In some recent county political caucus sessions, the doors have been closed to public and press. This does not send the right message to the public even though it is legal under state law. In the upcoming important gatherings, the Republican State Committee, not the county party, will be state representatives for Hamilton running the show and will allow the media to observe.

The December 9 meeting will fill a vacancy in the State The public will have first-hand House of Representatives created by the resignation of Rep. Steve Braun in District 24. Then, on December 15 another vacancy created by the resignation of Rep. Eric Turner will be held. This district includes parts of Hamilton, Tipton, Howard, Grant, Madison and Delaware counties. This meeting also starts at 6:30 p.m., at the Tipton Elks Lodge.

If Hamilton County is fortunate, both vacancies will be filled by county residents thus giving the county better representation in the state legislature. It is very unusual that two such vacancies involving the same county would develop at the same time.

Honey...it's perfect!

By JANET HART LEONARD

A few weeks ago Chuck and I went shopping for a Christmas tree. His baby grand piano had taken over the corner where I had alwavs tucked my tree. And so the adventure began.

I suggested we get a pencil tree to tuck into another corner. We walked into Hobby Lobby and there it was...the most beautiful tree that I had ever seen. I thought that I heard the Hallelujah Chorus. It was adorned with lights, snow and cranberries. Seven feet of Christmas perfection.

Chuck walked down the same aisle as I did. He said..."it's perfect." I was so excited. And then he walked right past my perfect tree towards a smaller version of it. I said "Honey, that's a Christmas bush not a tree. He said "but Honey, it's just the right size for the corner by the TV."

We laughed as we left the store. We had decided to delay our decision a few days. I knew it would be a verbal, soft, tug of war. So imagine my surprise when I came home from work on Black Friday and there was a large box in our living room. On the side it read "7.5 foot slender tree." He had decided that my tree would be the perfect tree.

As I hung my snowman ornaments and bells and old fashioned Christmas sayings, I smiled, knowing that I was truly loved. And my heart smiled as I tucked a Redbird onto a branch.

I sent a picture of it to my daughter who texted back "Mom, you are so spoiled." She is right, I am.

Later that night, Chuck came home after keeping the scoreboard for the state football finals at Lucas Oil. He saw the tree and said "Oh Honey it's the most beautiful tree that I have ever seen!" His voice was a bit exaggerated as he spoke the words. He sat down in his recliner. He said, "and it only hides one fourth of the TV." I said, "not if you lean a bit to the left." We both broke into laughter.

He told me later that he knew I would love that tree and he knew he would read about it in my column. And as always...he was right!

The Bible with 66 books and 1,189 chapters was written over an approximate 1500 year period between approximately 1660 BC when Job was thought to be written, through 95AD when the book of Revelation was completed. It was penned by 40 different authors on 3 different continents - Africa, Asia and Europe, utilizing three languages - Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek. The script shows divine unity, has been repeatedly verified by ancient manuscripts, archeological findings and historical documents. It contains approximately 2000 fulfilled to the letter prophecies of which over 300 are prophecies concerning the birth, life, death and resurrection of our savior. Jesus. The Word has withstood the test of time despite aggressive efforts over the centuries to rid the earth of its pages including vicious attempts by the roman emperor Diocletian who in AD 303 demanded the destruction of all sacred texts along with the churches and the Christians who were tortured and martyred for the faith. Sadly, according to Christianity Today only 19% of churchgoers read the Bible daily, 14% read the Bible once a week and 22 percent say they read the word only once a month or a few times a month.

God's word is the sufficient guide to life. "My people are destroyed for lack of Furthermore, He has "the words of eternal refers to the "enduring word of God" while quoting a portion of Isaiah 40: 6-8 when he writes, "All flesh is as grass, And all the priest for Me; Because glory of man as the flower of the grass. The you have forgotten the grass withers, And its flower falls away, But the word of the LORD endures forever" 1 Peter 1:24-25 (NKJV). But the Word is children" Hosea 4:6 beyond enduring, God's Word is truth (John 17:17, Psalms 33:4, 1 Kings 17:24); "The entirety of Your word is truth" declares Psalms 119:160 (NKJV). In John 18:38 Pilate asked Jesus what I believe was a rhetorical question, "What is truth?" This same question is being asked by postmodern society today. The bulk of society is suspicious of the Word and is desirous of pluralism with relative truth. Whether it is in fear of being called a hater, fear of ostracism, or an attempt to make God fit one's lifestyle rather than conform lifestyle around God's ordinances, if we are honest, most of Christendom today seems to be increasingly accepting of the pluralistic ideas that are creeping into the church and into the Christian home. The result is, is that it is getting increasingly hard to recognize who is of the brethren and who is not, let alone to judge the presence of Christian fruit because the plant is simply not flowering. Ironically, pluralism is tolerant of all views (with a particular embrace for the liberal, secular humanistic views) except the views that reject pluralism. However, truth is not relative. By definition truth is truth. Communist dictators, socialists, atheists and the likes to this day are still trying to put the Word under their feet yet the Bible remains the most published, bestselling book in Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and on it, act on it and teach it (1 Tim 4:6-16). life" John 6:68 (NKJV). The apostle Peter is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction righteousness, that the man of God may be complete, thoroughly equipped for every good work." It is how we know the goodness of His commands as the psalmist writes, "The law of Your mouth is better to me than thousands of coins of gold and silver" Psalms 119:72 (NKJV), and the virtue of 17:10-11). "For precept must be upon His judgments, "For true and righteous are His judgments" Rev 19:2 (NKJV). It is our foundation and from it our doctrine comes to light. It is how we intimately become familiar with and experience our Savior, God the Father and the Holy Ghost. Scripture is for our learning (Romans 15:4). We learn how He loves us and how to love. It is how we come know and understand the right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment "exceedingly great and precious promises" (2 Peter 1:4) that He has afforded us, promises we can stand on. Psalms 138:2-5 proclaims the exaltation of His word above all; it strengthens our souls and calls for the praise of kings who will "sing for the glory of the LORD". It is divine poetic literature, pure romance, a tragic love story, a record of historic battles and a true account of redeeming glory. In His Word is found rest 19:7-11 (KJV) for the weary soul (Matt 11:28), joy for the longsuffering (Col 1:11) and peace for a God, a workman that needeth not to be troubled heart (John 14:27). Glory to God "Though the LORD is on high, Yet He regards the lowly; But the proud He knows from afar. Though I walk in the midst of trouble, You will revive me; You will stretch out Your hand Against the wrath of my enemies, And Your right hand will save me. We should study to be like the brethren in the Berean church who, wrote Luke, received the word with all readiness and searched the Scriptures daily (Acts precept, precept upon precept, Line upon line, line upon line, Here a little, there a little" Isaiah 28:10 (NKJV) meaning everything is measured by God's Word, the Word is a benchmark as "the law of the LORD is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple. The statutes of the LORD are of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes. The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring forever: the judgments of the LORD are true and righteous altogether. More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb. Moreover by them is thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward." Psalms

> "Study to shew thyself approved unto ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth" 2 Tim 2:15 (KJV). The Holy Spirit has come and He will guide you into all truth (John 16:13) if you are willing to listen. It is no one else's responsibility but yours. It's between you and the Lord and no one else.

Ridesharing services such as, Uber or Lyft, use a smartphone application to connect potential passengers with drivers for hire. Many drivers who offer this service use their personal vehicle and operate in a part-time capacity. From an insurance perspective this could be a problem.

Nearly all personal auto insurance carriers clearly exclude coverage when the insured is transporting a customer or when the insured is available for hire. The exclusions apply to all liability, uninsured motorist coverages, and medical payments coverages, all coverages that a passenger would need in case of an accident.

Up until now, the "rideshare driver" While in Indianapolis recently I noticed would need to purchase an expensive comsome peculiar looking mercial auto policy, similar to what a taxi or vehicles that sported a limo company would have to purchase. Effective December 1st, 2014, Erie Insurance is now offering in Indiana and Illinois a "rideshare" endorsement that can be added to the personal auto insurance policy.

> Recently some of Erie's top executives "rideshare" service used the Uber service and loved it. They recognized that this type of service is here to stay. A Box of Hope - just in time for Christmas an "only child" and spent a great deal of time playing or reading by myself; though my other favorite pastime was hanging out with my father, following him around like a little shadow.

My dad was the person who taught me the importance of giving to others. Mom was more focused on running the house and keeping things organized. On Saturdays I would go with my Dad on his "rounds" - we store, filled up the car with gas, etc. forward to those Saturday times just to "pal around" with Dad. (Remember American National, Western Auto, Phillips 66, etc....)

When I was around the age of 5, near the holidays, Dad asked me if I wanted to accompany him on a very special errand. Daddy was a member of a lodge in our town, whose members decided that they wanted to help some local families in need during the holiday season. Names and addresses were distributed, and Dad and I stopped at the local grocery store to pick up some food items and the "five and dime" store (similar to a tiny Walmart I suppose!) to purchase some small toys. Though I thought it was a neat adventure, I did not of course have an understanding of what real human need was...my world was secure and time why anyone would get underwear and socks for cozy, that was all I knew.

So, we purchased our items and off we went...to an area of town where I had never visited. My dad parked the Buick (he always drove a Buick) on the street, and lifted a large box out of the trunk and carried it to the front door. My first impression was that the door was very dirty. (An odd thing to remember, specifically after so many years but made such a lasting impression that I can still close my there you go.) We were loaded down with packages and waited patiently for the door to be answered; and it was...

my life was pretty much limited to my immediate and extended families and Disney television programs. After so many years, I can still visualize the appearance of the mother who answered the door. To me, as a child, she looked both frightened and frightening. Her eyes were red, her face drawn, hair unkempt, and I recall that she was very thin. Behind her were several small children, and nearby in the room were a couple of older kids – older than me at least. I could see that someone was lying on the threadbare sofa but the mother and children were mostly blocking my view from the doorway.

Until the age of eight, when my brother was born, I was because still today I recall how shocked I was. When my significant childhood memories stay somewhat buried eyes left the dirt floor, I was able to see more clearly the through our teenage and young adult years, and then settle form on the sofa in the tiny house. It was a man, who was into our psyches as we become more mature adults. obviously ill. Although of course I never learned what his illness was, only that he seemed quite incapacitated. He may have sat up, but I don't recall that he ever actually stood up; I believe he was unable to do so. I now realize as an adult how utterly humiliated he must have been as well. The time frame was mid-1950 and it was widely need, both human beings and others—all God's creatures! considered at that time that a man was the sole provider of his home and family.

The children, and I am guessing at this time of course, visited the bank, and the hardware but I believe there were at least 5 of them – were barefoot ing, to give them a reason to hope and a reason to believe I always looked (recall that this is just before Christmas - in Indiana!) and that their lives are significant, and that others care about were wearing thin and dirty clothes. There was no Christmas tree and I think that to me at that time was just as shocking as anything else!

> The large box we delivered was mostly fruit; oranges, apples, pears – and the children immediately began digging into the box, which included staples such as bread, milk, as well some small toys for boys and girls. I consequently learned that Dad had a list of all the genders and ages provided by the coordinators at his Lodge. I then saw the children opening some packages and the contents really surprised me as I did not know we even had these items provide – an example of how to love others and give of with us – underwear and socks! (I suppose my mother was in charge of purchasing those.) I could not imagine at the

The house was cold, there was newspaper taped up to the wall in several places and now of course I know that was to help keep out the cold air. I am sure there was little if any heat in the house. It was so different from anything I had seen in my short life, though the images that day eyes and see it all again.

My experience with people in general at that point in and his father was a coal miner in Kentucky. Most of Dad's growing up years were rather poor, I am certain. The financial woes of the Great Depression lingered for many years throughout this country. I believe, though he never said so, that the visit that day had some familiar overtones from his own youth. Members of what Tom Brokaw has often referred to as the "Greatest Generation" seldom talked about their Depression-era experiences they just used them to make a better life for themselves and The author considers herself "Old Noblesville" their families, and to reach out to others in need.

As often happens, Seeing for the first time my dad's compassion for these people (and other instances through the years) made a lasting impression upon me – and one that I will always cherish. I firmly believe that it is due to my dad's example that I do have a heart and a motivation to help those in There were many similar examples throughout my childhood, but this one is truly memorable to me.

Love is about what we can do to reduce others' suffer-

From serving those in the greatest need in Somalia to those who may live around the corner in our own neighborhoods, love manifests itself in its greatest form by each of us, individually. I feel so completely blessed that growing up I knew that I was loved by my family, and as an adult I have found committed and romantic love with my spouse. I am both thankful and humbled by this.

And I am very grateful that although Dad is no longer here, that he left to me the greatest legacy a parent could yourself, because, to me, that is the meaning of love. I hope that I, too, have modeled that behavior to my own children and that they will continue that legacy to my grandchildren and beyond. Noblesville 72, North Central 55.

Just another Noblesville victory; right? Another blowout for this power-packed, undefeated Lady Millers basketball team, right?

Not quite.

Noblesville got a much-needed "test" Saturday afternoon at North Central, and passed with flying colors. Their backs to the wall and not playing real well against a possible sectional opponent which was playing very well, the Lady Millers did what all good, what all great, basketball teams do in a similar situation.

They toughened up. They put the pedal to the medal. On the road, they came away with a tough victory.

The game was tied at 12-12 after one

North Central led 28-26 at halftime.

Noblesville took a one-point margin into the fourth quarter, but early in the quarter trailed by four points.

With 5:15 left to play, Coach Donna Keck's crew tied the battle at 51-51 on two free throws by Erin Wood. With 4:30 left, the Millers went up 54-51 on a 3-pointer by Kayleigh Herron. With 3:40 remaining, Herron hit another

3-pointer and Noblesville was up 57-52. The Millers went on to score the next 11 points on buckets by Alexis Shannon, Katelyn O'Reilly and Wood; two free throws by Becca Bergman and a field goal and free throw from O'Reilly.

Bingo. Instead of being upset, Noblesville had its 8th consecutive victory and a key victory over a good North Central team which could be headed for a rematch with the Millers come sectional time.

"North Central set the tempo of the game and slowed us down," Keck said. "Their press slowed us down. Their zone slowed us down. North Central is a very talented

"This was a good game for us," Keck continued. "We weren't playing well and we were facing some adversity.'

Noblesville outscored North Central 25-9 in the fourth quarter, keyed by Herron's two 3-pointers; seven points from O'Reilly and six points from Bergman

North Central turned over the basketball 10 times in the fourth quarter.

The "twin bombers," O'Reilly with 25 points and Shannon with 16, again led Noblesville's scoring. Bergman finished with 12 points. O'Reilly had another double-double, pulling 11 rebounds. Wood grabbed seven boards. Noblesville had 18 assists in the game, led by five from Bergman and four from O'Reilly. Wood and Bergman each stole the ball three times. Noblesville hit 27-of-58 shots, including 5-of-10 from 3-point territory. The Millers were 13-of-13 at the charity line.

Mitchell's search was successful....

NC shakes off Huskies

Star of the Game: Garrett Paull scored 11 points and pulled 15 rebounds.

Heights Record: 2-2.

Next Game: Heights will open its Mid-Indiana Conference season at home on Friday against Lewis Cass.

By DON JELLISON Reporter Editor

To anyone in listening distance, North Central coach Doug Mitchell asked a question when returning from the dressing room following halftime Saturday evening at Hamilton Heights.

"Do you think," Mitchell asked, "we should start finding No. 3?"

No. 3 being Heights' sharp-shooting junior guard Hunter Crist.

Nobody within range dared to answer Mitchell. Crist had burned North Central in the first half, drilling three shots from 3point range and scoring 12 points.

But, Mitchell's Panthers, a young basketball team with just one senior and a bunch of sophomores, apparently got the message. The Panthers were on Crist like a wet blanket the final two periods, holding him to five points. Crist seldom got a good look at the bucket as North Central went on to beat the Huskies, 66-54, in the "throw back" game at Heights' Middle School, where Mitchell played his high school basketball for the Huskies.

"That was the difference," Mitchell said, "finding Crist in the second half."

"I just wish we could have gotten over the hump," said Hamilton Heights coach Chad Ballenger, whose Huskies on Friday played Class 3A, No. 1 ranked Guerin Catholic before tackling Class 4A, No. 7 North Central on Saturday.

"I would have liked to see how we would have responded had we got over the hump," Ballenger added.

The Huskies came close to taking the lead a couple of times. They tied the Panthers at 36-36 early in the third quarter. With 6:09 left in the game, Heights was within one point, 48-47.

Each time North Central had the answer, and the final answer was a 20-10 run in the fourth quarter.

Crist led his team in scoring, finishing with 17 points. Garrett Paull notched 11 points and Jadon White unloaded 13.

Paull, a 6-6 senior, had an outstanding game, pulling 15 of the Huskies' 33 rebounds. Grant Weatherford vanked seven boards and accounted for eight points.

Despite losing to a pair of talented teams during the weekend, Ballenger came away pleased.

"These games will help us later in the season," said the coach. "Last season we won our last 13 games and weren't really challenged. That didn't help us get ready for the sectional."

The Huskies are playing several tough games in tough places this season. They've already been to, and defeated, Lebanon and Mt. Vernon. The Huskies have a Dec. 20 date at The Mill in Noblesville. And, Jan 1-3 they are playing in a very good Richmond Tourney.

'This was our first of three straight back-to-back weekends," Ballenger said. "Just like playing in the sectional, Friday and Saturday.'

Although it won't be a "throw back" game, Heights and North Central will play again next season, at North Central.

Star of the Game: Keegan Culp collected 16 points, 8 rebounds. Carmel's Record: 3-0. Next Game: Friday, Dec. 12, at North

When Ryan Cline isn't exploding at the offensive end of the court, Carmel coach Scott Heady always has a second option.

It's called defense. Of course, Cline plays a big role in that, often labeled by Heady as Carmel's best defender.

Cline got "only" 23 points at Avon Saturday, but the Greyhounds still romped to their third straight win of the season, grinding out a 57-34 victory.

The final outcome was never in doubt as Carmel held Avon to just 20 points in the first half and just 14 points in the final two Carmel led 16-11 after one frame; 27-20 at halftime and then blew away Avon with a 20-10 run in the third period.

Cline led the way, hitting 7-of-11 shots and 3-of-7 from 3-point range. He dished out three assists and collected six rebounds.

Keegan Culp also scored in double figures, ending the night with 16 points. He canned 3-of-5 3-pointers as Carmel went 6-of-18 from long range. Culp also grabbed eight rebounds.

Preston Flamion had eight points and he led Carmel with nine rebounds.

Brandon Peters scored 16 of Avon's 34 points. Jack McCue, Avon's other highpoint producer this season, was held to a pair of free throws.

The Avon game was the start of seven consecutive road games for the Greyhounds.

Guerin's boys basketball team improved to 3-0 after defeating Fort Wayne South 82-70 in a Saturday game at the Eagles' Nest. The Golden Eagles, Class 3A's top-ranked team, used a huge third quarter to break open what had been a close game. GC only led 29-26 at halftime, but doubled its output in the third quarter by scoring another 29 points to take a 58-44 lead.

Matt Holba scored 22 points and grabbed 13 rebounds, which gave him a third consecutive double-double, something which might be unprecedented in Golden Eagles history. Christian Munson was GC's leading scorer, with a career-high 24 points, including an 8-of-8 effort from the free-throw line.

"He had good driving opportunities and he took advantage of them tonight," said Guerin Catholic coach Pete Smith.

Calen Cunningham came off the bench to score 11 points. Cunningham stepped in for Nick Schneider, who couldn't play after spraining his ankle in the Golden Eagles' Friday game with Hamilton Heights. Smith said Schnieder "was just too sore to go."

"I thought Calen came in and filled in admirably for Nick," said Smith. Matthew Godfrey dished out seven assists to go along with his six points.

Lady Royals win two on the road

Hamilton Southeastern picked up two seven-point road wins over the weekend.

The Royals held off a huge comeback by Tech to score a 61-54 victory on Friday night, then did the same against Greenfield-Central on Saturday, winning that game 55-48. In both cases, Southeastern got off to strong starts, then had to deal with a fourthquarter run by their opponent.

But at the same time, the Royals were able to pull through due to their large leads. Southeastern led Tech 14-4 after one quarter, and were up 30-14 at halftime. The Royals enjoyed a 33-13 lead over Greenfield on Saturday, outscoring the Cougars 13-2 in the second period.

Megan Walton led HSE against Tech, scoring 15 points and grabbing nine rebounds. Bre Lloyd scored 12 points. Madi Taylor also had nine rebounds, while Taylor Graham dished out six assists and Walton four.

Lloyd was the scoring leader against Greenfield, pouring in 19 points and handing out seven assists. Graham scored 12 points. Taylor pulled down eight rebounds.

Noblesville's Foley wins individual, team national cross country championship

Grand Valley State University cross country runner Kendra Foley was a double winner at the NCAA Division II women's cross country national championship meet, which took place Saturday in Louisville.

Foley, a sophomore from Noblesville, won the individual championship, finishing the 5780-meter run in 21:05.8. She led a 1-2-3 finish for Grand Valley State, and that was more than enough for GVSU to win the team national championship. Grand Valley State scored 50 points, well ahead of second-place Hillsdale.

Foley was a four-time all-state runner in high school, earning medalist all four years she ran for the Millers.
