Welcome to the Hall of Fame....

Courtney

By DON JELLISON
 Reporter Editor

More than any other player who played the game, Courtney Cox Cole has been the face of Noblesville, and Hamilton County, basketball the last 25 years.

She still is today.

Arguably, because there has been lots of great women basketball players in Hamilton County, no one ever played the game of basketball better than the lady we all simply call “Courtney.”

Saturday, Courtney was inducted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame, a class of 11 remarkable stars.

First, there was a reception held Saturday afternoon at the Hall of Fame in New Castle. Then, Saturday evening at Primo in Indianapolis, the 14th Women’s Induction class was honored.

Courtney holds what I believe is the greatest record in Hamilton County girls sports. She scored 1,869 points in her basketball career. No Hamilton County basketball player has ever scored more.

What’s so impressive about that record is that it has stood the test of time. Twenty-five years ago Courtney’s scoring feats went into the record book. Few have even challenged that career mark.

And, of course, Courtney scored 1,869 points without benefit of the 3-point shot.

As I watched Courtney being honored at New Castle Saturday afternoon, several memories rolled through my mind. How great she was, of course. But, maybe even more, how hard she worked on the hardwood. She was a leader. She was a role model to hundreds of Noblesville kids who wanted to play the game the way Courtney was playing it.

Saturday was a grand day for the Cox family, as Courtney Cox Cole was inducted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame. Courtney and her family attended a reception at the Hall in New Castle Saturday morning, and was formally inducted during a ceremony at Primo Banquet Hall in Indianapolis that evening.

The value of listening well

By JANET HART LEONARD

Listen...just listen.

Recently I spoke with a young man who wanted my thoughts and advice.

As I spoke, I was interrupted time and time again. Even when I was talking I could see him processing, not what I was saying but what he was going to say next.

When I was able to finish a sentence I got a rebuttal or an excuse.

Never once did I hear a word about him taking ownership of his negative actions. I kept hearing "but this is what I want to do". I was trying to explain what he needed to do. A cart will never come before a horse.

I knew he was frustrated with how his life was going. He told me how he had struggled for many years with people who did not understand him...or so it seemed. He had been treated unfairly by others...or so it seemed.

He had fought some challenges and now he was ready to take on the world. The world just needed to give him a chance. The world needed to listen to him and understand that he knew what he needed to do and get out of his way and let him do things his way.

Oh where is Dr. Phil when you need him. "And how's that working for you?"

If the same thing keeps happening to you over and over is it always someone else's fault? If you ask for advice should you not take the time to listen and then process what is being said?

I learned something a long time ago. Listen...just listen. I think that I talk less and listen more as I get older.

Courtney's mother, Jackie Cox, reminded me of a letter Courtney wrote to me during the early days of girls basketball. I was the sports editor at the Noblesville Ledger. She urged me to start covering girls basketball.

"I think I was in the sixth grade at that time," Courtney said to me Saturday.

I do remember that during the early years of girls basketball, we didn't cover the sport all that much. It was the new sport in town. Boys basketball, the established game, was the game in town.

But, in a few years Courtney started to play the game at the high school level and we all became fans.

At Noblesville High, Courtney led the Lady Millers to three straight IHSAA State Finals appearances, highlighted by a state championship in 1987 and a state runner-up in 1988.

Courtney scored 17 points and grabbed 11 rebounds in the 1987 state finals victory and she netted 29 points in the 1988 finale.

She won the Dial Award for the American high school athlete/scholar of the year in 1988 and in 1989, her senior season at Noblesville, Courtney was named to USA

Today's All-USA high school girls basketball team and to Parade Magazine's All-American team.

What we might all forget when we honor Noblesville High's first woman Hall of Famer is that Courtney also was a great golfer.

She competed both in basketball and golf at Indiana University.

After two varsity seasons with the Hoosiers in basketball, starting in 22 games and scoring 301 points, Courtney turned her full focus to golf.

She averaged 78.94 strokes while at Indiana. She earned All-Big Ten honors three different years and qualified for the NCAA Championship in 1993.

In the classroom at IU, Courtney won one Academic All-Big Ten honor in basketball and three in golf.

Noblesville fans will enjoy and will be proud when visiting the Hall of Fame in New Castle, Courtney Cox Cole's feats will be on display.

It's nice that her induction comes in the same year that the Lady Millers will play in the Hall of Fame Classic next December in New Castle.

Whether it is in business, relationships or just life in general, if you want to succeed, look at those who are successful. Ask them questions and then listen. Process what they are saying.

You can read all the books written by the smartest and most successful people in the world but if you find yourself thinking "well that won't work for me" then you are right. It won't.

If someone tells you why their marriage has lasted fifty years but you say well that won't work with my spouse. You are right. It won't.

Sometimes being "right" can cost you. Money. Time. Contentment. Happiness. Relationships.

The old saying is that you can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink. Oh my goodness, that is so true.

Success is doing a lot of the same boring stuff over and over. It is not taking short cuts. It is paying close attention to detail. It is listening when you don't always want to hear what is being said.

Funny thing about people who are successful in sales is not what they say to a customer but how they listen to them. Funny thing about people who are successful in relationships is that it's not so much what they say to the other person but how they listen to them. Both are about finding the needs of the other person.

So for me it seems that the most successful people are the ones who listen well. I'd say that to the young man who spoke with me recently. I would tell him that but well...you know.

Beware of spiritual complacency

By LEANN WILSON

For thousands of years God has been warning of a day to come, a day of reckoning. In Isaiah 32:9-10 which was written around the 700s BC, He warns the Hebrew children of Judah, prior to the Babylon captivity - "Rise up, you women who are at ease, Hear my voice; you complacent daughters, Give ear to my speech. In a year and some days you will be troubled, you complacent women". The Hebrew children were offering their sacrifices and praying, simply going through the motions, not minding in their hearts the things of the true living God, all the while looking to the ways of Egypt for the answers to their problems. Then in the mid 600s BC, in Zeph 1:12, He tells His children in Judah once again, of the coming destruction saying "And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with lamps, and punish the men who are settled in complacency, who say in their heart, 'The LORD will not do good, Nor will He do evil.'"

Complacency – a quiet or smug satisfaction with a given situation or condition, often while unaware of some potential danger lurking ahead. An "I'm comfortable with this, it's good enough attitude" that lacks any real passion or desire. If in your walk you are simply going along to get along, with nothing more than a friendly civility toward our Lord and savior, and the Father; bromidic in your walk, trudging along, running on tradition instead of Holy Spirit inspired passion, with an "I know what I need to know, can do what I need to do, and I can do it by myself" attitude – you are in a dangerous spot! The wisest of men wrote "the complacency of fools will destroy them" Prov 1:32 (NKJV). In the words of Christ, "I know your works, that you are neither cold nor hot. I could wish you were cold or hot. So then, because you are lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will vomit you out of My mouth. Because you say, 'I am rich, have become wealthy, and have need of nothing'--and do not know that you are wretched, miserable, poor, blind, and naked-- I counsel you to buy from Me gold refined in the fire, that you may be rich; and white garments, that you may be clothed, that the shame of your nakedness may not be revealed; and anoint your eyes with eye salve, that you may see" Rev 3:15-18 (NKJV). Just as tepid water is of little use, not cold enough to refresh and not hot enough to warm the belly, so goes the way of tepid faith.

A.W. Tozer wrote in his book The Pursuit of God "Complacency is a deadly foe of all spiritual growth." Content to be complacent you are asleep with no insight to the condition of your soul and "The soul of a lazy man desires, and has nothing; But the soul of the diligent shall be made rich" Prov 13:4 (NKJV). Complacency is not merely a dry time. If you're dry you still have your peace and joy in the Lord and you know where to go to be refreshed by the "Living Water" (read John 4: 7-26). Complacency says I know your there God but I'm busy; Your Word doesn't hold my interest nor does it fit my lifestyle. Devoid of any devout feelings, complacency runs to comfort and not to God. Complacency doing its duty for an hour and half (if that) on a Sunday morning, will gather with the brethren as long as it's not too hot, not too long, not too loud and not too Christian. Complacency is anxious for services to finish so he can get to the mall, home to the crockpot, and back the game. Complacency wants a worship service in concert form, forgetting that the performance (if you so choose to call it that) is for Him, and not for the congregation. Complacency desires a message that tickles the ears, so he doesn't feel too uncomfortable with his sin. Complacency may just be pandering to demons instead of edifying saints. And when despair comes for the complacent "Then they will cry to the LORD, But He will not hear them" Micah 3:4 (NKJV). "For the ways of man are before the eyes of the LORD, and He ponders all his paths. His own iniquities entrap the wicked man, and he is caught in the cords of his sin. He shall die for lack of instruction, and in the greatness of his folly he shall go astray” Prov 5:21-23 (NKJV). But God tells us, just as God told the Hebrew children when they went astray forgetting the commandments of God, “For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, says the LORD, thoughts of peace and not of evil, to give you a future and a hope. Then you will call upon Me and go and pray to Me, and I will listen to you. And you will seek Me and find Me, when you search for Me with all your heart. I will be found by you, says the LORD, and I will bring you back from your captivity” Jer 29:11-14 (NKJV). You can rest assured that complacency will hold you hostage just as Nebuchadnezzar held the Israelites captive in Babylon.

“Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and He will lift you up” James 4:10 (NKJV). Complacency and revival spring forth from the same source, from within the depths of the soul. When the complacent one in humility turns back to the Lord He will hear and He will rekindle the fire within. He will quicken the Spirit inside you and nourish the starving soul! “Draw near to God and He will draw near to you” James 4:8 (NKJV). In Psalm 119 the psalmist writes “I will meditate on Your precepts, and contemplate Your ways. I will delight myself in Your statutes; I will not forget

Your word (vv15-16), “Open my eyes, that I may see wondrous things from Your law” (vv18), “Teach me, O LORD, the way of Your statutes, And I shall keep it to the end. Give me understanding, and I shall keep Your law” (33-34), “Revive me in Your righteousness. Let Your mercies come also to me, O LORD” (vv 40-41)! Sincere prayer, worship and the study of His Word will bring us close to God. “Love Him because He first loved us”1 John 4:19 (NKJV) and be diligent in your pursuit of Him as “The LORD your God in your midst, The Mighty One, will save; He will rejoice over you with gladness, He will quiet you with His love, He will rejoice over you with singing” Zeph 3:17 (NKJV). “God is love, and he who abides in love abides in God, and God in him” 1 John 4:16 (NKJV)! Search for the deeper things of God, commit to love, and remember “The Lord is not slack concerning His promise, as some count slackness, but is longsuffering toward us, not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance. But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night” 2 Peter 3:9-10 (NKJV). “Let us therefore be diligent to enter that rest, lest anyone fall according to the same example of disobedience. For the word of God is living and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the division of soul and spirit, and of joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. And there is no creature hidden from His sight, but all things are naked and open to the eyes of Him to whom we must give account.” Heb 4:11-13 (NKJV)

“As the deer pants for the water brooks, So pants my soul for You, O God. My soul thirsts for God, for the living God. When shall I come and appear before God” Psalms 42:1-2 (NKJV)

“You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.” This is the first and great commandment” Matt 22:37-38 (NKJV)

Noblesville named a Tree City USA 2014

The City of Noblesville was named a 2014 Tree City USA by the Arbor Day Foundation in honor of its commitment to effective urban forest management. This is the 25th consecutive year Noblesville has earned this national distinction.

Noblesville also received a Tree City USA Growth Award for demonstrating environmental improvement and higher level of tree care.

“Trees increase property values, reduce energy use and add beauty to our homes and neighborhoods,” said Noblesville Mayor John Ditslear. “The environment and its sustainability are important aspects of the quality of life our citizens expect in Noblesville.”

The city received Tree City USA recognition by meeting the program’s four requirements: a tree board or department; a tree-care ordinance; an annual community forestry budget of at least $2 per capita; and an Arbor Day observance and proclamation.

“Everyone believes when elected officials, volunteers and committed citizens in communities like Noblesville make smart investments in urban forests,” said Matt Harris, Arbor Day Foundation chief executive. “Trees bring shade to our homes and beauty to our neighborhoods, along with numerous economic, social and environmental benefits.”

Cleaner air, improved storm water management, energy savings and increased property values and commercial activity are among the benefits enjoyed by Tree City USA communities.

The Tree City USA program is sponsored by the Arbor Day Foundation, in partnership with the United States Forest Service and the National Association

Noblesville celebrates ArborFest

A little rain didn't stop Sustain Noblesville's ArborFest on Saturday. The third annual event was moved from Forest Park to indoors at the Noblesville Moose Lodge, but it still featured all the entertainment and information that has made it popular.

Pictured at left is a presentation by Tim Womick (aka Appleseedz), who is nationally known for his highly animated "Trail of Trees" show. Amy Shankland, Noblesville's Community Engagement Coordinator, said that Womick's show was "very energetic," and that he got the kids in attendance "really involved" in his show. "I am thrilled we had him," said Shankland.

On a rainy Saturday

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

So, what do you do on a rain-soaked Saturday when trying to fill sports space in your favorite newspaper?

Richie and I are seldom faced with that problem. Not here in Hamilton County. Yesterday was kind of like a Christmas vacation, except at the Hamilton County Reporter we seldom get a Christmas vacation.

With extra time on my hand and with space to fill, I jumped around looking on sports web-sites. I found a great feature on Indianarunner.com., a list of all-time track and field season best. The top 25 performances in each track and field event, boys and girls. The list was compiled by Mike Slaubaugh of RoadRunner.

What I enjoyed best was seeing the trend recorded over the years.

Let's take a look first at girls track. Hamilton County never has been known for producing great sprint people in girls track. Good ones but not great.

You won't find anyone from Hamilton County on the top 25 list of 100 and 200 dash people. Same goes for the 400. No one on the list of hurdlers.

But, get into the distance events and things are different.

Remember Bre'Anna Smith from Westfield? In 2010 she ran a 2:22.84 time in the 800. Currently, that ranks 16th all-time.

In the 1600, Carmel's Katie Harrington's 4:49.38 currently is 4th best all-time. That was back in 2003. Carmel's Marie Grabinski ran a 4:51.89. That was in 2004. That's No.

10 on the list and another former Carmel runner, Diane Bussa, had a 4:54.53 in 1979, which currently stands No. 19.

There are four Carmel runners in the top 25 of 3200 runners, Harrington No 4 at 10:22.91; Grabinski No. 9 at 10:30.18; Kely Welch (2013) No. 21 at 10:42.04, and Renee Wellman (2012) No 24 at 10:44.18.

See what I mean by trends?

Two Carmel high jumpers, Cory Werling (1993) and Barb Zahorsky (1981) are tied with nine others at 5-9 on the list.

Southeastern's Molly Meyer, who threw the discus 159-4, ranks No.6. Another HSE discus thrower, Paige Smith, in 2009 got off a 150-3 toss. That currently ranks No. 21 all-time best.

Noblesville's Rachel Mather in 2014 had a 12-9 performance in the pole vault. That's 10th best.

There are no Hamilton County athletes on the Top 25 list in long jump or shot put.

You see the same kinds of trends in Hamilton County boys track and field.

No sprinters on the lists. Carmel's Cortland Eten, in 2011, ran a 47.62 clocking in the 400, now 18th all-time.

No one on the list in the 110 hurdlers, but two Hamilton Southeastern Royals on he 300 hurdles. Zach Reitzug in 2013 was clocked at 37.02. That's fourth-best. In 2013 Jacob Wright recorded a 37.40. That's 11th all-time.

Carmel's Todd Beyerlein cleared 7-1.50 in the high jump in 1997. He's No. 8.

Nobody in pole vault or long jump.

In 2012 Carmel's Langston Newton threw the shot 63-6.75. Newton ranks No. 15.

Newton ranks fifth in the discus with a 203-8 toss.

Kind of interesting. Especially on a rainy Saturday.

Spacey Invite washed out

Rain washed out play at Noblesville's Bob Spacey Invitational Saturday at Fox Prairie. While some teams had managed to get about a third of the way finished with their rounds, others never even got the chance to tee off. At 2 p.m., the meet was officially canceled. There is the possibility that it could take place later in the year, but nothing is definitive at this time. Local teams that were to compete at the meet, in addition to the host Millers, were Westfield, Hamilton Southeastern, Carmel, Fishers, Guerin Catholic and Hamilton Heights. Some of those teams will get to see each other next Saturday at the Lebanon Invitational, which takes place May 2 at Ulen Country Club. Carmel, HSE, Guerin, Westfield and Noblesville are all scheduled to compete. The Millers play a dual meet with Kokomo on Monday, while the Tigers and Shamrocks face off Tuesday in a dual meet at Gray Eagle. The Royals will host Lawrence North and Mount Vernon Thursday at Ironwood. Heights travels to Chippendale on Wednesday for a dual with Taylor. Sheridan plays a duel with Frankton on Tuesday.

Noblesville’s Daly to race for Schmidt Peterson at 500

Noblesville's Conor Daly has been striving for another opportunity since May 2013, when he made his Verizon IndyCar Series debut for AJ Foyt Racing in the Indianapolis 500 Mile Race. Now, in a few short days, Daly will be driving the No. 43 Schmidt Peterson Motorsports Honda on the 2.5-mile Indianapolis Motor Speedway oval in preparation for the 99th Indy 500, the team announced at Barber Motorsports Park.

"I have had a great relationship with Sam Schmidt since driving for him in Indy Lights and I've always wanted a shot with his Verizon IndyCar Series team," said Daly, 23, who made his second series start last weekend in Long Beach for Dale Coyne Racing as a last-minute fill-in for injured Rocky Moran Jr. and finished 17th. "It's an honor to make my second attempt at running the Indy 500."

"I can't thank everyone enough who have put in the hours to pull this program together," he added. "I am confident we will all benefit from this relationship going forward and I can't wait to get to work on track." Daly will join SPM full-season drivers James Hinchcliffe and James Jakes at the May 3 IMS oval Promoter Test - the first on-track activity with the new Chevrolet and Honda speedway aerodynamic bodywork packages. Practice opens May 11 for the May 24 race.

"Conor raced for our team in Indy Lights in 2011 for a partial season before heading off to Europe (to contest the GP2 Series), so we know what he is capable of," team co-owner Sam Schmidt said. "He deserves to be competing in the Verizon IndyCar Series full time and we're honored to be providing this opportunity."

Daly advanced nine positions in the 2013 Indianapolis 500 to finish 22nd. He is driving the "Fastest Seat in Sports" two-seat IndyCar, which leads the field to the green flag, in Sunday's Honda Indy Grand Prix of Alabama.

Castroneves earns second consecutive Verizon P1 Award

Helio Castroneves earned the Verizon P1 Award for the second consecutive race and extended a Team Penske streak of seven straight pole awards, a run that spans the last two Verizon IndyCar Series seasons. Castroneves, driving the No. 3 AAA Insurance Team Penske Chevrolet, recorded a quick lap of 1 minute, 7.1925 seconds on the 2.3-mile, 17-turn Barber Motorsports Park road course to claim the $10,000 pole award for the Honda Indy Grand Prix of Alabama. The pole was the 43rd of Castroneves' career, which is fourth all time in Indy car history, and inches the three-time Indianapolis 500 winner one step closer to Bobby Unser, who is third on the all-time list with 49 poles.

The Firestone Fast Six was called with 1:40 left in the 10-minute segment because of lightning in the area. The three rounds of knockout qualifications set the 23-car starting grid for the 90-lap race April 26 (3 p.m. ET, NBCSN). The weather forecast is for sun and temperatures in the mid-70s.

Castroneves set a track record at Long Beach a week ago and has three of Team Penske's seven consecutive Verizon P1 Awards bridging the 2014 and '15 seasons. Reigning Verizon IndyCar Series champion Will Power also has three and Juan Pablo Montoya started on the pole for the Indy Grand Prix of Louisiana on April 12 based on entrant points as rain canceled the final segment of qualifying.

"It's all about team effort," said Castroneves, who entered the race weekend three points behind front-runner Montoya in the championship standings. "For us, every practice is qualifying. That helped us to push ourselves to be in this position. It's not about because we have success here. I think it's part of it, but it's in the equipment. At the end of the day, it's a team effort. Everyone is working hard."

Castroneves won the inaugural Verizon IndyCar Series race at Barber Motorsports Park in 2010. The Verizon P1 Award winner has gone on to win the race twice in its five previous years (Ryan Hunter-Reay in 2013 and Power in 2011).

Power was second quick in the Firestone Fast Six (1:07.3833) and posted the quickest lap in qualifying at 1:06.8050 in the second 10-minute segment in the No. 1 Verizon Team Penske Chevrolet. Scott Dixon set the lap record of 1:06.7750 (123.999 mph) in the first round of knockout qualifications in 2013.

Power has started from the pole three times (2014, 2011, 2010) in the five races at Barber Motorsports Park and won in 2011 and 2012. He earned the Verizon P1 Award in 2014 with a lap of 1:08.3120 in the Firestone Fast Six.

Lombardozzi and Sanchez spark Tribe’s fourth consecutive win

Tony Sanchez and Steve Lombardozzi combined for seven hits and eight runs batted in to help lead the Indianapolis Indians to a 9-3 victory over the Toledo Mud Hens on Saturday evening. The victory is the fourth in a row for the Tribe, who are now a season-high two games over the .500 mark at 9-7. The five runs batted in by Sanchez tied a career-best, and three different Indians batters amassed three or more hits.

Trailing 2-1 entering the third, Sanchez stepped to the plate with the bases loaded. He cleared them with a double to left-center field, erasing the only deficit the Tribe would face in the game. Lombardozzi capped the inning with a single to plate Sanchez, the second of his four hits on the day.

Sanchez would drive home two more runs in the sixth, tying his career high set against Syracuse last season. Alen Hanson also had an excellent day at the plate, as he collected three hits and scored a pair of runs. The Tribe finished the game with six hits with runners in scoring position.

Starter Nick Kingham (1-1) battled the cold conditions to record a quality start and earn the victory over the Mud Hens (7-8). He worked six innings, striking out six while conceding only three runs. Toledo’s Mike Belfiore (0-3) worked five frames and allowed six runs (four earned) to pick up the loss.

CASTRONEVES

Team Penske's Simon Pagenaud qualified third in the No. 22 Penske Truck Rental Chevrolet and Dixon qualified fourth in the No. 9 Target Chip Ganassi Racing Chevrolet. Josef Newgarden, driving the No. 67 Hartman Oil CFH Racing Chevrolet, and Tony Kanaan, in the No. 10 NTT Data Chip Ganassi Racing Chevrolet, will share Row 3. It was the second top-six start in a row for Newgarden.

"I just don't think we're right up there for pole territory, but at least we're in consistent Fast Six territory," said Newgarden, whose best qualifying position on a road/street course is second on three different occasions. "That's a good improvement for us. We're definitely getting there. I'm excited about that but I'm a little worried about (the race). I think we've got a little work to do on our race car, to make it consistently fast over a stint."

Hunter-Reay, who has won the past two races at Barber Motorsports Park, will have to come through the field to earn the three-peat. The reigning Indianapolis 500 champion qualified 18th in the No. 28 DHL Andretti Autosport Honda.

Montoya, who won the season opener at St. Petersburg, Fla., will have considerable work to claim his fourth straight top-five finish of the season, and seventh consecutive top-five finish dating to 2014. He qualified 15th in the No. 2 Hawk Performance Team Penske Chevrolet.

"It's always important to collect the points," added Castroneves, who is seeking his first series championship. "But at this stage, I'm not thinking right now of that. I'm thinking about collecting the victory that slipped from our hands in Long Beach. I'm going to push as hard as I can to keep after that quest."

All teams tested March 16-17 at Barber Motorsports Park for the first time with the new road/street and short oval aerodynamic bodywork packages.

Plawecki hits first MLB home run

It didn't take long for Kevin Plawecki to get another Major League first.

Plawecki hit his first MLB home run Saturday in the New York Mets' 8-2 win over the New York Yankees. Plawecki homered in the fourth inning, scoring both himself and shortstop Wilmer Flores.

It was the first of two hits for Plawecki. His second hit came in the eighth inning, a single to score Juan Lagares. That gave Plawecki three RBIs with two outs.

The Mets finish their "Subway Series" with the Yankees at 8:05 p.m. tonight. The game will be shown on ESPN.
