Time for another downtown Noblesville parking study

By FRED SWIFT

Another downtown parking study is in Noblesville's future. The parking situation is studied every few years. This one starts off with a review of the amount of time you get to park free and the enforcement of the current two-hour limit. A meeting of a group of folks from the Chamber of Commerce, Main Street and the city administration will be scheduled soon, according to the Deputy Mayor Mike Hendricks.

Apparently new technology allows for tracking how long a car is parked in the downtown area even if the car is moved from one parking space to another. Some people don't like this idea. Some may want to do away with the current two-hour limit entirely. But, let's face it, if there is no limit enforcement many spaces will be taken all day by downtown workers.

We've been down this road before. Chances are this study will lead into further study including how to find more parking. There could even be a professional study ordered of the overall situation---again.

Let me see if I can predict what any study would show. It would reveal that many folks visiting downtown don't want to walk from the city lots at 8th and Maple or the one behind City Hall on Conner. Both are within a block and a half of the Courthouse Square.

It will show that most people want to park on the Square. Well, guess what, there aren't going to be any more parking spaces on the Square. In most cities walking a block and a half is not considered unreasonable if you can't find a place in front of your destination.

Any study would show that if the present situation is unacceptable, the city or the city and county together should build a parking garage either on Logan Street between the railroad and the river or at 6th and Conner. Both locations are possible, but parking garages are very expensive. This has also been discovered before.

The proposed study is either the third or fourth of these reviews, I've lost count, and I served on one of them. Free parking on the street with a two-hour limit seems to be the best answer. Further, no more parking spaces have been found. That's because they aren't there unless a parking garage is built and even then not everyone will find the location close enough to satisfy them.

So, let the planned meeting be held, then better to save the time and money of any further study, and just beef up enforcement of the two-hour limit in the downtown area which reportedly is already planned along with good signage directing visitors to the city lots went up after the last study. If that doesn't work, the policy should be: "Sorry, plan to walk a block or two, it's good exercise."

Westfield launches new customer service tool

The city of Westfield this week is launching WeConnect – a new tool that will allow residents to report potholes, fill out permits, pay bills and much more.

“We are completely focused on delivering excellent customer service to the taxpayers of this community,” said Mayor Andy Cook. “By using technology like that found in the WeConnect portal, we can easily improve the way we address issues that matter to our neighborhoods and businesses.”

“Microsoft is thrilled that the city of Westfield is launching their citizen services program using our Dynamics platform, enhanced by our partner ADXStudios”, said Kim Nelson, Executive Director of Microsoft’s State and Local Government Solutions Group and the US lead for Microsoft CityNext, that empowers people to make cities safer, smarter, healthier, and modern.

Derrick Cash, director of informatics for the city, sees WeConnect as a starting point for increasing the public’s access to city services.

“Non-emergency work order management is just the beginning,” Cash said. “This is the technical foundation upon which many aspects of city business will sit. With direct links to our accounting and document retention systems, we aim to centralize the business intelligence of all city resources such as contracts, vendors, projects, fleet and more.”

Residents can visit weconnect.westfield.in.gov/ to explore all the services WeConnect offers. Customer service representatives are available to answer questions by calling 804-3150 Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Efficient Millers run past Avon

Noblesville's Sean Wilson, shown here in an earlier game, was one of three Millers that scored 16 points in Noblesville's win over Avon Friday.

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Brian McCauley sounded more like a CEO delivering an earnings report than a boys basketball coach Friday after his Millers beat Avon 63-46 at the Orioles' gym.

McAuley was using terms like "balance," and "extremely efficient" to describe how Noblesville played. Asset management? Well, how about "assist management" instead. It helped the Millers to turn a big profit - a Hoosier Crossroads Conference victory.

With the win, Noblesville finished with a 2-4 HCC record. That put the Millers in a three-way tie for fourth place, with Hamilton Southeastern and Avon.

"We had 12 assists on 22 baskets, so over half of our baskets came off an assist," said McCauley.

Noblesville was the very model of efficiency in the first quarter, making its first six baskets and ending the quarter 8-of-10 from the field. Jake Mills had the first two baskets on 3-pointers, with David Cory and Joey Brewer both making layins.

Sean Wilson got into the act with a 3-pointer, and John Kiser added a layin. That's five Millers scoring in the first six minutes of the game.

Avon battled and was still within 20-16 early in the second quarter. But Noblesville scored 11 unanswered points to take a 31-16 lead, again using balanced scoring to extend its advantage. The Millers led 33-21 at halftime.

The lead continued to grow in the third period, up to 50-31 by the time the quarter was finished. Kiser scored eight points. He ended the period by making two foul shots.

Star of the Game: Jake Mills hit five 3-pointers on his way to 16 points.

Noblesville Record: Won 12, Lost 10.

Next Up: The Millers travel to Lebanon next Friday.

Mills hit another '3' midway through the period, giving him 16 points for the game.

Kiser then scored his final two points on a fourth-quarter dunk, and that made him the second player to reach 16 points. A few seconds later, Wilson's two free-throws gave him 16 points, and that's where all three Millers would wind up for the game.

"I thought we played outstanding," said McCauley. "Anytime you can go on the road and get a conference win, I think it's a great job by our guys. Really proud of our offensive balance."

The Millers shot 71 percent from the field: 31 attempts, 22 baskets. Mills drained five 3-pointers, while Wilson grabbed five rebounds to lead the boards.

Fishers is HCC Champion

Fishers has won the Hoosier Crossroads Conference, for the first time ever.

Coach Joe Leonard’s Tigers broke a 5-0 deadlock with Zionsville by beating the Eagles in a 68-55 stunner Friday in the Tigers Den.

Playing in front of the home crowd, Leonard said, was a big plus in Fishers’ victory.

“With the exception of Southeastern games, this was our biggest and most active crowd in our gym,” said the Southeastern coach. “The crowd really helped us tonight.”

Tied with the Tigers in the conference, Zionsville brought a 17-4 overall record to Fishers.

“I so much wanted to see this team win the conference,” Leonard said. “This was a great win for us tonight.”

For a half, Fishers looked to be in trouble. Zionsville, after trailing 15-13 at the end of the first quarter, took a 28-27 halftime lead.

Fishers outscored Zionsville 16-12 in the third quarter and then blew away the Eagles with a fantastic 25-15 run in the fourth quarter.

Fishers played a man-to-man defense all the way.

“In the second half, we made Zionsville go south instead of north,” said Leonard.

In the first half, Fishers had eight field goals and all were from the 3-point range. For the game, the Tigers were 11-of-25 shooting 3’s.

Keegan Kollmeyer, a questionable starter because of a sprained ankle, not only started he poured in a game-high 28 points. The senior sharp-shooter connected on 6-of-11 boomers.

“He had both ankles taped,” Leonard said. “We watched him warm-up, and he said he was good to go. If Keegan says he good to go, that’s fine with me.”

Kollmeyer was part of a two-way blitz for the Tigers. Lance Dollison hit 4-of-10 3-pointers and finished with 21 points.

“Dollison was great out there tonight,” said Leonard.

Cameron Wolter, matched up against Zionsville 7-0 Derrik Smits, picked up two quick fouls, but later came back to outscore Smits with 14 points. Smits finished with 10 points for the Eagles.

A big number in the game was free throw shooting. The Tigers were 19-of-23 and Zionsville was 12-of-17.

“They got a couple of technical fouls that really hurt them,” said Leonard.

Both teams shot about the same. Fishers was 19-of-42 and Zionsville 19-of-41. Zionsville got 15 points from 3-pointers and Fishers got 33 points.

Zionsville outrebounded Fishers 21-16. Kollmeyer led the conference champions on the boards with four rebounds and Shawn Taylor pulled three.

Zach Eaton dished out seven assists and Andre Small, coming off an injury, had five.

Carmel wins MIC crown....

Cline joins 1,000 point club

Carmel's Ryan Cline, shown here in an earlier game, scored 35 points in the Greyhounds' win over Warren Central on Friday. Cline surpassed the career 1000-point mark during the game.

Here is some advice for future Carmel opponents.

*You might not want to put Ryan Cline on the free throw line.

*You might try to keep him from shooting 3-pointers.

*In fact, you might try to stop him from shooting at all.

The Purdue University bound Carmel senior put on a show Friday evening as Carmel defeated Warren Central, 73-61, in the Eric Clark Activity Center.

Cline hit 11-of-15 free throws. He was 4-of-7 from 3-point range. Overall, he canned 10-of-14 shots. He scored 35 points.

That total shot Cline over the 1,000-point career mark. He now has scored 1,024 points.

Cline's performance also means that Carmel, for a fourth consecutive year, will sit on top of the MIC Conference standings following the Greyhounds' win last evening and North Central's shocking 73-70 loss to Center Grove in overtime.

Carmel was in charge of the outcome pretty much the whole night, winning by only 12 because Warren Central finished with a 27-20 run in the fourth quarter.

The Greyhounds led 14-5 after one period; 31-19 at halftime and 53-34 after three quarters.

Carmel was an overall 17-of-32 from the field and a 33-of-51 from the charity line.

Warren Central was charged with 34 fouls and Carmel with 25. The two teams, combined, shot 83 free throws.

Cline was the only Greyhound in double figures for Coach Scott Heady's team. Sterling Brown, Ethan Merriweather and Preston Flamion all scored eight points.

Brown dished out four assists. Flamion and Trenton Richardson each pulled six rebounds and Keegan Culp had five.

Warren Central edged Carmel on the boards 30-29.

Carmel will remain home tonight to host a very good Warsaw team.

Star of the Game: Ryan Cline led Carmel with 35 points.
Carmel's Record Won 18, Lost 2.
Next Up: Carmel hosts Warsaw tonight.

Royals lose by 3 to Bulldogs

At some point during the 2014-15 basketball season one would think that Lady Luck would jump onto the backs of Hamilton Southeastern's Royals. Time is running out. It didn't happen again last evening as Southeastern dropped a 37-34 Hoosier Crossroads Conference game at Brownsburg. It's the eighth time this season HSE has fallen by five points or less. Southeastern's downfall at Brownsburg was the second quarter when the Bulldogs outscored the Royals 15-4. The Royals did come back with a 13-6 run of their own in the third frame.

Bad offense? Great defense? Take your choice. Southeastern was just 12-of-38 from the field; just 3-of-19 from 3-point territory. Coach Brian Satterfield got good scoring balance, but not enough of it. Tyler Janney led the scoring with 10 points, followed by Zach Gunn with nine and Chris Ford with eight. Gunn led Southeastern's rebounding with nine. Ford collected five and Ty Scholl finished with four. Gunn also had two assists and two steals. Tiger Guillory blocked three Brownsburg shots.

Southeastern's final regular season game will be next Friday at home against Lawrence North.

Golden Eagles struggle with turnovers...

Pendleton beats Guerin in overtime

Turnovers cost Guerin Catholic's boys basketball team a road win last night, as the Golden Eagles lost in overtime to Pendleton Heights 60-55 Friday night. Seven different players scored in the first half as Coach Pete Smith's squad led 32-18 before a Kenton Dunham three-point shot sent the teams in to the locker room with the Golden Eagles leading after two quarters 32-21. After halftime is when the turnover party started for Guerin (14-8). Smith's team turned the ball over six times in the first three minutes of the third quarter alone, and by the quarter break the Arabians had cut the deficit to 3 points at 39-36. The Golden Eagles continued to turn the basketball over in the fourth quarter and Pendleton Heights (17-5) took the lead, 43-42. There were five lead changes and three ties in the final eight minutes and overtime. Pendleton came out on top by outscoring Guerin 9-4 in the four minutes of overtime. "We played a real solid first half," said Smith afterwards. "But we threw the ball away and had 19 turnovers in the second half. That was our ruination. Pendlton took 25 shots in the second half, while we only got 12 attempts because of our turnovers. No matter how well we defended, they're too good to beat when we commit 24 turnovers and they commit three." Four Golden Eagles scored in double figures, led by junior Christian Munson with 13 points. Matt Holba was held to only 12 points while Matthew Godfrey scored 11 and Alex Mazanowski returned from illness and added 10.

It's a long bus ride...

Huskies to play new loop foe

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor
Weather permitting, sometime this afternoon the Hamilton Heights basketball team will jump on a bus and head for an evening tip-off with Twin Lakes in Monticello. A long trip for the Huskies. But, get used to it, Husky fans. It's just the first of many. "It will be a long trek to Twin Lakes," said Husky coach Chad Ballenger. "About an hour-and-a-half on the bus. We will be joining their conference next year, so we thought it would be a good pick up." That new conference will be the Hoosier Conference. "Everybody I have talked to said it is a really tough place to play," Ballenger said.

Twin Lakes is 15-5. The Indians have lost only to Lafayette Catholic, Logansport, Tipton, West Lafayette, and McCutcheon. They have won six consecutive games. "They are having an outstanding year, and they are very young," Ballenger talked about the Indians. "They play a very aggressive style. They press and play a lot of trapping zone defenses. We must be able to handle the ball and attack the paint vs. their press. If we can do that, we can be successful." Twin Lakes is led by 6-5 junior Dane Holmes with a 16.5 point average and eight rebounds a game. "We must be able to contain him," Ballenger said. "They also have a couple of really good guards who make them go. Sophomore Blake Bennington is averaging 13.5 point and sophomore Bryce Bennington is averaging 9.6 points. "We must get after the guards," Ballenger believes. "I am a big believer you win a lot of games with good guard play. We need to disrupt those two guys as much as we can." Heights is 15-7 and the Huskies have won six straight. "We need to attack the rim and get them in foul trouble," Ballenger continued. "Sometimes the way they play, teams take that first open 3-pointer against them, and that is not always the best way to play them. You must attack them. "We must stay in control and match their physicality. If we can do that it will make for a nice long bus ride home. "This game will help prepare us for the sectional," Ballenger added.

Fuel fall to Jackals in shootout, 2-1

In the second of four head-to-head meetings between the two teams this season, the Indy Fuel were defeated in a shootout by the Elmira Jackals on Friday at First Arena in Elmira, New York by a final score of 2-1. With the shootout loss, Indy improved to 19-23-4-4 overall this season and with 46 points, pulled into a tie for fifth place in the ECHL's North Division standings.

A Kevin Hart goal at 5:38 of the first period proved the opening frame's lone tally as Matt Tassone and Ryan Rashind provided Hart his second marker of the season at even strength and delivered the Jackals a 1-0 lead through 20 minutes of play. After a scoreless second period, Pete Massar rifled home his seventh goal of the season at 17:16 of the third on feeds from Nick Jones and Nicklas Lindberg to force overtime.

After the extra session slid by scoreless, the Fuel were denied on three shootout chances while Elmira converted on three opportunities to claim victory by a 2-1 final score. Shane Owen was masterful in defeat for the Fuel, making 36 saves in the shootout loss while Travis Fullerton claimed victory in net for the Jackals, by virtue of a 22 performance.

Next up for the Fuel, it's a Saturday rematch with the Jackals with the opening faceoff set for 7:05 at First Arena. Full coverage of Saturday's game begins with the "Jose Cuervo Pregame Show" at 6:50 pm over the air on CBS Sports 1430 WX-NT-AM, online at www.cbssports1430.com and on smart-phones everywhere via the free "TuneIn" Radio app with Fuel broadcaster Tony Brown providing the play-by-play.

Five wrestlers advance to quarter-finals

Five Hamilton County wrestlers advanced to the quarter-finals of the IHSAA state tournament after first-round action Friday at Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

Hamilton Southeastern got the most through to the quarters with three, while Westfield's Evan Eldred and Carmel's Sam Hipple also were winners. Wrestling continues at 9:30 a.m. today, with each athlete guaranteed three matches to determine who will finish in the top eight in each weight class.

Austin Holmes, last year's fourth-place wrestler at 113 pounds, led the Royals with a pin in his match. The junior beat Adams Central's Anthony Mosser by getting the fall at the 3:18 mark of his bout.

Jack Chastain also had an easy victory, winning at 132 pounds over Crown Point's Zach Donaldson in a 17-2 major decision. Corbin Gregg toughed out a 7-5 decision against Fort Wayne Carroll's Josh Garman.

Three other HSE wrestlers competed on Friday. Klayton Anderson fell to Yorktown's Christian Hunt in a 5-0 decision at 106 pounds. Keegan Stansberry fell at 138 to Gibson Southern's Kyle Todrank in an 11-1 major decision, and 170-pounder Spencer Irick lost to Dillon Jackson of Yorktown by a 12-7 decision.

The Shamrocks' Eldred got an 8-4 decision victory over Austen Laughlin of South Bend Riley. Eldred is also wrestling at 132 pounds, but he and Chastain are on opposite sides of the bracket.

The Greyhounds' 195-pounder Hipple scored a stunning victory, pinning Mishawaka's Tanner Bradley in 34 seconds.

With same roster, Pacers steamroll 76ers

Amid the chaos and uncertainties that went along with Wednesday's trade deadline, the Pacers emerged at 3:01 PM with the same roster they had before, electing to stand pat for the remainder of the season. Philadelphia, on the other hand, wheeled-and-dealed two of their most productive players, Michael Carter-Williams and K.J. McDaniels, for future assets.

But unfortunately for the 76ers, the future was now, as the Pacers (22-33) steamrolled Philly 106-95 in the first game back in action for both teams since the All-Star break and trade deadline.
"It's a new group so it's going to take a little bit to start gelling together with the additions," 76ers forward Nerlens Noel said. "I think it's just going to take a little time."

The 76ers (12-42) looked the part of a team stripped of its starting point guard, committing 17 turnovers and shooting 41 percent from the field. Indiana on the flip side, looked like a team pleased to still be intact, passing out 24 assists, shooting 48 percent from the field, and swiping a season-high 13 steals.
When the game started off at Wells Fargo Center, the rust was visible on both teams, with the Pacers making just two of their first 13 shots. But they received a huge boost in the first half from C.J. Miles (14 first-quarter points) and Rodney Stuckey, who had a game-high—and season-high—30 points. Unfortunately, Stuckey suffered a left ankle injury late in the fourth quarter which forced him to exit the game.

Once the Pacers grabbed the lead early in the first quarter, they held on throughout the night for the comfortable victory over the adjusting 76ers, holding the lead around 20 points for nearly the entire second half.
If the 76ers were looking for silver linings from the loss, they need not look further than the berserker performance from Noel, who flirted with a triple-double and franchise history with nine blocks, nine rebounds, and 12 points.
For Indiana's starters, C.J. Miles led the way with 17 points, and forwards David West and Roy Hibbert were a symmetrical 4-of-7 with seven boards and eight points. But in Philadelphia, it was the bench that clinched the win, combining for 61 points.
"That's what broke the game open," said Pacers coach Frank Vogel of his second unit's performance.
The Pacers are now 5-1 in the month of February, and find themselves in the thick of things as they hunt for one of the final remaining Eastern Conference playoff spots.
"We're still in the playoff hunt and our mindset is still to make the playoffs," Stuckey said. "That's what we're focused on. We've been doing a good job of playing with each other and just playing good basketball. We just have to continue to do that."
