Liberty Plaza, Noblesville; City of Noblesville, Engineering Department, 16 South 10th Street, Noblesville, and at American Structurepoint, 7260 Shadeland Station, Indianapolis.

Nutrition and an active lifestyle are important in your 60's

By SHARON MCMAHON

"I didn't do this because I was in my sixties. I just happened to be in my sixties."

Diana Nyad, on her 110-mile swim from Havana to Key West

I found it amusing when Ms. Nyad made that historic swim that I heard "commentators" on air critiquing different aspects of her trek. Really? Who among them could have accomplished the same feat? Not me! Her swim was a triumph no matter the age, but many people (let's hear it for the baby boomers!) did emphasize her age as a way to say "We're still in the game!" Today I am selfishly focusing on my own generation, many of whom are in great shape and too many who are not.

Let's be honest, who among us throughout our young lives (I am talking the 20-, 30-, and 40-somethings) did not regard mid-60's as the rocking-chair club? I know I did. Thinking of my grandparents, they did seem elderly to me while in their sixties. However, due to more awareness of nutrition, fitness, and pro-active health care, we are able to both feel and look more youthful in many cases. Conversely, this is also a time in our lives when health issues become apparent and must be faced and, hopefully, improved in many cases. The benefit to be gained from proper nutrition and an active lifestyle cannot be overstated. Our young bodies which were able to withstand poor sleep and junk food are now ready for a better quality of life and renewed focus on becoming our personal best.

Speaking for myself, though I may wear the same size clothing as when I was a teenager, things have "shifted" somewhat, my hair is thinner, my skin more dry, etc., and my energy level today not the same as 20+ years earlier...but I know that the time I spend on this planet with family and friends is a gift to me and that good care of myself is a gift I give back.

I imagine that Paul McCartney, (only 16 when he wrote "When I'm 64" for his dad), could never imagine himself at that age – which he of course has now surpassed and doing very well thank you! Personally I have found that instead of "retired" I am now "rewired" and enjoying opportunities I did not find time for in a long, time-consuming management career. Although I truly enjoyed my career and gained a great deal of satisfaction from it, I am now able to pursue my nutrition and wellness coaching, teaching fitness classes, volunteering, and even incorporating my executive career in a consulting mode. Life is good, and I am very thankful.

I will never swim 110 miles, and most likely neither will you, but there is so much we can do if we have the will, and that includes those who have chronic health issues. Good sleep, good food, staying socially active, movement which produces more flexibility and strength, and a good attitude can go far in allowing us to both feel better and look better, a "win-win" for ourselves and our families. Summer is a great time to review our activity level and the absolute best time to stock up on some great fruits and vegetables; stop by your local farmers market and produce stands and enjoy. Bon appétit!

Begins Aug. 11 at the Middle School... School Resource Officer added to Hamilton Heights

Hamilton County Sheriff Mark Bowen today announced the addition of a second fulltime School Resource Officer for the Hamilton Heights School District. Effective August 11, Deputy Jon Tindal will be assigned to work in the Hamilton Heights Schools, primarily at the Middle School. Utilizing grant money received from the Department of Homeland Security, the Sheriff's Office and Hamilton Heights Schools partnered together to provide this second resource officer to promote safety and security for students, faculty, and staff.

Deputy Tindal, who previously served as a part-time resource officer in addition to other duties, joins Deputy Brad Osswald who has been assigned fulltime to Hamilton Heights Schools for several years. Both deputies are certified through the National Association of School Resource Officers.

Interior secretary, Carmel Mayor join in support of federal park funding program

U.S. Secretary of the Interior Sally Jewell joined Carmel Mayor Jim Brainard on Thursday in calling for renewed funding of a 50-year-old federal program that has funded urban parks, clean water programs, outdoor recreation and healthy economies in Indiana and across the nation.

Jewell is traveling to several cities to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF) and to gather support for congressional funding for the program. Mayor Brainard is a member of the bipartisan coalition Mayors for Parks, which also supports the program.

"This is not a partisan issue for which to take sides. This important federal funding resource was championed by Democrat Lyndon Johnson and we are grateful to him for it. We are also in debt to Republican Teddy Roosevelt, the 'Wilderness Warrior' who began our National Park System," said Brainard. "Going back in history, caring for our precious resources has been a priority for great presidents of both parties, and I hope it always will be."

Carmel's Flowing Well Park is just one example of the many parks that have benefited from a program funded through revenues generated by offshore oil and gas drilling royalties, then matched by state and local contributions. The LWCF has supported more than 42,000 projects that are found in 98 percent of the nation's counties.

During her visit, Jewell was treated to a driving tour of Carmel that included West Park, Coxhall Gardens, the Village of West Clay and its small pocket parks and The Palladium. She also took a walking tour of Flowing Well Park. The tour also passed through the Arts & Design District and City Center.

"Over the past 50 years, the Land and Water Conservation Fund has served as one of the most effective tools for conservation, outdoor recreation and economic growth in local communities; however, it is set to expire next year without action from Congress," Jewell said. "The program has re-invested a small portion of revenues from offshore oil and gas development into projects in nearly every county in America, ensuring that families have access to public, open spaces."

"I appreciate Mayor Brainard's support for this innovative program that not only improves the quality of life for Indiana but also strengthens local economies like those in Carmel. As we look to the next 50 years, we need to fulfill the promise to the American people by fully and permanently funding the Land and Water Conservation Fund."

Thursday's visit to Carmel was the second stop in a series of events Jewell is holding across the country this week with local elected officials and stakeholders to support President Obama's budget proposal to fully and permanently fund the Land and Water Conservation Fund. The four-day, four-city tour began in Asheville, N.C. On Friday, she travels to Albuquerque and on Saturday she ends in Phoenix.

Sheriff's Office to host forum on heroin, illegal drugs, and underage drinking

Hamilton County Sheriff Mark Bowen announced the agency will be hosting a free public education forum on Heroin, Illegal Drugs, and Underage Drinking. Like many communities across the country, Hamilton County has experienced an increase in drug and alcohol activity in recent years. All Hamilton County residents and concerned citizens are invited to attend this important meeting at 7:00pm on Thursday, August 28, at the Hamilton County 4H Fairgrounds. Among the presenters will be Brandon Robinson who was arrested for involvement in a fatal drunk driving crash; Jeanine Motsay who lost her son to the synthetic drug NBOMe; a recovering heroin addict; Major A. Dietz of the Hamilton - Boone County Drug Task Force; and DEA Special Agent D. Wichern.

"We can't turn our backs on the increasing problems of illegal drug use and underage drinking that are present in central Indiana and people are asking for information," said Sheriff Bowen. "Our goals for the evening are to present current and accurate information on the situation, give ideas on how families and friends can proactively address the problem, and to honestly answer questions those in the community have." The featured panelists will share their own life stories on how they have dealt with drugs and alcohol. "There is a misconception that drugs and alcohol only affect a certain part of society but we need Hamilton County residents to see the impact of these threats and to join in the fight against the problem."

Over the past years, Hamilton County has seen a steady rise in the number of drug arrests, overdoses, and underage drinking incidents. Drug overdose reports to the Sheriff's Office have risen fourfold since 2010 and the number of drug possession arrests has seen an increase with nearly 60 arrests so far in 2014 by the Sheriff's Office. Similarly, arrests for driving under the influence of drugs have doubled in the past year. An indication of the underage drinking problem is reflected in the number of arrests for illegal consumption. In 2013, more than 600 arrests were made in Hamilton County for minor consumption of alcohol and 2014 is on course to equal or surpass that number.

In addition to the featured speakers, resources such as the Hamilton County Prosecutor's Office and Probation Office, the Hamilton County Council on Alcohol and Drugs, Proactive, and other addiction recovery and treatment programs will be available to provide information.

Carmel Swim Club dominates girls Junior Nationals

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Everyone in Indiana knows about how good Carmel swimming is. Now the entire United States knows as well. The Carmel Swimming Club's girls team won the Junior Nationals last week; the meet took place at the William Woollett Jr. Aquatics Complex in Irvine, Calif.

Carmel scored 290 points, well ahead of the 180.5 points scored by the Y-Spartanatics Swim Club in South Carolina. Carmel accomplished this feat with the aid of five event wins.

Amy Bilquist was part of four of those wins. She triumphed in the 50 and 100-meter freestyles, then won the 100 backstroke as well. Bilquist later joined Rachel Hayden, Veronica Burchill and Claire Adams to win the 4x100 freestyle relay, which set a new meet record of 3:44.88.

Burchill finished first in the 100 butterfly race. Adams was second in both the 100 and 200 backstrokes.

"It was a tremendous accomplishment for our group," said Carmel Swim Club head coach Chris Plumb. "To be able to compete with the best 18 & under swimmers in the country and emerge victorious is a fantastic feeling. It is the first time in Carmel Swim Club history to win Junior Nationals under its current format (only one meet, it used to be split)."

The Fishers Area Swimming Tigers girls team finished with 15 points, tying them for 58th. Lauren Edelman was sixth in the 400 individual medley.

Both Carmel and the FAST Tigers had several boys competing in that part of the meet. Southeastern Swim Club also had swimmers in both the girls and boys meets. Joe Young was 17th in the 200 backstroke for the Southeastern boys.

IHSAA Executive Committee hears new basketball tournament proposal

The final proposal to alter the state basketball tournaments was presented to the IHSAA Executive Committee today for its consideration.

The proposal was a result of two years of comprehensive study by the Indiana Basketball Coaches Association (IBCA) in co-operation with the Indiana Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association (IIAAA) and the IHSAA.

The Executive Committee will vote on it at its next scheduled meeting on Thursday, October 2, 2014.

Following the next realignment which begins with the 2015-16 school year, the largest 64 schools by enrollment would make up Class 4A. Sixteen sectionals would be played containing four teams each and all games would be played on a Saturday.

The changes would greatly affect the five 4A schools in Hamilton County (Carmel, Fishers, Hamilton Southeastern, Noblesville and Westfield). All five of those schools are within the top 64 in enrollment, so they would play the Saturday sectional games. In addition, a four-team sectional would mean that one school would be kicked out of the local sectional.

The remaining schools in Classes 3A, 2A and 1A (approximately 114 in each) would then be evenly distributed among 16 sectionals in each classification and contain either seven or eight schools. Those games would be played as they are now in a Tuesday-Wednesday-Friday-Saturday format.

All of the smaller schools in the county would stay in their current classes, based on the 2013 enrollment figures: Hamilton Heights and Guerin Catholic would be in 3A, Sheridan in 2A (although just barely) and University in 1A.

Currently, teams are equally distributed across all four classes with an average of 101 schools in each.

The football state tournament was conducted last year using a similar model with the top 32 teams making up Class 6A with the next 34 making up 5A.

The proposal attempts to address concerns school administrators and basketball coaches have voiced including: 1.) the discrepancy in the size of schools from the largest to smallest within Class 4A and 2.) competitive balance in that similar numbers of schools would be placed in each sectional.

An additional part of the proposal calls for the IHSAA staff to determine host sites at each level of the state tournament with the same site hosting both years of the alignment window.

In recent years, school administrators within each sectional have determined the host site with some rotation between schools.

Fans encouraged to use “Know Your Zone” routes, parking for Red Bull Indianapolis GP at IMS

Fans attending the Red Bull Indianapolis GP on Aug. 8-10 are encouraged to plan for traffic and follow the KNOW YOUR ZONE driving routes and parking program established by the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Fans should plan their routes ahead of time for an easier, more efficient drive to the track. The KNOW YOUR ZONE program is designed to help Speedway guests identify the best driving routes to parking lots located near their respective seating locations.

Fans attending the three-day Red Bull Indianapolis GP at IMS will find free infield parking limited due to the road course setup used for the event. Fans wanting to park within the 2.5-mile oval must enter from 30th Street and enter the Gate 10, where they will be directed to park in the infield near Turn 3 of the oval. This includes all motorcycle traffic, except for fans riding motorcycles with reserved seats who purchased parking passes for the IMS Hall of Fame Museum parking lot. All motorcycle riders entering the facility through Gate 10 may park their vehicles for free on the backstretch of the IMS oval.

Additional free parking outside the oval will be in the Lot 7 (North 40) parking lot accessible off of 30th Street. There will be no public parking access through Gate 2 on 16th Street, which will be open for credential and disabled parking only.

The track opens at 7 a.m. on Sunday, Aug. 10 for the Moto3 race at 11 a.m., the Moto2 race at 12:20 p.m., the Red Bull Indianapolis GP at 2 p.m. and the AMA Pro Vance & Hines Harley- Davidson Series race at 3:30 p.m.

"All roads Lead to Indy" driving routes have been created by the Indiana State Police and match KNOW YOUR ZONE colors at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

- Orange: The southern end of IMS.
- Green: Between the Orange (southern) and Red (northern) zones. The Red Zone will not be used for this event.

For more information about the KNOW YOUR ZONE program, including details about special ticket and parking packages, visit www.ims.com/knowyourzone.

Follow these recommended routes for limited free parking via 30th Street (Gate 10).

From Southbound I-65: Use Exit 119 (38th Street) and proceed to the Kessler Boulevard North Drive exit, turn south (right) on Kessler Boulevard North Drive, turn west (right) onto 30th Street, Gate 10 will be on the left.

From Northbound I-65: Use Exit 116 (29th/30th Street) and proceed straight past 29th Street, turn west (left) on 30th Street, Gate 10 is on the left.

From I-70 West of Indianapolis (Eastbound): Use Exit 69 (I-465 North/I-74 West) and follow I-465 directions seen above.

From I-70 East of Indianapolis (Westbound): Use Exit 83B (I-65 North toward Chicago), Merge onto I-65 North, use Exit 116 (29th/30th Street), proceed straight past 29th Street, turn west (left) on 30th Street, Gate 10 is on the left.

Fans leaving IMS following all races during the Red Bull Indianapolis GP weekend should be aware that whatever direction they are sent, they will never be more than 1 to 4 miles away from a main Interstate artery. Officers will direct traffic in the quickest, most efficient way and may suddenly change routes due to traffic congestion.

In an effort to increase the safety and security of race patrons, Georgetown Road will be closed between 16th Street on the south and 25th Street on the north prior to the beginning of the Red Bull Indianapolis GP at 2 p.m. After Georgetown Road is closed, no vehicular traffic, including placarded traffic, will be allowed to access the roadway. Those race patrons with placards who are accustomed to entering Gate 7 will have to enter through Gate 2 (W. 16th Street) or Gate 10 (30th Street). Local residents who reside on this stretch of Georgetown Road are encouraged to make provisions for this temporary traffic restriction as vehicles will not be permitted to access Georgetown Road from McCray Street, 24th Street, and all other access points in this area.

Upon completion of the race, Georgetown Road will remain closed to vehicular traffic until the vast majority of race pedestrian foot traffic clears from the roadway (up to approximately one hour after the race).

The Speedway Police Department has enacted a number of restricted parking areas for all three days of the Red Bull Indianapolis GP at IMS. For detailed information on those restrictions visit:

<http://www.townofspeedway.org/egov/docs/1406569855811.htm>.

Drivers can learn the locations of work zones and highway restrictions by calling INDOT's TrafficWise at 1-800-261-ROAD (7623) or viewing an online map at www.TrafficWise.IN.gov. ISP will offer updates on traffic and parking on Twitter and Facebook.

A series of eight videos showing fans the best routes to access various parking lots from all directions for the Red Bull Indianapolis GP is available at www.ims.com/how2park. Each video offers step-by-step instructions, featuring audio and Google Earth maps.

All taxis will drop off customers at Main Street and Gilman Street just south of IMS. Following the race, all taxis will stage at Main and Gilman to pick up customers.

IMS will enforce the one cooler-per-person rule, and the size of each cooler can be no larger than 18 inches by 14 inches by 14 inches. Coolers may be hard- or soft-sided. Fans will be allowed to bring one cooler and one standard backpack or book bag per person.

Saturday at Victory Field...

Indians host 200 special needs youth for special baseball skills clinic

From 12:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 9, Indianapolis Indians players and coaches will offer instruction of basic baseball fundamentals to 200 special needs youth at Victory Field. Pupil will become teacher when Special Needs Clinic participants reciprocate with insights for Tribe members and tips into the unique and often challenging lives these special youngsters lead.

The player-led portion of the clinic will consist of four different skills stations where Indians players and coaches will work side-by-side with the kids to teach them about hitting, throwing, fielding ground balls and catching pop flies. Participants will get to take part in batting practice just like the actual Indians players do, and work on their defensive skills on the best playing surface in Minor League Baseball.

While the Indians will have a chance to share some of their baseball knowledge and love of the game with the clinic participants, players will also have a chance to learn and be inspired by the challenges this next generation of Tribe fans goes through on a daily basis.

Clinic participants will come from Indianapolis-based Damar Services and local Challenger Leagues. Earlier this season the Indians raised $6,620 to benefit Damar Services' Parent Training and Parent Night Our Programs as part of Autism Awareness Night. The Indians organization has also worked closely with local districts of the Challenger League through its Triple Play Youth Program.

Saturday evening the Indians host the Rochester Red Wings at 7:05 p.m.

HPD's Eriksen: Aero kits will 'generate quite a bit of interest'

Honda Performance Development vice president and COO Steve Eriksen believes that fans will clearly see a distinction between Honda and Chevrolet cars through the aero kit program introduced for the 2015 Verizon IndyCar Series season.

"INDYCAR has defined some boxes, and you have to work within the boxes. But, apart from that, it's pretty open," Eriksen said. "It's so open on the rules that you're going to see quite a bit of variation I think between the cars, the details particularly.

"I think you'll end up in sort of like a sports car situation where people are going to be looking at all the little details on the car, and it's going to generate quite a bit of interest."

As part of its long-range focus on innovation and competition, INDYCAR announced in June 2013 that aero kits would be introduced in 2015 and include separate specifications for speedways and road/street courses and short ovals. Chevrolet and Honda Performance Development, along with its project partners, will supply aero kits to their designated entrants for the 2015 Verizon IndyCar Series season.

The full aero kits will debut at the Firestone Grand Prix of St. Petersburg on March 27-29.

The manufacturer testing window for up to six on-track days opens Oct. 6 and closes Jan. 18, 2015. Verizon IndyCar Series teams will take delivery of the street/road course aero kit March 1, with on-track and wind tunnel testing scheduled to open March 13 depending on the racing schedule. The speedway aero kit will follow.

"Just as we've done in INDYCAR aero development years ago, just as we do on the sports car side, the bulk of the development is done in the digital domain," Eriksen said. "Then we have had a series of wind tunnel tests to verify that the correlation between the virtual world and the real world is where we need it to be. We've done quite a bit of that testing.

"That so far has shown very good correlation, so we believe that the projected performance targets that we're seeing are going to be met in the real world."

Examples of areas open for development by INDYCAR-approved aero configuration manufacturers include sidepods, engine cover, rear wheel guards, front and rear wing endplates, speedway front wing main plane and the Indianapolis 500 rear wing mainplane.

Beginning with 2016, additional engine manufacturers and/or third party vendors will be eligible to be an INDYCAR-approved supplier. Correspondingly, Chevrolet and Honda will be permitted to re-homologate three of the identified boxes.

"Basically if you look at the regulations, there's a series of boxes," Eriksen said. "The boxes surround certain sections of the car. You might have a side pod box, you might have a front wing box, a rear wing box, engine cover box, etc. In 2016, you're allowed to do three boxes, take three of those boxes, and revise them further. If the rules stay the same as they are now, you'll see a 2015 car, then you'll see an updated 2016 car.

According to regulations, Chevrolet and Honda are to offer two aero kits to each of their entrants at no more than $75,000 per complete kit (excluding fasteners for all circuits). Each entrant is eligible to purchase two kits of the re-homologated components for 2016 at a cost not exceeding $15,000.

Eriksen said early tracking of the performance level indicates it will be impressive.

"It's the same as what we do on our engine program. We go through and set a performance target that we expect to achieve. We monitor, just as on the engine program, our progress towards that target over time. Based on that, you can impute an expected performance. We're doing the same thing with the aero kit. We do a tracker of the performance of the aero kit. You can watch over time as it approaches our target.

"At this point it looks like we've got the likelihood of reaching the target we set. It's going to be a pretty impressive performance."

Indians blanked by Red Wings

Sean Gilmartin three-hit the Indianapolis Indians (59-61) over six scoreless frames, Daniel Ortiz homered while driving in three and the Rochester Red Wings cruised to a 7-0 shutout on Thursday night at Victory Field.

Indians Starter Casey Sadler was touched for four runs (two earned) on three hits and two walks prior to being chased after a 39-pitch first inning.

James Beresford singled with one out, Chris Hermann reached on a booted ball by Blake Davis and Josmil Pinto worked a free pass to load the bases within the game's first four batters. Rochester then capitalized with an RBI knock from Ortiz, who came plateward on a sac fly that followed a two-run double from Wilkin Ramirez.

Indians reliever Jake Brigham relieved Sadler in the second and fired five solid innings with three runs and three strikeouts. The rightly gifted Ortiz a two-run homer in the third, but a following a scoreless fourth, was nicked for just a lone sac fly during his extended relief.

Jaff Decker, Chase d'Arnaud and Robert Andino each singled to combine for the Tribe's three total knocks in the shutout.
