Hamilton County Reporter

Election Day is soon, but...

Not much to show for it in Hamilton County

By FRED SWIFT

Election Day is just over a week away, but in Hamilton County you would hardly know it; no advertising, no rallies and almost no yard signs. In fact for voters in Sheridan, Westfield, Carmel and Atlanta there will be no election because there are no contests. Noblesville, Cicero, Fishers and Arcadia will each have an election, but choices will be very limited.

Mayors, city clerks, city council members and city judges will be elected November 3 in Noblesville, Carmel, Fishers and Westfield. Town councils and clerk-treasurers will be elected in Sheridan, Cicero, Arcadia and Atlanta. There is no election for county and state offices, that will come next year.

Sample ballots for those communities with elections are found elsewhere in today's Reporter. In Noblesville and Fishers the only contests are for seats on city council-at-large, in Cicero there is a contest for clerk-treasurer and in Arcadia for one town council seat.

All the municipal candidates elected next week will take office on January 1 for four-year terms. With the new year, Noblesville officially becomes a second class city with a nine-member city council instead of the present seven and city clerk and comptroller positions will replace the present office of clerk-treasurer.

While it is not unusual in Hamilton County to find few Democratic candidates for office, this election may set a record for fewest Democrats ever seeking office: only four plus one independent. Republicans will take all the rest of the local municipal offices by default.

As a result, voter turnout is expected to set records or near-records for low participation. Absentee voting usually gives an indication of how the election turnout will be. Despite a slight increase in absentee balloting in recent days, early voting has been slow and the outlook remains poor for election day.

In the meantime, with so little interest in this year's election, political attention is being turned to next spring's primary now just over six months away. Numerous offices at the county, state and national levels will be on the ballot. Voters can expect spirited races for everything from County Council to U.S. President.

Election signs may be few and far between in Hamilton County this year, but Cicero Clerk-Treasurer Jan Unger has a few of them around, such as this one in the center of town. Election Day is a week from Tuesday.

Don't try and walk in my high heels

By JANET HART LEONARD

You can't walk in my high heels. They do not fit.

In other words, as well as you think you know me, you have never walked in my shoes.

You say you know how I feel, but you can't.

How I process grief is different from you. It may take longer than you think it should. It may be that I hide my tears and you don't, but my grief is real.

You say you envy me. Don't. You have no idea what battles I have faced to get where I am today. The scars are there. I have learned to hide them. I will always be broken. I just have given myself grace to mend but I will never be totally healed.

Sometimes when you ask how I am I tell you that I am fine, I'm not. I may not be in the mood to explain myself. I may know that you will share my thoughts with others. I've learned, the hard way, whom I can trust with my thoughts.

Your perception of my reality is blurred. Think what you may of me, I am just struggling to be ok. Your sug-

Tuesday at the 4-H Fairgrounds... Forum on Home and Holiday Safety

Hamilton County Sheriff Mark Bowen invites area residents and concerned citizens to a public education forum regarding Halloween, holiday shopping, and home safety. This informational meeting will be held at the Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds on Tuesday, October 27 from 7:00-8:00PM. With the increased attention on sex and violent offenders from the media, especially around Halloween and holidays, Sheriff Bowen will provide facts to concerned parents on how to locate homes and workplaces of offenders. Specifically, he will address concerns for Halloween night as well as provide safety tips for parents and children. There will be a computer with sex offender registry information that parents can use to check their address and compare it to the addresses of registered offenders.

Also, with the upcoming holiday season quickly approaching, Detective Alex Petty and IT Specialist Zach SeRine will present concepts for the best methods of online shopping and personal safety while at shopping centers. With the rapid advances in technology, having a line of defense against identity theft, hacking, and other cyber-crime issues is vital for the thousands who will be shopping from the convenience of a computer or mobile device.

In addition to holiday safety tips, Detective Greg Lockhart will give attendees a clear understanding of home safety—what to do if someone finds that his/her home has been burglarized, and what to do if someone is home when an intruder enters. He will also give proactive tips that may help prevent a home from being targeted. As homeowners prepare for the holiday season, a prime time for thefts and burglaries, Detective Lockhart will assist residents in knowing how to best provide a defense against crime and, if a victim of crime, be better prepared to assist law enforcement in apprehending criminals.

In 2014, the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office worked 266 theft cases, 67 burglary cases, and 66 fraud/forgery cases. To date in 2015, the Sheriff's Office has taken 171 theft reports, 56 burglary reports, and 60 fraud/forgery reports. Hamilton County averages approximately 150 individuals on the Sex and Violent Offender Registry at any given time. This number does not reflect statistics in Hamilton County areas covered by other law enforcement agencies.

All community members are encouraged to attend. Everyone who attends the forum will be given information and resources that show ways to be proactive in protecting children, homes, identities, and belongings. There will be resources available that detail credit and debit card safety, new technology for home alarms and camera systems, and a home inventory company. Attendees will have the opportunity to ask questions of officers and presenters following the presentation.

gestions, while you mean well, will be ignored. You just don't get it. Remember, my high heels don't fit you.

I may look like I have it all together but I don't. I doubt that I ever will. I just do the best that I can to make a difference.

Sometimes I just need you to show up and walk beside me as I teeter with weak ankles and a tender heart to walk in my high heels. You don't have to have all the answers. You just need to show up.

My strength comes from battles that I have endured. You weren't there when I faced my worst fears. You think I am brave? There were times that I faced my fears with such trepidation that I could barely catch my breath...but I had no choice.

My hope is that you never have to even attempt to walk in my high heels. At the end of the day it won't be just your feet that hurt...but your heart.

I look back where I have written these thoughts in my journals and I see how far I have come. I still don't have it all together. Life sucker punched me a few times. I was able to get back up. I dusted off the hurt. I walked away from closed doors that had been slammed shut. I learned to not go back and shake the locks.

I kept the faith that someday it would all make sense. For the most part, now it does.

And I know...

Contentment is not a place of perfection but appreciation. It's looking back at your journey and being able to take off the high heels and rest. It's looking back and seeing how far you have come. It's not that anyone will ever recognize your bravery but you know how brave you have been. You know. And that is all that matters.

Funny things is that I seldom wear high heels anymore. Perhaps they are a reminder of the pain.

Fire destroys home on Fawn Hollow Lane

A Noblesville home was destroyed by a fire Saturday afternoon.

At approximately 5:33 p.m. the Noblesville Fire Department was dispatched to 14906 Fawn Hollow Lane for a possible residence fire. At 5:40 p.m. the first arriving units on-scene stated they had heavy smoke and flames coming from the garage and roof on the west side of the home. Due to 15 mph winds with gusts to 20 mph out of the west, the first arriving units immediately marked this a working incident and went into a defensive attack. As firefighters made the initial attack and slowed the fire spread, an offensive attack was then initiated. At 5:42 p.m. it was benchmarked as having water on the fire and was marked under control at 6:25 p.m.

The home was occupied by Sarah Freeman, her daughter and her mother, Marina Clifton. Sarah's husband, Donald Freeman, was at work at the time of the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman were renting the home which is owned by Adam Peeples, of Dublin, Ohio.

Upon interviewing Mrs. Freeman, she stated she smelled what appeared to be the smell of leaves and wood 10 minutes prior to the fire. Mrs. Freeman stated she heard loud popping coming from the garage. Mrs. Freeman opened the door to the garage and saw a large fire in the garage. Mrs. Freeman then ran upstairs, woke her napping mother and grabbed her daughter. They were able to safely exit the home through the rear sliding doors.

The house was destroyed by the fire, which started in the garage. The cause of the fire at this time is listed as undetermined. The Freeman family does have renter's insurance.

As a result of the fire one vehicle also sustained damage. There were no injuries as a result of this fire. The Noblesville Fire Department was assisted by the Noblesville Police Department and Fishers Fire Department. The Noblesville Fire Department would like to remind everyone in case of a fire, exit the structure and call 911 from a safe meeting place.

Leinheiser sets another record...

Cross country moving eight on to state

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

If anyone had any doubts that Hamilton County is the best cross country county in the state of Indiana, they were erased after Saturday's Carmel semi-state meet at Northview Church.

Eight county programs - four boys teams and four girls teams - competed at the semi-state, and all eight advanced to next Saturday's IHSAA state finals in Terre Haute. In fact, the county swept the top four in the boys race. In addition, two Noblesville boys and a Westfield girl qualified for state as individuals.

The boys meet continued the back-and-forth between Carmel and Fishers. The Greyhounds won the sectional title two weeks ago, with the Tigers winning the regional trophy last week. The semi-state went to Carmel, as it edged Fishers by 10 points, 64-74.

Ben Veatch led the way for the 'Hounds, and for everyone else. Veatch sailed to the individual title in 14:58.1, 20 seconds ahead of second place. Carmel had its next four runners finish in the top 26, and that helped the Greyhounds seal the semi-state championship.

"It was really close at the sectional, it was really close at the regional, it was really close in the semi-state, so I think we can all look ahead and see that it's going to be really close next week, too," said Greyhounds coach Colin Altevogt.

Fishers had its top five runners all finish in the top 25, with Trevor Thompson pacing the Tigers by finishing 10th.

"Just two really, really good teams, two really even teams, and I think Westfield and HSE could do really well next week also," said Altevogt.

The Shamrocks got past the Royals by six points for third place, with Westfield scoring 103 points and Hamilton Southeastern totaling 109. Both schools had two runners place in the top 10: Alec Hartman and Aaron Bennett were fifth and sixth respectively for the 'Rocks, while fourth-place Gabe Fendel and seventh-place Bryce Barnett paced the Royals.

Noblesville's two advancing individuals both landed in the top 30. Eric Hoffman finished 16th and Cole Martin was 29th.

The girls race saw some close competition for the top six teams, but there was no doubt about the winner. Carmel ran away with the meet by scoring an impressive 39 points. Cathedral was the runner-up with 108, and Zionsville placed third with 121.

The Greyhounds got all of their top five runners in the top 20, including the race winner. That would be Sarah Leinheiser, who is still just a junior but is already racing towards legendary status. Leinheiser ran the Northview Church course in a time of 17:22.3, a new course and semi-state record.

"I don't think anybody in Indiana a year ago would've thought any girl in Indiana was going to come close to what Rohrer's doing," said 'Hounds coach Mark Ellington. That would be Anna Rohrer, the now-graduated Mishawaka standout who obliterated courses left and right and holds the state meet record of 17:08.8.

"And I'm certain they would not have picked out Sarah Leinheiser as the girl to be doing anything like this," said Ellington. The coach said that Leinheiser "ran just a phenomenal race today," and credited her with running smart. He noted that a runner has to race smart on the tricky Northview course, "and not go out over your head the opening (kilometer), because it's the fastest K on the course, and then you get punished the rest of the way."

But Leinheiser made her move at the 2K mark, opened up a lead at the 3K, "and at 4K it was a foregone conclusion for her," said Ellington.

Stacy Morozov finished fourth for Carmel and Maddie Dalton placed sixth.

As for the other county teams, Noblesville finished fourth to guarantee the Millers a place at state. Abigail Little led the way with an eighth-place finish.

Fishers placed fifth, marking the first time that both the Tiger boys and girls teams will be running together at state. Miya Wai was the Fishers' leader, placing 19th.

Hamilton Southeastern is heading back to state after grabbing the sixth-place team spot. Laurel Black and Sabrina Bippus were 22nd and 23rd respectively for the Royals.

Another meet, another course record: Carmel's Sarah Leinheiser dominated the semi-state cross country meet at Northview Church on Saturday, setting a new course and meet mark of 17:22.3.

Westfield's Devon Leahy placed ninth, giving her one of the individual qualifying spots.

Volleyball sectionals...

Royals triumph in four, play Zionsville Tuesday for regional

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Moments after his Hamilton Southeastern volleyball team won the Class 4A Sectional 8 championship, Royals coach Jason Young pointed up to the wall in the HSE gym that highlights the various championships the school has won.

"If you look, we got a pretty barren banner that's going to have another number going up here pretty soon," he said. "It's huge for the program."

Southeastern had won a sectional title only twice before, in 1992 and 2008. The No. 2-ranked Royals finally got their third title on Saturday, beating No. 13 Carmel in four sets, 25-21, 25-27, 25-25-14, 25-18. This sends HSE on to Tuesday's regional, where it will play Zionsville.

"We've worked so hard for this, and it's just an incredible feeling that the work's paid off," said Hayden Huybers, one of three seniors on the Southeastern squad. Her fellow 12th-graders agreed that all the work they've done has been worth it - it's carried them to a high state ranking, a 33-2 record and a top 15 national ranking. And now a sectional trophy.

"We've been working really hard in practice, and it's good that our work showed out on the court," said senior Natalie Mills.

"I'm just so proud of my team, and I know that this is just one step on a journey that we're going to take all the way to state," said senior Lauren Boswell.

The Royals beat Carmel in three sets at the beginning of the season, but Young was aware that a possible post-season meeting with the defending 4A state champions would be a much different scenario.

"We've seen a lot of them lately," said Young. "I spent Saturday watching them at the Carmel Invite. Obviously the last two months they've gotten a lot better. They're an outstanding team. They're a young team that just continued to get better. We knew it was going to be a dogfight. Just so thrilled to come out at home with a win in the sectional championship."

The Royals edged out the first set 25-21, but the Greyhounds rolled through much of the second set, at one point leading 17-9. Carly Cason, a senior that was part of the 'Hounds three consecutive state finals appearances, got her team ahead with a kill.

Southeastern started to come back though, working its way to 21-16. From there, the Royals scored seven straight points, including an ace from Mills. A block by the Greyhounds' Kari Truax ended the run, but HSE got itself to set point at 24-22.

Carmel saved both of those with kills, but a kill from Huybers gave the Royals another set point at 25-24. The 'Hounds saved that one, then won the next two to take the second set. Cason's kill evened the match.

Carmel boys, Fishers girls fall in semi-state

The Hamilton County soccer season ended on Saturday, as the Fishers girls and Carmel boys both lost in the championship game of their respective Class 2A semi-states.

Up at South Bend St. Joseph, the No. 7-ranked Tigers fell to No. 2 Penn 3-0 in the final. Fishers beat No. 16 Munster 1-0 in the semi-finals, with Emily Buchman scoring the goal.

At Evansville Harrison, the No. 6 Greyhounds lost to No. 7 Center Grove 2-1 in the championship. Andreas Roslender scored a first-half goal for Carmel. The 'Hounds swept past East Central 3-0 in the semi-finals, with Roslender, Joel Hudson and Tyler Majeski each scoring one goal.

ROYALS Southeastern snapped back to take a 13-3 lead in the third set. Huybers served eight straight points, including back-to-back aces, during that run. Carmel closed to within 16-12, but the Royals went on another run to give them the set. Makenzie Hinshaw's net tip gave HSE a 2-sets-to-1 lead. HSE bolted in front again in the fourth set, leading 7-3, then 15-9. That margin would hold for the entire set, with the Royals winning crucial points anytime Carmel started to make a little run. Caroline Kirchner ended the match with a kill. Huybers smacked 15 kills, with Caitlin Kane hitting 11. Hinshaw dished out 31 assists. The Royals totaled 77 team digs, with Burgess making 19, Caitlin Kane 15, Grace Kane 14 and Huybers 11. Southeastern served up nine aces as a team, and nine blocks. Huybers hit four of those aces, while she and Lark Jones each made 2.5 blocks. Stats for Carmel were unavailable. In the morning semi-finals, the Royals swept Westfield 25-18, 25-22, 27-25, while Carmel cruised past Anderson 25-13, 25-12, 25-17. In Class 3A action at Delta, Guerin Catholic advanced to the championship with a three-set win over Tipton, 25-17, 25-16, 25-12. Molly Witt had 12 kills and six blocks, with Lauren Gandhi making three blocks. Megan Hook collected 19 digs, and Raley Ricker had 13. Gandhi dished out 33 assists. The Golden Eagles fell in the championship match to No. 1-ranked Yorktown 25-11, 25-19, 25-11. Jasmine Wolfgram hit six kills, while Kathryn Reifel served three aces. Hook had 17 digs and Gandhi handed out 15 assists.	From Page 10
