Tom Kendall

July 1, 1945 - March 2, 2015

Tom Kendall, a Sacramento area veterinarian for over 42 years, died peacefully in the comfort of his home on March 2, 2015 after being diagnosed with Stage IV pancreatic cancer in November, 2014. Born July 1, 1945, Tom leaves a lasting legacy as loving husband and father, widely respected practitioner of veterinary medicine, and dear friend to many—both the two and four footed variety.

Dr. Kendall was originally from Sheridan, Indiana and received his D.V.M. from Purdue University in 1969. Shortly after, he and his wife. Dianne, moved to California. In 1973 he found a home at Arden Animal Hospital where his boundless enthusiasm and energy touched the hearts and lives of his clients and patients. He encouraged and inspired his colleagues and health care team to embrace life long learning, challenging them to find purpose and meaning in what they do.

Tom loved interacting with people and celebrating the human-animal bond. With a kind, confident presence, and a twinkle in his eye, Dr. K. offered reassurance to the most reluctant kitty cat and eagerly met the playful energy of a happy canine. Many pet owners will remember Tom sharing pet care tips on frequent television and radio appearances throughout the years.

His love of veterinary medicine led to his involvement in the education of veterinarians nationswide. Since 1975 he has been an Associate Clinical Professor at the University of California at Davis School of Veterinary Medicine, where he helped teach aspiring veterinary students the art of caring and communicating compassionately with their clients. Passing these skills on to students was one of Tom's greatest joys. Over the past 35 years Tom and the other veterinarians at Arden Animal Hospital welcomed over 70 students from Davis as externs.

Dr. Kendall was active in community activities including the Creative Initiative Foundation and People Working Together to Build a World Beyond War. He was involved in the Nuclear Safeguards Initiative which helped bring about California legislation to safeguard Nuclear Power Plants. For many years he donated one morning per month preparing breakfast for the homeless at Loaves and Fishes.

In 1993 Tom was a co-founder of the Mercer Veterinary Clinic where he recently served as Chief Financial Officer and Supervising Clinician. The clinic provides veterinary services to pets of the homeless as well as a venue for veterinary students to work alongside experienced veterinarians in providing care. "I really saw a great opportunity for students to learn about the importance of giving," said Dr. Kendall when talking about the Mercer Clinic to the Sacramento Bee for an "I Care" feature article. "Students see that people who are down and out are really no different. If you have no money or lots of money, you still love your pet an equal amount." As a fund raiser for the clinic Tom Hersberger Funeral Home, with Rev. Gina Kirkland officiating. sponsored "Santa Paws" every Christmas, where pets are photographed with Santa.

Among a host of professional activities, Tom was President of the California Veterinary Medical Board at the time of his passing, and was President-Elect of the American Association of Veterinary State Boards. He was a past President of the California Veterinary Medical Association (1997-1998) and later Vice President of the American Veterinary Medical Association (2002-2004). While in the latter position he visited all 29 veterinary schools in the U.S. He also served on the Mentoring Task Force of the American Animal Hospital Association and later on their board of directors.

Those who knew him will forever remember a devoted husband and father who loved to fish, tell a good story, and enjoy dinner and a night out with friends. Always generous with his time, he served as a mentor to both professional students and the children of family and friends. He had a wonderful sense of humor, a ready smile and infectious laugh. Tom will be dearly missed by his wife Dianne, son Grant, daughter Heather, siblings David (Anne), Susan Hobson, and John (Liz) and extended family, colleagues, students, and friends.

A Celebration of Life will take place at Carmichael Presbyterian Church, 5645 Marconi Avenue, Carmichael, Ca, on Saturday, March 14, at 2:30 p.m.. In lieu of flowers, please make a donation to Mercer Veterinary Clinic for the Homeless, P.O. Box 297, Davis, CA 95617. (530-752-1143)

The Magnificent Plan comes to Heights

By PEGGY GEORGI

Hamilton Heights High School's auditorium has been a buzz of activity these past couple of months in preparation for "The Magnificent Plan," a musical comedy written by Hoosier Nancy Kierspe Carlson and based on the classical fairy tale of "The Three Little Pigs." Scores of students can be found after school in the auditorium working on props, parts, music, lighting and sound. What is as exciting as the production itself is the fact that this will be the first musical conducted by the high school drama department since 2003.

School, the department rolled out a play last spring, and again in the fall. "There has been a renewed commitment to performing arts at Heights and the many benefits it can bring to students and the community," said Director, Angie Smith, who is a parent volunteer with a passion for performing arts. "For the past year upgrades have been made in the auditorium and a movement to increase awareness and develop a culture involving the arts at the school is underway. Pipeman Robbie Laratta and Probationary Firefighter Tyler Symmes were recognized for their appointment to the department in 2014

Promotions

Captain Jeff Roberts and Engineer Josh Small were recognized for their promotions to these ranks in 2014.

Letters of Commendation

Brad McLaughlin, Trad Breedlove, Lt. Matt Miller, Jack Swift, Mike Durall, Tim Recker, Dennis Parker, Josh Hittle, and Josh Small.

Meritorious Service

This award was given to Lt. Uriah Eddingfield for his selfless dedication to his crew and the manner in which he embraces his role as an Officer at NFD. Lt. Eddingfield leads by example and his peers have noticed. His drive to better himself academically and physically has inspired his crew members to aim higher in their own personal efforts. He enables those around him by providing extra training materials and challenging them to contemplate situations that could arise. Lt. Eddingfield leads by example and sets a very high standard for others to follow.

Unit Citation

Lt. Uriah Eddingfield, Engineer Robin Purcell, Spencer Morris, Lance Cox, and John Grimaldi were awarded a Unit Citation for their actions that helped save the life of a person in cardiac arrest. The unique circumstances of this incident and what makes it stand out as exceptional is that there was no medic on this run. Although a paramedic was en route to assist, they enacted the BLS cardiac arrest protocol and effectively had pulses and spontaneous respirations from the patient prior to the paramedic's arrival. Their quick actions and synchronized efforts, coupled with their thorough training and preparedness led to the successful saving of this life. This task can be very difficult without the benefit of several advanced procedures a paramedic can provide. The team performed flawlessly that day and should be proud of their efforts.

Emergency Medical Technician of the Year

Paramedic/Engineer Pat Roberts was selected as EMT of the Year for 2014 because of his professionalism, leadership, work ethic, and compassion. His work as Medic at Station 75 includes mentoring and training his fellow crewmembers. His positive attitude and competency have resonated with his peers. He does all of this and is still able to bring a smile to the faces of those around him by "keeping it real." Pat has enhanced the abilities of those around him, which translates into the NFD being in a better position to meet our mission and to better serve our community.

Fire Fighter of the Year

Senior Firefighter Joel Minnich was voted by his peers to receive this award because of his work to lead the kitchen remodel project at Station 73. He drew up the plans, worked to get the necessary approvals and was the lead laborer throughout the project. This was a major project that saved the City several thousand dollars and really improved the functionality of the Station 73 kitchen and dining area. Joel has exemplified the dedication, productivity and professionalism that the Firefighter of the Year award requires. Joel's tireless effort to make the NFD a better place has inspired many around him.

Officer of the Year

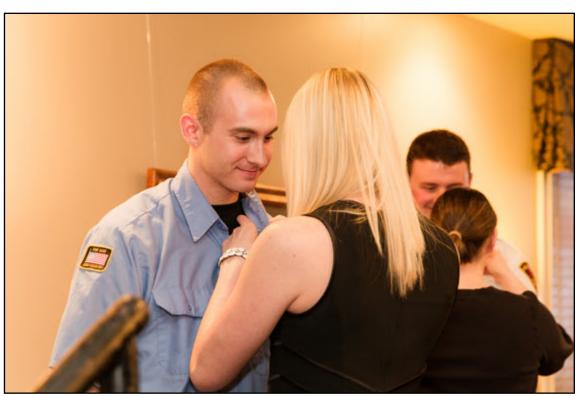

Lieutenant Joe Wilson received the Officer of the Year for his dedication and devotion to the NFD and the citizens of the City of Noblesville. Joe not only does what is required of a Lieutenant, but looks to improve things as he goes. His leadership with the NFD Color Guard and Officer Development Program has been exemplary. Joe was chosen by his peers not only because of what he does, but also how he does it; his approach with his team has inspired them to perform in much the same manner as he does daily.

NHS, HH lead the way

By DON JELLISON Reporter Editor

Noblesville, Westfield, and Hamilton Heights and a group of Carmel freshmen and sophomores competed in the Saturday qualifier at Indiana Wesleyan in the boys and girls competition.

Two Lady Miller relay teams led the way. The 4x800 team, consisting of Susanna Sharples-Gordon, Abi Little, Megan Line and Abby Crouch, continued to outdistance the competition with a state-leading performance of 9:45. The group followed up with a top-five performance in the distance medley

'We will attempt to improve upon our performance Saturday at the Wabash Qualifier, said Lady Miller coach Dennis Scheele

Hamilton Heights' 4x400 relay team placed second.

For the boys, Noblesville's Jake Owens placed second in the 60-meters; Hamilton Heights Michael DeFoe won the 60 hurdles; Westfield had the best time n the 4x80 relay; Westfield's Justin Marnaril was second in the pole vault; and Hamilton Heights' Joe Boser had a strong fifth-place finish in the shot put.

"DeFoe has the fastest time in the small school division," said Heights coach Mike Hippensteel. "He finished 14th in the 110 high hurdles at the State Meet last season."

DeFoe joined Jesse Brown, Nick Peterson and Nathan Roth in the 4x200 relay. The team has the third fastest time in the small school division.

"The 1:36.8 time is the best we have run in several years," Hippensteel said.

"Also," said the coach, "Craig Schildmeier ran great splits in he 4x800 relay and in the distance medley. He has a great shot at getting back to the outdoor state finals in the 800."

Noblesville boys coach Kent Graham was happy with the Millers' outing.

"Our best performance of the meet on Saturday was the 4x200 relay team of Owens, Dontay Wells, Jaylen Garner ad Brett Bell. We were edged out of a win by Cathedral.

'We may not be as deep at this point, but I hope we can make progress and become more competitive as the season goes on," Graham added.

Hamilton Heights' girls also had an outstanding performance in the 4x400 relay.

"The team ran a great time for this early in the season," said Coach Todd Jones.

That team consisted of Lauren Bjortomt, Autumn Pryor, Molly Mitchell and Macey Policka. Macey had the third fastest time in the 60 hurdles.

"We hope to qualify three relays for the finals," Jones said. "That is our goal. We have several new runners who are fighting for top relay spots."

Miller 4x8 girls happy, but want to keep improving

By RICHIE HALL

Reporter Sports Editor

Noblesville girls track and field coach Dennis Scheele said that the Millers have "been one of the top teams in the 4x8 in the state finals outdoors "

That has carried over to the indoor track season as well. Noblesville got some attention after its 4x800 relay team of seniors Abby Crouch and Megan Line, sophomore Susanna Sharples-Gordon and freshman Abi Little won at the Hoosier State Relays qualifier at Indiana Wesleyan University on Saturday. The team ran in 9:45.

"I didn't really know it was happening," said Sharples-Gordon. "There are so many people on the track, I didn't think we were in first until she crossed the line. And then it was great." "It's been a great indoor season, but we've trained really hard for it," said Scheele.

For the girls themselves, it's been an exciting experience.

"We have a really good team this year, and I'm just excited to see how we'll do at state," said Crouch. She for the meet - the top 24 times in each indoor track event could be referring to either the Hoosier State Relays, con- make it to the Hoosier State Relays, and Scheele is confisidered to be the indoor state meet, or the IHSAA state dent Noblesville's time won't be any worse than third - the finals in early June.

4x800 team that finished fourth at last year's outdoor state meet, along with now-graduated Sarah Schuster, in a time of 9:19.49. With three of the four back, along with Little, a haven't really put their team together, so they got this week state champion in middle school cross country, the Millers could easily challenge that time again.

Sharples-Gordon will not run at this weekend's meet at Wabash University. She and teammate Kat Dombroski will attend a leadership conference that Scheele signed them up for. The coach said that Dombroski is in the mix as one of Noblesville's top runners as well. "We're trying to find a spot for her," said Scheele. "We're trying to spread the wealth, because all of the girls train so hard.'

Peyton Ali will join the 4x800 group at Wabash, while Maddie Helsloot will run on the distance medley relay.

While the pressure is off when it comes to qualifying Millers want to keep improving their times, especially Crouch, Line and Sharples-Gordon were part of a since they have yet to see what some of the other teams have put together.

There's still some really outstanding teams that and next Saturday to put that together," said Scheele. "Our times could get bumped, but we're not going to go down very far. I don't think that we're going to slide any worse than third."

The girls are in agreement with their coach.

"I think we want to post a better time to try to get up in front of all the other times," said Little.

"It's always important to keep improving, and there's going to be a lot more competition at this meet, so it'll be good to see how we go against them," said Line.

Boys & Girls:

Carmel is second in MIC

Carmel's girls were edged by three points by Warren Central and the boys were beaten by two points by Ben meters. Davis in the MIC Indoor Track & Field Meet.

The event is one of several meets used as qualifiers throughout the state for the Hoosier State Relays.

Leading the way for the Greyhounds were Isaac James jump. in the 60 dash, Mitch Lipe in the pole vault, Grayson Jenkins in the 3200, the distance medley relay, and the 4x400 relay

James finished second in the 60 meters; Jenkins was second in the 23200; the Greyhounds were third in the 4x400 realy and second in the distance medley, and Lipe won the pole vault.

"I believe these individuals and relay teams have a chance to score in the HSR at Purdue on March 21," said Carmel coach Ken Browner.

"This part of our season is still based on early season training principles and not championship training regimens like we will do in the month of May," Browner said. "I think this is a good opportunity for our athletes to compete after the monotony and inconsistency of winter training.

Stuckey, Pacers put on a shooting show in win

By WHEAT HOTCHKISS

Courtesy nba.com/pacers

Wearing their "Flo-Jo" throwback jerseys on Tuesday night, Rodney Stuckey and the Pacers put on a shooting show reminiscent of the days when Reggie Miller still roamed the court in Indianapolis. Stuckey scored 34 points and Indiana (29-34) tied a franchise record with 17 3-pointers in a 118-86 rout of the Orlando Magic (21-44).

With the win, the Pacers extended their tion midway through the fourth quarter, with me, I wouldn't have had 30-some odd games.

Stuckey was feeling it from the moment he first checked into the game with 6:07 remaining in the first quarter. The 6-foot-5 guard buried a 3-pointer on his first offensive possession and never really cooled off.

longest winning streak of the season to six Stuckey had 34 points — more than any Pacers player all season. He made 13-of-19 Before Tuesday, he'd never made more than four 3-pointers in a single game in his eightyear NBA career.

He had 16 points by the end of the first the day it doesn't matter if we didn't get quarter. He had 25 by halftime. When he that W," Stuckey said. "I give all the credit points."

Stuckey also added six rebounds and shots, including 6-of-9 from 3-point range. seven assists in 30:35, often passing up shots in the second half to get a better look for his teammates.

"He could have gone for 50," Pacers "I knew I was cooking, but at the end of head coach Frank Vogel said. "But he didn't force the ball at all."

The Magic actually got off to a fast start checked out of the game to a standing ova- to my teammates. If they weren't out there on Tuesday night, taking a 26-18 lead following Victor Oladipo's breakaway dunk with 2:27 remaining in the first quarter.

> That's when Stuckey took over, scoring the Pacers' final eight points of the first quarter to help Indiana climb within two. He scored four more points as the Blue & Gold opened the second quarter with a 12-0 run to surge in front.

> They blew the game open in the second half, leading by double digits for the final

> As a team, the Pacers went 17-for-34 from beyond the arc. Damjan Rudež, starting at shooting guard in place of C.J. Miles (a late scratch with sore feet), went 5-for-8 from beyond the arc and finished with 17 points and five assists.

> Three other Pacers players finished in double figures. Luis Scola (15 points and 10 rebounds) recorded a double-double. George Hill had 13 points and six assists, while C.J. Watson added 12 points and five dimes.

> The Pacers also put together a strong effort on the defensive end, limiting the Magic to just 37-percent shooting. They outscored their guests 92-58 in the final three quarters.

> "Coach has challenged us and we've stepped up to the plate," Watson said of the team's defensive effort. "That's what's going to get us into the playoffs and hopefully help us advance."

> Tobias Harris led Orlando with 22 points and eight rebounds on 8-of-17 shooting. Elfrid Payton added 14 points and six assists for the visitors.

> The Pacers return to the floor on Thursday night, when the Milwaukee Bucks visit Bankers Life Fieldhouse.
