presented for the Council's vote at its Dec. 9th meeting.

Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear told the Hamilton County Reporter that the proposed move by Pro-Gard would be a plus for the city.

"Pro-Gard is a successful manufacturer of law enforcement equipment," Ditslear said. "We were pleased when they approached us about their interest in potentially relocating to Noblesville. They would be a great addition to our city's thriving business community."

Pro-Gard is a 46-year-old firm. The company got its start in 1968 making prisoner-transport partitions for a local police agency, and has grown through the years.

The firm has expanded its product line to include everything from gun racks to trunk organizers and anti-theft systems.

The total price tag of the move if made to Noblesville is a little over $3 million.

Pro-Gard is seeking a 10-year property tax abatement for the building addition and a four-year tax phase-in on new equipment.

The move, if completed, would bring more than 30 employees to Noblesville, with annual salaries of $46,000. Pro-Gard also said they plan to add five more workers.

Roger Thomas Moynahan

February 3, 1927 - December 3, 2014

Roger Thomas Moynahan, 91, of Noblesville, IN and formerly of Indianapolis, passed away on Wednesday, December 3, 2014 at Riverview Health in Noblesville. He was born February 3, 1927 in Boston, Massachusetts to John Raymond and Eloise Freund Moynahan.

Roger was a graduate of Shortridge High School in Indianapolis; and earned his BS degree with honors in Engineering at Purdue University, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. He then graduated from Officer's Candidate School at Annapolis Naval Academy and entered the US Naval Armed Services. He served the United States as a Naval Officer aboard the USS Manlove in the South Pacific. In August, 1945, at the end of World War II he married Bettyjane Mitchell.

Roger joined his family business, JR Moynahan Properties, and built Apartments in Indianapolis prior to founding Anchor Galvanizing Co. He also owned Anderson Playground Equipment Company and Fargo Insulation Company. Roger graduated from Indiana University Law School in 1968.

Roger was a member of the Indianapolis Athletic Club, Hillcrest Country Club, the 500 Mile Race Committee and numerous other organizations in Indianapolis. He was active in the Indianapolis Service Club and a member of the Harbor Trees Golf Club of Noblesville. Roger loved IU Basketball, Colts Football, watching golf tournaments and enjoyed visiting Lake Wawasee during the summertime for 75 years. Roger was a member of Northwood Christian Church prior to becoming a founding member and Deacon for Crestview Christian Church in Indianapolis. Roger was currently a member of First Christian Church in Noblesville; an avid boater, bridge player, and golfer. He cherished being with his family and having fun, laughing and dancing with his abundance of friends through the years.

Roger is survived by his wife, Helen Moynahan; his brother, John Moynahan of Coconut Grove, Florida; his daughter, Marcia M. (Dr. Robert) Larmore of Fort Wayne and Phoenix; his son, Roger (Martha) Moynahan Jr. of South Bend, IN; his grown grandchildren, Cynthia Larmore, Wade Hardie, Jon Larmore, Michelle Larmore, Emily Moynahan and David Bemenderfer; great-grandchildren, Victoria, Skylar, Jonathan, Bridget and Brady. He is also survived by Helen's daughter, Lori Wright and her two children, Kendall and Kasey. All of Roger's grandchildren and great-grandchildren called him 'Happy'; and Roger lived his nickname!

Services will be held at 11:00 am on Saturday, December 6, 2014 at Randall & Roberts Funeral Home, 1150 Logan Street in Noblesville with calling one hour before. Entombment will be at Crown Hill Cemetery in Indianapolis.

Celebration of Lights in Fishers tonight

Families are invited to the Nickel Plate District in Fishers tonight for the annual Celebration of Lights beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the Nickel Plate District Amphitheater, 6 Municipal Drive.

This Fishers tradition offers holiday celebrations, light refreshments, musical entertainment and a story from Santa Claus himself. Entertainment provided by Fishers High School Choir with a special guest appearance by Lauren Lowrey with Ashton Wolf.

Parking will be available behind the amphitheater and surrounding the Nickel Plate District.

Santa Claus making an appearance at... Westfield in Lights this weekend

Santa Claus is coming to town – Westfield, to be exact – as Westfield in Lights returns this weekend.

A free holiday event for the whole family, Westfield in Lights covers four blocks of downtown Westfield. The main event area includes the City Hall parking lots, lawn, and Union Street. Attractions include food trucks, a hot chocolate booth, and live reindeer.

Santa will arrive with Mrs. Claus at 3:45 p.m. in the Parks and Recreation Programming Facility (330 E Main Street). This year Santa has brought his own train, the Santa Express, which will pick up passengers at the intersection of Union and Penn streets and take them straight to Santa!

Santa will be available to talk and take pictures with kids until 6:45 p.m. Kids can also get their pictures taken with Frosty the Snowman, and vote for their favorite gingerbread house made by local Girl Scouts in the programming facility.

Mayor Andy Cook will be lighting the tree promptly at 7 p.m. near the intersection of Penn and Union streets.

"What a thrill it is to be part of a Westfield tradition," Mayor Cook says. "It's a great way to spend time with family and friends, appreciate all we've been given this year, and celebrate how wonderful Westfield is."

'Rocks hope to end string

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor
You've probably heard that old saying about third time being charm.
Not so earlier this week for Westfield's Shamrocks.

After knocking off Plainfield in overtime to start the season and then playing Kokomo tough in game two, the Shamrocks lost game three to Pendleton Heights, 71-31.

"Pendleton Heights is REALLY good and we did not play our best," said Westfield mentor Eric Rauch.

Now, tonight, Westfield will again go on the road, for a third time in four games, to take on Zionsville in a Hoosier Crossroads Conference matchup.

That's a challenge. Zionsville is good. Plus, Westfield hasn't defeated the Eagles in eight years, last winning 58-56 in 2005-06.

But, the Eagles had their own problems last time out. Zionsville with 7-foot Derrik Smits in the middle, scored only 37 points in a 14-point loss to No. 1 ranked Carmel.

Rauch will throw a 1-2 scoring punch at the Eagles. Charlie Warner, a 6-5 junior, is averaging 19 points a game and Ian Kristensen, a 6-3 sophomore, is scoring at a 10.0 clip.

"We really struggled to shoot the ball and they were a well-oiled machine on offense," Rauch talked about the loss to Pendleton Heights.

Westfield lost to the Eagles 50-34 last year after dropping a 67-66 overtime thriller two years ago.

"Zionsville is a very good team with great size and an outstanding point guard who does not get near the credit he deserves," Rauch added.

"We will have to be physical and tough."

Ian Kristensen is averaging 10 points per game for Westfield so far this season. The Shamrocks travel to Zionsville tonight for a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game.

'Hawks on the road Saturday

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

After nearly pulling off an upset at Rossville (losing 71-600 in their season opener, first year coach Chris Schrank and his Sheridan Blackhawks hope to get into the win column Saturday in another road contest, this one at Anderson Prep Academy.

"We are looking forward to our next game," said Schrank. "We have had he week to fine tune and work on our execution on both ends the floor, and are ready for the opportunity to go execute our game plan."

Anderson Prep will come into the game with a 1-3 record, getting a 60-49 victory over Christel House Academy and losing to Alexandria 61-41, Cambridge City 70-57 and Elwood 68-47.

"I am looking forward to seeing if we can play with the same energy and effort, and we hope to come away with our first victory of the season," Schrank added.

In the opener at Rossville, Schrank got good scoring out of a trio of Blackhawks. Brock Kitchel led the way with a 24-point night, while Chris Roberts (15 points) and Jake Chesney (14) also scored in double figures.

Sheridan has never lost to Anderson Prep, coming up with 79-40, 76-45 and 78-59 victories the last three seasons.

"We played well at Rossville," said Schrank. "Even though we lost, it was a great start to the season. It was a great measuring stick right out of the gate."

Sheridan will play its third straight road game next Tuesday at Faith Christian before finally opening the home card on Dec. 12 against Clinton Central in Hobbs Memorial Gym.

In back to back weekend...

University after 1st victory

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

University, coming off a 77-40 season-opening loss to one of the state's best 2A teams, Park Tudor, this week faces what will be the first of two consecutive weekends of back-to-back games.

Tonight, the Trailblazers will hit the road for their first away game of the season, playing at Baptist Academy. Saturday, Speedway will come to University.

"Our team is full of seniors, but most of them do not have a lot of varsity experience," said University coach Brandon Lafferman. "We are also a little banged up right now.

"With that, our team has been working extremely hard in practice and I expect us to be very competitive all season."

Connor Holly scored 19 points and Tyler Diehl fired in 15 in University's season opener.

"We are excited for our tough double header weekend against Baptist Academy and 2A Speedway. Baptist is new to our schedule. Speedway is always a very tough challenge.

"These are the types of games that help us improve and show us where we are at this early in the season," the coach added.

Baptist Academy will come to the University game with a 0-2 record, losing to Waldron 64-29 and losing to International 68-33.

Speedway won its opening game, beating North Montgomery, 54-53. The Sparkplugs will host Beech Grove tonight before visiting University on Saturday.

Speedway has defeated University the last two years, 58-45 and 52-41, after a 69-55 Trailblazer victory three seasons ago.

No. 1 Carmel faces double duty action....

Tough LC is MIC game

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor
Carmel will put its state’s No. 1 ranking on the line this weekend. Two times
The Greyhounds tonight will host Lawrence Central in an important MIC Conference game. Saturday, Carmel will travel to Avon.
“This will be a tough weekend; playing two quality teams back to back,” said Carmel coach Scott Heady.
Carmel is coming off a 51-37 season-opening win over Zionsville.
“I thought overall defensively we were good for a first game, considering defending a team with a 7-0 inside player and good shooters on the perimeter,” Heady talked about the Zionsville game. “We held them to 35 percent shooting and 37 points, so that was a positive.

“Our offensive execution needed to be better, but that’s expected at times early in the season. We did shoot the ball well from 3-point range early in the game to get the lead.
“Preston Flamion was good on the boards and hit some key shots. Ryan Cline had eight assists and was our best defender. Cline really played a complete game,” said Heady.
Flamion led Carmel’s scoring with 17 points, followed by Cline with 13 and Keegan Culp with 12.
Culp was 4-of-8 and Cline 3-of-6 from the 3-point line. Culp also had eight rebounds and Flamion six.
Lawrence Central lost its season opener, a 65-58 decision to No. 8 ranked Brownsburg.
“LC has several returning players and two very good scorers in (Kyle) Guy and (Mekki) Biffle,” Heady talked about tonight’s foe. “We must take care of the ball and limit turnovers against their pressure and we must rebound. This is a key conference game early in the season. We’ll have to be really good on both ends to be successful.”

Guy is a 6-2 junior committed to Virginia. Biffle averaged 12 points and five rebounds a game last season.
Carmel defeated Lawrence Central 68-60 last season and the Bears went on to finish with an 11-8 record.
Avon is 1-0 after a 71-54 win over Plainfield. Jack McCue scored 20 points and Brandon Peters notched 17 for the Orioles.
“Avon will be a test for our team, going on the road for a Saturday back-to-back weekend and competing against a very good team,” Heady said. “They have a very balanced team with a good inside-outside scoring threat. Peters can score in a variety of ways and is one of the better athletes we will play against all season.”
Carmel has defeated Avon three consecutive times, including a 56-46 decision last year. The last time the Greyhounds lost to Avon was four years ago, a 71-66, three-overtime thriller.

Honor Cosby’s 24 points lead the way...

‘Blazers get second win of the season

The University girls basketball team picked up its second win of the season on Thursday, beating Anderson Prep Academy 74-7 in an away game.
The Trailblazers were in control from the beginning, leading 19-2 after one quarter and 40-3 at halftime.
"This was an all-around team victory," said UHS coach Stacey Summitt-Mann. "We've been really working hard on our defensive intensity and aggressiveness. I was also really proud of our girls keeping their heads up, looking for each other and sharing the ball tonight."
Reilly Small started things off with a four-point play, making that rare opportunity after being fouled on a 3-point shot. She had a pair of '3s' for the 'Blazers.
Honor Cosby had an incredible game, scoring 24 points, and also getting 11 steals for a double-double. She also had four rebounds and four assists.
Honor's sister Cyan Cosby had a double-double of her own, with 10 points and 10 steals, and also handed out seven assists.

H. Cosby

Djupesland

Star of the Game: Honor Cosby scored 24 points and made 11 steals.
University’s Record: 2-5.
Next Game: Tuesday at International.

"Honor was very scrappy tonight and relentless on defense," said Summitt-Mann. "Cyan did a great job of attacking the paint, finding her openings, and also moving the ball to get her teammates open."
Allie Towriss added 11 points and grabbed seven rebounds. Anja Djupesland had seven steals, with Maggie Klemsz getting four. Riley Spitzenberger added 10 points, and Alexa Nealey had three rebounds.

Indians, RTV-6 announce TV broadcast extension

The Indianapolis Indians and Home Town Sports & News, a digital channel of RTV-6, have announced a two-year extension of their TV broadcast agreement. All Indians home games will now air on HTSN and select contests on RTV-6 through the 2016 season.
“The Indianapolis Indians are delighted to extend our relationship with RTV-6 and HTSN for the next two seasons,” said Indians general manager Randy Lewandowski. “The unprecedented opportunity to showcase Indians baseball and the excitement at Victory Field to over 1.1 million Central Indiana households for all 72 home games has been instrumental to our recent attendance success.”
Attendance has risen each season during the three-year partnership between the Indians and HTSN/WRTV-6, including a Minor League baseball best 637,579 in 2013 and a Victory Field record 660,289 in 2014. Overall, in the three seasons working with HTSN/WRTV-6 the Indians have drawn more fans to Victory Field than any other US-based Minor League franchise.
Viewers have also enjoyed winning baseball when tuning into HTSN over the past three seasons, as the Tribe has posted a 126-90 record at home and provided playoff baseball with International League West Division titles in both 2012 and 2013.
“We are very pleased to continue our television partnership with the Indianapolis Indians that began three years ago,” said vice president & general manager of RTV6 & HTSN Larry Blackerby. “When fans are not able to make it out to Victory Field, HTSN will continue to bring the action to viewers in their homes. The partnership with the Indians is a cornerstone of the expanding local sports presence of HTSN.”

Pacers Foundation awards over $50,000 in grants and scholarships

At its fourth quarter board meeting, Pacers Foundation awarded $50,000 in grants to seven agencies.

They include a grant to Pacers guard C.J. Watson’s Quiet Storm Foundation, which supports a writing and speech program for Indianapolis-area youth that culminates in a recognition luncheon for participants in February at Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

The Foundation also provided a grant to The Cure Starts Now Foundation in honor of former Lawrenceburg, Ind., basketball star Lauren Hill, who is suffering from a form of pediatric brain cancer. Hill, her parents, friends and teammates, were recognized at an Indiana Pacers’ preseason game.

Hill also was made an honorary member of the WNBA Indiana Fever.

The Foundation also voted to again support Team Smile, an event that will take place at Bankers Life Fieldhouse in February and provide dental screening and treatment for several hundred Indianapolis-area youth.

Other grants approved:

- Alternatives Incorporated, Anderson, in support of a shelter for victims of domestic violence.
- Assistance League of Indianapolis, which provides shoes and clothing to underserved youth.
- Center for Leadership Development, Indianapolis, which provides academic assistance and college preparation for minority students.
- College Mentors for Kids, Indianapolis, which provides college students as mentors for underserved high school youth.
- Concord Neighborhood Center, Indianapolis, in support of technology curriculum for an after-school program.

“Pacers Foundation is pleased to provide much-needed assistance to these deserving agencies and causes,” said Foundation chairperson Rick Fuson. “They are on the front line of providing hope and help for those who need it most, especially our youth.”

A.J. Foyt released from hospital after triple bypass surgery

Verizon IndyCar Series team owner and four-time Indianapolis 500 winner A.J. Foyt was released Dec. 2 from Baylor-St. Luke's Medical Center in Houston and is recovering at home from a Nov. 12 triple bypass heart surgery.

Although surgery was successful, Foyt developed serious complications with his lungs. He was kept on a ventilator for eight days to allow his lungs to recover full functionality. Ten days in the Intensive Care Unit was followed by an additional 10 days in the hospital.

"It's been pretty rough but I guess I slept through the roughest part," said Foyt, who will turn 80 in January. "I had some problems that most people don't have after open heart surgery so I made my doctors work extra hard, but they saved my life. We've turned a corner so everything's pretty good. I've got a long way to go but I'm feeling better every day."

Pacers fall to ‘Blazers despite strong defense

An all-too-familiar script played out for the Pacers at the Moda Center as they took on the Western Conference powerhouse Portland Trail Blazers on Thursday night. After playing a top-tier opponent tough all night, they couldn’t finish the job in an 88-82 loss, their third consecutive defeat and fourth straight loss away from Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

In an ugly first half for both teams, the Pacers shot just 36 percent and turned the ball over 13 times, leading to 19 of Portland’s 38 points over the first two periods.

Somehow, Indiana found itself down just five points at the half, as the Trail Blazers also played sloppy basketball, shooting at a 37 percent clip and giving the ball away 10 times.

The second half was starkly different: The Pacers scored 26 third-quarter points after scoring just 33 in the first two quarters combined. Heading into the final 12 minutes, Indiana trailed the Blazers by just three.

Things started out well for the Pacers in the 4th, as a 3-pointer by Damjan Rudez and a bucket on the next possession by Luis Scola tied the contest at 64 just over a minute into the final period.

But Portland reeled off a 13-2 run to take an 11-point lead with under six minutes remaining.

Despite the setback, Indiana rallied back behind Roy Hibbert and David West, who made or assisted on 10 of the Pacers’ next 14 points to cut the deficit to 83-80 with 53 seconds to play.

From there, Indiana couldn’t overcome two made foul shots by Damian Lillard, a missed 3-point attempt by Rudez, and with the need to stop the clock, a foul that put Lillard back on the line, where he made another.

Trailing by six with 23 seconds to go, Chris Copeland had a 3-point look from the left wing, but his shot rimmed out – the fourth 3-point attempt for Indiana that met that fate – and the game was all but over.

Four Pacers finished with double-digit scoring efforts, led by Solomon Hill, who had 15 points on 7-of-11 shooting. Hill also grabbed eight rebounds, four of which were offensive boards. Rodney Stuckey added 14 points on 6-for-14 from the floor, also pulling down six rebounds and dishing out five assists.

West was 6-of-13 from the field for 13 points, and he also had eight rebounds. Scola was solid off the bench once again, pouring in 10 points on 4-of-8 shooting in 17 minutes.

Hibbert, in his second game back after a four-game absence due to a sprained left ankle, finished with nine points, seven rebounds and a block in 31 minutes. His backup, Ian Mahinmi, did not score but had 10 boards in 19 minutes on the floor.

As a team, Indiana shot 39.6 percent and Portland shot at nearly an identical clip – 39.8 percent. Both teams had problems connecting from beyond the arc; the Pacers were 5-for-18 (28 percent) and the Blazers were just 4-for-21 (19 percent).

Lillard led all scorers with 23 points on 7-of-15 shooting, including 1-of-5 from 3-point range. LaMarcus Aldridge had 18 points on 7-of-21 from the floor, but made both of his 3-point attempts. He also finished with 13 rebounds to register a double-double.
