The County Line

Central archive location would preserve history

By FRED SWIFT
Here's a good idea. I can't take credit for it, but I can promote it a bit.

Hamilton County Historian Dave Heighway has suggested that a central archives for the county be established at some secure, accessible location where citizens can find historic public records and donated documents and photos. It would serve present and future generations doing research or simply interested in local history.

At present the archives of various units of government, schools, historical societies and individuals are scattered throughout the county. Many are found in buildings that are not secure from fire, vandalism or deterioration due to temperature and humidity variations.

Many folks see little value in saving old records, but when questions arise about the background of a person, a property or an event, records are invaluable. Historians like to say today's current events are tomorrow's history; so true and so easy to forget facts and statistics a few years from now.

Hamilton County officials are in the process of planning a multi-million dollar expansion of the Government and Judicial Center. They could easily include space for a central archives center. Records would be much safer than they are today in attics, old buildings and even the basement of the Judicial Center.

Besides what one might consider the normal public records and historical documents which might hold limited interest to many folks, here are some examples of the more unique and interesting: a record of the first high school basketball game played in Hamilton County. It was between Carmel and Atlanta. Wonder who won? The records tell.

Or, how about a roster of county Ku Klux Klan members of 1924? The County Surveyor's office has a map showing who the original land grantees were in pioneer times, the original plat of Noblesville is kept somewhere, there are records of school reorganization from the 1960s that created the current school districts.

The original minute book of those who attended the organization of the county in 1823 can be found on a shelf behind the county commissioners office. Someone has records of the 12 Revolutionary War veterans who made it to this county.

The County Clerk has the records from the D.C. Stephenson trial, and one of my favorites, a simple cardboard sign that says 'No Spitting on the Floor' which was posted at the Circuit Court door at a time when many men chewed tobacco and might get rid of it anywhere.

In any event, these and many other records, some serious and important and others that seem mundane, are found in such places as the county jail museum, the Carmel Historical Society cottage, storage closets in the various schools, and many other places, most of them not fireproof or temperature controlled.

So, it would seem like a reasonable idea to plan for the future by saving the record of the past in a central, secure and accessible location for the benefit of the public.

Carmel Republican chili supper set for March 3

The 14th annual Carmel Republican chili supper will be held Tuesday, March 3 at the Orchard Park Presbyterian Church pavilion, 106th Street and Westfield Blvd. Starting time is 6:30 p.m. at this year's new location for the event.

Chuck Layton, a decorated veteran and former POW in the Korean War, will speak following the meal. There is no charge for members but a salad dish or dessert would be appreciated. The Republican club will provide the chili, relishes and drinks.

Visitors who are welcome will be asked for a $5 donation or may join the organization with no additional charge beyond the minimal membership fee. Candidates in this year's primary election will serve the food.

There will be an election and introduction of officers for the year. For more information, call 759-4671, and RSVP at either 408-0200 or online at www.claygop.org.

Cutting through the cold

It may have been bitterly cold outside, but nothing would stop Conner (green jacket) and Collin Battle from showing off their new haircuts Thursday afternoon outside of Main Street Barbershop in Carmel. The Battle brothers were there with mother Ginger and older sister Delaney. Hamilton County remains under a wind chill advisory through 11 a.m. his morning.

Miller Nation, do you remember Rich Bagienski?

'96 Lady Millers led by seniors

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Many long-time Noblesville basketball fans will remember Rich Bagienski, although it's doubtful if members of this year's Lady Millers will have even heard of the coach.

Before Coach Donna Keck's team last Saturday won the championship at Hamilton Southeastern, Noblesville hadn't captured a girls basketball sectional in 19 years.

No player on this year's regional-round Noblesville team was born when the Millers won all the marbles in the 1996 sectional at Westfield.

Bagienski coached that Noblesville team.

He's now coaching at Madison High School. That, in itself, is a story.

When Bagienski left Noblesville 15 years ago he did so to become the girls coach at Madison, a long-time successful basketball school, both girls and boys.

In the next nine years Bagienski coached the Lady Cubs to a school-record 95 victories. He won a sectional championship in 2007.

At the end of his 9th season at Madison, Bagienski was fired, along with boys coach Jim Matthews.

Now, after five years away, Bagienski has just completed his first season on his second ride at Madison.

The Cubs were still successful the years Bagienski was away. Coached by Willie Humes, Madison won a school record 53 games the past three seasons. They went to the Final 4 once and the Final 8 once.

Six seniors and four starters gradulgated from last year's 17-3 team. But, on the bright side for Bagienski, returning was Junior All-Star Olivia Crozier. She averaged 18.5 points game this season for a team which went 16-8.

But, Madison didn't win the sectional. After beating Charlestown 41-36 the final game of the regular season, Madison lost to Charlestown 41-40 in the first game of the sectional.

That was a fun team to watch, the team Bagienski led to a sectional championship in 1996. The tourney was played at Westfield. Noblesville hadn't won the sectional since 1990.

The Lady Millers began with a 54-41 victory over Carmel. They gunned down Westfield 57-30 and did the same to Hamilton Southeastern, 55-27, in the championship game.

Not only did the Millers win the sectional in 1996, NHS also won the Anderson Regional and captured the first game of the Southport Semi-State before falling to Center Grove in the championship game.

At the Wigwam, Noblesville knocked off New Castle 47-36 and then Alexandria 47-35 for the title. The Millers defeated Cathedral 45-44 in the opener at Southport before losing to Center Grove 68-53.

With a sectional championship; a regional championship, and one win in the semi-state, the 1996 Millers have gone down in history as one of Noblesville's all-time great teams.

Here's the kicker. You won't find any member of that team on Noblesville High School's Wall of Fame. No, likely will you in years to come.

No offense intended, but the 1996 Lady Millers were a team of no-names. Bagienski built that squad around a group of hard-working seniors and a group of hard-working underclassmen.

It finished the regular season with a 15-3 record.

There was not, simply, a super star. In the final game of the sectional, the 27-point victory over Hamilton Southeastern, no Miller scored in double figures, but five scored eight points or more.

The six seniors on the team were Krissy Meek, Sarah Wilson, Abby Illyes, Kelly Kiovsky, Tracy Provence and Carrie McShane.

Meek and Wilson, three-year starters, were the leaders.

Unlike this year's high-scoring Noblesville team, the 1996 sectional champions never hit the 60-point mark in the tourney, but in the three sectional games the Lady Millers allowed a total of just 98 points.

Another first for Carmel Fire Department...
Paramedics, EMTs to receive portable ultrasound machines

Paramedics and EMTs at the Carmel Fire Department will be adding a unique tool to their Emergency Medical Services over the next few months, which will make them the first fire department in Indiana with this equipment. The City recently purchased two portable ultrasound machines that will be used for unique life-saving techniques, which could also potentially save patients thousands of dollars. One machine will be used by the department's mobile integrated health paramedic and the second ultrasound machine will be assigned to the city's busiest ambulance.

Carmel Fire Department has been working with Dr. Michael Kaufmann FACEP, EMSMD and Dr. Robert Blankenship FACEP, both with St. Vincent Hospital and Health Services, to develop a training program for the firefighters and paramedics. "Not being able to see inside a patient, we can only treat according to the signs and symptoms the patient is showing," said Dr. Kaufmann. "If the ultrasound shows a patient is bleeding internally or a chamber of the heart is not working as it should, paramedics can narrow in on a diagnosis. With ultrasound, they can see the issue, and treat it directly, and give the hospital time to adequately prepare for that patient."

Portable ultrasounds will give emergency responders the ability to detect as little as six ounces of free fluids inside or around the lungs resulting from a traumatic chest injury. Other serious issues such as heart failure could be quickly identified as well. This could help with possibly forgoing procedures that are used to rule out such diagnoses; potentially providing definitive care while potentially reducing costs to the patient and the healthcare system.

"Public safety is Carmel's highest priority. Adding equipment that gives our responders the ability to assess situations quickly and more fully gives patients a higher level of care and increases the chances for more favorable outcomes," said Mayor Jim Brainard.

Tom Small, Chief of Emergency Medical Services at Carmel Fire Department, said ultrasound also will help paramedics with more routine calls. "With some patients who have extensive medical history or poor veins, starting an IV can be difficult. Using ultrasound, the paramedic can quickly guide an IV into veins with little trouble, obtaining a critical access point for any needed medications."

Chief Small states that ultrasound allows paramedics to check for proper placement of advanced airways or determine how well a patient's heart is beating. Over time, ultrasound will become an essential part of Carmel's patient care. "We will be using technology in our ambulances which has proven beneficial in the Emergency Department. This is how 12-lead EKGs began. Initially, EKGs were used exclusively in the hospital setting and then they slowly moved into the ambulances on the street. After a period of time and focused training, they became an indispensable part of pre-hospital care. We foresee the same thing happening with ultrasound."

Training for the firefighters will begin in March and could last up to four months.

2015 Environmental Grant Program

Indiana American Water, a subsidiary of American Water (NYSE: AWK), announced today that it is accepting applications for its 2015 Environmental Grant Program. Established in 2005, the program offers funds to eligible groups for innovative, community-based environmental projects that improve, restore or protect the watersheds, surface water and/or groundwater supplies through partnerships.

Several grants for a combined total of approximately $10,000 will be awarded.

The program is designed to support diverse types of activities, such as watershed cleanups, reforestation efforts, biodiversity projects, streamside buffer restoration projects, wellhead protection initiatives, hazardous waste collection efforts, and surface or groundwater protection education.

"Ensuring we have clean water now and in the future is an important issue we can all do something about," said Indiana American Water President Alan DeBoy. "This program encourages municipalities, schools, environmental organizations and civic groups to apply for a grant that will benefit their watersheds and the communities we serve all across the state."

To qualify, a proposed project must:

- Address a source water or watershed protection need in a community served by Indiana American Water
- Be completed between May 1, 2015 and November 30, 2015
- Be a new or innovative program for the community, or serve as a significant expansion to an existing program
- Be carried out by a formal or informal partnership between two or more organizations

- Provide evidence of sustainability (continued existence after the Indiana American Water grant monies are utilized)

Information and application requirements and forms can be obtained online at <http://www.amwater.com/inaw/water-quality-and-stewardship/environmental-grants-program.html>. Applications must be postmarked by March 13, 2015 and mailed to Indiana American Water, 555 E. County Line Road, Greenwood, Ind. 46143, ATTN: Joe Loughmiller. Award recipients will be notified by April 14, 2014.

Projects will be judged based on criteria that include clarity of project goals and projected impact, strength of collaboration with other community and/or municipal organizations, and evidence that the project will provide sustainable environmental results after Indiana American Water's funding ends.

Browning Investments finalize lease negotiations for Fresh Thyme in Broad Ripple

Press Release

Carmel-based Browning Investments, LLC., and its partner Sheehan Property Management, Inc., announced today they have finalized lease negotiations to include a Fresh Thyme Farmers Market specialty grocery store in the Broad Ripple apartment and retail development to be completed on the north side of the Canal where today stands a deserted gas station. The announcement comes more than a year after Browning Investments was granted rezoning and just months after tax-increment financing was approved for the development.

The Indianapolis-based developer and its property-management partner and apartment developer Sheehan have been in lease discussions with a list of specialty grocers over the past year, and selected Fresh Thyme Farmers Market because it was "the best fit for today's urban-village community, like Broad Ripple," said Browning Investments Vice President of Development Jamie Browning.

"From the start of this project, we promised a specialty grocery-store option to the people of Broad Ripple, and we'll be delivering on that promise with Fresh Thyme," said Angie Wethington, vice president of asset management at Browning. "It serves as an energizing addition to the north side of the Canal, which residents and city officials have indicated Broad Ripple is in dire need of."

Fresh Thyme will serve as the anchor to the larger $37 million project, which will in total cover a 1.9 acre parcel of land with a 151-unit apartment community and a parking garage, and is anticipated to bring 140 new job opportunities to the area. Sheehan Property Management says the 33,500-square-foot Fresh Thyme grocery store also will bring enhanced daytime traffic to the area.

Fresh Thyme Farmers Market is a full-service specialty retailer which focuses on offering fresh, healthy natural and organic food, all at value pricing. "Healthy Food. Healthy Values" is the company's motto, which begins with its signature produce department, featuring an extensive offering of locally and organically grown fruits and vegetables. Fresh Thyme is scheduled to open a total of 60 stores by 2019, five of which are currently operating in Indiana: Fort Wayne, Lafayette and three in Indianapolis. Two additional Fresh Thyme locations are opening summer of 2015, in Carmel and Fishers.

"We're very excited to be joining the vibrant Broad Ripple community and to be a part of this unique multiuse development," said Chris Sherrell, chief executive officer of Fresh Thyme.

"It's a perfect fit for Fresh Thyme because residents in this area tend to lead an active and healthier lifestyle and have an appreciation for natural and organic food." The store is tentatively scheduled to open in the late spring of 2016.

Tonight, at Fishers, the championship of the Hoosier Crossroads Conference will be decided when the host Tigers take on Zionsville.

Also, before the night is over all of the pieces in the HCC race will have fallen together.

The big game, the most important game, is Zionsville at Fishers. Both teams are 5-0 in the conference. Zionsville's overall record is 17-4, compared to Fishers' overall mark of 11-9.

The big question for Coach Joe Leonard and his Tigers is whether or not Keegan Kollmeyer will play. Averaging 16.5 points a game, Kollmeyer is, said Leonard, a "game time decision."

"Keegan is getting better but, honestly, it will be a game time decision. He can shoot on the injury; we just need him to cut on it."

Leonard has other Tigers who can put points on the board. Cameron Wolter is scoring at an 11.5 clip, followed by Lance Dollison at 9.7 and Luke Wehner at 8.3.

Zionsville has won 10 straight games.

"Zionsville is an excellent team and has as much height as any team we have played," Leonard said. "They have very good guards who shoot it well."

Two other games tonight will decide movement in the final conference standings. Noblesville will play at Avon and Hamilton Southeastern will play at Brownsburg.

Noblesville, which has as many wins as any team in the conference, except for Zionsville and Brownsburg, hasn't done well in the HCC. Playing a good non-conference schedule, the Millers are 11-10 overall, but just 1-4 in the HCC. So far, a win over Westfield (0-6) has kept the Millers out of last place.

A win tonight over Avon would put Noblesville in a tie with the Orioles and should Southeastern lose at Brownsburg, fourth place in the conference will be a deadlock between Southeastern, Noblesville and Avon.

On the other side of the coin, if Southeastern defeats Brownsburg the

Hoosier Conference Standings
Team	Conf.	Overall
Fishers	5-0	11-9
Zionsville	5-0	17-4
Brownsburg	3-2	17-5
Southeastern	2-3	7-14
Avon	2-3	5-14
Noblesville	1-4	11-10
Westfield	0-6	3-17

Royals will tie for third place with the Bulldogs.

Avon is just 5-14 overall.

"The game will be a great challenge for us and excellent preparation for the sectional," said Noblesville coach Brian McCauley.

"We will have to be very solid on defense. Peters averages 20 points a game and McCue averages 12 points," McCauley added.

Hamilton Southeastern, 7-14 overall, will face a Brownsburg team which is 17-5 overall. Brownsburg has won four straight and Southeastern has lost three straight.

"This will be a good test for us," said Southeastern coach Brian Satterfield. "It is similar to how the sectional could go, just having played a mid-week game and then turning around to play a quality opponent."

"Brownsburg is very disciplined at both ends of the floor," Satterfield continued. "They will throw wrinkles at your defensively while getting quality shots on offense. We have to limit their penetration to have a chance to win."

"I like what our group is doing," said the HSE coach. "We keep getting better. Our chemistry is improving, but we just have to put all the pieces of the puzzle together at the same time. If we do this, we could be dangerous."

Westfield, which already has finished conference play and will finish in the last position, has a home game with New Castle.

"New Castle is playing well and really shoots the ball well," said Westfield coach Eric Rauch.

"They are patient and execute. We will need to be disciplined in our game plan," Rauch concluded.

Fishers' Lance Dollison is averaging 9.7 points per game for the Tigers this season. Fishers hosts Zionsville tonight in a game that will decided the Hoosier Crossroads Conference championship.

Two ranked teams...

Guerin to visit Pendleton

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Two of the state's top ranked teams, playing in different classes, will clash tonight when Guerin Catholic travels to Pendleton Heights.

Guerin, 14-7 on the year, is ranked No. 12 in Class 3A. Pendleton Heights, 16-5, is ranked No. 18 in Class 4A.

Coach Pete Smith's Golden Eagles are on a two-game win streak and have won four of their last five games. Pendleton Heights had a five game win streak snapped earlier this week, 64-49 in a shocker at New Castle.

One of Pendleton Heights' losses was a 54-53 overtime decision to Carmel. Just a week ago, the Arabians knocked off Fishers 50-48.

"They're real good," Smith said of Pendleton. "With the schedule they play, their record is pretty impressive."

"They play a real good 3-2 zone on defense. Offensively, they screen well, particularly illegal screens to free Sean McDermott. I hope they call fouls tonight."

McDermott is one of the state's better shooters.

"Anytime we can keep the ball on the side away from McDermott coming off screens is a positive and helps our chances to win," Smith continued.

"However their other guys can shoot it pretty darn well, also. I really admire how their only true post player, Caleb Hardy, plays so hard and slips screens so well to score around the basket. He was injured last year and didn't play against us, and that helped us a great deal in beating them."

"Pendleton is a real good challenge for us as we get ready for the sectional," said Smith.

Guerin Catholic is coming off a 63-46 win over Heritage Christian.

"Last Thursday at Heritage Christian we played without Alex Mazanowski, who had been sick. We hope to get him back tonight and work him into the rotation," Smith added.

Carmel plays Warren Central tonight...

Win tonight guarantees place at top of MIC

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

It matters not what North Central does tonight, Carmel can assure itself, once again, a top spot in the Metropolitan Conference if the Greyhounds can win at home tonight over Warren Central.

Going into the final conference games of the season – Carmel at home to Warren and North Central at home to Center Grove, the Greyhounds and Panthers are tied for first each with a 5-1 record.

North Central is one of only two teams to beat Carmel this season, but there are no tie-breakers in the MIC. The tie breaker, of such, could come in the Carmel Sectional if the two powerhouses meet again.

Carmel won the MIC with a 9-0 record last year and a 7-0 record the previous season. Three year ago Carmel tied with Warren Central, each at 6-1.

Warren Central will be one of two games for Coach Scott Heady's Greyhounds this weekend. On Saturday, Carmel will host a very good Warsaw team.

"Tonight will be a tough game," Heady predicts. "Warren Central has won five of its last seven games and are playing well. They're extremely athletic, play very hard and are coming off a win against a good Richmond team on Tuesday."

Metropolitan Standings
Team	Conf.	Overall
Carmel	5-1	17-2
North Central	5-1	15-3
Ben Davis	5-2	15-6
Lawrence North	4-2	15-4
Pike	2-3	13-8
Warren Central	2-3	10-8
Lawrence Central	1-6	9-12
Center Grove	0-6	9-10

In Warren Central's last four games, the Warriors have lost, 81-67, only to North Central.

Warsaw is 17-3 and has lost only to Homestead, Fort Wayne Snider and Fort Wayne Northrop, the three losses by a total margin of just 16 points.

Earlier in February the Tigers beat Hamilton Southeastern, 54-48

"Warsaw has had a great season," Heady said. "They are a top 10 team and play smart and together."

"This will be a challenging weekend, and our guys are looking forward to playing two good teams," Heady added.

"It's a big MIC game and an opportunity for our team to win or at least tie for the MIC championship," Heady added.

Hamilton Heights’ John Fisher is part of the Huskies’ medley and 200 freestyle relay teams, both of which qualified for the championship heat of the sectional finals after their swims in Thursday’s sectional preliminaries at Carmel.

Boys swimming...

County teams have solid sectional prelims

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

The boys swimming post-season began with Thursday’s sectional preliminaries, and all of Hamilton County’s teams have something to be happy about.

At Carmel, the host Greyhounds sent 26 swims into Saturday’s finals, with Noblesville and Westfield advancing 25 swims each. Hamilton Heights, competing with a small team, had eight swims move on to Saturday.

Carmel will have 24 swims in the championship heat, with the other two in the consolation heat. The 'Hounds have nine top seeds, including two for Nathaniel Bledsoe (individual medley and backstroke) and two for Troy Li (200 and 100 freestyles).

Also getting top seeds were: Gabriel Whitaker in the 50 free, Reilly Garman in the 500 free, Charles Vaughan in the breaststroke), the 200 free relay team of Whitaker, Joseph Lecher, Adrian Jarding and Vaughan, and the 400 free relay team of Brett Sherman, Garman, Andrew Morozov and Li.

"I thought for the most part, we did a good job," said Carmel coach Chris Plumb.

The Millers had 21 swims reach the championship heat, with four more making the consolations. Luke Conner has Noblesville's highest seed, with a second-place finish in the breaststroke.

"I'd say we probably had 75 percent lifetime (best swims) out of some of the kids," said NHS coach Rich Wolfred.

Westfield earned the top seed in the medley relay, which consisted of Thomas Kenney, Joseph Niederberger, Matthew Carr and Christopher Kenney.

"We had a good prelim session tonight," said Shamrocks coach Kyle Messmore. "Relays are in good position."

Marc Mitchell has the highest seed for the Huskies, placing fourth in the 50 and 100 freestyles.

Over at Fishers, both the host Tigers and Hamilton Southeastern sent all 27 of their swims into Saturday's sectional finals.

The Royals qualified all 27 of their swims for the championship heat and earned three top seeds. Joe Young has the first seed in the individual medley and breaststroke, while Quinn Teague placed first in the 50 free.

There is something for everyone at the 2015 Hamilton County SWCD Annual Meeting. Meet with exhibitors between educational sessions and enjoy a great meal with us on February 26th! Educational sessions with PARP ($10 fee for PARP credit), CCA, and CCH credits are available as well as sessions of interest to any property owner. Learn about pollinators, pesticides and well capping, common threats to our trees, and how your property can be home to a bountiful orchard. A delicious meal by Carolyn Moreland Catering will be provided and our short business meeting will allow Hamilton County residents the opportunity to vote for a SWCD board supervisor, hear about the District's successes in 2014 and recognize conservation partners that went above and beyond last year.
