A part of Noblesville's history...

Coming down

By FRED SWIFT

A part of Noblesville history comes to an end next month when the Noblesville Farm Bureau Co-op accepts its last grain harvest. The co-op is the most recent owner of a grain operation that has been a part of the Noblesville landscape since Civil War times.

Grain will be accepted at the South 9th Street facility through Nov. 30. Then, early next year, the grain elevator and huge silos will be demolished. North Central Indiana Co-op CEO Mark Tullis says his company has not yet decided what it will do with the site after it is cleared.

There are two main reasons for closing the Noblesville operation, safety concerns about the condition of the structures, and the decreasing amount of grain being produced in the area as more and more farmland is developed for housing have brought about the decision.

Grain became Noblesville's big business in the mid-1800s. The Noblesville Milling Company was a leading employer for many years. It partnered with the high school early in the 20th century to give Noblesville's athletic teams the name Millers. The company bought uniforms for the NHS teams, and the school agreed to the name Millers.

Grain milling in the huge brick mill building at 8th and Mulberry Streets was eventually phased out, and in recent years the original mill has become an office and banquet facility operating under the name Model Mill. The grain operation continued to the south where the Co-op took over about 40 years ago. Their towering silos have been a local landmark for nearly a century.

Going up

The City of Westfield announced today the first hotel to locate in the vicinity of Grand Park Sports Campus.

The Cambria Suites and Hotel will be located in the Grand Park Village development across 186th Street from the sports campus.

"We're pleased to make this exciting announcement," said Westfield Mayor Andy Cook. "We've worked hard to create the positive conditions for the hospitality industry to grow in Westfield so it's rewarding to see that our economic development strategy is paying off."

The 110,000 square foot Cambria Suites and Hotel will feature 150 rooms, described as oversized suites with plenty of room to work and play. The hotel will feature 5,000 square feet of meeting and conference space. It is being developed as a joint venture of Ceres

Enterprises LLC and Orlean Group LLC.

“The demand created by Grand Park along with the shops, restaurants and lifestyle amenities of the Grand Park Village development made it a very attractive location for Cambria,” said Brad Henke of Henke Development Group.

“We’re really excited to be in Grand Park,” said David Crisafi of Ceres Enterprises LLC.

Grand Park has exceeded its first year projections with 870,000 visits since opening in March. In addition to the already strong tournament attendance, Grand Park will now attract year-round sporting events. Private developers have already committed to build two indoor facilities: a $24 million soccer/lacrosse/football facility to open in 2015 and a $6 million basketball/volleyball facility.

Offender Watch web site helps Halloween trick-or-treat safety

With Halloween and trick-or-treating right around the corner, it is important to know which houses children should avoid during their festivities. In Hamilton County there are some 135 registered sex offenders who reside in the area along with nearly 30 more who travel to the county to work. The Sheriff's Office, which is charged with maintaining the Sex and Violent Offender Registry, wants you to know where these offenders reside so you can avoid those houses when trick-or-treating. "We make every effort to ensure sex offenders live and work where they tell us. We have officers who regularly check on offenders to make sure they are following the rules and guidelines of the registry. It's important for our area residents to visit our website to see who the registered offenders are and where they live and work," says Hamilton County Sheriff Mark Bowen.

Residents are encouraged to check addresses where they live, work, and spend time to see if registered offenders live nearby. According to Sheriff Bowen, "The mapping and address feature found on the website pinpoints exactly where an offender lives or works."

The Offender Watch website also allows the ability to sign up for free automatic e-mail notifications if an offender moves within a specified radius of any registered address. "If you plan on trick-or-treating at another family member's house or a friend's house, register or search that address beforehand so offender homes can be avoided. The public can also use the website for addresses where children spend time, such as with relatives, babysitters, and friends," advises Sheriff Bowen. The alerts are real-time and sent via e-mail as soon as an offender registers with the Sheriff's Office.

Auditor of the Year

Hamilton County Auditor Dawn Coverdale has been named Auditor of the Year in Indiana. She was presented with the award Sept. 24 at the annual conference of the Association of Indiana Counties held this year in Bloomington.

Coverdale is in her second term as auditor. She was cited for her efficiency and invocative practices in what is now Indiana's fourth largest county. The auditor's office is the operations nerve center for county government, handling budgets, record keeping, accounts payable and receivable, payroll, mapping and transfer of real property and exemptions.

Employed in the office for seven years before being elected auditor in 2008 and re-elected in 2013, Coverdale is president of the Indiana Auditors' Association. She is married and mother of two grown sons. The family resides in Cicero.

Riverview Health Rehab & Fitness in Noblesville to showcase renovation

Riverview Health Rehab & Fitness in Noblesville located at 601 Westfield Rd., invites the community to an open house from 5 to 8 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 30. The open house will offer free gym access from 5 to 8 p.m., one-month free membership if you sign up at the open house plus a raffle prize. Free fitness classes include yoga at 6 p.m., Pilates at 6:30 p.m., Boxing Fusion at 6:30 p.m. (in the main workout area) and Fitness Over 55 at 7 p.m.

"A lot of people are pleasantly surprised to find out that we offer fitness programs, cardio and strength training equipment, and personal training to the general public looking to stay healthy and reach their fitness goals," said Chad Robertson, Coordinator of Sports Medicine and Fitness at Riverview Health. "We have Riverview Health Rehab & Fitness locations in Carmel and Noblesville, and no matter your goal—from maintaining a workout routine or just beginning one—we provide an environment where all fitness levels feel welcome."

Riverview Health Rehab & Fitness in Noblesville recently completed a renovation project in August, which included the addition of new strength and cardio equipment, as well as the remodel of the fitness classroom.

"All of the modern updates, such as new paint, flooring, motivational wall graphics, LED lights and large television screens, allow us to really meet the needs of our members who are looking for a top-notch fitness facility," noted Chad Robertson.

In addition to the recent renovation, Riverview Health Rehab & Fitness in Noblesville is the first fitness facility in Indiana to acquire BoxMaster, a new form of boxing-style conditioning equipment. This equipment is geared towards all levels and can provide an effective workout routine by involving every aspect of fitness training. The new Boxing Fusion class that will incorporate this equipment is a full body circuit-style approach with a focus on cardio. For more information, please call 317.776.7225.

Carmel business expanding...

Emerging Threats Pro to create 84 jobs in next five years

Press Release

Emerging Threats Pro LLC, a commercial and open source threat intelligence provider, announced plans today to expand its operations here, creating up to 84 new high-wage jobs by 2019.

The homegrown-Hoosier company will invest $967,000 to lease and equip 4,000 square feet of office space in the Parkwood Crossing Business Park in Carmel. Opening its doors this week, the new space is the company's second Indiana location and will expand the company's product and development team, customer service center and inside sales department.

"Companies looking to lead the latest high-tech innovations are placing their growth in Indiana," said Governor Mike Pence. "Launching and growing within the state, Emerging Threats demonstrates the Indiana advantage. Empowered by a top-rate team of Hoosiers, Emerging Threats has transformed a great idea into a successful venture, in turn creating even more jobs and opportunity right here in Indiana."

Emerging Threats, which has 24 full-time employees, is currently hiring sales, marketing, software engineers and product development positions. Interested applicants can apply at emergingthreats.net/about-us/careers/.

"Indiana is great place for us to be located," said Ken Gramley, chief executive officer of Emerging Threats. "With schools like Rose-Hulman and Purdue to recruit tomorrow's engineering stars, a state dedicated to providing a positive environment for small businesses, and the fantastic quality of life offered locally we can't think of anywhere else we would rather be. Our customers have told us that we provide the best Threat Intelligence in the world, and we are proud to provide it from here in Indiana!"

Founded in 2003, Emerging Threats provides malware and threat intelligence products and solutions to help protect mission-critical networks from known or potentially malicious threats. Offering solutions through its web-based portal IQRisk Query, the company serves original equipment manufacturers and companies of all sizes across the globe.

The Indiana Economic Development Corporation offered Emerging Threats Pro LLC up to $1,550,000 in conditional tax credits and up to $90,000 in training grants based on the company's job creation plans. These tax credits are performance-based, meaning until Hoosiers are hired, the company is not eligible to claim incentives. The city of Carmel supports the project.

"We congratulate Emerging Threats on its expansion in Carmel and we welcome the news that more high-paying jobs are being created," said Carmel Mayor Jim Brainard. "This news is affirmation once again that the Carmel-Indianapolis area continues to develop a national reputation for creating and sustaining high-tech jobs."

Indiana Republicans unveil 2015 Legislative Agenda

Press Release

Indiana House Speaker Brian C. Bosma (R-Indianapolis) along with members of the House Republican Caucus unveiled the 2015 House Republican Legislative Agenda. They outlined their plan to increase accountability for all Hoosiers while strengthening Indiana in four major categories: Budget, Education, Ethics and Public Safety.

"As elected leaders, we must be accountable to Hoosiers – accountability is our responsibility. I look forward to working together this legislative session to address these issues," said Speaker Bosma.

The state's biennial budget is up for review next legislative session; passing an honestly balanced budget that does not increase taxes on Hoosiers or place unsustainable financial burdens on future generations serves as the foundation of the House Republican agenda.

"We have an obligation to Hoosiers to manage our state's finances responsibly and live within our means," said State Rep. Tim Brown (R-Crawfordsville), the Chairman of Ways and Means. "As we begin to make preparations for the next two-year budget, we must consider the long-term health and sustainability of our economy by continuing to make strategic investments that secure our state's future."

According to the State Budget Agency, over half of the biennial budget currently goes towards Indiana's education system. The House Republicans will work to increase this funding while fixing the funding formula, reducing overhead, focusing dollars on the classroom and providing hard-working teachers with a tax credit.

"I have had many teachers across Indiana tell me that the distribution of school funds is unfair - we will fix this. For years, teachers across Indiana start their school years by dipping into their own wallets to buy supplies for their students. This session, we hope to provide teachers with a tax credit for these supplies. We need to support our public school teachers as they support our students," said Speaker Bosma.

House Republicans have a long track record of transparency initiatives. This session, ethics will be added to the list by strengthening disclosure laws, increasing transparency and safeguarding the public trust.

"This is not a Republican or Democrat issue - this is an issue that our entire institution must get behind because public confidence is indispensable to faith in democracy," said Speaker Bosma.

Even though Indiana's economic statistics are at an all-time high, public safety continues to be an issue impacting the state. Currently, the state is tied for the third highest amount of police deaths, Indiana is ranked as having the fifth highest infant mortality rate and the Indiana Coalition Against Domestic Violence (ICADV) turned away 1,743 victims due to lack of space at their shelters.

House Republicans will be working with local communities, strategically investing funds and working with the ICADV on multiple issues. The House will also be partnering with ICADV as the Speaker's charity initiative for the year.

Democratic response

Indiana House Democratic Leader Scott Pelath from Michigan City today issued the following statement on the agenda Indiana House Republicans will pursue in the 2015 session of the Indiana General Assembly:

"If you close your eyes for a moment, some of what the House Republicans advocated today sounded like they were reading from a book written by House Democrats.

"Yes, it is time to invest in our public schools again. But never forget the reason our schools are suffering: These same Indianapolis power brokers took a meat cleaver to them time and time again. Vouchers and other think-tank experiments kept getting the tenderloin, while public schools got the gristle.

"I don't know if I find it hilarious or sad that the only proposed tax relief is a tax credit to teachers who have to purchase school supplies for their students. Well, teachers are forced into that situation because their schools have been financially gutted of the basics by these same Republicans.

"I applaud their statement on ethics reform. Reforms are clearly needed, and House Democrats are ready to do the hard work.

"A commitment to public safety, infant mortality, and domestic violence is also worth crediting. What a shame that they missed so many opportunities during the 2014 session, when House Democrats fought for plans to equip our public safety personnel and battle every case of infant mortality. As for domestic violence, events of recent weeks have shown that preventing these wrongs still requires an inordinate amount of public pressure. Perhaps we will now put politics aside and tackle these real, life-and-death problems facing real people.

"And, at long last, we appear to have put an end to that pointless debate on who can marry whom in Indiana.

"But it is important to note that the words 'middle class' were nowhere to be found in their presentation. Tax cuts remain the exclusive province of the wealthy in our state. Their sacred economic mission is still to get money and power in the hands of a select few.

"Above all, never forget that the most cherished ritual of single-party rule in Indiana remains the chanting of the words '$2 billion budget surplus.' Nothing else is as important.

"We can do better. And it starts by putting the prosperity of our people first."

Gas prices falling, but lagging economic growth a cause

Press Release

Plummeting gasoline prices are the result of lagging economic growth in many parts of the world, the end of the summer driving season, less expensive winter gasoline and well-functioning Midwest refineries, Purdue University energy economist Wally Tyner says.

There's both good news and potentially bad news in all of that.

"Lower energy costs are like a tax cut," Tyner said, "meaning they give us more money to spend on other things, so the economy can be stimulated. However, the prices are lower in part because global demand has fallen, which means that there is less demand for the goods and services we export, which drags the economy down.

"Thus, the immediate effect is more disposable income for consumers, but longer term, that may be at least partially offset by reduced exports."

Tyner noted that the price of crude oil has fallen by more than $20 per barrel since the summer. It is currently about $84. He said gasoline prices fall by an average of 2.5 cents for every dollar that the price of crude oil falls. A drop of $20 in crude oil represents 50 cents at the pump.

Crude oil prices are dropping because of slow economic growth in Europe, China and many other parts of the world.

"Even the U.S. is growing slower than expected," Tyner said.

The slow growth around the world means less demand for the gasoline that the U.S. exports, lowering prices here in return, he said.

In addition, demand for gasoline typically drops off after the summer, a time when people are out and about, using cars on vacations and other outings. Less demand results in lower prices.

Also contributing to falling crude oil prices, Tyner said, are abundant supplies from the dramatic increase in U.S. production of oil from shale and the return of Libya to the world market.

The industry's switch from summer to winter gasoline also has provided some relief at the pump, normally at least 5 cents a gallon, Tyner said.

Tyner pointed out that Midwest gasoline prices historically have been a bit higher than the national average. But since early summer that has not been the case.

"Midwest refineries are all functioning well," he said. He noted that the refinery in Whiting, Indiana - the largest in the region - uses heavy crude such as Canadian oil sands crude, which is less expensive than lighter crudes.

Tyner said the prospects look good for prices at the pump to stay around current levels, at least in the short term.

"However, no doubt we will have ups and downs because of world events or refining problems," he said. "But they are not likely to fall much more because the expensive oil cannot be produced if crude falls further."

It's Senior Night at Heights...

Huskies are 14-0 against Peru

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

In all honesty, Hamilton Heights isn't, on this last Friday night in the regular season, going to tie for the Mid-Indiana Conference championship. In order to do that, Western would have to pull a big upset and knock off loop-leader Lewis Cass. Western is 2-6 on the year and recently lost to Heights, 42-12.

Heights lost to Lewis Cass, 26-14, back on Sept. 12. Cass' only loss of the season was 34-18 non-conference, season opener to Pioneer. "We're a different team than when we played Cass," said Heights coach Mitch Street.

The game on Friday at Hamilton Heights will be Senior Night.

Peterson

The game on Friday at Hamilton Heights will be Senior Night. "Peru plays hard," warned Street. "We just need to go out and take care of business. "We have just eight seniors on this team. We want to send them off with a win." Beating Peru, to be very truthful, hasn't often been tough for Hamilton Heights football teams. The Huskies are 14-0 in the series. The last four games haven't even been close ... 64-27, 75-13, 69-6 and 61-7. Nine of the 14 Heights wins HH has allowed one TD or less.

Peru came out of the gate this season by beating three lightweights and losing to Logansport. The Tigers defeated Wabash 12-9, Eastern 17-7 and Taylor 14-7. They lost to Logansport, 38-21.

Peru will come to Heights with four straight losses, falling to Cass 28-7, Western 29-7, Maconaquah 20-0 and Northwestern 41-7.

Peru has a couple of talented skilled players in quarterback Kordell Presscott (31-of-93 for 345 yards) and running back Brady Miller (141 carries for 603 yards).

Street said the Huskies played one of their best overall games of the season in the win over Western last week. He liked the balanced offense attack his team showed.

"Ethan Jones is throwing the ball well and he is managing the game well," said the coach. "He has a good touch."

Jones has thrown for over 400 yards, and teaming up with ace receiver Grant Weatherford, that has been a solid 1-2 punch for the offense.

"Grant is a much underrated defensive player," said Street.

Jesse Kerfoot, the team's leading rusher, will be out of action again this week with an injury, trying to get ready for what will be a very tough sectional.

Big Friday night for the HCC championship

The Hoosier Crossroads Conference, after its first six-game conference schedule in history, comes down to this:

- *If Fishers defeats Zionsville on Friday, the Tigers will at least share a tie for the championship. Fishers would need a win from Noblesville over Avon to win the crown outright.
- *Should Fishers lose to Zionsville and Avon defeats Noblesville, Avon will be the champion.
- *If Noblesville defeats Avon and should Zionsville upset Fishers, Noblesville, Fishers and Avon will share the championship.

Look for the previews of the Noblesville-Avon and Fishers-Zionsville games in Friday's Hamilton County Reporter. The very latest on the big games.

Having coached for 50 years, you've got to think Sheridan's Bud Wright has seen it all. Not quite. Not until the past few days. It all started last Friday with a three-hour bus trip to Linton and then a 29-14 loss to Linton Stockton. Bad enough, but there is more.

Ly

On Saturday, Wright learned that five of the referees who worked that game were from the Linton Stockton school area.

Then, on this roller coaster ride, on Sunday, Sheridan drew Tindley (a second-year school) in the first round of the sectional. The winner plays Clinton Central, a team Sheridan has beaten 42-12.

Not bad news.

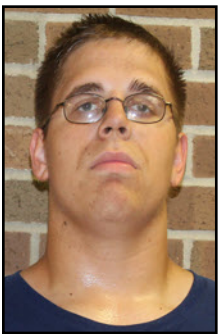

Even better news, during the week Sheridan was informed that Carroll was forfeiting four of its wins this season because of using ineligible players. Three of those wins were in the Hoosier Heartland Conference over Sheridan (20-14), Clinton Central and Clinton Prairie. The other was a non-conference victory over Caston.

So, Sheridan will enter a season finale on Friday at Tri-Central tied with the Trojans at 3-0 in the conference. Winner takes all.

Wright still is steaming over what happened at Linton Stockton.

"Five of those guys were from Linton Stockton and three had graduated for there in the last six years," Wright said. "There are no IHSAA rules against that, but it just isn't right. We had 80 yards of penalties and they had five yards. Their five yards came because the band was on the field too soon."

All of that aside, now comes the battle with Tri-Central. The two-long time rivals could meet a second time in the championship game of the sectional.

Barnes

Leeman

"Tri-Central is a solid team," Wright said. "They must be; they've won 23 of their last 24 games, including the state championship."

This game will be highlighted by a matchup of two long time coaches, Wright in his 50th year and George Gilbert in his 34th year. Gilbert coached at Clinton Central before moving to Tri-Central.

"They lost some good people from last year's team, but they've done a good job at replacing them," Wright talked about the Trojans.

Tri-Central, like Sheridan, loves to run the football. They've had just two games of passing for more than 100 yards, 101 against Monroe Central and 129 against Clinton Prairie. They've rushed for over 200 yards in every game.

Monroe Central, which defeated Tri-Central 26-20 back on Sept. 19, isn't ranked in the Class 1A top 10. Tri-Central is ranked No. 7.

Since the loss to Monroe Central, Tri-Central has defeated Clinton Central 37-6, Anderson Prep 46-0 and Wes-Del 51-12. Earlier victories by the Trojans were over Lapel 40-18, Taylor 42-6, Carroll 15-13 and Clinton Prairie 50-6.

Sheridan should feel right at home against TC. The Blackhawks also love to run the football. They've had 380 carries for 1,997 yards rushing on 531 yards on a 34-of-83 effort through the air.

Austin Hoover has rushed for 1,699 yards in 285 carries and has rushed for 20 touchdowns. Next in line is quarterback Garrett Chesney with 72 carries for 255 yards.

Chesney has hit on 32-of-79 passes for 530 yards and seven touchdowns. His leading receiver is Jacob Chesney with 21 catches for 390 yards.

Hoover also has returned five punts for 114 yards and a TD and six kickoff for 234 yards. Jacob Chesney has nine kickoff returns for 216 yards and K.J. Acevedo nine for 123 yards.

Wright had some kind words for his place-kicker, Katie Hybarger, who has booted 18-of-25 PAT and a field goal.

"Katie really has done a good job kicking for us," said Wright.

Hoover is the leading tackler on defense with 74 solo tackles, followed by Robert Sizemore 55, Jacob Chesney 46 and Joey Callahan 44.

Callahan and Sizemore each have three quarterback sacks. Garrett Chesney and Jacob Chesney each have intercepted two passes.

Tri-Central is averaging 37.6 points a game on offense and is giving up just 10.9 points a game. Sheridan is scoring at a 25.4 clip and allowing 20.8 points a game.

Game time Friday at Tri-Central is 7 p.m.

It's Senior Night at The Rock...

Westfield hosts Washington

By DON JELLISON

Westfield will celebrate Senior Night Friday by playing their last regular season game at Red Stanley Field. The Shamrocks will be in their new stadium home next season.

Indianapolis Washington will be in town Friday.

Coach Jake Gilbert is hoping the last scheduled home game will be better than the team's last regular season home game last week at Fishers.

"We are focused on getting back to work after getting spanked by Fishers (38-7) last week," Burton said.

"We play Washington this week and we drew the No. 2 team in Class 5A

Harrison

(McCutcheon) for the sectional. We have our work cut out for us.

"I expect our guys to rise to the occasion," Gilbert added.

Actually, it has been a tough two weeks for the Shamrocks. Two weeks ago Westfield lost 23-6 to Avon, which currently is tied for first place in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference with Fishers.

Sometimes, won-lost records are overrated. This could be one of those weeks. Westfield is 4-4 in the tough HCC. Washington has won three of five games while playing a light-weight schedule.

Washington's wins have been over Manual 49-8, Northwest 15-14 and Southside Home School 38-36. The Continentals have lost to Tindley 34-20, Shortridge 44-13, Broad Ripple 22-20, Lutheran 46-14 and Indiana Deaf 51-25.

Westfield has a lot of fireworks to throw at Washington.

Quarterback Ryan Pepiot has thrown for 1,401 yards on 98-of-179. He has passed for seven touchdowns and has been intercepted eight times.

Pepiot likes to throw to Ben Lotfalian (36 catches for 416 yards), Milo Beam (26 catches for 532 yards and Nick Henderson (17 receptions for 288 yards). Of Westfield's seven aerial touchdowns, Beam, Henderson and Lotfalian each have three.

On the ground, Westfield has scored 19 times. Elvin Caldwell has rushed 148 times for 765 yards and 11 touchdowns. Next in the rushing department is Pepiot with 67 carries for 319 yards and five touchdowns and Brandon Karsnick with 51 carries for 265 yards and three scores.

On the defensive side of the football, the tackle leader is Matt Crupi with 38 tackles and he also has 61 assists. Ryan Rubicz is next with 29 tackles and 16 assists.

Crupi and Michael Patterson each have four quarterback sacks and Stan Mattingly has three. As a team, Westfield has 15 sacks. Cameron Harrison has two of Westfield's eight pass picks.

Guerin's streak was broken...

Eagles looking for long road win

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Guerin Catholic would like to cure any ills left from a 42-13 licking dished out by Chatard last Friday. Diving three hours north to Culver Academy might be just the medicine the Golden Eagles need.

After starting the season with three victories over lightweights Tippecanoe Valley 36-13, Marshall 20-6 and Buchanan (Michigan) 37-30, Culver's Eagles have lost five games. They've fallen to Lafayette Central Catholic 35-7, Brebeuf 48-7, John Glenn 48-7, Indianapolis Howe 46-22, and West Lafayette 55-14.

Coach Tom Dilley's Guerin team has beaten three of those clubs, Central Catholic 17-7, Howe 38-6 and Brebeuf 25-3.

Guerin had a four-game winning streak snapped by Chatard last week.

"Chatard was just being Chatard," said Dilley, who once coached at Chatard.

Until Chatard unloaded, five points had stood between the now 5-3 Golden Eagles and an undefeated season. They had lost to Martinsville by four and Terre Haute South by one in overtime. In those games, the Class 3A Eagles played 5A foes. Chatard is 4A.

"We didn't play well," Dilley said. "Now, we've got to go out and play (Friday) and not look ahead to the future (a very tough sectional)."

Chatard ran and ran the football.

"They put together a good game plan," Dilley said. "We couldn't get our defense off the field."

Quarterback Matt Labus had a good game throwing the football. He is 92-of-177 for the season for 1,465 yards.

"Matt put together a good overall game," Dilley said.

The coach also is happy with ace receivers Brian Matthews and Arion Shinaver. For the season, Matthews has 40 receptions to 780 yards and 11 touchdowns and Shinaver has 29 catches for 391 yards and three scores.

Schnase

With sophomore rushing leader Carter McGinnis (90 carries for 489 yards) still sidelined with an injury, Dilley has gone to defensive lineman Trace Bulger for double duty action. Bulger led a limited Guerin Catholic running game against Chatard. For the season he has carried 12 times for 62 yards.

"We had used Bulger as a blocking back, but now he has become a two-way starter," Dilley said.

Dilley, despite Culver Academy's 3-5 record and five game losing streak, doesn't expect an easy game.

"They play hard, and we've got the long road trip to make," said the coach.

Guerin Catholic's offense is scoring 30.4 points a game and the defense, even after giving up 42 to Chatard, is allowing just 17.1 a contest.

Leading the defense are Kyle Schultz with 55 tackles and 47 assists; Evan Hansen with 52 tackles and 30 assists and Brady McGinnis with 45 tackles and 38 assists.

Jordan Hitchcock has nine sacks and Bulger has three. The Eagles have 18 sacks. Shinaver has four of the team's 11 pass interceptions. Hudson Plumer has three.

Wouldn't it be nice to start again?

HSE, 'burg better than 3-5

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Likely, if one would poll the Hamilton Southeastern and Brownsburg football teams, coaches and players, they would tell you they would like to go back to August and start the season all over again. Of course, they will get that opportunity in another week when the playoffs begin.

But, looking back over the regular season, Southeastern and Brownsburg truly are teams better than their 3-5 records.

Noblesville, one of the better teams in the Hoosier Crossroads Conference, would agree. The Millers lost to Southeastern 16-7 two weeks ago and then last week squeezed by Brownsburg 36-35 in overtime.

Between the two teams, Brownsburg has the biggest win of the season. Brownsburg is the only team in the conference which has defeated Avon, 27-7. That also is Brownsburg's only win in the conference.

"Brownsburg is a team that I think has as good skilled players as anyone in the league," said HSE coach Scott May, looking ahead to hosting the Bulldogs this Friday at Reynolds Royals Stadium. "Starting with running back Toks Akinribade, who lead the HCC in rushing, and sophomore quarterback Hunter Johnson, a D1 player with a big arm. These two will make you defend the field and have the ability to big play you.

Leiner

Claton

"Brownsburg is aggressive on defense, too, and they play hard," May continued. "This team beat Avon, a team I believe is the best in the HCC, and Brownsburg took Noblesville to overtime last week.

"We need to get this one to help us move in the right direction for the sectional and Fishers Tigers," May added.

| WR: Chris Ford, Sr., 170.              | SS: Brock Burns, So., 175.       |

Southeastern will have to get the job done without one of their better players. David Herrmann with miss the game with an injury and Ty Scholl is a question mark.

"Herrmann is a big loss at defensive back, punter and punt return ... a guy who does it all," said May.

Hunter has passed for 1,112 yards and 10 touchdowns in seven games. In eight games, Akinribade has carried the ball 191 times for 1,306 yards and 14 touchdowns.

The Royals also have some big numbers, led by junior running back Aaron Matio with 795 yards and eight touchdowns in 144 carries.

Quarterback Carter Poiry has completed 71-of-139 passes for 806 yards and five touchdowns. Leading receivers are Kyle Schrank with 27 catches for 266 yards; Chris Ford with 26 for 408, and Will Coudret with 20 receptions for 263 yards.

Leading Southeastern in tackles are Brock Burns with 45 and Ryan Clements with 41. Collin Miler has four quarterback sacks among Southeastern's 12. Burns has intercepted two passes.

The two teams have traded blowout wins the last two seasons. Southeastern won 37-0 last year after losing 42-14 two years ago.

Carmel goalkeeper Celene Funke calls out direction to her defense during the No. 2-ranked Greyhounds' regional semi-final game with Cathedral on Wednesday. Carmel needed penalty kicks to get past the Irish, setting a up a Saturday championship clash with No. 1 Brebeuf Jesuit

'Hounds stop Irish in PK's

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor
It seems the Carmel girls soccer team does not want anything to be easy.

Clark

That's probably not true, but the Greyhounds have perfected the art of winning in extra time - and more. Class 2A regional host Carmel edged past upset-minded Cathedral in a Wednesday semi-final game, with the 'Hounds winning in a penalty kick shootout 3-2.

The official score is 1-0. Neither the No. 2-ranked Greyhounds nor the unranked Irish scored in 80 minutes of regulation and 14 minutes of overtime. That shows how good the defense is, but Carmel coach Frank Dixon admitted after the game that he would like to see his team go on the offensive a little more.

"They've forgotten how to score," said Dixon. He said his team will need to work on that, because he noted that the teams in Wednesday's other semi-final, No. 1 Brebeuf Jesuit and co-No. 3 Avon, both can score.

"We played well all the way up to the 18, and even sometimes inside the 18," said Dixon. "We just didn't make our chances."

Dixon made his comments immediately before the start of that game. The Braves beat the defending state champion Orioles 1-0, which means it will be a No. 1 vs. No. 2 match-up at Saturday's regional final. Game time is noon.

Whelan

Carmel took control of the shootout immediately, with goalkeeper Celene Funke blocking Cathedral's first attempt. Greyhound freshman Katie Soderstrom then made Carmel's first kick.

Funke would block another Irish kick, while senior Ryan Kokoska made the Greyhounds' third kick. Both teams receive five attempts in a penalty-kick situation, and it was Chandler Backes who got the fifth attempt with the shootout tied at 2-2. The junior easily made her kick to send her team into the championship game.

Carmel is now 15-1-3 with the win. Cathedral ended its season at 6-9-2, but the Irish played a very difficult schedule. In addition to seeing both Brebeuf and Avon in the regular season, Cathedral also played co-No. 3 Noblesville, No. 10 Zionsville and No. 11 Guerin Catholic, along with Heritage Christian, the No. 2-ranked team in Class 1A. The Irish upset No. 16 North Central to win the Panthers' sectional, another ranked team they played in the regular season.

FISHERS DOMINATES JAY COUNTY

Up at the Logansport regional, No. 6 Fishers took care of business early, dominating Jay County 7-0 in a semi-final game.

The Tigers scored all of their goals in the first half. Seven different players found the back of the net: Kylie Hohlt, Maryna Clark, Darby Whelan, Kennedy Turner, Chloe Ulmer, Brady Riley and Haley Bird. Clark and Whelan each had an assist as well. Alex Reible made one goalkeeper save.

Fishers, now 12-1-6 on the season, will play Marion in the championship game, which is set for 1 p.m. Saturday. The Giants needed penalty kicks to get past Harrison, winning the shootout 4-2 and the game 2-1.

Indians name Randy Lewandowski General Manager

Lewandowski

The Indianapolis Indians have promoted Randy Lewandowski to general manager. An employee of the organization since 1994 – the past eight years as assistant general manager – he assumes the day-to-day responsibilities from Cal Burleson who will remain with the organization as vice president of baseball and administrative affairs.

Ticket sales and service, marketing, sponsorship, operations, Victory Field maintenance, facilities, grounds, communications and budgets fall under Lewandowski's supervision.

Lewandowski becomes only the fourth general manager since the organization was incorporated in 1955. He joined the Tribe as a ticket office intern, and accepted a fulltime position shortly after as assistant ticket manager. In 1997 Lewandowski was promoted to director of operations. He was named assistant general manager in 2007.

"Within our plans for continued growth, this announcement designates Randy as a long-term leader of the Indianapolis Indians organization. It's a distinction that is well-earned," said Burleson. "Randy has exhibited great leadership in numerous major projects in recent years, including upgrades to our scoreboards, the creation of The Cove, our IT infrastructure, and expansion of the ticket office and souvenir shops.

"Under his enthusiastic leadership it's no wonder our front office is among The Best Places to Work in Indiana."

The Indians have recorded five consecutive years of increased attendance, and this past season broke the 1998 single-season attendance record in 18-year-old Victory Field (660,289).

"Randy is well-qualified to perform the demanding duties required of the Indianapolis Indians' general manager," said longtime Tribe President and Board Chairman Max Schumacher. "Since joining the Indians as an intern 20 years ago, he has excelled in a variety of responsibilities that have helped our organization rise to record attendance levels that generate consistent operating profits and shareholder dividends. The Indians organization is well-positioned going forward behind the leadership of Vice President of Baseball and Administrative Affairs Cal Burleson and Randy.

"Our emphasis will continue to be on maximizing the Victory Field experience for our fans," said Schumacher.

"It is a great honor and privilege to be chosen to lead such a successful and storied franchise," Lewandowski said. "The leadership and guidance provided over the years by Max, Cal and the Indians' board of directors has prepared our organization for this next step. The Indianapolis Indians will always strive to be a great community partner and provide our fans the best baseball and entertainment experience possible. Our entire staff relishes the challenge to build upon our recent success, and will continue to make Victory Field the downtown summertime destination."

Burleson, who just completed his 40th season with the organization – including his 16th as general manager – will continue as the Indians' primary point of contact with other entities in professional baseball, and be the point person for the Indians' role in the community.

A Business Management major, Lewandowski graduated from Anderson University in 1993, and was a four-year starter on the Ravens' baseball team.

Lewandowski has been active in the Indiana chapter of the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society as past president and member of the board of trustees, and past chair of the LLS Light the Night Walk. For the past six years he has been active in the youth sports coaching and mentoring ministry at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church and School. He is a current member of the Stadium Managers Association, and was twice named one of Indy's Best and Brightest by Junior Achievement of Central Indiana (2004, 2006).

A native of Fort Wayne, Ind., Lewandowski and his wife, Christina, live in Carmel, Ind. with their children Alyssa (16) and Sam (14).

Sheridan Community Recreation opens registration for basketball season

Sheridan Community Recreation is ready to get started with basketball season, and is offering opportunities for all interested girls and boys in grades K- 5.

The league will consist of age appropriate divisions. The purpose is to have fun and begin developing proper basketball fundamentals. Players of all talents and experiences are encouraged to sign up. Everyone will have the same opportunity to play basketball, and learn the game of basketball. Sportsmanship will be expected and a critical component as all players will be future teammates representing Sheridan Community Schools.

Basketball registration will be online at <http://www.sheridanyouthsports.com> and will close Nov. 7. The registration fee is $55 for K-1, and $75 for grades 2-5.

Please sign up early and take advantage of the open clinic dates, which will be posted online at <http://www.sheridanyouthsports.com> once the gym schedule is finalized. Please check back often.

In house play is mandatory for all players wishing to participate on a travel team. Travel teams will be available per age group, grades 2-5. If you would like your son or daughter to be part of a travel team please signify that choice in the appropriate section of the online registration. Space is limited for travel teams and all requests may not be able to be fulfilled. In such cases, refunds for travel fees will be distributed. The fee is $25.

If you have any questions or concerns please contact Randy Garner at 317-645-8067 or sheridanyouthbasketball@gmail.com

Indy Eleven Opens Up Additional Seating for Saturday's game

With Indy Eleven Professional Soccer fast approaching its official sellout capacity of 10,285 for its home finale this Saturday, October 18, Indiana's North American Soccer League club has announced it will open up additional seating sections at Carroll Stadium to meet demand for "Hoosier Lottery Fan Appreciation Night" and "Military Appreciation Night" against the San Antonio Scorpions.

Kickoff this Saturday night is set for 7:30 p.m. ET, and tickets can be purchased online at IndyEleven.com or over the phone between 9:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. on weekdays. Fans that can't make the kickoff at "The Mike" can watch all the action live via the MyINDY-TV 23 broadcast or online at NASLLive.com (subscription package).

"The club's passionate fan base has stayed behind their 'Boys in Blue' through thick and thin this season," said

Indy Eleven President/General Manager Peter Wilt. "Accommodating as much of the Indy Eleven family as possible at our final home game this Saturday is the least we can do to thank them for their dedication and support throughout a memorable 2014 campaign."

Indy Eleven will make history this weekend by becoming the first American professional soccer franchise to sellout every home game during its inaugural season. Indiana's Team is averaging 10,425 fans a night at its home on the campus of IUPUI thanks to sellout crowds filling the stands for each of its first 13 NASL regular season matches. Indy Eleven leads the NASL in attendance by nearly 2,000 fans a game and will become just the second team in the four seasons of the NASL's modern era to average more than 10,000 spectators a game, joining the 2011 edition of the Montreal Impact (11,507).

Boys Tennis squads square off for state championship weekend

Seven of the top nine teams in the state including five squads from last year lead the field into 48th Annual IHSAA Boys Tennis State Finals this weekend.

Four quarterfinal matches will be played Friday at 3 pm ET at Carmel and Center Grove high schools with the winners returning on Saturday at 10 am ET at North Central High School for a pair of semifinals and the state championship match at 2 pm ET.

The top half of the bracket at Carmel calls for defending state champion and second-ranked North Central of Indianapolis (19-1) to play No. 3 Park Tudor (17-4) and No. 9 Delta (24-0) meeting Culver Academies (13-7). North Central and Park Tudor are each making their fourth consecutive appearances in the state finals and this will be the third time the two neighborhood rivals will face each other this season. North Central won both previous meetings by a 3-2 count. Senior Danny Rayl (17-0) is the defending singles state champion at No. 1 for Park Tudor.

Undefeated Delta also returns from 2013 and will attempt to make it into Saturday's semifinal round behind the play of their No. 1 doubles team, Jay Robillard and Nick Wilson, both seniors, who are undefeated at 27-0. Culver Academies might be the surprise entry into this year's finals. The Eagles carved their path to this point going 11-3 down the stretch after enduring a 2-4 start to the season. Junior Sam Concannon holds down the No. 1 singles position with a 21-0 ledger. Neither team has played any of the other state finalists this season.

In the other half of the bracket at Center Grove, top-ranked Carmel (19-0) will take on No. 4 Center Grove (19-3) and No. 6 Jeffersonville (20-1) meets No. 7 Jasper (18-3).

The Greyhounds boast three undefeated positions this season which they hope will lead to a fourth state crown in five seasons. Junior Azad Koya is 16-0 at No. 3 singles, while Matt Quammen and Radha Vishnubhotla team at No. 1 doubles with a 24-0 mark and Patrick Fletchall and Zach Hennessey have played No. 2 to a 17-0 tune. Carmel has only given up four points all season having beaten North Central and Park Tudor by 3-2 scores. This will be the second matchup in three weeks with conference rival Center Grove. Carmel took a 5-0 decision on Sept. 27. The Trojans have been a regular fixture at this level of the tournament, this being their fifth trip in seven seasons.

Jeffersonville took a 3-2 road victory from Jasper in an early-season match. The two southern Indiana powers will lock horns on Friday with the winner advancing to the semifinal round. This will be Jasper's fourth straight trip to the state finals while Jeffersonville returns for the first time since 2010 when it made a run to the state semis.

Also taking place this weekend at four sites around the state are the individual regionals for singles and doubles players. Results from all the matches will be available from IHSAA.org throughout the weekend and on Twitter at @IHSAA1.
