High profile cases have one thing in common

By JEFF JELLISON

Maxwell Hunt Winkler, the Fishers teen accused of fatally slashing the throat of 73 year old Henry Kim; Joseph Michael Lowe, arrested by Hamilton County Sheriff Deputies for his part in the brutal robbery and beating of 94 year old Arcadia resident Hershel “Bud” Moore; Michael Douce, the Noblesville High School teacher charged with 11 felonies related to inappropriate sexual relations with two female students; all have one thing in common, their defense attorney, James Voyles.

Indianapolis based Jim Voyles is noted for his work in high profile criminal cases. Voyles is often recognized as the attorney that represents Indianapolis’ rich and famous. His list of past clients includes Mike Tyson, Al Unser Jr., former Indiana Pacer Stephen Jackson, Indianapolis Colts owner Jim Irsay, former Colt players Dominic Rhodes and Art Schlichter.

Joseph Michael Lowe was arrested in October for what police say was his part in robbing and brutally beating 94 year old Arcadia resident Hershel “Bud” Moore.

Lowe, shortly after his arrest, requested pauper council. Hamilton County Judge Daniel Phleging found Lowe indigent and assigned local attorney Andrew Barker as pauper council. Just five months later, 1 day prior to the court issuing an order to terminate Barker as pauper council, Voyles entered his appearance on behalf of Lowe.

Lowe has been released from the Hamilton County jail after posting an $80,000 bond and is awaiting a jury trial scheduled for May 19th.

Maxwell Hunt Winkler, the Fishers teen accused of shooting and fatally slashing the throat of Henry Kim is being held without bond in the Hamilton County Jail. The Hamilton County Prosecutor’s Office has asked for a sentencing enhancement of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole. A jury trial has been tentatively scheduled for July 7th; however, attorney Volyes and Hamilton County prosecutors are awaiting a court ordered psychiatric evaluation to determine Winkler’s competency.

Michael Douce, the Noblesville school teacher and choir director accused of committing 11 felonies related to inappropriate sexual relations with two female students, hired Voyles immediately following his arrest. Douce is scheduled for a jury trial on May 11th.

Local legal insiders state attorney fees in these type of high profile cases can easily run into the tens of thousands of dollars.

Voyles was quoted in Indianapolis Monthly Magazine as stating “Another defense lawyer once told me, It’s the worst of our society who need people like me the most. It’s easy to defend the people that everybody likes, but it’s a little harder to defend the people that everybody hates.”

Good Samaritan Network celebrating 20th anniversary

By FRED SWIFT

It seems hard to believe that in prosperous Hamilton County there are nearly 27,000 of our people that at one time or another during the year don't have enough to eat. Seeing to it that they get food and sometimes clothing and other assistance is the Good Samaritan Network.

This huge, non-profit enterprise is headed by Nancy Chance, the original good samaritan, who founded the organization 20 years ago this month. Today the group co-ordinates food distribution to 46 food pantries in the county along with providing a variety of other assistance to the needy.

Nancy started her work long before Good Samaritan was founded in 1995. I can remember Nancy, her father and a few other volunteers bringing food items to the old Red Cross chapter house 35 years ago or more. It was one of the first food pantries locally.

Now her charity is headquartered in a facility of its own at 12933 Parkside Drive in Fishers where a corps of volunteers works with more than 200 agencies to gather food from grocery stores, Gleaners Food Bank, Midwest Supply and ordinary citizens who walk in with donations.

Township trustees, public safety agencies, Prime Life Services and others refer names of the needy who are directed to the food pantry most accessible and able to supply the need. There are even locations that can supply hot meals for the homeless, clothing items, consultations and sometimes even financial help.

Donations and volunteers are always welcome because the official end of the national recession has not slowed the number of folks seeking help. Nancy tells me there are many county residents who are under-employed at jobs that don't provide enough income for all their living expenses. In addition, the growing population includes a disproportionate number of single women with children.

Marking Good Samaritan's 20th anniversary is a Resource and Health Fair being held today, March 26, at the County Fairgrounds. Health screenings and other services and information will be provided free of charge from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. The public can also learn more about donating and volunteering to a worthy cause.

March 23-27 is Work Zone Awareness Week

March 23-27 is National Work Zone Awareness Week with motorists urged to “Expect the Unexpected.” The key message is for drivers to use extra caution in work zones. As warm weather arrives, more highway construction workers will be out and construction season will be picking up, putting workers and motorists in close proximity.

Nationally, around 600 people die in highway construction zone incidents each year. In 2013, 11 people were killed in INDOT construction zones with another 300 injured. Generally, crashes occur when motorists speed through construction zones, do not pay attention to changing road conditions, run into slowed or stopped vehicles or construction equipment, or run off the road. Nearly four out of five victims are motorists or vehicle passengers, not construction workers.

To limit construction zone deaths and injuries:

- ~slow down to the posted speed limit
- ~move over and away from workers and equipment
- ~be aware of your surroundings
- ~limit distractions, especially cell phones
- ~keep your eyes up to look for slowed or stopped traffic
- ~be courteous and allow traffic to merge when needed

Indiana law calls for increased fines for speeding in construction zones. Please abide by the laws and keep everyone safe as you “Expect the Unexpected.”

Roundabout coming to 111th, Pennsylvania intersection

The City of Carmel will begin working on construction of a roundabout at the intersection of 111th Street and Pennsylvania Street, beginning Monday, March 30. The $1.5 million dollar project calls for constructing a new roundabout intersection with curb and gutters, storm sewers and sidewalks. Rieth Riley is the primary contractor that will manage the construction.

The intersection of 111th Street and Pennsylvania Street will be closed beginning Monday, March 30, for approximately 60 days. The detour routes will be as follows:

111th Street: Westbound 111th Street traffic will be routed north on College Avenue, west on 116th Street, south on Illinois Street and resume on 111th Street. Eastbound 111th Street traffic will be routed north on Illinois Street, east on 116th Street, south on College Avenue and resume on 111th Street.

Pennsylvania Street: Southbound Pennsylvania Street traffic will be routed east on 116th Street, south on College Avenue and west on 106th Street to Pennsylvania Street. Northbound Pennsylvania Street traffic will be routed east on 106th Street, north on College Avenue and west on 116th Street to Pennsylvania Street.

The roundabout construction is a City of Carmel project funded mostly by federal highway safety improvement funds. It is being constructed in conjunction with the 111th Street overpass over US 31. The intersection qualified for Highway Safety improvement funds due to the high numbers of accidents, including one fatality. Ninety percent of the project will be funded through federal highway way safety improvement funds, while the remaining ten percent will be fulfilled by the City. The city's portion of the construction cost will be roughly $150,000, funded through funds from the Engineering Department.

Southeastern places 2nd

Coach Julie Alano’s Hamilton Southeastern track and field team, ranked No. 7 in the pre-season poll, ran into some tough competition in its season opener at North Central and came away second in the three-school field.

Warren Central was the winner with 76.5 points, followed by Southeastern 65 and North Central 25.5.

Distance standout senior Rachel Nichwitz led the way by winning the 1600 and 800 runs. Fellow senior Courtney Pfanstiel helped the distance sweep by winning the 3200 run and the 4x800 relay team of Abbie Lohman, Abby Jones, Elle Eichorst and Grace Andritsch was also victorious.

Emily Obear led a sweep of the pole vault and Mia Mackenzie won the long jump.

“We did not contest the discus due to delays with our construction at the school. The landing field is a muddy mess,” said Alano. “So, we forfeited those points to the other teams.”

Next up for the Lady Royals is No. 2 Carmel on Tuesday, at Carmel.

Royals romp to easy win

Highlighted by a 1-2-3 sweep in the pole vault and a record try by junior Ethan Bray in the event, Coach Chris Swisher’s Hamilton Southeastern boys track and field team zipped past North Central, 79-53, in the Royals’ season opener Tuesday evening.

Bray cleared 14-10 in the pole vault and took a stab at the school record of 15-3.

The Royals won eight events and had two athletes in the top three in all but two events.

Southeastern also won the 4x800 relay with Josh LeCount, Kyle Sams, Gabe Fendel and Wright and the 4x400 relay with Hunter Johnson, Conner O’Grady, Chad Williams and Zach Zuber.

Royals open with 16-0 win

Hamilton Southeastern has started the 2015 softball season in the same manner in which the Lady Royals played last season while finishing second in the state.

On the road Tuesday evening, Coach David Cook’s club unloaded on sectional area foe North Central, 16-0, in a game called after five innings.

The Royals jumped out to a 6-0 lead after three and then put away the host Panthers by scoring eight runs in the fourth.

Two Southeastern pitchers allowed just two hits. Savanna Copeland pitched three innings with eight strikeouts and Maggie Armstrong pitched two frames with three fans while combing for the shutout. Each pitcher allowed just one hit. Armstrong threw 31 pitches, 21 of which were strikes.

At the plate, the Royals pounded out 12 hit, including a home run by Ashley Rohr; two doubles by Ashley Scurlock and one two-bagger each by Rohr, Maggie Armstrong and Gianna Graham.

Rohr, who last season pounded six homers, drove home 35 runs and batted .389, got off to an excellent start with three hits and four RBIs. Scurlock also had three hits.

The Lady Royals are scheduled to return to action on March 30 against Carmel at the Greyhounds’ Cherry Tree Complex. HSE beat Carmel 10-8 for the sectional championship last year.

Blackhawks will play at Grand Park...

Sheridan has veteran team

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

It’s a veteran team which could cause some problems in the Hoosier Heartland Conference this spring.

That’s the squad Joseph Grant is putting on the softball diamond at Sheridan this season.

And, a different softball diamond.

“We will be playing all of our home games at Grand Park (in Westfield),” said the coach.

“We have six seniors this year, along with three juniors, two sophomores and seven freshmen,” Grant reported. “We did not lose anyone from last season, so we have a lot of experience coming back.”

Shannon Padgett and Paige Forrester will be doing most of the pitching this season.

“But,” said the coach, “we hope to get a few other pitchers some experience.”

Payton Buckner is a returning starter who will lead in the infield.

“Some freshmen that we look to step up and play for us this year are Nixon Williams, Audrey Reed and Cassie Vargas,” Grant continued.

In the outfield will be a mix of seniors, such as Abby Gwin and Alyssa Railer, along with some young players.

“We will have a full schedule this year,” said Grant. “We will be working with all 18 players to try and get people in the correct spots.

“We are looking forward to the challenge this season,” he added.

Two-run fifth gets Huskies the victory

The Hamilton Heights softball team pulled out a 4-3 season-opening win at Zionsville on Wednesday.

It was back and forth game, with the Eagles leading 3-2 after four winnings. The Huskies scored two runs in the top of the fifth and held on to the lead from there.

"We started out a little slow but pulled it together after a couple of innings," said Heights coach Landi Lockwood. "We have some things to work on but tonight's win was a total team effort. I'm very proud of all the girls and what they accomplished as a team."

Morgan Burtron hit a home run during a 2-for-4 night, while Rachel Cross was 3-for-4 at the plate with two runs and two stolen bases. Ashley Roberts also hit 3-for-4, including an RBI. Jessica Thuer was 2-for-2 with an RBI double in the designated player spot.

"Taylor Ewing had a nice first outing on offense and defense," said Lockwood.

Mandy Hasty threw a complete game for Heights, tossing four strikeouts and issuing no walks.

After injury-plagued two years...

GC’s Mazanowski gets to play at state - again

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor
When he was a freshman, Alex Mazanowski played for the state champion Guerin Catholic boys basketball team.

Mazanowski is now a senior, and he will get to play another state championship game. The Golden Eagles are spending the week getting ready for Griffith in the Class 3A title game, which will tip off at 6:07 p.m. Saturday at Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

Mazanowski took a unique path back to state, and it wasn't always easy. He missed significant parts of his sophomore and junior years due to injuries. Needless to say, Mazanowski has a good amount of perspective on getting to play in the biggest game of all, saying it "makes the past two years of physical therapy and going through injuries worth it."

Guerin Catholic coach Pete Smith, who has mentored the Golden Eagles team since the beginning nine years ago, agrees.

"He's a quality young man," said Smith. "He always has a smile on his face, even when he battled all the injuries the past two seasons. He's given an great example to future Golden Eagles to not succumb to injury if you want to get back and playing. It was a grind for him, I know."

Mazanowski played during the final minute of the 2012 state title game, grabbing a rebound in his roughly 20 seconds of play. But he was a freshman then, and had no problem deferring to senior starters such as Bryan Hall, Adam Hufford and Riley Rapp.

"It was just pretty cool getting to know all the guys," said Mazanowski.

Now all the guys on this year's team are turning to Mazanowski, as he is the only one who played in Guerin's first state championship game. But even though this will be an almost completely new group at state, Mazanowski pointed out Guerin Catholic senior Alex Mazanowski played with the Golden Eagles as a freshman during their first state championship season. After battling injuries for the past two years, Mazanowski will be back at Bankers Life Fieldhouse Saturday as GC returns to state.

this team knows about big games, since most of the team was part of last year's regional championship squad.

"I think they're all excited to see what the experience is like," said Mazanowski.

In his senior year, Mazanowski has played 28 of the Golden Eagles' 29 games. He has been solid statistically, averaging 5.3 points and 3.5 rebounds per game. Smith noted that Mazanowski is also capable of scoring well above his average.

"I'm so thrilled Maz has not only been able to make it back on the court, but he has had such an important role by being a captain," said Smith. "His 16 points at Brebeuf was huge in that game. He had a huge blocked shot to help preserve the Tri-West win in the regional. And how about last Saturday (at semi-state) when Maz gave our team big momentum by reading his defender and cutting back door for a lay-up at the buzzer before halftime in the win over Vincennes. He's impacted a lot of games this season."

Guerin Catholic's 2012 state team had five seniors on the roster, and so does the 2015 team. Mazanowski said having so much experience "brings a lot of leadership to the team," and he means it.

"All five of us aren't afraid to speak up," he said. "We're all really close together, and pretty good friends. All the sophomores and juniors, we're pretty good friends with them, too."

That would be no surprise to Smith.

"He exhibits great school spirit around the student body, supporting his fellow students in a lot of endeavors," said the coach. "And like all our guys, he serves with love. His older brother David was a three-year standout for us when we started the program, and the Mazanowskis are just a great Guerin Catholic family."

Hill’s layup ends Pacers’ losing streak

By GREG RAPPAPORT
Courtesy nba.com/pacers
It was a game the Pacers needed badly. They needed to win to keep up in the Eastern Conference Playoff race. Needed to win to snap their six-game skid. They just needed a break to go their way.
And with the ball in the hands of George Hill, who scored a team-high 29 points, they got the win they were seeking, thanks to a layup from Hill in the game’s closing seconds to beat the Wizards (40-32) in their own building, 103-101.

“All these guys did a great job lifting me up,” said Hill, who hit six of the Pacers last seven field goals. “Just a great team win.”
The Pacers (31-40) had been leading by three with under 30 seconds left when John Wall, coming off a screen from his teammate Marcin Gortat, rose up from the top of the key and buried a game-tying 3-pointer that knotted things up 101; setting up the eventual game-winner from Hill.

Indiana had been trailing for much of the game, and was down 10 with just over six minutes left in the game. But against the Wizards at the Verizon Center, the Pacers willed their way back into the game, holding the Wizards to just one field goal in the game’s last five minutes, which led to one of the most crucial road wins of the Pacers’ season.
The win not only improved the Pacers’ positioning in the Eastern Conference Playoff standings, but also spoiled the electric offensive night of Wizards point guard John Wall, who poured in a game-high 34 points.

On Tuesday, when Pacers coach Frank Vogel addressed the media after practice, he was asked about what makes John Wall such a difficult player to guard.
“He challenges your whole team, not just the point guard matchup,” said Vogel of the two-time All-Star, “He challenges your whole team with his motor on the break.”
That motor was on full display Wednesday night as the Wizards outscored the Pacers 36-9 on the fast break, due much in part to the speed and playmaking of Wall, who made five of the Wizards’ first six field goals in the fourth quarter.

Indiana got off to a slow start in the game, scoring just 14 first-quarter points, which tied its season low. But things started to click in the second quarter, as the Pacers doubled their offensive output with a 28-point quarter and trailed by just two at halftime.
After briefly leading at the beginning of the third, Washington—who was without the services of Bradley Beal (ankle)—reestablished its lead, keeping a double-digit buffer for much of the second half.
But the Pacers’ 33-point fourth quarter, which was just three points shy of their season-best, was enough to sink the efforts of Wall and the Wizards, and put Indiana back on the right track.
