SPAULDING

LTC Spaulding, a Fishers resident, has received many honors, and will receive another next weekend. He will be among 16 military veterans with Hoosier ties inducted into the inaugural class of the Indiana Military Veterans Hall of Fame. The first induction ceremony will take place on Friday, Nov. 7 at the Garrison at Ft. Benjamin Harrison in Lawrence. Tickets can be purchased for the induction ceremony online at <https://imvhof.eventbrite.com>. The IMVHOF did a statewide call for nominations in June, resulting in 60 applications. Sixteen military veterans with Hoosier ties were selected for outstanding service achievements or military and community contributions. LTC Spaulding enlisted in the Army in June 1958, and served until June 30, 1987 - personnel always retire at the end of the month. LTC Spaulding spent nine years as a non-commissioned man, then became commissioned in 1967. LTC Spaulding, 74, was a career military man, and he said that those who serve will serve "with some of the finest people that this country's ever produced." "And they will be your friends for life," said LTC Spaulding. "That's why you see so many reunions all the time. And that's why it's so important, like for your World War II bunch, to go to their reunions. "It's a good life, you just got to put up with a couple wars." LTC Spaulding served a total of six years and nine months in Vietnam, including a harrowing day on July 23, 1970. In LTC Spaulding's biography on the Rip Cord Association Web site, the story of that day is told. Then-Captain Spaulding piloted a Scout helicopter from his base at Camp Evans to render aid to a Fire Support Base and two companies. He soon found himself taking heavy fire, but was able to mark enemy positions, first with smoke grenades and then with a sidearm. The helicopter was soon damaged too heavily to continue operation, so Captain Spaulding and his pilot got it back to Camp Evans. The pilot refused to go back, but Captain Spaulding got a second helicopter. It too was damaged by the enemy. So was a third helicopter. Finally, on the fourth helicopter, Captain Spaulding was able to rescue the two companies, all the while taking fire on the aircraft and himself. It was that bravery that earned Captain Spaulding the Distinguished Flying Cross. Among other awards, LTC Spaulding was awarded the Silver Star, Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal (with Valor Device), two additional Bronze Stars and the Vietnam Cross of Gallantry with Palm. After he finished in Vietnam, LTC Spaulding went back to special forces and to Command General Staff College - "did that one to go up the line." He and a few other officers became advisors to the Special Forces Unit, with a mission to "get them up to par." "I had the first battalion of the 12 Special Forces, and that was located out of Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base in Kansas," said LTC Spaulding. "I had nine different locations in seven different states that I had to look after." When he came close to retiring, LTC Spaulding asked how close to his hometown of Indianapolis he could get - he was born on Keeling Street and graduated from Howe High School in 1957. The closest was Camp Atterbury. He served there as the Senior Advisor to the 70th Infantry Division from the latter part of 1985 until his retirement in 1987.

The first meeting of the SAG was held last evening. At that meeting a discussion was held on data generated in 2013-14 school year and the first nine weeks of the 2014-15 school year. The committee was asked to generate a list of pros and cons about the current school calendar. The next meeting is set for Wednesday, Nov. 19. The SAG will see four or five versions of potential calendars for the 2015-16 and 2016-17 school years. The group will develop a survey that will be distributed to all staff and parents to gain feedback on future calendars. On Thursday, Dec. 11, the discussion will be finalized with a discussion by choosing a set of calendars that best meet the needs of the Heights students, based on survey responses, data generated in the 2013-14 school year, and the first nine weeks of 2014-15 school year. "I will present our calendar recommendations to the HHSC School

Carmel Police report vehicle thefts

On Tuesday, Oct. 28, at approximately 5:20 a.m., Carmel Police responded to a theft in progress call at 12450 Pennsylvania St. A witness described seeing two black males wearing hoodies running from the victim’s vehicle. The suspects left the area in a white pickup truck.

Carmel Police located the suspect vehicle (a white Ford F-150) in the area of Meridian/116th Street. A traffic stop was attempted in the area of southbound Meridian Street/ I-465, but the suspects refused to stop. Carmel Police pursued the suspect vehicle south on Meridian Street. The pursuit was terminated in the area of Kessler/Meridian.

It was later discovered that approximately 20 vehicles were broken into in the Lakes of Carmel Apts., Penn Circle Apts. & the Courtyard of Marriott parking lots. The victim’s vehicles had their windows smashed and subsequently a variety of electronics, laptops, cash and credit cards were stolen.

Police are asking that if anyone has information on these thefts or the suspect vehicle to contact the Carmel Police Department Investigations Division at 571-2511 or Crime Stoppers of Central Indiana 317-262-8477 (TIPS).

Westfield Council approves Grand Park indoor facility

At its meeting last night, the Westfield City Council approved a lease agreement as presented for an indoor facility at Grand Park. The final vote was 6 in favor, one opposed.

The 370,000 square foot indoor facility is being built by private developer Holladay Properties. It will be located along 191st street and Grand Park Blvd.

The facility will have 3 full-size professional soccer fields that can be used year round for recreational and competitive play for all field sports. The building will have office space, locker rooms, meeting rooms and a restaurant focused on family dining.

It is scheduled to open November 2015.

ISP attend cutting edge training in Louisville

On October 14th and 15th, twelve detectives from the Indiana State Police and nine crime scene investigators, also from the Indiana State Police, participated in a forensic gunshot wound evaluation program. The training was part of a 40 hour educational course including a two day practicum, in which the officers observed scenario re-enactments, learned about gunshot trajectory and impact analysis, evidence collection, and wound feature identification.

The training course was the first of its kind here in the United States and designed to help support new standards that will protect justice and save taxpayer dollars. In addition, the course will help support transparency and objectivity in cases involving violent crime and gunshot evidence. The program’s content was developed by renowned forensic science expert, Dr. Bill Smock.

Indiana State Police Superintendent Doug Carter stated, “This training will enhance the Department’s statewide capabilities as it pertains to investigating and processing crime scenes involving the use of firearms. Additionally, it will be the first step in developing an advanced group of ISP personnel who are trained in investigating the many facets of use of force incidents. The personnel selected represent the Criminal Investigation Division and the Laboratory Division and were selected based on their experience and capabilities. By selecting detectives and crime scene investigators geographically from around the state, this will not only provide for a timely response to incidents, but will give the Department highly trained personnel throughout the state, which will enhance the overall investigative product for the communities in which they serve.”

Fishers redevelopment calls for acquisition and development plans

Press Release

The Town of Fishers Redevelopment Commission (FRC) announced a call for applicants to submit a plan for acquisition and development of a parcel on Maple Street in the Nickel Plate District. The parcel is currently owned by the FRC and is part of the plan to continue the redevelopment of downtown Fishers.

"The RFP parcel while small, represents a big step in the next phase of redevelopment in the Nickel Plate District," said Tom Dickey, Fishers' Director of Community Development. "An important part of our strategy has been to set the stage for smaller-scale redevelopment opportunities like this. We look forward to seeing the Maple Street area transform over time with better access to existing businesses and new development occurring there."

The FRC currently owns the .25 acre parcel at 11634 Maple Street with an existing structure that must be demolished. The FRC will consider any mix of uses that furthers the goals and policies of the redevelopment and economic development initiatives, including mixed-use development containing commercial and residential uses. Proposal responses should be submitted no later than noon (EST) on Friday, Nov. 14.

Town officials are requesting a construction schedule along with the proposal that includes a completion date by the end of 2015. For more information or for a copy of the RFP, please visit www.fishers.in.us

Stoney Creek second graders ask... What does Noblesville need?

Second graders at Stoney Creek Elementary recently completed a community project to answer the challenge of "what does Noblesville need"? They met with the mayor to learn about what a community is and why it's important, took a field trip around Noblesville to a police station, fire station, history museum, etc., did research on current offerings in Noblesville, conducted interviews, generated proposals and then communicated the proposals back to the mayor and other community leaders.

A sample of their ideas for Noblesville include:

- Green space
- Trees
- Parks
- Hotels
- River clean up
- Safety and security
- YMCA
- Dog park with an Orange Leaf frozen yogurt
- Toy donation center
- Hair salon
- Fashion mall
- Clean up crew
- Fazolis
- Better sidewalks

Part of $10 million remodel, expansion...

Kroger to temporarily close Carmel store in early February

Kroger Central Division will temporarily close its store at 1217 Rangeline Road in Carmel, Indiana for 16 weeks starting in early February. The temporary closure will allow a major renovation and expansion of the store into a flagship, upscale Kroger store unique in the state of Indiana. The total investment will exceed $10 million and the store will be expanded by 18,235 square feet to 80,677 square feet.

Kroger will operate a smaller store, with limited food and general merchandise, at an adjacent store previously occupied by Walgreens. A temporary, full-service pharmacy will be set up next to the former Walgreens building. Pharmacy operating hours will not change.

During the remodel and temporary closing, the adjacent Turkey Hill convenience store, which is managed by a different Kroger operating division, will remain open.

All associates at the Carmel location will continue working at nearby Kroger locations during the store closing, at their usual compensation and benefit levels.

- Key features of the expanded store will include:
- New food bistro, including sushi and made-to-order chef stations
- Expanded butcher shop and fresh seafood market, including a grilling station
- Expanded organic and natural food selection

- Expanded specialty foods selection
- New and enhanced floral shop
- New and enhanced produce department
- An expanded wine and liquor shop
- Community kitchen on the mezzanine, to be used for customer and community education events
- Murray’s Cheese shop
- Starbucks
- An expanded pharmacy and a new Little Clinic
- Upstairs and outdoor caf  s with WiFi

As the store’s reopening date approaches, Kroger will use the second floor of the Turkey Hill store as a hiring center. In addition to keeping all current Carmel associates, the company will hire up to 100 new associates.

"I am very excited about the expansion announcement from Kroger today. The $10 million renovation investment and eventual addition of 100 new jobs will have a favorable tax impact of approximately $200,000 annually on the local economy. Renovating the Carmel location on Range Line Road into an upscale flagship store is perfectly in line with its location so close to our new downtown at City Center. It will provide the residents there, in the Arts & Design District and eventually Midtown with a convenient high quality grocery and a place to grab a quick healthy meal. The fact that many of these residents are now in walking distance from the store is an added bonus to a healthy lifestyle," said Carmel Mayor Jim Brainard.

Kroger Central Division President Jeff Burt said, “As a leader in the intensely competitive retail food industry, The Kroger Co. not only continues to accelerate the pace and scale of our investments in new and remodeled stores, we very effectively tailor the design and merchandising mix of each store to the unique expectations of that store’s customers. After we close the Carmel store for a period of sixteen weeks, operate temporarily from the Walgreens and then push through an ambitious 16 week construction phase, we will reopen with a unique-in-Indiana, upscale marketplace that our Carmel customers will find truly amazing. My team and I are very excited to showcase this store and we are equally enthused by the investment in our exceptional Carmel associates. As the store reopens and associates return from nearby stores, they will be one of our best-trained teams in Indiana and will be joined by new associates as we create job opportunities in Carmel. We’ll be asking for patience and understanding from our Carmel customers during the temporary closing and will work extremely hard from a smaller, temporary store in the former Walgreen’s location, a full-service pharmacy and the Turkey Hill convenience store. In the end, I have no doubt this showcase store will be worth the wait.”

Indianapolis Airport Authority working on solar farm

The Indianapolis Airport Authority (IAA) is pleased to announce that it will soon have the largest airport solar farm on the planet, able to supply enough energy to power 3,200 homes. When completed the IND Solar farm will encompass more than 150 acres, with more than 76,000 solar panels, and generate more than 31 million kilowatt hours.

"The Indianapolis Airport Authority is proud to be a partner in this initiative, which has spurred new economic activity, including jobs and tax revenues, on undeveloped land near the airfield," said Michael Wells, president of the IAA board of directors. "Since opening, the IND Solar Farm has become an iconic image at the entrance to our airport and a compelling symbol of Central Indiana's ingenuity in pursuing sustainability and new economic development."

"Having the world's largest airport solar farm here in Indianapolis is a powerful testimony to our commitment to both economic and environmental sustainability," said Mario Rodriguez, executive director of the Indianapolis Airport Authority. "By harnessing limited-use land near the airfield, we are finding new ways to add to the $4.5 billion annual economic impact our airport generates for our region and new ways to expand the possibilities of green energy."

First United Methodist Church offers... Bags, Baskets and Blessings on Nov. 7

All women are invited to enjoy an evening of fun, inspiration and chocolate! Bags, Baskets and Blessings will be held on Friday, November 7, 2014 at 6:30 p.m. at First United Methodist Church Celebration Hall, 2051 E. Monument in Noblesville. Sheridan’s Halloween on Main Street

Sheridan Main Street, Inc. hosted their annual Halloween on Main Street in downtown Sheridan on Saturday, Oct 25.

“It was a very successful day with the weather and the turn out we had for the event. We could not have done this without the help of our merchants who chipped in to make sure the children had plenty of treats,” said Michelle Junkins of Sheridan Main Street, Inc.

The organization would also like to thank the parents/grandparents for bringing their children out on such a nice day to enjoy the parade and trick-or-treating.

“It is so nice to live in a town where everyone works together for the betterment of their community,” concluded Junkins.

Sheridan Main Street, Inc. would like to send out a special thanks to the following organizations: Town of Sheridan Clerk’s office for doing the leg work in obtaining the permit we needed for the parade. Sheridan Street Department for getting us the barricades, so that we could block off Main Street. Sheridan Police Chief, Bob Shock for leading our parade and staying to the end making sure the children stayed safe.

The organization would also like to thank the following merchants for passing out candy and goodies to the children: Hamilton County Collision & Towing, Sheridan Fire Department, Keevers Hardware, Hamilton Tax, Sheridan Historical Society, Salon 306, Creekside Chiropractic, Sheridan First Christian Church, Railer’s IGA.

‘Hounds win third straight regional

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

After a tough sectional, the Carmel volleyball team was battle-tested for a regional championship match on its home court.

The Greyhounds took care of business Tuesday, winning their third consecutive regional by defeating Harrison 25-18, 25-12, 25-18 at the Eric Clark Activity Center.. Carmel improved to 30-7 and qualified for the Huntington North semi-state, which takes place Saturday.

"The depth of our sectional is just really impressive, and because of that, it prepared us for a night like this," said Carmel coach Rich Coleman.

The 'Hounds were tied at 13-13 in the first set before taking control with three separate three-point runs. Freshman Madeline Armstrong broke the tie with a kill, then senior Megan Flately served up an ace. Carly Skjodt had a kill during the run, and with a 24-18 lead, Armstrong smacked a kill to give Carmel the first set.

Now that they had the momentum, the Greyhounds cruised through the second set. Armstrong started it with two consecutive aces, with sophomore Hannah Costlow hitting an ace as well. Carmel led 9-1, after which the Raiders scored three straight points.

But that was the only big run Harrison was able to make, as Carmel was firmly in control of the set. Junior Carly Cason had an incredible set, with four kills, including two in a row to win the final two points of the set.

"Carly played well," said Coleman. "We have a lot of faith in her and she's been playing since her freshman year."

The Raiders led 9-6 in the third set before Carmel scored six straight points. That included an ace from Jamie Scherb and kills from sophomore Lauren Gold and Cason.

Harrison made one last push to a 14-12 lead, but the 'Hounds allowed the Raiders only four points after that. Skjodt ended the match with a hard-fought kill.

"We didn't play well that third set," said Coleman. "We played well the second set, and I think we thought that would just carry over and that Harrison would roll over, and they didn't."

Skjodt totaled 15 kills, while Cason had seven and Armstrong six. Carmel served exceptionally well with 10 team aces; both Flately and Armstrong had three. Morgan Seaman handed out 27 assists.

On defense, Scherb made 21 digs, with Skjodt getting 14 and Seaman 12. Armstrong had two blocks.

The Greyhounds will play Valparaiso in the second semi-final at Huntington North, which is set to begin around 12:30 p.m. That match follows a first semi-final between Fort Wayne Carroll and Elkhart Memorial.

Time Out...

Time has come for NHS-CHS

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Now should be the time for officials at Noblesville and Carmel high schools to sit down and at least have a discussion about the two schools scheduling each other in football.

Yes, I know that Carmel is coming off a 28-6 sectional victory over Noblesville. Yes, I'm aware that the last nine times the Greyhounds and Millers have met, Carmel has won. Yes, I understand that for a rivalry to be a rivalry, both teams need to win at least some of the time.

But, in case you missed it, the game last Friday at Hare Chevrolet Field was a very entertaining contest.

Noblesville and Carmel meet in all other sports, why should it be any different in football?

The Noblesville football team, led by a great group of 37 seniors, proved last Friday that the Millers can compete with Carmel.

In close battles, final outcomes are determined by one or two plays. That's what happened last Friday.

Noblesville led 3-0 after one quarter on a 23-yard field goal by Andrew Little.

The Millers took a 6-0 lead in the second quarter on a 26-yard field goal by Little.

Noblesville coach Lance Scheib later said those two field goals might have been the lone negative part of the evening for the Millers. Not Little's kicking because the junior did a great job kicking after an injury shoved him into a varsity role this season. The problem was, Noblesville came away with only six points instead of 12 or 14.

"Against a team like Carmel," said Scheib, "when you get an opportunity to score (touchdowns) you have to take advantage."

Carmel then put back to back touchdowns on the board to go up 14-6.

It was still a heck of a game until the changing point came later on in the third quarter. Noblesville was driving, moving to inside Carmel's 30. But, back to back great defensive plays by Carmel's Alex Akins and Cameron Hunt stopped that Noblesville touchdown bid. On the next play, Chris Perkins ran 80 yards for a touchdown.

If Noblesville had scored, it would have been a 14-13 or even a 14-14 football game. Would have Perkins broken the 80-yarder? Who knows?

Carmel didn't score again until with 1:28 remaining in the game. Shakir Paschall went over from four yards out.

Yes, a very entertaining football game.

Should the series be resumed, most seasons the game will be more important to the Millers than the Greyhounds. It has been that way for the last 40 years. With Carmel playing in the MIC and playing opponents such as Ben Davis and Warren Central, well, there are only so many games a football team gets fired up. But, Noblesville most seasons will make the game interesting. Especially when Noblesville has the talent this year's team had.

After the game last Friday, I said to Scheib that I believe had Noblesville gone through 14 years with winning records, instead of 14 years with non-winning records, this Noblesville team might have gone undefeated. The Millers were that good.

It's hard to convince young football players that they are going to win. Noblesville's story is unbelievable. The last time the Millers had a winning season was even before many members of this year's team were born.

This is no small high school. Not as big as Carmel, but Noblesville is the 10th largest high school in the state. This year's roster was very strong in numbers. This year's Miller team was bigger and stronger than any Noblesville team in several years.

But, sometime, somehow Noblesville has to put a stop to this unbelievable string.

Winning breeds winning. Losing leads to more losses.

HHMS football team named St. Vincent Spirit of Sport Honoree

At Hamilton Heights Middle School, football is about more than the Friday night lights. Head coach Tim Webber uses each season as an opportunity to instill new lessons and values in his young players. This year, the focus was giving back to the community. Each Wednesday, a position group on the seventh and eighth grade teams skipped practice in favor of volunteering their time to Angels' Attic, where they sorted items and got the shop ready for those in need. And each Friday night game was an opportunity to bring different items like canned goods to donate.

Not only did the athletes grow closer as a team, but they were able to realize the importance of their efforts in the community. Even without football, they agreed, it's something they look forward to continuing in the future. In a day and age when the focus of youth sports is all too often the number of points on the board, we salute Hamilton Heights for using it as an avenue for building strong, dedicated leaders.

St. Vincent Sports Performance is proud to honor Hamilton Heights Middle School Football as a Spirit of Sport Award Honoree.

The annual Spirit of Sport Awards honor student-athletes, managers, athletic trainers, coaches, administrators and industry leaders off the field who embody SVSP's Core Values: Service of the Poor, Reverence, Integrity, Wisdom, Creativity and Dedication. Ron Holliday inducted into American Horseshoe Pitcher’s Hall of Fame

Ron Holliday of Westfield was inducted Sunday into the American Horseshoe Pitcher’s Hall of Fame.

Ron started pitching as a sub on Sheridan Men’s League in 1982. The following year he was selected to be a team captain. He was voted in as the league Public Relations officer in 1984 and again in 1985. During that time he helped the league grow from 36 pitchers to 48 pitchers. In 1986 he helped form Sheridan’s women’s league. Ron became the AHPA’s First Vice-president in 1987 replacing another pitcher due to their health problems. Ron was elected the AHPA President in 1988 and held that position until 1995. During that time he helped the AHPA to grow from about 400 members to near 700.

Ron also assisted in organizing the Tipton Horseshoe League. He was re-elected President in 2001 for another two year tenure. Ron has also served on the AHPA’s Board of Directors and served as their Public Relations officer. Ron was their Handicap Point Champion in 1987 and 1991. The AHPA also honored Ron as Mr. Horseshoe in 1990 and he became the first man to receive that award twice by being honored again in 1997. He has also had his name placed on the Sheridan Mixed Achievement Award, and the Sheridan Men’s Don Henley Memorial. Ron retired from the sport in 2002 only to start pitching again in 2012. Ron is currently serving his leagues Secretary, while training others to learn the ropes of Secretary and Public Relations.

Also Richard Reddick of Noblesville was awarded the AHPA’s Mr. Horseshoe for 2014. Richard currently serves as the AHPA’s Vice-president and the Sheridan league treasurer. Richard has pitched on the local league since 1982 and pitches in many tournaments around the state. This year Richard won the handicapped division in the state championships.

Cross Country season peaks with State Championships on Saturday

One of the most colorful of all IHSAA state championship events takes place this Saturday as the top teams and individuals from across the state will come together at the LaVern Gibson Championship Cross Country Course in Terre Haute to determine this year’s state champions. The girls race begins at 1 pm ET with the boys race to follow at 1:45 pm ET.

Gates to the course will open at 9 am ET / 8 am CT, an hour later than in previous years. Twenty-four full teams and 40 more individuals who qualified without their squad (208 runners in each race) will compete in each race over the 5,000 meter course with a reputation as one of the finest in the nation. Twenty of last year’s 24 girls teams return including top-ranked and four-time defending state champion Carmel. Another first-place finish would equal the state record of five straight the school set from 1984-1988.

Sixteen of last year’s top 20 finishers also have managed to earn a return trip including semi-state champions Alexandra Dalton of Greenwood and Lauren Johnson of West Lafayette. Anna Rohrer of Mishawaka will be looking for her second state title in three years on Saturday. After winning it all two years ago as a sophomore, she sat out last year’s tournament due to injury.

The list of boys teams competing includes 14 from the 2013 final meet led by top-ranked Carmel. The Greyhounds are the two-time defending team champion and are aiming for their fourth crown in seven years.

Last Saturday’s semi-state champions – Cameron Clements of Carroll (Fort Wayne), Ben Veatch of Carmel, Cooper Williams of West Lafayette and Set Williams of Columbus North – are among eight returnees from last year’s top 20 finishers.

World Series Game 6...

Royals dominate Giants to set up Game 7

Get ready for a Game 7 tonight in the World Series.

The Kansas City Royals made sure of that Tuesday as they blasted the San Francisco Giants 10-0 at Royals Stadium. That set up tonight's decisive Game 7, which is set to begin at 8 p.m.

Kansas City was facing elimination, but set that aside quickly by scoring seven runs in the bottom of the second inning. The first three batters in that inning had hits, with Mike Moutsakas' double scoring Alex Gordon. Nori Aoki batted in a run, then Lorenzo Cain's single into center field got home two runs. Eric Hosmer had a two-run double, and Billy Butler's double scored Hosmer.

Moutsakas was 2-for-4, hitting a solo home run in the seventh inning in addition to his double. Six different Kansas City players hit doubles, with Omar Infante, Cain and Alcides Escobar joining the afore-mentioned three. Cain was 2-for-3 on the night with three runs batted in.

The Royals scored an additional run in the third, fifth and seventh innings. Meanwhile, Yorando Ventura threw seven innings for the win, striking out four while allowing three hits.

The Giants' Jake Peavy was chased from the mound after an inning and a third, having given up six hits and five runs. San Francisco had six hits, with Hunter Pence a lone double.

Tim Hudson will take to the mound for Kansas City, while Jeremy Guthrie gets the call for San Francisco.

Most homes are underinsured by an average of 19 percent*. That means insurance won't likely cover the full cost to rebuild if it ever comes to that.

That one key word—guaranteed—means if your home is damaged or destroyed, it'll be covered in full. It's a great value at a great price.
