It's "showdown time"

Tonight at Council meeting

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

When the Hamilton County Commissioners and Hamilton County Council were finishing a workshop session a couple of months ago concerning funding an emergency training session, Councilman Brad Beaver said, "Go get $1.5 million from the cities and townships and you have a done deal with us for the other $1.5 million.

The Commissioners are requesting $3 million to build the center. Mayors from Noblesville, Carmel, Westfield and Fishers, Hamilton County's four largest cities with a population of more than 80 percent of Hamilton County residents, all have agreed to chip in $50,000 annually to support the upkeep of the center.

"I'm sticking to the plan; go vote on this," countered Councilman Steve Schwartz.

The meeting, you see, wasn't the Council against the Commissioners. The Council, at least at that time, didn't appear to agree, one way or the other.

It appeared Councilmen Beaver, Fred Glynn, Rick McKinney and Paul Ayers were against funding the $3 million, while

Schwartz, Jim Belden and Amy Massilla-many supported the funding

There wasn't a vote at that time, but had there been a vote it appeared that the plan would be rejected by a 4-3 vote.

Nothing, it appears, has changed since the meeting.

"We went out and did what the Council asked us to do. We think it's a good plan," Commissioner Steve Dillinger told the Hamilton County Reporter two weeks ago.

There likely will be a vote tonight (7 p.m.) as the Council holds its regular monthly meeting in what should be a packed house at the Judicial Center in downtown Noblesville.

The Reporter is publishing the agenda for that meeting on Page 5 of today's paper.

The training session is a little hard to locate. It is the 10th item on the list of 11 and it is listed under "additional appropriations, $3,047,000."

The $3 million plus dollars which if approved by the Council will come from a "rainy day" fund of $45 million.

Hamilton County
Sheriff from 1971
to 1978...

Larry Cook passes away at 78

By FRED SWIFT
Editor's Note: Read in Thursday's Hamilton County Reporter Don Jellison's memories of Larry Cook, one of the most famous lawmen in the history of Hamilton County.

Larry Cook, former sheriff of Hamilton County and a member of a prominent law enforcement family, died early Tuesday following a lengthy illness.

Cook, 78, served as sheriff for two teams from 1971 through 1978, a time of major expansion in the sheriff department including development of plans for a new corrections complex.

Cook was involved in one of Hamilton County's famous jail breaks, which led to the new corrections complex on the east side of Noblesville.

The break was in October, 1974, when three juveniles escaped from the jail, jumping from a second floor window.

The jail then was the same little building which today stands on the southwest corner of the courthouse square in Noblesville. The three guys jumped from the second floor window on a Sunday evening.

The three quickly were found and returned to the jail. One was found in a barn near Deming and the other two were arrested at the Forest Park golf course caddy house.

Cook was the son of a police officer and the father of a former sheriff. Two brothers were also in law enforcement.

Larry Cook was originally from Cicero, but following his years as sheriff he and his wife, Nurita, lived in the Noblesville area.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Hartley Funeral Home in Cicero.

Art for the Noblesville Farmers Market

Noblesville High School student artists Kenzie Day, Katie Flor, Paul Williams and Nick Green injected some local creativity into the Noblesville Farmers Market. Steve Schwartz donated a 1959 Ford F-100 pickup, and the NHS students transformed it into a mural featuring many fruits and vegetables available at the market. "We felt that this vintage farm truck would bring more attention and pizzazz to a rapidly growing Noblesville Farmers Market," said Schwartz. "Our hopes are that this contribution will help boost the image and make the farmers market an even larger destination."

Watch out for splashes...

Noblesville Utilities doing sewer maintenance this week

The City of Noblesville Utilities is doing sewer maintenance work in older areas of the city. The work is focused between Eighth and 19th streets and Conner and Pleasant streets. The department wants to notify the public because several homeowners have not installed check valves to prevent water from coming back up through their laterals and this could cause minor splashing out of toilets and drains.

Chief Operator Collections Kirk Staley said the best thing homeowners can do is leave their toilet seats down from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday during this period.

"If sewer gas is smelled in the home make sure all drains have water in them," said Staley "this eliminates the odors. We always recommend that homeowners protect their homes with check valves. Unfortunately, the installation could be expensive depending on the depth. Most homeowners do not have them in the older parts of the city.

This sewer maintenance work will occur until the end of August.

Noble Crossing principal...

Patrick Haney wins prestigious Education Fellowship

Patrick Haney

Noblesville Schools announced today that Patrick Haney, principal of Noble Crossing Elementary, has won the prestigious Woodrow Wilson MBA Fellowship in Educational Leadership.

The program is run in Indiana through the University of Indianapolis and maintains a highly competitive nomination and selection process. Fellowship winners participate in a 13-month educational program that includes a fully paid educational travel opportunity, business immersion experiences and post-graduation mentoring. Winners receive a full tuition scholarship and graduate with an MBA in Education Leadership.

Governor Mike Pence made the announcement of this year’s winning class of fellows on July 29th at the University of Indianapolis.

Haney was selected based on the demonstration of outstanding accomplishment in the areas of instructional leadership, emotional intelligence, moral and ethical character, and performance in education, among others.

“Pat Haney is very deserving of this prestigious fellowship,” said Dr. Beth Niedermeyer, superintendent of Noblesville Schools. “He is a leader among leaders whose passion, expertise, and love of learning are admired and respected by all who know him. Pat places a high value on building relationships with staff, parents and children, which is why the students at Noble Crossing adore him. He will eagerly share these valuable experiences he learns, and that in turn will benefit staff and students at Noblesville Schools.”

Haney joined Noblesville Schools in 1996 as a language arts teacher at Noblesville Middle School. He became a school counselor at Forest Hill Elementary in 2000, and then served as assistant principal and principal at Noblesville Intermediate School from 2006-2009. He has been principal at Noble Crossing Elementary since 2009.

He has a bachelor’s degree in English from Taylor University, a master’s degree in School Counseling from Butler University, and completed the principal licensure program at Indiana Wesleyan University.

Haney will continue his responsibilities at Noble Crossing while participating in the MBA fellowship program.

Sheridan Schools adjusts bus, car rider release times

In order to more effectively use the course of the student/teacher day and increase the bus route efficiency at Sheridan Elementary, Sheridan Schools has adjusted the time its bus and car riders will be released at the end of the day.

Starting with the first day of school, bus and car riders will be released from class at 2:38, and the buses will depart to SMS to pick up our older students at 2:45. The same time adjustment has been made for early release days as well. While the release time is just a few minutes earlier than last year, this procedure, as well as the new exit and traffic pattern for car riders, will lead to a safer release for all families. Please note that due to this change, preschool times have been adjusted accordingly.

Regular Day Schedule:
Sheridan Elementary 7:55 – 2:38
Sheridan Middle and High Schools 8:00 – 2:55

Early Release Schedule:
Sheridan Elementary 7:55 – 1:38
Sheridan Middle and High Schools 8:00 – 1:55

Preschool Release Schedule:
A.M. Preschool 8:10 – 10:45
P.M. Preschool 11:25 – 2:00

Suspicious items found in Westfield, Fishers parks

MacGregor Park in Westfield was closed for a few hours on Tuesday after suspicious items were found inside of the park.

The Hamilton County Sheriff’s Office was dispatched shortly after 10 a.m. upon report of a suspicious package found in the park by an employee. A second similar item was found by deputies during a search of the park. As a precaution, the Indiana State Police Explosive Ordinance Disposal Team was called in to remove of the items, and the park was closed.

The Device Team cleared the suspicious items around 1 p.m. After taking X-rays of the items, it was determined the items were in fact built to be some types of incendiary devices. The investigation showed that the devices were inoperable at the time of the x-rays and may never have been operable.

The two devices were described as cans with wires attached and wrapped in tape. Both were found along a trail in the northeast section of MacGregor Park. The devices were safely taken into evidence for further investigation. There are no suspects or motives established at this time but the incident remains under investigation by the Hamilton County Sheriff’s Office. MacGregor Park, located near US31 and SR 38, was reopened.

Shortly after the incident at MacGregor Park began, another suspicious item was found in Fishers. The Fishers Police Department began investigating a device that was spotted in Whitten Park at 131st Street and Olivo Road. A robot was used to check out the device, which turned out to be not explosive, according to reports from the FPD Twitter account.

Sheriff Bowen would like to encourage any residents observing suspicious items or people to report these to Hamilton County Communications at 317-773-1282 or 911.

Author Bill Kenley signing his new book Friday

Bill Kenley, Noblesville High School teacher and author of 2015 release "High School Runner (Freshman)," will be chatting up the crowd and signing books from 6 to 8 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 7, at the Noblesville Barnes & Noble, 17090 Mercantile Blvd.

MEETING

At the last meeting, Beaver questioned whether or not the County will have the funds to pay for other planned projects.

“You’ve got State Road 37; the extension of the government center; the expansion of the jail, how much can we fund,” Beaver asked.

“We’re talking about 2 percent of the funds we have available,” answered Schwartz.

All of the county’s funding, although first requested by the Commissioners, must be approved by the County Council.

There appears to be no option if the Council votes down the funding.

Car accident on SR 13 claims two lives

A Sunday morning car crash in northern Hamilton County claimed the lives of two people.

Shortly before 4 a.m., the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office responded to the report of a single vehicle crash in the 23000 block of State Road 13, northeast of Noblesville. Preliminary investigation indicates a 1996 Chevrolet Lumina traveling northbound on State Road 13 lost control in a curve, overcorrected, and then left the west side of the roadway. The vehicle crossed over a creek and crashed into the embankment, fatally injuring both occupants of the car.

Pronounced dead from injuries sustained in the crash were driver Ashley Steger, age 26 of Arcadia, and passenger Mathew Ferge, age 24 of McCordsville. According to an initial investigation, it appeared both were not wearing seat belts at the time of the crash and speed may have been a contributing factor in the incident. As with all serious bodily injury and fatal crashes, toxicology tests were performed but results are pending.

The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office Crash Team is investigating the incident. Anyone with information regarding the crash should contact the team at 317-773-1282.

Girls golf 2015...

‘Rocks, Royals, Golden Eagles get opening day wins

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor
The 2014 season finished on a strong note for the Hamilton County girls golf teams, and it appears those golfers are beginning 2015 right where they left off.
Westfield and Hamilton Southeastern were tournament winners in their first competitive meets of the year. The Shamrocks triumphed Monday at the Plainfield Invitational, while the Royals won their own HSE Invitational at Stony Creek Golf Club. In addition, Carmel was second at Stony Creek, while Fishers was a strong fourth. Also, Hamilton Heights' Caitie Gehlhausen and Guerin Catholic's Marissa Singer both performed well in back-to-back tournaments.

Westfield won at Plainfield with a score of 325, comfortably ahead of runner-up Center Grove's 333. Cailyn Henderson, last year's individual state runner-up, scored 72, draining four birdies on the day. Margaret Wentz and Adrienne Montalone both had one birdie.

Hamilton Heights scored a 440 at Plainfield, with Gehlhausen shooting a 74. She had two birdies for the tournament.
Meanwhile, the Golden Eagles were winners at the Lawrence Central Invite at Winding Ridge Golf Course. Guerin shot 390 as a team.
Singer scored a very strong 73 and freshman Mckayla Tallman added a solid 93. Also scoring for GC were Dani VanBu-ren with 111, Megan Ahlgrim with 113, and Carly Hammons rounded out Guerin's team effort.

Southeastern was the highest-placing county team at last year's state meet, with a third-place finish. The Royals proved they were ready for this year with a team score of 315. Southeastern actually had four teams at its own invitational, allowing for hounds were consistent, with three players shooting 83s to help Carmel to a 318.

"It was a nice day to get to see everybody play," said HSE coach Steve Guenin. "I thought they did a nice job. We had a lot of new girls, a lot of new faces." The coach thought those new players did "a nice job."

Ciara McAree, an All-State player last year, led the Royals with a 71. That placed her third individually.

"Ciara came out and played a solid round," said Guenin. "That's a great start for her."

Morgan Dillon scored a 78 for eighth place, while Phoebe Cha and Nicole Dillon both shot 79s, placing them in part of a five-way tie for ninth place.

Lapel's Natalia Campbell won medalist honors in a playoff over Carmel's Makenzie George; both carded 69s. George was part of Carmel's fourth-place state team last season, and had a fantastic start to her season. The Grey-

As for the Tigers, they weren't too far away with a 322. Morgan Lewis' 75 gave her fifth place individually, while Anna DelPrince and Kennedy Brooker both got into the ninth-place tie with their scores of 79.

Gehlhausen continued her strong start to the year, finishing in fourth with a 72. The Huskies carded 408 as a team - improving 32 shots in one day.

Meanwhile, Westfield and Guerin Catholic played at Battle Ground Golf Course in the Lafayette Jeff Booster Invitational. The Shamrocks scored a 317, placing them second behind Cathedral's 313. The Golden Eagles totaled 377, an improvement of 13 shots over their Monday score.

Henderson's 70 gave her individual runner-up honors again, while Margaret Wentz placed fifth with a 74. GC's Singer placed fourth with a 72.

Noblesville Elementary Cross Country Race is Sept. 30

The Noblesville Track Club is hosting its Elementary Schools Cross Country Race at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 30 at White River Elementary.

There will be three races, a half-mile for kindergartners and first graders, then a mile race for second and third graders, followed by a mile run for fourth and fifth graders. All finishers will receive ribbons.

There is no cost or registration required, simply show up ready to run. The race is limited to students in Noblesville Schools.

A donation of $1 per entry is welcome, that will help defray the cost of ribbons.

The course is open to the public, unless a high school or middle school meet is in process. All athletes may walk the course for orientation before the race. Course tours will be led by the Noblesville

Boys & Girls Cross Country Teams at 5:30 p.m. Runners are not required to walk the course. The course is a one-half mile loop for the Pre-school, Kindergarten & first grade. All other racers will complete the loop two times for the distinction of completing the Miller Mile and becoming a member of a select group: Miller Mile Club Members.

The first race will begin at 6 p.m., and will take place in rain or snow. However, there will no race if a thunderstorm in progress. There are no make-up dates. Races will be continuous, and should all be completed by 6:45 p.m.

Parking is limited. Be prepared to walk from the Noblesville High School main campus or the White River Elementary soccer fields. Allow for the walk in time, an extra 10 minutes. Parents, think of this as a healthy walking experience. There will be student police cadets working the parking lots and grassy areas.

Questions may be answered by contacting Noblesville cross country coach Kent Graham at kent_graham@nobl.k12.in.us; or, go to: GoMillers.org>fall sports>boys cross country.

Chicago shoots its way past Fever, 106-82

Elena Delle Donne led six double-figure scorers and the Chicago Sky recorded WNBA season highs for points and 63.2 percent shooting while racing past the Indiana Fever, 106-82, at Allstate Arena on Tuesday.

The Sky rode Delle Donne to a first-quarter lead, then buried Indiana by outscoring the Fever 53-35 over the second and third quarters.

The WNBA's leading scorer, Delle Donna finished with 19 points while Cappie Pondexter and Jamierra Faulkner had 16. Tamera Young and Betnijah Laney added 14 and 12 points, off the bench, and Erika de Souza finished with 10 in her fourth game in Chicago since being traded last week from Atlanta.

Eclipsing 70 percent shooting in both the first and second quarters, the Sky became the third team in WNBA history to shoot at least 70 percent in both quarters of a half. The Sky's 71.9 percent shooting in the first half (23-of-32) was the WNBA's best shooting half since July 4, 2013.

Maintaining a lead over Indiana in the Eastern Conference standings, Chicago swept its series with the Fever for the first time in its 10-year history and snapped the Fever's three-game win streak. In four victories over Indiana, the Sky won by margins of 23, 26, 6 and tonight's 24-point difference.

"They're a very talented team and good enough they could return to the WNBA Finals again," said Fever coach Stephanie White about the Sky, who beat Indiana in the 2014 conference finals to reach the league championship series.

"When we play with a tough defensive mentality, we can be a very good team," added White. "But when we don't, we struggle. Tonight was a combination of us lacking energy and them being really, really good."

Indiana led 18-14 in the early going before the Sky ended the first period with a 17-4 spurt to record the highest-scoring period, 31 points, the Fever had allowed all season. Delle Donne triggered the run with eight points of her own, then the Sky scored the first eight points of the second quarter.

The Sky took a 57-40 lead into halftime, then scored the first nine points of the third quarter to lead by 26, 66-40, before Maggie Lucas hit back-to-back 3-pointers for the Fever. Indiana used Lucas' spark for a 10-4 mini-run to cut the difference to 20, but after an offensive foul and double-technical foul called on Indiana's Shavonte Zellous – and a breakaway layup by Faulker – the Sky's lead reached 77-50.

Zellous was ejected at the 2:44 mark of the third quarter. The Sky's lead ballooned to 32, 100-68, on Faulkner's three-point play with 4:33 left in the contest.

Lucas paced the Fever with 14 points, all in the second half on the strength of four 3-pointers. Marissa Coleman and Natasha Howard each scored 13 and Shenise Johnson added 11 for Indiana which returns to Bankers Life Fieldhouse on Friday to host the Atlanta Dream (7:00 p.m.) on Breast Health Awareness Night.

Red Bull Indianapolis GP in town this weekend

The world's fastest motorcycle racers will descend on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway this week as the Red Bull Indianapolis GP returns for an eighth year with a full slate of racing from Aug. 7-9.

Indianapolis is the 10th round in the MotoGP World Championship and marks the start of the second half of the season. MotoGP, Moto2 and Moto3 classes will take the track all three days along with the new MotoAmerica series appearing at IMS for the first time.

The following are some of the storylines for the Red Bull Indianapolis GP:

The MotoGP World Championship returns to the Indianapolis Motor Speedway for the second time following a reconfiguration of the road course that was completed prior to last year's race. The current course is slightly shorter than the original circuit at 2.591 miles (4.170 km) but retains its 16-turn layout, with turns 3, 4, 7, 15 and 16 having been reconfigured and the entire infield section of the circuit having been repaved.

Two-time defending world champion Marc Marquez has won four years in a row at IMS - in Moto2 in 2011 and 2012 and MotoGP in 2013 and 2014. With his MotoGP win at IMS last year, Marquez tied Australian legend Mick Doohan for the most consecutive wins (10) in a season in the modern era. He started on the pole the following week on his Repsol Honda at Brno, Czech Republic, but his streak ended when he finished fourth as Dani Pedrosa won the race. Marquez enters this weekend's action at IMS in fourth place in the MotoGP standings.

Italian legend Valentino Rossi, a nine-time world champion and winner of the inaugural Red Bull Indianapolis GP in 2008, has enjoyed an amazing season on his Movistar Yamaha, entering this week's race as the points leader. Rossi, who finished second in the 2014 standings to Marquez, has been on the podium in each round this year with wins in Qatar, Argentina and Assen. Rossi will be looking for his second win at Indianapolis.

Two-time world champion and 2009 Indianapolis winner Jorge Lorenzo of Spain enters this week's action in second place in the MotoGP standings, trailing his teammate Rossi by 13 points. Earlier this year, Lorenzo won in front of his home crowd in Jerez, which was followed up by triumphs in Le Mans, Mugello and Barcelona.

Spain's Dani Pedrosa, Marquez's teammate with Repsol Honda, is the only other returning rider who has won the MotoGP race at Indianapolis (2010 and 2012). Pedrosa missed three races earlier this season due to injury, but reemerged to step on the podium with a third-place finish in front of his home crowd in Catalunya, and finished as the runner-up at Sachsenring. Pedrosa is in seventh place in the 2015 MotoGP standings.

In Moto2, Mika Kallio of Finland - currently ninth in the 2015 standings - will return to defend his Indianapolis title. Efen Vasquez of Spain will attempt to win the Moto3 race for the second consecutive year at IMS on his Honda. Vasquez is currently fifth in the 2015 Moto3 standings.

The Red Bull Indianapolis GP was named by MotoGP as the circuit's "Best Grand Prix" in 2014, the first North American race so honored. Selection criteria included venue, promotion and overall operations.

Boscan tames Bulls in 5-1 Indians win

Wilfredo Boscan pitched six shutout innings as the Indianapolis Indians (64-47) cruised to a 5-1 victory over the Durham Bulls (53-57) Tuesday night at Durham Bulls Athletic Park.

Elias Diaz drove in two runs and Keon Broxton reached base twice to stretch his on-base streak to 28 consecutive games in the win. Broxton's streak is the longest for the Tribe since 2009 and ranks second in the International League behind only former Tribe MVP Matt Hague (37 games).

Boscan (8-3) earned his fourth straight victory to gain a share of the team lead with eight total wins on the season. The right-hander is unbeaten since June 22.

The Indians struck early when Willy Garcia singled home Diaz in the top of the first inning. Diaz and Broxton drove home runs in the third to expand the lead, and Gorkys Hernandez capped the scoring when he plated Tony Sanchez in the ninth.
