The County Line

Good public officials deserve recognition

By FRED SWIFT

Political officeholders who do wrong get the headlines, and that's understandable. But, what about the public officials who serve their terms of office without controversy or charges of wrongdoing? They do their duties and are paid for their work as we would expect.

But, it seems a little favorable comment would also be in order. Here in Hamilton County we have several officials leaving office at the end of the year who have quietly and honorably gone about carrying out their duties without a lot of publicity or fanfare.

The job of the local officeholder in one of the nation's fastest growing counties is not as easy as one might think. Take, for example, the office of County Clerk where Peggy Beaver is leaving office after two terms. She has responsibilities for filing and maintaining court records, the elections process, child support, marriage licenses and other more minor duties. One foul-up can mean big problems. There haven't been many, if any.

Similarly, County Recorder Mary Clark and her staff have huge numbers of deeds, mortgages, plats, and liens to record in our growing county where property sales are constant and numerous. And, accuracy is critical. Mrs. Clark has been Recorder three times. She knows the process well.

Then, there's outgoing County Coroner Thurl Cecil. Talk about a thankless job. It seems the only time that a coroner gets the spotlight is when he misidentifies a body. When Cecil took over in 2007 he had no office, and as luck would have it, his first year saw a major increase in coroner cases, but he didn't complain, he just did his job.

Then, of course, there's County Councilman Meredith Carter who along with six fellow councilors control the county purse strings. Council members are continually asked for money from other county offices and outside organizations seeking county assistance. He's quietly retiring after 32 years.

At the township level, Noblesville Twp. Trustee Billie Caldwell is also retiring. Over the years she has handled an increasing number of public assistance cases, made sure the township contributes its share to the city fire department, provided for care of small cemeteries and operated a food pantry, something she is not required to do.

And, at Fishers, the entire town council and clerk-treasurer are leaving office because the town becomes a city on January 1 with a mayor, clerk and council taking office. The outgoing town officials have guided Fishers through tremendous growth and growing pains, always trying to provide sufficient public safety and services to meet the needs of an exploding population.

Some folks may not agree with every decision that every one of these local officials have made over the years. But, they have done their duty as they saw it, and deserve the thanks and appreciation of the public they have served.

Indiana Corn Growers elect nine to board

Press Release
The Indiana Corn Growers Association elected nine farmer-members to serve on its board of directors during its annual meeting on December 2.
Earlier this year, the ICGA board voted to change the association's districts to align with Indiana's nine Congressional districts. The goal of realigning the districts is to allow the board to stay more closely connected with legislators in each district.
"We had a great response from corn farmers across the state stepping up to not only run for board seats but also to vote in the election," said Herb Ringel, ICGA president and farmer from Wabash, Ind. "We are looking forward to coming together as a board to work on behalf of Hoosier corn farmers at the statehouse and in Washington, D.C. as we move into 2015."
One farmer from each congressional district was elected during ICGA's annual meeting at the Glass Barn on the Indiana State Fairgrounds in Indianapolis. Newly elected directors include:

-District 1: Michael McIntire from Lowell, Ind. in Lake County
-District 2: Herbert Ringel from Wabash, Ind. in Wabash County
-District 3: Sarah Delbecq of Auburn, Ind. in Dekalb County
-District 4: Michael Beard of Frankfort, Ind. in Clinton County
-District 5: Ralph Kauffman of Atlanta, Ind. in Tipton County
-District 6: Ronnie Mohr of Greenfield, Ind. in Hancock County
-District 7: George Morton of Lebanon, Ind. in Boone County (Morton was elected to represent district 7 in the absence of other candidates from that district.)
-District 8: Michael Nichols of Rockport, Ind. in Spencer County
-District 9: Mike Flock of Ramsey, Ind. in Harrison County
ICGA held its annual meeting in conjunction with the Joint Policy Forum, co-hosted by Indiana Soybean Alliance's Membership & Policy Committee. The forum featured panels on federal, state and local issues facing farmers today, including speakers from National Corn Growers Association, American Soybean Association, and Indiana Farm Bureau.

"We appreciated hearing from Senator Jean Leising and Representative Don Lehe about what might happen in the General Assembly later this winter," said Ringel. "The theme throughout the panels was that we, as farmers, need to know what is happening at all levels of our government and we need to be engaged with our elected officials whether that is in our county or in D.C."
The ICGA board, which works with the state and federal governments to develop and promote sound policies that benefit Indiana corn farmers, consists of 9 farmer-directors who provide leadership to the organization on behalf of the nearly 800 ICGA members statewide.
This communications was NOT funded with Indiana corn checkoff dollars.

Burglary suspect arrested after dragging gun safe down road

A Hagerstown man was arrested on a felony burglary warrant on Wednesday afternoon shortly after he allegedly attempted to steal a gun safe from a New Castle home by hooking it to his vehicle with a rope and dragging it down a road on the southeast side of New Castle.
Back on Oct. 24, Trooper Tyler Painter had taken a burglary report at a residence on 950 E. in Henry County. After investigating the burglary, Painter developed suspects and turned his investigation over to Henry County Prosecutor Joe Bergacs for his review. After his review of the case, Prosecutor Bergacs issued a warrant for felony burglary.
Now fast forward to Wednesday, around 1p.m. in the afternoon. Trooper Painter and Trooper Doug Snyder were at 151 E. Main in Hagerstown to serve the burglary warrant on one of their suspects, Floyd Richards Jr., age 35. Richards wasn't at home, but as the troopers were leaving the house they heard Henry County Dispatch put out a report of a yellow Ford SUV dragging a gun safe behind it south out of New Castle on Dublin Pike.
Painter and Snyder knew that their suspect, Richards, often drove a yellow Ford Escape SUV, so they started west towards New Castle from Hagerstown. The two troopers intercepted and stopped the east bound yellow Ford Escape on the CR 200 South just east of 850 E. in the east edge of Henry County. They immediately arrested the driver, Floyd Richards on the felony burglary warrant from Painter's case. The gun safe was no longer tied to the vehicle.

Officers from the New Castle Police Department found the stolen gun safe in the road on Dublin Pike just south of town where it had come loose from the vehicle. The safe had been taken from a nearby home where alert neighbors had noticed suspicious activity and phoned police. Painter lodged Richards in the Henry County Jail on his felony warrant and then went to look for the second suspect involved in the Oct. 24 burglary.
Painter located suspect number two, Mathew York, age 33 at the home of a relative on N. 24th St. in New Castle. He was taken into custody without incident and lodged in the Henry County Jail on a felony warrant for Burglary. The investigation is ongoing, and as Trooper Painter works with other agencies in the area, further charges could be filed against the duo.
The New Castle Police Department is investigating the burglary case involving the theft of the gun safe by Richards on Wednesday. Police often see an "uptick" in residential burglaries this time of the year. Citizens can help by watching over their neighbor's homes and by calling 9-1-1 or their local Indiana State Police Post to report any suspicious activity.
All Suspects Are Presumed Innocent Until Proven Guilty in a Court of Law.

Eaton’s defense, Kollmeyer’s offense lead....

Tigers to win in The Mill

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

It was anybody’s victory for three quarters. Then, Fishers’ Keegan Kollmeyer made it his. The 6-2 senior Kollmeyer scored 14 of his game high 26 points in the fourth quarter as Coach Joe Leonard’s Fishers Tigers shook off Noblesville in the fourth frame while gaining a 55-42 Hoosier Crossroads Conference decision over the Millers in The Mill.

On a night not made for super stars, Kollmeyer put himself in that category by nearly outscoring his own Fishers team. In fact, Kollmeyer with his 26 points and 11 points each Lance Dollison and Cameron Wolter accounted for all but seven of Fishers’ points.

While paying his respects to Kollmeyer, it was the defensive play of junior guard Zach Eaton which drew most of Leonard’s praise after the battle. Eaton, the quarterback of the football team, held Noblesville scoring ace Jake Mills to a pair of free throws.

“Zach Eaton is a hell of a defensive player,” said Leonard. “Sure, we had to slow down Mills. He came in averaging 21 points a game and was 11-of-13 on 3-pointers. We knew we had to stop Mills and then see if (Sean) Wilson and (John) Kiser could beat us.”

Both Kiser and Wilson got into foul trouble in the first half.

Fishers started strong, bolting to a 14-4 lead in the first quarter. The Tigers led 21-16 at halftime.

But, the Millers made a great third quarter run and actually took the lead at 23-22 with 6:30 left in the period on a 3-pointer by Kiser, who notched nine points in the quarter. Wilson had a 3-pointer and Noblesville trailed only 30-28 when the period ended.

That’s when Fishers and Kollmeyer took charge of the game. The Tigers opened the fourth quarter scoring nine straight points to take a 39-28 lead before Kiser finally broke the Fishers run with a rebound bucket with 5:33 left in the period. Kollmeyer notched seven of those nine points.

After that, Noblesville didn’t challenge as Fishers’ lead once soared to 15 points.

“I’m really proud with the way our kids came back in the third quarter,” said Noblesville coach Brian McCauley, who suffered his first loss at Noblesville after two consecutive Miller victories.

“We got off to a slow start and then we didn’t play smart in the fourth quarter,” McCauley said. “Twice in a row we fouled a jump shooter (Kollmeyer) on 3-point shots.

“Give Fishers credit. They weren’t going to allow Jake (Mills) to get a good shot.”

But Mills wasn’t the only Miller who had trouble with the Fishers defense. David Cory did finish with 10 points and along with Kiser’s 16, these two Millers accounted for 26 of Noblesville’s 42 points. Kiser was 5-of-10 from the field and Cory was 4-of-6, combing for a 9-of-16 effort. The rest of the Noblesville team was 4-of-22.

Sophomore guard McGwire Plumer came off the bench and hit a pair of 3-pointers. Noblesville was 7-of-18 from long range, but just 13-of-38 overall from the field.

A big difference in the final score came at the charity line. The Tigers went there 24 times and hit 18. Noblesville was 9-of-11.

Fishers had just two field goals in the second quarter and only one in the third period, but in those two

It was a game played in December, but Friday's showdown between Guerin Catholic and Hamilton Heights had a March feel.

The Golden Eagles traveled to the Husky Dome, and came away with a 76-64 victory in front of a spirited crowd. Both teams are in Class 3A - where GC is ranked No. 1 and Heights is rated No. 5 - but they wouldn't be able to meet each other again until...the state finals.

"Neat atmosphere," said Guerin coach Pete Smith. "It was a good experience for our kids."

"It had a tournament atmosphere, " said HH coach Chad Ballenger. "We're going to learn a lot from it."

The first quarter was back and forth, with GC ending it with an 18-14 lead. The Huskies came back to hold a 24-23 advantage in the second quarter, but then Guerin Catholic made its move. Calen Cunningham came in, was fouled and made two free throws. That sent the Golden Eagles on a run, and they led 36-29 at the half.

Star of the Game: Matthew Godfrey came off the bench to score 18 points for Guerin Catholic.
Records: Guerin is 2-0, Heights is 2-1.
Next Games: The Golden Eagles host Fort Wayne Southside, the Huskies play North Central in "Throwback Night" at the Heights Middle School gym.

"He came in, got fouled right away and made both free throws," said Smith, who believed it was the turning point of the game.

After that, Guerin steadily increased its lead in the second half, although Heights was within six with two minutes left. Matt Holba was especially big in the fourth quarter for the Golden Eagles, where Smith said he "just kind of took over."

"Matt Holba was a warrior tonight," said Smith. "They double teamed him, Grant (Weatherford) did a good job on him. He had 10 fourth quarter points."

Holba had a double-double with 19 points and 14 rebounds; it was his second consecutive double-double. Matthew Godfrey came off the bench to score 18 points, and Christian Munson had 14. Cameron Lindley handed out six assists.

Grant Weatherford scored 19 for the Huskies, with Hunter Crist adding 17 (including three 3-pointers) and Sterling Weatherford scoring 10. Garrett Paull grabbed seven rebounds. Weatherford also had six assists and four steals.

"It was a pretty well-played game," said Ballenger. "We had a few lapses. Guerin just shot the ball outstanding."

The Golden Eagles were 61 percent from the field, and were 14-of-17 from the free throw line.
