By BRIAN REDDICK

Saturday morning the Noblesville Masonic Lodge celebrated a 100 year milestone for their current temple. Lodge #57 of the Free and Accepted Masons opened a sealed metal time capsule that was built into the cornerstone of the Masonic Temple located 295 S. 9th St during its construction in 1914. A gathering of about fifty fellow masons, visitors and Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear were present to see what the contents of the box revealed. The box contained:

This past weekend Atlanta hosted the 41st annual New Earth Festival. The smallest town in Hamilton County with just over 700 residents was swarmed with thousands of vendors and visitors to the ever growing popular fall festival.

Current Worshipful Master, Steve Goss, holds up a copy of the Noblesville Daily Ledge found inside the Masonic Temple time capsule. The paper was dated September 23, 1914.

From the eyes of small business

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Michael Wise Sr. is an interesting man. An interesting Noblesville businessman.

He is the owner of Auto Smart & All Pro Towing.

Wise's shop is about as far removed from the Noblesville community as one could image. It's bordered on the south by the Foundry. A few blocks to the east is 8th Street. A few blocks to the west is White River. To the north is what Noblesville City calls the Southwest Quad.

It's an area in which the City is holding a series of neighborhood meetings to learn more about the needs and wants from what actually is "old Noblesville."

The first meeting was held in mid-September. The next is scheduled for October 9 and the final session will be held on November 13. All three sessions are at the Gathering, located at 675 S. 8th Street. The City has encouraged neighbors and interested parties to attend the meetings and participate in the development of this plan.

The Hamilton County Reporter attended the first meeting, and since that time has talked with residents in the Southwest Quad about how they can make their community better.

We're also talking with business owners, such as Michael Wise Sr.

Auto Smart is located at 1348 S. 6th Street. If you want to go there, just drive south on 6th Street until you run out of street.

Meet Carolyn Johns, 25 year Riverview volunteer

By RICHIE HALL

Volunteering has always been important to Carolyn Johns.

Everywhere Johns has lived, she's volunteered. She kept that going when she moved back to Noblesville, donating her time to the Riverview Health Auxiliary Gift Shop. Johns began volunteering there in 1989, and is still going strong 25 years later.

"I enjoy the gift shop, meeting the people, working with them, helping them," said Johns, who became manager of the shop in 1990, not too long after joining Riverview's volunteer family.

Johns is a strong advocate of volunteering, and is inviting members of the community to join her.

Johns has seen first-hand the work that volunteers do, both as one and as a patient. She is a two-time cancer patient and said "the hospital has been a big supporter and a big help" during that time, as it was for many other people.

The Auxiliary Gift Shop is non-profit, with the money earned going back into the hospital. It has pledged and given over $1 million to Riverview over the past 20 years. Money is pledged for whatever is needed and the project at the time.

Johns said the shop has pledged $40,000 for the new MRI that Riverview wants to purchase. The shop has already given the first $20,000, with the remainder of the money to be given next April.

"The gift shop is something," said Johns. "I've been in retail prior to retiring. I just feel strongly about volunteering."

Virginia Frances Ruemler Weston

September 20, 2014

Virginia Frances Ruemler Weston, 88, of Noblesville, was called to be an angel in Heaven on September 20, 2014. At 88, Virginia "Gigi" had untold faith in the love of God, an abundance of energy, and the love of a very large extended family. Her valiant battle is finally over and we are so happy she is living in the presence of God and her beautiful face is calm and peaceful again.

The family would like to thank and adorn with praise, so many different people who have come into our lives because of cancer, and touched our family by cards, food, phone calls, texts, visits, hugs and more. Special thanks go to Dr. Michael Callahan, St. Vincent's Gynecology and Oncology for his extra comforting care, wit and wisdom and allowing Gigi to lead her life in comfort for over a year; her beloved health nurses, Amber and Molly, who helped us so much this last year by their quiet calm, wealth of information and always answering our phone calls when we were not of sound mind; the staff and gals from SeniorCare; and our home nurses who became part of Gigi's extended family.

We can't thank enough, Gigi's faithful Pastor, Tim Krupski, from Lord of Life Lutheran Church, in Westfield. Pastor Tim came, when most needed, without being asked. Even when we doubted, Pastor Tim and Gigi had a relationship with God unparalleled - never questioning, never wavering. Also, thank you the staff and friends at A Corner Cottage for their unending support and remembrances of love; the members of Lord of Life Lutheran Church who showered Mom with love and attention, and so many prayers.

Gigi is survived by three daughters, Sue (Ron) Logan, Peggy (Roger) Kumler, and Nancy (Frank) Zavada; brothers, Arnold (Edythe) Ruemler, Glenn (Eileen) Ruemler both of Reynolds, IN, Art (Donna) Ruemler, of Otterbein, IN; six grandchildren; ten great-grandchildren; one great-great-grandson; and a large host of loving nieces, nephews, cousins, neighbors, and special friends from wherever her feet led her, who enjoyed her laughter and presence daily. We feel so blessed to have forever memories with our precious Mom.

Virginia was preceded in death by her parents, Lottie (Hays) and Fred Ruemler; three brothers, Robert, Fred Jr. and Norman all of Reynolds, IN; and longtime special friend, John Fetter, of Indianapolis, all of whom will be dancing with "Ginya" in Heaven.

A worship service for Gigi was held on Tuesday, September 23, 2014 at Lord of Life Lutheran Church in Westfield with calling prior to the time of service. An additional service was held on Wednesday, September 24, 2014 at St. James Lutheran Church in Reynolds, with visitation immediately prior. Her final resting place is at St. James Lutheran Cemetery immediately following the service.

A brightly lit star is shining in Heaven now - Gigi is in God's faithful hands.

In lieu of flowers, please consider donations to Lord of Life Lutheran Church, 4238 E. 191st Street Westfield, IN 46074; or, a charity of the donor's choice.

Benjamin Wade Snowden

July 10, 1972 - September 23, 2014

Benjamin Wade Snowden, 42, of Noblesville, died early Tuesday morning, September 23, 2014 in his home, after a 9-month battle with brain cancer. He was born on July 10, 1972 in Ft. Wayne, IN. He was surrounded by love until the end, drawing his last breath while in the arms of his wife and true love, Allison Snowden.

Ben was a free-thinking multi-talented man with an entrepreneurial spirit who spent most of his professional life in the coffee service industry. With his infectious smile, warm personae, and mechanical aptitude he could sell you almost anything and then fix it if it broke.

He was a loving son, loyal brother, and steadfast friend. Ben's greatest joys included music, motorcycles, and his Indianapolis Colts.

Although he was not a proponent of organized religion, he loved God and shared his belief with those closest to him. He enjoyed discussing politics with anyone who agreed with him.

He leaves behind a legacy of love and laughter, and a large circle of family and friends who will miss him immeasurably.

In addition to his wife, Allison, he is survived by his parents, Jerry & Sharon (Carpenter) Snowden; children, Kaije (Jennifer) Guyann, Eli Snowden, Evy Tobolski and Naomi Willis; siblings, Klarc (Tanya) Snowden, Rhonda (Dusty) Imoo, Kameron (Sarah) Snowden and Niccole Willoughby; grandchild, Avani; and, several nieces and nephews.

“I’ve been here since March,” Wise told The Reporter. “I’ve lived in this area for about 14 years.”

Wise’s home is located next to his business, which is nice for making appointments with customers when his shop isn’t open. His regular business hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and from 8-2 on Saturdays. He is closed on Sundays, except for appointments.

Wise’s business is growing.

“We get customers from all over Noblesville and from towns like Anderson and Lapel,” Wise said. “Our rates are good; $65 per hour. Others charge as much as $90 to $120 per hour.”

Wise expanded by contracting with 24 agencies which need emergency road assistance 24 hours a day.

“That keeps me busy,” he said..

“Starting Wednesday, I will have a U-Haul outlet here; a place where people can come and rent U-Haul trucks and trailers,” Wise added.

Wise hadn’t heard of the City’s neighborhood meetings, but he does have a couple of ideas about improvements in the Southwest Quad.

“More things for kids to do,” Wise said. “There’s a park, but not much there. Not much playground equipment, or anything.

“The City should do something about the houses in which people have moved away and left vacant. The grass is growing, and it makes the neighborhood look bad.”

Michael Wise Sr. owns Auto Smart and All Pro Towing, which is located on 6th Street at the southern end of Noblesville’s Southwest Quad. In addition to auto service, Wise’s business will start renting U-Haul trucks and trailers on Wednesday.

Student dress code

Finding the Perfect Opposite

By CATHERINE GIBSON

I know I'm not the only high school student in the state of Indiana who doesn't care for the dress code. I'm sure every school says the same thing, "dress for success," but I don't feel as if that is true. You want to be comfortable so that you can focus on what the teacher is saying. I know that when I am comfortable I focus a lot better and I'm more ready to learn.

Teachers and administrators want to be at school or they wouldn't work there, but not all students want to be there. We have to go to school by state law, so why do schools get to take away our freedom to wear what we want? I'm not saying that we need to completely eliminate the dress code, but rather compromise with the students on some things.

At school almost all of our freedoms are taken away, so why can't we dress the way we want? We sit at school for seven hours a day and with the way our dress code is it's not always comfortable when it's hot outside. Another thing is not wearing leggings because they are too tight and revealing. Some jeans can be just as tight. We, females, just want to be comfortable in what we wear, and jeans aren't that comfortable.

I know that males also think that dress code is ridiculous. If a male wants to wear a tank top to school when it's hot out, he isn't allowed because it's distracting. I think that temperature is a real reason to dress in a tank top. I don't see how a male student trying to stay cool and comfortable is interfering with his learning. Another thing is males aren't allowed to have their hood up in class, but why? That student isn't doing any harm so why can't he? It's not like he is distracting the other students.

My school's rule book says to dress in a way that isn't disruptive. So why do we get in trouble when we aren't disrupting class? Also, who gets to decide if it is disruptive? Students get to dress up in crazy outfits for school spirit days, so what is disruptive about our everyday clothes? I don't see why our parents don't get to decide if our clothes are appropriate or disruptive. They're the ones buying them. It's not right that they have to buy clothes that are "school appropriate," and clothes that we will want to wear. I know that most of the time I try to look for clothes I won't get in trouble for, but it's not something I want to wear every day.

Schools can't say that we have a dress code because the clothes we wear are distracting, because they really aren't. Wearing something that students feel comfortable in will make it more likely for us to want to be there. From my own personal experience I'm okay with going to school as long as I'm comfortable.

The dress code isn't completely bogus; a lot of it I understand. Most rules should stay but if a student is comfortable they shouldn't get in trouble and have their parents bring them clothes. I think the dress code should be discussed between the students and the administrators. If students feel as though their clothes are appropriate they should be able to state why and if it is a reasonable explanation then they should be okay. It should be on a case to case basis, but both parties need to listen. If that were the case I know fewer students would complain about the dress code.

By JANET HART LEONARD

They say that anything you have not done in a long time is like riding a bike, you never forget how. But what if it's been 20 years since you have ridden a bike?

I looked at the neon green two wheeler parked in the driveway this week while we were in Tampa visiting all the Leonards. It might as well have been a wild steer at the rodeo. I felt my pulse race and my thoughts imagining all kinds of hurts that could occur, mostly that of my pride.

But I ventured out with Chuck. And I loved it!

The next morning as I sat on the lanais (Florida's version of a back porch), drinking my coffee, my thoughts went back to the last 12 months since Chuck came into my life. Funny how some of our best moments have taken both of us out of our usual happy places.

I have learned to enjoy the golf course. I now know who the top golfers are. Chuck has learned about country music. He had never heard of Martina McBride. We went to her concert at the Palladium. Chuck has taught me crossword puzzle words. I knew what an elk was but never heard of a wapiti.

We appreciate our differences. He introduced me to Greek and Cuban food. I introduced him to my homemade chocolate cream pie.

When we were in Tampa I asked Chuck to take me to the beach. He asked his sons where the best beach would be. That should have been my first clue that he is not a beach lover. I asked him if he ever took a book to the beach. He said, "no". I asked if he enjoyed walking the beach. He said "I enjoy walking the golf course". But we both smiled as we walked the beach because we were together. Simply together.

No dating service would have ever matched us up. Our mutual friends were quite surprised by our dating until they saw us together. They said it was obvious that our hearts were a perfect match.

They say that as you get older you get set in your ways. They say that you can't teach an old dog new tricks. I guess Chuck and I aren't so old after all. 40 years ago I roller skated...but don't tell Chuck! I'm still feeling the effects of using the muscles that hadn't been used for 20 years while bike riding.

County Line:

Increasing land value could be a hazard for golf courses

By FRED SWIFT

Are Hamilton County golf courses threatened by the increasing value of their own land? Certainly marginal golf operations in the Carmel area have been tempted to sell to developers as land values soar.

Will the loss of courses become a trend as the demand for development land spreads through the county? It probably depends on whether golf generates enough money to maintain the acreage for recreational purposes.

On October 31 the Mohawk Hills course at 126th and Keystone will close for good. It has been in business for nearly 40 years. Earlier this year the Sunrise Golf Club on Westfield Blvd. south of 106th Street, now closed, was sold.

In both cases owners of the land have sold to developers and plans are being drawn for various uses, mostly upscale residential home sites. Developers are paying top dollar and scurrying to find more open ground including what little farmland is left south of 146th Street.

Until this year there were eight golf courses in Clay Township alone. Developers have been eyeing these tracts. Several years ago Woodland Country Club sold a valuable corner of its golf course for commercial development at 116th and Keystone, then bought less valuable ground and reconfigured its course.

And, in Delaware Township about three years ago the relatively new Britton golf facility was closed. The valuable tract on Ind. 37 at 131st Street was sold and has become the Fishers Marketplace development.

Some golf clubs appear to be in no danger. Private clubs are doing well since the end of the recession, and not likely to want to give up their property. Those open to the public are more dependent on direct player revenue.

But, the public facilities owned by municipalities such as Forest Park and Fox Prairie are no doubt safe. In recent years the Brookshire club at Carmel was sold by private owners to the city partially because Carmel wanted to head off talk of a sale to developers. Brookshire is now a public municipal course.

There is some good news for golfers who are also looking for a new home on the golf course. A new course is being planned near the intersection of U.S. 31 and Ind. 38 on the historic Lindley farmstead. It will be an 18 hole course surrounded by upscale housing.

This type of development appears to be the future of golf in the county because the lure of the golf course sells expensive surrounding residential lots and that revenue can offset the cost of the links.

Oh, the horror!

By AIMEE GEBHART

October has always been my favorite month of the year. Aside from the spectacular leaves and the crisp, cool air, it also brings forth many guilty pleasures for me like roasted marshmallows, pumpkin spice lattes, and the onslaught of terrifying horror movies in anticipation of Halloween.

I'm not sure exactly when my love affair with horror movies began, but I think it was somewhere around the age of 10. People may frown on the fact that my parents allowed me to watch scary movies at such a tender age, but I've come to realize that they were actually helping to teach me some very valuable life lessons. That's right – life lessons. If you don't believe me, allow me to share some of the wisdom I have gleaned from 30 years of watching horror flicks.

Never talk to or offer help to overly friendly strangers. You may think that you are being kindhearted when you help the guy lift the sofa into his truck, but you are actually being quite dumb. Everyone knows that super nice strangers just want to lock you in a dungeon and make a suit out of you.

If you're going to search your house for the strange sound that you just heard, turn on the stinking lights. Why in the world would you search your house in the dark? If I've learned one thing from scary shows, it's that a little light never hurt anyone. It might just help you see that the big, hulking shape in front of you isn't actually a piece of furniture; it's the crazy guy in the hockey mask.

If your dog runs off into the woods at night, don't go after him. It may sound harsh, but just because Fluffy has a death wish doesn't mean you have to have one too. Sorry Fluffy, but you're on your own.

Bad girls always die first. It's true; every horror flick I've ever seen has taught me so. The girls who smoke, drink, and act in a promiscuous manner are always the first ones to go – and usually in the most horrific ways. It makes being the nerdy girl seem quite appealing.

Porcelain dolls are evil. No further explanation needed.

If your house appears to be haunted, just move. I will never be so attached to my house that I will tolerate moaning sounds, doors opening and closing on their own, or terrifying messages appearing on my walls. There will be no "experts" coming in to investigate and help solve the mystery. One night of that nonsense and I'll be out of here faster than you can say, "Holiday Inn".

And last, but certainly not least...that bad guy you just killed and turned your back on isn't really dead. Sadly, most people in horror movies learn this the hard way. I would never be so foolish. If I'm ever in a life and death struggle and I get the bad guy down, I'm keeping him there with ropes, duct tape, and a shotgun.

Now that I've shared my wisdom with you, please do yourself and your family a favor this October and plan to watch some classic, scary flicks together. As a responsible parent, it may seem counterintuitive, but nothing teaches good behavior, common sense, and self-defense quite like the threat of a deadly clown under the bed.

Logan's Roadhouse to benefit Sheriff's office shop with a cop

Logan's Roadhouse is inviting area residents to visit its Noblesville restaurant located at 17065 Mercantile Rd for a community fundraising event on Wednesday, October 8, 2014. As part of its ongoing Raise the Steaks fundraising program, Logan's will join with the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office and Shop for Kids to give guests an opportunity to support a charitable cause.

On Wednesday, October 8th, from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., Logan's will donate 15 percent of the participants' check amounts before tax back to Shop for Kids. If 50 or more participating guests visit the restaurant on the designated night, 20 percent will be donated. Proceeds from the event will help the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office raise funds for needy children at Christmas. Each year, Sheriff's Office employees host dozens of county children for a holiday shopping trip. Each child is paired with an officer and given $100 to make a merrier Christmas for the child and the family. Participating children are encouraged to buy needed supplies and to think of others in their family in addition to buying gifts for themselves. Not only does the Shop for Kids program make for a happier holiday season, it also provides a positive interaction for children and officers.

To participate, guests need to show an event ticket to their server. Contact Patty Bukowski at pattyblogans@gmail.com or visit www.facebook.com/Logans.Roadhouse to request an event ticket. Tickets will also be available through the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office at <https://www.facebook.com/pages/Hamilton-County-Sheriffs-Office/Indiana/165528786839890>.

Commissioners moving ahead on new addition

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

They have the vision. They have the location. They have a need to do so. They even have the money to accomplish the task.

Only hurdle in the path of the Hamilton County Commissioners beginning work on an addition to the Government and Judicial Center in downtown Noblesville is the little matter of not being able to spend their own money.

The addition will be on the west side of the building. The County needs more space with the anticipation of two or three more courts in a few years.

During the Commissioners' meeting earlier this week it was announced that the firms of Structure Point and DLV have been hired to design the addition.

The architects may need to come up with two designs. Now, we get back to that little money problem.

"By state law we can bond up to $12 million," said Commissioner Steve Dillinger. "It will cost more than that to build the addition."

"We have the additional money needed, but by state law we can't use our own moneys."

That may change. Dillinger certainly hopes it does.

"We've asked the State Legislature to change the law" Dillinger said. "The law as it written makes no sense. We have the money, but we can't spend it."

In order to build an addition the way the Commissioners want, the law will have to be changed.

But, with or without a change, the Commissioners appear to be moving forward. Hiring of the architects this week was the first step.

"If the law isn't changed and we're limited to bonding $12 million, then we'll have to build in three stages," Dillinger said. "To start, we would build the shell and finish only the first floor. Delaying finishing the building will be costly because building costs will rise."

While the County needs space for what is anticipated two or three more courts, the addition might not house those courts.

"Nothing has been decided, or will it be decided until we see what the architects come up with," Dillinger said. "But, building office space is cheaper than building court rooms. What we could do is house the new courts on our (current) first floor and move some of the officers on the first floor to the new addition. Lots of these offices need more space."

‘Hawks fall in 14-13 thriller

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Sheridan is an a holding pattern when it comes to its Hoosier Heartland Conference quest.

The Blackhawks are 2-1, tied with Carroll for second place. However, Sheridan won't play its final HHC game until the final regular season game, when it travels to unbeaten Tri-Central.

For now, the 'Hawks are going through a non-conference portion of the season. They hosted North Knox for a Saturday afternoon homecoming game, falling 14-13. Sheridan is now 3-3, North Knox improved to 5-1.

The Blackhawks host Tipton on Friday. The Blue Devils reached the Class 2A state championship game last season, but are struggling this year. Tipton is 2-4, with wins over Elwood 35-24 and Benton Central 24-13.

As for Sheridan, a foot here, a foot there and it might have come away with the victory. An inch or two on one situation would have made the difference.

“We were in the red zone three times and couldn’t take advantage of the situation,” Wright said after Sheridan fell to 3-3 on the year.

After two very good football teams battled head-to-head throughout the day, the game was decided after Sheridan scored and moved within a point, 14-13, with 2:37 remaining.

Wright decided to go for two, but his offensive team didn’t get on the field in time and the Blackhawks drew a five-yard penalty. Still going for two, quarterback Garrett Chesney was stopped short of the goal line.

“I probably should have kicked the extra point,” Wright second-guessed himself.

The 24-second clock on the field wasn’t started, but the referee claimed he counted off 24 seconds after blowing his whistle to put the ball in play.

“I don’t think he did,” Wright said. “I think he was guessing.”

But, it was a game of near misses for Sheridan all afternoon long.

Neither team scored in the first quarter. North Knox broke the scoreless contest by scoring with 9:25 left before halftime.

Sheridan’s first trip into the red zone came after North Knox missed out on a scoring bid of its own. The Warriors moved to inside Sheridan’s 20 but then was stopped on a missed field goal. The Blackhawks then drove the ball down field, and on a 36-yard pass from Garrett Chesney to Austin Hoover reached the seven-yard line, only to run out of time following a run by Hoover to the one.

“Hoover was within inches of scoring,” Wright said.

So, North Knox went to halftime with a 7-0 lead.

Midway through the third quarter, North Knox gambled on a fourth down play at mid-field. Sheridan’s defense stopped the Warriors short, and the Sheridan offense came back with a touchdown marchk. In the drive, Wright twice gambled on fourth down and won, once on a Garrett Chesney to Jacob Chesney pass and then on a Garrett Chesney to Hoover pass. Hoover scored from the two with 1:22 left in the quarter and Homecoming Queen (crowned at halftime) Katie Hybarger booted the extra point to tie the game at 7-7.

As the third quarter ended and the fourth quarter began, Sheridan had another missed scoring opportunity. The Blackhawks got to within the 10, but were stopped and Hybarger was just short on a 32-yard field goal attempt.

North Knox broke the 7-7 tie by scoring with 5:01 left in the game and kicking what proved to be the winning point.

That’s when Sheridan made its final bid, scoring on a 17-yard pass from Garrett Chesney to Hoover, but then falling short on the two-point try.

The game was, as billed, a ground battle between Sheridan’s Hoover and North Knox’s Jordan Meurer. Hoover carried the pigskin 38 times for 131 yards. In the game, Sheridan had a total 49 rushes for 134 yards. Meurer carried 41 times for 207 yards. In the game, North Knox had 48 carries for 217 yards.

Dogs pound Taylor

Now that Hamilton Heights, as coach Mitch Street believes, has “settled in,” the Huskies are starting to keep pace in the Mid-Indiana Conference.

Heights won back-to-back games for the first time this season, easily beating Taylor 58-0. The win moved the Huskies to 3-1 in the MIC; they are tied for second with Maconaquah in the conference standings. Lewis Cass is on top at 4-0.

The Huskies moved to 4-2 with a tough league foe, Northwestern, coming to Arcadia next week. The Tigers are also 4-2 overall, but hold a 2-2 record in the conference. Northwestern lost to Maconaquah 26-21 last week, and also fell to Cass 21-7. The Tigers have wins over Western 31-13 and Taylor 42-7. In non-conference play, Northwestern beat Clinton Central 37-0 and North Miami 21-3.

After a shaky first half of the season, Street made changes in his offense. Then, last evening at Taylor Jesse Kerfoot returned from a two-week injury.

“We had good balance tonight,” said Street. “We’re starting to put things together. I’m pleased with the progress.”

Kerfoot led a solid Heights running game last evening, gaining 92 yards in just five carries. Clayton Cowan ran eight times for 55 yards. Street used eight different backs carrying the pigskin.

“We’re getting better,” Street continued. “I knew it would be a tough night for Taylor. We played better in the second half. I would have liked to see us come out stronger in the first half.”

The Huskies led 24-0 at halftime and then put 27 points on the board in the third period.

Two Heights quarterback completed 9-of-11 passes. Ethan Jones was 6-of-6 for 128 yards and Josh Feltz mopped up by hitting on 3-of-5 for 33 yards.

Grant Weatherford, at wide-receiver, had another outstanding night with two catches for 65 yards.

Kerfoot scored three of the Huskies touchdowns. After Nate Roth opened the scoring with a six-yard run, Kerfoot went 54 yards to make it a 12-0 game.

Kerfoot scored again in the second quarter on a two-yard run. Weatherford got the first of his two touchdowns on a 43-yard pass from Jones.

Weatherford started the second half scoring with a bang, returning the kickoff 75 yards for a TD.

Then it was Kerfoot on a 25-yard run; Joel Boser on a 34--yard pass from Jones and Riley White on a 14-yard pass from Feltz.

Cowan completed the scoring with a four-run in the fourth quarter.

Eagles fly past Woodmen

Guerin Catholic got a nice win over a Class 4A team on Friday, beating up on Greenwood 42-21.

The Golden Eagles are in Class 3A, and there are good teams in that division. Guerin will face one of them on Friday, as Brebeuf Jesuit comes to the Eagles Nest.

The Braves have a 4-2 record. Brebeuf is ranked No. 2 in 3A, though. The Braves reached the 3A state championship game last season. They have beat North Montgomery 45-14, Cardinal Ritter 47-7, Zionsville 28-10 and Culver Academy 48-7. Brebeuf's losses were to 4A No. 3 Bishop Chatard 17-17 and 4A No. 9 Roncalli 21-17.

Guerin is 4-2, and is receiving votes in the coaches poll. The Golden Eagles have a case to be ranked: In addition to the Greenwood win, they upset 2A No. 3 Lafayette Central Catholic 17-7, and also have big wins over Howe 38-6 and Broad Ripple 61-6. The only losses were to two 5A teams: Martinsville 28-24 and No. 5 Terre Haute South 24-23 in overtime.

Against Greenwood, quarterback Matt Labus threw for 203 yards. Brian Matthews caught six passes for 126 yards and three touchdowns. Carter McGinnis rushed 15 times for 91 yards.

Greenwood made a game out of it for a half, trailing only 21-14 entering halftime.

But, the Golden Eagles unloaded in the second half.

“We had a ton of penalties (14 for 124 yards), but we made up for that with some big plays,” said Dilley

Hansen scored Guerin’s first touchdown on a 25-yard run. The Eagles tallied again in the quarter when Labus connect with Matthews for 35 yards. Caleb Quick booted two extra points to Guerin off to a fast 14-0 start.

Two fourth period touchdowns put Greenwood away. Labus hit Matthews for 15 yards. Arion Shinaver intercepted a pass for the final score.

The Eagles dominated on both sides of the football. They ran for 141 yards and passed for 203 yards. Greenwood got just 113 yards on the ground but did hit on 14-of-31 passes for 233 yards. The Eagles intercepted three passes.

Millers to host the Royals

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor
After a tough loss to Class 4A No. 3 Bishop Chatard on Friday, Noblesville returns to Hoosier Crossroads Conference play this week.
The 6A No. 7 Millers will host Hamilton Southeastern in a key HCC game. Noblesville is still hanging around in the conference race, tied with Avon for third with a 2-1 record. Fishers and Westfield are tied for first with 3-1 marks.
The Royals had been having a subpar season, but finally got their first HCC win of the season Friday by beating Zionsville 35-14. Southeastern is 2-4 overall, also beating North Central 38-0 in a non-conference game. The Royals opened their season with 6A No. 2 Carmel, narrowly losing 14-7.

In other conference games, HSE fell to Avon 31-10, Fishers 41-10 and Westfield 34-20.
Noblesville coach Lance Scheib had one reason for why his team lost to Chatard.
"We turned the ball over five times," said Scheib. "You cannot turn the ball over against any football team, let alone a team the caliber of Chatard, and expect to win."
The Millers (4-2 overall) had to absorb three interceptions and two lost fumbles. While only one of those directly led to a Trojans score, all of them were frustrating, as some of them came at a time when Noblesville was making a good drive down the field.
"We did not get off the field on defense and we did not do a very good job of maximizing our possessions on offense," said Scheib.

Chatard scored on its first possession, with a five-yard touchdown two minutes into the game. A field goal midway through the second quarter pushed the Trojans ahead 10-0.
It took Noblesville until the 2:14 mark of the second quarter to score, but it was worth the wait: Luke Melloh blasted off on a 51-yard touchdown run. That cut the Chatard lead to 10-7.
The Trojans took the advantage right back, though, with a 30-yard touchdown throw from Brian Bell to Brooks Hepp. The score occurred with 20 seconds left, and the 17-7 lead was carried into halftime.
Noblesville kept fighting, and made a big takeaway of its own when Sonu Dhillon intercepted a Trojans pass and took it down to the Chatard 6. Hayden Stinnett got the call, and he ran it in for the touchdown. Andrew Little's kick got the Millers within 17-14; Little also kicked the extra point for Noblesville's first-half TD.

But the Trojans marched down the field again, running the ball in from the three-yard line with two minutes left in the third quarter. Neither team scored in the fourth quarter, with Chatard working the clock during most of the fourth quarter.
Melloh gained the majority of Noblesville's rushing yards, with 87 on six carries. Melloh again split quarterback time with Carl Hardy, who completed 12 of 17 passes for 127 yards. Jarel Youree and Brian McLean both had four catches, Youree totaling 55 yards and McLean 48.

Lady Rocks' golfers State bound for first time

It's been a year of changes in Indiana high school girls golf, and that was apparent once Saturday's regionals were finished.
The big change is the emergence of new teams in the state meet conversation. None has made a bigger splash than Westfield, which qualified for its first ever state meet after placing second to Carmel (a team that's about as "old guard" as you can get) at the Roncalli regional at Smock Golf Course in Indianapolis.
The Greyhounds scored 312, with the Shamrocks carding 318. At last week's Ben Davis sectional, Westfield beat Carmel by three strokes. Obviously the rivalry will continue at the state meet, which takes place next Friday and Saturday at Prairie View Golf Club in Carmel.
As for the Shamrocks, their fantastic freshmen were 1-2-3. Cailyn Henderson scored 76 (giving her fifth place), Margaret Wentz had 77 and Adrienne Montalone carded an 80.
"We're really excited," said Westfield coach Trevor Neu. "Our goal was to come down here and compete for first and win, but our main objective was to advance. Survive and advance, that's what I preached to the kids last week. Get to state, and then hopefully shoot two good rounds and be in the mix with everything."
The lone senior on the team, Kaylee Purcell, almost went to state as an individual last year. Now she gets to go with her entire team.

"Oh my gosh, it's really exciting," said Purcell. "It's exciting to move on. It's definitely our goal this year. So to be that close, I'm glad that we moved on."
Guerin Catholic got an individual through to state, with Marissa Singer's 76 making her one of the five advancing individuals. Singer was fourth overall. Her teammate Sarah Baxter, a state qualifier last year, carded 83.
Singer was very happy to be advancing to state.
"I started off well," said Singer of her round. "I got one-over on the front nine." She was able to remain consistent on the back nine. Singer said being consistent "is definitely one of my priorities."
Over at the New Castle regional at Westwood Golf Club, Noblesville finished fifth.
The Millers had an incredibly consistent day: Hadley Moritz scored 81, she was followed by three players with an 83 (Peyton Gigante, Sydney Moran and Sarah Hayes), and their fifth score (Emily Padgett) was an 85. That added up to a score of 330. The fifth place finish sadly brought an end to Noblesville's great streak of 10 consecutive years of qualifying for state.
Hamilton Heights' Caitie Gehlhausen, a sophomore playing in her first ever regional, wound up in a playoff for the fifth individual to advance to state after her round of 77. The playoff went to Greenwood's Hannah Cross, but expect Gehlhausen to be back again next year.

NPD Lieutenant graduates from FBI National Academy

On September 19, 2014, Noblesville Police Department's Lieutenant Shane Ginnan successfully graduated from the 257th Session of the FBI National Academy in Quantico, Virginia. The FBI National Academy is a 10-week professional course of study for U.S. and international law enforcement leaders that serves to improve the administration of justice in police departments and agencies at home and abroad and to raise law enforcement standards, knowledge, and cooperation worldwide. Its mission is "to support, promote, and enhance the personal and professional development of law enforcement leaders by preparing them for complex, dynamic, and contemporary challenges through innovative techniques, facilitating excellence in education and research, and forging partnerships throughout the world." During the academy, officers take undergraduate and/or graduate college courses at the FBI Academy located at Quantico, Virginia. Courses include the following areas: law, behavioral science, forensic science, understanding terrorism/terrorist mindsets, leadership development, communication, and health/fitness. Officers participate in a wide range of leadership and specialized training, and they share ideas, techniques, and experiences with each other, creating lifelong partnerships that span state and national lines. Lt. Ginnan is a 13-year veteran of NPD and currently serves as a shift commander assigned to the Patrol Division.

Noblesville Main Street offers something for everyone

Noblesville Main Street is expanding its October First Friday event, which takes place Oct. 3 and includes many fun, family-friendly activities. The day begins with the second annual CanStruction at 6 a.m. in the lobby of Church, Church, Hittle and Antrim. CanStruction is a unique collaboration showcasing a colossal replica of the Hamilton county courthouse made entirely out of full cans and boxes of food and designed and built by a team of architects, contractors, designers, service organizations and clubs. The giant art exhibition will be open to the public on October 3 until 8 p.m. and afterwards on weekdays until October 19, at which time all food will be donated to local food pantries. CanStruction is a national organization focusing on the fight against hunger using one can of food as a catalyst for change. One can represents the building blocks of massive sculptures. One can proves that every act of kindness makes a difference. Since 1992, Canstruction has contributed over 17.5 million pounds of food to community food banks nationwide. Locally, according to Feeding America, Hamilton county saw a 68 percent increase in clients being served at food pantries in 2014 thus far. The Noblesville Township Trustee Office serves on average of 70 Noblesville residents every Thursday, and approximately 170 throughout the week with toiletries, diapers, bread and sweets. Last year alone, Noblesville Main Street raised $7,500 through generous sponsors and donated 5,000 cans and boxes of food to Hamilton county food pantries through this single project. Drop by anytime during the day to see the CanStruction in progress. Meanwhile, fall festival activities and Soup Cook-off will run from 5 p.m - 8 p.m. in the downtown area. The activities include pumpkin decorating, hayrides, food vendors, caboose train rides provided by the Indiana Transportation Museum, free trick or treating for kids at select stores and a free movie, Monster University, provided by Noblesville Parks Department. Kids should come in costume and be prepared for fun. A new addition to the fall festivities is the Scarecrow contest, which began earlier this month, and will announce category winners and present prizes. The Soup Cook-Off features local restaurants competing for your votes for the best soup in town. This is an excellent opportunity to try several soups for $1 per sample or $3 for the cup of your choice. Your opinion counts, your vote counts, but your challenge will be to vote for just one as the best soup. To become a sponsor, vendor or volunteer at any of these events, contact Noblesville Main Street at 317-776-0205 or www.noblesvillemainstreet.org.
