After Bugler David Bechtel played Taps, Commissioner Heirbrandt read the names of the 17 Hamilton County soldiers who lost their lives in Vietnam, and the 50th Anniversary of the Vietnam War Commemorative Flag was flown at the Hamilton County Judicial Center. Bruce McMahon sang "God Bless the USA" and Bagpiper Don Vermillion played "Amazing Grace."

Attending were veterans of the Vietnam War as well as veterans of other conflicts and their families. Several Gold Star Mothers were present as well. Pictured are members of the Honor Guard from the American Legion Post 45 and Noblesville VFW Post: Bill Hancock, Wendy Luce, Randy Mullins, Paul Clark and Kenny Wright.

Music & All That Jazz starts Friday on the Square

Noblesville Main Street announced this week that Music & All That Jazz will return to the courthouse square for four shows starting this Friday.

The series kicks off with the Blue Door Jazz Combo (formerly Blue Dorian Jazz), which is a piano/vocals/bass/drums jazz group and has been a favorite at past Noblesville Main Street jazz events. Their repertoire includes both jazz standards and jazz arrangements of Coldplay, Radiohead, Genesis, The Beatles and more. Blue Door Jazz features Eric Baker on piano and vocals, Bethany Robinson on bass and Daniel Sterner on drums.

"Bethany Robinson has done a tremendous job helping us program these events with local musicians," said Noblesville Main Street executive director Chris Owens. "I'm happy that in addition to serving as our master of ceremonies for these events, she will also have a chance to perform as well."

Other Music & All That Jazz shows this year include:

August 7- Murray Weirich Quintet

August 21- The David Hartman Band

September 4- The Tucker Brothers Band

Noblesville Main Street invites our community to the beautiful historic courthouse square for fun evenings this summer. All performances are from 7 to 9 p.m., weather permitting.

Will be used to improve mobile apps...

Fishers-based Bluebridge announces $2 million funding

Bluebridge, the SaaS company that provides a mobile app platform and tools to help organizations such as corporate enterprises, churches, tourism bureaus and universities interact with their audiences through world-class, full-featured, customized mobile apps, today announced the closing of a $2 million financing round co-led by Cultivation Capital and Allos Ventures. Angel investors Bill Godfrey, founder of Aprimo, Scott Dorsey, co-founder and former CEO of ExactTarget and the HALO Investor Group also participated in the investment.

The company is also launching the next generation of its proprietary mobile app content management system, the Bluebridge Mobile App Studio. The one-of-a-kind platform will make it even easier for users to take control of their app management, allowing organizations to update and edit all app content in real time—with the ease of a drag-and-drop interface. Users can now design, organize and instantly preview their mobile app; integrate third party partner tools such as Facebook, Twitter, and a variety of CRM and CMS tools; manage and send push notifications and more. Watch the Bluebridge Mobile App Studio in action here.

“The Mobile App Studio is an enormous leap forward in our vision of enabling organizations of all sizes to easily and quickly communicate with their audiences through compelling mobile apps,” said Santiago Jaramillo, Bluebridge co-founder and CEO. “By entirely re-imagining the user interface and adding even more depth to world-class features, we’ve made the task of mobile app creation and enterprise multi-app management attainable and rewarding for organizations of every size and scale.”

Since launching in 2011, Bluebridge has seen incredible year-over-year growth and has become the largest provider of tourism apps in the world. From 2013 to 2014, the company increased its revenue by 200 percent and doubled its customer base. Bluebridge recently moved to a new office in Fishers, Indiana to accommodate its rapidly growing team, which more than doubled in size last year. The $2 million round will allow for investment in development resources to continue improving its world-class product, further accelerate Bluebridge’s growth into new market segments and continue a dedicated focus on customer success.

Customers who use the Mobile App Studio benefit from the following capabilities and features:

- An intuitive, user-friendly interface that makes app content editing easy for non-technical users.
- Drag and drop tools that provide a fluid experience without the need for coding.
- Real-time app previews that show exactly what end app users will see.
- Targeted, actionable push messaging that can be sent immediately or scheduled for later.
- Rapid app store deployment that eliminates the hassle for customers of compiling, submitting and completing the Apple & Google app review processes to publish mobile apps.

“The Mobile App Studio is unlike any other CMS we’ve worked with,” said Eryn Aubey, marketing administrator for Christ In Youth (CIY), a global nonprofit youth ministry program. “It’s clean, organized, user-friendly interface makes creating and managing mobile apps easy and efficient. Our app has the power to truly impact the way we interact with our customers and provide them with a tool that will greatly enhance their experience at our events.”

Bluebridge helps hundreds of organizations including the country of South Africa, Harrison College, Northview Church, Herff Jones, Purdue University, Gatlinburg, Tennessee and Hotbox Pizza build one-of-a-

Indiana Agriculture Report...

Opposite extremes across state

Storms and heavy rainfall brought unwanted excess moisture to many areas of the State, but dry conditions in some areas persisted, according to the USDA, NASS, Great Lakes Region. Precipitation in Kokomo has been six inches more than normal since April 1, but almost four inches short in Greensburg, only 85 miles away. Much of the state experienced above average rainfall along with strong winds and hail which left fields ponded and halted fieldwork. However, the Southern portions of the State were highlighted as abnormally dry on the June 9 drought monitor. Days suitable for fieldwork was 3.2, down from last week. By region, the North had 2.0 days available for fieldwork, 3.1 days in Central, and 5.6 days in the South.

Regionally, winter wheat mature was 1% in the North, 15% in Central and 47% in the South. By region winter wheat harvested was 1% in the North, 4% in Central, and 4% in the South. Soybeans planted was 93% complete in the North, 94% in Central and 94% in the South. Soybeans were 84% emerged in the North, 82% in Central and 84% in the South.

Some winter wheat fields that saw heavy rains and wind flattened out due to the excess water in the fields. Some corn and soybean fields have yellowed and show signs of over saturation, leading to some concerns about the root conditions once the soils dry out. Farmers were unable to get into the fields to replant the drowned crops, and spent much of their time digging drain trenches. While pastures and hay fields remain lush and are growing well, many growers have been unable to cut and bale their fields. In the South, livestock farmers are concerned about the dry pastures and hot weather on the animals. Watermelon plants have been set, and pumpkin farmers prepare for planting. Other activities for the week included spraying fields, side dressing corn and wheat, hauling grain, and mowing roadsides.

The Westfield boys golf team invited everyone to the celebration Wednesday after the Shamrocks won their second state championship in three years. Westfield won the first-ever state finals at Carmel's Prairie View Golf Course, beating Center Grove by four shots.

Fast Wednesday start propels Westfield to...

Second state title in three years

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

There is no doubt that the Westfield boys golf team's Class of 2015 has left a remarkable legacy.

The seniors in this year's group were part of four state appearances by the Shamrocks. That includes a state championship two years ago and a runner-up finish last season - and another state title this year.

Westfield won its second state championship Wednesday, taking the crown at the first-ever state finals to be played at Prairie View Golf Club in Carmel. Already the leader after Tuesday's first round, the 'Rocks quickly stretched their advantage as the second round began, and never looked back to earn a four-shot lead over runner-up Center Grove.

"I don't think this day really sinks in until it's all over," said Keith Ponsler, one of the Shamrock seniors. "You just got to enjoy the moment. The first one was great, this one feels just as good."

Westfield totaled an eight-over par 584 for the two days; shooting a one-over 289 for the second day. Shamrock coach Jon Hoover called the Wednesday score "fantastic," and for his team "to put up 289 on the final day under these conditions, I thought it was really good."

The weather played its own games with the golfers, first delaying the start of the second round by an hour, then teasing everyone during the latter stages of the day with off and on sprinkles. It wasn't until the very end of the tournament that the clouds let loose with rain, but all that did was move Westfield's celebration inside.

With Zionsville and Center Grove close behind at the beginning of the day, the Shamrocks made their move right away.

Westfield played the first five holes at four-under par, and that gave it the momentum.

"In team golf, I think momentum's big," said Hoover. "We got it to four-under pretty quick, and got the guys fired up. You could just see the bounce in their step, everything. I think it helped us tremendously to get it going early."

The 'Rocks hung on during the last few holes, even as the Trojans were making a last-minute push. But birdies on the 18th hole by senior Jeremy Ray and junior Thomas Lewis helped to seal the deal.

"As a team, we're really consistent and the guys we have are solid down the stretch," said senior Timmy Hildebrand. "Even though they were coming back, I felt like the whole time if we just kept playing our game, then we'd close it out."

Hildebrand had a fantastic day, shooting a two-under 70 for his second round. He and Thomas Lewis finished as part of a six-way tie for third place (yes, you read that right) with even par 144s. Both were named to the All-State team at the conclusion of the meet.

Westfield's consistency was on full display at state. Freshman Andrew Lewis finished with a two-under 146, Ponsler scored 152 and Ray totaled 154 for his two days.

"It feels awesome that I get to contribute to something that our school's going to remember forever, considering it's our second boys state championship ever amongst any sport," said Ray.

The senior roster also includes Austin Welch, who didn't play at state but is definitely part of the Shamrocks' sensational class. All four Westfield seniors will be continuing their golf careers in college: Hildebrand is headed to Purdue, Ponsler is

Hildebrand wins Mental Attitude Award

Westfield's Timmy Hildebrand won the Fred A. Keesling Mental Attitude Award for boys golf. He is pictured with parents Kathleen and Michael Hildebrand.

As if a second team state championship wasn't enough, Westfield senior Timmy Hildebrand received another big honor at Wednesday's state meet.

Hildebrand won the Fred A. Keesling Mental Attitude Award. The award is given to a senior who participated in the state meet; the IHSAA Executive Committee selects the winner based on excellence in mental attitude, scholarship, leadership and athletic ability.

"Golf is more than a game and there's on course and there's off course, and I'd say 'off course' is just as important as the 'on course,'" said Hildebrand. "I'm certainly blessed to have the opportunity to get an award like this."

The IHSAA listed a brief biography of Hildebrand on its Web site:

"Hildebrand maintained a 4.3 grade-point average during his four years of high school and was named a Distinguished Scholar. He was a member of the National Honor Society, the French Honor Society, was named an Outstanding English Student as a senior and also was very active with his church and its youth activities.

"Athletically, he played for Westfield in all four state finals, finishing tied for third overall today and was a member of two state championship teams (2013, 2015) and last year's runner-up team (2014). He also played basketball for the Shamrocks as a freshman and sophomore.

"He is the son of Michael and Kathleen Hildebrand and plans to study Chemical Engineering at Purdue University and play golf for the Boilermakers.

"The Committee presented $1,000 to Westfield High School's general scholarship fund in the name of Hildebrand."

going to IU, Ray will play at Taylor and Welch is headed to IU-Kokomo.

And the future still looks bright for Westfield. Both Lewises are back - Thomas may be a junior, but Hoover said that he "is probably one of the most experienced tournament players on the team."

As for Andrew, just a freshman, Hoover has two words: "Look out."

"He's for real," said the coach. "Nothing fazes that kid. I just sometimes think he's got ice water in his veins."

Ray led the Westfield birdie brigade with four in his second round. Ponsler, Andrew Lewis and Hildebrand all had three, while Thomas Lewis made two.

Royals, Millers perform well at state

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Hamilton County had two other teams at the boys golf state meet Wednesday, and both had reasons to be happy about how the tournament went.

Hamilton Southeastern received medals for the second year in a row, finishing tied for fourth place. Noblesville tied for ninth as a team, and its senior leader placed in the individual Top 10 - making it to the All-State team.

The Royals finished third last year, but what made this year's team special is that HSE earned a high finish with no seniors in its front five. In fact, the average age of the Royals team is on the young side, with two juniors and three sophomores.

Alex Bullington, one of those sophomores, had Southeastern's best score of the event with a two-day total of 150; that included a one-under par 71 for his second round. His classmate Drew Alexander finished with 151, while Nick Kuster, a junior, scored 152. Junior Cedric McAree and sophomore Jake Hutmacher each finished with 156s.

Bullington and Alexander both led HSE in birdies with four, while McAree and Kuster both made two.

Southeastern finished with a team score of 605, matching Bishop Dwenger's final total. Both teams weren't far out of third place, which went to Zionsville. The Eagles carded a 603; that finish gave the Hoosier Crossroads Conference three of the top five teams.

Noblesville's appearance at the meet made it four of the Top 10 for the HCC. The Millers are a young team as well, with a junior and three sophomores. But the focus of those golfers was making sure their senior teammate, Josh Keating, got down to state so he could try for a spot on the All-State team.

Keating made it, finishing in a three-way tie for ninth place. He carded a two-day total of 145, one-over par.

"Oh, it feels awesome," said Keating. "This is something I've watched other seniors (like) Jackson Wright get in the past, and just feels great to join in with this honor."

Keating had three birdies in his second round at Prairie View.

"I definitely feel like I left some shots out there," said Keating, who will play golf for Indiana-Purdue Fort Wayne (IPFW) next year. "I'm sure most people do. But 73 is still a great score out here, especially with the rain that was on and off all day."

"He's worked hard these four years," said Noblesville coach Gary Sewell. The coach said that since Keating knew he had to get to the state meet to make the All State team, it "shows the kind of character" that Keating has.

The Millers were making their 19th appearance at the state meet. This one might be the most memorable, considering how far Noblesville had to come to get there.

Miller coach Gary Sewell said that "if you'd talked to people about a month ago, nobody even thought that we had a chance or a prayer to be down here. But, the kids worked hard. They kind of bought in to what we were trying to do, and things fell together at the right time, and we were able to compete in the sectional and the regional to get here."

All five Noblesville players had at least one birdie in the second round. Sophomore Noah Lodin joined Keating with three birdies, while junior Collin Kinkade and sophomores Mitchell Compton and Parker Deakney all had one.

Carmel junior Palmer Tweedy competed as an individual, finishing with a two-day score of 163.
