Arrowood, Mundy on Governor's Education Agenda...

Looks good on paper, but needs more details

In reviewing Governor Pence's Education Agenda Dr. Derek Arrowood, Superintendent of Hamilton Heights School Corporation, and Dr. Dave Mundy, Superintendent of Sheridan Community Schools, say the new plan looks good on paper but it is the lack of detail that concerns them the most.

“The majority of school systems across the state are performing well,” said Dr. Arrowood. “We are a student-centered educational institution working very hard to prepare our students for success in a variety of tracts whether it is direct entry into the workforce, trade or technical school, junior college or four-year university. We have created partnerships with private companies, offer advanced/college credit level coursework, hands-on leadership and learning experiences inside and beyond the school walls - all designed to graduate well-prepared students for success at the next level.”

"We feel we are doing a very good job," he continued. "I can't see creating another level of government and a 'one size fits all' program producing the anticipated results. In fact, I'm afraid it will do more harm than good to the majority of us."

"I would prefer to see a consistent, level playing field with rules that are not fluid from the state level as they may have a negative impact on the majority of public school districts in the state," said Dr. Mundy. "I am afraid that the beneficiaries could perhaps be in the minority, and in this case the minority are not the rural schools with strong community support like Sheridan and Heights."

"I am fearful the new agenda coupled with a new standardized test and updated grading system could potentially hurt our schools more by cutting us out of needed resources that enable us to focus on innovation and student

Crash in northern part of county kills New Castle man

A two-vehicle crash in northern Hamilton County killed a New Castle man Thursday morning.

At approximately 9:30 a.m., Hamilton County Sheriff deputies responded to 281st Street and State Road 213 in northern Hamilton County, east of Arcadia, in reference to a report of a two-vehicle crash involving injuries. Deputies arrived at the location and found a semi-truck with trailer and a passenger car involved in a crash, both of which were off the road. Pronounced dead at the scene of the crash was Ricky R. Dautrich, 51.

According to deputies on the Hamilton County Crash Investigation Team, Mr. Dautrich was westbound on 281st Street, driving a Chevrolet Lumina, approaching the intersection with State Road 213 when it struck the side of a semi-truck traveling northbound on State Road 213. After being struck by the car, the truck went off the road and hit a tree. The driver of the Freightliner truck, James Lovett, was not injured in the crash but was taken for a chemical test per state law.

The crash investigation continues and anyone with information should contact the Hamilton County Crash Team at 317-773-1282.

learning," Dr. Mundy continued. "I hope the bar is set at a reachable level for all. Being a small district, we realize a handful of students absent during standardized testing could be a crushing factor for our district/school grade and thus future funding."

In terms of Pre-K state-funded programs, Drs. Arrowood and Mundy are long term supporters. In fact, both school districts have implemented pre-kindergarten programs that have been well received and utilized. "We very much support a prekindergarten program that funds the public schools in the state rather than diverting public monies from public schools to fund private prekindergarten programs," they said.

"I've never been a big fan of vouchers, especially when it impacts student funding at public schools," added Dr. Arrowood. "Simply put, it takes money away from where it can make the most benefit in the short and long term. Expanding state charter schools, many of which are already struggling, just doesn't make good sense. The voucher program and charter school expansion should be reexamined."

"One law or one agenda without factoring in the many complex scenarios faced in our diverse school districts simply can't do justice for the masses," noted Dr. Mundy.

A plea to the State...

County needs relief

By DON JELISON
Reporter Editor

"What? What? How much?"

Those were the questions representatives from American Structurepoint discussed with the Hamilton County Commissioners at a special work session before the regular Commissioners meeting Monday afternoon at the Government & Judicial Center in Noblesville.

The building itself was the topic of conversation. A group talked about ways the Center can be expanded to meet the needs of growing Hamilton County.

Structurepoint, in association with DELZ and Rouse International, wants to submit a proposal to provide architectural, planning and engineering consulting services to the county for design and construction of a new expansion to the Hamilton County Government and Judicial Center in Noblesville. This proposal is to cover the initial phase of the project, which is to assist the County in determining the extent purpose of establishing funding mechanisms.

Cost of course, is the No. 1 question. And to meet the needs of the county, the Hamilton County Commissioners would need a referendum passed, said County Administrator Steve Dilinger.

"We don't have an Ivy Tech in our situation," Dilinger said. "The schools did it, but they were a long time of a lot of money with Ivy Tech coming in. We need to add facilities for these additional courses."

The time is now, the Commissioners stress.

"No one needs to tell us what we need to do," Dilinger said. "The growth here in Hamilton County is tremendous. We need to be able to keep up with the need."

Howard said, "The growth here in Hamilton County is tremendous. We need to be able to keep up with the need."

Reporter's decision distributed to subscribers via email has become extremely popular," said Jelison. "Thousands of Hamilton County residents are reading it and our success is directly related to the support we receive from our advertisers."

"Advertising and marketing has changed. So much of it is now being done online and through social media. Local business are spending thousands of dollars developing and maintaining websites to market their products. Most even offer the ability to purchase their products online," stated Jelison.

Jelison said the Reporter realizes the unlimited potential of the internet marketing and advertising. "We needed to find a way to deliver to subscribers direct access to advertiser websites."

Beginning today readers are able to click on an advertisement appearing on the Reporter's usual welcome page (the first page readers receive when opening their daily email from the Reporter) or click an advertisement inside the daily newspaper and be directed to the advertiser's website.

"This technology provides advertisers with an unlimited marketing potential to our readers. It provides our readers direct access to the products and services offered by our advertisers," said Jelison.

"The Reporter's daily edition distributed to subscribers via email has become extremely popular. Our presence on social media and the web, coupled with our weekly print edition and daily email edition, has earned us the reputation of the county's leading source for local news."

Jelison concluded the announcement by stating, "We thank new ground in the local newspaper business by publishing a daily newspaper delivered to subscribers via email. Once again we are breaking new ground by providing this service to readers and local businesses. No other newspaper in Hamilton County delivers to subscribers direct access to advertiser websites."

Hamilton County Commissioners Mark Hebrant, Christine Altman and Steve Dilinger accepted the Community Service Award, which Hamilton County received from the Indiana Association of Counties.

County accepts Community Service Award

The Hamilton County Commissioners accepted the prestigious Community Service Award from the Indiana Association of Counties. The award was presented to the county showing best cooperative efforts with other units of government.

The specific award in the cooperative category was given for the county's work in bringing together city, school and state entities to locate the new IVY Tech College regional campus in Noblesville.

Noblesville Schools, the city of Noblesville, and IVY Tech, a state institution, joined the county to each contribute toward establishing the new educational facility here.

The award was presented at the annual meeting of the Association of Counties in Indianapolis. Hamilton County has received the citation a half-dozen times in the past 20 years for a variety of projects and programs designed to improve quality of government and community life.

With a one-week fall break...

Sheridan Schools sets 2015-16 school calendar

At the Dec. 9 Sheridan School Board meeting, the decision was made to make adjustments to the 2015-2016 school calendar.

Sheridan Community Schools will begin classes on August 12, 2015, the equivalent date to the start of this school year. The big change will also be the existence of a week-long fall break running from October 19 to October 23.

"The majority of schools in the county have gone to this model, some even longer, and we have taken time to watch and question the positives and negatives to increasing fall vacation. I believe this break at the conclusion of the first nine weeks will benefit our students, families, and faculty members," Sheridan Schools Superintendent Dr. David Mundy noted. "We are going to give it a try and see how it works; and since we have only approved a one year calendar, we can switch back to the shorter break if it is not well received."

In the approved calendar everything else remained the same, with the last day of school slated to be May 27, 2016 and graduation on June 4, 2016.

"I have been approached by a lot of community and faculty members about looking into this change, and after reviewing the calendar for next year and reconvening the calendar committee, we decided the dates worked out to where we were able to make the small adjustments and give the extended break a try without major disruptions to the rest of the year," said Dr. Mundy.

To show support for entrepreneurs and small businesses this holiday season, ICBA and community banks across the nation, including The Farmers Bank, will kick off Go Local Wednesday on Dec. 17. Throughout the day, The Farmers Bank employees will visit various locally owned and operated businesses and restaurants throughout the community, supporting small business owners and locally based entrepreneurs.

“ICBA and The Farmers Bank realize the importance of America’s small businesses, and many of our bank’s staff members are looking forward to continuing our support for them throughout this holiday season,” said Karen I. Miller, president & CEO of The Farmers Bank. “As we look ahead to Go Local Wednesday, our bank’s staff is committed to shopping and dining at locally owned and operated businesses and restaurants throughout the community. We are proud to support fellow small businesses and play a part in helping our local economy thrive.”

Two arrested from an ongoing October 2013 synthetic drug investigation

As part of a continuing US Department of Homeland Security Investigations and Indiana State Police investigation about a large synthetic drug operation from October of 2013, investigators developed information about a safe owned by former Hendricks County Deputies Jason & Teresa Woods.

A search warrant was obtained to open the safe which was found to contain more than $80,000 cash and over 100 grams of synthetic drugs. This resulted in an arrest warrant being issued for the husband and wife, Jason Woods, 44 and Teresa Woods, 34 for two counts each of ‘A’ Misdemeanor possession of a synthetic drug. Both suspects were arrested at 10 a.m. this morning at the Indianapolis office of Homeland Security Investigations. They were later transported to the Boone County Jail for further processing. The arrest warrant was issued from Boone County due to the safe with the drugs and money being located at a Boone County address.

Persons arrested are presumed innocent until convicted in a court of law.

Big third quarter sends ‘Blazers to victory

Star of the Game: Connor Holly scored 26 points, including an 11-of-12 performance from the free throw line, dished out six assists and grabbed three rebounds.
University’s Record: 2-2
Next Game: The ‘Blazers host Bethesda Christian tonight.

University used a 15-0 third quarter run to open up a lead against Indianapolis Lutheran and made 16 of 19 fourth quarter free throws to pick up a 78-70 win Thursday night.

Senior Tyler Diehl poured in 27 points and junior Connor Holly had 26 points, including 11 of 12 free throws to lead University to their second win in four games this season. Senior Zach Duncan added a career high 16 points and senior Jacob Daniels pulled 10 rebounds for University. Holly had six assists and three rebounds, while Diehl corralled six caroms and had three blocked shots.

University led at each stop and never trailed by more than two points in the game.

Diehl had 10 first quarter points to help stake UHS to a 16-10 first quarter lead.

Holly had 13 of his points in the fourth quarter, including an eight for eight effort at the foul stripe. Diehl was 4 for 6 from behind the three point line, while Holly made all three of his three point attempts.

The win was just University's third in 10 meetings with Lutheran.

"This was our first win over Lutheran at home. It was a big win for our program" remarked second year head coach Brandon Lafferman.

Coach Lafferman noted that the 15-0 third quarter run was sparked by the defense.

"We made some adjustments in our zone and they worked well," he said. "When we rebound the ball we can get in our offense and get better execution on the offense end."

The Trailblazers racked up 11 assists on the night, many of them feeding the ball to Duncan on the block.

"This was Duncan's best game, we will look to continue to feed him the ball in the post" concluded Lafferman.

University will host Bethesda Christian tonight and attempt to move over the .500 mark for the first time this season. Tip off for the varsity game will be at 7:30 p.m.

Exciting finish at the Tiger Den...

Fishers comes back to beat Warren

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

For the first time since re-opening its gym in 2006, the Fishers boys basketball team is 4-1 to begin the season.

The Tigers earned it, too. Fishers came from behind to defeat Warren Central 55-53 in an exciting Thursday night game at the Tiger Den. Fishers was down as much as 12 points in the third quarter before rallying and outscoring the Warriors 21-9 in the fourth period.

In fact, the Tigers trailed 49-41 with 4:19 left to play. But two huge defensive plays in the next 54 seconds gave Fishers six consecutive points and got the Tigers right back into the game.

The run began when Cameron Wolter stole the ball, then got it to Luke Wehner, who drained a 3-pointer. The Tigers got another turnover out of Warren, and that led to Lance Dollison being fouled while making a layin. Dollison then made the free throw to convert the traditional three-point play.

Just like that, a 49-41 deficit became a much more manageable 49-47. Fishers was still down by two, but the momentum change was obvious, especially to Tigers coach Joe Leonard.

"We went into our 1-3-1, which has been good to us because (Keegan) Kollmeyer's so quick out top," said Leonard. "We felt real comfortable doing that. And that was the one thing that finally seemed to work for us."

Both teams hit two free throws, then Warren called time-out with 2:29 left. The Warriors drained the clock down to 1:28, but eventually Fishers got the ball, and Kollmeyer delivered with a 3-pointer. Finally, Fishers had the lead at 52-51, the first time the Tigers had led since early in the game.

CJ Hardaway's layin put WC back ahead 53-52, but Wolter was fouled with 26.3 seconds left. He made both free throws, and the Tigers had the lead for good.

Fishers got another turnover with 13.5 seconds left, and a foul sent Dollison to the line, where he made 1-of-2 shots. Warren had one more look, but a 3-pointer missed the mark, and time ran out.

Star of the Game: Luke Wehner scored 12 points, including a huge 3-pointer, to lead Fishers.
Fishers' Record: 4-1.
Next Game: The Tigers host Franklin Central in Saturday.

The last four minutes easily erased the memories of the earlier part of the game. The Warriors scored six straight points to lead 8-4, then were able to keep Fishers at a distance until the Tigers made their big rally. "We had a hard time keeping them in front of us," said Leonard. "We were over-helping and they were getting layups, and we didn't work the ball around long enough on offense, and that led to run-outs for them in transition."

Still, Fishers never let the game get completely out of control. Various Tigers stepped up at different times. A good example was Reid Stephens, who scored five consecutive points in the second half. That cut a 12-point WC lead to 44-37, keeping Fishers within striking distance going into the fourth quarter.

"We got a deep bench, we play a lot of kids, and that's why because you never know who's going to step up," said Leonard.

Wehner and Wolter each scored 12 points, with Kollmeyer adding 10. Wolter also grabbed five rebounds.

No. 1 Eagles off to 4-0 start...

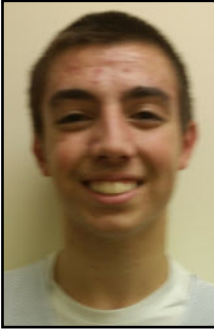

Guerin plays 2 this weekend

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Having played four games within a two-week period to the start of the 2014-15 season, Guerin Catholic's schedule continues to be challenging this weekend. The Class 3A, No. 1 ranked Golden Eagles will be tested two times, both on the road. Guerin will travel to Indianapolis Northwest tonight and then on Saturday evening Coach Pete Smith will take his club to Muncie Central. The Eagles earlier this week defeated Broad Ripple, so Northwest and Muncie Central will be Guerin's second and third foes of the week. Northwest is 0-3 going into the game tonight. Muncie Central, which hosts Huntington North tonight, will take a 1-2 record into that contest.

Holba

Munson

"Northwest has some athletes, but they're a team that, after watching them play at Noblesville and at Mt. Vernon, I believe we should be in good shape playing," Smith talked about tonight's contest. Northwest has lost to Noblesville 71-36, Mt. Vernon 64-46 and Attucks 85-55. With Muncie Central on the Saturday schedule, Smith calls the Northwest outing a "trap game." Guerin will play the Bearcats in the famed Muncie Fieldhouse. "It always is a historical experience when we take on Muncie Central on their home court," said the Guerin coach. "With Central consolidating with Southside, they have some new players and they also have a new coach, Jeff Hollway," continued Smith. "Our staff was in attendance the night they beat Yorktown, and Yorktown beat us in summer league action. So, that gets our attention, right away."

Godfrey

The Bearcats beat Yorktown 65-56. They have lost to Jay County, 43-40 in overtime, and to Fort Wayne Snider, 58-40. "Donald Allen, a 6-8, 300-pound center, will give any team fits," Smith talked about the Bearcats. Muncie Central's leading scorer, the only Bearcat in double figures, is Phillip Corthen, a junior guard who is averaging 18.3 points a game. Smith has three Eagles in double digits, led by 6-6 senior standout Matt Holba. He is averaging 19.5 points a game and also is averaging 14.0 rebounds a contest. Just a step behind in the scoring column is Christian Munson, a 6-4 junior averaging 16.5 points a game. He is followed by 5-10 sophomore guard Matthew Godfrey with a 12.5 scoring average.

It's that long-time war...

Carmel at North Central

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Hamilton/Marion counties backyard neighbors. Two of the state's largest schools, each with a great basketball tradition. Rivals for years. A MIC Conference game. High school basketball doesn't get any better than the Carmel at North Central matchup tonight. It's the state's No. 1 ranked Greyhounds slugging it out with the state's No. 7 rated Panthers. "This will be a challenge playing a very good MIC opponent on the road so early in the season," said Carmel coach Scott Heady. Carmel is 3-0 with victories over Zionsville, Lawrence Central and Avon. The win over LC has given the Greyhounds a 1-0 jump in the conference. North Central is 3-0. Coach Doug Mitchell's team has defeated Metropolitan 111-43, Richmond 84-65 and Hamilton Heights 66-54. Before this weekend is over, fans will have a closer insight on the local Class 4A sectional. North Central plays at Hamilton Southeastern on Saturday. Southeastern is the defending sectional champion. "North Central has played well in their first three games, so we understand we'll have to be at our best tonight," Heady said. "Our defense and rebounding has been good. We need better offensive execution and need to get to the free throw line more." It figures that Heady wants more free throw attempts. The Greyhounds have hit 76 percent of their shots, going 36-of-47. Carmel is averaging 58.7 points a game, and much of that has come from one player. Ryan Cline is scoring at a 23.3 clip. But, also in double figures are Keegan Culp (11.7) and Preston Flamion (10.3). Trenton Richardson is scoring at a 6.3 clip. Culp leads the Greyhounds in rebounding (8.3), Flamion is pulling boards at a 6.0 average. Cline is dishing out 4.7 assists a game.

Carmel's Trenton Richardson (center) is averaging 6.3 points per game for the Greyhounds so far this season. At right is Preston Flamion, who has averages of 10.3 points and 6.0 rebounds.

Four score in double figures, but...

Huskies lose in overtime

It’s tough for a young basketball team to win on the road, and even tougher when the battle goes into overtime.

Hamilton Heights’ young Lady Huskies gave it a try Thursday evening, but dropped a 68-65 overtime thriller to Frankfort.

Heights led early, taking an 18-14 advantage in the first quarter and going to halftime with a 31-24 lead.

Frankfort outscored the Huskies 34-27 in the second half and 10-7 in the overtime.

Even so, it was one of Heights’ best offensive games of the season. Four different Huskies scored in double figures, led by freshman Kayla Kirtley with 17 points. Caitlyn Hays and Ashton Runner each notched 16 points and Lexi Branham also was in double figures with 10 points.

Sophomore center Taylor Boyd had another huge game with six points and eight rebounds and Runner added to her double digit scoring night by collecting six boards and passing out nine assists. Kirtley grabbed four rebounds, collected three steals and blocked five shots.

Twenty-five fouls were called against Heights and three Huskies fouled out. Frankfort had 14 fouls.

Star of the Game: Freshman Kayla Kirtley scored 17 points, collected four rebounds, had three steals and blocked five shots for the Lady Huskies.

Heights’ Record: Won 2, Lost 6.

Next Game: Saturday at home against Peru.

Indiana Fever’s 2015 schedule announced

The Indiana Fever will open its 16th WNBA season with back-to-back games against a pair of conference finalists from the 2014 playoffs. Indiana opens at Chicago on Friday, June 5 (8:30 p.m. ET) before hosting a home opener on Saturday, June 6 (7:00 p.m.) against the Minnesota Lynx.

The season-opening game at Chicago is a repeat of Fever vs. Sky playoff series the past two years. The home-opening game features a rematch with the Lynx who won WNBA crowns in 2011 and 2013, and fell to champion Indiana in 2012.

The Fever's 34-game regular season schedule begins the first week of June and ends in mid-September. WNBA Playoffs will conclude in early October. Season-ticket packages are currently available at FeverBasketball.com. Mini (5 games), half (9 games) and MVP membership packages are available. A special holiday package with discounted pricing includes lower level seating for nine games plus a Tamika Catchings jersey, through Jan. 3.

Returning from a WNBA record-tying 10th straight playoff appearance in 2014, with 11 trips in 15 seasons, Indiana begins its first campaign under the direction of Head Coach Stephanie White, who took over duties from longtime mentor Lin Dunn. An assistant to Dunn the past four seasons, White also spent four years as an assistant with the Chicago Sky. A former Indiana prep legend who won national player of the year honors in both high school and college, White led Purdue to an NCAA championship in 1999. She played five WNBA seasons between 1999-04, capping her career with four seasons in Indiana following a draft-day trade in December 1999 to lead her hometown team into its first year of existence.

With White at the helm, the Fever’s schedule includes 22 games against the Eastern Conference and 12 against the West. The Fever plays four games apiece against Eastern foes Atlanta, Chicago and Connecticut; and squares off against New York and Washington five times. Home and away games are scheduled against each of six Western Conference opponents.

Indiana closes the regular season with four of five September games against Eastern rivals, hoping to secure sole possession of the WNBA record for consecutive playoff seasons. Schedule highlights include:

- Two Fever games will be televised nationally on ESPN2. Elena Delle Donne visits Bankers Life Fieldhouse when the Fever and Sky battle in a Sunday afternoon contest on June 14 (1:00 p.m.). Indiana faces Diana Taurasi and the defending WNBA champion Mercury in Phoenix on Sunday, Aug. 16 (7:00 p.m. ET).
- The longest homestand of the season features four games to begin the month of July. Included in that stretch is the club's annual Kids Day when Indiana hosts Seattle on Wednesday, July 8 (Noon). The afternoon contest has annually drawn one of the Fever’s largest crowds of the season.

- The schedule features three visits by the New York Liberty and All-Star Cappie Pondexter. Following a pair of road contests at Madison Square Garden in June, the Liberty visit Bankers Life Fieldhouse on Wednesday, July 29 (7:00 p.m.) Sunday, Aug. 23 (6:00 p.m.) and the regular season finale on Sunday, Sept. 13 (5:00 p.m.).
- Defending champion Phoenix visits Indianapolis on Friday, June 12 (7:00 p.m.).
