But the vote was close and only passed by a 4-3 margin. City councilors Brian Ayer, Stephen Wood and Rick Taylor all voted against the funding citing common concerns about the risk of building in a floodplain and the high price tag of the project—which could increase further because the city still has two parcels of land to acquire using money that would be in addition to the approved $6 million.

U.S. 31 opens between Old Meridian, 136th streets

On Tuesday, US 31 between Old Meridian and 136th streets was officially opened. The roadway closed in April to further expedite freeway construction in Carmel by approximately one construction season. INDOT's contractors, E&B Paving and Gradex, committed to opening the roadway to traffic before Thanksgiving.

Two lanes of traffic are open on northbound and southbound US 31 between Old Meridian and 136th streets. Upon completion of construction in late 2015, three travel lanes will open on northbound and southbound US 31 in Carmel. Access information is as follows:

Old Meridian Street (just north of 116th Street): Access to Old Meridian Street just north of 116th Street remains accessible via a ramp from northbound US 31. The temporary access to southbound US 31 that was made available during the closure has been removed.

126th Street/Carmel Drive: Construction is still underway on 126th Street/Carmel Drive, and the overpass is expected to open in spring 2015. Direct access to/from US 31 is no longer available at this location. Motorists wishing to access 126th Street/Carmel Drive must exit US 31 at the Old Meridian Street ramp mentioned above, 116th Street or 131st/Main Street, then use either Illinois Street or Pennsylvania Street for access to 126th Street/Carmel Drive. The 126th Street/Carmel Drive overpass will provide additional east-west access over US 31 once it opens in the spring.

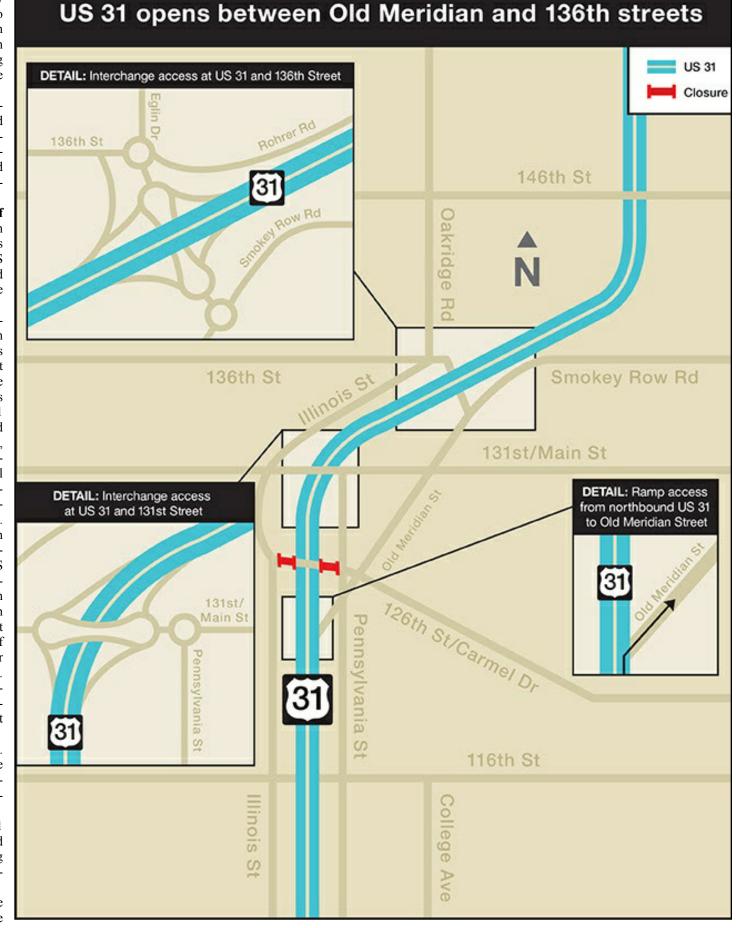

131st/Main Street: The 131st/Main Street interchange over US 31 will be operational, providing direct access to/from US 31 at this location. The roundabout interchange will temporarily remain one lane in each direction. Also, one lane will open in each direction on 131st/Main Street just east of Pennsylvania Street, and the City of Carmel plans to continue work on their Main Street extension project in the spring.

136th Street: The 136th Street interchange under US 31 will be fully operational, providing direct access to/from US 31 at this location.

Truck traffic may once again use US 31. Carmel expects to reinstate and enforce large truck restrictions on Keystone Parkway once construction on US 31 is complete in late 2015.

Motorists should note that while US 31 is opening between Old Meridian and 136th streets, construction continues along the US 31 Hamilton County corridor between I-465 and SR 38 through late 2015.

Posted speed limits are enforced. The minimum fee for speeding in a work zone is $300. Drivers who injure or kill a highway worker could face fines up to $10,000 and eight years in prison.

Drumstick Dash is Thanksgiving morning

The twelfth annual Wheeler Mission Drumstick Dash presented by Huntington Bank kicks off 9 a.m. Thanksgiving in Broad Ripple, with thousands of participants and volunteers raising awareness and funds for the homeless.

In 11 years, the Drumstick Dash has become one of the fastest-growing run/walks in the country and the second largest in Indiana. Last year, 17,706 runners and walkers participated in this fundraising event for Wheeler Mission, and race organizers anticipate up to 18,000 runners/walkers and nearly 1,000 volunteers in 2014.

"In just 11 years, the Drumstick Dash has experienced a 1,262 percent growth – which has been a real blessing to us as proceeds from the race benefit those experiencing homelessness in our community," Wheeler President/CEO Rick Alvis said

This extraordinary growth has placed the Drumstick Dash among the top 10 of all Thanksgiving Day races nationally, according to Running USA.

Continuing in tradition, Drumstick Dash mascot Jerry Gobbler -- a 6-foot tall turkey -- will start the race about 60 seconds ahead of the pack, and the first man and woman to catch him will each win a trophy. While the identity of Jerry is a highly guarded secret, organizers will reveal that he/she is an accomplished runner and one fast turkey.

This year will once again feature a Celebrity Challenge, with nearly 20 local media celebrities competing for a turkey trophy to keep for one year.

Ice sculptures surround Noblesville Courthouse

Last year was the first time Noblesville Main Street presented ice sculptures on the square during the December First Friday event. The sculptures proved to be a hit.

But this year, the event will be even better as it has been moved to the Friday after Thanksgiving to coordinate with the Tree Lighting ceremony in the Hamilton County Judicial Center's lobby presented by Noblesville Chamber of Commerce. So mark your calendar and don't miss the ice sculptures that will be on display surrounding the courthouse starting Friday, Nov. 28. Ice sculptures and ice sculpting demonstrations will take place from 5 to 8 p.m. The tree lighting will be at 7 p.m.

And of course, all holiday shopping can be accomplished all weekend in downtown Noblesville as many of the merchants will be offering specials during the "Shop Local" and "Small Business Saturday" promotions.

Carmel Clay Schools offers holiday lights recycling drive

For the past two years the Carmel Clav Schools Green Team has organized a highly successful holiday lights recycling drive in all 15 Carmel Clay Schools. Due to the popularity of the event, the Carmel Green Team has partnered with Carmel Utilities, Tech Recyclers and White's Ace Hardware to expand the recycling drive for Carmel residents who do not have students in Carmel Clay Schools. Starting Nov. 28 and running through Dec. 15 the ability to recycle used Holiday lights will be offered at White's Ace Hardware at 731 South Range Line Road. In addition, the Carmel Clay School Green Team will be offering recycling at the individual schools from Dec. 1 through Dec. 12. Recycling inoperable or inefficient holiday lights keeps those items out of landfills which reduces the long term carbon impact on our environment. Additionally, the City recommends using EnergyStar rated LED lights, which use 75 percent less energy compared to conventional lights. They also have the following advantages: Safer: LEDs are much cooler than incandescent lights, reducing the risk of combustion or burnt fingers. Sturdier: LEDs are made with epoxy lenses, not glass and are much more resistant to breakage. Longer Lasting: The LED lights lasts 25 times longer than conventional holiday lights. Easier to install: Up to 25 strings of LEDs can be connected end-to end without overloading a wall socket. (Source: www.energy.gov) Consider upgrading to LED lights this holiday season. You will be helping the environment and saving in energy costs. And don't forget to recycle your old strings of lights. Trees continued to get strong this year because the weather favored healthy growth.

"This year, with the rain and cooler weather, the trees just grew beautifully," Cassens said. "They were just really doing the best that they absolutely could."

Cassens said fir trees and Scotch pine, the most common Christmas tree species in Indiana, are the longest lasting trees when used indoors. Many people will put up their Christmas tree the day after Thanksgiving and keep it until after New Year.

Fir trees, such as the Frasier and Canaan (ka-NAYN'), cost about twice as much as a Scotch or white pine, Cassens said.

Cassens, a member of the National Christmas Tree Association, listed steps for consumers to keep in mind when buying and caring for a real tree:

* Base of tree: It is best to have a clean 6-8 inches to put into the handle of the tree stand. This will prevent having to cut any limbs that would leave bare spots in the base of the tree.

Cassens said it is most important to remember that the tree always needs water. With no water in the stand, the tree will start to dry out and not last as long.

In the end, Cassens said the best thing to consider when shopping for a Christmas tree is to pick the one that is most appealing to you.

"What species it is or how it looks doesn't make that much difference," he said. "Find the one you like and be happy with it."

Another 100-point game...

Millers beat Carmel, roll to 6-0

By RICHIE HALL Reporter Sports Editor

"Blink and you missed it" is a popular expression, but it may have been a factual statement at Tuesday's Carmel-Noblesville girls basketball game at the Eric Clark Activity Center.

If you were at the game, and you blinked, you probably missed points being scored.

The Millers kept up their torrid offensive pace, beating the Greyhounds 102-85. Yes, Noblesville topped 100 points again, having already done so with a 103-point effort Nov. 14 against Hamilton Heights. After six games, the Millers are averaging 81.5 points per game.

"It really started with our defense, just being able to turn them over and get them to take quick shots," said NHS coach Donna Keck.

Noblesville did that early, as Kayleigh Herron scored off a quick steal to put the Millers ahead 4-2. It was technically the game winner, since Noblesville didn't trail after that. Alexis Shannon scored eight points in that first period.

Carmel stayed with the Millers in the first quarter, scoring the last five points of the period to cut a 22-12 lead to 22-17. Amy Dilk had a nice quarter with five points.

Shannon added another 10 points in the second period, which saw the Millers increase their lead slowly. The 'Hounds wouldn't go away, though, as a quick 6-0 run got them back to within 41-35. Andi Kwasniewski started that off with a 3-pointer.

But Becca Bergman pushed the Noblesville lead back up with a 3-pointer of her own, and the Millers led 44-37 at halftime, with Olivia Christy making a short jumper for Carmel.

Noblesville took control in the third quarter, with a huge 12-0 run. Six of those points came from three baskets off of steals. Bergman got one of those baskets; she had nine points in the quarter.

The Millers didn't let up in the fourth period, Audrey Defoe scored four points of a 7-0 run, and Katelyn O'Reilly hit two free throws to cap an 8-1 NHS run, plus get the Millers over the 100-point mark. Shannon scored nine points in the quarter, leading all scorers with 33 points.

Two Noblesville players had doubledoubles. Bergman scored 24 points, handed out 10 assists and made seven steals. O'Reilly pulled down 16 rebounds to go with her 19 points. Noblesville outrebounded Carmel 44-17.

"We rebounded really well," said Keck. "Erin Wood, Katelyn O'Reilly, Alexis Shannon, those kids just rebounded really well and got the ball out quickly to Becca. Becca did a great job of keeping her head up."

Noblesville's Katelyn O'Reilly was unstoppable under the basket for the Millers in their 102-85 win over Carmel Tuesday. O'Reilly scored 19 points and pulled down 16 rebounds.

Lady Royals move to 5-0...

Brownsburg falls 47-35

By DON JELLISON

Reporter Editor

Hamilton Southeastern opened its Hoosier Crossroads Conference girls basketball season with a home court victory Tuesday evening.

It wasn't a barn-burner type of HCC win, but Coach Chris Huppenthal's Lady Royals did what had to be done while producing a 47-35 victory over Brownsburg.

While the visiting Bulldogs stayed within striking distance most of the night, Southeastern led all the way.

The key stat of the game was Southeastern holding Brownsburg to a pair of 3-point quarters, the first and the third.

"We played well on defense," said Huppenthal, whose team now is a perfect 5-0 to the start of the season. The Lady Royals will get a solid test on Saturday when they travel to county and sectional rival Carmel.

We missed a lot of easy shot tonight," Huppenthal continued. "Today was our last day of school before the Thanksgiving break. That likely had something to do with our play.'

Also, Huppnethal had missed Monday's practice with the flu. He credited his staff for having the Lady Royals ready.

Sophomore Bre Lloyd canned two 3pointers and Megan Walton and Madi Taylor each notched a bucket as Southeastern opened up a 10-3 first quarter lead. Brownsburg's only points in the period came on a 3-pointer.

Brownsburg got within three points, 19-16, before halftime, and the Bulldogs were still hanging around, trailing 28-19 after three periods.

Southeastern, after scoring just 28 points in the first three quarters, exploded for 19 in the final period. Walton scored six points in the frame and Elaina Ededuwa and Taylor each added five points.

The Lady Royals won the game hitting just 27 percent of their shots, 14-of-51.

HSE outrebounded Brownsburg 34-23, led by Walton with seven rebounds and Ededuwa with six.

Taylor Graham collected four of Southeastern's nine assists. Taylor had five steals Walton and Lloyd each scored in double figures with 13 and 11 points, respectively.
