Coming down....

Question: What’s going up

By FRED SWIFT

The beginning stages of demolition are underway on the former Farm Bureau Coop Grain Terminal. The landmark silos will be coming down this year as Farm Bureau gives up the Noblesville operation due to aging facilities and decreasing grain production in Hamilton County.

The grain terminal's demise brings to a end a chapter in Noblesville history dating back to post-Civil War times. The city was once a grain milling center and the original Noblesville Milling Company was a major employer. Noblesville athletic teams got their name, the Millers, from the milling company.

Mark Tullis, Chief Operating Officer, for North Central Coop, said the first steps are underway to remove structures on property at 699 S. 9th Street. He said his company has been in conversations with city officials concerning the future of the property which stretches from 8th to 9th Streets south of Mulberry.

No decision has been made on use of the ground, and it has not been listed for sale.

Tullis said nearby property owners are also being consulted on their views as Farm Bureau seeks "to be a good neighbor."

The Model Mill on the north side of Mulberry Street is not affected by the demolition and impending sale of the Farm Bureau complex. The huge brick mill building, dating from the 19th century, was the original home of Noblesville Milling before the grain operation spread to the south into the next block.

Farm Bureau closed its facility as well as its grain operation in Hortonville last December. As more land is taken for suburban development there is less need for the grain terminals.

When contacted today by The Hamilton County Reporter, Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear said the City has an "interest" in the property.

"Our interest," said the Mayor, "is to make certain whatever is done there is in the best interest of the City and the neighborhood."

"We are working together with Farm Bureau in making certain that happens."

The process of bringing down the historic grain silos at the former Farm Bureau Coop Grain Terminal has begun. The silos have been a part of Noblesville's history since the 19th century.

Downtown bank robber to serve eight years in prison

By JEFF JELLISON

Gagle

Robert Gagle, the suspect in the June armed robbery of Community Bank located in downtown Noblesville, will serve eight years in the Indiana Department of Corrections.

Gagle, a Noblesville resident, was arrested just four hours after he entered the Community Bank office located at 830 Logan Street shortly before noon on June 15.

Noblesville Police reported Gagle entered the bank at 11:49 a.m. and demanded money from the teller while displaying a handgun. Gagle then reportedly fled on foot through downtown Noblesville.

Gagle was apprehended by Noblesville police officers the same day at 3:53 p.m. after receiving a 911 call indicating a person matching the description of the Community Bank robbery was in the parking lot of the CVS store located in the 2500 block of Conner Street.

After a plea agreement was reached, Hamilton County Superior Court 3 Judge William Hughes sentenced Gagle to 12 years at the Indiana Department of Corrections. Judge Hughes suspended four years of the 12 year sentence. Gagle was also given credit for jail time served after his arrest.

It was all about the ladies in downtown Noblesville Thursday night, as the fifth annual Diva Night took place. While these three Noblesville friends - Christine Lassen (left), Rhonda Foster (center) and Michelle Bracewell - don't think of themselves as divas, they were happy to have a little dinner at The Ville Restaurant. A number of Noblesville business took part in Diva Night by welcoming shoppers with specials and bargains. After that, The Ville hosted a Diva Lounge, which featured social time and prizes. "I am excited to have David as our next fire chief. Throughout his 24 years in the department, he has served in many capacities providing fire safety for our city, including as a firefighter, sergeant, lieutenant, captain, interim Battalion chief and for seven years was an Assistant Chief of Administration and Finance," said Mayor Brainard. "His perseverance, dedication and leadership, along with his passion for fire safety and institutional knowledge in working with city officials and other city departments make him the best choice for this role."

Haboush, 48, is a Carmel resident who began his career with the Carmel Fire Department in 1992. He was promoted to the rank of sergeant in April of 1997, lieutenant in March of 2002 and captain in July of 2002. He served as an Assistant Chief from June 2007 to March 2014 and has currently been serving as a House Captain. A graduate of Thomas Carr Howe High School in 1984, he went on to obtain a Bachelor’s Degree in political science from IUPUI in 1989.

Haboush has been accredited by the Center for Public Safety Excellence as a Chief Fire Officer. He played an integral role in the Carmel Fire Department’s international accreditation, achieved in 2013. He is married to his wife, Marcy, and has three children.

“At the same time, I am sad to see Matt Hoffman leave his role as Fire Chief, which he held with dignity and professionalism for the past two years and two months. Under his watch, our Fire Department received Accredited Agency Status from the Commission on Fire Accreditation International, which was no small feat. The Carmel Fire Department is one of only three fire departments in Indiana to be accredited. It was a very arduous process that touched all aspects of fire safety services and we are grateful to Matt for all of his hard work in helping achieve that status.”

Hoffman was appointed chief in November 2012 and took over the retiring Keith Smith on January 1, 2013.

Richardson’s 2015 Adult Page Day Program accepting applicants

State Rep. Kathy Kreag Richardson (R-Noblesville) is encouraging local adults to apply for her 2015 Adult Page Day Program. The program offers residents of District 29 over the age of 18 the chance to visit the Statehouse and see a full day of legislative activity on Tuesday, March 24.

“Visiting the Statehouse and observing the legislative process firsthand provides a unique and rewarding experience,” said Rep. Richardson. “By attending Adult Page Day, citizens are not only able to get a behind-the-scenes perspective of their government at work, but also able to tour the historic locations like the House Chamber and the Secretary of State’s office. I encourage everyone in my district to apply this year, and I look forward to seeing you at the Statehouse.”

Along with visiting the capitol building, pages will have the opportunity to tour the Statehouse. They will also be able to witness floor sessions and committee meetings, meet other public officials and join Rep. Richardson for lunch.

Pages are responsible for their own transportation to and from the Statehouse and their parking.

Those interested are encouraged to contact Rep. Richardson at h29@iga.in.gov or 317-234-9380 as soon as possible. The program, open to all eligible adults, is available for 20 adults and will be filled on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Hamilton County Sheriff’s Office partners with GovPayNet

The Hamilton County Sheriff’s Office has partnered with GovPayNet® to facilitate doing financial business such as paying a tax warrant, purchasing a firearms permit, or posting a cash bond. GovPayNet accepts major credit cards, debit cards, and prepaid card brands as payment for gun permits and outstanding tax payments on-site at the Sheriff’s Office. Similarly, cash bonds for release from the Hamilton County Jail may be made on-site, on-line at www.GovPayNow.com, or by phone at 1-877-EZBAIL5. Cardholders can make payments on their own behalf or on the behalf of a friend or family member as long as the payee has some basic information about the arrestee and the bond amount or tax warrant payment amount. For added convenience, GovPayNet’s phone service has dedicated bilingual operators available around the clock to assist with bond payments.

Cardholders utilizing the service to pay tax warrant payments, firearms permits, or cash bonds are charged a service fee by GovPayNet at the time of their transaction. There are no charges to the Hamilton County Jail or to the taxpayers of Hamilton County for participation in GovPayNet services. Improving the convenience of paying tax warrants assists the Sheriff’s Office in the collection of outstanding tax debts owed to the State of Indiana by county residents and businesses. Facilitating cash bond payments may help in reducing inmate population at the Hamilton County Jail and will assist those granted a cash bond from spending extra time incarcerated while trying to raise or access sufficient cash, especially over a weekend, overnight, or holiday.

GovPayNet for gun permits, tax warrants and cash bonds accepts Visa®, MasterCard®, American Express®, and Discover® cards. Cash bond services are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week while tax warrant and firearms permit payments may be made during Sheriff’s Office business hours, Monday – Friday, 8:00am – 4:00pm. The service for jail release is for cash bonds only. Inmates bonding through a bondsman must still contact the bail/bond business directly and follow that agency’s procedures to post a bond.

GovPayNet, based in Indianapolis, is a leader in processing bail and bail-related payments by card to courts and incarcerating agencies. More than 500 correction facilities nationally utilize GovPayNet to process bail and other criminal justice payments. For more information on GovPayNet, visit www.GovPayNet.com or call GovPayNet toll-free at (888)561-7888.

Your birthday plus one...

Mark your calendar for Primary Election Day

By MARY SUE ROWLAND

Besides your birthday, what is the next most important day in your life? Every four years there is a single day so important it will affect you daily for the next four years. So Happy Birthday and mark your calendar for May 5th, "Municipal Primary Election Day". That is the day when the voters,

Democrats and Republicans, select the candidates who will appear on the fall ballot in November. In Hamilton County, it has been said, " the Primary is the Election" usually due to unfilled ballots.

Many brave people have stepped up to challenge the incumbents for their seat at the table. Mayors for Carmel, Westfield, and Noblesville, Fishers will be on the ballot May 5th with a string of challengers. The same is true for the respective Common Councils and town boards for Atlanta, Cicero, Sheridan and Arcadia's town convention. If you skip the May 5th Primary Election, you have set aside your opportunity to choose who will lead your community for another four years.

So who cares, your waste water goes somewhere but not in your house. The streets get plowed of snow and the police and fire personnel show up when needed. Everything is going pretty good so far. So skip the Primary election and just live with it. Better yet find a topic that you are interested in concerning the community and check out how things are coming along. It is pretty simple in Hamilton County. You either like what you see or you don't. You like the tax rate or you don't. The candidates will inform you about your special topic and see if you agree. If you do, bingo you found your candidate to support. Almost every candidate has a web site, you can check on line, just "google" their name. If you do not have a computer, read the paper, attend a forum or two, ask someone you respect or call the candidate personally. Pretty simple.

Now the hard part. May 5th is a Tuesday and you are probably very busy on Tuesdays and besides you don't know where to vote because the election sites seem to always be changing just so you can't find the proper location to cast the most important vote for the next four years.

Solution! If you have never tried "Early Voting", give it a try. The Early Voting is open to all of Hamilton County and starts on April 7 and runs to May 4th. Every day Monday through Friday from 8 am to 4:30 pm you can go to the Judicial Center in downtown Noblesville across from the Court House on 8th street between Conner St. (St. Rd. 32) and Logan Street. The Judicial Building is the newer building that sits on White River. Look for the signs that say "Vote Here". OK, so you can't make it during the week. The Judicial Building will be open for early voting on Saturday, April 25th and May 2nd from 9:00 am to 4:00 pm. The last day for early voting is Monday, May 4th from 8:00 am to 4:00 pm the day before election day. On Election Day, Tuesday, May 5th you can vote at your polling place from 6:00 am to 6:00 pm. One more important date to remember, if you need a change address, name change or update your voters registration in order to vote, do so by April 6th. There are other ways to vote. By mail, request must be in by April 27th, the traveling board will come to your house if you cannot get out but request an application and return it by May 4th, call for information 317-776-8476 to

Ivy Tech, Hoosier Lottery partner to provide financial literacy resource

The Hoosier Lottery and Ivy Tech Community College today announced a first-of-its-kind partnership with the goal of providing a free resource to adult Hoosiers seeking to increase their financial literacy.

The Hoosier Lottery and Ivy Tech are together launching a Massive Open Online Course (MOOC), an educational experience using vignettes and interactive test questions to provide guidelines for Hoosiers on basic financial skills. The MOOC's content and benefits are initially being promoted to Hoosier Lottery winners and Ivy Tech students statewide, but the course is free and available to access by all adults throughout the State of Indiana by visiting www.LearnFinancialLiteracy.com.

Participants may learn various aspects of financial literacy and money management through four modules, ranging from budgeting money and managing credit to paying off debt and planning for retirement.

"I am pleased the Hoosier Lottery and Ivy Tech now offer this financial tool to Lottery winners, Ivy Tech students and adults throughout the State," said Hoosier Lottery Executive Director Sarah Taylor. "We support responsible lottery play and encourage winners to seek counsel from a trusted financial professional or attorney before making decisions on how to manage their windfall."

"Our financial investment to assist in the production of the MOOC exemplifies GTECH Indiana's commitment to corporate social responsibility, which is a pillar of the Lottery's annual business plan," said GTECH Indiana COO & General Manager Colin Hadden.

"Partnering with the Hoosier Lottery to provide Ivy Tech students with a free resource on financial literacy is a win for our students," said Ivy Tech Provost and Senior Vice President Dr. Mary Ostrye. "I am confident participants seeking to understand the basics of financial literacy will find the content useful upon completion of the course."

February is a fitting month to make the financial literacy course available to Ivy Tech students, as thousands of students are in the process of applying for financial aid before the March 10 state deadline. More than 54 percent of Ivy Tech students receive financial assistance for their education through the form of federal Pell grants. As the recipients of financial aid, Ivy Tech aims to ensure students have the appropriate resources available to manage money and pay off debt should students obtain loans.

Interested Hoosiers can access the MOOC by visiting the following web address: www.LearnFinancialLiteracy.com. Participants who successfully complete the course receive a printable certificate.

The MOOC was produced by Indianapolis-based Creative Street Media Group, with financial literacy guidance from senior-level KeyBank officials. Financing to produce the MOOC was in part provided by GTECH Corp., the parent company to GTECH Indiana that works on behalf of the Hoosier Lottery in the areas of distribution, sales and marketing.

Carmel Utilities promotes EPA’s “Fix a Leak Week” March 16-22

Because minor water leaks account for more than one trillion gallons of water wasted each year in U.S. homes, Carmel Utilities is promoting “Fix a Leak Week,” March 16 - 22. Fix a Leak Week is sponsored by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency’s (EPA’s) WaterSense® program as an annual reminder to Americans to check household plumbing fixtures and irrigation systems for leaks.

Carmel Utilities has partnered with Home Depot to offer a free leak repair clinic. The clinic will cover how to repair leaks in toilets, shower valves, faucets and hose bibs. You can also learn how to repair leaks in your main domestic lines due to the harsh winter conditions. There will be multiple displays set up with different types of valves and products. This clinic is free and reservations are NOT required. Customers are asked to check in at the service desk the morning of the clinic.

Fix a Leak Repair Clinic
Saturday, March 21st, 11 a.m.
Carmel Home Depot
9855 N. Michigan Rd.
Carmel, 46032

To help consumers here in Carmel and across the country save water, Carmel Utilities is promoting ways to identify and repair dripping faucets, running toilets, and leaky showerheads. In most cases, fixture replacement parts pay for themselves quickly and can be installed by do-it-yourselfers, your favorite handy person, plumber, or WaterSense irrigation partner. Following are a few water-saving tips:

Reduce faucet leaks by checking faucet washers and gaskets for wear and, if necessary, replace the faucet with a WaterSense labeled model.

Leaky toilets are most often the result of a worn toilet flapper. Replacing the rubber flapper is a quick fix that could save a home with a constantly running toilet up to 200 gallons of water per day.

For a leaky garden hose, replace the nylon or rubber hose washer and ensure a tight connection to the spigot using pipe tape and a wrench.

Landscape irrigation systems should be checked each spring before use to make sure they are not damaged by frost or freezing.

For more information on Fix a Leak Week, visit www.epa.gov/watersense/fixaleak.

talk to the Election Office at the Judicial Building or go to www.hamiltoncounty.in.gov. If you call, they are very helpful.

Bottom line, if you choose NOT to vote then you cannot complain. We all like to complain about government at every level but no government is closer to you than local government. So why not choose who you get to complain to for the next four years. Why not choose someone who meets your expectations about the future of your community. Now that is how it is done.

If you made it all the way to the end of the article, remember voting starts April 7 and that is just a few days away. Just do it! It will make you feel so much better for the next 4 years and you can complain all you want. Mark your calendar for April 7 to May 5th where you have an opportunity to vote early or on the election day May 5th.

Show you care about your community and the folks who run the show, or plan to run the show. Vote!

Huskies look for 2nd win over Dwenger....

Blackford regional loaded

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor
January 3 at Richmond Tourney:
Hamilton Heights 43, Fort Wayne Dwenger 42.

Forget that game, suggests Hamilton Heights coach Chad Ballenger. It won't mean a thing when the Huskies tangle with Dwenger Saturday at 10 a.m. in the opening game of the Blackford Regional at Hartford City.

"It's nice to play a team we have already played," Ballenger said. "Both teams are different now so the outcome of that game doesn't really matter. But, it is good to watch tape and see some things."

Forget that game, and, also put aside Dwenger bringing a losing record (12-13) to the regional. The Saints play in the tough Fort Wayne area and 3A Dwenger has faced 13 4A teams this season.

Plus, Dwenger is hot. After losing five straight games in late January, the Saints now have won their last seven games.

In the sectional, Dwenger defeated New Haven 50-44 in the opening game, a New Haven team which defeated Dwenger 50-45 back on Jan. 28. Then, Dwenger knocked off Leo, 64-57, a ranked opponent Dwenger beat 77-68 on Feb.18. In the championship game, Dwenger outlasted Fort Wayne Luers, 70-68 in two overtimes. Luers defeated Dwenger 52-45 on Jan. 9

Actually, all four teams entering the regional are red-hot. Hamilton Heights has won 10 straight. The Huskies also escaped their championship game at the Muncie Sectional by beating Yorktown in double overtime. NorthWood will play Columbia City in the second game of the regional. NorthWood has won nine straight. Columbia City has won six of its last seven.

NorthWood has the best record at 22-2. Heights and Columbia City each is 19-7. Dwenger comes in with its 12-13 mark.

In the final 3A poll of the season, NorthWood was ranked No. 7 in 3A; Hamilton Heights 12th and Columbus City 14th.

"They have been led by 6-1 senior Marcus Stepp," Ballenger talked about Dwenger. "He is shooting the ball real well.

Senior Kyle Hartman (5-11) and senior Ryan Christman (6-1) are two other guards who can shoot and handle the ball. Senior Joseph Verraco (6-3) rounds out their lineup. They are not very big. They love to spread you out and kick out for 3's. They all can shoot the 3, which makes them very dangerous.

"They have changed their style of play on this winning streak," Ballenger continued. "They are averaging around 65 points and playing up-tempo. Before their winning streak they were playing more ball control and slow.

"They have a 6-7 center in David O'Daniel. We must keep him off the boards.

"Dwenger has two quality wins over Leo in the last few weeks that prove how well they are playing. Leo finished 21-3."

Hamilton Heights, down the home stretch, has gotten deeper and better with the previously injured Garrett Paull and Sterling Weatherford back on the court.

Plus, with the chips on the table, Purdue-bound Grant Weatherford has picked up the scoring pace.

Heights has four Huskies averaging in double figures, led by Hunter Crist at 15.7.

"We are playing our best basketball and getting a lot of contributions from everyone," Ballenger said.

"I'm real proud of the guys and real proud of their attitudes. We went through a lot of adversity with injuries and illness and have changed our line up quite a bit. Nobody has complained. They have accepted their roles and that is why we have continued to win and be successful.

"We just need to stay focused and continue to get better," said Ballenger.

"We've got some unfinished business we want to take care of. We are looking to make some more history and be the first Hamilton Heights team to win a regional game and regional championship," the coach added.

Waiting in the championship game will be Columbus City or Northwood.

Columbia City has faced 10 4A teams. Northwood's two losses have come against South Bend St. Joseph, 65-64 in the second game of the season, and to Warsaw, 47-39.

NHS Dance Team reaches state finals

Photo submitted

The Noblesville High School Dance Team is back and better than ever with a new name and a new agenda. Now an NHS athletic team known as the NHS Miller Girls, the team has returned to the Indiana State Dance Team Association (IHSDTA) competition circuit. After a four year hiatus and pre-season performances at Pacers and Fever games, the Miller Girls have been competing in the Hip-Hop Division and for the first time ever they are competing in the Pom Division.

The team has had a winning season coming home from their first competition in December in Lebanon with 3rd place finishes in both Divisions. The team was especially proud to represent NHS and earn the Sportsmanship Trophy at this first competition of the season.

At the January 17 Northrop High School competition in Fort Wayne the team won a 3rd Place Trophy in Hip-Hop and 2nd place in Pom. Juniors Bryana Bell and Lauren Cotton won 3rd place for their Senior Duet at Northrop.

February 28 was the Regional competition and the Miller Girls won the 1st place title in Pom and 5th in Hip Hop, earning entrance into the State finals which are this Saturday, March 14th in New Castle.

Team Seniors: Kiersten Larson, Aaliyah Hunt and Allison Ouilette

March 21st...*

The Greatest Spectacle in Sheridan racing

On Saturday, March 21st, the Sheridan Cub Scout Pack 118 will show off their 2015 Pinewood Derby race cars.

The derby will start at 2 p.m. at the Sheridan Elementary School Cafeteria. This year's competition is sure to be top notch with an estimated 23 scouts racing at top speeds. There will also be an Open Division for any non-scouts interested in racing.

The Pack is especially proud to debut a new 42' aluminum track for this year's race event. Scouts and their families worked hard to raise the funds to be able to make this goal a reality.

A special thanks to the Bryce Pickett family, Railer family, JBS United, MAIN Architects, His and Hers Target Sports, KEEVER Hardware, and Cric Farms for their support.

For more information, email sheridanscouting@gmail.com. Please come out and cheer on your favorite driver.

Pacers win seventh straight, get closer to Bucks

On the first play of overtime against the Milwaukee Bucks, things were looking bleak for the Pacers. A flagrant foul whistled against Ian Mahinmi was his sixth and final of the night, leaving the Pacers without their center as they searched for a seventh consecutive win. But after Zaza Pachulia drained both of his free throws to put the Bucks (34-31) up by one, the Pacers rattled off a 9-0 run, securing the 109-103 home victory and pushing Indiana even closer to Milwaukee in the Eastern Conference playoff standings.

"We took it as a playoff game, that's the way we wanted to come in," said C.J. Miles, who had 14 points. "It was a big win for us, a team we're chasing in the standings. It was physical, they played hard, we played hard. We were just able to make some plays down the stretch."
In regulation, the Pacers (30-34) led by three with just over a minute remaining, when Ersan Ilyasova (19 points) drained a baseline jumper to winnow Indiana's lead to just one point. After a Rodney Stuckey miss on the other end, a foul committed by David West sent Ilyasova to the line for two shots, where hit the first and missed the second to tie the game at 96.
With the crowd at Bankers Life Fieldhouse on its feet and under 30 seconds on the clock, George Hill (17 points) missed a jumper that would have broken the tie. On the other end, with the crowd maintaining its deafening roar, a Khris Middleton (18 points) isolation jumper hit iron as the clock raced towards zeros and sent the game into overtime.

The Pacers might not have even been in position to win the game had it not been for the night of Luis Scola and his monster double-double, his seventh this season. Scola finished the night with 15 rebounds (his career high as a Pacer) and 17 points, including a crucial baseline jumper in the overtime period which put the Pacers ahead by three.
"That's Scola being Scola," said Miles of his teammate. "Playing hard on both ends, he's non-stop energy. He's one of the best big mid-range jump shooters in the game and he's just making effort plays on top of that. It's hard to match his energy."
Also providing a punch off of the bench, to no one's surprise, was Rodney Stuckey, who poured in a team-high 25 points for the Pacers, continuing his run of offensive excellence. Stuckey had the final basket of the Pacers' 9-0 overtime blitz of Milwaukee, on a jumper that caromed high off the rim before falling through the cylinder; seeming to typify that luck was in Indiana's favor in the final five minutes of play.
But for much of the game, it seemed nothing was going the way of the Blue & Gold. After trailing for nearly the entire first half, the Pacers were able to grab the lead momentarily when George Hill drained a 3-pointer late in the second quarter, but another rally by the Bucks allowed Milwaukee to take a 53-51 lead into the half.
"We were reckless with our fouling early," Pacers coach Frank Vogel explained. "We've got to be more disciplined. We don't want to give up 36 free throws."
But Indiana came scorching out of the locker room, pushing themselves into the lead with a 31-21 tilt in the third frame, which set up a tightly contested fourth frame. A fitting finish for a game that featured six lead changes throughout, and two chances to win it outright in the final seconds of regulation.
The win gives the Pacers their season-high seventh straight win, and makes them an NBA-best 9-1 since the All-Star Break.
Indiana won despite turning the ball over 20 times (tying its season high), after going 18-straight games with 15 or fewer turnovers. The Pacers bench outscored Milwaukee's 52-10. Luis Scola's 15 rebounds were the most he's had with the Pacers.
