White River clean-up a washout, turns educational

By BRIAN REDDICK
After months of planning, last Saturday was supposed to be Noblesville's annual White River clean-up day. Mother Nature wasn't to cooperate this year. According to program manager Tim Stottlemeyer the river was just too dangerous to be around Saturday morning. Stottlemeyer said the river was up about three feet from its normal height and was flowing much faster than normal. With a large percentage of the clean-up volunteers being kids from scouting troops and church organizations it was simply too dangerous to let anyone let alone kids near the fast flowing water.
The day wasn't to be a complete failure though. Stottlemeyer and his team of volunteers along with local sponsors turned the day into an educational experience for the many volunteers that showed up hoping to make a difference in the well-being of a river that is so vital to much of Hamilton County.

Eleven stations were set up along the river between Noblesville's Moose Lodge and the walking path that leads to Potters Bridge Park. Each station was an educational stop for volunteers and visitors to learn more about what the river means to the local community. Visitors learned about the history of the river, animals that depend on the river and how pollution can affect the river over time if it's not kept under control.
Stottlemeyer said the clean-up would not be rescheduled because it simply takes too much time to organize the whole event. The volunteers will be back next year to hopefully have Mother Nature's cooperation in getting the clean-up underway.

A step into the past

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor
The folks at the Noblesville Masonic Lodge 57 will take a step back into history and have invited the community to join in the fun.
The cornerstone time capsule for the Noblesville Masonic Lodge Building at 295 S. 9th Street, laid on Sept. 24, 1914, will be opened. The special program will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 27.
This is the sixth location the Noblesville Masonic Lodge has occupied since its inception in Noblesville.
Following is a brief history of the previous buildings, provided to The Reporter by officials of the Lodge

Building No. 1
The first lodge or hall of what would eventually be known as Noblesville Lodge No. 57 of F&AM was the upper story of Jesse Lutz' dwelling house, which was on a lot immediately east and across the street from what was the Methodist Episcopal Church, located on 10th & Clinton Street. It was on lot 5, block 5 of the original town of Noblesville.
The lumber to fit up the room for a Lodge room was sawed at the Walter Saw Mill in Cicero, then run and operated by Judge William Neal and Ellis Evans. Neal hauled the lumber from Cicero and delivered it to Jesse Lutz and the work fixing up the upper story for a large room was done by Joseph Lutz, Jesse's brother.

The building that houses Noblesville Masonic Lodge 57 has been around for almost a century, but it's actually the sixth building that has hosted the Lodge. The Hamilton Lodge No. 57 received its charter in 1847.

Patricia A. Macaulay

February 8, 1927 - September 10, 2014

Patricia A. Macaulay, 87, of Chattanooga, TN, went to be with the Lord on Wednesday, September 10, 2014. She was born on February 8, 1927 to Charles and Pearle (Musselman) Woodward in Anderson, Indiana.

She lived outside of Noblesville, and was well known for her musical talents as a young girl. At the very young age of 5, she started taking piano lessons, and at age 11, she started playing in the church. When she was 13, Pat was asked by CBS to go to New York to demonstrate absolute pitch, which is a God-given talent where she knew what note an instrument was playing just by listening. When she was 16, Patricia started traveling with an evangelistic team, and played some of the largest organs in many venues around the world. While traveling, she met her husband, and together they served the Lord for over 40 years in evangelistic meetings. They had large crusades in places like New Zealand and Australia, and their radio ministry was heard in countries throughout the world.

Pat was a resident of Boca Raton, FL for 29 years, and in 1985, she and her husband moved to Chattanooga, TN. Pat was the organist at Woodland Park Baptist Church for 21 years. Pat loved the Lord and served Him with all her heart. She had a real burden for seeing people come to know the Lord as their personal Savior, and was a great prayer partner for her friends and family.

She is survived by her daughter, Darlene Ankerberg; son-in-law, Dr. John Ankerberg; and granddaughter, Michelle Ankerberg.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband, Dr. Neil Macaulay.

The family will have a private graveside service in Noblesville, and then they will receive friends on Thursday, September 18 from 3:00-5:00pm at Woodland Park Baptist Church in Tennessee.

Lodge From page 1

The exact date of the construction is unknown, but was assumed to be sometime in 1845 or 1846 by Jesse Lutz and others. On May 28, 1847 Hamilton Lodge No. 57 was granted a charter.

One might believe that the upper level of such a primitive structure was merely the most convenient place to meet but this was not the case. The structure was so built with the idea in mind that the second story was in fact designed to be a Masonic Lodge.

Building No. 2

The second Lodge building was located in what is now known as the Sowerwine Building, located on the northwest corner of the intersection of 9th and Logan. The building was purchased on March 24, 1848 and the deed is found in Record Deed L page 559 in the Recorder's Office and conveyed to the Lodge Lot 3 in Block 8 in the original plat of the town of Noblesville. The purchase of the building also included the two rooms immediately west of that building. The Lodge occupied the second floor.

In 1853, W.M. James E. Springer along with John T.Cox and David Moss conveyed a portion of this lot to Thomas T. Lindsey. The disposition of the remainder of the lot is unknown. The original building purchased by the Lodge is long gone. A new building was built on this lot in 1867 and another in 1887.

Building No. 3

On Aug. 12, 1852 the Lodge purchased what has become known as the Corner Drug Store building, which is located on the southwest corner of the intersection of 9th Street and Conner Street. The building was purchased from Brother G.M. Shaw. Built in 1850, until it was razed in 1914, the Lodge occupied the third story until Feb. 8, 1881.

Building No. 4

From Feb. 8, 1881 to June 4, 1884, the Lodge was temporarily located in the International Order of the Odd Fellows Hall, located on the south side of the square. The current address of this location is 835-839 Conner Street. The Lodge met on the third floor. Built in 1866, this building still stands.

Building No. 5

On June 4, 1884, the Lodge purchased the old City Hall, located on the southeast corner of the intersection of 9th and Logan and is now known as the Masonic Hall. The current address of this is location is 89-98 North 9th Street. Built in 1870, this building at one time housed a City Theater on the third floor and the local newspaper on the second floor. The stepped gable along the square and compass symbol on the front of the building was an addition by the Lodge. Occupied by the Lodge until 1915, this building is still standing.

Building No. 6

Our current location is at 295 S. 9th Street. Construction started on Sept. 24, 1914 with the dedication on May 31, 1915.

Horseshoe Prairie DAR helps people find ancestors

By FRED SWIFT

Did you ever wonder whether an ancestor living in this country at the time of the American Revolution might have served in the rebellion against England? Or, if you did hear stories that an ancestor served, perhaps you'd be interested in confirmation and more information on his service.

Assistance in getting such information is available through the local Daughters of the American Revolution, a branch of the national DAR organization. The local chapter is called the Horseshoe Prairie DAR.

The Horseshoe Prairie name comes from the first pioneer settlement in Hamilton County. It was located along White River about midway between Noblesville and Conner Prairie and has long since disappeared.

Historians are aware that at least 12 veterans of the Revolutionary War are buried in this county. The descendants of many others moved into the county in more recent times. To be a member of the DAR, a woman must be a direct descendant of a veteran of the war which won American independence

The national DAR organization has a vast collection of records of men who served in the Continental armed forces including names, dates of service, battles in which the veterans were involved, pension records and burial locations.

Local DAR chapters can help you access these records. But, one should not expect the local DAR to do all the work for you. There are questions that need answering, and may require research on the part of the person trying to establish connection to a veteran.

The DAR membership is, of course, limited to women, but there is a companion men's organization known as the Sons of the American Revolution or SAR with a chapter in Indianapolis.

The DAR Horseshoe Prairie chapter is headed by Marilynn Marshall. The group sponsors the annual Good Citizen Awards open to high school seniors in the county's high schools with college scholarships awarded to winners.

A lesson in math

By JANET HART LEONARD

Last Sunday before the church service started, Chuck was sitting on my left and Alecksa was on my right. Chuck asked Alecksa how her Geometry class was going. She said she was enjoying it.

Enjoying Geometry? Well, let's just say that she did not get that from her Gma.

I remember when I first started dating Chuck and he told me that before he was a school superintendent and before he was a principal, he was a MATH teacher. Oh no! I had to humbly confess to him that the only "D" that I ever got on my report card was in Geometry.

I told him that I understood the idea of two lines being parallel. Nonparallel lines were simply cattywampus. He just smiled.

I have asked Chuck many Math questions. Bless his heart he explains them in the simplest terms possible. My brain has an empty set when it comes to theories and exponents. Every solution seems extraneous.

Getting an answer correct was often a challenge but asking me to write how I got it was > a complex conjugate. Why couldn't the teacher just accept it as an axiom. (I have no idea what all that means)

Chuck said he was always fascinated by Trigonometry and Calculus. He enjoys explaining Euclidian Geometry. I love listening but I haven't a finite clue of conditional convergence.

I am so thankful that Chuck's love for me is compounded continuously and never divided by the square root of misunderstanding. We are never diametrically opposed nor are we a decreasing function of laughter.

I do know that the sum rule of probability is that we will divide and conquer any differentials that come our way.

The direct proportion of our ability to adapt to each other's differences has nothing to do with angles or hyperbolas but of a common denominator...love.

Maybe math isn't so complicated after all...especially when you can Google the terms.

Not the Perfect Mom

By TAMAR KNOCHEL

"Today when you hear His voice don't harden your hearts." Hebrews 3:7-8 & 15 & 4:7

"It's a new day, a new chapter, a new page, a blank slate to write the story of your life upon. The Word today says to listen to My voice and not to harden your heart, so open your ears to hear and your heart to receive My word for your troubles today.

Lean on Me when you're not strong. I'll be your friend. I'll help you carry on.

"I know life is not easy, I never said that it would be. You are walking through the Valley of the Shadow of Death, does that sound easy to you? Yet you walk through it in good company; for I am with you every step of the way. Keep walking, for goodness sake, don't stop and set up camp there! Lean on Me when you're not strong and I'll be your friend. I'll help you carry on.

It's critical that you bear in mind that it is NOT the Valley of Death. It's the Valley of the Shadow of Death. I have removed the fear of death, hell has no sting - I took it; at the tip of a spear and the hammering of some nails. I took death, drank it down in heaping gulps and conquered it so completely that only the shadow of it remains.

I have won. Death has lost. Period. End of story. Buh bye, see ya later. There is no other ending, this is it. Just Me - Jesus - victorious over the Enemy of humanity. I did that for you so that you could face days like today and continue to choose to live through them. I know, your life's not all sunshine, rainbows and puppy dogs. But in all honesty, if it was, you still wouldn't be happy. Admit it; you know that's the Truth. So, into every life a little rain must fall, and with it comes growth. My Beloved, your strength has enlarged with each trial. Don't give up. Continue striving with your best effort; keep working toward that elusive goal. You may not reach it today, and it may not come to fruition tomorrow either. But although the vision may tarry, wait (and work) patiently toward it in My will. For it will surely take place and it will not be delayed.

Millers travel to Zionsville, ‘Rocks host the Royals

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

One interesting challenge for teams playing in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference football race is that those who win have little time to celebrate and teams which lose have little time to lick their wounds.

So it will be for Noblesville and Westfield this Friday when the Millers travel to Zionsville and the Shamrocks return home to The Rock to take on Hamilton Southeastern in a pair of HCC games.

Noblesville is coming off a big 17-14 victory over Westfield.

Here’s the deal for this Friday. Westfield, which had never beaten Southeastern before a 38-18 stunner last year, will try to make it two wins in a row over HSE, a team which this fall is struggling coming out of the blocks with a 1-3 record.

Noblesville, believe it or not, has never beaten Zionsville. Thirteen times the two clubs have faced since beginning play in the HCC. Thirteen times Zionsville has won, including a 14-9 thriller last season. Zionsville, also, is struggling with a 1-3 mark.

Hamilton Southeastern, after opening the season in non-conference play by losing to No. 1 ranked Carmel 14-7 and beating North Central 38-0, has hit the wall the last two weeks, falling in conference play to Avon 31-10 and Fishers 41-10.

Zionsville, with Pat Echeverria replacing long-time successful coach Larry McWhorter, has lost to McCutcheon 21-13, Westfield 44-34 and Brebeuf 28-10 and beaten Lebanon 18-3.

Any team in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference with hopes and dreams of beating Noblesville this football season may want to do a little praying, too, trying to get an answer on how to handle the Millers’ defense.

Westfield, playing last Friday evening at Hare Chevrolet Stadium, didn’t have an answer as host Noblesville handled the Shamrocks, 17-12.

The Shamrocks certainly had their opportunities. Westfield left more point on the field than it put on the scoreboard. All of which started in the first six minutes in the game when twice Noblesville’s defense stiffened and held the visitors to a pair of field goals.

“That hurt,” Westfield coach Jake Gilbert said.

So did a pair of blocked field goals by Noblesville’s Jake Owens and Zack Niezer. “Give the credit to Noblesville’s defense,” Gilbert said. “We left too many points on the field, but give the credit to Noblesville for stopping us.”

“I am so proud of our kids,” said Noblesville mentor Lance Scheib, who watched his team move to 1-1 in the conference and 3-1 overall.

“We have a defense which bends but doesn’t break,” Scheib added.

That defense did a lot of bending, but very little breaking against the Shamrocks.

Austin Ginther had nine tackles and two assists. Donovan Lynch eight and four; Ziezer seven and three and David Cory five and four. Cory added to his game by picking off a Westfield pass.

Hank Davis, who had 4.5 tackles and three assists, delivered the final blow to Westfield with a 44-yard punt and just a minute left in the game. The Shamrocks got the pigskin at their six-yard line and couldn’t climb out of the hole.

“It would have helped if we could have caught a pass or two (after the punt),” said Gilbert. “We were 16-of-33 tonight, and I know of at least five passes that we dropped.”

“The game was won up front,” Scheib said. “Both on the offensive and defensive sides.

The game also was won because Westfield couldn’t beat the Millers in the red zone. Time after time, four times in all, Westfield threatened and each time the Millers’ slammed door.

That’s tough to do against the offense Gilbert brought to Noblesville. It was an offense which ran 75 plays to Noblesville’s 54. It was an offense in which quarterback Ryan Pepiot threw for 176. It was an offense which ran for 132 yards, led by bulldog Elvin Caldwell with 26 carries for 137 yards. The loss of yardage came as the Millers sacked Pepiot for minus 26 yards.

But, all credit for the Noblesville win can’t be left at the doorstep of the defense. The offense did its part, too. The offense put two touchdowns and a field goal on the board, and that was enough on this night to win.

Westfield had all kinds of trouble with Jarel Youree in the open field. He gained 72 yards in just four carries. Hayden Stinnett carried 18 times for 67 yards. The two quarterbacks, Luke Melloh and Carl Hardy, combined to rush for 83 yards. They also combined for 9-of-16 passes for 95 yards, although Westfield’s defense did intercept three passes and also recovered a fumble on a play it appeared the Millers had scored. Youree was a streak darting here, there and everywhere. He caught seven passes for 70 yards.

Westfield’s Dowd gave the Shamrocks an early 6-0 on a pair of 47-yard field goals.

Jarel Youree gained 142 yards for Noblesville in its 17-12 victory over Westfield Friday. Youree had 72 yards rushing and caught seven passes for 70 yards.

Hawks to host Clinton Central Friday night

How’s this for a coaching matchup? Friday in a Hoosier Heartland Conference game at Larry Wright Stadium in Sheridan the host Blackhawks will take on Clinton Central. Sheridan, of course, is led by Wright, a Hall of Famer in his 50th year as a coach. Clinton Central is coached by rookie mentor Isaac Sturgis.

Sheridan will try to dig itself out of a conference hole after losing to Carroll 20-14 last year. The Blackhawks, now 1-1 in the conference, it appears will have to beat Clinton Central this Friday and then win at Tri-Central the last week of the season to have a shot at even tying for the HHC championship.

Tri-Central is unbeaten in the conference and last week drilled Clinton Prairie, 50-6, a team which Sheridan slipped past 33-27. Tri-Central also holds a 15-13 win over Carroll.

Sheridan has knocked off Clinton Central each of the last four years.

Last Friday, Sheridan had a 14-0 lead and lost it and had a chance to score at the end and didn’t as the Blackhawks were defeated 20-14.

After playing very well in the final two quarters of games the last two weeks, Sheridan opened this one with a 14-7 lead and then was outscored 13-0 in the second half.

The Blackhawks got the ball to Carroll’s two-yard line with 20 seconds left, but was sacked on the next play. With no time outs remaining, Sheridan couldn’t get off another play.

Austin Hoover scored both Sheridan touchdowns. He put the Blackhawks on the board first with a 60-yard run. He scored in the second quarter on a 69-yard punt return.

Katie Hybarger booted both Sheridan extra points.

Hoover had another great night running the football, carrying 34 times for 199 yards. Sheridan outrushed Carroll 241 yards to 96, but the

Heights looking for a comeback

Hamilton Heights will try to get back on track when it travels to Eastern this Friday after a tough loss to Lewis Cass last Friday.

The Huskies were stung by two fourth quarter Lewis Cass touchdowns Friday night, which led the Kings to a 26-14 win. Heights is now 1-1 in the Mid-Indiana Conference, part of a four-way tie for second. Cass and Peru are the leaders at 2-0.

The Comets are 0-2 in the conference, and 1-3 overall. Eastern opened its season with a 30-17 loss to Oak Hill, then winning against Madison-Grant 49-46. In conference play, the Comets have lost to Peru 17-7 and Maconaquah 21-14.

The Huskies were playing catch up in the first half against the Kings, with Grant Weatherford leading the way. Weatherford’s 99-yard rushing touchdown early in the second quarter tied things up at 7-7. Then, after the Kings scored with 12 seconds left in the half, Weatherford caught a 22-yard pass from Josh Feltz with no time left on the clock. Cameron O’Malia’s extra-point kick made the halftime score 14-14. But a touchdown run early in the fourth quarter proved to be the game-winner for Cass.

Weatherford wound up with 99 yards rushing in four carries.

Hamilton Heights reached the final of its Invitational on Saturday, falling to McCutcheon 3-2 in the hard-fought championship game. Sam Stallsmith scored both goals, with Collin Luckey making the assists.

"Josiah Hardacre was the player of the game as he was moved around to fill positions that the team needed assistance with," said HHHS coach Derrick Dean. "He also tried to motivate his team with positive comments and hard play the entire game."

Heights won its first game 6-1 over Southmont. Luckey scored three goals for Heights, with Stallsmith getting two and Collin Brindley one. Dane Candler had two assists, while Justin Rosenthal, Jordan Springman and Cameron O'Malia all had one. Collin Kaurich had three saves as goalkeeper.

Shamrocks defeat Millers in 3 Millers win Maconaquah Invitational

Two good volleyball teams met in Westfield on Thursday, as Noblesville traveled to The Rock to face the Shamrocks.

Westfield had been getting some votes in the latest Class 4A poll, and despite the fact that they're dealing with an injury, the Shamrocks won in straight sets 25-22, 25-17, 25-18. Westfield clinched the win by making several scoring runs in the third set, and were able to hold off the Millers' comebacks during that time.

Sophomore Natalie Ravenell, a state qualifier in the high jump last year, led the offense with 10 kills. Senior setter Samantha Reed handed out 31 assists, while junior Elaine Bredensteiner served up four aces.

On defense, senior Lucy Grenda made two blocks, and junior Kari Losch had 16 digs.

Huskies' Gehlhausen still "Top Dog"

In a match that included three teams ranked in the top 20, the Westfield girls golf team won a close one Thursday night at Gray Eagle Golf Club.

The Shamrocks scored 164 to the Tigers' 165 and the Trojans' 162. The Lady Shamrocks were led by Cailyn Henderson who carded a 39. She was followed by Kaylee Purcell and Adrienne Montalone who each shot 41. Rounding out the scoring for the Lady Rocks were Margaret Wentz and Morgan Baechle who each shot 43.

Westfield finished second at the Franklin Central Invitational on Saturday. The Shamrocks carded 337, behind only Center Grove's 330. Other scores were Ben Davis 344, Columbus North 345, Zionsville 357, Avon 358, Bloomington South 360, Brownsburg 363, Roncalli 364, Perry Meridian 381, Bloomington North 397, Seeger 411, Covenant Christian 440, Franklin Central 447.

Purcell scored a personal best 82 to lead Westfield. Henderson, Wentz and Montalone all had 85s, and Baechle carded a 94.

Hamilton Heights won a dual match over Elwood 197-258 Thursday at Bear Slide. Medalist honors went to sophomore Caitie Gehlhausen who posted a round of 42.

The Lady Huskies also hosted the 2014 MIC Girl's Golf Championship at Bear Slide Golf Club and finished third (373) behind team champion Northwestern (366) and second place Western (367). The huskies played their best golf of the year but came up a few strokes short. Leading the way was Sophomore Caitie Gehlhausen who captured the individual medal with an outstanding round of 78. Katis Sams finished with a 97, Ashley Klopfenstein posted a 98.

Hamilton County's cross country teams were all over the state (and in one case, out of the state) on Saturday.

Those long trips were worth it, though, as several teams and runners were winners. One local team didn't have to go far to win, though - the Guerin Catholic girls squad won on its home course.

The Lady Golden Eagles won the All-Catholic Championships, edging Cathedral by two points, 63-65. Guerin was helped by two top five finishes: Rachel Yuska was the individual runner-up and Megan Slam-kowski placed fifth. The GCHS boys placed fourth as a team.

Up at the Maconaquah Invitational, Noblesville's boys had five of the top 10 spots, and that led to a comfortable team victory. The Millers won with 30 points; Eric Hoffman and Jordan Warne paced the way with a 2-3 finish.

Noblesville's girls team was a close second (37-42) to Warren Central. Abigail Little shined, as the freshman was the individual runner-up.
