Not much advising on Solid Waste Advisory Committee

Did you ever have a job from which you couldn't resign? I have a job with only one re-

Tips on preventing vehicle thefts

Hamilton County law enforcement agencies have recently experienced an increase in reports of thefts from vehicles and vehicle thefts. In reports to the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office, all of the vehicles that have been stolen were taken using keys left in the vehicles. More than 90 percent of thefts of items from vehicles occurred when the vehicle was left unlocked. Thefts can take place in your driveway, in parking lots, or while visiting parks and other recreational areas. Some basic forethought and planning can go a long way in preventing these types of thefts as thieves usually look for easy opportuni-

- Always lock your vehicle, no matter where you park it. If you have a garage or other secure place to park, use it and close the garage door.
- Do not keep valuables in your vehicle. Secure valuable items in the trunk of the car or bring them into the house. It may be inconvenient but will save frustration in the long run.
- Do not leave keys in the vehicle. Thieves know common hiding places for keys and will often check a gas cap, under a floor mat, or other places.
- Leave outside lights on at night to illuminate your driveway or parking
- · Secure your garage door opener or take it into the house at night. Make sure to lock the door between the house and the garage.
- Make sure the windows of your vehicle are completely closed.
- · When away from home, park in a busy, well-lit area.
- If you have a car alarm or anti-theft device, use it.

Grease fire causes damage to Meadows home

At 8:26 a.m. Friday, the Noblesville Fire Department responded to a reported house fire located at 12663 Pinetop Way, in the Meadows at Deer Path housing addition. Upon fire suppression crews arrival they benchmarked smoke showing from the residence. Crews encountered a working kitchen fire.

The occupants Nicky Nguyer and Kevin Nguyer were both home at the time of the fire. The occupants stated they had grease on the stove top for the purpose of deep-frying

The fire originated in the area on the stove top where the pot of grease was being heated.

The fire has caused approximately $42,000 damage. There are no injuries or deaths to report.

According to the occupants, they rent the home from Mallory Property Management.

A grease fire happens when the cooking oil becomes too hot. As heating oil starts to boil, it will start smoking, and then it will catch on fire.

Please remember to stay in the kitchen when you are frying, grilling, deep-frying or broiling food. If you leave the kitchen for even a short time, turn the stove off.

Rural jobs returning, but not enough skilled workers

Jobs are returning to rural Indiana but a new Indiana State University report suggests there may not be enough skilled workers to fill them.

The total number of jobs in Indiana's 72 predominantly rural counties is expected to return to pre-recession levels by the end of 2015 and then steadily increase by 10,000 per year during the next decade, according to a study by the Rural Urban Entrepreneurship Development Institute (RUEDI).

But the study says adults in their prime working years are expected to continue to leave rural counties, reducing the size of a talented and experienced labor force.

"There is likely to be somewhat of a mismatch between the skill levels of the employees and the jobs that are available," said Robert Guell, professor of economics at Indiana State. "A mismatch occurs when the ability of the workers who are available to do the work is different than the work that is available."

Many low-skilled jobs that had sustained Indiana for years have disappeared and are not expected to return, the report said, and workers especially hard hit by the bursting of the housing bubble - in such fields as construction, finance and real estate - may need to adjust their career aspira-

Most rural jobs are in retail, health services and food accommodations and are supported by the local community. The report says rural counties are most vulnerable to shifts in "traded clusters," a term coined by Harvard business economist Michael Porter, whose U.S. Cluster Mapping Project was used in the report.

"Manufacturing jobs in particular but also service jobs will tend to cluster sort of like the restaurant industry always seems to be in one location in a city," Guell said. "The reason for that in the manufacturing sector is that the skills associated with the activity, the entities that are purchasing that output and the interactivity between the manufacturers themselves makes it such that the location decision by a manufacturer is positively influenced by that good being manufactured in the community.'

Manufacturing remains the backbone of Indiana's economy and the report identifies the automotive industry as the largest "traded cluster" in the state's rural counties, with nearly 38,000 jobs, followed by distribution and e-commerce, with 35,000 jobs.

Indiana lost 25 percent of its total manufacturing jobs during the Great Recession, a smaller decline than the United States as a whole, which lost 27 percent of manufacturing jobs, Guell noted. A larger share of Indiana jobs are in manufacturing than in any other state.

The RUEDI report looked at demographic shifts as well as economics and, while much has been made of the Hispanic population boom in Indiana and elsewhere, most of the change the report projects between 2001 and 2021 has already occurred, noted Tom Steiger, professor of sociology at Indiana State.

"Fifty-six percent of the predicted change in race and ethnicity has already

Traded clusters are groups of related occurred between 2001 and 2011," Steiger ics filling the loss of young people who are a loss of a few percentage points. We're talking about going from 95.4 percent white non-Hispanic (in 2001) and by 2021 it is predicted to be 92 percent."

The fastest growing segments of the population are persons older than 50, in part because younger people are leaving rural counties, Steiger said.

The dependency ratio, the proportion of children 18 and under and those above 65 that is dependent on the working segments was 73 to 100 in 2001 and stood at 61 to 100 in 2011. By 2021, that ratio is expected to be one to one, he said

While the rural population is getting much more dependent, a larger share of older residents may help stabilize local economies, thanks to Social Security, including Supplemental Security Income, and pensions, Steiger said.

"They are going to have money. They to be destitute," he said.

Rural Indiana will continue to lag sigleaving rural areas, we're still talking about nificantly behind urban areas in the percentage of residents with college degrees, but demand for more nurses and physician assistants to meet the medical needs of an older population could result in a more educated workforce, Steiger said.

> "Rural counties are vulnerable as anchor establishments within traded clusters may decide to relocate to another region that can provide the competitive advantage necessary to sustain profitability," said Steven Pontius, RUEDI director. " Statewide efforts are underway to better engage partners in matching employer needs with a workforce that has both the technical and soft skills required in a knowledge-based economy. It will be up to regional workforce boards, community leaders, businesses and educational institutions to tailor solutions for the attraction and development of human capital."

SOCCER SECTIONAL DRAWS

In girls competition...

All local sectionals are loaded

By DON JELLISON

Reporter Editor

Nowhere in the state will there be better girls soccer sectionals than right here in the Hamilton County area. That's because there are so many ranked teams from Hamilton County.

For example, No. 1 Carmel (last week's poll), No. 7 Zionsville and No. 12 Guerin Catholic will play at the Zionsville Sectional.

For example, No. 3 Noblesville, No. 4 Hamilton Southeastern and No. 6 Fishers will compete in the Noblesville Sectional.

It's going to be a dog fight; in fact, two dog fights.

The IHSAA released sectional pairings following a blind draw in Indianapolis on Friday.

The best rematch in the state, arguably, will be the second game of the Zionsville sectional where backvard neighbors Carmel and Guerin Catholic will go to war. Actually, enrollment-wise, Guerin Catholic is a 1A school, but the Golden Eagles have selected to play up a class.

On August 28, at Guerin, Carmel and Guerin battled to Zionsville 1-0 during the regular season.

Carmel will end its regular season by facing Zionsville and Westfield.

The toughest sectional, arguably, in the state will be the Noblesville Sectional with three ranked teams.

Fishers and Noblesville will play in Game 2. When meeting during the regular season, the Tigers and Millers fought to a 0-0 tie.

Southeastern drew Pendleton Heights in the opening game. Those two teams didn't meet during the regular season, but Southeastern did beat Fishers 1-0 and the Lady Royals will play Noblesville before the sectional begins.

Hamilton Heights, Sheridan and University will play in Class 1A.

Heights will host an eight-team sectional, which will include Sheridan.

The Lady Huskies, ranked No. 9 in the state, are the favorites to win their own sectional. They will begin by playing Wapahani. Sheridan will start against a Hoosier Heartland Conference rival, Tri-Central.

University also will play Class 1A, battling in an eight-team sectional at Heritage Christian. University's first game is with Lutheran.

The girls sectionals will run Oct. 6-11. Regionals will be played on Wednesday, Oct. 15 and Saturday, Oct 18 with Class 2A matches in a two-rounds Wednesday-Saturday format. The Class 1A contest differs as a one-match affair played that Saturday. Semi-state in both classes will be Guerin Catholic lost to Westfield 3-1 and lost to played on Saturday, Oct. 25 in a two-round format and the winner advancing to the state championship in Indianapolis on Nov . 1.

If a team is playing in the Hamilton County area, there is no place to hide in the upcoming IHSAA Class 2A boys soccer tournament.

Not even for the ranked teams.

pairings on Friday.

Take Hamilton County's top ranked teams for example, No. 7 Fishers and No. 8 Carmel. You might even want to toss in No.16 Hamilton Southeastern.

Fishers, Noblesville and Hamilton Southeastern will play in the Southeastern with Anderson and Sectional, along Pendleton Heights.

Fishers will go against Noblesville in Game 2. The highly-ranked Tigers will take on a Noblesville team which is not ranked. But, when the two Hoosier Crossroads Conference rivals met during the regular season, Fishers barely pulled out a 3-2 victory.

While Fishers and or Noblesville would need to win just once to reach the championship game at Southeastern, the host Royals will have to win twice. Should HSE defeat first-round foe Anderson and then second-round and by game opponent Pendleton Heights, then Southeastern will face the Millers or the Royals in the championship game. In the famed Mudsock Battle this season, Fishers and Southeastern tied at 1-1. Noblesville and Southeastern will meet next week in a regular season contest.

Turnovers frustrate Millers...

Noblesville falls to Trojans

By RICHIE HALL

Reporter Sports Editor

With the departure of the Lafayette schools from the Hoosier Crossroads Conference, Noblesville was able to schedule different-looking teams this season.

The Class 6A No. 7 Millers got a taste of a powerhouse when they played Bishop Chatard Friday night at Lawrence North the first time the two teams had met since 1992. Unfortunately, the taste was bitter as the 4A No. 3 Trojans beat Noblesville 24-14, dropping the Millers' season record to 4-2. Noblesville coach Lance Scheib had one reason for why his team lost.

"We turned the ball over five times," Scheib. "You cannot turn the ball over against any football team, let alone a team the caliber of Chatard, and expect to win."

The Millers had to absorb three interceptions and two lost fumbles. While only one of those directly led to a Trojans score, all of them were frustrating, as some of them came at a time when Noblesville was making a good drive down the field.

"We did not get off the field on defense and we did not do a very good job of maximizing our possessions on offense," said Scheib.

Chatard scored on its first possession, with a five-yard touchdown two minutes into the game. A field goal midway through the second quarter pushed the Trojans ahead

It took Noblesville until the 2:14 mark of the second quarter to score, but it was worth the wait: Luke Melloh blasted off on a 51-yard touchdown run. That cut the Chatard lead to 10-7.

The Trojans took the advantage right back, though, with a 30-yard touchdown throw from Brian Bell to Brooks Hepp. The score occurred with 20 seconds left, and the 17-7 lead was carried into halftime.

big takeaway of its own when Dhillon intercepted a Trojans pass and took it down to the Chatard 6. Hayden Stinnett got the call, and he ran it in for the touchdown. Andrew Little's kick got the Millers within 17-14; Little also Cory kicked the extra point

But the Trojans marched down the field again running the ball in from the three-yard line with two minutes left in the third quarter. Neither team scored in the fourth quarter, with Chatard working the clock during most of the fourth quarter. Melloh gained the majority of Noblesville's rushing yards, with 87 on six carries. Melloh again split quarterback time with Carl Hardy, who completed 12 of 17 passes for 127 yards. Jarel Youree and Brian McLean both had four catches, Youree totaling 55 yards and McLean 48.

Austin Ginther led the Miller defense, with four solo tackles and 13 assists. Jake Owens and David Cory each had six solos and one assist, with Hank Davis getting five solos and seven assists.

Noblesville returns to conference play next week, hosting Hamilton Southeastern.

Orioles upset Tigers, hand them 1st HCC loss

A big second quarter from Avon led to the toppling of Fishers from the unbeaten Hoosier Crossroads Conference ranks.

The Tigers lost 36-26 in an HCC game at the Orioles' field. Avon scored 22 points in the second period, and led 36-14 early in the fourth quarter. Fishers tried to claw its way back with two touchdowns, but it was too much ground to make up. The loss drops Fishers to 3-1 in the conference, and it is now tied with Westfield for first place. The Tigers are 4-2 overall.

Fishers led 14-7 just seconds into the second period. Maurice Campbell scored both Tiger touchdowns on medium-sized runs and Anthony Beck converted both extra point kicks. But the Orioles dominated the remainder of the quarter, with three passing touchdowns in a span of six minutes. Avon then got the Tigers in a safety late in the period.

Fishers' fourthquarter scores started with a 15-yard pass from Zach Eaton to Simeon Foster with around nine minutes left. Then late in the period, Eaton passed to Noah Smyth, who lateraled the ball to Campbell. Maurice ran the ball to score, getting credit for a 50yard touchdown. But the Orioles still had enough to win.

Eaton threw for 235 yards, completing 16 of 26 passes. Foster caught five for 71 vards. Campbell gained 86 yards on the ground and caught

'Rocks 9th football falls to HSE

The Westfield freshman football team lost to Hamilton Southeastern 34-20 on Monday.

Quarterback Cameron Nance again led the offense in its most productive outing since early in the season. Cameron led the aerial attack, while Nathan Froelich and Alec Salsbury pounded away on the ground. With a depleted receiving cast missing contributors such as Kaleb Pettijohn and Bryan Hoover, Nance called on the numbers of some other young receivers, and they answered wonderfully. Matthew Meyer stepped up and made a number of drive-saving grabs. Jacob Miner, who played a little bit of everywhere on Monday night, came down with the football multiple times, including a touchdown on the last play of the game.

Defensively, the young Rocks fought hard the whole game. The defense swarmed to the football, and Seth Tackett made a huge interception off an HSE pass. Logan McClurg came up with a number of big tackles at cornerback, while the linebacking crew of Froelich, Welch, Noyes, and Randolph pursued the ball all over the field. The special teams unit played admirably throughout the game. The punt squad changed field position for the teams multiple times, and the PAT squad was automatic after each touchdown. Kickoff added some flair, recovering an onside kick that led to a Rocks' touchdown.

"Ladies and gentlemen, although this game's outcome was not as desired, the young Rocks of Westfield played hard from kickoff through the game's close," said coach Matt Hofferth.

Heights-Tipton freshman game canceled

Due to Tipton injuries and low numbers, the Hamilton Heights freshman football game at Tipton on Monday, Sept. 29 has been canceled.
