Gateway to the west side???

Answer will come by mid-March

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor
A gateway for the future development of the west side of Noblesville.
That's the message the Mayor John Ditslear folks brought to the Noblesville Common Council in a special session Thursday evening, requesting the Council to approve incentives for a local company called BlueSky.
BlueSky, which moved to its current location at the Stony Creek Business Park in 2008, has outgrown its space and wants help from the City of Noblesville to expand.

The Ditslear administration put together a package of economic development incentives to the company, and last evening, by a 5-0 vote, the Council approved those incentives.
Councilmen Rick Taylor and Brian Ayer were on vacation and did not participate in the vote.
The next step is up to BlueSky. At the end of the session last evening Todd Irwin and Eric Warne, co-founders of BlueSky, promised Noblesville that they will have an answer by the middle of March.

Rumors have it that there is at least one other Hamilton County community which is trying to land BlueSky in its area.
The story broke in the Hamilton County Reporter in its Wednesday edition.
BlueSky wants to build a new office building and parking lot on land on the southwest corner of John and Osborn streets on the west side of Noblesville. Under the proposal the City is offering, Noblesville will purchase the vacant parcel of land which contains approximately 1.55 areas. The real estate then will be conveyed to BlueSky for the construction of the building.

It's a costly venture by Noblesville, estimated at approximately $3.5 million.
It also is somewhat risky. BlueSky in February, 2014 opened up a second office in Toronto, Canada.
What, in the future, would keep BlueSky from leaving Noblesville? That's a question

IHSAA releases enrollment figures...

Carmel leads, Fishers moves into top 10

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor
Carmel High School is consistent-ly No. 1 in many IHSAA sports. Now it's No. 1 in enrollment.
The IHSAA released its enrollment figures on Wednesday, and the organization will use those figures as it begins the process of classifying and aligning its member schools into various sectional groups for the 2015-16 and 2016-17 seasons. The classifications will be announced in the next two weeks, with the sectional group-ings to be configured in April.
In the last enrollment count, Carmel was two people behind Ben Davis, with the Giants totaling 4687 students to the Greyhounds' 4685. This time around, Carmel's total in-creased to 4830, with Ben Davis sur-prisingly falling to 4220.
Still, the Giants are a solid No. 2. The third-biggest school is Warren Central with 3589, followed by North Central with 3402. That gives the Met-ropolitan Conference the four biggest schools, as has been the case since the 2006-07 count. Pike, a new member of the MIC this school year, is ranked seventh in enrollment.
As for other county schools, Ham-ilton Southeastern remains at No. 8 with 3018 students, a gain of nine people since the last count. Fishers, meanwhile, has jumped into the top 10 at No. 9. The Tigers' enrollment is 2965, up 383 students from the previous enrollment check, which ranked Fishers at No. 14.
Avon moved into the top 10, jump-ing to No. 10 from No. 12. This pushed Noblesville back a spot to No. 11, this despite the Millers gaining

Carmel Clay parks receives Gold Medal Grand Plaque

By FRED SWIFT
You might call this a real success story.
From a mini-park on a single city lot in 1986 to a park system awarded the nation's best in its class, the Carmel Clay parks system received the 2015 Gold Medal Grand Plaque this week.
The plaque was presented Tuesday at a Clay Township Board meeting by officials of the National Recreation and Parks Association (NRPA). It annually cites park systems' dedication to expanding conservation and recreation.
Carmel Clay's first official parks department was organized in 1991 when township and city officials agreed to form a joint parks system. Five years earlier Mayor Jane Reiman had provided for a small downtown park on land previously occupied by the Carmel Theatre saying it should serve as a starting point for a parks program.
Parcels of undeveloped land had also been given to the city, but no overall plan for township-wide parks came until 1991. Since then over 300 acres of land have been acquired for recreation and conservation including the widely acclaimed Central Park and Monon Center, Flowing Well Park, Founders Park, Meadowlark, Gray Road and West Park.
Clay Township officials agreed to take the lead in most of the financing effort principally the original $50 million bonding for the Central Park complex. It resulted in no major tax increase due to the area's rapidly increasing assessed valuation.
Underway now is development of a walking and biking trail the full length of Clay Township's White River boundary. "You've come a long way in 25 years," said Michael Nardi of Washington, D.C.'s Public Policy consulting group.
Mark Westermeier is the parks department director. The parks' governing board is made up of city and township appointees with Jim Engledow as president.

Lapel's Rushton serves aboard USS George H.W. Bush

A 2011 Lapel High School graduate and Lapel, Ind. native is serving on one of the world's largest warships, the U.S. Navy aircraft carrier USS George H.W. Bush.
Airman Jessee Rushton an aviation ordnanceman aboard the Norfolk-based ship, a Nimitz-class nuclear-powered aircraft carrier and one of only ten operational aircraft carriers in the Navy today. Named in honor of former President George H.W. Bush, the carrier is longer than 3 football fields, at nearly 1,100 feet long. The ship is 252 feet wide and weighs more than 100,000 tons. Two nuclear reactors can push the ship through the water at more than 35 mph.
As a sailor with numerous responsibilities, Rushton said he is learning about himself as a leader, sailor and a person. He added that it is an exciting time to be in the Navy, and serving aboard a ship is something he never expected to be doing just a couple years ago.
"I enjoy everything about going out to sea," said Rushton. He also said he is proud of the work he is doing as part of the Bush's 6,000-member crew, protecting America on the world's oceans.
"I stand watches at the fifty caliber guns while underway," Rushton said. "Even while we are in port I take inventory of all the weapons on the ship and do my part to keep the ship ready and prepared for any-thing."
Sailors' jobs are highly varied aboard USS George H.W. Bush. Approximately 3,200 men and women make up the ship's company, which keeps all parts of the aircraft carrier running smoothly — this includes everything from washing dishes and preparing meals to handling weaponry and maintaining the nuclear reactors. Another 2,500 or so form the air wing, the people who actually fly and maintain the aircraft.
"I never cease to be impressed with the type and quality of work that goes on aboard this ship each day," said Capt. Andrew J. Loiselle, the carrier's commanding which will need to be addressed by both sides.

Because the property is located on a hill, it will be costly to develop. Why not find flat space in another location?

Irwin said BlueSky likes the idea of building overlooking the new planned Federal Hill Commons (park) in the Federal Hill District. Located on the hill, BlueSky would overlook both the Commons (park) and White River.

The City of Noblesville likes that idea, too, believing that a company such as BlueSky will lead to future economic development in that area.

It also could encourage Riverview Health as the hospital talks development of its land between the hospital and White River. And, all of that could attract more restaurants, condos, etc. to the area.

“Overlooking the Commons and the green space in the area is very attractive to us,” said Warne.

BlueSky is committed to fostering a team environment that encourages personal and professional growth.

BlueSky employees earn between $90,000 and $92,000 in salary.

The company has been voted the last five years as one of the best places to work in Indiana.

At the end of 2013, BlueSky had 50 employees, 26 of which were located in Noblesville. By 2015 the company has grown to 85 employees with between 55 and 60 located in Noblesville. The company hopes to make its move in 2016 and at that time will employee between 100 and 110 employees, 70 to 75 here locally.

The hill, once a doctor’s building, has not been occupied in the last 25 years. Repeated attempts to sell the property have failed.

Noblesville City will design, permit and construct all improvements on the real estate necessary to accommodate construction of the BlueSky building.

The parking lot on the real estate and future parking on a lot north of Osborn Street will be conveyed to the company in a lease for a nominal amount.

The City will waive or pay all road impact fees and sewer tap-on fees.

All is subject to the City receiving written pre-approval of BlueSky to construct the building.

The City and the Council would have liked that commitment last evening. BlueSky will give an answer in the next couple of weeks.

officer. “The USS George H.W. Bush team is filled with highly qualified young adults – in many cases, 19 and 20 years old – and they’re out here running a complex propulsion system safely, serving as air traffic controllers, operating sophisticated electronics, launching and recovering aircraft when we’re underway, and keeping this floating city alive and functioning. I can’t express how proud I am to be a part of this team. They performed at the highest level, day in and day out during our recent 9-month combat deployment and are continuing to do so here at home. Their professionalism, dedication and commitment to excellence are second to none.”

USS George H.W. Bush, like each of the Navy’s aircraft carriers, is designed for a 50-year service life. When the air wing is embarked, the ship carries more than 70 attack jets, helicopters and other aircraft, all of which take off from and land aboard the carrier at sea. Powerful catapults slingshot the aircraft off the bow of the ship. The planes land aboard the carrier by snagging a steel cable with an arresting hook that protrudes from the rear of the aircraft. All of this makes the George H.W. Bush a self-contained mobile airport and strike platform, and often the first response to a global crisis because of a carrier’s ability to operate freely in international waters anywhere on the world’s oceans.

As a member of one of the U.S. Navy’s most relied upon assets, Rushton and other USS George H.W. Bush sailors know they are part of a legacy that will last beyond their lifetimes.

“I joined the Navy for the travel experience and college, but I’ve learned that there is much more that comes along with being part of America’s defense,” said Rushton.

ENROLLMENT

students over the period. Noblesville's enrollment count is 2693, a net gain of 56. The Orioles' student population is now 2757, a gain of 149 people.

Westfield continues to grow, moving up to No. 34 from No. 40. The Shamrocks now have 1928 students in their school, a gain of 107.

So what does this all mean? For one thing, all of these schools will be in the highest class for sports such as basketball, volleyball, baseball, softball and soccer.

As for football, Carmel, HSE, Fishers and Noblesville will continue in Class 6A, the highest class. Westfield will remain in 5A, as 6A is capped at 32 schools. There will be two new schools in 6A - La Porte, which jumped to No. 30 in the enrollment, and Cathedral, whose two 5A state championships automatically move it up due to the success factor. The Irish are No. 78 in enrollment, which would put it in 4A in normal circumstances - but Cathedral outgrew 4A in football a long time ago. Also, the northern bias for 6A will continue - 25 of the 32 schools are located north of Interstate 70.

With those moves up to 6A, Lafayette Jeff will likely be pushed down to 5A, which makes the Bronchos a potential post-season opponent for Westfield. The Shamrocks were grouped into the sectional with Harrison, Kokomo and McCutcheon the past two years, so putting Lafayette Jeff in with that roster would be a logical step. Five-team sectionals are possible in 5A. There have been 34 teams in 5A over the past couple seasons, which meant it was necessary to have two five-team sectionals in addition to six four-team sectionals. So, expect that number of 5A teams to stay the same, or maybe go up slightly - it will depend on if there are any new schools playing football during the next couple years. The other four football classes have 64 teams, so 5A will be the class to see any flexibility with regards to numbers of schools competing in it.

In the mid-sized school contingent, Guerin Catholic continues to grow. The Golden Eagles jumped to No. 144 from No. 155, gaining 24 students to 738. Hamilton Heights fell slightly, to No. 158 from No. 154. The Huskies dropped 30 students to 684.

Both teams are likely to be 3A in all sports except soccer, which has two classes. Guerin's boys team won back-to-back state championships in 1A, which will bump them up to 2A on the success factor. Heights should stay in 1A for both boys and girls soccer.

Sheridan also dropped in enrollment. The Blackhawks fell to No. 298 from No. 288; Sheridan's student population decreased by 25 to 324. So, expect the 'Hawks to stay in 1A for football and soccer, while hanging on to 2A in the other sports.

University saw an enrollment jump, up to No. 325 from No. 343. The Trailblazers gained 19 students to 276, but will remain a 1A school in all sports (University does not offer football).

Indiana high school and college students are eligible to win $5,000 in social media contest

During the month of April, Indiana high school and college students can put their social media skills to good use for a chance to win a $5,000 scholarship toward their college education or any secondary schooling. Last year, we granted $85,000 to student award winners!

Texting and driving is against the law in Indiana—but, it's still happening. The use of cell phones is constant in today's society, especially with young drivers. 71% of teens and young people say they have sent a text while driving and 78% say they have read a text while driving (National Highway Traffic Safety Administration). Because of these alarming statistics, five state agencies have joined efforts to help raise awareness of the dangers of texting and driving by sponsoring the Drive Now. TXT L8R social media contest. With your help, we hope to spread the word about this contest to students across the state.

Please share Lt. Governor Sue Ellspermann's message to young Hoosiers about the Drive Now. TXT L8R contest with anyone you know currently in highschool, college or other secondary education institution.

Visit www.txtl8r.in.gov for more information about the contest, including rules, FAQs and a link to the registration page. You can also download our campaign logo and fliers from this website to send to anyone you think might benefit from a $5,000 of education assistance. Students have until April 10 to register for the social media contest.

Thank you for helping us spread the word about this campaign and contest. We look forward to viewing the entries in early May and honoring the winners and their schools during a ceremony at the Statehouse in June.

Support expressed for proposed indoor facility at Grand Park

Members of the Westfield Community:

On behalf of Greenwalt Corporation, I would like to express support for the lease of the proposed indoor sports facility at Grand Park. The indoor facility is crucial to the success of our development, known as The Shoppes at Grand Park Village. The construction and lease of the proposed indoor facility will provide year-round traffic necessary to support prospective tenants. Without year-round traffic, prospective tenants have serious concerns about the viability of their businesses. Tenants simply can't sustain a business without steady traffic all year.

Indiana graduation rates increase

Indiana's graduation rate for 2013-14 jumped to 89.8%, up from 88.6% the year before according to data released by the Indiana Department of Education today. Indiana's non-waiver graduation rate also saw an increase. Importantly, the non-waiver graduation rate was 83.4%, up from 81.7% in the previous year.

In response to this news, Glenda Ritz, Indiana's Superintendent of Public Instruction issued the following statement:

"I want to thank Indiana's students, educators and families for their continued hard work. Because of their efforts and the outreach efforts of the Department of Education, more children are graduating from high school and preparing themselves for college and career. Today's news is yet another sign of the great work happening every day in schools throughout Indiana."

With sectionals on the horizon...

Millers finish regular season, continue to add skills

The Noblesville gymnastics team competed against Bloomington South on Thursday, falling short by the score of 102.25-93.60 in their final regular-season meet, which took place at Noblesville East Middle School.

Bloomington South is the No. 8 team in the state, so Miller coach Jody Ramey said winning was not the goal. Instead, Ramey wanted her team "to continue to add the difficult skills into our routines" that will be necessary for Noblesville to be at its peak at sectionals, which are next Saturday, March 7.

The highest Miller score of the night went to Esma Taylor, who finished third in the vault with a season-high 8.80. Anna Dorris had an 8.60 and Kaitlyn Murray an 8.50 on vault.

Also getting a third place was Ronnie VanBuskirk, with a score of 7.675 on the uneven bars. Ramey also pleased with how her team performed on the balance beam.

"Even though we had a difficult time on beam today, I was proud of the girls adding in the more difficult elements that we will need to peak at Sectionals," said the coach.

The Millers will compete in the Lafayette Jeff sectional, which starts at 11 a.m. The top three teams at sectional advance to the Valparaiso regional, which is Friday, March 13.

"Our goal is to continue to improve in the skill difficulty and remain consistent in the things that we do well, which will hopefully get us in the top 3 to advance on to the Regional competition," said Ramey.

Team score: Bloomington South 102.25, Noblesville 93.60, Anderson Prep 27.575.

4-way tie or championship???

Huskies need win at Peru

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

It's the beginning of the end tonight as high school boys basketball teams finish regular season play. Most will begin sectional competition on Tuesday.

Three already have ended their regular season.

Fishers finished 12-10 with a loss earlier this week to Decatur Central.

Westfield finished pre-sectional play with a loss at Mt. Vernon. The Shamrocks will take a 4-18 record to sectional play.

University pulled the curtain with a game on Thursday at Irvington Prep. The Trailblazers took at 14-9 record into that game.

Guerin Catholic completed regular season play with a 15-8 record by beating Anderson

Tonight, it will be Carmel hosting Brbeuf; Noblesville traveling to Lebanon; Sheridan at home to Frankton; Hamilton Southeastern entertaining Lawrence North, and Hamilton Heights playing at Peru.

The most important game, perhaps, on the card tonight is Hamilton Heights' Mid-Indiana Conference contest at Peru. The Huskies already has clinched a tie for the conference crown, but a loss at Peru means Hamilton Heights will have to share the title with three other teams.

Noblesville-Lebanon game on Channel 40

The Noblesville-Lebanon game will be shown on Channel 40 at 10:30 p.m. tonight. Dave Nicholson and Rob Blackman will call the game.

The Huskies, 16-7 overall, are 5-1 in the conference. Eastern and Western are 5-2 and Peru also is in the race with a 4-2 record.

Heights is hot, having won seven straight games. Peru has a 13-7 record and has won five straight and 10 of 12. Peru defeated North Miami 54-38 this week and cancelled a snow game with Oak Hill.

All teams want to enter sectional play after a win, so Noblesville, Southeastern, Sheridan, and Carmel also are looking for important wins.

Noblesville (12-10) will travel to Lebanon (7-14).

The Millers have impressive wins over Pike and Avon and an overtime loss to Lawrence Central in their last three games. Lebanon is 7-14 and has lost three of four. One of those four losses was a 46-29 setback to Noblesville's first round sectional foe, Zionsville.

Carmel will be gunning for Coach Scott Heady's fourth straight 20-plus win season. The Greyhounds will enter a home game with Brebeuf with a 19-2 record. The last three seasons Carmel has been 21-2, 25-2 and 23-4, all of that since Heady's first season at Carmel with a 10-13 record. Heady is two wins of reaching the 100-win mark with the Greyhounds. He is 98-23.

Brebeuf is a hot team. The Braves have won three straight and five of six.

Hamilton Southeastern, riding a four-game losing streak and a 7-15 record, is in bad need of a victory. The Royals will play against a powerhouse Lawrence North team which is 16-5. The Wildcats have won 2-of-3 and 5-of-7.

Sheridan snapped a four-game losing streak earlier this week and will enter its final regular season game with a 56-15 record. The opponent is Frankton, one of the top 2A teams in the state. The Eagles are 20-2. They had a 10-game win streak snapped in a 67-57 loss to Muncie Central earlier this week. Frankton's only other loss was to Liberty Christian, 73-63, in the Madison County Tourney.

Tamika Catchings to finish WNBA career with Indiana Fever

Indiana Fever President and General Manager Kelly Krauskopf has announced that All-Star forward Tamika Catchings has signed her final professional contract with the Indiana Fever. The two-year deal between Catchings and the Fever commits the three-time Olympic gold medalist and WNBA superstar through the 2016 season.

Last fall, Catchings announced her intentions to retire following the 2016 WNBA season which coincides with the Summer Olympics in August 2016, in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Catchings hopes to join an elite club with Teresa Edwards and Lisa Leslie who are currently the only American basketball players, male or female, to earn four Olympic gold medals.

Catchings, 35, has been the "face" of the Fever franchise since she was drafted by Krauskopf with the No. 2 overall selection in the 2001 WNBA Draft, despite having to miss the 2001 campaign due to an injury sustained during her senior year at Tennessee. From the time she resumed playing in 2002 however, she has been a model athlete and citizen while helping establish the Fever as one of the league's elite franchises.

The WNBA Rookie of the Year in 2002 and league MVP in 2011, Catchings led Indiana to its first WNBA title in 2012 and was named the Finals MVP. She has paced the Fever to a league-record 10 consecutive playoff berths.

Beginning her 15th pro season in June, Catchings is set to become the WNBA's only player ever to spend an entire career of 15 or more seasons with the same franchise. An active participant in 14 seasons (not counting 2001) with the Fever, Catchings joins an elite list of NBA counterparts with as many seasons of an entire career playing with the same team: Kobe Bryant (19), John Stockton (19), Tim Duncan (18), Reggie Miller (18), Dirk Nowitzki (17), John Havlicek (16), Hal Greer (15), Elgin Baylor (14), Joe Dumars (14), Tony Parker (14), David Robinson (14), and Jerry West (14).

"Since the day she put on a Fever uniform, Tamika has been a consummate professional and leader of our team," said Krauskopf, who helped launch the Fever franchise just one season before drafting Catchings. "She has been the cornerstone of our franchise, always leading by example on and off the basketball court. Through the years, Tamika has built a legacy of determination and work ethic that has permeated our organization and will remain for years to come."

Krauskopf continued, "I am fortunate to have been on this journey with her and thrilled that she will conclude her pro career where she started – right here in Indianapolis."

"Tamika Catchings is the epitome of everything that is right in sports," said Indiana coach Stephanie White who teamed with Catchings on Fever teams from 2001 to 2004.

"She is the greatest competitor the game has seen," said White. "Her on-court numbers and accolades only tell part of the story. Tamika is an ambassador and mentor to our community with her generosity, her humility and her example. It doesn't do justice to say she is the face of the franchise; she is the heart and soul of the Indiana Fever and the foundation for our core values. I am so fortunate to have been a part of her journey as a teammate, and now as a coach."

The daughter of former NBA star Harvey Catchings, Tamika has been a winner at every level at which she has played. She earned Miss Basketball as a prep star in two different states (Illinois and Texas), and won state titles in each. She was part of an unbeaten University of Tennessee squad that won an NCAA title in 1998 while being named the NCAA's Freshman of the Year, and was a four-time college All-American.

In the WNBA, she has finished in the top five of WNBA MVP balloting in 10 of her 13 active seasons. She is an 11-time all-league recipient and a nine-time all-star. Already the league's all-time leader in steals, Catchings has won an unprecedented five defensive player of the year awards. Also the WNBA's career leader in free throws, she currently ranks third in career points and fourth in rebounds. She is the leading scorer and rebounder in WNBA postseason history and within reach of both regular season marks.

Catchings added, "I am really excited about signing my contract with the Fever. This organization has been behind me for my entire career and I'm thankful for the opportunity to close it out in the city that I have found as my home. It has been a blessing for me to gain so many friends, family, fans and love through my play both on and off the court. This platform in Indy has allowed me to carry out my passion on the court with the Fever, and off the court with my Catch the Stars Foundation. There's plenty of work to do in the next two years, so here's to a successful start in 2015."

Boys state swim meet begins tonight...

Penn's Jones, Zionsville's DeCoursey return

Plenty of new faces are expected to stand at the top of the awards podium this weekend during the 78th Annual IHSAA Boys Swimming & Diving State Finals at the Indiana University Natatorium in Indianapolis.

This year's field includes only two individuals who were crowned state champion in last year's festivities. Parks Jones, last year's 200 free champion, is one of those individuals. The Avon senior had the state's second-best time in the event last weekend with a 1:40.38, which was two-hundredths of a second behind top seed Glen Brown, a junior from Fishers. Jones will also compete in the 500 freestyle where he starts with the eighth-best time at 4:35.67.

The other returning state champion is Zionsville senior Kyle DeCoursey who captured his first 50 freestyle crown in 2014. He clocked a 20.32 last Saturday, the state's top time, which was faster than last year's championship-winning time of 20.59. DeCoursey is also the top seed in the other sprint race, the 100 freestyle at 45.44.

Joining DeCoursey as a top seed in two events is Bloomington South senior Ian Finnerty, the fastest in both the 200 individual medley (1:48.04) and 100 breaststroke (55.07).

The final state coaches poll has No. 1 Avon, last year's state runnerup, followed by Carmel, Zionsville, Penn, Hamilton Southeastern and Northridge as its top six teams, respectively, and appear to be the prime contenders this weekend. Chesterton, ranked No. 9, is the two-time defending state champion and winner of four of the last seven titles.

Carmel leads the field with 18 swims during Friday's preliminary heats, the most of any team, followed by Avon, Carroll (Fort Wayne), Homestead and Northridge with 13 each.

Preliminary swimming heats get underway Friday night at 6 p.m. The top 16 in each event will return for competition on Saturday with the top eight individuals vying for state championship honors. Those finishing ninth through 16th on Friday will make up the competitors in the consolation heats. All diving will take place on Saturday beginning at 9 a.m. with the top 20 of 32 competitors advancing from the prelims to the semis after five dives each. After three dives each in the semis, the top 16 will advance to the final round for another three dives each. All championship and consolation finals, including diving, will commence at 1 p.m. on Saturday.

Saturday's championship and consolation finals will be streamed live on IHSAAtv.org beginning at 1 p.m. with Mark Jaynes, 11-time state championship coach Tony Young (swimming analyst), Dan Johnson (diving analyst), and Jake Query (deck reporter).
