County Council schedules budget hearings for next week

By FRED SWIFT
Hamilton County government is big business in case you hadn't been aware, upwards of $150 million big. Budget hearings for 2016 county operations get underway September 8. The County Council has budget hearings scheduled on the 8th, 9th and 10th to review each of the departmental budgets that make up the county's spending plans for next year.
A public hearing on the overall budget will be held on October 7 and final adoption is set for October 19. The total of all the departmental budgets is legally advertised at $163 million, but that is high and will likely end up being considerably lower.

County Auditor Dawn Coverdale says salaries, for example, proposed to increase seven percent overall, will likely not be that much. Salaries are the largest item in the budget. The budget must fit within available revenue and next year's revenue figures are not yet certain. County Option Income Tax (COIT) estimated collections have yet to be received from state officials.
Meanwhile also in county government, work has begun on Hamilton County's historic courthouse to give it a face

Blackhawk Commons

The historic Adams Township School will soon be the heart of a neighborhood revitalization effort near downtown Sheridan. Hamilton County Area Neighborhood Development (HAND), Inc. and the owner of the school entered into an agreement for HAND to purchase the school to preserve the historic building while creating housing opportunities for Sheridan residents. The redevelopment project is being called "Blackhawk Commons."

Adams Township Schools sold the property in 2010 and an effort to convert the facility into a convention center ran into financial difficulty last year. "The owner had a great vision for the school property, and I believe the entire community hoped he'd succeed," said Nate Lichti, Executive Director. "We are grateful to have this opportunity to preserve the historic property and to restore the school back to being a vital community asset."

The plan is to save the gym for public use, and to maintain the existing floorplan as much as possible. HAND aims to create 30 apartments that will be affordable to individuals and families living and working in the community. HAND has an excellent record of providing high quality multifamily housing in Sheridan with its development, ownership, and management of Spicewood Gardens. It maintains a waiting list of approximately 200 people there and hopes to fill some of that housing demand with Blackhawk Commons.

"As alumni share fond memories of the school, and sincere desire to help out, we're excited to see this restoration take shape," reports Lichti. "The Historic Society has all the school photographs dating back to 1936, so we share their dream of displaying these again in their natural home. Construction won't begin for 12 months, so we anticipate Sheridan residents really taking ownership of this development."

It is crucial that redevelopment of the former Adams School occur as soon as possible. The building is vacant and in disrepair. The longer it remains vacant, the more likely that even more damage will

Music & All That Jazz’s final show of the season tonight

Noblesville Main Street and Executive Director Chris Owens are pleased to announce that Music & All That Jazz will return to the courthouse square for the final show of the season this Friday, September 4, 2015.

The Tucker Brothers are taking the jazz scene by storm. IU grads Joel Tucker, guitarist, and Nick Tucker, bassist, play many jazz styles and are as easy going as they come, offering lots of standards and bop burners but with a modern touch. Enjoy Joel and Nick's talented jazz combo as they share their music on the Noblesville square for the first time.

Noblesville Main Street invites our community to the beautiful historic courthouse square for this free concert Friday evening, from 7 to 9 p.m.

occur. HAND is making a presentation to the Town Council to explain its proposal for Blackhawk Commons at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 10. No action by the Town Council is being requested at this public meeting.

A second public presentation will be made on Wednesday, September 30th at 5pm, immediately before a Leadership Training HAND is offering at the Sheridan Library. Individuals are invited to stay for dinner and a discussion on ways to renew Sheridan as part of this two session leadership workshop. The second session will be at 6 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 1. Pre-registration for the leadership workshop is required because dinner is also provided.

The courthouse is an example of French Second Empire architecture, believed to be the only intact surviving courthouse of such design in the state. This style was popular in the 1860s-70s. It was built in 1878 at a cost of $100,000.

Pioneer Construction Company has the contract to do painting of trim, tuck pointing of some brickwork and replacing of some window ledges. Inside the building repairs and upgrading of the elevator is planned.

The work will also include painting and repairs on the former jail, currently the county museum located adjacent to the Courthouse.

New business center in Marion has local ties...

Indiana Wesleyan partners with Launch Fishers to open The Refinery

Indiana Wesleyan University has partnered with Launch Fishers to establish The Refinery Business Center in Marion.

The Refinery will be a 6,000 square foot co-working space for entrepreneurs, non-profits, small businesses, students, and all other types of independent professionals. Marion native and founding partner, Shelby Bowen, said he believes The Refinery will be a great addition to the thriving entrepreneurial culture in central Indiana.

"The Refinery team is excited to work with residents, students, and visitors, of all ages and trades," said Bowen, "and to provide extraordinary local and state resources for entrepreneurs to continue to start and grow businesses in central Indiana."

The Refinery will offer co-working desks, conference rooms, private offices, Wi-Fi, a café area, patio seating, and other professional office amenities for members and guests as well as educational programming for new entrepreneurs. Bowen said the center will also house a large, versatile classroom intended for entrepreneurial-oriented youth and adult programming.

John Wechsler, founder of Launch Fishers and adviser on the project, said that Marion is a great place for an entrepreneurial center because of its central location between Ft. Wayne and Indianapolis, along with being the home to Indiana Wesleyan's main campus.

Wechsler created Launch Fishers three years ago, designing it as a place to help entrepreneurs start and grow their businesses. The "launchpad," as Wechsler likes to call it, moved into its new office at 12175 Visionary Way over the summer and has helped several entrepreneurs incubate their ideas into successful multi-employee companies.

"Drawing on the strengths of proximity to major metro areas and university presence, The Refinery will be well-positioned to be a valued part of the Indiana Co-working Passport network." Carol Brown, Associate Dean of Life Calling & Career, said the University continues to invest in initiatives that have a broad impact for their students and the communities they serve."

"Indiana Wesleyan University is eager to support economic development in Indiana by encouraging our students to work within communities to provide world-changing life experiences," said Brown. Indiana Wesleyan plans to support the program in a variety of ways, including technical support, facilitating educational programs, university-to-business networking projects, and paid internships through the Lilly Endowment Grant, called "Accelerate Indiana."

According to Bowen, The Refinery Business Center was made possible in large part by a grant from the Community Foundation of Grant County. "They have been a community partner in every sense of the word," said Bowen. Dawn Brown, Executive Director of the Foundation, said The Refinery was another great way to further the mission of the Foundation. "The Refinery speaks to one of the Community Foundation's core purposes, which is to connect people, resources, and causes to promote sustainable impact towards the betterment of Grant County," said Brown.

The Refinery, located at 2301 S. Western Ave. in Marion, is scheduled to open Sept. 24. You can learn more about The Refinery at www.therefinerycenter.com or by contacting Shelby Bowen at Shelby@therefinerycenter.com or (317) 670-7997.

Public hearing for new I-69 interchange at 106th Street is Sept. 10

The Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) and project partners will hold a public hearing at 6 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 10, 2015 at the Fishers City Hall Auditorium to present and discuss proposed plans to build a new interchange at Interstate 69 and 106th Street.

INDOT, the city of Fishers and Hamilton County have partnered to fund construction of a two-lane, oval-shaped roundabout on 106th Street over I-69 and ramps to and from both directions of the interstate. Fishers and Hamilton County will collectively contribute up to $12 million toward the estimated $34 million cost of building the new interchange.

The existing bridge over I-69 is proposed to be removed as part of the project and replaced with two separate bridges that will each carry one direction of traffic. The bridge carrying westbound traffic on the north side of 106th Street is also designed to accommodate non-vehicular traffic.

Preliminary designs, tentative construction schedules and proposed maintenance of traffic plans will be discussed during a formal presentation beginning at 6 p.m. Written and verbal statements from the public will be collected during the hearing and for a period of two weeks after the hearing. All public comments will be reviewed and considered by INDOT.

The project is intended to reduce congestion at existing I-69 interchanges at 96th and 116th streets, increase traffic safety in the area and provide direct interstate access at 106th Street. Direct access will serve existing residential and commercial destinations and accommodate development and population growth in the area.

Southeastern wins another tough one

The Hamilton Southeastern volleyball team has become good at winning dramatic matches against ranked opponents.

The Class 4A No. 3 Royals bounced back after dropping the first set at Avon Thursday to win the next three sets and defeat the 4A No. 5 Orioles. It was a tough match, as Southeastern won all three of those sets by two points, and two of them went into volleyball's version of overtime: A team usually wins a set when it gets to 25 points, but it must win by two points, so if the score is 24-24, a team has to get to 26 points, and so forth.

The Royals absorbed a 20-25 first set loss to battle Avon all the way to a 32-30 second set victory. Southeastern won the third set 25-23, and needed extra points again in the fourth before finally clinching that set - and the match - 30-28.

Hayden Huybers had another career night with 23 kills in the middle. The outside tandem of Meredith Phillips and Caitlin Kane combined for 17 kills. Kenzie Hinshaw had 42 assists running a highly effective offense for the Royals.

"I was really proud of how our captains and seniors stepped up in set two and got us back in the match," said HSE coach Jason Young.

The Royals are now 10-1 on the season. Up next is what Young calls "Tiger week," with the Yorktown Tigers on Tuesday and the Fishers Tigers on Thursday. Yorktown will be a big match, as the Tigers are the new No. 1-ranked team in 3A. Southeastern upset last week's No. 1 3A team, Providence, on Saturday, knocking the Pioneers back to No. 2 in this week's 3A poll.

Southeastern's junior varsity team dropped its second match of the season, falling in two sets to Avon. While the Royals did not allow a late arrival on a long bus ride to affect their game, the Orioles had a few more key plays to seal the match.

"Good swings and defense were seen from Bria King," said Young. Southeastern's JV is 5-2 for the season.

Meanwhile, the Royals freshman team remains undefeated, beating Avon 25-21, 25-8 to run its record to 7-0. The team's leading server was Ariel Jessop.

"Great sets by Ava Bacon allowed Abbi Danielson to connect for multiple kills," said Young.

Fishers won an all-county match with Noblesville on Thursday, 25-18, 25-17, 26-24.

The Tigers took control of the first set thanks to Rachel Desmarais, who served six consecutive points, getting one ace in the process. Disney Stallworth helped Fishers with six kills on 10 attempts, and no errors in the first set.

The Tigers won the first two sets, and led early in the third, but Noblesville jumped back into the match with aggressive serving and strong attacking from outside hitters Josie Sanders and Ashley Birkhimer. Fishers was finally able to close it out 26-24.

Stallworth had 10 kills on a .296 hitting percentage. Mallory Hernandez served five aces, with three blocks, three digs and two kills.

Sanders hit nine kills for the Millers, with Birkhimer smacking eight. Allie Phillips dished out 18 assists. Birkhimer served five aces, and Brenna Everingham made nine digs.

The Tigers host Greenwood Saturday morning, while Noblesville hosts McCutcheon on Wednesday.

On Tuesday, Fishers beat Anderson 25-14, 25-18, 25-6.

Hamilton Heights beat Lewis Cass in three sets, 25-22, 25-18, 25-18 on Thursday.

Sarah Sipe had another big-hitting game, with 16 kills and three aces. Ana Collar hit five kills. Shelby Hoover handed out 12 assists, with Ashlyn Bedwell dishing out 11. Mallory Morphew made 18 digs. Bedwell served two aces and Hoover hit one.

Fishers' Mallory Hernandez contributed in several ways to the Tigers' volleyball win over Noblesville on Thursday. Hernandez served five aces and added three blocks, three digs and two kills.

The Huskies' junior varsity team won 25-18, 25-13.

Abigail Huser led the squad with 19 crafty kills. Freshman Kinsey McAfee finished the match with six aces and 33 assists.

Westfield defeated Zionsville in straight sets Thursday, 25-19, 25-20, 25-22.

Eagles looking for...

First out of state victory

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Stunned by a 34-0 loss to Class 1A powerhouse Lafayette Central Catholic, Guerin Catholic coach Tom Dilley says his Golden Eagles are moving on.

Guerin will host Marmion Academy out of Illinois this Saturday (5 p.m.)

"It was a hard pill to swallow, but we're moving on," Dilley said. "Our senior class, led by our four senior captains, has worked quickly to move the Central Catholic game behind.

"What matters now," Dilley added, "is looking at what is in front of us."

Next up is Marmion, a team which began its season a week ago with a 24-14 victory over Plainfield Central, another Illinois team. Guerin Catholic had opened play the previous week with a 29-6 win over Martinsville.

Marmion Academy is Guerin's first opponent from Illinois. The Eagles are 0-2 against out of state teams, having lost to Kettering Alter out of Ohio 49-21 in 2012 and 34-3 in 2013.

"Marmion is a good team," said Dilley. "They have a good offense, led by a 6-4, 200-pound quarterback."

Following the shutout dished out by Central Catholic, Guerin will try to get its good offense back on track.

Grand Park Cup is this weekend

This weekend, the Indiana Fire Juniors are hosting the 2nd annual Grand Park Cup Soccer Tournament for youth soccer teams ages U8-U14. The event features 250 teams from four states: Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Ohio.

“Our club tournaments continue to grow each year, drawing more players from around the Midwest and beyond,” said WYSA/Indiana Fire Juniors executive director Mark Webber. “This year’s event grew by just close to 100 teams from our inaugural Labor Day Event. We attribute this growth to the precision management and dedication of the IFJ Staff and the world class facility we play in. Visitors consistently rave about the quality of the facility and the surrounding areas. Our club volunteers are happy to share suggestions with visitors for dining out or spending their free time during their stays.”

The Grand Park Cup is anticipated to result in more than 14,000 visitors, 2,000 hotel stays and an economic impact of more than $1.1 million.

“We’re excited to host the 2nd annual Grand Park Cup soccer tournament. The economic impact of this event will be a benefit to our local businesses,” said Westfield Mayor Andy Cook.

Games take place from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturday and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Offense clicks behind Boscan as Indians retake first

Josh Bell scored once and drove in two runs, John Bowker homered and the Indianapolis Indians reclaimed the top spot in the International League West division with a 6-3 win over the Columbus Clippers Thursday night at Victory Field.

The Tribe concludes its season's series against Columbus with a 1.0-game lead in the division, and the clubs will now alternate two-game sets with Louisville and Toledo to close out the regular season.

Bell had two singles and a sacrifice fly to account for half of the Indians' six runs. He also scored twice last night, finishing with five of the Tribe's eight total runs during the home set with Columbus.

Bowker homered in the sixth to pad the lead, 4-1, and seal starter Wilfredo Boscan's 10th win of the year. The right-hander Boscan has won six straight decisions and is unbeaten over his last 12 outings since June 27.

IndyCar ratings jump 16 percent

Bolstered by the most-watched Verizon IndyCar Series race ever on NBCSN for the season-ending GoPro Grand Prix of Sonoma, INDYCAR telecasts on ABC and NBCSN posted an overall viewership increase of 16 percent in 2015 that included a 34 percent jump in NBCSN viewership.

The Aug. 30 race at Sonoma Raceway, won by Scott Dixon to also secure the 2015 Verizon IndyCar Series championship in a thrilling tiebreaker over Juan Pablo Montoya, averaged 841,000 viewers on NBCSN, according to The Nielsen Company. Viewership peaked at more than one million in the final full quarter hour. It was the most-watched cable telecast of a Verizon IndyCar Series race since NBCSN acquired the rights in 2009 and the highest cable viewership since the Richmond race on ESPN in 2008.

For the year, combining NBCSN and ABC telecasts, Verizon IndyCar Series races averaged 1.144 million viewers - an increase of 16 percent over 2014. That follows a 19 percent viewership surge in 2014 over the previous year.

Full-season ratings for all Verizon IndyCar Series telecasts improved 15 percent to a 0.76 average in 2015, following a 20 percent upsurge in 2014. NBCSN ratings improved 36 percent to a 0.34 average this season, on the heels of a 32 percent increase last year.

Over the past two years, INDYCAR has increased average TV ratings and viewership by 36 percent and 38 percent, respectively.

"More fans found a lot to like with the Verizon IndyCar Series in 2015 and the growth in television ratings and viewership reflect that," said Mark Miles, CEO of Hulman & Co., parent of INDYCAR and the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. "Our TV audiences increased significantly as we approached the championship that went down to the very last lap. As it came down to the wire, motorsports fans were attracted by the thrilling racing and compelling rivalries."

Viewership of NBCSN telecasts averaged 507,000 in 2015, an increase of 34 percent, following a 34 percent rise in 2014. Total viewership on both media partners in 2015 increased from the year before, even with two fewer events.

The Sonoma race broadcast showed a 123 percent increase in viewership from the 2014 race and marked the third consecutive NBCSN telecast seen by more than 600,000 viewers, following the Aug. 2 race at Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course and the Aug. 23 event at Pocono Raceway.
