League of Women Voters to sponsor candidate forums

By FRED SWIFT

Candidates in this spring's primary election will soon be facing voters in a series of candidate forums sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Participation by the public in the past has not been great at these forums. Many folks feel they can't be bothered, but have to admit later they don't know anything about the candidates. Many of the folks who do attend these events are already aligned with one candidate or another and simply attend the lend moral support.

Everyone is usually very polite, and questions are generally "soft". But, this year there is a chance for the public to find something of where the candidates stand on the important question of where their city is headed.

In Noblesville there are definitely differences between candidates for mayor and city council. There is, of course, incumbent Mayor John Ditslear and council candidates who support his policies. If successful they will continue on the current track for the city, and will point to a number of accomplishments and plans for the next four years.

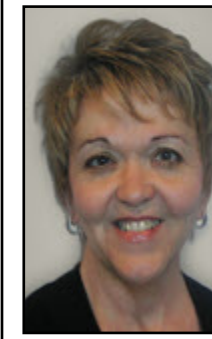

Challenging Ditslear is Mike Corbett and some council candidates who seek a change. As challenger, Corbett must offer his specific plans. This is where the candidate forums come into play. It is up to the voter to ask the candidates for mayor and council where they stand on specific issues facing the city.

The public should not be timid about asking questions on April 22 when the

A traveling story...

By JANET HART LEONARD

It was 2:30 a.m.. At that time of night my body says that it is way too late to be going to bed and WAY too early to be getting up.

Chuck had set the alarm to give us plenty of time to make our 6:50 flight to Tampa. We knew that an icy rain was headed our way about the time we needed to head to the airport.

He can get ready in a few minutes. He said we would leave the house at 3:15. I knew we would leave the house at 3:30 as my few minutes takes longer than his. I tell him that he is just naturally handsome and I am just naturally "challenged" when it comes to getting ready.

When Chuck packs, he walks to the closet and chooses random pieces. He then places them in his carry on and grabs his shaving bag and he is ready. Thankfully, he always leaves room for my makeup because if it would be lost with my luggage that I check in, there would be a major meltdown at the baggage claim. No one would recognize me as the woman on my driver's license without my seven make up products, 3 brushes and my eyelash curler.

About three days before we were to leave I put a few chosen items in my suitcase. Then, I changed my mind and put a few back in the closet and drawers. This process goes on for several days. Inevitably, I will need something that I do not pack.

Chuck packs two pair of shoes. I pack...well several.

I decide what to wear to travel the night before and then I change my mind. And then I change my mind again. When undecided I go to my traveling version of the little black dress...a long sleeve white shirt and jeans.

When I leave in weather that is below freezing and I am headed to where it is 80 degrees, I am going to look ridiculous at one of the two places. Chuck always tells me that I am going to be cold. I tell him that fashion out-

Boys and Girls Club offering the... Trip of a Lifetime Raffle

If you've had enough of winter - and a lot of people have - maybe it's time to start thinking about a vacation.

The Boys and Girls Club of Noblesville is offering a chance to take a grand getaway, with its "Trip of a Lifetime Raffle." This is the second year for the raffle; the first year sold just over 1,000 tickets and sent its winner to a fabulous time at St. Thomas.

"We're looking to sell more than that this year," said Becky Terry, the executive director of the Club. "Our goal's 1500, but we will max out at 2,000. So really good odds.

Terry said the purpose of the raffle "is to raise funds to help us support the programs here at the Boys and Girls Club for the youth that we serve." Tickets cost $20 each, so selling that many tickets meant $20,000 in funds for the Club.

"It's really cool, a lot of options, and just for $20, you can win an amazing trip and support the Boys and Girls Club and the youth of our community," said Terry.

The "options" part refers to the winner's ability to choose his or her destination. There are 20 different options, the majority of which are sports-related. The raffle winner has the chance to attend the Pro Bowl in Hawaii, The Masters golf tournament, the Kentucky Derby or the Daytona 500 - there's something for everyone.

There are some non-sports options as well, such as a vacation to Hawaii, Walt

The Goose and the Gander

Downtown parking

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

My grandmother said to me on many different occasions, "What's good for the goose may not be good for the gander."

That was a long time ago when Grandmother was helping, God bless her effort, me to become wiser. That was back in the days when folks, mainly farmers, were driving their horse and buggy to Noblesville looking for a parking space to shop on the courthouse square.

The point I'm trying to make is that the folks Mayor John Ditslear recently appointed to a parking task force will come to the table with different needs. Good needs. But, different. That's the type of disagreements which often get in the way of good-intending people trying to make things better.

There must be good, strong leadership from someone to keep this committee moving.

The man who is chairing this committee is Noblesville Chamber of Commerce president Bob DuBois.

The committee consists, mostly, of business people in the downtown area. It also consists of Jeff Zeckel, representing the Disney World, Disneyland, St. Thomas and cruises to the Caribbean or Alaska. Terry said the trip is for two people, and includes air fare and car rental, plus either tickets to the sporting event, or a four to seven night stay at a hotel, depending on the trip. The tickets went on sale around Christmas time, and are available at the Club's main building (1448 Conner St.), the Community Center (150 N. 17th St.) and Ginger's Cafe. The drawing will take place at 12:30 p.m. March 21, during the Boys and Girls Club's Basketball Spectacular at Noblesville High School. Those at the Spectacular will still be able to buy tickets, as they will be on sale up until the drawing.

weighs comfort. Even if I am cold I will never complain and prove him right. Apparently wearing an underwire bra sets off the sensors at the security check so here comes the lady wearing latex gloves to "check me out". When we arrive in Tampa we see wheelchairs lined up three across and several rows back at each gate headed north. It looks like the snowbird 500. They apparently had not seen the weather report for any state north of Florida.

Chuck informed me as I am writing this, that he always tells me that we are leaving fifteen minutes before he actually intends to leave. Hmmm. I think the man has figured me out...well, somewhat. Maybe I'll get ready earlier and have to wait on him sometime...and then maybe not. I will have a few stories to tell next week as Emily, Drew, Aiden and Leah have arrived to share our vacation. Let the chaos begin!

League of Women Voters hold their candidates night at the City Hall, 7 p.m.

A similar situation exists in Carmel where Mayor Jim Brainard faces a challenge from Rick Sharp, currently a city councilman. He and some fellow council members oppose Brainard on a number of issues. Brainard and candidates he favors feel the city should continue on its current path.

The public deserves to learn where the candidates stand on guiding the city's future, and it's up to the voters to ask hard questions in order to learn where their public officials want to take them. The League's forum is March 25 at 7 p.m. in the city hall.

Carmel voters will have a second chance on April 29-30 when the Carmel Clay Republican Club holds a forum at the American Legion. There is also competition in the Westfield city primary. A League forum is scheduled there on March 26 at city hall.

County citizens are going to be exposed to a lot of paid advertising by all candidates between now and May 5. But, these political ads, yard signs, etc., should not be what determines the outcome. An informed electorate should make the decision on where their community leaders are taking their city.

And, as always in Hamilton County, the differences in candidates' positions in the Republican primary will give voters their chance to express their choice because there won't be many, if any, choices in the November general election.

PARKING

Noblesville Common Council, and Elaine Shonkwiler, Economic Director from the City of Noblesville.

Dan Stevens was at the table at the committee’s first meeting, representing the Hamilton County Commissioners. The County, years ago, solved its own parking needs in Noblesville. They own more than 50 percent of the parking available in the city.

I left the first meeting not really certain who will have the final decision should the goose not agree with the gander.

I believe the Ditslear administration will need to take a strong leadership role, and, eventually, make final decisions..

I’ve received a half-dozen emails following my column on parking which was published Saturday in The Hamilton County Reporter. None of the six were “letters to the editor,” so I won’t name names but I will share with you a couple of thoughts.

“The problem is,” one man wrote, “the City is trying to make a silk purse out of a sow’s ear.

“The problem is simple. There are not enough spaces. The only answer is either an above ground or underground parking garage.

“Studies tend to be wastes of taxpayer’s money. It is a decision that elected officials need to make.”

I kind of agree with that. But the question is where should the garage be built?”

Again, pleasing the goose and the gander.

I’ve heard many times that the best location might be where Hamilton County has its parking lot for County employees, on Conner Street near the river..

But, are folks going to walk that far (in today’s world) to downtown restaurants and merchants on the courthouse square? It’s not easy crossing Conner Street.

A better location could be the City’s parking lot, just south of City Hall. But, that’s a parking facility is seldom full. That may tell you something.

There are so many different needs.

If I live in a downtown apartment on the north side of the square do I want to park my car in a parking garage located three or four blocks away?

I’ve always thought that the business owners around the courthouse square could solve their own problem simply by not using the parking spaces around the square.

When The Ledger was downtown on Logan Street my bosses, Jim and John Neal, would have a good, long, and hard talk with any employee who would park anywhere in the downtown area near the Ledger building.

But, is that really the answer? Where should the downtown workers and business owners park?

Another email I received was from a business owner in “Old Town.”

“The two-hour limit and employee parking unnecessarily aggravates the problem,” she said.

Another email to The Reporter stressed how important it is for the committee to be open to the public. The committee talked about that in its first meeting.

Another writer said newspapers should have informed the public that the meeting and future meetings are open to everyone.

I’ll take a slap on the wrist for not informing our readers. As soon as I learned of the meeting, I contacted City Hall and asked that question. I got my answer but did not inform you readers.

Parking is a huge issue in Noblesville. And another study, where, when and why of a bypass around the city, is a very large issue. Decisions to be made by the City in an election year..

It’s great that we have committees working hard, but the time will come soon when the City will need to step forward and make decisions.

I had planned on a two-part series on parking, but if you folks want to continue to be heard, drop us an email and we’ll carry this subject into next week.

Hamilton Heights Head Coach Chad Ballenger celebrates the sectional championship victory with his son Cooper.

In dramatic double overtime...

Huskies hold off Yorktown for championship

The Sectional 24 championship game at Muncie Central was short on style points, and long on melodrama.

And no one that was there will ever forget it. Especially if they were Hamilton Heights fans.

The Huskies held off Yorktown 55-52 in double overtime to win Class 3A Sectional 24, reclaiming the trophy they won in 2013 but lost to the Bearcats last season. Heights advances to the Blackford regional, where it will take on Bishop Dwenger in the 10 a.m. semi-final.

The Huskies actually never trailed in the second half and both extra periods. But the Tigers kept making huge baskets to tie the game, including a 3-pointer at the end of the first OT to tie the game at 42-42.

"They hit big shots and they're a good basketball team," said Heights coach Chad Ballenger. "They won 17 games for a reason. They were able to make some big shots."

The Huskies finally took control in the second overtime, scoring the first six points. That run ate up three minutes of clock time. Hunter Crist scored first, then Grant Weatherford made probably the most patient driving layin in the history of Hamilton Heights basketball, waiting for the right time before taking the ball in to score.

"Once we got a lead, we controlled it," said Ballenger. "That's what we were trying to do, we were just trying to play control basketball. For the most part we did, and we hit free throws. We made a few mistakes on it. We got stops when we needed it. We made free throws when we needed to."

Indeed, Crist made a couple free throws to make the score 48-42 with 58.8 seconds left. Yorktown used those big baskets to get back to 52-51 with 5.6 seconds to go, but that's when Weatherford hit a pair of foul shots. The score was now 54-51.

Heights fouled to stop any chance of Yorktown making another game-tying 3, and the Tigers made one free throw. Crist answered that with a foul shot, and Yorktown's last attempt didn't go.

"We made some mistakes defensively, but our guys persevered, man," said Ballenger. "I mean, we left it out there and we made some bonehead plays. But the bottom line is, the will to win and our kids competed and got us there."

The first half of the game was a relatively defensive affair, with the score tied at 7-all after the first quarter. Yorktown led 15-13 late in the second quarter, but Heights made three 3-pointers in a row - two by Crist, one by Garrett Paull - to take a 22-15 lead into halftime.

The Huskies led by nine points twice early in the third quarter, but the Tigers whittled the lead down to two points a couple times, including 29-27 late in the period. Paull's free throw and a layin by Weatherford moved Heights ahead 32-27, which was the third quarter score.

Another Weatherford layin got the Huskies' advantage to 36-29, but Yorktown scored seven unanswered points after that. The last two were on free throws with 4:01 left, and neither team would score again in regulation, setting up the first overtime. Heights led by as much as 40-36 in the first extra period before Yorktown made yet more big baskets.

Weatherford wound up with 22 points, while Paull reached double-double territory with 14 rebounds and 13 points. Crist scored 14 points.

Huskies have heart

By BRIAN REDDICK

When the Hamilton Heights Huskies won their sectional basketball championship Saturday night you expect to see the starters like the Weatherford bothers and seniors getting first dibs at cutting down the net. Last night at the Muncie Fieldhouse the fifth man cutting the net didn't play one second on the court, at least not physically.

Husky manager Brayden Branstetter has been with the varsity ball club for 3 years now and is a 17 year old sophomore at Hamilton Heights. Brayden has cerebral palsy and may not physically be able to play basketball, but no one at Hamilton Heights has a greater love for the game than he.

Branstetter is a huge motivation to the Husky ball club and helps out by running the clock and runs water to players as needed. Branstetter said "I'm very close with the team especially Grant Weatherford, Sterling Weatherford and Hunter Crist, they're my brothers".

Last night when the Huskies won the sectional 24 championship against Yorktown in double overtime, coaches and players made sure Branstetter was right there in the celebration of it all. Branstetter was lifted to the net and got his small piece of victory just like every other member of the team.

Familiar regionals await county's three champions

Hamilton County's three sectional champion boys basketball teams will be returning to familiar places for the regional next Saturday.

In Class 4A, Carmel (22-2) will take on McCutcheon (22-4) in the noon, second semi-final game. That will follow Fort Wayne Carroll's (23-3) contest with either Homestead (24-2) or Jay County (18-6). The Homestead-Jay County game is set for Monday, as Homestead 's girls basketball team played in the Class 4A state championship game on Saturday.

Hamilton Heights (19-7) travels to the Class 3A Blackford regional, where it will play a 10 a.m. semi-final against Bishop Dwenger (12-13). The second game features Columbia City (19-7) and NorthWood (22-2).

Meanwhile, Guerin Catholic is heading back to the Class 3A Greencastle regional, a place where the Golden Eagles have won two regional championships. Guerin (18-8) plays at 10 a.m. against Lebanon (9-15), which won its first sectional title since 2002 Saturday. In the second semi-final, West Vigo (14-12) will play Tri-West (20-4).

In a game labeled by Guerin Catholic coach Pete Smith as “anti-climactic,” the Golden Eagles Saturday evening rolled over host Marshall, 58-39, for Guerin’s second straight Class 3A sectional championship. “Quite frankly,” said Smith, “it was a pretty anti-climactic game after we beat Brebeuf on Friday evening. We knew that was the big game for us in the tournament. Tonight we got out to a lead, as we expected, and everyone was sort of waiting for the game to be over.” Guerin was never challenged by Marshall. The Eagles led 14-6 after one quarter and 29-14 at halftime. A 15-9 third quarter run gave Marshall no chance of a fourth quarter comeback. Smith said defense was the key to victory. “I thought our kids kept Marshall out of the paint,” said the coach. “Matt Labus, Alex Mazanoski, Cameron Lindley and Matt Holba were so strong on the defensive end. Marshall hit just 11-of-54 shots from the field. Guerin Catholic also was strong on offense, connecting on 17-of-37 attempts. Holba played another great game. He led the team in scoring with 16 points, nine rebounds and four blocked shots. Christian Munson also was in double figures, netting 10 points. Munson also dished out four assists. Labus grabbed seven rebounds. Guerin settled the issue early. Matthew Godfrey connected on two 3-point shots in the first quarter and Nick Schneider had two field as the Golden Eagles opened up with the 14-6 lead. Brian Matthews buried a 3-point shot to end the second quarter, sending Guerin to halftime with a 29-17 advantage, the Eagles’ biggest lead in the first half. “I am proud of how the guys handled some adversity and unique situations tonight,” Smith said. Smith’s club will take an 18-8 record to the Greencastle Regional next week, opening against Lebanon in the first game at the McAnally Center. The second game will match West Vigo against Tri-West.

With a 3-pointer at the buzzer...

Tigers beat University

Eric Hunter hit a contested three at the buzzer to give Indianapolis Tindley a 43-42 win over University in the Sectional 58 final at Bethesda Christian.

Hunter's late heroics overshadowed a tremendous effort by University Tyler Diehl who poured in a game high 29 points despite suffering a possible broken nose during the fourth quarter. The 6-4 senior, who has committed to Carroll University in Waukesha, Wisconsin, Tindley led throughout the first quarter, holding at 8-5 advantage at the end of the first quarter. The second quarter was a back and forth affair with two ties and five lead changes. University led 20-19 at the break.

The Trailblazers trailed for only 24 seconds in the second half until Hunter's buzzer beater. University held their largest lead at 29-23 with 3:30 left in the third quarter following a pair of Diehl three pointers. The Blazers led 31-28 after three.

Tindley scored the first four points on the final quarter to take a 32-31 lead, but University came back to take a 33-32 lead with 6:02 left when Connor Holly scored on a rebound of his own missed three pointer. University took a 26-32 lead with 5:36 left when Diehl drove to the basket, scored and was fouled. Diehl was forced to the bench with a bloody nose and Emerson Halblieb came off the bench to complete a three point play. After a Tindley three pointer, Diehl reentered and drilled another triple with 4:04 left to give University a 39-35 lead. It would turn out to be the Blazers last field goal of the game.

The Tigers pulled within 39-38 with 1:20 left on a three pointer by Joseph Johnson. Holly made a pair of free throws to put University ahead 41-38 with 26.7 seconds left. Hunter made both ends of a one-and-one with 13.4 left to pull Tindley within 41-40. Diehl was fouled with 11.1 seconds left. After making the front end of the one-and-one his second shot rimmed out, setting the stage for Hunter's game winner.

University closes its season at 17-10. Hunter had 23 points to lead Tindley, who advances to the Martinsville Regional with a 17-10 record. The Tigers will face off against 22-4 Clay City.

NHS gets highest score of the season...

Miller gymnasts place fourth at sectional

By RICHIE HALL

Reporter Sports Editor

With a roster full of freshmen and sophomores, the Noblesville gymnastics team finished its season on a high note.

The Millers placed fourth at the Lafayette Jeff sectional on Saturday. Noblesville had its best score of the season at 97.375, placing just outside of the top three teams, which advance to Friday's Valparaiso regional.

The Millers were regional qualifiers last year, but that was with three seniors leading the way. Since this Noblesville team was much younger, Millers coach Jody Ramey said she was "super proud of this team."

"These girls are young, they're trying new skills," said Ramey. "Some of the girls were able to make their new skills today."

Noblesville's best score and place came from Esma Taylor, a sophomore who does have varsity experience. Taylor had her best place in the floor exercise, where she tied for seventh with an 8.75. Taylor just missed advancing as an individual, as the top six in each event move on to regionals.

Meanwhile, Taylor also had the Millers' best score, with an 8.90 in the vault. That was good for eighth place. In the all-around, Taylor placed 10th with a score of 33.125.

Ronnie VanBuskirk, another sophomore with varsity experience, also competed in the all-around, taking 15th. VanBuskirk's best place and score was on the uneven bars, where she finished 12th by scoring 8.225.

Noblesville's Esma Taylor, shown here in an earlier meet, finished tied for seventh in the floor exercise and eighth in the vault at the Lafayette Jeff gymnastics sectional on Saturday.

The Millers scored best on the vault, with 26.175 points, the second-highest total of the day. Freshman Anna Dorris wasn't too far away from Taylor, with an 8.775 in her vault. Kaitlyn Murray, a junior, scored 8.50.

Other sectional competitors included Ronnie VanBuskirk's triplet sisters, Maddie and Ellie VanBuskirk and freshman Emily Denham.

Logansport ran away with the team championship, scoring 110.425 points. McCutcheon was second with 99.90, just getting past Western with 99.60.

Berries junior Kelley Platt swept all the events, sailing to a 38.35-point effort in the all-around. Ramey noted that some of the younger girls on the team hadn't seen competition like they had today at the sectional.

"And they all kind of have a little fire lit underneath them for skills over the summer and things we can improve on next year," said Ramey.

That's one of the best things about this team - they all come back next year.

"I don't foresee any one of my gymnasts going anywhere for next season," said Ramey. "We bring back our whole entire team next year. These girls are capable of over 100 points easy."

Team scores: Logansport 110.425, McCutcheon 99.90, Western 99.60, Noblesville 97.375, Northwestern 95.675 Harrison 93.75, Southmont 92.45, North Montgomery 90.55, Turkey Run 88.625, Peru 70.10, Lafayette Jeff 67.725, Frontier 32.05, Crawfordsville 11.575.

All-around scores: 1. Kelley Platt (L) 38.35, 10. Esma Taylor 33.125, 15. Ronnie VanBuskirk 31.80.
Vault: 1. Platt (L) 9.625, 8. Taylor 8.90, 10. Anna Dorris 8.775, 15. Kaitlyn Murray 8.50, 27. R. Van Buskirk 8.10.
Uneven bars: 1. Platt (L) 9.575, 12. R. VanBuskirk 8.225, 13. Dorris 8.10, 15. Maddie VanBuskirk 8.00, T16. Taylor 7.95.
Balance beam: 1. Platt (L) 9.675, T17. R. VanBuskirk 7.675, 19. Taylor 7.525, 26. Ellie VanBuskirk 6.95, 33. Emily Denham (N) 6.325.
Floor exercise: 1. Platt (L) 9.475, T7. Taylor 8.75, 17. Dorris 8.175, 22. R. VanBuskirk 7.85, T29. Denham 7.30.

Pacers win fifth in a row

By WHEAT HOTCHKISS

It wasn't nearly as easy the second time around, but the Pacers (28-34) rallied in the fourth quarter to beat the New York Knicks (12-49) for the second time in four days, 92-86. Indiana has now extended its longest winning streak of the season to five games.
On Wednesday night, the Pacers dominated essentially from start to finish at Bankers Life Fieldhouse. They led by 24 points at halftime and cruised to a 23-point victory over the owners of the NBA's worst record.
But the Knicks were much more competitive on Saturday night on their home floor. New York capitalized on an Indiana squad playing the second night of a back-to-back, holding the visitors to 29-percent shooting in the first half to take a five-point lead at halftime.
New York remained in front for much of the second half, leading by as many as nine points with 9:52 remaining in the fourth quarter.
But the Pacers clawed back, eventually taking the lead when C.J. Watson drained a 3-pointer from the right wing and drew a foul with 6:36 to play, capping a 16-4 run by the visitors.
The Knicks tied the game twice more, but George Hill's 3-pointer with 2:34 left gave Indiana an 86-83 lead and the Pacers maintained the advantage the rest of the way.
Rodney Stuckey led Indiana with 17 points and four assists. David West scored eight of his 14 points in the third quarter and also collected 11 rebounds. George Hill finished with 16 points and five rebounds, while Watson added 13 points off the bench.
Knicks forward Andrea Bargnani led all scorers with 21 points on 10-of-14 shooting, but fouled out with 3:22 to play and was sorely missed in the final minutes. Alexey Shved added 15 points off the bench for New York.
After a quick trip to New York, the Pacers return to Indiana for another four-game homestand, beginning on Tuesday night against Orlando.

Fuel fight back in 4-3 loss to Wheeling

In the fourth of four head-to-head meetings between the two teams this season, the Indy Fuel were defeated by the Wheeling Nailers on Saturday at Indiana Farmers Coliseum by a final score of 5-4. With the loss, Indy fell to 24-24-4-4 overall this season and with 56 points, remain alone in fifth place in the ECHL's North Division standings, one point shy of playoff position.
After a fight between Indy's Johnny McGuire and Wheeling's Chaz Johnson electrified the crowd off the opening faceoff, the Nailers grabbed control of Saturday's game with three first period scores, from Derek Army on the power-play at 5:39 and Jarrett Burton and Shawn Skelly at even strength at 13:39 and 13:55 respectively, to take a 3-0 lead into the first intermission.
In the middle frame, the Nailers extended their advantage just 42 seconds into the period on Alex Boak's first of the season, but after a hard-fought second stanza, Garrett Bembridge put the Fuel on the board at 17:38 thanks to even-strength feeds from Chris DeSousa and Nicklas Lindberg.
After a Patrick McGrath major penalty early in the third, the Fuel took advantage of a five-minute power-play and clawed within a goal at 4-3 thanks to a pair of extra-man markers, from Justin Holl at 3:42, assisted by Jamie Wise and Matt White, and Bembridge's second of the game at 4:32, from Lindberg and Pete Massar. Despite a furious rally down the stretch from Indy, the Nailers hung on for a one-goal win and ended the Fuel's five-game winning streak and six-game point streak.
Mac Carruth took the loss in net for the Fuel following a 22-save performance and Franky Palazzese earned the win for Wheeling thanks to 31 stops on 34 Indy pucks faced. Saturday's game featured 103 combined penalty minutes, including 52 for the Nailers, a new single-game season high for a Fuel opponent this year.
Next up for the Fuel, it's a Sunday matinee clash vs. the Kalamazoo Wings with the opening faceoff set for 3:00 pm at Wings Stadium in Kalamazoo, Michigan. Full coverage of Sunday's game begins with the "Jose Cuervo Pregame Show" at 2:45 pm over the air on CBS Sports 1430 WXNT-AM, online at www.cbssports1430.com and on smartphones everywhere via the free "TuneIn" Radio app with Fuel broadcaster Tony Brown providing the play-by-play.
