College life is coming to Noblesville...

Ivy Tech doors open Monday

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

It all will begin next Monday morning when Ivy Tech opens its doors to approximately 1,000 college students at the new campus on the east side of Noblesville.

Eleven classrooms and two computer labs will be available for the school's first class of students.

Dan Clark, President of the Campus, talked about the exciting experience ahead for Noblesville and the Hamilton County area when he was interviewed by Perry Williams on the Hamilton County Newsmakers TV show.

Clark is no stranger to the Noblesville community. He and his wife moved here in 1988 and two daughters are graduates of Noblesville High School.

Clark knows the ins-and-outs of Noblesville and he is here to help the city and the college form a strong partnership for the education community. He has met with Mayor John Ditslear and is planning meetings with all Chambers in the various Hamilton County communities.

Clark said while the student body the first semester will be at 1,200 students, he expects a growth of 2,500 to 3,000

Above is a sketch of the Federal Hill Park. It covers everything, east to west; north to south.

Please center in on the bridge over White River in the right corner of the sketch. In the meeting earlier this week, folks learned that the $3 million bridge has been pulled from the budget.

Question: does this kill the "connection" between downtown Noblesville and Federal Hill Park, which always has appeared to be very important to the City?

Option: Overflow of visitors for a concert, etc. who have parked downtown or in the county parking lot on Conner Street would have to use the very narrow sidewalk on the Conner Street Bridge, which closely borders the most traveled highway in the city. Or, the Logan Street Bridge. Or, if you like to hike, the railroad bridge which feeds into Forest Park

The very expensive bridge pulled from the project, it appears to the Reporter, should have more of a discussion. After all, what is $3 million dollars in today's world? Or, we might wonder, how about a causeway, such as the one recently built over the reservoir connecting east Cicero and west Cicero? Might be cheaper?

As I sat there looking around at the number of folks who earlier this week showed up at a Noblesville Common Council retreat at City Hall, I was surprised with many who seemed to be learning for the first time about the planned Federal Hill Park.

Many of them, I recognized, as being subscribers of the Hamilton County Reporter, our daily newspaper which back in March not only wrote about the by January. Much of that growth may come as Ivy Tech closes its Carmel learning center.

Clark

Registration remains open for the first semester until classes begin on Monday.

"We want this to be a true community college campus," Clark said.

"It is a college in which students can get started and later transfer up to 30 hours to any other college in the state," the President said.

"Ivy Tech long has been known as a technical learning center. This will be a place where young people and older adults can learn middle level skilled jobs and go straight from high school into the workforce."

Clark said Ivy Tech provides classes for adults wishing to retrain in today's world. Also, there are classes for senior citizens, and these classes are offered free of charge.

High school students can take pre-college courses and earn college credits and there is no tuition charged by Ivy Tech.

"We want to partner with the Noblesville community," Clark said.

"We have two gyms and an auditorium which can become available to the community," Clark continued. "The campus is in the middle of Noblesville."

Clark said Ivy Tech and the Noblesville Parks Department have held conversations concerning a community center in the college's facilities.

Local residents driving by the campus on 16th Street already will notice some changes.

"We're starting to look like a college campus," Clark said.

The old middle school baseball diamond is being converted into a huge parking lot. Clark said later in the year a new roof will be put on the building, which most recently housed Noblesville East Middle School.

park (which at that time was unnamed) but also showed, in beautiful color, sketches of what the park was all about.

I have for many, many years stressed to folks that you can't live in Noblesville, or Hamilton County, without reading a local daily newspaper. Too many things to miss.

For example, earlier this week we wrote and showed sketches of the planned new football stadium at Westfield High School. We were there when the city presented a $2.5 million check to help with the project. For good, or not so good, those were Westfield tax dollars.

Also earlier this week we wrote about Sun King Brewery's move to Fishers and the dollars and visitors, etc. that the company will bring to Fishers. Those of you who have lived in Fishers for a long, long period time could not have back in the 1950s and 1960s ever imagined that would happen in Mudsock.

Things change in today's world and even in this world of mass community, there aren't a lot of places you can, daily, get big, and small, community news better than you can while reading the local newspaper.

We at the Reporter hope you are reading and that your Hamilton County friends from Atlanta to Carmel and from Walnut Grove and Riverwood to Fishers are reading our newspaper.

For several years I worked at a newspaper which didn't believe in covering government meetings. Too much time needed to do that. I'm not knocking those folks because I, too, believed that. Then when I came to the Reporter I researched lots of the old Noblesville Ledgers. Bingo, I discovered, government meetings are important. Since we've started covering government meetings, so have the other guys.

I think it is important not only for you folks to know what is happening at government meetings and to suggest that you should attend some, it also is important that you know the county and city leaders who are making things happen. I'm not trying to make rock stars out of these men and women, but, tell me, how many county commissioners or county councilmen, or city councilmen or school board members photos did you see in local newspapers before the Reporter came along?

But, back to Federal Hill Park, which, and this surprises me, was named even before funding has been approved for the park. The City has spent nearly a million bucks for the land, but the Council hasn't approved the other $10, $11, $12, whatever, millions to fund it.

That's why, I've come to believe, lots of those people showed up for the council retreat. They knew what the park was all about, but they had questions. They had suggestions.

Great. That's what local government should be about.

So, what we're going to do is dig out some of those sketches we ran a few months ago and center in on the questions and concerns being put on the table.

That, too, is what government should be all about. Stay with us throughout the week and we'll go step by step with you, starting today with a sketch elsewhere on this page of the park, from one end to the other.

Cicero Fire Chief Peachey attends fire protection summit

Chief Steve Peachey of Cicero Fire Department along with Indiana State Fire Marshall Jim Greeson, was invited to attend a summit in Denver, Colorado by the NFPA (National Fire Protection Agency). NFPA is the organization that develops the standards for fire protection throughout the nation. Fire Marshall Greeson and Chief Peachey were selected to attend and participate in a round table discussion regarding residential fire sprinkler system safety. Chief Peachey was recognized by NFPA, after his testimony before the Indiana state legislators, as being an advocate for residential sprinkler systems in townhouses. Peachey was picked by his peers to represent the Indiana Fire Chiefs for the legislative session of 2013 and again in 2014. Fire safety in Cicero and the surrounding communities in northern Hamilton County have always been a top priority of Chief Peachey.

In 2012, the Town of Cicero and the Cicero Fire Department requested a new evaluation of the Insurance Service Organizations rating. Progressive moves were taken within the fire department to improve prior to the evaluation. The changes implemented Included (new equipment? Updated equipment?) equipment, changes in staffing and training prior to evaluation. The town also improved upon the water supply and maintenance of hydrants. From these changes, the town of Cicero improved their rating from a 6/8 to a 4 classification. This measurement is used by insurance companies in evaluating homeowner's insurance rates based on the delivery of emergency services. Cicero is among the top 7% of elite cities, towns, and townships in the state of Indiana with a protection rating of 4 or below. Cicero Volunteer Fire Department is proud to have eight paid professional firefighters and twenty-four volunteers and support staff. As well as, providing 24-hour manned Advanced Life Support ambulance services.

Disturbing facts about childhood obesity

By SHARON MCMAHON

“We want children to grow up strong and healthy because they might grow up to do something great.”

- A First Grade Student

This week’s column takes on a topic very important to me and, I hope, to my readers. Though I usually infuse (or attempt to do so) an element of humor into my various discourses on nutrition and fitness, I am most serious about the issue of childhood obesity. As I am prone to do, I harken back to my own growing-up years and recall that few children with whom I attended school or even with whom I was remotely acquainted were overweight. As we begin to close up a summer of attending outdoor festivities and opportunities to see all manner of bodies in summer clothing, I am moved to broach this topic. Some disturbing facts as stated by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, CDC:

Childhood obesity has more than doubled in children and quadrupled in adolescents in the past 30 years.^{1, 2}

The percentage of children aged 6–11 years in the United States who were obese increased from 7% in 1980 to nearly 18% in 2012. Similarly, the percentage of adolescents aged 12–19 years who were obese increased from 5% to nearly 21% over the same period.^{1, 2}

In 2012, more than one third of children and adolescents were overweight or obese.¹

A study from the University of North Texas, recently presented at the American Psychological Association’s annual convention, cites “having a healthy heart and lungs may actually be one of the most important factors for middle school students to make good grades in math and reading.” Although I am usually a fan of technology and all the perks associated, I do believe that technology has greatly impacted our children’s levels of physical activity. Video games, 1000+ cable TV channels, constant communication with friends via these devices, have all impacted kids’ activity levels. Poor nutrition in a steady diet of fast-food, highly-processed “quick” foods, and snack items loaded with sugar and chemical additives have all increased our children’s susceptibility to type 2 diabetes, high blood pressure, high cholesterol, asthma and other breathing problems, sleep disorders and early puberty. Adding to these physical complications are low self-esteem and behavior problems – both usually present in bullying situations. Paradoxically, increasing numbers of teen and pre-teen girls suffer from anorexia and bulimia trying to fit an impossible standard set by the media, which often manifests into an adult battle as well.

While it is true that family history and genetics often factor into the issue of childhood obesity, there are other factors as well, including psychological and socio-economic. Foods such as crackers, cookies and frozen meals are often less expensive and considered an easier option. We want fast, easy, and tasty! I am, however, buoyed by the increasing popularity of the Food Network’s frequent emphasis on healthy dishes comprised of fresh products. As I was growing up, a cookie, candy bar, or a few potato chips were considered treats, not everyday goodies. Cake and ice cream were birthday party treats.

Wow, I realize this is not the most upbeat topic but essential to face for the benefit of our children. As a mother of three and grandmother of four (and fan of all children!) I am cautiously hopeful that the word is getting out and that parents will pay more attention to their child’s true activity and nutritional needs and less to the manufacturers of technology and processed food! In regard to encouraging your child to be more active, find out what interests they have and be prepared to engage; sometimes team sports are not interesting to a child and they may wish to be more involved in running or swimming. Encourage active play such as tag or hide and seek for the little ones. Show by example that physical activity is a lifetime commitment. Hamilton County, in particular, is blessed with many playgrounds and trails for families to stay active together. Prepare your family meals and snacks predominantly at home, using ingredients with which you are familiar (and that does not include “red dye # whatever!) and educate your child on what you are preparing and why it is good for them.

Obvious reason to promote good childhood nutrition and fitness levels - because we want all children to grow up healthy and happy, feeling good and being fit. Another reason to promote good childhood nutrition and fitness levels – because we already have a greatly overburdened health care system and these young people will be faced with making good decisions for our world and our future. Let’s invest in their education and their health and fitness, a legacy which will pay back and pay forward for generations to come. “Note the quote” at the beginning of this piece – smart kid, huh?

How to Recover Like a Younger You

While barbecues, sports leagues, family vacations, days at the beach and nights out with friends are fun, keeping up with summer recreation while maintaining a steady work schedule can be challenging, says Budge Collinson.

And before we know it, we'll be back into the busy fall grind, getting kids up and off to school, participating in clubs and civic groups that have been on summer hiatus, and yes, before we know it, planning for holidays!

"We like to tell ourselves that there will be a period of rest before the next big thing, but usually there isn't," says Collinson, a food science expert with a passion for health and fitness. "The truth is, most of us like having full and often fast-paced lives, even if we tend to get worn out more quickly as we get older."

Don't resort to caffeine and other stimulants for a temporary energy boost, Collinson says.

"Replacing the nutrients that are depleted when you're active is a much smarter way to maintain or increase your energy level, and many of those nutrients have long-term benefits as well," says Collinson, who formulated an effervescent, natural multivitamin beverage called Youth Infusion, (www.drinkyouthinfusion.com), to make it easier to get all the essential nutrients and minerals in one 6-ounce drink.

He discusses the revitalizing powers of specific nutrients:

- CoQ10 for that extra energy boost. Every cell in your body uses CoQ10 to produce energy, but your heart needs it the most. CoQ10 can help balance your blood pressure, and its powerful antioxidant properties help protect you against pre-mature aging.

- Arginine to help with your endurance during workouts and your daily routine. Arginine helps the cardiovascular system by assisting in nitric oxide production, making the arteries more elastic. It also supports the functioning of your hormones and immune system, helps kidneys remove the body's waste and promotes wound healing.

- Theanine helps support better moods. Theanine is a calming extract of green tea. Clinical research indicates that it helps focus a distracted mind. To a lesser extent, theanine has also been shown to reduce anxiety.

- Resveratrol: a versatile antioxidant for general well-being and long-term peace of mind. Resveratrol promotes healthy circulation, prevents cholesterol oxidation and protects your entire cardiovascular system from the effects of dangerous free radicals. Initial research shows resveratrol helps defend the body against a number of diseases, including Alzheimer's, heart disease, cancer and diabetes.

- Vitamin D – for when the sun isn't as bright as it was during summer. Up to 90 percent of the vitamin D the body needs comes from sunlight, which is in much shorter supply after summer. Vitamin D is required for the regulation of the calcium and phosphorus in the body. It also plays an important role in maintaining proper bone structure and supporting immunity.

Celebrate Fall at Miller-Palooza

Mark Sept. 13 on your calendar and plan to celebrate fall at this year's Miller-Palooza at Purgatory Golf Club.

Miller-Palooza, hosted by the Noblesville Schools Education Foundation, is an evening for adults that will feature a fashion show, dinner, silent auction, live auction, raffle, entertainment, and more. Doors open at 5 p.m. and the event starts at 6.

This year's models will include Noblesville Schools' new superintendent, Dr. Beth Niedermeyer, Noblesville First Lady Teri Ditslear, and several principals and students. AH Collection, a shop at Hamilton Town Center, will provide women's fashions. Men will not be left out as several principals and high school coaches will model some of the latest trends in Miller spirit wear.

Also featured this year:

- Entertainment by Noblesville High School's New Dimension Choir and the North Elementary School Hand Chimes Choir.

- A photo booth and caricature artist
- An online auction with many fun, valuable, and priceless items (more details will be announced)

- A live auction that includes tickets for the Oct. 5 Indianapolis Colts vs. Baltimore Ravens Game at Lucas Oil Stadium

- A raffle of a $500 gift certificate for Smith's Jeweler's in downtown Noblesville

Individual tickets for the event are $50 and may be ordered at any school office or by calling Sharon Trisler, the Foundation's executive director, at 773-2134, ext. 44123. An order form also is available on the Foundation's website, www.noblesvilleschools.org/foundation. Questions may be directed to Mrs. Trisler by phone or email, sharon_trisler@nobl.k12.in.us.

This year's Miller-Palooza is presented by Performance Services. Ivy Tech is the platinum sponsor.

Proceeds from Miller-Palooza will help fund grants for enrichment activities in Noblesville's schools as well as scholarships for graduating seniors who are planning to pursue a bachelor's degree in education and teachers who are seeking an advanced degree in education.

Express Bus to continue from Fishers through end of the year

Fishers residents who use the Express Bus to travel to downtown Indianapolis will be able to keep using it, at least for the time being.

Various reports said that the service will run through the end of the year after the Fishers Town Council decided to pay out $22,500 to the Central Indiana Regional Transportation Authority, which runs the service. There are two routes from Fishers, with one originally planned to discontinue next month.

The cost is $5 one way for passengers, and they can also buy a 10-trip package for $50, or an unlimited-ride pass for $150 per month.

We are excited to announce that Community Bank is planning to join First Merchants Bank.

Community Bank and First Merchants have agreed to combine our companies in order to provide better value for our communities, clients, shareholders and employees.

Through this combination, we intend to provide expanded products and services including insurance and wealth management, along with more banking centers and ATMs. Our new partnership would provide you with over 100 banking center locations throughout 26 Indiana counties, as well as two counties in both Illinois and Ohio.

Our companies are similar; both have deep roots in community banking and both are committed to local delivery of exceptional service. Both banks believe in building deep, lifelong relationships with our clients and in being part of the fabric of the communities we serve. We both strive to be trusted advisors and true partners with our clients.

Headquartered in Muncie, Indiana, First Merchants is one of the largest financial services holding companies in the state. For more than 120 years, they have been providing trusted advice and counsel to clients and communities like ours. In fact, we are already neighbors, commonly serving the Noblesville, Westfield, Fishers and Lapel communities.

We are excited and proud of our intention to take the First Merchants name, but the people who serve you will not change. Although we would be a much larger company, you would see the same employees at your neighborhood banking centers, providing you with the high performing service and advice you have become accustomed to.

By combining Community Bank and First Merchants, we can bring you even more products and services while maintaining the legacy of real community banking that you expect and deserve. It is our pledge to continue to provide you with a great banking experience, delivered by the same great people you know and trust.

If you have any questions about this exciting news, please let us know. On behalf of the entire Community Bank team, we look forward to supporting your banking needs now and in the future.

Personally yours,

Charles L. Crow

Millers will open at LN

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Late last week, before the Millers on Friday were to take the field for a scrimmage session with North Central, Coach Lance Scheib was talking about his team’s defense.

“The defense needs to continue to play fast and arrive at the ball in a bad mood,” said the coach.

Bingo. That’s what the Millers did in the scrimmage. North Central’s only score in the scrimmage came on an intercepted pass.

This is a strong Miller defense, and, actually a carry over from what Noblesville did in the second half of last season when NHS allowed opposing teams to score only two touchdowns or less in four of five games.

Problem last season, and hopefully this won’t be a carry over, the Millers won just one of those games, beating up on Harrison 35-0.

In the scrimmage with North Central, Noblesville did not score, even though at times the Millers moved the football.

In Noblesville’s first series, junior quarterback Luke Melloh hit ace receiver Joey Herron for 11 yards and later threw to speedster Brian McLean for 41 yards. Melloh, quarterbacking his first varsity action, on the Millers’ fifth play, threw the interception and then the very next play found McLean for the long gainer.

In the scrimmage, each team started by having 15 plays. On the last three plays, Jarel Youree, a junior running back, dashed for 19 yards; senior quarterback Carl Hardy connected with Herron for 34 yards and senior running back Hayden Stinnett carried for 11 yards. Noblesville was on North Central’s two-yard line, with no plays remaining.

So, the offense showed signs, but the bottom line being the Millers did not score.

In the contest for the starting QB job this week at Lawrence North, Melloh and Hardy came out of the scrimmage still battling.

“They were okay,” Scheib said, “but will have to do better.”

Combined, Melloh and Hardy were 5-for-13 throwing the football.

Going into the last week of practice before beginning the regular season, Scheib said that the only contest was not just at quarterback.

“Every position is up for grabs, with either starters or those players which will become role players for us on Friday nights,” said the coach.

Scheib’s depth chart going into the scrimmage had Stinnett at tailback, Joey Brewer at tight end, McLean at wide receiver, Herron at wide receiver and Aidan Jarvis at fullback. Jarvis, a 210-pound senior, had some nice runs against North Central.

The offensive line is led by the big man (big in more ways than one), 265-pound tackle Brandon Knight. He’s headed for Purdue football next season.

Joey Herron runs for yardage after making a reception.

Joining Knight as No. 1 on the depth chart are 255-pound senior Jacob Reks at guard, 260-pound Dustin Aitken at center 250-pound Jeffrey Musselman at guard and 290-pound Eric Ferguson at tackle

That’s a lot of beef, but, considering the schedule Noblesville will play, the Millers will need that size.

On defense, Noblesville won’t be quite as big with an upfront trio of 200-pound Jake Hornsby, 200-pound Nick Santos and 180-pound Sonu Dhillon.

The linebackers will be senior Donovan Lynch, senior Austin Ginther, junior Hank Davis, senior AJ Anderson and senior David Cory.

You won’t find many linebackers, if any, in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference better than Ginther and Lynch.

In the defensive backfield likely will be senior Josh Gentry, senior Jake Owens and senior Zack Niezer.

It’s a potent defense which will need help from the offense if the Millers are to win and win big this season.

“Offense is simple,” said Scheib. “Take care of the football and be physical each and every play.”

The Millers did protect the football in the scrimmage. That, along with the pass catching of Herron, McLean and big 255-pound tight end Brewer and the running of Stinnett, Youree and Jarvis certainly gave some indications that the Millers can be stronger on offense this season.

Noblesville Schedule

Also, the depth looks good.

“We have been able to develop depth this season at almost every position,” said Scheib. “I feel good about where we are across the board as we prepare for the season.”

Noblesville is a team of families this season, with seven brother combinations. They are senior Connor and sophomore Chandler Hurst, senior Austin and sophomore Nolan Ginther, junior JD and sophomore Drew Scheib, senior Joey and sophomore Ben Herron, senior Logan and sophomore Mitchell Compton, junior Hagen and sophomore Clay Wiese and senior Jake and sophomore Drew Owens.

The season will open with an interesting game, Noblesville traveling to Lawrence North this Friday. As the Lafayette schools have left the Hoosier Crossroads, the Millers will play three non-conference games. Two of those non-conference tilts will be played at Lawrence North, the other being on Sept. 26 when Chatard will host the Millers.

Noblesville, a school which has gone through 12 consecutive years without a record above 50-50, will take on a Lawrence North team which hasn’t won a game in two years. LN’s last victory was a 31-28 decision over Terre Haute South in the final regular season game three years ago. Lawrence North’s last winning season (9-3) was in 2005. That team was coached by Tom Dilley, who now is in his first season at Guerin Catholic.

Noblesville’s home opener, another non-conference game, will be the second week of the season when Hamilton Heights comes to Hare Chevrolet Stadium. The next week, Week 3, the Millers will travel to Fishers for their first HCC game. Noblesville defeated Fishers in the regular season last year and then lost to the Tigers in the sectional.

Non-league games may tell

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Hamilton Heights football coach Mitch Street may learn a lot about his football team very early this season. Even before the Huskies roar onto the gridiron for a start in the Mid-Indiana Conference. That conference start will come in the third game of the season at Maconaquah. Before that, Heights will play a pair of non-conference games with Tipton and Noblesville. The Huskies will open at home against Tipton this Friday and then travel to Noblesville the following Friday.

Likely, Street will learn a lot about the season from those two games.

Then, again, maybe not.
At least until the Noblesville game Heights will play without Ethan Jones, the junior who throughout the summer showed the talent needed to replace graduated quarterback Monte Reed, who last season threw for 1,849 yards and 25 touchdowns. But, Jones missed the Friday evening scrimmage with Anderson and will sit out a two-game suspension when the Huskies face Tipton.

Grant Weatherford has stepped into the quarterback position. Weatherford’s role had expected to be at wide-receiver. He’s one of the best in the state, last year catching 49 balls for 1,073 yards.

“We’ve said all along that we wanted to get the ball into Grant’s hands,” said Street. “Now, the ball will be in his hands from the snap.”

Street would not comment on who will play where once Jones returns.

No matter where Weatherford is, he’ll be a threat along with what should be an extremely tough group of skilled players.

The starting fullback, senior Jesse Kerfoot, last season carried the pigskin only 46 times and gained 470 yards and scored eight touchdowns.

“Kerfoot has paid his dues and is ready for a starting role this season,” said Street.

At what Heights labels the “H back” spot is Jesse Brown, who as a freshman last year caught 23 passes for 453 yards and six touchdowns.

“The difference between Brown last season and this season,” Street said, “is that he is physically stronger. He had an outstanding season as a freshman.”

The “X back” will be another Weatherford, Sterling, a sophomore who, like brother Grant, is a very good athlete.

Completing the talented backfield at the “Z back” spot will be Caymn Lutz, another of Heights’ young athletes. He a sophomore. Riley White is still-another promising sophomore.

“Our skilled players are good,” said Street.

Heights’ offensive line may be good, too, but it is unproven with not a lot of varsity experience. The leader will be Joel Boser, a 230-pound senior tight end.

“We are expecting a lot of leadership from Boser,” Street said.

The other projected starters in the line are Shawn Kinnaman, 215-pound junior left tackle; Corbin Cook, 250-pound junior left guard; Clay Smith, 245-pound junior center; Zach Stevens, 205-pound sophomore right guard, and Tyler Anderson 255-pound junior right tackle.

Anderson, Street said, has come on like gang-busters during the summer.

“Anderson and Stevens have really gotten good during the summer,” said their coach.

It’s a young offensive line, but this talented group of juniors should get better as the season progresses, and that spells bad news for conference and post-season opponents.

Grant Weatherford will play the quarterback position for the Huskies in their first two games this season.

Heights Schedule

Aug. 22, Tipton, 7 p.m.
Aug. 29, at Noblesville, 7 p.m.
Sept. 5, at Maconaquah, 7 p.m.
Sept. 12, Lewis Cass, 7 p.m.
Sept. 19, at Eastern, 7 p.m.
Sept. 26, at Taylor, 7 p.m.
Oct. 3, Northwestern, 7 p.m.
Oct. 10, at Western, 7 p.m.
Oct. 17, Peru, 7 p.m.

“Our line is not big, nor experienced,” Street agreed. “We just trying to get better; trying to improve.”

Another threat to this Hamilton Heights offense is its punt and kickoff return ability. Brown last season returned four kickoffs for 57 yards. Kerfoot returned four kicks for 78 yards. Grant Weatherford had a dozen kickoff returns for 240 yards and he also returned six punts for 146 yards.

As explosive as the offense may be, Street said the defense will be a key to the Huskies winning.

Up front will be Anderson, Boser, 325-pound senior Dan Baker and junior Nathan Roth.

The starting linebackers will be Kerfoot, senior Isaac Ray and Brown.

Grant Weatherford will start at strong safety and Lutz at free safety. The corners will be Sterling Weatherford and senior Evan Ward.

“We’ve got a lot of young kids on both sides of the football,” Street said. “On offense, we lost the quarterback, a running back and five offensive linemen. We had a good summer and needed a good summer to find out who we are.”

This will be Heights’ last season playing in the Mid-Indiana Conference. The Huskies will be moving to the Hoosier Conference in 2015.

Is this another Sheridan year?

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Those who follow Sheridan football from a distance might take a snap look and believe the Blackhawks have been “down” the last few seasons.

Sheridan’s last state championship (the last of three straight) came back in 2007.

Here are a couple of facts to consider:

*Until Tri-Central broke the string last year, Sheridan was the last public school to win the Class 1A state title.

*Sheridan the last three years has been eliminated from the post-season tourney by teams which went on to win the state championship.

“Lafayette Central Catholic eliminated us two consecutive times and then we lost in the sectional last year to Tri-Central,” pointed out Sheridan Hall of Fame coach Bud Wright, who this season will be starting his 50th year as a coach and 49th year at Sheridan.

Wright, who has won more games than any coach in the history of Indiana High School football, will enter the year with an overall record of 385-172 and a 384-169 mark as Sheridan’s mentor.

He also will enter the season with a very good football team, a team (barring injuries) which could win another state championship.

“If all the pieces fit together,” Wright said, “this could be a good football team. We have a back (Austin Hoover) who has been the leading rusher in Hamilton County the last two seasons. And, we’re back to the size we haven’t had the last couple of years.”

Sheridan will be big up front with senior Jacob Eidson (210) and junior David Powers (240) at tackles; senior Kent Hollingsworth (230) and sophomore Antonio Caraballo (265) at guards and sophomore Alex Gipson (240) at center. Gipson, who started as a freshman last season, is being pushed by sophomore Avery Bundy (233).

Hollingsworth and Eidson are potential all-staters.

Wright said he’ll “open up” the offense a little this season, which should make Hoover even more of a threat. Hoover rushed for 2,174 yards last fall and has gained more than 4,000 the last two years.

Running alongside Hoover at fullback will be big (254 pounds) Logan Barnes. Wright calls Barnes “a power blocker.”

Because Hoover is so valuable on defense, Wright would like to give him a little time off from the offense. The coach believes he can do this with junior K.J. Acevedo and the Burnell twins as backups. The two sophomores, Robert and Kenny Burnell, weigh in at 175 pounds.

Another Blackhawk with size is 240-pound sophomore tight end Kyle Harwood, who last year was an offensive lineman. “Harwood is a big kid and a good blocker,” said Wright. “He really came on this summer. Harwood also will be our long-snapper on punts.”

With senior Garrett Chesney returning at quarterback and some speed at the wide-out positions, Wright can spread out his offense. Chesney ran for 220 yards and passed for another 496 yards last season.

“He likes the shot gun,” Wright talked about Chesney. “It appears to be a better fit for him. He sees the field better.”

The three wide-outs, who will make Hoover even more dangerous on the ground, are junior Jacob Chesney, junior Taylor Ly and senior Jordan Kyriakopoulos. Ly, a basketball player out for football for the first time, has some speed and good hands. Kyriakopoulos, a baseball player with speed, was a defensive back last season. Jacob Chesney, a split end last year, gives the Sheridan offense lots of options.

Wright likes his offensive line.

“Eidson and Hollingsworth are three-year starters,” said the coach. “Powers stated four games last season. Carballo is a big sophomore who had knee problems last year. Gipson and Bundy are fighting it out for the center position.”

Wright will play a 3-4 defense.

Up front will be 210-pound junior Zach Reed, Hollingsworth and 242-pound senior Brooks Lewman.

Hoover, who led Sheridan with 155 tackles last season, will be one of the inside linebackers. Wright said the other inside spot still is open with 210-pound senior Robert Sizemore, the Burnell twins, and Harwood all in the picture.

The outside linebackers will be Eidson and freshman Joe Callahan. Eidson, the third-leading Blackhawk in defensive points last season, has played nose and defensive back in his career. Callahan’s brother, Tyler, now graduated, also started at linebacker as a freshman.

Sheridan is deep in defensive back talent. The Chesneys and Kyriakopoulos will start with backup help from Ly, freshman Brody Perry and Acevedo.

Sheridan will open the regular season Friday at Larry Wright Stadium against long-time rival Western Boone. Shenandoah and North Knox are new opponents.

The big game which could decide the Hoosier Heartland Conference title is the regular season finale against Tri-Central, the team which eliminated the Blackhawks in the sectional last year.

“Tri-Central lost their big lineman, but they have a ton of talent returning,” Wright said.

 Guerin Catholic has a new coach, but he's been around the field a time or two.
 Combine that with a solid group of returning players and a challenging schedule, win the sectional. GC then lost the regional to a strong Brebeuf Jesuit team that advanced to the Class 3A state finals.

Dilley coached at Lawrence North and Bishop Chatard previously before coming to GCHS. Already he likes what he sees from the Golden Eagles.

"We spent a lot of together so far, I'm sure we'll get to know each other even better as we go," said Dilley.

 Oct. 17, at Culver Academy, 7:30 p.m.

Guerin Catholic didn't get a chance to scrimmage, as its date with Washington was canceled due to a lack of players on the Washington team. Dilley said the coaching staff knew where everyone stood, but would have liked the chance to evaluate the team even more.

The Golden Eagles have two quarterbacks from which to choose, including returning senior Matt Labus. He completed 94 of 194 pass attempts for 966 yards last year. Sophomore Elliot Charlebois is back, and Dille called him "really good."

Returning receivers include Arion Shinnaver, who had 14 receptions totaling 190 yards, while Cody Brazill caught 14 passes for 83 yards. The primary running backs will be Carter McGinnis, who rushed 74 times for 239 yards, and Johnny Swidan, who gained 179 yards in 36 attempts. Evan Hansen and Tracey Bulger are also players that Dilley said can run the ball, but they could also be good on the fullback side, helping to lead through and block. The coach also said those two are "big defensive parts for us."

Hansen

Swidan

On defense, Almack will also see time on that line, along with Jordan Hitchcock, Jack Sahn and Isaac Fettig. Returning backs include Matt Merlina, Brennan Thieneman and Hudson Plumer, who will move from wide receiver to defensive back this year. Hansen, Brady McGinnis and Robert Birkle will be in the linebacker mix.

Labus

Labus Guerin begins its season Friday against Martinsville, in a 7 p.m. game that will be played at Park Tudor. The Artesians also have a new coach, and are coming off a 7-3 season last year.

A big game in Week 2 will be at Lafayette Central Catholic. The Knights won four 1A state championships in a row, and moved up to 2A last year, where they fell in the sectional to eventual state runner-up Tipton. Two late-season games that will be big measuring sticks are Brebeuf in Week 7 and Bishop Chatard in Week 8.

Sheridan Water Works

Beginning in early September Sheridan Water Works will be using chloramines instead of chlorine to disinfect the drinking water. The process has become more cost effective allowing Sheridan to take advantage of the greater disinfection benefit by doing so.

For many years cities in the United States, such as Indianapolis, use chloramines as a disinfectant. Chloraminated water is the same as chlorinated water for all of the normal uses we have for water.

However, there are two groups of people who need to take special care with chloraminated water: kidney dialysis patients and fish owners. Chloramines must be removed from water used in kidney dialysis process and from water that is used in fish tanks or ponds.

What are chloramines? Chloramines are a combination of chlorine and ammonia which are used to kill potentially harmful bacteria in water. They do not increase the pH levels, and they do not affect pool water. Chloraminated water will not harm plants due to the chlorine demand of the soil.

Why is the Water Works changing to chloramines? Ammonia is becoming a ground water problem throughout the State of Indiana. Ammonia drastically increases the chlorine demand and makes it more difficult for chlorine to be sustained out in the far reaches of the distribution system. Instead of ammonia being a problem to us we have decided to make it an asset by adding a very small amount of ammonia to the existing natural ammonia found in our ground water and combining it with a bit more chlorine to form chloramine. Because chloramine can persist in water for several weeks, whereas chlorine dissipates over a period of days to hours this gives us greater disinfecting abilities. Other benefits are that less disinfecting by-products will form and chloramines are less of an oxidant than chlorine and the iron and manganese minerals will less likely stain your fixtures.

Is chloramines disinfection safe? Chloraminated water is no different than chlorinated water for all of the normal uses we have for water. Water that contains chloramines is totally safe to drink for pregnant women and children. The digestive process neutralizes the chloramines before they reach the bloodstream. Even kidney dialysis patients can drink the water. Boiling the water is not an effective method of removing chloramines either. The only practical methods of removing chloramines from water are using a water conditioner which contains a dechlorinator or by using granular activated carbon.

Where to call? If you have any future questions about the Town of Sheridan Water Works treatment process or water quality, please call the Water Department at (317) 758-5326 from 7:30 A.M. to 3:30 P.M.

If you have any questions about kidney dialysis, please call your physician or medical center.

If you have any questions concerning the care of your fish or pets, please call your pet store.

Lots of new Tigers at Fishers

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Last season Fishers lost two football games, falling to Noblesville 27-24 in the Tigers’ season opener and then falling to Carmel 35-20 in the second game of the sectional. Fishers got revenge from the Noblesville loss by beating the Millers 17-13 in the sectional. Coach Rick Wimmer’s team won’t get another shot at Carmel until, perhaps, the two county rivals meet again this fall in the sectional.

Fishers will open the season Friday at North Central and then will open the home season next Friday against Pike. NC and Pike are MIC conference teams. North Central will be the first non-conference game ever for a Fishers program which started in 2006. At that time, and since, all Hoosier Crossroads teams were playing all of their games against other conference teams.

“North Central will be tough,” Wimmer predicted. “They went 5-8 last year and lost a couple of real close games. They have some good athletes. Noblesville kept them in check in the scrimmage last Friday, but Noblesville has a very good defense.”

Fishers Schedule
Aug. 22, at North Central, 7 p.m.
Aug. 29, Pike, 7 p.m.
Sept. 5, Noblesville, 7 p.m.
Sept. 12, at Southeastern 7 p.m.
Sept. 19, Brownsburg, 7 p.m.
Sept. 26, at Avon, 7 p.m.
Oct. 3, Indy Tech, 7 p.m.
Oct. 10, Westfield, 7 p.m.
Oct. 17, at Zionsville, 7 p.m.

Wimmer thought his Tigers played well in their scrimmage.

He got a good look at his two new varsity quarterbacks, junior Zach Eaton and junior Brent Hays.

“Eaton will be our quarterback,” the coach said, “but both Eaton and Hays did a nice job throwing the football in the scrimmage.”

How much Fishers will throw remains to be seen. Returning as the tailback is senior Maurice Campbell, who last season carried for 882 yards and scored 12 touchdowns in 95 carries. The No. 2 receiver from last season, wide out Simeon Foster, also returns. Foster caught 12 balls last season for 218 yards and two touchdowns.

“Campbell looked good running the football in the scrimmage,” Wimmer said. “He scored on the first play and later on scored a couple more touchdowns.”

The remainder of Fishers’ backfield will have new faces.

Jemaine Huddleston, a 185-pound junior, joined Campbell in running the football in the scrimmage. The starting fullback will be 204-pound junior Malcom Bogle. The tight end is Isaiah Hartman, a 196-pound senior.

Wide-outs joining Foster are junior Noah Rogers and senior Evan Long.

The offensive line is, Wimmer said, a concern going into the season.

“The line will need to improve,” said the coach. “They showed some good things in the scrimmage, but they will need more working together. That will be a work in progress.”

Mike Hafley, a 236-poud senior, will start at center. The tackles will be 225-pound senior Luka Skudrzik and 242-pound junior Chase Bowser. The starting guards figure to be 270-pound junior Titus Martin and Josh Inman, a 235-pound junior.

Gino Castellani, a 221-pound senior, will start at tight end.

On the defense, Wimmer said there is concern at the tackle positions.

“We need better play at tackle,” said the coach.

“Our defense gave up a couple of big plays in the scrimmage, but most of the night our secondary kept their offense in check.

Playing a 4-3 defense, Wimmer will start Joel Wilcox and Shawn Taylor at ends, Steven Chakiry at nose and Trevin Rund at tackle. Wilcox is a 205-pound senior; Chakiry a 310-pound junior; Rund a 198-pound senior and Taylor is a 202-pound junior.

The three linebackers are senior Nick Ferrell, junior Trent Nielson and senior Luke Harbison.

Playing the corners are junior Jeremy Chinn and senior Josh Lloyd.

Michael Kinder, a senior, will start at free safety and R.J. Potts, a sophomore, will open at strong safety.

Like the offense, Fishers’ defense is inexperienced at the varsity level.

Tragedy again hits Carmel

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Off the field tragedy has struck the Carmel football team, again. Last season, while the Greyhounds were involved on the field in a playoff game, the father of a Carmel played suffered a heart attack and died. Now, just days before Carmel is to open the 2014 season, a Carmel player and his father were involved in an accident, and the father has passed away.

“The guy was 50 years old and they were blindsided on the way to church,” said Coach Kevin Wright.

This Friday, at Carmel Stadium, the Greyhounds will open the season against Hamilton County rival Hamilton Southeastern, and then on Saturday the Greyhounds will attend the funeral of their friend.

“It’s sad,” Wright said, “and now we’ve got to get ready to play what has become a very big rivalry with Southeastern. They are solid on offense and defense. They have a great program and are well-coached. And, they’ve been living last year for the past nine or 10 months. They will come in here sky high.”

What Wright was referring to is Carmel’s 40-7 win over Southeastern in last year’s sectional

“They are a team which doesn’t make mistakes and a team which doesn’t beat themselves,” Wright continued. “But, that’s what happened in last year’s sectional. They fumbled the first three times they had the ball. Really, the final score wasn’t an indication of how the game was played.”

Because of HSE’s scheduling problems in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference, the Greyhounds and Royals haven’t met in a regular season game since Carmel won 14-13 in 2004. Carmel also won, 28-6, over Southeastern in the sectional that year.

“We play the type of schedule that we can’t get too high or too low for any game,” Wright continued. “Every team on our schedule is tough. Next week we go to (Louisville) Trinity and then we open the MIC at Center Grove and then we play Pike in Game 4.”

Carmel appears to have the talent to get the job. The Greyhounds last year made it to the state finals before losing to MIC foe Warren Central.

“Up front on offense; that’s where we are better,” Wright believes. “We are as good up front as we’ve been in three years. We’ve got depth, too.”

Carmel’s front five is set to be 245-pound Simon Paschciarz and 255-pound Matt Anton at tackles, 302-pound Chase Krauter and 265-pound Ryan Moriarty at

HSE is tough; so is schedule

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Hamilton Southeastern, which hasn't played a non-conference football game since beating New Albany early in the 2005 season, will begin the 2015 card with back to back games at Carmel and at home against North Central. Both of those opponents are out of the extremely tough MIC conference. Little doubt, which game is more important to the Royals. The trip to Carmel will be HSE's first regular season tilt against the Hamilton County rival Greyhounds since 2004. Last year, Carmel eliminated Southeastern in the sectional, 40-7.

"Carmel is good," said Southeastern coach Scott May, who in seven years has lost only 16 games and won 65 times with the Royals. "They have a great offense. "Playing schools like Carmel and North Central will make us a better football team."

Playing arguably the toughest non-conference schedule in the Hoosier Crossroads, Southeastern's third out-of-conference game on Oct. 10 will be with Cathedral.

May said his team's performance in the scrimmage last Friday was "solid. Our offense was a little sloppy at times, but we moved the ball. Our defense played well.

"Aaron Matio and Curtis Gross did a good job of running the football. Tyler

Southeastern Schedule

Aug. 29, North Central, 7 p.m.
Sept. 5, at Avon, 7 p.m.
Sept. 12, Fishers, 7 p.m.
Sept. 19, at Westfield, 7 p.m.
Sept. 26, Zionsville, 7 p.m.

Janney passed and ran the ball well. Chris Ford caught some passes.

"We could be a little more explosive," the coach added.

Janney, a senior, brings experience at quarterback. He passed for 1,444 yards and eight touchdowns last season, hitting on 92-of-179 tosses. He also carried the football 98 times for 625 yards and eight touchdowns.

Ford, a speedster who also plays basketball, and fellow senior tight end Kyle Schrank, give May two excellent pass receivers with experience. Schrank is a 6-4, 233-pound tight end who last year had 23 catches for 316 yards. Ford, a threat anywhere on the field, caught 21 passes for 353 yards. Matio, as a sophomore, had three catches for 90 yards.

Matio and Goss, a pair of juniors, will carry the football. Matio got the most trips of the two last year, carrying 36 times for 317 yards and three touchdowns.

Another threat in Southeastern's offensive attack is 6-4 junior receiver Will Coudret. He had six catches last season for 38 yards.

"Matio can take it to the house," May said. "Ford, Schrank, (David) Tsetse, and Greg Miller are threats. Miller moved in after last football season and played basketball."

The backup quarterback is Carter Poiry, a 6-3, 190-pound junior. Janney is 5-11, 200 pounds.

Up front in Southeastern's offensive line will be Ashmon Lewis and Jeremy Woefler at tackles, Lucas Leiner and Chase Wilson at guards and Ty Schroll at center.. All are seniors. Wilson is 6-5, 315; Woefler is 6-2, 260, Scholl 6-3, 230, Lucas 6-5, 240 and Leiner is 6-4, 245.

May said he will play more zone on offense to slow people down.

"We have a quarterback who can throw and we have good receivers," he said.

The Southeastern defense doesn't have as much experience as the offense, which could be a concern as the Royals get ready for a Carmel offensive power.

"We're young on defense," said May. "We've got three guys returning and lots of new faces out there."

The returning starters on defense are 230-pound senior Collin Miller at one end, 195-pound senior Ryan Clements as an inside linebacker and free safety David Herrmann.

Also, nose guard Casey Hays, a 230-pound senior, and tackle Bradley Murphy, a 225-pound senior, saw a lot of varsity action last season..

Finishing out the defense will be 240-pound senior Caleb Claton at tackle, 195-pound senior Andrew Notar Donato at end, junior Ryan Brown at a corner, senior Matt White at a corner, junior Justin Voskuhl at inside linebacker sophomore Brock Burns at strong safety.

May likes the schedule.

"Our schedule in the past has been top heavy at the start and then not so strong at the end," the coach said. "That's not good for getting ready to play in the post-season. This year the schedule is strong all the way through.

"If we don't play well we could come out 0-4 playing Carmel, North Central, Avon and Fishers. We've got to get a couple of those games. This schedule will help us in the post season," May added.

guards and 225-pound Nate Thompson at center. All, except for Moriarty, are returning starters.

In a move which may surprise some, senior first-team all-stater Isaac James will not start at quarterback. He will be a wide receiver and junior Micheal Viktrup will be under center.

"James also will be a defensive back and kick returner," Wright said.

Last year James passed for 281 yards and rushed for 924 yards in 154 carries.

The thought of facing a Carmel offensive attack which will include James at wide-receiver, 235-pound first team all-state Shakir Paschall and four-year veteran Chris Perkins at running back must run a lot of fear into defenses which will try to defend the Greyhounds. Last year Paschall carried 219 times for 1,076 yards and 14 touchdowns. Perkins, the only four-year Carmel football starter in a couple of decades, was injured in the playoffs last year but since carried 137 times for 723 yards during the season.

Completing the backfield at H-back will be 220-pound senior, non-letterman Jake Herr, and joining James at wide receivers will be sophomore Jalen Walker and junior John Ramsey.

"We are a little inexperienced at wide-receiver," Wright said.

The Carmel defense is talented, but not as experienced as the offense.

In the line will be 240-pound Kendal Hune and 210-pound Dylan Grimm at ends and 225-pound Andrew Verhulst at nose.

"We're not real big, and in our league we'll be going against 300-pounders," Wright said. "Hune is the only returning starter. Hune is a big guy in lots of ways."

The starting outside linebackers will be Noah Burks and Ryan Smith and inside linebackers will be Cameron Hunt and Alex Osleger.

"Burks is a big (220) junior," Wright said. "He's our big play guy. He was a junior all-state selection."

Starting at cornerback will be Logan Miller and Landon Sinnis, the latter a two-year starter. At safety will be Luke Parker and Alex Akins, who was a junior all-stater last year.

Akins and Sinnis are the only defensive backs who started last season.

Wright said his biggest concern on offense or defense is his kickers.

"We've always had strong kickers," said the coach, "but I'm concerned going into this season."

Wright will come out of the first two games, with Southeastern and Trinity, knowing much more about his team before heading into a seven-game MIC schedule.

"We end the season just like we start it, playing Ben Davis, Warren Central and Lawrence Central," said Wright.

After that, it's a 6A sectional which will include Fishers, Noblesville and likely a second meeting with Hamilton Southeastern.
