Dig deeper, taxpayers...

More prisoners headed our way

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

It's not exactly new news.

Bowen

In an Oct. 28, 2013 edition of The Reporter (the newspaper's No. 8 edition), a story was published under this headline: "There is room at the Inn ... at the Hamilton County Jail."

At that time, The Reporter reported, that the jail was about 120 prisoners under capacity. Still to be completed was the third floor of the Community Service building, which, when finished, would add space for another 250 prisoners.

Also in that article, Hamilton County Sheriff Mark Bowen talked about what the federal government (US Attorney General Eric Holder) was talking about, that being for judges to give shorter sentences for Class D felonies and for these prisoners to spend that time in a county jail instead of a federal prisons. Many federal prisons are running over capacity.

Dillinger

"We don't kown what will happen," Bowen, at that time, told The Reporter. "We could end up being responsible for some of those prisoners."

Good prediction, Sheriff.

That will happen, the result of a legislative change, beginning July 1, 2015. When it does happen, the days of the

Keep them from coming back...

Judge Hughes has a suggestion

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Hamilton County Superior Court 3 Judge William Hughes recently appeared at a session of the Hamilton County Commissioners with an idea on how to reduce the number of Class D felons who likely will push capacity at the Hamilton County Jail.

Hughes

Judge Hughes' suggestion was short and sweet. Get the prisoners out of jail as quickly as possible, and make certain they don't come back.

Thus, saving Hamilton County taxpayers big bucks.

Hughes urged Hamilton County to join the National Institute of Corrections

Evidence Based Decision Making Pilot Program.

Grant County (Marion) has been participating in the program for the past five years.

The NIC is expanding its program, which includes a State team that works to pilot these programs from arrest through release from probation.

Judge Hughes said all of the county's judges, defense counsels, Prosecutor, Victim's Assistance Program, the Sheriff's department and Community Corrections are on board.

The idea is to make sure these Class D felons do not return to jail once they are released.

The State, which if a county is accepted will provide some funding for the program, will announce its choices on Dec. 1.

Get ready for another public transportation plan

By FRED SWIFT

Are you ready for another public transportation plan? Well, Indianapolis mayor Greg Ballard supported by mayors of Carmel, Westfield and Greenwood have one for you.

We haven't heard much about a mass transportation link to Indy since the legislature adjourned last spring. They passed legislation which would allow voters in central Indiana counties to decide if they want to increase their local option income taxes to pay for wider public bus routes linking all of us with downtown Indianapolis.

Now, a new plan without the necessity to vote on it has been announced. Federal money has been approved for the planning of a super bus, rapid transit route running from from Westfield on the north to Greenwood on the south through Indianapolis with limited stops.

The $1 million cost of the planning phase is being paid only by taxpayers

Rep. Turner to resign from House after election

By FRED SWIFT

State Rep. Eric Turner (R-Cicero) revealed Friday that he intends to resign his seat in the Indiana House following the November general election in which he is a candidate for re-election.

That resignation comes about assuming Turner wins on Nov. 4 in the 32nd House District which includes portions of north and northwest Hamilton County. His opponent in this fall's election is Robert Ashley, a Tipton Democrat who lists his occupation as a freelance journalist.

If Turner wins in the heavily Republican district, he will resign before the legislature convenes. GOP precinct committeemen in Dist. 32 will replace him. Thus far no candidates for the seat have indicated interest.

Turner, 63, is president and CEO of T-3 Investments Corporation. He was called before the House Ethics Committee earlier this year after being accused of working to foster legislation that would aid his company, but was cleared of any wrong-doing. Despite being cleared, Turner was removed from of his duties as House Speaker Pro Tempore at the end of August.

Turner says that after leaving the House of Representatives he will join a Christian based organization named EQUIP in Atlanta where he will work in leadership training with pastors and laymen.

Turner has served in the state legislature since 1994; this followed an earlier statehouse term from 1982-86.

The Noblesville Fire Department laid one of its own to rest on Friday. Firefighter paramedic Kenneth Williams passed away on Sept. 12, two weeks after being injured in a motor vehicle accident. Williams was a lifelong public servant to the fire and EMS service.

Noblesville Fire mourns loss

Williams

Kenneth Williams was a dedicated fire and EMS servant

By BRIAN REDDICK

Friday morning, the Noblesville Fire Department laid to rest firefighter paramedic Kenneth Williams at the young age of 49. Williams was a fifteen year veteran of the Noblesville Fire Department. Williams was involved in a severe motor vehicle accident near Pendleton on Aug. 29 in which he suffered a broken sternum. He was expected to make a full recovery and be back to work with-in a few weeks. On Sept. 12 Williams was found, in his home by family members, deceased from what is presumed to be complications from his accident injuries.

Williams, a 1983 graduate of Daleville High School, was a lifelong public servant to the fire and EMS service.

Earning his paramedic degree through St. Vincent Hospital, Williams started his career with the Salem Township Fire Department in Daleville, IN. Williams has also worked for Delaware County EMS, Seals Ambulance service (Fortville, IN), Riverview Health EMS and Jackson Fire Territory in Hamilton County.

Williams started his career with the Noblesville Fire Department in 1999 after working many years for Riverview EMS. During his time with Riverview EMS he worked out of the Fishers Fire Department as one of four primary ALS (advanced life support) providers to the Town of Fishers.

In 2003 Williams was promoted to Division Chief of EMS at the Noblesville Fire Department and served in that position for ten years. In 2013 he decided to go back to working as a firefighter paramedic and was assigned to Noblesville Fire Station 77 on Olivo Road. Doing what he loved most Williams spent his last year working as a street medic and firefighter until his passing on September 12th.

Williams is survived by his two children Dylan Williams of Daleville and Madison Williams of Daleville, mother: Alice Williams of Tempe, AZ and his father: William Williams of Anderson, 1 brother: Davy Williams of Muncie and 1 sister: Suzanne Williams of Tavares, FL.

Memorials may be made to the Hamilton County Firefighters Foundation and Celebrate Recovery of Middletown.

PrecisionHawk closes on $10 million financing round

Press Release

PrecisionHawk, an information delivery company that uses a small, lightweight UAV and cloud-based software to collect, process and analyze aerial data, today announced it has closed a Series B financing round of approximately $10 million led by New York City-based investor Millennium Technology Value Partners with Bob Young, co-founder of RedHat, and The Innovate Indiana Fund.

The client base of PrecisionHawk, which has an office in Noblesville, includes Fortune 500 companies that rely on technology for resource management across industries such as agriculture, insurance and energy, among others. Doing more with less used to be a catchphrase, but now it's a requirement. There is immense pressure placed on development, food, health and infrastructure due to climate, increasing costs and overpopulation.

The product closes the gap between aerial data collected with a UAV and the intensive data/image analysis that provides actionable information to end users. This funding will allow PrecisionHawk to scale to meet a growing demand for a aerial information pipeline that goes far beyond a UAV with a camera.

Plans post-funding:

1. Double employee base to keep up with product demand (fixed wing UAV platform and 15 sensor types).
2. Open its fourth office in College Station, TX in public partnership with Texas A&M. Focus on insurance and emergency response applications.
3. Launch cloud-based platform, DataMapper, for processing, management and analytics. We have been using this platform with key clients and are ready to roll it out commercially at the end of September.

City of Carmel Named one of America's Best Place to Live by 24/7 Wall Street

Carmel, Indiana was ranked number 12 in the top 50 best place to live in America for cities with a population of 65,000 or more by 24/7 Wall Street. They selected communities based on crime rates, employment growth, educational attainment, housing affordability and amenities available. Data was collected from the Federal Bureau of Investigations, the Census Bureau's 2012 American Community Survey, Bureau of Labor Statistics and Homefacts, a home area research site and subsidiary of RealtyTrac.

"We are extremely pleased and honored that 24/7 Wall Street recognized Carmel as one of the best places to live in America. Many times, executives notice these lists and are intrigued enough to investigate Carmel as a location for their business. These honors also attract the attention of highly skilled professionals who are looking for a place to work in an area with many recreational and cultural options where they can enjoy life," said Mayor Jim Brainard.

PRISONERS

Hamilton County Jail being under capacity likely will be gone. The third floor to the Community Service building likely will be needed.

And, although the state will fund some of the change, local taxpayers will need to reach a little deeper in their pockets.

More jail space will be needed.

When Judge William Hughes attended the Aug. 29 meeting of the Hamilton County Commissioner, he said that the state is aware it is putting a heavy burden back on the county and there will be funding coming in the next legislative session. It will, Hughes added, probably be funding for programming as opposed to funding for building space.

Hughes also said, in response to a question from Commissioner Mark Heirbrandt, that approximately 500 people were set to state prisons on a D felon last year, and starting July 1, 2015 they will be sent to the Hamilton County Jail.

"We will have to deal with it here," Judge Hughes said.

A study currently is being conducted by the Commissioners as to where the County can find addition jail cells for short-term (probably about one year) offenders.

Commissioner Steve Dillinger told The Reporter, "It may be finishing the third floor of the Community Service building," he said.

"There is additional space at the Juvenile Center, but laws will not allow us to house together adults and juveniles."

SUGGESTION

The model uses research of what works to form decisions with what to do with these prisoners.

Judge Hughes told the Commissioners that the program has worked in Grant County. He said Grant County was under federal mandate to get people out of their jail because they were overcrowded, and that the County met that mandate without bricks and mortar.

COUNTY LINE

of the cities to be served, mostly Indianapolis with Carmel and Westfield probably in for $100,000 or so each.

Unfortunately for Noblesville and Fishers this latest plan does not include them.. Instead, it's designed to serve the Westfield, Carmel to Indy route. It's called the Red Line and would provide for all-electric buses with stations to be built along the way and special bus lanes on existing roads. The Noblesville to Indy route, dubbed the Green Line, would have to wait under this newest approach.

The Central Indiana Regional Transportation Authority which is controlled by Indianapolis, has decided the Red Line can be built, or at least started, to show that mass transportation can work in central Indiana. And, they want to do it without asking taxpayers to start paying up front.

The eventual estimated price tag for construction is $100 million. But, don't get excited, most of the cost would be paid by federal grants. Of course, usually these federal grants require a "local match" and what that amounts to is unknown at this time.

And, of course, there's a political question. Would a Democratic administration in Washington really want to put that kind of money into central Indiana to build the first all-electric bus system in the country? Sounds almost like an April Fool story, but it's not, and you'll be hearing more about it in the media in coming days.

Geocaching at the Sheridan Public Library

The Sheridan Public Library had a first recently: Our first geocacher. Yup, our very first one and the library could not be more proud.

According to library director Steve Martin, Hamilton County resident and avid geocacher Brian Stahly visited the library a few days ago and asked if there would be interest in participating in a geocache adventure. Stahly wants to send geocache aficionados on a hunt across Hamilton County to visit all five of the Carnegie library locations, Sheridan Public being one of those libraries.

For those of you unfamiliar with geocaching, it is a new twist on an old game called letterboxing which dates back nearly 200 years. Essentially, geocaching is letterboxing using GPS technology. For those interested in further information, Martin recommends getting on the internet and searching the term through your favorite web search engine; Wikipedia has an excellent summary of geocaching.

As luck would have it, Sheridan’s first geocacher followed her GPS coordinates and arrived at our library this morning and found the cache, just the second day the cache was available. She signed the logbook and then was off to further locations across Hamilton County. Stahly told the library they can expect many more visitors in the next few months as the dedicated geocache participants complete their task to visit all five of the Carnegie libraries in Hamilton County.

Noblesville's AJ Anderson makes a tackle for the Millers during their Friday football game with Zionsville. Noblesville beat the Eagles 37-13; it's the first time the Millers have ever beaten Zionsville.

Noblesville makes the plays...

Millers finally beat Eagles

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Finally, the Noblesville football team has removed its last Hoosier Crossroads Conference roadblock.

Actually, the Millers rammed right through it.

After 13 consecutive losses, Noblesville got its first ever win over the Eagles, powering past them 37-13 at the Zionsville field. This one was hardly in doubt, as the Millers led 21-6 after the first quarter.

"You have to want to make plays to make change," said NHS coach Lance Scheib. "And our kids made plays tonight."

The Millers improved to 2-1 in the HCC, and are now 4-1 overall. Noblesville was also 4-1 at this time last season, but things are different now in Miller Nation.

"We're disappointed we're not 5-0," said Scheib. "Last year, we were elated to be 4-1. This year, we're not real happy being 4-1."

The always boisterous student section was out in force for Noblesville, and the team gave it much to cheer about. There were plenty of big plays, such as the 65-yard pass play that scored the Millers' first touchdown. Brian McLean caught the throw from Luke Melloh.

Melloh scored another touchdown on his own, streaking off on a 75-yard to push Noblesville ahead 21-6 with 38 seconds left in the quarter. In between, Jarel Youree caught a 19-yard touchdown pass from Carl Hardy.

The Millers had one more big play left, and that was when Hayden Stinnett caught Melloh's pass, then ran the ball 74 yards for Noblesville's final touchdown of the night. Andrew Little's extra-point kick put the icing on the cake.

But it wasn't all flash and dash that got the Millers their points. Hardy used a good old-fashioned quarterback sneak to get Nobesville a second-quarter touchdown, taking it in from the Zionsville 1.

The defense also got involved. After a back and forth third quarter, the Millers pushed the Eagles back to their 6-yard line, then Austin Ginther tackled the Zionsville quarterback in the end zone for a safety.

"The kid that was amazing tonight was Austin Ginther," said Scheib. "He put two quarterbacks out, did an amazing job and really is starting to play some great football."

"It wasn't pretty at times, but it was physical, and I'm very proud of them."

Hardy and Melloh combined for 260 total yards passing. Hardy completed 10 of 11 throws for 111 yards, while Melloh was 7-of-10 for 149.

Youree finished the game with 119 yards in 11 carries.

The Millers return to where they opened their season, Lawrence North, next Friday to take on powerhouse Bishop Chatard.

Sheridan's Garrett Chesney runs the quarterback option during the Blackhawks' 42-12 win over Clinton Central Friday night. Chesney threw two touchdown passes.

On the ground & through the air...

Sheridan rolls to 42-12 win

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

It was a typical Bud Wright coaching night, this 42-12 Hoosier Heartland Conference victory over Clinton Central Friday evening at Bud Wright Stadium in Sheridan.

He took what the defense gave him.

In the first half, with Clinton Central up tight geared to stop the running of Austin Hoover, Wright went to the air for a pair of touchdowns. After that, it was all-Hoover, running behind a Sheridan offensive line which provided plenty of blocks.

"We had a tough start, fumbling away the football twice," Wright said. "Then we started to put things together."

"They were up tight on defense, so we passed the football. We can pass the football," Wright said.

In the second half, Hoover, who had scored the first touchdown of the night, scored three times to put away the visiting Bulldogs.

Sheridan offensive numbers were awesome, running for 270 yards in 51 carries and hitting on 6-of-7 passes for 147 yards through the air.

The defense was good, also. Sheridan held Clinton Central to 90 yards rushing and 89 yards passing. The defense recovered two Central fumbles and intercepted one pass.

While Garrett Chesney was nearly perfect through the air, Hoover was typical Hoover on the ground. He carried 38 times and gained 254 yards.

The passing game was a show by the Chesney brothers. Jake caught four of Garrett's six passes for 115 yards. Jake Chesney had one TD catch and Robert Sizemore had the other.

"They were crowding us up front early in the game," Wright said. "In the second half, we just gave Hoover the ball and let him run with it."

Sheridan scored first in the game on a three-yard run by Hoover with 4:32 left in the opening quarter.

Clinton Central came back with a touchdown, but missed the PAT and still trailed, 7-6.

Sheridan ended the first half with a pair of aerial touchdowns, Garrett Chesney throwing to Jake Chesney for 35 yards and then Garrett Chesney hitting Sizemore for 28 yards.

Sheridan just pounded away on the ground in the second half. Hoover's three touchdowns came on runs of five, nine and eight yards.

The win pushed the Blackhawks to 3-2 on the year and to 2-1 in the conference.

In a Saturday game, Sheridan will celebrate Homecoming next week, hosting North Knox at 5 p.m.

Jones to Weatherford

What Hamilton Heights coach Mitch Street viewed on the field Friday in a 34-8 victory at Eastern must have been the vision he had of his offensive attack before the season started.

Ethan Jones throwing the football and Grant Weatherford catching it.

G. Weatherford

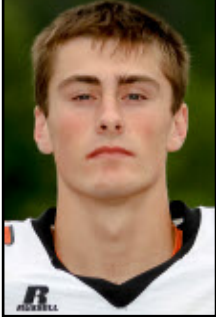

Jones, making his first start of the season, connected on 9-of-13 passes for 215 yards and three touchdowns. Weatherford, moving from quarterback to wide receiver, caught six passes good for 157 yards and three touchdowns.

All said and done, it was still another Heights win over Eastern. The Comets have never beaten the Huskies in Mid-Indiana Conference action.

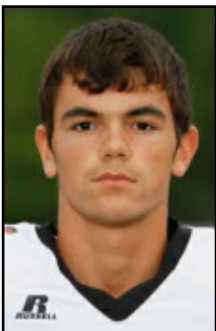

Heights now is 3-2 overall and 2-1 in the conference.

The Huskies, after a scoreless first quarter, began to open up the game by scoring 14 points in the second quarter. Another 14 points in the third period turned this one into a cakewalk. Heights grabbed a 28-0 lead.

Lutz

Jesse Brown

Natham Roth, a junior running back who before the night was over led Heights in rushing with 10 carries for 70 yards, put his team on the board first with a two-yard run in the second quarter.

Hamilton Heights' second touchdown was a defensive score. Cayman Lutz blocked a punt and turned it into a touchdown.

The Jones to Weatherford combination started to click in the second half. Jones fired 20 yards to Weatherford to make it a 21-0 game. Then before the third period ended, Jones hit Weatherford on a 50-yard bomb.

Cameron O'Malia kicked all four extra points for the Huskies.

Heights scored its final touchdown in the fourth quarter, and again it was the Jones-Weatherford combination. This time the TD pass covered 28 yards.

Eastern stayed with Heights in the running game, the Comets rushing for 145 yards and the Huskies for 118. But through the air, Heights finished with 256 yards and Eastern threw for only 95.

Hamilton Heights will be back on the road for another conference game next Friday when the Huskies travel to Taylor.

The County Line

Eagles fly past Ripple, 61-6

Given, the competition was down in number of player and really not talented enough to compete.

Still, Guerin Catholic turned in a good night's work while rolling to a 61-6 victory over visiting Broad Ripple last evening.

"We made some mistakes which made for a sloppy first half," said Guerin coach Tom Dilley. "The defensive touchdown we scored right before halftime was a big one."

With the victory, the Golden Eagles moved to 3-2 on the year.

"It was nice that our backups got in some good work and it was nice that some of our regulars who were nursing injuries didn't have to play all that much," Dilley added.

The numbers speak for themselves. Guerin Catholic collected 451 yards of total offense. Broad Ripple was a minus 53 yards on the ground.

Guerin rolled on the ground and through the air.

Quarterback Matt Labus was 10-of-13 for 206 yards and two touchdowns. Brian Matthews made five catches for 106 yards and a TD.

On the ground, Carter McGinnis carried 16 times for 105 yards and Kolbe Smith carried a dozen times for 80 yards. McGinnis scored three touchdowns.

McGinnis scored three of his team's first four touchdowns. Labus passed for two touchdowns in the first half, one to Arion Shinaver and one to Matthews.

Caleb Quick booted eight extra points and a field goal.

Guerin Catholic will remain at the Eagles Nest next Friday to host Greenwood.

"We will finish the regular season with four tough games," said Dilley. "We will approach those four games one at a time."

After slow first half...

Carmel rolls over Lawrence

Lawrence North put a first half scare into Carmel at Lawrence Friday evening, but the No. 1 ranked Greyhounds scored two touchdowns late in the first half and then ran away with a 42-20 MIC Conference victory.

After Coach Kevin Wright's Greyhounds put a defensive touchdown and a TD run from Shakir Paschall on the board in the first quarter Lawrence North scored the first two TDs of the second period to tie the game at 14-14.

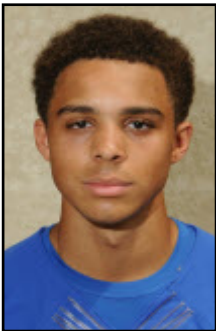

Carmel then scored twice before the half, the first coming on a two-yard run by Paschall. With only 27 seconds left before the half, Carmel scored again when Michale Viktrup hit Ethan Merriweather with a 30-yard touchdown pass.

The undefeated Greyhounds put away LN with two more touchdowns in the third quarter. Viktrup went off left guard for 56 yards for the score. Viktrup hit Jalen Walker on a 34-yard pass for the second score.

Viktrup, the quarterback, had a big night. He ran five times for 102 yards and one touchdown. He completed 6-of-7 passes for 88 yards and two scores.

Paschall carried only seven times and scored two touchdowns.

Walker had four catches for 52 yards

Girls golf sectionals...

Shamrocks win historic first title

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor
Westfield's freshman golfers have been making waves all season. On Friday, they helped the Shamrocks make history. The Westfield girls golf team won its first ever sectional title, claiming the Ben Davis sectional at South Grove Golf Club. The Shamrocks carded a team score of 312, edging past defending state champion Carmel by three strokes. "I couldn't be happier for the girls," said Westfield coach Trevor Neu. "I'm extremely happy for our senior Kaylee Purcell, who's kind of seen our program develop over the course of our four years."

The Greyhounds finished with 315, but are still advancing to regional, as the top three teams advance. Ben Davis got the third spot with a 331. Guerin Catholic finished fourth, but qualified two individuals for the regional; the top three individuals not on an advancing team also earn the right to move on. Westfield's freshmen may be young, but keep in mind that they have been playing golf for most of their lives. For example, Henderson said she began playing when she was 4. "And I've done tournaments, summer tournaments throughout my life," said Henderson. With junior tournaments so prevalent, many players know how to deal with pressure situations before high school. This is all leading up to the fact that Henderson won a three-person playoff after she, fellow Shamrock freshman Adrienne Montalone and Carmel's Alyssa Cook all found themselves on top of the leaderboard with 73s. Henderson drove the green on the first playoff hole, and birdied it to win medalist honors. "She just does what she does," said Neu. "It was fun," said Henderson. Many golfers get nervous about a playoff, but she enjoyed it "because it was that good competition." Henderson and Montalone's scores (Montalone's 73 a personal best) led the way, and freshman Margaret Wentz helped out with an 80. Purcell carded an 86; she has played as an individual at regional for the Shamrocks, now she gets to play as part of a team. Morgan Baechle had an 87. After Cook's round, Maggie Rees scored 76. Greyhounds coach Ken Kelly said "they both had to scramble for their scores today," and was happy they didn't give up. Katie Boyer carded an 80, and 'Hounds coach Ken Kelly was proud of how she played. "I'm not going to get too concerned about how we did as a team score out here," said Kelly. "This is a step along the way for us. Advancing's the most important thing for the team right now. Both Singer and Baxter (who went all the way to state last year), had 78s, which assured them advancement to regional. "Marissa Singer and Sarah Baxter played extremely well," said GCHS coach Mark Mathews. "Seventy-eight's a good number, and they both shot 78." The Golden Eagles had several players who were completely new to golf on the team, and they all enjoyed it. "I had eight girls, and really only four of them were golfers," said Mathews. The other players had just started playing this year, and Mathews noted that they "worked very hard." Some of the new-to-golf girls had scores in the 90's, which isn't bad at all. "It was a lot of fun to coach," said Mathews. University finished ninth. Beth Guyer's 115 led the Trailblazers. Team scores: Westfield 312, Carmel 315, Ben Davis 331, Guerin Catholic 346, Brebeuf Jesuit 350, Covenant Christian 375, Pike 428, Cardinal Ritter 436, University 471. Medalist: Cailyn Henderson (W) 36-37=73, won in playoff. Other Westfield scores: Adrienne Montalone 35-38=73, Margaret Wentz 38-42=80, Kaylee Purcell 45-41=86, Morgan Baechle 43-44=87. Carmel scores: Alyssa Cook 35-38=73, Maggie Rees 38-38=76, Katie Boyer 38-42=80, Makenzie George 42-44=86, Hannah Sharkey 43-44=87.
