Sheriff Bowen hosting forum on...

Dangerous teen trends

Like all of us, teens face choices all day every day. Some of the choices are easy, like what to have for breakfast or what to wear to school. However, other choices are tough, and it doesn't matter the income level, the neighborhood they live in, or how involved parents are in their lives and activities. Teens are facing tough choices, such as whether or not to go to a party, what group to hang out with, and whether or not they should experiment with trending drugs. Drug use, either at a party on a one-time experimental basis or at home on a daily basis is prevalent in our society and it is a growing problem in our country and in Hamilton County.

Between January 1 and May 1, 2015, the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office alone has responded to 60 drug related calls. That averages out to just over 3 calls per week for drug possession, drug paraphernalia, drug related impaired driving, or drugs creating common nuisances. During the same time period of 2014, there were 49 drug related calls. This statistic shows the growth of drug use and abuse in our county and does not reflect the number of drug related calls responded to by other county agencies.

One of the biggest areas of concern with the growing drug use rate is that many teens are willing to experiment with what they consider "safe" drugs. They are turning more and more to synthetic drugs in an attempt to avoid being caught in a school-issued drug test. However, what they don't know can kill them.

On Tuesday, May 26 at 7:00 p.m., Hamilton County Sheriff Mark Bowen will be hosting an educational forum for parents and teens about trending drugs. The forum will be held at the Noblesville Schools Educational Services Center located at 18025 River Road in Noblesville, IN 46062. This building is just east of the Marsh Supermarket on River Road. Hamilton County resident, Jeff Rose, whose son died unexpectedly in April, will be a featured speaker at the forum. In addition, Senator Merritt will address the Lifeline Law, and members of the Drug Enforcement Agency will educate attendees about drugs that are currently in Hamilton County.

Resources will be available for teens and their families. Sheriff Bowen encourages parents and their children of all ages to attend this very important night. With the summer quickly approaching, families need to have a clear understanding of choices teens have to make and the consequences that those choices can have. The event, while targeted at teens and parents, will provide information applicable to anyone, from youth to adult, concerned about dangerous trends in Hamilton County.

A BlueSky feather for the Mayor

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

It's another feather in the hat for the Mayor John Ditslear's city administration. Landing BlueSky Technology is a big deal for the City of Noblesville. A real big deal as Noblesville attempts to build its near west side, the area along White River.

Some have talked about improving the "gateway" to Noblesville. I've never seen it that way. After all, how many "gateways" can a city have? To me, it's an area of the city just waiting for an explosion. The land on which BlueSky will be built is becoming more and more valuable because of the river; because of the Federal Hill District; because of the valuable land owned by Riverview Health on the east side of the hospital. And, now, because of BlueSky.

BlueSky isn't a new company moving into Noblesville. It currently is located in a much smaller area on Stony Creek Way on the south side of the city. This is the facility BlueSky will move to the west side.

Noblesville City Attorney Mike Howard was a big voice in convincing BlueSky to stay here. He was a big voice in convincing seven members of the Noblesville Common Council on Tuesday evening that it's a good move for Noblesville to approve a $3.4 million incen-

Leading the parade....

Here comes the Judge

Mayor John Ditslear has announced that Noblesville resident and Hamilton County Judge Steve Nation will serve as the grand marshal for the 2015 Noblesville Fourth of July Parade.

"For more than 30 years, Judge Nation has been a well-respected member of the community that has impacted and improved Noblesville. I am pleased to honor the work Judge Nation has done for the city and Hamilton County, and acknowledge how he and his family continue to be excellent role models to Noblesville residents through their continued service to local families and children," Ditslear said.

The Honorable Steve Nation has been serving Hamilton County continuously since 1979 and has been a Noblesville resident since 1977.

"When there are people in our community in need, I have always enjoyed working with others to get those needs satisfied. It has always been important to me that the people are helped, not who gets credit for the accomplishment," Nation said. "I appreciate this honor, and I accept it for all the people I've worked with in the public to help better the community, I'm riding for them."

Nation graduated from Cathedral High School in 1968 and Indiana University in 1972 with a bachelor's degree in political science. After graduating from IU School of Law-Indianapolis in 1975 he began practicing law in Indiana. Nation began serving the public as deputy prosecutor in Hamilton County for two years. In 1979, Nation started his first of four terms as prosecutor and worked in that role until 1995. Nation then began his first term as Hamilton Superior Court No. 1 judge and has been in that position ever since.

"My first real efforts in Hamilton County were in 1974 and 1975. I was an intern and prosecuted more than 120 cases before I ever even graduated from law school," Nation said.

Sheridan Library gets cooking

The Sheridan Public Library would like your favorite recipes to put into their new cookbook. As part of a fun activity and partly as a fundraiser for the library, the staff is collecting recipes from patrons to include in a cookbook to be available for sale to the public by October, just in time for Christmas.

These will make excellent stocking-stuffers for your favorite cook and will feature recipes from many Sheridan community members, plus a few from outside the Sheridan area. A final price has not been set yet but is expected to be in the 10 dollar range.

The library is asking community members to participate by submitting their favorite recipes for inclusion in the book. As you might expect, library staff members have contributed multiple recipes but many more are needed to make this a true community effort.

For further information about submitting your recipe for publication, please contact Patty Barker or Kim Riley at the library either in person or via a phone call (317-758-5201).

The Sheridan Public Library is located at 103 West First Street in beautiful uptown Sheridan, just on the country side of Hamilton County, Indiana. Library hours are Monday through Thursday from 10 am to 7 pm, Friday 10 am to 5:30 pm and Saturday 9 am to 1 pm.

and created the Hamilton County Youth Assistance Program in the fall of 2009. The Noblesville Youth Assistance Program was started in 2012.

“If you ask 100 parents, ‘Do you want life to be better for your child?’ They will always answer, ‘Yes.’ The problem is because of complexities of society sometimes they don’t know how to do it. That is what youth assistance is there for – to help families coordinate resources, to give them mentors and tutors so that people can have vision again, believe in the American Dream and become whatever they want to become.”

When he is not making a difference in the courtroom, Nation has been engaged in the community with the Noblesville Boys & Girls Club, Hamilton County United Way and has coached Noblesville youth football, soccer and baseball leagues.

“My personality is that I love to serve. I have always found Noblesville and Hamilton County to be likeminded people. They care for their children. They care for their families. And they care for their community and want to serve. It’s not a bad place to put your roots,” Nation said.

Nation and his wife, Peggy, have two grown children, Laura (Brandon) Bennett and Jeffrey, and one grandson, Michael Bennett.

This year’s festivities will take place on Saturday, July 4 with the theme of “America the Beautiful.” The fun begins at 5 p.m. with the parade followed by the fireworks festival from 6 to 10 p.m. At approximately 10 p.m., the annual fireworks display will begin. The festival is free of charge and will offer activities for kids, teens and adults, live music, food vendors and more.

More information about the upcoming Fourth of July festivities will be announced soon. For information about sponsoring or donating to the activities, contact Alaina Shonkwiler at 776-6345 or visit www.noblesvillefireworksfestival.com.

tive package to keep BlueSky in our backyard.

Mike Corbett, running against Ditslear in last week’s primary election, challenged Ditslear on the BlueSky deal. But, in today’s world, especially so here in Hamilton County, even your good neighbors will try to make backyard deals. Noblesville had to out bid other communities, and that’s what Ditslear was able to accomplish on Election Eve.

Ditslear talked, and campaigned for, BlueSky being the door which will open up the west side. He proved his point to BlueSky. He proved his point to a current seven-member Council which, arguably, is a more friendly Council than the nine-member body which will take office in January. And, again arguably, the Mayor proved the point to the voters.

BlueSky Technoogy Partners is a leading e-Commerce and digital marketing consultancy which also has offices in Canada. It’s headed by a couple of top-notch people in Todd Irwin and Eric Warne. They appear to be the type of business owners who will be good partners with the Noblesville community.

BlueSky is planning a groundbreaking this summer and the facility is slated for completion in the fall of 2016. The company is planning to build on what often is called “the hill,” a piece of property which hasn’t been used the past 25 years. It’s a piece of property that the Ditslear administration has transferred into one of the most valuable in Noblesville.

The new building and parking lot will be located on the southwest corner of John and Osborn streets. BlueSky is expected to have between 70 to 75 employees within a year.

And, at the Tuesday Council meeting, BlueSky threw a couple of new cards on the table when announcing it is planning on a three-floor building which will include a first floor, 6,000 square foot restaurant which would pay property taxes to the City of Noblesville every year.

It is exciting thinking of BlueSky leading what could be an explosion on the west side.

The new city park, hopefully, is just around the corner.

It shouldn’t be too long before Riverview Health announces plans.

All of which leaves only a meeting between Ditslear and the Hamilton County Commissioners to discuss the county’s parking lot on the south side of Conner Street into a part of Noblesville’s new west side. Hopefully.

Should I dare suggest. Nob City is becoming more Carmel-like. At the least, more Fishers-like.

Fashion fades...only style remains the same. - Gabrielle "Coco" Chanel

By SHARON MCMAHON

Yes I understand that this column is diverging from my usual nutrition and fitness information, but wait...maybe not so much! Let's face it, we want to be healthy and fit in order to feel well and be well but we also want to look good. There is no shortage of shopping venues and, in recent years, fashion advice in every conceivable magazine, blog, and media opportunity. (Although I am primarily addressing women here, obviously many of the opinions relate to men as well.)

One thing we all have in common from birth to death - we wear clothing - if you do not you are probably not reading this column... For you that may be mostly casual, career, uniform, and everything in between. So let's examine some of the most important precepts to keep in mind when selecting our wardrobes in order to look our best.

Fit - isn't it interesting that we use the word "fit" to describe our physical selves as well as how our clothing looks and feels on our bodies? I have selected "fit" to address first because I believe it to be the most important aspect of how we select our attire. Without a proper fit, beginning with our undergarments, we cannot expect to either look or feel well-dressed. And I will say, ladies, a proper fitting bra is key to the fit of anything else you layer over that item. Underwear which fits properly can also help you breathe correctly and improve your posture. Regardless of your size, the proper fit will accentuate your best features and allow you to feel your best. When purchasing garments, always use a three-way mirror, twist, bend, and sit - after all we are not mannequins! Remember also that sizes of designers and manufacturers frequently differ in their actual fit. Do yourself a favor (and a possible return trip to the store or the mailbox) by taking your time to try on the item before you purchase. And, yes, I have had a few return trips myself!

Style - as Ms. Chanel indicates, style does remain the same. Your individual style, that is. Style is available to fit every budget and when you know your style, shopping becomes easier, less frequent, and more satisfying. You look and feel your best. You probably knew (but maybe did not acknowledge) your style preferences in early adulthood, but that is also the best time to experiment with fashion, and it is fun as well! However, fashion experiments can be costly, time-consuming, and take up a bit of closet space as time progresses. Find your style (look around your home - your clothing style probably somewhat mirrors your décor as well) and your fit, focus on what appeals to you - vibrant colors, pastels, lace, tailored, ruffles, etc. Personal note - you will seldom, if ever, find me in anything but neutral colors and a tailored fit, that's just my style preference though I enjoy and appreciate the many different styles of my friends. Add some current and seasonal "fashion" accessories, enjoy a healthy diet and active lifestyle and you will feel confident in the choices you have made.

As we just celebrated Mother's Day, I extend my best wishes to all my fellow mothers out there and offer up a homage to my own mother who passed many years ago. A tall (forward on her high school basketball team!) and slender woman with a close resemblance to Ingrid Bergman, she had a style which included tailored suits, "cigarette" pants (known to this generation as "skinny" pants) plain silk blouses, straight skirts, and of course - pearls! I have found, interestingly, that all of those style elements are my favorites as well. So whatever your personal clothing style, consider fit before fashion, take good care of yourself (especially all of you mothers out there!) and enjoy the confidence of staying true to your best self.

Body scanner installed at Hamilton County Jail

Thanks to modern technology, the Hamilton County Jail is an even safer place. Recently, the jail installed a full-body, digital screening system that performs an X-ray scan on all inmates entering the facility. The scanner, made by SecurPass, is able to detect all types of dangerous and illegal substances such as drugs, liquids, metals, and plastics.

Inmates booked into the jail, whether from an initial arrest, returning from a trip to court, arriving to serve time, or any other reason, are scanned for potential contraband. Previously, correctional officers would do a limited hands-on search for contraband. The new scanner allows a quick and thorough process for detecting contraband. The instrument is safer and more effective to determine if an inmate is trying to smuggle unauthorized items into the jail.

Captain Jason Sloderbeck, the Hamilton County Jail Division Commander, explained, "Inmates arriving at the jail will attempt to smuggle contraband such as tobacco or drugs into the cell blocks. The scanner provides the best tool available to detect these items as there is no privacy issue for the inmates and the scanner can detect contraband that may be difficult for an officer to find."

Inmates arriving at the jail stand on a moveable platform attached to the scanner.

The scanner creates an X-ray image that displays results allowing jail officers to see contraband. A printout can then be stored in the computer system for future comparison and review if needed.

"The X-ray dosage involved in the scan is much less than a typical chest X-ray performed in a medical facility so there are no health concerns," Sloderbeck continued. "The whole body scan takes seconds and does not require the removal of clothing to create a virtual image. Although the system scans the entire body, it does not show as much soft tissue detail as an airport scanner, for example, so an inmate's privacy is protected."

Officers are trained to recognize anything that would not naturally be part of a normal person's body image. If the scan reveals anything suspicious, officers then conduct a further investigation to determine if there is contraband. In the months since the scanner was installed, officers have already confiscated contraband such as tobacco, drugs and narcotics, paraphernalia, and other items. Those arriving at the jail with contraband may face additional charges if contraband is discovered.

A similar body scan system has also been installed at the Community Corrections Work Release building.

Hours extended this week for discounted rain barrels purchase

The Hamilton County Soil & Water Conservation District office is offering extended hours three days this week to provide residents a chance to purchase substantially discounted rain barrels while supplies last thanks to the Noblesville Clean Storm Water Program.

The rain barrels are available at 1717 Pleasant St., Suite 100, in Noblesville. The office is open 8 a.m. through 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. As part of the extended hours, the office will be open until 5:30 p.m. Thursday, May 14 and from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday, May 16. Residents may then buy a rain barrel for $25 (payable with cash or check). The retail value of rain barrels is normally $80 or higher but available at a lower cost courtesy of the Noblesville Clean Storm Water Program. There is a limit of one rain barrel per address.

In order to qualify for this program, residents/business must do two things: 1) Provide a City of Noblesville Wastewater Utility bill that shows his/her name and address, and 2) Take one or more of the online clean water improvement pledges at www.clearchoicescleanwater.org.

"This is the third year we have partnered with the Soil & Water Conservation District to offer low cost rain barrels to Noblesville residents and businesses. Capturing rain water to use for gardening is not only good for your plants, but it also saves you money and helps to conserve drinking water ... for drinking. This is just one of the many simple things we can do in our community to conserve and protect our local resources for our kids and grandkids," said Tim Stottlemeyer, Noblesville storm water coordinator.

A rain barrel collects and stores rain water that would otherwise be lost. It is designed to keep debris and insects out (including mosquitos) and saves homeowners money by allowing them to use this free water for their gardens and lawns as well as car and window washing.

The Noblesville Clean Storm Water Program's mission is to educate the public and promote practices that help improve the quality of rain water that runs off into our streams, reservoirs, lakes, and rivers. Rain water can easily become polluted before running in to these bodies of water because of contact with pet waste, lawn fertilizers, litter, oil from leaking vehicles, and much more. The water that comes out of the faucets when we turn them on starts out as rain water, so the goal is to keep rain water as clean as possible by educating the public about easy ways to prevent water pollution.

For more information about the rain barrel program, contact the Hamilton County Soil and Water Conservation District at (317) 773-2181.

Westfield still winning....

Ayers is still perfect

Westfield is still moving towards a Hoosier Crossroads Conference baseball title and Shamrock senior pitcher Chris Ayers is still moving towards a remarkable season on the mound.

In a 5-0 victory over Fishers Wednesday afternoon, Ayers still did not allow an earned run.

“Chris had another great outing for us,” said Westfield coach Ryan Bunnell. “He was really efficient, going the distance on only 88 pitches. That is really significant with four games in four days. Our bullpen is rested and ready for the next two as we try to clinch the HCC crown” said Bunnell.

Fishers got just five hits and three of those were doubles by Jacob Totman, Joe Michel and Taylor Soper.

“We faced a tough pitcher in Chris Ayers,” said Fishers coach Matthew Cherry. “Ayers has yet to give up an earned run this season.

“We had chances with runners at second and third in the third and a runner at third with one out in the fourth and runners at first and third in the sixth, and a runner at second with one out in the seventh,” Cherry added.

The game was moved up from Saturday due to a forecast of storms.

The two teams will play Game 2 in the series Thursday at 6 p.m. at Fishers.

After loss to Clinton Central...

Sheridan needs a win today

Sheridan dropped a 5-1 Hoosier Heartland Conference baseball game Tuesday evening at Clinton Central and now needs a victory over CC this afternoon at Kent Harris Field in order to win the conference outright.

“We shot ourselves in the foot as each of the five errors we committed was costly,” said Sheridan coach Matt Britt. “Couple that with a few critical walks and a hit batter and we couldn’t stay close.”

Kyle Harwood suffered his first pitching loss of the season.

“Austin Hoover will throw tomorrow (today) with an opportunity to win the conference outright as Carroll defeated Clinton Prairie tonight,” Britt said.

“The loss dropped Sheridan to 17-4 overall and 7-2 in the HCC,” Britt said. “We will host CC at 4:45 and then host Lapel on Senior Night Friday at 4:45.”

Sheridan is holding a press conference on Friday at 3:30 p.m. to announce college

Sophomore Tommy Sommer allowed just five hits and struck out five in 6.1 innings for the Greyhounds. Sommer got the pitching victory and Seth Keeling picked up the save.

Jack Van Remortel and JC Haney powered home runs in Carmel’s seven-hit attack.

Carmel is scheduled to hit the road tonight, playing a non-conference game against Harrison in West Lafayette.

Defoe, Schildmeier outstanding as

Husky Boys win MIC crown

The only reason Craig Schildmeier wasn't the star of the Mid-Indiana Conference Boys Track & Field Meet Tuesday evening at Indiana Wesleyan University in Marion was that teammate Michael Defoe was the star.

Schildmeier won the 800 run; placed second in the 1600; was third in the 3200 and he ran on Heights' fourth place 4x400 relay team.

Defoe was better. The Husky junior, arguably one of the best, if not the best, track athletes in his school's history, won the 100 dash, the 110 hurdles, the long jump and he ran on the winning 4x100 relay team.

It was a sensational show by Defoe and Schildmeier as they led Coach Mike Hippensteel's Huskies to the boys conference championship. Heights finished with 134 points, a strong 20-point advantage over second place Western.

Defoe and Schildmeier captured all of Hamilton Heights individual event blue ribbons. Nate Roth, Nick Peterson and Jesse Brown joined Defoe on the winning relay team.

Defoe and Brown turned in a strong 1-2 finish in the long jump.

Coach Todd Jones' Lady Huskies placed fifth in a girls meet, won by Maconaquah, a tight five-point margin over Peru.

The Lady Huskies had some of their better performances in the relays, finishing second in the 4x400 with Molly Mitchell, Laure Bjortomt, Autumn Pryor and Macey Policka and finishing third in both the 4x800 and 4x100.

Policka, an outstanding sophomore, was second in both hurdles races.

Girls basketball coaches agree...

Sectional 8 still will be tough

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor
Girls basketball teams that compete in other sectionals are probably tired of hearing it by now: "Sectional 8 is the toughest sectional in the state."

But here's the thing: People keep saying it because it's true. Name any other sectional that, last season, had five teams with at least 16 wins and five teams that finished in the top 20 of the Sagarin ratings.

Since these schools are in close proximity with one another, it was no surprise that Carmel, Fishers, Hamilton Southeastern, Noblesville and Westfield remained in the Class 4A sectional when the IHSAA announced the re-grouped sectionals a week ago. Everyone is in agreement that it's best for these neighboring teams to stay together.

"I think it's great that we are staying together," said Donna Keck, coach of the sectional champion Millers. "Having big county rivalry match-ups is great for the players, coaches and fans."

"I think keeping them together makes the sectional special and more like the old 1 class sectional which I wish we would revisit," said Greyhounds coach Tod Windlan.

It also means the competition won't be lacking again. Very rarely, it seems, do any of these five schools come into the season with a bad record.

"With the county schools staying together in the sectional, the sectional will certainly continue to be one of the most competitive, if not the most competitive, sectionals in the state," said Tigers coach Michael Gaines.

"Playing in 4A and in Hamilton County, schools cannot avoid playing big schools," said Royals coach Chris Huppenthal. "I have never been one to think about fair or not fair when it comes to things like this. It is what it is. The teams in Sectional 8 are all good and competitive. Winning this Sectional is a big accomplishment."

The only thing that may have been a little surprising is who else was placed into - and removed from - the group.

North Central and Zionsville were taken out, shipped off to other sectionals. Taking their place is Anderson and...that's it. Sectional 8 will now be a six-team sectional, after several years of having seven teams.

The Indians went through a tough season last year, finishing 6-18. There were some bright spots, as Anderson won three games in the North Central Conference and pushed Connersville to double overtime before dropping a first-round sectional game.

Anderson played three Sectional 8 teams last season: Fishers, Noblesville and Carmel. The Indians also played the Millers and Greyhounds two seasons ago, winning both games. Anderson went on to win its sectional and finished with a 19-5 record that year.

"Anderson has been very good for a long time and has had a lot of success in their sectional," said Keck. "They will no doubt bring that same expectation to our sectional 8."

"I like the fact that Anderson is in the sectional, we play them already and they have a nice history in girls basketball," said Windlan.

Fishers added the Indians to its schedule last season and played them in the Tigers' opening game. Fishers won 46-42.

"Having Anderson in our sectional, we will try to keep them on our schedule," said Gaines. "I think playing the sectional opponents once during season builds a level of familiarity that is healthy for the competition for the sectional title."

Southeastern doesn't play Anderson, and Huppenthal would like to get the Indians added in.

"I have seen them on film in the past and they are quick and well coached," said Huppenthal of the Indians. "They join an already deep Sectional field and their addition keeps our Sectional one of the toughest in the State. Fishers, HSE, Carmel, Noblesville and Westfield have been here a while so we are used to the strength of the teams. As far as playing Anderson, we will play whoever we draw and do the best we can. Since they are in our Sectional, yes, we would like to get them on our schedule."

Moving to Class 3A, Hamilton Heights and Guerin Catholic will play in Sectional 24, the first time the two teams have been grouped together in girls basketball.

"We are excited about playing Hamilton Heights and to begin competing against them again," said GC coach Scott Miller. "They are a program with great history and will provide us tough competition."

The sectional is also notable because Heritage Christian will be playing in it. Heritage has become a powerhouse in Indiana girls basketball, having won six state championships since 2006. All of those titles have been in 2A, so the Eagles will get a chance to see how they do in 3A. Actually, Heritage Christian easily beat 4A teams last season - and returns the majority of its lineup.

"Heritage Christian is one of the top teams in the entire state regardless of Class and will be a very difficult opponent for us to match up against," said Miller. We look forward to the challenge that both of these programs and the others in the sectional will bring to us."

Sheridan, fresh off its first-ever girls basketball sectional championship, will stay in Class 2A but will move to a different sectional. The Blackhawks head over to Sectional 40, where several strong teams will join them.

"It will definitely be a challenge," said Sheridan coach Jeff Guenther. He pointed out that four of the new sectional's six teams were ranked in the top 25 of the final 2A Sagarin ratings. Those teams are Frankton, Lapel, Sheridan and Wapahani. Also, new team Monroe Central was 27th in 1A.

"We have moved sectionals every two years since the inception of class basketball," said Guenther.

The coach said he isn't a big believer in adding sectional opponents to his team's schedule, mainly because sectionals change every two years, and he also doesn't think it's that important.

"Our schedule will look different next year, I have added Plainfield and Martinsville which will give us four 4A opponents," said Guenther. "We will also play a conference tourney. The changes really won't affect anything we do, our goal will be to get better throughout the course of the year and hopefully be prepared to compete in the sectional."

University is staying in Class 1A Sectional 58. That group will be reduced to a seven-team sectional from eight, as Fall Creek Academy is no longer an IHSAA school.

The Trailblazers will enter that sectional with a new coach, Justin Blanding. He enjoys the fact that the sectional will be pretty much the same, and that his team will be able to see the other teams play often.

"The teams in this sectional also play very hard against one another," said Blanding. "It doesn't matter if it is in the regular season or the Sectional tournament. I am really happy it didn't change because I feel the teams are all improving and in time this sectional can have some prestige to it like many of the others."

Richard captains shutout and earns win in Tribe debut

Former Indiana Mr. Football and Mr. Baseball Clayton Richard tossed five scoreless innings and earned the win in his Tribe debut as the Indianapolis Indians avoided a three-game sweep with a 6-0 shutout of the Pawtucket Red Sox on Wednesday afternoon at McCoy Stadium.

Pitching as the lone left-hander of the Indians' regular rotation, Richard (1-0) struck out four with two walks and four scattered singles. He tossed 93 pitches, including 55 strikes, in his second Minor League start of the 2015 season.

The Lafayette, Indiana native also worked six innings with one unearned run on May 7 for the Single-A Bradenton Marauders, and will now make his likely Victory Field debut on May 18 with a streak of 11 consecutive innings with no earned runs.

Top prospect Alen Hanson doubled, tripled and scored for the Tribe (19-15). Deibinson Romero also collected two hits and drove in his 20th run to tie for fourth in the International League in RBIs.

Chris Volstad pitched three innings and Blake Wood handled the ninth to complete the shutout of Pawtucket (20-14).
