SUNDAY SPECIAL

27 State of the Countys later...

Dillinger talks about his 1st

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

When Hamilton County Commissioner Steve Dillinger gave his first State of the County address approximately 50 Noblesville Chamber members were present in a meeting room above the old Stardust Bowling Alley.

When the Commissioner gave his 27th State of the County message earlier this week a crowd of close to 250 gathered at the Oak Hill Mansion in Carmel.

Times have changed in Hamilton County in those 27 years during which Dillinger, a Noblesville resident has led the county government board.

The biggest issue facing the Commissioners in 1988 were the roads.

"There had been very little done with the roads," Dillinger recalled. "The 800 miles of blacktop roads were falling apart. We were getting lots of pot hole claims and the people were really upset about the condition of our road system. We also had 200 miles of gravel roads."

Dillinger and Steve Holt were in their first year as Commissioners.

"The roads were our main priority," Dillinger said. "I reported to the Chamber in that first State of the County that we had developed an aggressive plan to chip and seal our gravel roads, which would change them to hard surface. We also developed a plan to repave all the poor conditioned blacktop roads, 200 miles per year."

Hamilton County lacked funds to accomplish the goals. A wheel tax was initiated by the Commissioners.

"Companies with lots of trucks didn't like it at all," said Dillinger. "We had no choice but to adopt it because we had no money to fix the roads. I think the tax brought in a little more than $1 million a year. Steve Holt and I promised that we would move to rescind the tax when the COIT tax came in play."

They did.

Zoning also was a big issue at that time and one that Dillinger discussed in his first State of the County.

"A few years before, Wayne Township asked the county to do away with their zoning that was being controlled by a jointer agreement with the City of Noblesville," Dillinger said. "That happened which left Wayne Township without any zoning."

"That is when Deer Creek Music Center bought land in Wayne Township and planned to build their music center," said Dillinger.

In order to try and stop Deer Creek, Wayne Township petitioned the County to create a county-wide zoning, which would control zoning throughout the county, outside the Cites zoning jurisdiction.

"Wayne Township thought they could stop Deer Creek, but the horse was already out of the barn," Dillinger said. "We did create the county-wide zoning, but it did not stop Deer Creek from coming, as they got in before the zoning became law."

The Deer Creek issue packed the Commissioners court room with Wayne Township residents, for most of that first year.

Another issue Dillinger addressed in his first State of the County was finding additional space for government to grow in fast-growing Hamilton County.

Shake it off...

By JANET HART LEONARD

Oh if only I could be more like Elsa in Frozen and sing at the top of my lungs, "Let it go, let it go. You'll never see me cry."

But I do cry, just not very often. I hate to cry. I especially hate to cry when I am angry. Seems that I cry even more because I am angry that I let something or someone get me so upset that it made me cry.

I learned a long time ago to forgive BUT it is a process. Sometimes it is a very long process. When someone hurts me I forgive them much quicker than when someone hurts someone in my family. When I am angry, my mind thinks up all kinds of scenarios to get back at them. I work on speeches to tell them what I think.

I examine the situation. Is the situation worth the investment of my time and energy? Is the person that I am upset with someone that really matters to me? Does this affect other people? Will this matter in the future? When there are lots of yes's to those question then that is when I'm usually the angriest.

Obituaries

Heather Marie Allman

July 3, 1978 - January 17, 2015

Heather Marie Allman, 36, of Redondo Beach, California passed away peacefully on Saturday, January 17, 2015 around sunset in her home after a long battle with illness. She was born on July 3, 1978 to Bruce and Lenna (Harrison) Allman in Indianapolis, Indiana, they preceded her in death.

Heather was a Purdue University graduate. She is survived by her sister, Holly Gatto and a brother, Todd Allman. Memorial calling will be held from 3:00 - 7:00 pm on Thursday, January 29, 2015, at Randall & Roberts Fishers Mortuary, 12010 Allisonville Road, in Fishers. Condolences: www.randallroberts.com.

Marie Jewell Donahue Schmidgall

August 6, 1916 - January 22, 2015

Marie Jewell Donahue Schmidgall, an Irish girl of 98 years passed away on January 22, 2015 in Noblesville. Marie was born August 6, 1916 in Birdseye, Indiana.

Everyone should be so lucky to have an Aunt Marie and Uncle Henry. They survived the great depression and WWII and both lived into their 90's. Henry Fredrick Schmidgall died May 29, 2011 at the age of 94. Henry worked as a printer for 40 years. They were married on July 3, 1954 and lived in Indianapolis during their married life.

Marie was born on a farm, one mile south of Birdseye, Indiana in Dubois County. She came to Indianapolis seeking work after there was no more fuel to run the farm during WW II. She and her mother, Ollie Comstock Donahue (who lived to be 96 years) left the farm on Dec. 21, 1943. A few days later, Marie found work at Eli Lilly and Company. Marie worked her way up to supervisor before retiring Dec. 31, 1979. Her father, Charles Summer Donahue was born Oct. 2, 1893. Charles later followed his wife and daughter from the farm to Indianapolis to find work. Charles was the second child of M.G. and Martha Donahue. Marie had one brother Dale Mathew Donahue born July 21, 1920 and died in 1993.

Marie and Henry's remaining family includes a niece, Rosa Sharon Hill of Boca Raton, Florida; a nephew Ted L. Rowland, and his wife Mary Sue Rowland, Noblesville; grand nephews are Dean Rowland, Dane Rowland, and his family Mikki Rowland, Vincent and Vivian Rowland all of Noblesville; Sue Hahn, living as a missionary in Kumamoto Ken, Japan; who's grandmother of Irish decent and Marie were close relatives.

Great lives lived well. Marie and Henry, the Irish girl and the German lad married for over 50 years and each living life for almost a century. Marie had a vivid memory and loved family history while Henry loved life and stories of his war service in the US Cavalry. They brought joy to their stories of days gone by and while living each day to the fullest.

A special service honoring Marie and Henry was attended by their family at Randall & Roberts Funeral Home in Noblesville. Condolences: www.randallroberts.com.

DILLINGER

"We were in very bad need for more county government office space," Dillinger explained. "The Prosecutor's office was in a rented office space on Maple Street. The Surveyors office and the County Health Department were in other rented spaces."

The old Hamilton County Courthouse was over loaded.

"I reported that we had hired James & Associates to design our new Government Center," Dillinger continued. "We also were in the process of buying Bolden Cleaners, Ray Adler's law office, the Club Bar and all of the businesses in the block between 8th Street and White River to clear way for the new building."

The new Government Center was opened two years later.

"I remember opening the speech by talking about this being the first day you could buy a lottery ticket," said Dillinger. "The law had just been passed by the Legislature. That was a big deal back then."

JANET

I'm really more of a passive/aggressive kind of gal. I rather get my point across with silence and completely ignoring the person if I am forced to be around them. That does not always work and so I am thrust into a "meeting of opinions".

I've learned a lot over the years about anger. The truth is that we all get angry. It is exhausting. It's like wrestling with a bear. It is much bigger and stronger than I am. I lose concentration on pretty much anything else that I need to be thinking about. It's like a consuming pain in my mind and heart, especially if the anger is directed toward someone that I care about. I can't take a pill though and feel better in the morning.

I have to separate myself from the situation and the person with whom I am upset. I've learned that time and distance doesn't make what they did any more right but I can calm down. It gives me time to respond rather than react. In the heat of the moment things can be said that can't be unheard. I know that yelling means that no one listens. Truly, the louder the conversation the less that is heard.

As much as I hate confrontation, for me it is better to confront the issue as soon as possible...after I have calmed down, or somewhat, calmed down. I have found that there needs to be time to settle my thoughts and decide if a "discussion" is needed. If there is, then all parties need to have a chance to voice their opinions without interruption.

Recently I had the "occasion" to be angry. Actually, I was madder than an old wet hornet which I believe is madder than an old wet hen. I walked 2.5 miles at 3.4 on the treadmill. My heart rate got up to 151. It was the longest distance, fastest time and highest rate that I had ever worked out. I had started weight training at the gym and the trainer was surprised that I could throw a weighted ball with as much force as I did...little did she know! Then I walked and prayed at Potter's Bridge, my pondering place. I did not sleep well that night. Honestly, I was struggling to let it go.

My husband was so understanding and allowed me to vent...big time vent. I told him that I never had any man say to me "honey, we are in this together, when you hurt, I hurt." Just when I think I can't possibly love him more, then he says something like that.

Overnight, I was able to prepare to voice my thoughts and feelings in a much clearer way so when I had the opportunity to share my thoughts I was able to discuss things with a heart that would listen to the opposite opinions. Were things resolved? No. We simply agreed to disagree. Forgiving someone does not mean that you forget what was done. That is humanly impossible. The hurt and disappointment will always be there. BUT I think I am going to crank up the music to Taylor Swift's song, "Shake it off". "But I keep on cruising, Can't stop, won't stop grooving. It's like I got this music in my mind, saying its gonna be alright. Baby I'm just gonna shake, shake, shake. Shake it off...Shake it off!"

Ok, so this is going to take awhile and lots of rewinds. I may be sick of Taylor Swift by the time it's shaken off.

Heights not a good neighbor....

Huskies unload on ‘Hawks

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

The Sheridan Blackhawks had the misfortune of showing up at the wrong place at the wrong time Saturday evening when playing in the Hamilton Heights Husky Dome. Their northern Hamilton County neighbor was in no mood to play friendly neighbor to Sheridan.

All through the ball hall the pre-game talk and talk through the game centered on Heights’ one-point Mid-Indiana Conference loss to Eastern on Friday.

“I wish we had the Eastern game back,” Heights coach Chad Ballenger started his press interview following the Huskies’ 78-37 smashing of long-time rival Sheridan.

“We were more intense and focused tonight,” Ballenger said. “We didn’t play that way last evening.”

Sheridan stayed with the Huskies for a quarter, trailing only 24-15 at the end of the period. Jake Chesney scored seven points and Brock Kitchel each hit a 3-pointer for Coach Chris Schrank’s squad.

The Huskies came out smoking, Jadon White hit two 3-pointers from Noblesville and scored eight points in the period; Hunter Crist canned a pair of 3’s and scored eight points and Grant Weatherford contributed six points.

White stuck in two more 3-pointers and notched eight points and Weatherford added three buckets as Heights took charge of the game in the second quarter.

By halftime, it was all but over, with Heights leading 45-26.

Then Sheridan scored just two points in the third quarter and when that period ended Hamilton Heights had a 62-28 spread.

“White got us started with those 3’s and Weatherford played some real good defense,” Ballenger said.

White finished with 16 points, Weatherford 14 and Crist 13.

Ballenger used his bench early and often. Ten different Huskies played and all 10 scored.

Leading the way off the bench were Alex Trachtman and Ian Nicholson. Trachtman hit three 3-pointers and scored 10 points. Nicholson also had a three-pointer and scored six points. Also, Caymn Lutz scored a half-dozen points.

Star of the Game: Alex Trachtman came off the bench and hit three 3-pointers and scored 10 points for the Huskies. Jake Chesney led Sheridan with 13 points.
Records: Heights 10-8; Sheridan 4-8.
Next Up: Heights will play Friday at Tipton. Sheridan will play Friday at Lapel.

Sheridan’s biggest problem was handling Hamilton Heights’ press. The Blackhawks turned over the basketball 26 times.

Heights’ defense shutdown Sheridan’s leading scoring, holding Brock Kitchel to just five points and to zero points and only four shots in the second half.

The Chesney boys, Jake and Garrett, did most of Sheridan’s scoring, Jake with 13 points and Garrett with eight. But, Jake got into foul trouble early, and that hurt Sheridan’s scoring and ball-handling.

Hamilton Heights had just three turnovers in the game and outrebounded Sheridan 35-17, led by Lutz with seven boards and Kurry Miller with six.

Drops Merrillville, 57-50

Here's an interesting stat coming out of the Merrillville at Noblesville basketball game Saturday in The Mill.

The Millers collected just 10 rebounds, and zero off the offensive boards, in beating a Merrillville team, 57-50, which came to town with a 12-2 record.

Here's another interesting stat. The Millers shot the eyes out of the bucket, hitting 20-of-28 shots overall and canning 7-of-10 attempts from 3-point range. Coach Brian McCauley's team also stuck in 10-of-12 free throws.

That shooting performance, along with Noblesville's always-tough defense, allowed Noblesville to snap a three-game losing streak as the Millers battle through a very tough period in their schedule.

Star of the Game: Jake Mills poured in 22 points to lead the Millers.

Noblesville's Record: Won 10, Lost 6.

Next Up: Noblesville will play at Hamilton Southeastern next Friday.

Leading the offensive show was Jake Mills, who hit 3-of-4 tries from long range and finished the night with 22 points.

Also scoring in double figures, with 11 points each, were John Kiser and Joey Brewer, while Sean Wilson was close with eight points.

Mills was an overall 7-of-9 from the floor; Brewer hit 5-of-6, Kiser drilled 3-of-5 and Wilson was 3-of-3.

Merrillville, which came away with a 19-10 rebounding edge, was 19-of-39 from the field.

The game was close all the way. Noblesville led 13-10 after one and 22-18 at halftime. The Millers carried a 36-34 advantage into the fourth quarter and then outscored Merrillville 21-16 in that final frame.

Wilson dished out four assists in the game and Kiser three.

Kiser led the Millers on the boards with five rebounds.

Noblesville will return to Hoosier Crossroads Conference play next Friday at Hamilton Southeastern.

Carmel beaten at home....

Brownsburg wins 36-33

Star of the Game: Preston Flamion scored 11 points, dished out five assists and collected five rebounds to lead Carmel.

Carmel's Record: Won 13, Lost 2.

Next Up: Carmel will host Ben Davis next Friday.

Third time wasn't charm for Carmel's Greyhounds Saturday evening at the Eric Clark Activity Center.

After winning road games on Wednesday at Pike and at Noblesville on Friday, Carmel's third game of the week was a 36-33 Saturday loss at home to Brownsburg.

Brownsburg leaped to a 16-9 first quarter edge and led 24-18 at halftime. The Bulldogs went to the fourth quarter leading 27-26.

Despite outrebounding Brownsburg 19-11, Carmel got just 23 shots at the bucket. The Greyhounds were 6-of-13 from 3-point range.

Ryan Cline led the rebounding with six, followed by Preston Flamion and Trenton Richardson with five each.

Cline and Flamion led the scoring with 11 points each and Keegan Culp had nine points.

The big stat difference came at the charity line. Brownsburg was 12-of-16 and Carmel 3-of-5.

KJ Walton scored 21 points for the Bulldogs.

The loss broke a 10-game Carmel winning streak and left the Greyhounds with a 13-2 record.

Huskies take over 2nd in MIC

Hamilton Heights may have started the season slow, but the Huskies are getting it together - especially in the Mid-Indiana Conference.

Heights beat Taylor 79-66 on Saturday, and that improved its league record to 5-1. The Huskies now have second place in the MIC all to themselves, trailing only Peru's 5-0. Overall, Heights has won its last three games.

The Huskies blasted out to a 27-8 first-quarter lead, then held off a charge by the Titans that cut HH's lead to 60-53 after the end of three periods. Taylor Boyd earned a double-double of 21 points and 12 rebounds, in addition to blocking three shots.

"We had foul trouble and an injury and still found a way to win," said Heights coach Scott Fernung. "I was proud of our girls gutsy performance today."

Lexi Branham added 12 points and six rebounds, with Ana Collar scoring 11 points and Ashton Runner 10. Bri Henson handed out four assists.

Star of the Game: Taylor Boyd got a double-double of 21 points and 12 rebounds. Heights’ Record: 7-11, 5-1 MIC. Next Up: The Huskies play at Tipton on Tuesday.

Royals beat Zionsville

Hamilton Southeastern beat Zionsville 56-31 in a Saturday Hoosier Crossroads Conference game, and that will set up a big showdown next Saturday.

The Royals are 4-1 in the HCC, trailing only Noblesville, which is perfect at 5-0. The two teams will clash at The Mill on Jan. 31 in the conference finale for both this season.

Southeastern led the Eagles 18-8 after the first quarter and 31-19 at halftime. The Royals got balanced scoring, led by Bre Lloyd's 14 points. Lloyd was all over the stat line with seven assists, four steals, two rebounds and a blocked shot.

Megan Walton added 12 points, with Taylor Graham and Madi Taylor each scoring 11. Taylor pulled six boards, with Kyn-dall Williams getting five. Walton also handed out six assists.

The Hamilton Heights wrestling team won the final Mid-Indiana Conference meet Saturday at Peru. The Huskies had five individual champions and won 26 matches by pin, which helped them finish well-ahead of Peru.

Huskies pin their way to MIC victory

The Hamilton Heights wrestling team continued its hot streak Saturday with a resounding win at the Mid-Indiana Conference championships, which took place at Peru.

In winning the last-ever MIC title, the Huskies scored 241 points to the host Tigers' 200.5. The Huskies won five individual weight classes, and had 10 place in the top three. Two more impressive facts about Heights' victory: The Huskies made 26 pins on the night, and had to forfeit the 285-pound weight class.

"What an exciting time to be a Husky Wrestler," said HHHS coach Gary Myers.

"Nobody out works our wrestlers and we proved that today."

Four of Heights' five champs won all three of their matches by pin - Chris Loy at 120 pounds, Trezdon O'Neal at 126, Clayton Cowan at 145 and Isaac Ray at 160. All four earned 26 points each for the Huskies. At 106 pounds, Tyler Kiggins received a forfeit in his quarter-final match, then won his other two by fall.

Team scores: Hamilton Heights 241, Peru 200.5, Lewis Cass 177, Western 169, Eastern 161, Taylor 104, Maconaquah 101, Northwestern 66.

‘Rocks swimming sweeps Crawfordsville trophies

The Westfield swim teams both picked up the championship trophy at the Crawfordsville Invitational this weekend.

Both the girls and the boys teams won by large margins. The Shamrock girls scored 674 points, well-ahead of runner-up McCutcheon's 518. Zoe Williams picked up two individual event victories, as she was first in the 200 and 100 freestyle races.

Westfield's boys powered past their competition, scoring 790 points. Terre Haute South was the runner-up with 534. Joey Niederberger was a double winner, taking the individual medley and breaststroke events. Also winning were Jordan Loeser in diving, Matt Carr in the butterfly, and the 400 free relay team.

"It was a great day for us--almost every swim was a season best or lifetime best," said Westfield coach Kyle Messmore. "It was a great way to head into the post-season."

Stroh’s hat trick leads Fuel to fifth straight win

In the fifth of ten head-to-head meetings between the two teams this season, the Indy Fuel vanquished the Evansville IceMen on Saturday at Indiana Farmers Coliseum by a final score of 4-1. With the win, the Fuel’s fifth straight victory and sixth in the team’s past seven games, the Fuel improved to 12-21-4-3 overall this season and with 31 points, remain alone in sixth place in the ECHL’s North Division standings.

In a tight-checking first period, Kyle Stroh delivered the Fuel a 1-0 lead at 13:12, when the Vibank, Saskatchewan native poked a loose puck over Evansville goaltender Chris Driedger on the power-play with Justin Holl and Rhett Bly collecting assists on the play. Bly and Holl teamed up again to spring another extra-man Stroh marker at 8:27 of the 2nd and then, at 15:05 of the middle frame, a Pete Massar pass from the end wall teed up Stroh for his third goal of the game on an in-close one-timer that made it 3-0 Indy.

Evansville’s lone goal came courtesy of Colin Murray at 3:16 of the third on a seeing-eye tip that brushed past the left shoulder of Indy goaltender Mac Carruth, but a Garrett Bembridge empty-net tally nudged the Fuel lead to 4-1 in the game’s final minute and sealed the Fuel’s fifth straight victory. Stroh’s three-goal effort marked the first hat-trick, and first natural hat-trick, in Fuel franchise history as Indy has now claimed at least one standings point in a team-record seven consecutive games.

Next up for the Fuel, it’s a Sunday rematch with the IceMen with the opening faceoff set for 8:15 pm EST at Ford Center in Evansville, Indiana. Full radio coverage begins with the “Jose Cuervo Pregame Show” at 8:00 pm over the air on CBS Sports 1430 WXNT-AM, online at www.cbssports1430.com and on smartphones everywhere via the free “TuneIn” Radio app with Fuel broadcaster Tony Brown providing the play-by-play.
