Second quarter economic development report shows...

Westfield growing ‘by leaps and bounds’

Westfield’s economic development department presented its findings for the year’s second quarter at Monday’s meeting of the city council.

“Westfield continues to grow by leaps and bounds, and are excited by the information found in this report,” Mayor Andy Cook said.

$74.5M in estimated value of improvements were issued permits in the second quarter, which included seven commercial new / remodel permits and 190 single-family housing starts.

“What this demonstrates is that the investment we are making in our community through Grand Park and Grand Junction Plaza is paying off,” Cook said. “We will continue to work hard for all the residents of Westfield to make sure they have the best quality of life possible.”

Other notable second quarter events include the Mayor’s Yellow Tie Ball and events at Grand Park, as well as the introduction of Metronet to various neighborhoods throughout the community.

Batter up and never give up!

By JANET HART LEONARD

Last Sunday I watched as each one of them took off their ball cap and wiped the perspiration from their frowning and sweating brow. They kicked at the muddy dirt. You could see the look of overwhelming disappointment as they looked at the scoreboard. 7-0 going into the fifth inning of the World Series of the U9 baseball teams at the Field of Dreams.

They were the coaches.

What do you say to a team of little boys who were facing a loss in the championship game, the last game of the season. I'm not sure what they did say but the boys scored a run in the bottom of the fifth inning.

Sixth inning and a quick three outs for the opposing team, who had already began celebrating. Then our little guys grabbed their bats. A walk. A hit to left field. A steal (yes! Jake). A run. Another run. Then FOUR more. That's right. The end of the sixth inning and the score is TIED!

No way. Impossible? What were the chances?

We then went into an extra inning playing the California Rule. Only a few parents and Grand Chuck had ever heard of it. Each team starts with one out and the team who is batting starts with a runner on second. Top of the seventh and the opposing team gets two more outs.

Then we are up. "Just one run boys...just one." Runner placed on second then got to third on a wild pitch. Our next batter hit the most wonderful ground ball. Run kids run! The runner on third clicked his cleats and off he ran! There is no place like Home plate when you need just one more run...SAFE! We won!

You would have thought that these boys actually won the big league World Series. They had done the improbable. They were the Champs.

It wasn't just about winning but not giving up. Some lessons have to be learned by experience, not by lectures.

Someday those nine year olds will remember the lesson that they learned that day. I know it's something that their coaches will never forget.

Never give up...NEVER!

Hamilton County 4-H Fair...

Members young and old enjoy cat show

By RICHIE HALL

Anyone wanting to beat the Saturday afternoon heat at the Hamilton County 4-H Fair headed into the Exhibition Center.

They would've seen some furry friends, as the cat show took place that afternoon. A cat show may seem unlikely at a county 4-H Fair, but there have been several 10-year members that have spent their entire career showing their feline companions.

"This is the only project that I've done for 10 years," said Shawn Piccock. The Carmel graduate was there with her cat, nine-year-old Buttercup. Piccock has been showing Buttercup for eight years; she showed another cat her first two years.

"It's really fun because you get to learn more and more as you go on, and how to better groom your cat," said Piccock, who turns 19 on July 27 and is headed to the University of Southern Indiana. "So I really liked it."

Piccock said Buttercup gets nervous, although she said the judges don't really see that when her cat is on the stage. Piccock has been the overall grand champion twice and also earned reserve champion honors twice.

"Getting ready for the show, she knows when it's going to happen, so she goes and hides," said Piccock. "But other than that, she's totally fine with it."

Another 10-year-member is Rachel Bledsoe, who also just graduated from Carmel. She brought Max to the 4-H Fair for the first time, after years of showing another cat, Boomer. Max is 11 months old, Boomer is now 15.

Bledsoe said her younger cat is "playful and energetic," although he was cool at the cat show Saturday.

"Max is just really calm, it's not really fazing him right now," said Bledsoe. "He's been asleep."

It's a different story at home, however.

"He likes to get into things and climb and play with toys," said Bledsoe. "He wants to play with Boomer, and Boomer doesn't really like it."

Bledsoe, 18, will be going to IUPUI this fall. She has also enjoyed showing cats calling it a "very positive experience."

The next generation was also on display at the cat show. Brooke Daugherty will be a fourth-grader at Brooks School Elementary in Fishers, and she was at the show for the first time with her cat, Henry, who looked cool in a Hawaiian-themed cage.

"I was definitely nervous, but I think it went really well," said Daugherty, 9. She noted that Henry is a little shy.

Ten-year 4-H member Rachel Bledsoe participated in the cat show with her cat, Max.

CAT SHOW

"There was another female cat next to him, he was kind of hissing at it a little because they were trying to mark their territories," said Daugherty. But other than that, he actually did really good.

Daugherty has had Henry "since the day after the was born." Her friend is now six years old. "I got him from a vet," she said.

She's learned quite a bit about cats as well.

"We learned a lot about body parts and how to groom them and proper stuff to do with them and how to take care of them," said Daugherty.

Jackie Morgan, the cat show project leader, said there were about 45 animals at the show this year.

"We see a lot of quality animals here at Hamilton County," said Morgan. "We see a lot of enthusiasm and support from the parents with the young people. We're very pleased with the turnout and the quality of the animals."

Shakespeare in the Park

This summer will see the 22nd annual production of Noblesville's Shakespeare in the Park produced by the Noblesville Cultural Arts Commission.

This year, the show will be Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" done in conjunction with an original one act play "What You Will". Once again, the Commission will provide an opportunity for the people of Noblesville to enjoy classical theater under the stars. For more than two decades, the Noblesville Cultural Arts Commission, with the cooperation of Noblesville City Parks Department, has created free and family-friendly performances of the Bard's immortal works. The NCAC production is the longest continuously-running Shakespeare in the Park event in central Indiana and the second oldest in the state.

Shows will take place on July 23, 24, 25, 30, 31 and Aug. 1. The pre-show starts at 7:30 p.m., with the performance at 8:30 p.m. The performances take place at Seminary Park, which is located at 10th and Hannibal streets in Noblesville.

Admission is free, donations are welcome. Patrons are also welcome to bring picnics and lawn chairs or blankets. More information is available at www.noblesvillearts.org

Community First Bank opens in Noblesville

Reporter photo by Richie Hall

A new bank opened in Noblesville on Thursday, as Howard County-based Community First conducted a formal ribbon cutting to open its first Hamilton County location. Community First, which was chartered in 2003, is focusing on small-business lending and residential home loans. (It is currently not accepting deposits.) Robb Blume, the president and CEO of Community First, said the decision to expand into Noblesville was based on mergers that had recently taken place. Community First is located at 5570 Pebble Village Lane, Suite 400, close by the McDonalds on SR 32 west of Little Chicago Road.

Summer football....

Bud is 8 wins away from goal

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

The final numbers appear to be in the hand of Bud Wright, and the Sheridan football coach isn't talking. Well, not yet. Well, not much.

Entering the 2015 season, Wright is the winningest coach among those still coaching. He also is the all-time leader.

Bud, a Sheridan graduate who played football for the Blackhawks, is about to enter his 50th season as Sheridan's coach. Overall, his 51st season coaching high school football.

Wright has won 392 games. That's No. 1 on the active coaches list. No. 2 is Russ Radtke of New Prairie with 324 victories. Should Wright retire today, which he won't, Radtke still is 68 wins behind. That's a lot of wins, considering regular seasons in football consist of just nine games. Then comes the playoff.

Just when you think Bud is about to retire, something special comes along. This season it's a group of strong, promising sophomores.

Wright appears to be pumped. Again.

But, Bud also likes to fish in Florida and now that son Kevin is coaching in Florida, well, who really knows.

Wright will say this. He wants to win 400 games. Then let the others chase. In today's world, you probably won't see coaches staying in the game long enough to catch Bud Wright.

Ever.

"That's my goal, winning 400 games," Wright told me this past week.

He needs eight. With this year's schedule, playing in the Hoosier Heartland Conference, reaching eight wins will be difficult. Bud Wright has accomplished lots of difficult tasks in his football coaching career.

So, this year, maybe next year, it won't be shocking if Bud reaches his goal.

Sheridan's home schedule this year at Bud Wright Stadium will include games with North White, Eastern and Taylor. On the road, Sheridan will play at Western Boone, Clinton Central, Carroll, Tri-Central and Tipton.

The big difference in the schedule this year is a regular-season playoff game based on the conference records.

Here's kind of something interesting in Wright's search for eight wins. Sheridan's last season to do that was 2012 when the Blackhawks went 9-2, losing to Lafayette Central Catholic in the semi-state. The Blackhawks won five games the next season and seven games last season.

Here are a couple other things when it comes to football wins.

The No. 6 winningest current coach is Fishers' Rick Wimmer with 234. In fifth place is Mo Moriarity, the former Carmel coach, with 262 wins. Moriarity now coaches at Bloomington South.

Kevin Wright, now in Florida, has won 188 games.

Sheridan football coach Bud Wright is eight wins away from reaching the 400-win milestone.

Among the leaders on the all-time list (those active and those retired) is former Carmel coach Dick Dullaghan with 312.

He's No. 7, all-time. No. 12 is another former Carmel coach, Jim Belden, with 283.

For now, and likely forever, Bud Wright is the leader. What will be the final total will be decided.

Keating wins Boys State Junior Championship

One month ago, Noblesville's Josh Keating earned a spot on the All-State team after a top 10 performance at the IHSAA state golf finals at Prairie View Golf Course in Carmel.

Last week, Keating led everyone in the state at The Hawthorns in Fishers. The recent Noblesville High School graduate won the Indiana Golf Association's Boys State Junior Championship, winning six rounds of match play to earn the trophy.

Keating, who will play college golf at IPFW, easily won his first three matches. He defeated Carter Goodson of Elkhart 4&3, Ethan Shepherd of Greenwood 4&2, and Cedric McAree of Fishers, 6&5.

Keating then beat Muncie's Blake Vise in the quarter-finals and Ryan Ward of Indianapolis in the semi-finals, both by scored of 1up. In the final match, Keating beat Nicolas Ostenburg of Indianapolis, winning in 20 holes.

The win marked the second big championship for Keating in July. He triumphed in the Central Junior Masters tournament at Lebanon's Ulen Country Club, a two-day tournament that took place July 5-6. Keating was victorious by the score of 71-69=140, an even par score.

Keating led the 10 Hamilton County golfers that competed at the Junior Championship. Six of them made the Round of 16. Andrew Lewis, one of the Westfield High School golfers that won the team state championship at Prairie View, reached the semi-finals.

Lewis' Shamrock teammate Timmy Hildebrand also got to the round of 16, along with Fishers' Cedric McAree and Jack Juskow, and Noblesville's Noah Lodin.

A complete list of Hamilton County performances now follows:

Chase Campbell, Fishers: def. Cameron Trippel, Mishawaka, 4&3; lost to Timmy Hildebrand, Carmel, 4&2
Timmy Hildebrand, Carmel: def. Braden Drook, Marion, 7&6; def. Chase Campbell, Fishers, 4&2; lost to Aaron Skibinski, Michigan City, 3&2

Action at the 4-H Fair Horse Arena

Richie Hall

One of the most active places of the Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds during the 4-H Fair is the Horse Arena. That was the case Saturday, as young equestrians were competing in the Horse & Pony Show.
