Rep. Cook joins Suits and Sneakers at the Statehouse

State Representative Tony Cook (R-Cicero), fellow legislators and staff wore sneakers at the Statehouse yesterday in support of the "Suits and Sneakers" challenge to raise awareness of the fight against cancer.

According to the American Cancer Society (ACS), in 2012, 35,000 Hoosiers heard the words "you have cancer," and of those, 13,000 lost their lives to the disease. The Suits and Sneakers challenge is an annual event sponsored by the American Cancer Society and the National Association of Basketball Coaches to help raise cancer awareness and support those affected by it.

"Awareness is the first step in winning the battle against cancer," said Rep. Cook. "It is crucial that we continue to fight cancer by supporting our friends, family members and neighbors through events like the Suits and Sneakers campaign."

State Representative David Wolkins (R-Warsaw), who is currently fighting cancer, has been allowed to remove his tie during session in order to be more comfortable, which male legislators are normally required to wear. In order to show support for their fellow legislator, the Speaker encouraged staff and legislators to remove their ties, while female legislators were encouraged to creatively incorporate a tie into their wardrobes. Legislators and staff also donated to the ACS.

"In an expression of love and caring for Rep. Wolkins, we wore sneakers and removed our ties," said Rep. Cook. "Cancer transcends party lines. When any member of our legislative body is ill, we come together to support that individual, no matter which side of the aisle they represent."

As a part of the Suits and Sneakers Day, Coach Greg Lansing of the Indiana State University men's basketball team represented all Indiana college basketball coaches during his visit to the Statehouse. continue to raise awareness on ways to guidelines.

Among the seven Westfield Council members, only Stokes, at this point, has not filed. The Councilman learned that Keen was running while Stokes was on a cruise trip. Following his return home, Stokes talked with The Reporter. Stokes is a twoterm member of the Council.

Besides all the off-campus facilities the hospital has involvement with, Riverview is proceeding with plans for expanding its complex west of White River on the former Kahlo auto sales property. Within the next two months a perfected request for proposals will go out to engineering and design firms for a parking garage and office building.

By next year construction will hopefully be underway on the 15-acre site, Christman said. Before that can begin there are issues to be resolved. A significant amount of the ground is in flood plain and the hospital has to work with county officials on their long-range plans for a new road extending south from the current end of State Road 19.

So, overall Riverview is a very, very big and widespread operation anymore. It's a lot different than the little county hospital with 50 or 60 beds built in the side of the hill in

Sheridan Public Library hosts art showing in February

The Sheridan Public Library is once again getting ready to hold its annual art showing. Artists from throughout the area are invited to bring in their works for all to view. There is no charge to participate.

According to library director Steve Martin this is a great event to be held in the library during the slow paced mid-winter time frame. Exhibits are placed throughout the library for a period of 3 weeks for community members to view and enjoy. Martin says, "In past years we have been amazed at the numbers of people who display their works. Many are people who have never given inkling as to their talent, while others have long been known about in Sheridan. It is a nice opportunity to bring artistic culture into the library and into our community. We at the library appreciate the opportunity to serve the Sheridan community in such a unique manner."

Those wishing to participate in this event, be they local artists or those from outside the area, are asked to bring their art works to the library anytime during regular library hours starting on Monday, February 9th. Artists must supply their own display easels and/or stands and works may be offered for sale. The show will end on Saturday, February 28th and participants will have until Saturday, March 7th to remove their works.

Each participating artist must sign a liability waiver form before they can exhibit their works, and each work must be accompanied by an entry form. Forms are available at the library. For further information about the Mid-Winter Art Show, please contact library director Steve Martin (steve@sheridan.lib.in.us) or 317-758-5201.

Talk about being at the right place, at the right time.

Hamilton Southeastern and Noblesville were tied at 49-49 with 1.6 seconds left in the game. The Millers had the ball, but Tyler Janney stole the inbound pass and laid it in at the buzzer to give the Royals a 51-49 victory. but I think we probably got 30 of the 32 that's the most important thing."

Southeastern never trailed in the game, and was only tied in the final 30 seconds. The Miller responsible for tying the game was Jake Mills, who bombed away three 3-pointers in the final quarter, including the Bembry also had the final basket perfect on the night from the line, making all seven attempts, but the Royals only gave up nine fouls total in the game. Joey Herron opened the fourth quarter with a layin, making the score 39-35 and keeping Noblesville close enough to make a run.

A "defensive nightmare"

By DON JELLISON Reporter Editor

University basketball coach Brandon Lafferman called it a "defensive nightmare."

For the opposing team.

With senior Tyler Diehl and junior Connor Holly scoring in the 20's throughout the season, Lafferman added a third weapon last evening in University's 83-57 smashing of visiting Traders Point. Senior speedster Mikhail Liston, who has been injured and hasn't played since the second game of the season, returned and scored 18 points.

Diehl, who has committed to play at Carroll (Division 3) College, scored 26 points and Holly added 23.

Defensive nightmare?

Diehl and Holly both went 10-of-16 from the field. Liston finished 6-of-9. From 3-point range, Diehl was 5-of-9 and Holly and Liston each 2-for-4.

As a team, the Trailblazers, who hadn't played since Jan. 17, hit 62 percent of their shots from the field, 32-of-52, and were 8-of-20 from 3-point territory.

"Sharing the ball, the way we did tonight, creates lots of good shots," said Lafferman.

Holly dished out five assists; Liston four and Diehl two.

The outcome of the game was never in question, not from the time University jumped out to a 23-4 first quarter advantage.

Diehl, one of the better shooters you'll find in the area, scored eight points in the first quarter and 16 points in the first half. Liston returned to action like a storm, notching 10 points in the opening period. Holly had 10 points entering

It was quite a show of offensive basketball.

Star of the Game: Tyler Diehl led University in scoring with 26 points. University Record: Won 10, Lost 6. Next Up: University will host Anderson Prep tonight.

Jazen Cosby collected seven of University's 28 rebounds. Diehl pulled four.

Even with the 13 days off, University has put together a four-game win string and now stands 10-6 on the year.

The Trailblazers will remain at home tonight to host Anderson Prep.

Sophomore Matthew Godfrey had a much-needed 18 points off the bench, scoring points in every quarter and sinking two key free throws in the final minute of the game.
