Arcadia is "trash talking"

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

An overflow crowd showed up Monday at the Arcadia Town Council meeting to do a little "trash talking."

In this situation of "trash talking" the subject was trash.

Currently, Arcadia residents are allowed to use different trash hauling companies to dispose of their trash, or other methods to dispose of trash. Each resident is on his or her own.

Recently, the Town of Arcadia asked for bids. Three companies responded, Republic, Manifold and a company out of New Castle. Manifold doesn't recycle its pick up. The company out of New Castle and Manifold do not provide tote pickup containers.

Republic's does provide totes and Republic submitted a bid of $18.50 a month, based on the 510 residents in Arcadia.

"Our crowd (on Monday) was large and expressed different opinions," Board Member Glen Shrock told The Hamilton County Reporter. "One woman said her Constitutional Rights would be denied if she was not allowed to choose her own trash pickup company. Others said their Rights would be denied if Arcadia isn't provided with a clean town.

"Some people would save money if the Town would accept the bid from Republic for town-wide pickup," Shrock said. "Some would not."

One who would save money in the plan would be Bill Cook, who at the Monday meeting was reelected Town Board President. Cook currently is paying over $100 a month, having made his individual choice, and should Town selects Republic bid's of $18.50 (based on 510 residents) Cook would be among those with considerable savings.

Because of that, Cook has announced that he will abstain from voting when the Town Board votes at the next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, January 20 at 10 a.m. The Board usually meets on the third Monday in each month, but in January that Monday, January 19, is Martin Luther King Day, an official government holiday.

Should Cook not vote at that meeting, then the other two Town Council members of the three-member board, who will be voting are Shrock and Maurice St. Louis.

Should a tie vote occur, then Clerk Treasurer Betty Shields will break the tie.

In the next election for Town Board members, the primary in 2015, Shrock has said he will not run for election. Cook has not announced his decision.

Arrest made in Fishers bank robbery

Fishers Police Department along with officers from the Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department, Bloomington Police Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation have made an arrest in the December 31st robbery of the Key Bank located at 7450 E. 116th Street in Fishers.

A media statement issued by the Fishers Police Department indicated officers arrested 50 year-old Arnold John Jones Jr. for armed robbery in connection with the robbery.

On December 31st at approximately 2:20 p.m. the Hamilton County Dispatch received a 911 call indicating white male, approximately 40-50 years old, wearing a blue hooded sweatshirt entered Key Bank, displayed a handgun and demanded money. The suspect then fled on foot with an unknown amount of money.

Weather causes crashes in Indianapolis District

A late evening, early morning snow hampered the rush hour commute for travelers as the Indiana State Police answered numerous calls for service throughout the Indianapolis District. The Indianapolis District is comprised of Marion, Johnson, Shelby, Hendricks, Hancock, Hamilton and Boone counties.

Beginning Monday evening at 6 p.m. until late Tuesday morning at 11 a.m., troopers responded to eight personal injury and 115 property damage crashes. Troopers assisted with 31 reported slide off's that did not result in any damage. Trooper's also responded to 69 calls for service during this time period that was not weather related.

None of the personal injury crashes were serious and no life threatening injuries were reported.

To keep travelers safe during the winter season the Indiana State Police offers the following tips.

Be prepared:

- Ø Before traveling, check the forecast and let someone know your travel route
- Ø Keep your gas tank at least half-full
- Ø Carry a winter driving kit that should include blankets, flashlight, extra batteries, a brightly colored cloth, sand (or kitty litter), shovel, candle, matches, non-perishable high calorie food, first aid kit, and jumper cables
- Ø Have a cell phone and charger cord
- Ø Slow down on snow/ice covered roads
- Ø Allow extra time to arrive at your destination

Ø Clear all vehicle windows of ice and snow. Remove snow from hood, roof and lights.

Ø Use extra caution when driving across bridges, underpasses, shaded areas and intersections where ice is slow to melt

Ø Avoid abrupt stops and starts. Slow down gradually.

Should you become stranded:

Ø Don't leave your car. It's the best protection you have.

Ø Tie a brightly colored cloth to your antenna

Ø Roll down your window a small amount to allow fresh air in your vehicle

Ø Keep exhaust pipe free of blockage to prevent carbon monoxide poisoning

Ø Don't panic. An idling car uses approximately one gallon of gas per hour

Travel Advisory issued for Hamilton County

A yellow Travel Advisory has been issued for county maintained roads in the unincorporated areas of Hamilton County. This is the lowest level of local travel advisory and means that routine travel or activities may be restricted in areas because of a hazardous situation. Individuals should use caution or avoid those areas.

Overnight snowfall has made for slippery conditions and some reduced visibility around Hamilton County. Please drive with caution and allow extra time, especially during the evening commute.

What is the Polar Vortex?

Graphic courtesy of the National Weather Service

According to the National Weather Service, the polar vortex is a large area of low pressure and cold air surrounding both of the Earth's poles. It always exists near the poles, but weakens in summer and strengthens in winter. The term "vortex" refers to the counter-clockwise flow of air that helps keep the colder air near the Poles. Many times during winter in the northern hemisphere, the polar vortex will expand, sending cold air southward with the jet stream. This occurs fairly regularly during wintertime and is often associated with large outbreaks of Arctic air.

Wind chill warning begins at 8 a.m.

A wind chill warning will be in effect from 8 a.m. today to 10 a.m. Thursday for Hamilton County. Wind chills are expected to drop to as low as -25 to -30 by Thursday morning.

DANGEROUS

working around the clock to clear the streets. Johnson told the Reporter that crews work alternating 12 hour shifts until streets are deemed safe for travel. As of about 9 a.m. Tuesday morning the primary roads were in good condition and the trucks moved to secondary streets and housing additions. With wind gusts today reaching near 30 mph drifting is still a concern.

Frigid, potentially record breaking temperatures, today into Thursday morning shouldn't be taken lightly. The forecasted high temperature for today is 3 degrees above zero according to the National Weather Service. Tonight temperatures will fall drastically, forecasted to reach 12 below zero with wind chills expected to reach a dangerous 29 below. According to the NWS records the lowest recorded temperature for January was set on Jan. 19, 1994 at minus 27 degrees.

Wind chill values near minus 25 degrees mean that frostbite is possible within 15 minutes. During extreme temperatures make sure you have adequate shelter for pets and check on the elderly to make sure they have sufficient heat, food and water. Temperatures are expected to stay below freezing through the weekend.

Johnson

Roy Johnson is announcing he will seek re-election to the Noblesville Common Council, representing District One, the district he has represented for two terms. "Representing my constituents in District One has been very rewarding. After all the research and all the discussions, I base my decisions on one very important criteria ... What is best for the citizens of Noblesville?"

Johnson has served as President of the Noblesville Common Council in 2010 and 2013. He has served on the Plan Commission, the Budget/Finance Committee, Parks & Recreation Committee, Roads/Traffic Committee, Building/Land Acquisition, Wastewater Committee, and Parking Taskforce committee. He has also been the Common Council Liaison to many departments within city government.

Johnson said, "I appreciate the trust the voters have placed in me. Given the opportunity to serve again, I will continue to listen to their concerns. It's important to continue our progress through responsible decision-making and advancing the people's vision for a vital downtown, a vibrant park and trail system, and utilizing a strategic economic development plan for Noblesville." Once again, we need to continue to improve upon those things that have made Noblesville "One of the Ten Best Communities in the United States to Raise a Family" and "One of the Five Top Communities in the United States to Retire."

Johnson holds two university degrees in Education, and is currently employed by Purdue University. Many people will know Mr. Johnson as the host of numerous television shows on HomeTown Television in Hamilton County. Roy has been married to his wife, Judi, for 30 years. They have twins, Kaia and Roy Jr. who are Noblesville High School and Purdue University graduates.

With government back in session, lawmakers make plans

Government was back in session Tuesday, with both the 114th U.S. Congress and the Indiana Statehouse getting business underway.

Among local representatives, Susan Brooks, a Republican from Indiana's 5th District, will be part of the Energy and Commerce Committee.

Senator Dan Coats (R-Ind.) today issued the following statement regarding the start of the 114th Congress:

"Today marks a fresh start in Washington and an opportunity to move forward much-needed measures to strengthen our security and economy. I am anxious to get to work on responsible legislative solutions to our nation's biggest challenges. My primary focus will be on growing the economy, tackling our debt and deficit problems and keeping America's homeland safe from terrorist threats.

"There are several areas where Republicans can work with President Obama, if he is willing to work with us. Many of these already have bipartisan support in Congress: Repealing the excise tax on medical devices, constructing the Keystone XL pipeline and reforming federal regulations that prevent businesses from growing and hiring. Other areas of potential bipartisan agreement include expanding exports and reforming our broken tax code. Republicans also are committed to repealing Obamacare to replace it with more effective and patient-centered solutions.

"My hope is that in the new Congress the Senate returns to regular order and the so-called world's greatest deliberative body is productive again. I look forward to rolling up my sleeves and getting to work on behalf of Hoosiers."

Over in the Statehouse, Republicans hold a super majority in both the House and the Senate, but Indiana House Democrats are also looking to bring up issues. The Democrats say they will focus on raising what they believe is "our state's suffering middle class in the 2015 legislative session by advocating a series of proposals that will improve salaries and wages for Hoosiers, provide a tax cut for families, fund a world class education system of lifelong learning, and restore ethical and election integrity."

House Democratic Leader Scott Pelath from Michigan City said these proposals are designed to provide alternatives that will enable the people of Indiana to determine who is doing more to improve an economic performance that has benefitted a very few in recent years.

"With one of the nation's best corporate tax climates, we still have not seen the lives of most Hoosiers improve, and cities and towns across Indiana are struggling to remain vibrant," Pelath said.

"We need to refocus on our struggling middle class, so that consumers have more to spend in the marketplace, workers can afford to acquire the new skills demanded by employers, and every citizen has the opportunity to take part in a world class education system of lifelong learning that begins in pre-school and finishes when a worker acquires the skills needed for his or her final job."

Pelath said the caucus priorities for 2015 will include: SALARY, WAGE IMPROVEMENTS FOR HOOSIERS

ELIMINATING TEXTBOOK TAX ON FAMILIES
RENEWED FOCUS ON EARLY EDUCATION
TRANSPARENCY IN SCHOOL FUNDING
AFFORDABLE COLLEGE TUITION
ETHICS REFORMS
REFORMING ELECTIONS

Pelath said House Democrats would continue to help pass needed legislation, critique the work of the Republican House majority, and provide alternatives that give the people of Indiana a chance to judge competing visions of the future of our state.

"The one thing we do not need is a return to the types of divisive debates that have dominated recent sessions," Pelath said.

"We have stopped talking about who can marry whom, and we are the better for it. There is no need to stoke that debate again through the guise of addressing alleged 'discrimination.' These discussions are pointless and irrelevant and do nothing to address the issues that need to be handled by this body."

Indiana Blood Center joins Center for Transfusion and Transplant Medicine

Indiana Blood Center's Board of Directors has unanimously approved joining the Center for Transfusion and Transplant Medicine (CTTM).

CTTM is a national alliance of independent blood centers founded in 2012 that includes Blood Center of Wisconsin (Milwaukee), Heartland Blood Centers (Aurora, Ill.) and Michigan Blood (Grand Rapids). Indiana Blood Center's affiliation took effect January 1, 2015.

As a national organization of affiliated blood centers, CTTM provides transfusion and transplant medicine solutions, diagnostic lab services, medical and scientific expertise and cellular therapies. The collective efforts of CTTM affiliates have resulted in improved patient outcomes, higher quality services and reduced cost of care for healthcare systems both regionally and nationally.

"This is a transitional and positive step for Indiana Blood," said Byron Buhner, president and CEO. "As an affiliate of CTTM, we'll be able to thrive in a new era of healthcare, and offer a broader range of services to our hospital partners."

"This alliance with CTTM provides the opportunity to grow and serve more customers, donors and patients," said Indiana Blood Center Chief Medical Officer Dan Waxman, M.D. "That means a continuing focus on improving patient outcomes, providing higher quality of service and creating operational efficiencies that reduce costs."

"In an era of unprecedented change in healthcare, there is significant opportunity for blood centers to work closely with our hospital partners to meet their needs," said Jacquelyn Fredrick, president and CEO of CTTM, and CEO of BloodCenter of Wisconsin. "With outstanding blood service organizations such as Indiana Blood Center, who share our values and life-saving mission, we can provide even greater value to healthcare systems in our communities and across the country."

4-H enrollment open for 2015, easier than ever with new online system

Indiana 4-H enrollment is now open in Hamilton County through January 15, 2015. 4-H is a premier source of enjoyable, educational programs to help young people reach their full potential. Plus, new for 2015, enrollment is easier than ever with the 4-H Online system, <https://in.4honline.com>.

Indiana 4-H is the state's largest youth development program for grades 3-12, reaching over 200,000 youth in all 92 counties. 4-H Youth Development Educators in each Purdue Extension county office coordinate local activities.

In Hamilton County, approved adult volunteers teach young people specific skills related to a wide variety of subjects through hands-on, experiential learning. Youth also develop leadership and citizenship skills by participating in one of nearly 40 organized 4-H Clubs. Subjects include: science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM); agriculture; citizenship; healthy living; art; consumer and family sciences; and more. In 2013, a Tufts University study showed that 4-H members also excel in positive youth development areas compared to peers, including:

- Four times more likely to contribute to their communities (grades 7-12)
- Two times more likely to make healthier choices (grade 7)
- Two times more likely to be civically active (grades 8-12)
- Two times more likely to participate in extracurricular STEM programs (grades 10-12)

Now, the new 4-H Online system makes it even more convenient to offer enrollment, event registration, calendars, and secure payment online.

Youth may be enrolled in Hamilton County 4-H by January 15, 2015 online at <https://in.4honline.com> or by visiting the Hamilton County Purdue Extension office, Noblesville from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays. The $25 fee per child includes all Indiana 4-H program fees.

Millers play Park at Bankers Life on Thursday...

Bearcats come here Saturday

By DON JELLISON

Reporter Editor

Noblesville will play its second game in the stretch run of the 2014-15 boys basketball season Thursday in a building in which all Indiana high school teams hope to be playing in March.

The Millers will play Class 2A powerhouse Muncie Central at Bankers Life Fieldhouse in Indianapolis. Game time is 7 p.m.

The game will be the first of what Coach Brian McCauley calls "two challenging games" this week. On Saturday, the Millers will return to The Mill to play Muncie Central.

"Park Tudor is an outstanding team and will be a great test for us," McCauley said.

The Panthers, arguably, have had the best 2A program in the state for the last half-dozen years, a program many basketball followers believe has been good enough to win at the higher class levels.

*Last year Park Tudor, under new head coach Kyle Cox, went 24-4 and won the state. The Panthers' last defeat, through the end of last season and beginning of this year, haven't lost a game since falling to Martinsville on Feb. 8 a year ago.

That state championship followed string of successes with Ed Schilling as coach.

*Two years ago Park went 21-3 and lost to Broad Ripple in the sectional

*Three years ago the Panthers finished 25-2 and won the state.

*Four years ago Park Tudor won 26-2 and won the state.

*Five years ago Park Tudor finished 15-11 and lost to Wheeler in the state finals.

So far this season, Park Tudor has defeated University 77-40, Roncalli 54-36, Beech Grove 81-48, Lawrence Central 57-56 in overtime, Triton Central 64-37 and Hamilton Southeastern 48-38.

"They have outstanding guard and post play and are led by (Bryce) Moore, who is averaging 21.3 points a game," McCauley said. "Their size, athleticism and skill are significant reasons why they are 7-0 heading into our game."

Moore isn't the only Panther who can score. Dwayne Gibson, a 6-4 senior, is scoring at an 11.2 clip and 6-9 senior Evan Frank is averaging 10.0 points a game.

One advantage Noblesville may have going into the game is that Park Tudor's last game was the victory over Hamilton Southeastern on Dec. 22. During that period of time Noblesville has played five games.

The Millers had won six straight before entering 2015 with a 60-42 loss to Bloomington South last Saturday.

"Playing this game at Bankers Life will give our players another chance to improve versus an excellent team and experience a unique venue," said McCauley.

Then, on Saturday, at home Noblesville will play one of the most traditionally rich basketball programs in the state, Muncie Central.

Noblesville, 8-2 this season, has lost only one time in eight home games, falling to Fishers 55-42 the third game of the season.

"We'll come back on Saturday and play a very athletic and talented Muncie Central squad," McCauley continued. "They have experienced guard play and size in the post. It will be a chance to play an excellent team on our home floor."

The Bearcats are 5-4. They're last game was on Dec. 30, but Muncie Central will host Lafayette Jeff on Friday before coming to The Mill on Saturday. First year coach Jeff Holloway has his team on a three-game, high-scoring string with victories over Delta 72-61, Fishers 70-66 and Wapahani 75-40. Muncie also has defeated Yorktown 65-56 and Huntington North 65-58 and lost to Jay County 43-40 in overtime, Fort Wayne Snider 56-40, Guerin Catholic 64-54 and Anderson 58-51.

Muncie Central has a pair of 5-11 junior guards averaging in double figures, Marcus Dukes at 10.0 and Phillip Corthen at 18.0. The 6-7 center, Donald Allen, is Muncie's top rebounder at 4.9 grabs a game.

McCauley, of course, is hoping Noblesville will come off the Bloomington South game with a win, but what the coach has said is, "These two games will be challenging and will help us improve during the stretch of the season."

Noblesville's 8-2 start and holiday tourney title is, perhaps, better than some Miller fans may have hoped for, with a new coach and a new system entering the season.

The January schedule is loaded, with several more outstanding teams to follow Bloomington South, Park Tudor and Muncie Central.

Joey Brewer is averaging 5.8 points per game and hitting 48 percent of his 3-point shots for Noblesville so far this season.

Noblesville's ability to have controlled tempo has been a big factor in winning, and so has a balanced scoring attack. The defense, because of the control of tempo, has been outstanding; and ball handling has been good, and the Millers have proven they can strike an opponent in more ways than one.

Three different Millers are averaging in double figures, led by 6-5 junior John Kiser with a 14.3 average. The two senior guards, Jake Mills and Sean Wilson, are scoring at 12.5 and 10. clips. Joey Brewer, the 6-3 senior who was a strength during the holiday tourney, is scoring at a 5.8 mark.

From 3-point range, Brewer and Mills are hitting 48 percent and Wilson 41 percent. Noblesville has drilled 72-of-158 shots from 3-point range and 98-of-126 free throws. That's a 78 percent charity shoot mark.

Although rebounding isn't a true indicator in the low-scoring games Noblesville has played, McCauley's top board man is Kiser at 6.4. After that rebounding drops off to Wilson at 2.9.

Noblesville is scoring at a 52.4 clip and allowing 46.2 points a game. Bloomington South scoring 60 points, is the highest total put on the board against Noblesville this season.

Tigers beaten at Ben Davis

Star of the Game: Fishers' Keegan Kollmeyer hit 13-of-18 shots, 6-of-8 attempts from 3-point range and finished with 32 points..

Fishers Record: Won 6, Lost 6.

Next Up: Fishers will play a Hoosier Crossroads Conference game at Brownsburg on Jan. 16.

Fishers is having trouble coming up with a victory during a tough run in the schedule for the Tigers.

After beating Southeastern in the Mudsock game back on Dec. 19, Fishers has lost four of five games, and the only win came against a team from Ohio in the North Central Tourney.

The Tigers, following losses to Muncie Central, North Central and Carmel, Tuesday evening dropped a 65-62 barnburner at Ben Davis.

Coach Joe Leonard's club now doesn't play again until what will be a tough Jan. 16 Hoosier Crossroads Conference game on the road at Brownsburg.

Even a 32-point effort by Keegan Kollmeyer and 14 points by Andre Small couldn't snap Fishers' losing way.

Kollmeyer had a tremendous game, hitting 13-of-18 shots, including 6-of-8 attempts from 3-point territory. Ben Davis couldn't stop him.

Small came off the bench and hit 6-of-9 shots

The Giants started strong, leading 20-9 after one period and 30-15 at halftime. Fishers outscored Ben Davis 47-35 in the second half, including a 31-20 run in the fourth frame.

The Tigers outscored Ben Davis 23-15 off the bench and 7-2 in second-chance points, but the Giants had a 26-22 lead in the paint.

Fishers had a strong game on the board, outrebounding Ben Davis 22-17. Fishers got only four offensive rebounds and Ben Davis was limited to a pair.

Luke Wehner, also off the bench, led Fishers with seven rebounds.

Fishers hit 7-of-17 shots in the first half and canned 18-of-28 in the second half.

Led by Kollmeyer's six boomers, Fishers was 9-of-19 from 3-point range.

But, the Tigers hit just 3-of-7 free throw attempts and Ben Davis was 21-of-31 at the line. Fishers was charged with 25 fouls to only 10 for Ben Davis.

Noblesville's Josh Marlow pinned his Cathedral opponent in the 160-pound match, which led off the Millers-Irish dual meet Tuesday at The Mill.

Short-handed Millers fall to Irish

The Noblesville wrestling team dropped a dual meet to Cathedral 48-28 Tuesday at The Mill, but the score doesn't tell the entire story.

The Millers had to forfeit two weight classes, thus giving the Irish 12 points. So the match was a little closer. Add that to the fact that Cathedral is the defending state champions, and Noblesville was more competitive than the score indicated. The Millers won five of the 12 contested matches.

Four of those matches were pins, and all of them came in the first period. Josh Marlow won the first bout of the night, getting the fall at 160 pounds. Nick Brady was a winner at 106 by pin, Matt Smith got the fall at 138, and Derek Noon ended the meet where it began, with a pin in the 152-pound match. Stephen Kitko was a major-decision winner at 145 pounds.

The Millers' next meet is Jan. 15, when they host Indianapolis Howe.
