A look at the Southwest Quad

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

As you may have read in an earlier edition of The Hamilton County Reporter, the City of Noblesville a few days ago held a neighborhood meeting in what is being labeled the Southwest Quadrant. It's an area bordered by Maple Avenue, South 8th Street, Christian Avenue and White River.

The City's goal is to help develop a neighborhood plan for the area. It was the first of three

Chickenpox reported at Westfield High

A case of varicella, commonly known as chickenpox, has been reported at Westfield High School.

Symptoms to watch for include rash, small fluid filled raised blisters, itching, fever, and tiredness.

Students who have received the varicella vaccine can still get chickenpox. Chickenpox can be mild or severe, and the virus can be spread from person to person through the air, or contact with fluid from the chicken pox blisters.

Riverview Health Foundation teams up with Project Fit

Riverview Health Foundation and Project Fit America (PFA) partnered together again to provide advanced outdoor and indoor fitness equipment, curriculum materials and teacher training to three Noblesville elementary schools in an effort to increase health and fitness among students.

Kick-off events were held at Hazel Dell Elementary, North Elementary and Hinkle Creek Elementary. Festivities included demonstrations of the new Project Fit equipment, and special appearances from Zeke, Indy Eleven Mascot, and Boomer, Indiana Pacers Mascot.

"This year is a milestone for the Noblesville Schools, because with the launching of Hazel Dell, Hinkle Creek and North Elementary, the PFA program now becomes institutionalized in all the elementary schools in the district," said Stacey Cook, Executive Director, Project Fit America. "We thank Riverview Health Foundation and it's donors for their fitness-forward vision to create a healthier generation."

Last year, Stony Creek Elementary and Promise Road Elementary received grants for the new fitness equipment. By the end of planned meetings. The other two are scheduled for Oct. 9 and Nov. 13 at the Gathering at 6 p.m. The Gathering is a new church on 8th Street.

At the meeting, residents were asked to build two lists. 1, the strengths of the area; 2, the negatives of the area.

Strengths included:

- *Quiet neighborhood.
- *Green space.
- *Sidewalks.
- *Close to downtown.
- *Historical.
- *River access.
- *Walking.
- *Individual investments in homes and property.
- *Schools.
- *Potential for a park.

Here are some of the negatives listed:

- *Trucks flying by.
- *Odors from industries in the area.
- *Trash burning.
- *Junk yard.
- *Odors from the city's water treatment and sewer building.
- *Homeless people without places to live.

Folks also told the City they would like to see: trails along the river; a new park; adults seats in the current park; and to rid the area of the smell from the waste water plant.

The Reporter plans to stay on top of this very important effort by the City. We're planning a series of articles over the next couple months and through the next two meetings.

We will begin our series this Sunday with our "Sunday Special."

I've asked a long-time friend Terry Coomer, to help. Terry and I, down through the years, have enjoyed an interesting friendship. I coached Terry and often wrote about his baseball skills. Later in life, Terry became my boss as the publisher of the old Noblesville Times.

Terry currently resides in Arkansas where he is pastor of the Hope Baptist Church and also director of For The Love of the Family Ministries.

I asked Terry to write about his experiences of growing up in the area and then later in life helping his father survive what was labeled the "100-Year Flood" and how that led to the "flood plain" which actually today separates the Southwest Quad residents from White River.

It's an interesting and informing story that Terry has to share, which can be heard only by reading Hamilton County's only Sunday newspaper, The Reporter.

Major renovation of Community Hospital East

Community Health Network announced a major investment in its East Region today, which includes a dramatic renovation of Community Hospital East and three new health pavilions in the East Region over the next few years. The 2-phased $175 million project begins this fall, with an expansion and renovation of Community East's emergency department, nearly doubling the number of patient rooms. The project will also include renovation of the imaging department and the construction of two new health pavilions in the East Region, including one in Beech Grove. The second phase will continue to focus on an outpatient strategy for the region, allowing Community patients to get the right care at the right place, closer to home. During the entire project, the hospital will continue normal operations.

"Community Health Network has been committed to the eastside of Indianapolis since opening its first hospital there in 1956," said Indianapolis Mayor Greg Ballard. "We believe this investment reaches beyond healthcare. It will positively impact the area economically and culturally, fostering a vibrant region with the resources necessary for residents to lead a healthy life."

"We want our communities to know that, as we like to say, 'We're Here. For Good,'" said Bryan Mills, president and CEO of Community Health Network and Noblesville resident. "That means Community will remain firmly rooted on the hospital campus where our story began, with a facility redesigned for the future of healthcare. But it also means we're much more than a hospital. We're striving to provide access to the care East Region residents need in order to avoid trips to the hospital."

The investment in Community's East Region is driven by changes in the way healthcare is provided. When Community Hospital East was built in 1956, it was constructed for the needs of the community at that time, when the emphasis was on inpatient services. Due to changes in the healthcare industry, Community is redesigning the hospital campus and building three health care pavilions in the region to fit the needs of today's patients, with a focus on outpatient services.

In addition, Community Health Network completed a health care assessment of the East Region. Among the health concerns for the region are high incidences of asthma, COPD, congestive heart failure, diabetes, high cholesterol, high blood pressure and obesity. Based on these findings, Community has developed a strategy for the region that allows patients to better manage their chronic conditions in a primary care outpatient setting.

The project also addresses emergency department visits, which have increased each year since 2008. Between 2002 and 2013, ED visits have risen by 62%.

"Community Health Network has been steadily investing in the East Region during the past several years," said Scott Teffeteller, president of the Community's East Region. "Community has shown its commitment to the region with two new health pavilions, an expanded Community MedCheck, a new pharmacy, additional primary care and specialty care physicians, and a partnership with the Jane Pauley Community Health Centers. This next initiative will allow us to improve the health of residents in the region and improve the quality and experience of care, while reducing health care costs."

Phase one of the project will begin this fall, with changes to Community Hospital East that include:

- A completely revamped and modernized building exterior
- Construction of two new health pavilions, including one in Beech Grove

- Renovation and expansion of the emergency department, adding 17,000 square feet and nearly doubling the number of patient rooms to 64; enlargement and expansion of the ambulance bays; the addition of a new ED entrance on Ritter Avenue
- Renovation of the imaging department to improve functionality and patient flow; updating of technologies
- The refresh of inpatient rooms
- Upgrades to the building's electrical, plumbing, heating, ventilation and air conditioning systems
- Removal of a campus building in 2016 that currently houses security, the kitchen connected to the cafeteria, an inpatient pharmacy and wound therapy services to improve patient flow; these elements will be relocated to other locations within the hospital

Phase two of the major project will include renovation of inpatient surgery suites, the continuing refresh of inpatient rooms and construction of an additional health pavilion in the East Region over the next few years.

Groundbreaking for hospital renovations will take place later this fall.

Indiana State Police unveils new electronic firearms application process

On Thursday, the Indiana State Police unveiled a new electronic firearms application process that will be in effect beginning Oct. 1.

The new process will remove the "paper" application and after Oct. 1 only electronic applications will be accepted. Firearms permits issued after Oct. 1 will also be hard plastic, as opposed to the paper permit currently issued.

"The new electronic application is designed to streamline the application process for both the applicant and law enforcement officials" said Assistant Chief of Staff Major Mike White, Communication and Information Systems. "This system is designed to be user friendly and will make the process easier for all those involved."

Persons already holding a firearms permit or those obtaining a firearms permit after Oct. 1 will also be able to request a duplicate firearms license or request a change of address via the electronic version.

Firearms permits already issued and persons holding firearms permits will not be affected. Those persons will utilize the electronic version when their permit expires if they do not possess a lifetime permit.

For further information regarding the firearms permit process go to the Indiana State Police website at www.in.gov and click on the link "Firearms Licensing."

Inaugural "Carmel on Canvas" takes place this weekend

Watch art created before your very eyes this weekend at the inaugural Carmel on Canvas Paint Out – an open-air painting exhibition and competition on the sidewalks throughout the Carmel Arts & Design District, one of only five Indiana Cultural Districts. The event, free to spectators, runs Friday-to-Sunday, Sept. 19 through Sunday, Sept. 21. A paint out is an opportunity for artists to capture scenes of the outdoors in a timed competition. Plein air painting is done on site in the "open air."

"Paint Outs have become very popular in recent years and Carmel looks forward to hosting the first time event," said Nancy Heck, Director of Community Relations and Economic Development for the City of Carmel. "Art appreciation is a passion for many in Carmel and this event will hopefully inspire many budding artists, especially our youth, to pick up their own brushes to create their own expressions of the beautiful architecture and streetscapes in our City. We also hope this event will serve as a welcoming encouragement to visiting artists to become more engaged in the Arts & Design District."

The event begins Friday, September 19, with artists registering at Eye On Art Gallery. The public is invited to come to the district and watch the painters set up their easels and paint their chosen subjects. Many professional artists will paint several works during the day, completing their work in 2-3 hours.

"Paint outs are challenging and enjoyable events for the artist as they try to capture the moment in time for their painting," said Jerry Points, chairman of the event and owner of Eye On Art Gallery. "The difficulty is dealing with light change and sometimes weather conditions that are not ideal, but many of our Indiana plein air painters paint year around and actually look forward to the first snow every year."

Visitors and observers enjoy seeing a painting develop and most artists are very open to talk about their paintings. Artists will convene again Saturday to paint and will have works available for sale. Their best work is usually saved, framed and entered for judging where prizes are awarded in professional, amateur and children's categories.

Prizes totaling $4,000 will be awarded to the painters during the artist's reception at the Indiana Design Center on Saturday at 6 p.m. Nancie King Mertz, a Chicago artist, will judge the competition. The public is welcome to attend this reception and art works will be on display and available for purchase.

On Sunday, September 21, the artists will gather at the Monon Trail and Main Street and participate in a Quick Paint. At Noon the horn will sound and each artist will have 90 minutes to complete their work. A jurying will be held again and $1,000 in awards given for those that choose to enter their paintings.

Carmel on Canvas is sponsored the City of Carmel, District, Indiana Design Center, Wine & Canvas, Carmel Arts Council, PNC, Kempler & Associates ReMax, Peace Water Winery and Mudbugs Cajun Café.

This is one of the four Little Free Libraries that are being built across Westfield. The libraries are part of a local Eagle Scout project. People may take a book in the library as long as they leave a book for someone else.

Eagle Scout project brings 'Little Free Libraries' to Westfield

Westfield's public parks will soon become a place where residents can mix outdoor recreation with reading, thanks to a local Eagle Scout project.

Patrick Hester, Westfield resident and Scout, worked with a group of fellow Scouts and the Westfield Parks Department to build four Little Free Libraries throughout Westfield after his grandmother told him about similar projects in other communities.

"I like the idea of people spending time at the libraries, meeting and talking," Hester said. "We do too much on our phones and electronics."

The libraries are located at the Downtown Westfield Association, Asa Bales Park, Bed and Biscuit Kennels and the Monon trailhead at Greyhound Pass. The goal is simple: people are free to take a book, as long as they leave a book for someone else to read.

The total cost of building the libraries was about $1,600, with funding being donated by family, friends and neighbors. The rest of the cost Hester made up for by working summers at Conner Prairie, where he pulled wagons for guests of the Symphony on the Prairie series.

Over 750 books were donated to initially stock the libraries. Half of the books located at Asa Bales Park are in Spanish.

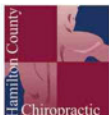

For all of his work, Hester still sees this as a community initiative. "I would like to thank all the generous supporters of this project and the members of my Boy Scout Troop 107 for all the help building the libraries and installing them," he said.

According to the parent organization, as of January 2014, the total number of registered Little Free Libraries worldwide was conservatively estimated at around 15,000. For more information on this and other Little Free Libraries projects, visit www.littlefreelibrary.org.

Huskies travel to Eastern

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor
Hamilton Heights dug itself an early season hole in the Mid-Indiana Conference last week while losing to Lewis Cass, 26-14. That loss left the Huskies 2-2 overall and 1-1 in the conference.

Heights, this Friday, may be headed to the right direction in order to climb out of that hole. The Huskies will play a conference game at Eastern.

That's not to say that Eastern isn't good. Not a cupcake. Despite being only 1-3, the Comets have played well. They've defeated Madison-Grant, 49-46. They've lost somewhat close decisions to Oak Hill 30-17, Peru 17-7 and last week they lost to Maconaquah 21-14.

Maconaquah lost to Hamilton Heights, 22-8, two weeks ago.

But, the challenge Eastern faces is that the Comets have never beaten the Huskies in 13 contests in the MIC. That's not exactly a confidence-building situation for the Comets.

On the other side of the coin, Heights has lost two of its last three games.

"Eastern is a team that has good team speed," said Heights coach Mitch Street. "They will stretch you offensively and are physical and aggressive offensively."

The formula to victory?

"It's important that we win in all three phases and that we show improvement and growth," answered Street.

Hamilton Heights is averaging about three touchdowns a game, while giving up an average of only two touchdowns a contest.

Mistakes killing Blackhawks

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Two Sheridan fumbles. Two touchdowns for the opponent.

It's simple how the Blackhawks were beaten, 20-14, by Carroll last week. So said Sheridan coach Bud Wright.

"We played okay throughout the game, but we're beating ourselves with mistakes," Wright said. "We keep shooting ourselves in the foot."

Callahan

Sheridan now stands 2-2 overall and 1-1 in the Hoosier Heartland Conference entering a home conference game tonight against an old, old rival, Clinton Central.

It appears, based on Sheridan's loss to Carroll and a close 33-27 victory over Clinton Prairie, that ever team in the conference this season is better. Actually, better than most years. Tri-Central still stands as the undefeated conference leader.

For Sheridan to have a chance at catching Tri-Central the Blackhawks will need to beat Clinton Central and then end the regular season with an Oct. 17 victory at Tri-Central.

"Clinton Central has enough talent to beat you," Wright warned. "They have a 6-5 quarterback who can throw and run. On defense, they do a lot of different things."

The Bulldogs will come to Sheridan with a 2-2 record. They have lost to Northwestern 37-0 and to Southern Wells 33-20 and they have victories over Cloverdale 26-18 and Cascade 32-7.

Acevedo

catches for 229 yards and Jake Gaseho has caught five balls for 117 yards.

Wright this week dished out praise for a couple of linemen, Kent Hollingsworth and Jacob Eidson.

"They are playing well," said the coach, "on both sides of the football."

Austin Hoover, Hamilton County's leading rusher the last two seasons, is having an outstanding senior year. He has carried the football 132 times for 882 yards, an average of 6.7 yards per carry. He is averaging 220.5 yards per game, and Hoover has rushed for eight of Sheridan's 11 touchdowns.

Next on the team's rushing yardage list is the quarterback, Garrett Chesney, who has carried the pigskin 44 times and gained 167 yards

Through the air, Chesney is 9-of-33 for 117 yards. His lone touchdown pass has been to Jacob Chesney

"We're not scoring when we have chances to score," Wright said. "Two times last week we were moving the football and then stopped by penalties. We can't make penalties like that and win football games."

Quarterback Matt Labus has hit on 51-of-100 passes for 712 yards and six touchdowns.

Brian Matthews is having a huge season with 20 catches for 368 yards and five touchdowns. Arion Shinaver has 15 catches for 151 yards and one TD.

Carter McGinnis leads the ground show. He has carried 59 times for 293 yards and four touchdowns.

On defense for Guerin, the leading tackler is Kyle Schultz with 24 tackles, followed by Evan Hansen and Brady McGinnis with 22 each and Brennan Thieneman with 20. Jordan Hitchcock has four sacks.

This will be the first time Guerin has played Broad Ripple in football.

Dilley believes his 2-2 Eagles are getting better.

"Our team has improved over the first four games, but must stay focused throughout the entire game this week," he said.

Broad Ripple will have to stop an offense which is starting to click.

Golden Eagles knock off Avon

Thursday night featured No. 1 vs. No. 1 in boys soccer: 1A Guerin Catholic and 2A Avon.

The Golden Eagles, winner of the 1A state championship last year, beating the host Orioles 2-0, handing them their first loss of the year. Guerin improved to 8-1.

The score was 0-0 at halftime, and Avon controlled the first 15 minutes of the second half. Midway through the period, GC's Mason May crossed the ball in front of the Avon net. Khalid Hunter and Luke Bestard each went for the header, but an Avon defender beat them to the ball. However, the ball glanced off the defender into the back of the goal - an own goal - resulting in a 1-0 Guerin lead.

The Golden Eagles scored their second goal with 13:23 to go, when Zach Garvey took a corner kick finding David Hinkebein, who headed the ball into the Avon goal.

Andrew Kaskie was GC's Player of the Game, as he kept the score sheet clean for the sixth time in nine games. Tarcissio Trujillo recorded his fourth shutout of the season.

The Golden Eagles travel to Fort Wayne Saturday to take on Bishop Luers.

Carmel got a 2-1 MIC Conference victory over Warren Central.

Jonathan Faas and Jake Heckenberg both scored a goal for the 2A No. 9 Greyhounds, with Chad Baker and Matt Toth making assists.

"After giving up an early goal, I am very proud of the team for staying on task and working hard," said Carmel coach Shane Schmidt. "We did a good job of getting in behind their defense and serving balls into the box."

Hamilton Heights fell to Mid-Indiana Conference foe Northwestern 3-0.

Colin Kaurich had 10 saves for the 1A No. 13 Huskies. The Tigers are No. 9 in 1A.

"The Huskies had times when the passed well and moved the ball but could just never

IndyCar adds Brasilia race to 2015 schedule

INDYCAR announced Thursday it is returning to Brazil next season and will sanction a Verizon IndyCar Series event at Autódromo Internacional Nelson Piquet in the capital city of Brasília during the 2015 season. Hulman & Company CEO Mark Miles and Maruska Souza Holanda, President of Terracap, a government-owned company that owns the racetrack, made the joint announcement from Brasília today. The Brasília Indy will be held on March 8, 2015.

"We're eager to continue INDYCAR's rich history of racing in Brazil with today's announcement of a Verizon IndyCar Series event in Brasília next season," Miles said. "This event is an instrumental step in the growth of INDYCAR as we continue to execute our strategy of adding race markets and events that drive us forward. We've received a tremendous amount of support from Governor Agnelo Queiroz, the Government of the Federal District - GDF and the Bandeirantes Communications Group throughout this entire process. INDYCAR fans throughout the world are unbelievably enthusiastic about our sport and we're excited to showcase another thrilling event next season."

INDYCAR previously sanctioned a Verizon IndyCar Series street race in São Paulo (2010-13) and CART raced in Rio de Janeiro (1996-2000) on an oval circuit that was also named in honor of Piquet.

"I look forward to having the race in Brasília; it will be a marvelous event not only for developing Brasília but for all of Brazil," Brasília Governor Agnelo Queiroz said while visiting the Indianapolis 500 in May. "The racetrack is located close to downtown and we expect more than 100,000 fans at the event. The racetrack is a permanent facility and it was built in the center of the city in 1973, and we were determined in our improvements that the track should meet the safety and performance requirements for INDYCAR, F1 and MotoGP. We truly hope the event will bring investments and economic development for the whole Central region of Brazil."

Brazilians Tony Kanaan and Helio Castroneves, two of the most successful and popular drivers in the Verizon IndyCar Series, applauded the 2015 schedule addition.

"It's awesome news that we're going back to Brazil next year," said Kanaan, the 2004 Verizon IndyCar Series champion and 2013 Indianapolis 500 winner. "The fans there love INDYCAR and support the race and we also have Brazilian sponsors involved in our sport, so racing in my home country is a no-brainer. I raced at the Brasília track a very long time ago, in the beginning of the 90's, but I remember it being very cool. I can't wait for INDYCAR to get back there in 2015."

Castroneves, the three-time Indianapolis 500 winner who recently finished second in the Verizon IndyCar Series championship behind his teammate Will Power, echoed Kanaan's sentiments.

"We are living in great times for Brazil," Castroneves said. "The World Cup was there a few months ago. The Olympics are coming to Rio de Janeiro in 2016. In between we will see the return of the Verizon IndyCar Series beginning in 2015. Brazilians are very proud of their sports heritage, including motorsports. I know it will be a great event at a new venue for us in the capital of Brasília, the Autódromo Internacional Nelson Piquet, named after one of our greatest drivers. I love racing in my native country and I hope to be the winner next year."

Brasília joins NOLA Motorsports Park as the second new INDYCAR venue added to the calendar for next season. INDYCAR officials are currently finalizing the entire 2015 Verizon IndyCar Series schedule, which will be announced later this off-season.

CFH Racing confirms Chevy power for 2015

Tony Kanaan will get to race a Verizon IndyCar Series event in his home country, as the series will host a race in Brasilia, Brazil next season.

CFH Racing's announcement that it will run Chevrolet's engine and aero kits during the 2015 Verizon IndyCar Series season is a homecoming of sorts for team principal Sarah Fisher.

The recently-formed team is a merger of Ed Carpenter Racing and Sarah Fisher Hartman Racing co-owned by Ed Carpenter, Fisher and Wink Hartman that will be based on Main Street in Speedway, Ind.

"Being a part of the Chevy family in the past, I am looking forward to rejoining their organization," said Fisher, the first female driver to win a Verizon IndyCar Series pole position (2002 at Kentucky Speedway). "The decision to partner CFH Racing with Chevrolet was the first of many that we will make together as a team. The process was sincerely a group effort and encourages all of us as to how we will work as a team."

"I have been extremely grateful for the partner that Honda has been in my career and to SFHR. We are thankful for their ongoing support of the Verizon IndyCar Series."

CFH Racing is scheduled to field two full-season cars in 2015 with the 2.2-liter, twin-turbocharged, direct-injection V6 engines that have guided Chevrolet to three consecutive Manufacturer Championships and 33 victories since returning to IndyCar racing in 2012. With the announcement, Chevrolet will supply engines for at least 11 entries in 2015.

Differentiating bodywork will be supplied by both manufacturers, starting with the Firestone Grand Prix of St. Petersburg on March 27-29.

Josef Newgarden, who recorded a best finish of second at Iowa Speedway this season for Sarah Fisher Hartman Racing, returns for 2015. Carpenter, whose third-year team won three of the 18 races this season with Chevy power, will continue to compete on ovals. He finished in the top 10 in four of his six races, including a victory in June at Texas Motor Speedway. Carpenter also earned the Verizon P1 Award for the Indianapolis 500 for the second consecutive year. Mike Conway, who drove the No. 20 car in road/street course races, won at Long Beach and Toronto.

"Team Chevy has delivered for ECR over the past three years, and I know that our new combination of CFH Racing and Chevrolet will continue to put us in a great position moving forward," said Carpenter, who will be among the drivers participating Sept. 23 in a Firestone tire test on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway oval. "We are totally confident in their product and cannot wait to debut the Chevrolet aero kit starting in 2015."

"As a group of American owners and right now mostly American drivers, to be associated with the Chevy brand, it's something that we have a lot of pride in representing some of the principles that made our country great and Chevrolet has always been a big part of that. We really feel like our brand fits well with Chevy's brand, and just hope to continue what's already has been a good partnership for further down the road."

In 2011 at Kentucky Speedway, Carpenter provided Sarah Fisher Hartman Racing its first victory. Hartman became a co-owner of the Indianapolis-based team a few months later.

"Adding Josef Newgarden to the Chevrolet IndyCar V6 driver roster, and Sarah Fisher and Wink Hartman along with Ed Carpenter to our key partners in IndyCar is exciting for Chevrolet," said Jim Campbell, Chevrolet's vice president of performance vehicles and motorsports. "Ed's team has produced tremendous results the last three seasons, and we will be thrilled to see the CFH Racing Chevy-powered cars on the track in 2015."
