HAPPY THANKSGIVING

Construction could start within four months...

New Riverview facility planned for Westfield

By FRED SWIFT

If all goes well Riverview's new Westfield outpatient facility will get underway within the next four months. The 100,000 square foot building will occupy the north-east corner of U.S. 31 and Ind. 32, formerly Westfield school property.

Architect for Riverview Health's Board of Trustees is American Structurepoint of Indianapolis. Structurepoint presented drawings and received approval Monday night at a hospital board meeting, according to Riverview administrator Pat Fox.

The Westfield project will come before any expansion on the Noblesville campus, Fox said. Eventually Riverview is planning to make some type of major expansion either east of the hospital on the former Kahlo Auto property or south on the east-side of River Road.

Hospital officials are expected to coordinate with city and county officials on the expansion in Noblesville. The city has hopes of developing the west side of White River and the county has hopes of seeing highway improvements and a new bridge several blocks south of Ind. 32.

Architect's rendering by American Structurepoint

Riverview Health's new outpatient facility to be built at Westfield is pictured here as it will be seen from the intersection of U.S. 31 and Ind. 32. The six-story facility costing nearly $25 million will be under construction next year and completed by September 2017.

It is time to say it again

By MARY SUE ROWLAND

There is only one message to each and every person in our world, find some happiness, somewhere. It is that time of year, the holidays. The air is filled with wonderful things and we all should count our blessings. So why is the world in such a mess. The world has been "crazy" for some time now but recently it seems worse. People who have no business hurting other people seem to be doing more of what they do.

Living in the United States is very special and we should have little to complain about yet many just cannot find a place for happiness. The very worse day ever in the United States is better than most days in other places. It has always been the little things that count the most. A smile and a positive attitude usually will go a long way to make others happy and bring happiness back to those who give.

So the challenge this week is to add something to someone else's life. Maybe it is a warm smile or a hot meal or a toy. A donation to the many gifting efforts, going on now, would be nice. Pick one thing and help someone else. This is how it works in the United States. Helping others help themselves.

How about a volunteer effort or a visit to a new church you have been thinking about attending. How about changing something in your life? How about dropping something out of your life? How about helping someone else? How about just saying "thanks" for living in the greatest nation in the world?

Yes, the "crazies" seem to have the edge but no one can take away the pride of country, family or hometown. Think about the good times and try to create them again. What made those times good? It is that time of year. Reflection, memories, new adventures, and happy times could add to everyone's holiday spirit. A new year, a new idea, a new commitment, never give up and always look up is the message. If you need something, find someone who can help you. If you know someone who needs help, help them or find them help. Neighbors and family bring support and can make everything right again. Reach out. These are times when we miss those loved ones who have stayed away for lots of different reasons. A kind word or thought or note would be appropriate. Even a note that you write and never send will help your heart to beat a little better. A note to a loved one lost telling them all the things that did not get said helps to soften a broken heart. # Unplug, create and shop local at Nickel Plate Arts Starting Nov. 27 and continuing through December, Nickel Plate Arts is packed with arts opportunities for holiday shoppers, children, crafty DIY'ers, comic book fans and more in hipstoric downtown Noblesville. Unplug and create with us!

Gifted III, Nov. 27-Dec. 26
For the third year in a row, Nickel Plate Arts will transform the Judge Stone House gallery into a unique holiday boutique where shoppers can purchase handcrafted gifts. In addition to paintings, Gifted will feature ceramics, furniture, paper arts, stained glass, sculptures, textiles and woodworking. This exhibit will celebrate the gifted artists in our community and the fine art of gift giving! Shop local and support local artists during this holiday season. Join us for the opening reception on Friday, Dec. 4, 6-9 p.m. Gifted is open every Wednesday-Friday, noon-5 p.m., and Saturdays, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

First Friday, Dec. 4, 6-9 p.m.
'Tis the season to give the gift of art! Visit Nickel Plate Arts during our December First Friday for our third annual Gifted exhibit. Our campus will sparkle with the spirit of the season, and we'll have a warm cup of holiday cheer waiting for you. Plus, we'll have activities that allow you to create gifts yourself. Wine pro Bryan Glover from Mr. G's Liquor will be here with samples of wine and other celebratory beverages. Cash bar is available, with proceeds supporting Nickel Plate Arts' programs.

Santa's Workshop: Cookies & Canvas, Dec. 5, 1-5 p.m.
What's a family holiday season without cookies, milk and Santa? Bring your kids, grandkids, nieces or nephews to spend some quality time with jolly Old Saint Nick and hear fun holiday stories. Get artsy with your Christmas celebration by participating in the kid's version of a "wine and canvas" event: Cookies and Canvas. Cookies and Canvas will feature three classes, each an hour-long: Teen Artists (ages 11-15), Young Artists (ages 6-10), and Little Artists (ages 5 and under; parents must sign up and accompany kids 5 and under). This family holiday event is sure to be magical for artists of all ages — enroll your young, aspiring artists today! (Register at nickelplatearts.org.)

Family Block-Printing Party, Dec. 10, 6-9 p.m.

This December, Nickel Plate Arts will host a first-ever family-focused Project Party. Adults can join their little ones and work together to create their own hand-made prints using block-printing techniques. Or sign up solo and create artwork to give to friends and family members. Led by local artist and recent Herron School of Art graduate Kat Ho, this class will teach participants about block printing and offer an opportunity to test out different printmaking tools using organic materials. The artist will guide participants through designing their imagery and exploring form, composition and color mixing before safely carving (kid-friendly) their blocks on materials such as potatoes. This class is sure to engage even the littlest ones! Special $40 pricing for pairs, such as couples or a parent-child duo. Perfect for creating one-of-a-kind artwork to give as holiday gifts! indication that school people got any promises of additional funds for education.

For residents north of Noblesville there's a new roundabout coming to an intersection near you. County Commissioners in their Monday meeting have the project on their agenda. The roundabout will replace the 4-way stop at the intersection of Allisonville Road and Cumberland Road.

Carmel's popular Holiday Tour of Homes sponsored by the Carmel Clay Historical Society is scheduled for December 4 & 5. It includes a buffet and auction at Coxhall Park manor house followed by trips to four of the community's most interesting and well decorated homes.

Andrew Greider, Executive Director of the county Republican organization and GOP member of the County Election Board, has resigned effective November 30. He will become Events Director for Breitbart, a conservative news and opinion news service. Taking Greider's place will be Greg Lannan.

Like everyone else, the holidays bring so many thoughts of the past, it was just the right time to say what has been said a hundred times. Maybe it will help you know just how lucky it is to live in these great United States.

New 116th/Pennsylvania streets roundabout

The new two-lane roundabout at 116th/Pennsylvania streets is now open to traffic. Westbound 116th Street traffic will be restricted to one lane between Pennsylvania Street and US 31 while crews continue work on the US 31/116th Street interchange.

Some various daytime restrictions may be necessary in the coming weeks to allow crews to complete the walking paths at the new roundabout. Also, the City of Carmel plans to remove the temporary signal at 111th Street/College Avenue - installed to help with traffic flow during the 116th/Pennsylvania streets closure - and reinstate the former four-way stop intersection in early December.

Kiser has 31-point night...

Millers roll to 71-49 win

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Miller Nation, 2015-16 style, showed up for Noblesville’s season opener Wednesday evening with a couple of questions on their minds.

How good is this young Miller team, the second team for Coach Brian McCauley?

How good is this senior kid John Kiser?

Most Miller fans came away from The Mill feeling good about both questions. Really feeling good about the 6-5 Kiser.

Noblesville had far too much for visiting Northwest to handle. Nine different Millers scored as Noblesville powered its way to a 71-49 victory.

Kiser? Not a bad opening night as he poured in 31 points and added nine rebounds.

All of which got everyone talking about Kiser. McCauley talked in terms of Kiser being an Indiana All-Star. Other talk centered around Kiser, arguably, being the best Miller basketball player since a guy by the name of Tom Coverdale.

Of course, all questions came on a night a not-too-hot Northwest team was in the building. The Millers, and Kiser, will be more tested next Friday and Saturday when the Millers hit the road to play Fishers and then Carmel.

The Howe game scheduled at NHS on this Saturday has been postponed until a later date.

“I liked the effort tonight,” McCauley said following the game. “We were not as sharp as I had hoped for. We fouled too much; we made defensive mistakes and we committed some careless turnovers.

“But, the chemistry of this team is good. I like this team,” McCauley added.

McCauley had good comments for the play of Corby Mertens. He also scored in double figures, drilling 13 points. Max Flinchum just missed double digits, scoring 8.

It was a game in which it appeared Kiser could score whenever he wanted and from most anywhere on the court.

“John played so consistently,” said McCauley.

So did the Millers, except for a bump in the road in the third quarter. Noblesville led 22-9 after one quarter and 37-25 at halftime. In the third quarter, Northwest once closed the margin to 39-33. Ryan Ogden and Kiser pumped in 3-pointers and the Millers were off and rolling again.

“I liked the way we fought out of that period of the game,” said McCauley.

The Millers hit 24-of-40 shots and stuck in 16-of-17 free throws. Noblesville was 7-of-14 from 3-point range.

Huskies win thrilling opener

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

As far as season-opening games go, the boys basketball clash between Hamilton Heights and Lebanon Wednesday night in the Husky Dome was exciting, nail-biting and the Huskies won.

It was also definitely played like a first game of the season, especially in the first quarter. sAfter a shaky start, both teams settled down to produce a thrilling finish that included EIGHT lead changes in the final two minutes and 29 seconds. Heights had the lead at the buzzer, as a Sterling Weatherford layin with less than 15 seconds to go gave the Huskies a 59-58 win over the Tigers.

"It's great," said Hunter Crist, who incidentally scored 31 points in Heights' win. "I said, I was going to be so upset if we lost tonight. I would've been going straight to my room."

Crist did everything he could to keep himself from a self-imposed grounding. So did everyone else on the team. Eight different Huskies scored, and they all scored at least two points, which means that every basket did indeed count.

"We're going to grind it out," said HH coach Chad Ballenger. "We've got other kids that can hit shots too, and I thought Hunter did a good job."

Heights led 51-43 late in the game, but a fired-up Lebanon squad erased that with a 9-0 run. A steal by sophomore Alex Siegfried moved Lebanon ahead 52-51.

After that, both teams kept matching each other basket-for-basket. Crist hit a pair of free throws, Tigers junior Trevor Lakes answered with a jump shot. Weatherford made a layin, Siegfried hit two foul shots. Crist scored on a putback, Lebanon junior Will Byrd scored to get the Tigers up 58-57.

Heights called a timeout at that point. The final basket would go to Weatherford, who was having a frustrating game: He got in foul trouble early and found himself sitting for much of the action.

But Weatherford held his nerve playing with four fouls in the fourth quarter, and hit the game-winner as the clock reached single digits. Lebanon got one more try, but a shot at the buzzer missed.

The thrilling finish contrasted with the start, which was all jitters. The Tigers led 7-6 in a quarter that featured 11 combined turnovers. Crist was held to two points - a pair of free throws, with Weatherford and TJ Freeland also making baskets.

"It's pretty much what you expect from a first game," said Ballenger. "Sloppy, turnovers, a lot of fouls."

The Huskies got going in the second quarter, blasting off to a 26-15 lead. Dustin Williams scored his five points in the period, and Crist poured in the last six of the run, including a 4-from-4 mark at the free throw line. Crist wound up making 15 of 17 foul shots on the night.

"We're going to run through him," said Ballenger. "I didn't think he shot the ball well at times, but we're going to do a lot through him. Very pleased, he handles the ball, he does a lot."

Lebanon trimmed the Huskies lead slightly before the break, as Heights took a 28-23 lead into halftime. The teams played evenly through the third quarter (where Crist scored 13 points) and that set the stage for the tense fourth quarter.

Crist scored the majority of Heights' points, so no other Husky scored more than six. But those contributions were still huge. Freeland proved himself worthy of starting with six points, and he led the Huskies' rebounding with four. Williams' second-quarter points were big, as were Tyler Wil-

‘Blazers fall to No. 2 Panthers

University ran into a buzzsaw Friday night, losing its first game of the season to Park Tudor 64-34.

The Trailblazers never led against the Panthers, who are ranked No. 2 in Class 3A. With Park Tudor leading 3-2, University star Connor Holly went to the bench with his second foul and Park Tudor scored the next 10 points to open up a 13-2 lead with 2:20 remaining in the first quarter.

The Class 1A 'Blazers trailed 33-16 at halftime. University shot 10 for 36 from the field, including just 1 of 11 on three pointers. Holly led UHS with 16 points.

University is now 1-1, and plays at Indianapolis Lutheran Saturday.

TV tourney next up for Westfield

Westfield’s Lady Shamrocks Saturday will travel north to play in what should be a good four-team tournament at Tippecanoe Valley. The Shamrocks likely will be flying high following a sensational 61-59 victory over Mt. Vernon last evening. Westfield is now 7-0 after that win. Mt. Vernon is 7-1. Mt. Vernon went into the game ranked 14th in the all-class coaches poll. Westfield was ranked 20th. Westfield’s win over Mt. Vernon was a nail-bitter. The Shamrocks jumped out early, leading 15-6 after one quarter and 29-21 at halftime. The second half was anybody’s game. Allison VanDyke poured in 24 points to lead the Shamrocks. Haliegh Reinoehl added 17 points and Maddy Grennes notched a dozen. VanDyke hit a last second floater to win the game. Mt. Vernon standout Sydney Shelton scored 23 points for the Marauders. But, the story of the game was Westfield’s Morgan Clary holding Shelton to a 4-of-20 shooting night from the field. VanDyke just missed a double-double for Coach Ginny Smith Westfield team. She had nine rebounds. Reinoehl collected seven boards. Abby Reeder had a great floor game with eight Westfield assists. Westfield shot just 5 free throws and canned four (all by Reinoehl). Mt. Vernon was 16-of-18 at the line, including a 13-14 night for Shelton. Next stop for Westfield will be the Tippecanoe Valley Tourney on Saturday. Following a 10:30 a.m. opener between Portage and the host team, Westfield will take on Fort Wayne South at 12:15 p.m. South is 1-1 with a win over Fort Wayne Wayne and a loss to Luers.

The consolation game Saturday evening is set for 6:15 p.m. and the championship game will be played at 8:15 p.m.

Indy Fuel grounded against Thunder

The Indy Fuel's first encounter with the Wichita Thunder was not a pleasant one. The visiting Fuel (9-5-1-0) could not get much going Wednesday night at INTRUST Bank Arena, finding themselves on the short side of a 5-1 defeat at the hands of the Thunder (6-10-0-1).

Wichita struck early, and added a pair of tallies in the second and third period to coast to what was just their second victory in their last 10 games dating back to Nov. 6. For the Fuel, it was the second-consecutive loss to open up a difficult five-game road trip, and the first time all season that Indy has been held pointless in back-to-back games.

Defenseman Brandon Martell gave the hometown Thunder the lead just 1:52 after the opening faceoff, a lead they would only add to. Forward Andrew Huff picked up the first of his two points on the night when he carried the puck down low and found Martell creeping down from the right point. Huff would later add the first of two insurance markers in the closing stages of the contest.

After a sluggish first frame, the Fuel picked up their play to start the second, but only fell into a deeper hole after a pair of quick strikes from Wichita. Kenton Miller made it 2-0 at 11:57 when he stepped out from the left goal post and roofed his fourth of the season past Indy goaltender Mac Carruth. Just 1:14 later and with the Fuel down a man from a retaliation slashing penalty, Danick Gauthier grabbed the first of his two goals on the night to put his team up 3-0. The power play goal broke a string of 18-straight successful penalty kills for Indy.

The Fuel made it interesting late in the game with their own goal with the man advantage, with the added help of one extra attacker. With his team on their second power play of the evening, Head Coach Scott Hillman brought Carruth to the bench, opting for a 6-on-4 advantage - a gamble that paid off. Garrett Bembridge picked up his team-leading seventh goal of the campaign when he redirected a Ben Marshall point blast at 13:34 to make it 3-1.

However, any momentum from the goal was short lived, as the Thunder tacked on two late goals from Huff and Gauthier to pull away and seal the victory. Huff beat Carruth on a breakaway at 16:00, and Gauthier made it 5-1 just 58 seconds later thanks to a great saucer pass feed from Peter Sekaris.

Carruth was saddled with the loss, stopping 33 of 35 Wichita shots. On the other end, David Shantz picked up his fourth victory of the season with a 25-save performance.

The road does not get any easier for the Fuel, whose five-game trip continues after Thanksgiving in Independence, Mo. with a pair of meetings with the ECHL-leading Missouri Mavericks. The two teams meet at Silverstein Eye Centers Arena at 8:05 p.m. ET both Friday and Saturday night. After the doubleheader with the Mavericks, Indy will make one last stop in Moline, Ill. against the Quad City Mallards on Sunday afternoon before returning for a four game homestand at Indiana Farmers Coliseum.
