Preparing for Christmas Food and Toy Drive...

Noblesville Fire receives large gift donation

On Saturday, December 19, members of the Noblesville Fire Department will spread out across the city providing items to less fortunate families as part of this year's Firefighter's Christmas Food and Toy Drive.

Thanks to the generosity from the community, Elizabeth Wood, NFD employee and coordinator of the toy portion of the annual drive, said the original goal of assisting more than 120 Noblesville families was achieved.

"We were able to add some families on top of what we normally do," she said. "We had a lot of good donations this year."

Wood said the families are provided to the fire department by Good Samaritan Network and the Noblesville Township Trustee's Office. Donations were accepted at all seven Noblesville fire stations and City Hall through December 11 and included a special drop-off from resident Crystal Keyes and her family.

"It's hard to say because many of our donations are anonymous, but to my knowledge this is one of the single largest toy donations from one family," Wood said.

Keyes, owner of Crystal Keyes Photography LLC, said she wanted to help in 2014 but had missed the deadline. To make a donation this year, Keyes offered Christmas photo sessions where she asked the 22 families scheduled to bring toys instead of paying the $250 fee.

"Each one brought a ton of stuff. It was really fun, very humbling," said Keyes. "People were bringing in huge items."

Keyes said it was her mother, Mindy Dicenso (who also assisted with the day-long photo sessions), who instilled the importance of giving back at a young age – a lesson she and husband, Jase, are teaching their five-year-old daughter, Lu.

"I love teaching our daughter this is what it's all about," Keyes said. "It is such a good feeling."

Keyes said she hopes to make the large donation an annual occurrence.

"I'm very thrilled to do something like this. That my family is in a place to help others that don't get a Christmas," said Keyes. "I'm so thrilled to live in our community. I feel like I didn't do anything."

Crystal Keyes and her daughter, Lu, join the firemen at Station 73 where she donated a large selection of toys to the Noblesville Firefighter's Christmas Food and Toy Drive. Keyes offered holiday photography sessions in exchange for toy donations.

Grand Park honored by ASBA

The ASBA announced their annual award recipients to those builders that best exemplify construction excellence. The Motz Group was given the silver award in the "Outstanding Multi-Field Facility of the Year" category for their involvement in the installation of the synthetic turf fields at Grand Park.

"The vision behind Grand Park was to build an industry, but you can't build the hospitality industry without having a world class facility for people to visit," explains Westfield Mayor Andy Cook. "When building Grand Park the city administration and the Westfield City Council were always focused on building a one of a kind sports facility that would be the best in the country and the world. The Motz Group brought a level of dedication, expertise and perfection that has helped make Grand Park the success it is today."

"Contributing to the development of the Grand Park Sports Campus has been an incredible experience for our team. We are proud that our Motz synthetic turf systems are a contributing element to such an impressive facility."

Grand Park is aptly named: grand in scope, grand in vision, and grand in purpose. The award given by the ASBA is well deserved," shared Zach Burns, President of The Motz Group.

The ASBA considered several criteria when making their decisions, such as project layout and design, site work, drainage, base construction, surface, amenities, innovation and overall impression. ASBA is a national organization for builders and suppliers of materials for tennis courts, running tracks, field and indoor sports flooring. Visit www.sportsbuilders.org for more information.

Window Decorating Contest lights up Cicero

Photo provided

The Holiday Spirit is shining bright in Cicero. The newly formed Indiana Main Street Organization, Our Town Cicero, sponsored the first Window Decorating Contest. Seventeen local businesses participated in the event by decorating their windows and businesses for the season. Ranging from Santa to the Abominable Snowman, Red Rider to the Magi and ginger bread to Santa's workshop, the community spirit was alive.

The 2015 Winner is Hair Happenings by Robin. Second place went to Big Dogs Smokehouse with All about You Hair Salon receiving Honorable Mention. Our Town Cicero appreciates the volunteer time of our two judges, Mike Corbett and Perry Williams (pictured above) from the Noblesville Main Street Association.

Thank you to all our participants in this year's competition: Erica's, Edward Jones, Red Bridge Real Estate, Sweet Inspirations, Booker Realty, Penwell Insurance, Cicero Veterinarian Clinic, Cicero Pool and Spa, First Merchants Bank, Cicero Coffee Company, Cicero Chiropractic, Northern Hamilton County Chamber, Pizza House and the Cicero Utilities Office. Check them out and you be the judge.

Noblesville Boys and Girls Club uses ‘Stuff da Bus’ money to Purchase Crock-Pots for PHHC

By RICHIE HALL
Every year, the Noblesville Boys and Girls Club puts together its "Stuff da Bus" fundraiser, where local individuals and businesses purchase a "seat" on a school bus.

The donated money is spent on a variety of programs for the Club. This year, the Club will also use it to help those outside the Club. Members of the Club used some of the money to purchase Crock-Pots, which will be donated to Partnership for a Healthy Hamilton County (PHHC).

Those Crock-Pots will be used as incentives for Healthy Helpings, a pilot program that assists those who are clients of county food pantries and mobile food distributions in learning about how to integrate fresh produce into their diets while utilizing shelf-stable ingredients often available at pantries.

Lauren Sebring, the Club's Assistant Program Director, said the kids went out shopping the day before Thanksgiving, heading to Walmart, and shopped all day, purchasing all of the Crock-Pots that were donated to Healthy Helpings.

"It pulls on their hearts," said Sebring. "It gives them an opportunity to know that they're making a difference. Not only for a day or for a week, but it's making a long-term difference for them."

Janet Gaskjen, the director of PHHC, was on hand to collect the Crock-Pots Wednesday afternoon from the members of the Club.

"It's an opportunity for them to not only experience what it is to go out and shop for things, but also allow them an opportunity to find out how many families that are actually needy in Hamilton County, and they have an interest in being able to help and provide that Crock-Pot," said Gaskjen. "It also gives that sense of pride from them, and also for all those in the community, this is a project that we're launching and it's

All aboard the Carmel Holiday Trolley

Enjoy the holiday season, and support local merchants, by experiencing the Carmel Holiday Trolley! Ride the festive trolley as you shop unique, local boutiques and galleries in our Arts & Design District, Indiana Design Center and Carmel City Center.

The Carmel Holiday Trolley will run Saturday, December 19th from 1-4 p.m. and make three stops along its fun-filled seasonal journey. Complete your shopping list or simply relax and enjoy the ride as you take in the beauty of Carmel during the holiday season. Passengers can get on and off the trolley at any stop and as often as they would like at no cost. Riders will receive free giveaways and gift ideas at each trolley stop. Other special activities are planned, including carolers and highlights of the Carmel holiday scene.

Trolley route details:
· Arts & Design District - The trolley route begins at the PNC Bank parking lot (21 North Range Line Road), also the location of the Santa House, where guests can visit Santa and Mrs. Claus from 1 - 4 p.m. It then travels west on Main Street and makes its first stop at the Monon Greenway. Shoppers can visit the many galleries and restaurants offered in the District and enjoy the picturesque statues along the decorated streets. Victorian Carolers from the Actors Theater of Indiana will perform along Main Street.

· Indiana Design Center - The trolley then travels to the Indiana Design Center (200 South Range Line Road), where shoppers can marvel at the center's showrooms, meet design professionals, and use endless resources for residential and commercial interiors. While you can find design ideas to put on your own holiday wish list, it's more than just home décor at IDC. Find something for everyone on your list from their selection of jewelry, clothing, handbags, accessories, art, home electronics and more.

· Carmel City Center - Then it's off to Carmel's exciting downtown, Carmel City Center (355 City Center Drive). The center offers a diverse collection of shops and restaurants, along with alluring views of Carmel's Palladium, all within walking distance.

The final leg loops back to the starting point at PNC Bank and will begin its last route at 4 p.m.

Ian Allen Hinkle

October 18, 1998 - December 15, 2015

Ian Allen Hinkle, 17, of Fishers, passed away on Tuesday, December 15, 2015 at IU Health Riley Hospital for Children in Indianapolis. He was born on October 18, 1998 to Phillip and Sabrina (Bravard) Hinkle in Kokomo, Indiana.

Ian lit up any room he walked in, changed lives, and lifted the spirits of everyone he met. He had a great smile, a quick wit, and an outstanding sense of humor. He was also a huge Indianapolis Colts fan. Ian had tremendous courage, and was a hero to his family and many others.

He is survived by his father, Phillip Hinkle; mother, Sabrina Hinkle; sister, Amilleah "Millie" Hinkle; grandparents, Philip & Martha Hinnenkamp, and Patricia Hinkle; several aunts & uncles; and numerous cousins. Ian was preceded in death by his grandfathers, Phillip Hinkle, and Allen Bravard Jr.

Services will be held at 5:00 pm on Sunday, December 20, 2015, at Randall & Roberts Fishers Mortuary, 12010 Allisonville Road, in Fishers, with visitation from 2:00 pm to the time of service. In honor of Ian and his favorite teams, the family asks that you wear Colts or Notre Dame gear to the service.

Local News: Twenty-four Washington Twp. Farmers "combined" as a team Friday to make Julian Collett's 1965 corn crop a success. Collett, admitted to Riverview Hospital Dec. 3 and released 10 days later, has been physically unable to harvest his 60 acres of corn. Yesterday 24 local farmers, bringing eight combines and 18 trucks, harvested between 5,000 and 6,000 bushels of corn for Collett.

Sports: Fishers' Tigers exploded for 50 points here in the second half last evening to bomb Westfield, 88-to-72, in a basketball clash between two Hamilton County clubs.

Marcus 'Monkey' Everett Brandt

March 9, 1988 - December 13, 2015

Marcus 'Monkey' Everett Brandt, 27, of Noblesville, was received into our Father's arms on Sunday, December 13, 2015. He was born on March 9, 1988 in Marion, Indiana.

Marcus enjoyed building, repairing and programming computers, and snowboarding; and loved helping people. No task was beneath him, and he helped many people in numerous ways. He attended Noblesville High School and was a member of White River Christian Church in Noblesville. He was very proud of his involvement with the Civil Air Patrol while in high school; was a Star Wars junkie; an amazing cook; and was very creative. He played the guitar and violin and loved music, especially Pink Floyd.

He is survived by his girlfriend, Nikki Guiney; father, Michael Brandt; mother, Shauna (John) Boggs; three daughters, Amoryha Safford, Zajayha Safford and Kaitlynn Grace Becraft; siblings, Emily Brandt, Ethan Niebauer and Taylor Brandt; half-brother, Randy Floyd; grandparents, Larry 'POP' & Patricia France, Marcia 'MOP' (special friend, Brian Purdom) France and David & Nancy Brandt; and several aunts & uncles, cousins, and friends.

A memorial services will be held at 11:00 am on Saturday, December 19, 2015, at White River Christian Church, 1685 North 10th Street, in Noblesville, with Pastor Phil Heller officiating.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to NAMI (National Alliance on Mental Illness) of Kokomo, PO Box 6072, Kokomo, IN 46904.

Celebrating win No. 200

The Noblesville girls basketball team celebrated Coach Donna Buckley's 200th career victory on Tuesday. Buckley reached that magic number after her Millers beat Anderson 79-50 at The Mill.

Noblesville will play at Westfield Saturday afternoon in a big Hoosier Crossroads Conference game, then travel to the Indiana National Guard Whitewater Valley Classic next Tuesday and Wednesday at Franklin Central.

On Tuesday, Dec. 29, the Millers play at the City Securities Hall of Fame Classic in New Castle. Noblesville takes on Benton Central at 10 a.m., followed by Lebanon and Princeton at 11:45 a.m. The consolation game is set for 6 p.m., with the championship at 7:45 p.m. WHMB-TV 40 will televise all four games. Also, TV-40 will broadcast all four games from the boys Hall of Fame Classic on Dec. 30.

2 conference games for Blackhawks...

Sheridan is home this weekend

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Chesney

It's a tough weekend ahead for Sheridan's Blackhawks. Coach Chris Schrank calls it a "huge weekend."

Two conference games, back to back. Two Hoosier Heartland foes, both in Hobbs Memorial Gym.

Eastern (3-2) will be in town on Friday. Saturday, Taylor (2-3) will come calling on Saturday.

Sheridan is 2-3. Coach Chris Schrank's Blackhawks dropped their first conference game of the season last week, losing a 60-58 heartbreaker at Clinton Central.

"Last weekend was a tough weekend for us," said Schrank. "The loss to Clinton Central was very frustrating. We didn't play with any urgency. We didn't stick to our game plan. And, we let Clinton Central dictate the way the game would be played. They got every 50/50 ball. They made all the hustle plays. We just didn't show enough fight to win that game.

"Saturday, we knew going in that Tipton was going to be really good. They play with tremendous effort. They screen people. They gave us a lesson in what it takes to be really good. Hopefully, my guys learned a few things from them."

Sheridan is 2-3, led in scoring by Chris Roberts at 12.6 points a game and Jake Chesney at 10.6.

"This week," said Schrank, "we have to play with a little more fire and we have to execute at a higher level if we are going to win.

"Eastern comes in Friday, and they are tough. They have a guard that is smooth and confident in his ability. We will have to work hard to contain him. They have two post players who will be tough match-ups.

Guerin & LN ... Just 1 win?

Smith faces old friend

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Guerin Catholic coach Pete Smith says he never expected to play Lawrence North in mid-December and both teams would be looking for their second victory.

That will be the situation Friday when Guerin Catholic (1-4) travels to Lawrence North (1-2).

And, although a pleasant surprise, Smith may have never expected to meet an old friend, Scott Radeker, bringing an undefeated team to the Eagles Nest. That will be the situation on Saturday if Radeker's Lafayette Jeff team defeats Logansport on Friday before the Saturday trip to Guerin.

"Lawrence North is very talented," Smith said. "They have at least three Division 1 players in their starting lineup. We're going to have to limit them to one shot to give ourselves a chance to beat them."

Lawrence North has defeated Brebeuf 61-47 and lost to Marion 79-70 and Lawrence Central 63-62.

Radeker will take a 6-0 Lafayette Jeff team to Logansport on Friday before visiting Guerin Catholic.

Radeker started his coaching career as an assistant for Smith on the 1993-94 Noblesville team that was regional finalists. He was the Millers' assistant for eight years.

The Guerin-Lafayette Jeff game will feature two 20-point scorers. Christian Munson is averaging 20.8 points a game for Guerin. David Hanyard, a 5-10 senior, is scoring at a 20.3 clip for Jeff.

Both have strong backups. Darin Collins is averaging 13.3 points for Jeff and Matthew Godfrey is averaging 13.0 for Guerin.

"Scott has got his best team since he's been at Jeff," Smith said. "They have two super high school players in Collins and Hanyard, and they complement each other very well."

"It's one of the rare instances that we'll have a size advantage over them, but boy they are as quick as Muncie Central was, and we struggled staying in front of the basketball against Muncie."

Lafayette Jeff has defeated Fountain Central 67-25, Crown Point 71-64, Frankfort 71-66, Twin Lakes 82-72 in overtime, McCutcheon 57-56 and Harrison 58-56.

It will be a meeting of old friends Saturday at The Eagles Nest, as Lafayette Jeff coach Scott Radeker (left) will lead his Bronchos against Guerin Catholic coach Pete Smith's Golden Eagles.

Guerin started the season with a win over Herron and since that time has lost to Hamilton Heights, Tech, Northwest and Muncie Central.

"We didn't shoot the ball overall very well this past weekend," said Smith, "and we're still having a real tough time staying in front of the basketball. That's not a good combination."

"We're giving up 71-plus points a game, almost 10 more a game than our 2006-07 team, which is our highest average ever. That's way too many points. We've stressed that fact in practice this week."

We will have to play to our strengths and stay together if we want to win Friday."

Eastern has beaten Clinton Central 69-37, Eastbrook 72-27 and Tri-Central 48-45 and has lost to Pioneer 57-56 and Southwood 55-52.

"Saturday, we get Taylor," Schrank continued. "We have a short turnaround, and will have to focus in on a game that will be played at a different pace. We know that we will see a 2-3 zone. They have a post-player who is a really big kid. We will really have to work to get around him in the post, and block him out. They have guards on the perimeter who can make us pay if we don't do our jobs on them."

Taylor is led in scoring by Darian Stone at 14.0 and Gavin Cox at 14.3.

The Titans are 2-3 with wins over Tri-Central 77-75 in three overtimes and Alexandria 71-45 and losses to Frankton 65-51, Oak Hill 55-48 and Northwestern 66-51.

Carmel gets double test

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

A thing that makes Carmel's schedule so unique, and, arguably, makes the Greyhounds so strong are the teams they play throughout the season.

For example, when Pendleton Heights on Friday and New Albany on Saturday this weekend come to the Eric Clark Activity Center.

Pendleton Heights has played three teams already this season which Carmel could see in the Noblesville Sectional, losing to Anderson 69-51 and Hamilton Southeastern 50-46 and beating Westfield 58-42. The Arabians also have defeated Lapel 33-31 and Connersville 45-35 and have lost to Mt. Vernon 69-55, giving them a 3-3 record coming to Carmel.

New Albany is 3-1 with victories over Bloomington South 72-58, Evansville Harrison 97-48 and Floyd Central 60-57 and a loss to Pike, 73-68

Trenton Richardson

"We have two teams that are both very good, but are very different," said Heady.

"Pendleton has three very good guards that can all shoot the 3's. They play smart and are very good defensively. They will be very patient and have some long possessions. They are one of the more fundamentally sound teams we will play all season."

Pendleton Heights will get a lot of offense from 6-4 junior Mark Albers (17.4 and 5-10 guard Craig Dunham (14.2).

"New Albany is really good," Heady continued. "They are one of the top 5 teams in Indiana and have possibly the best sophomore in the state in (Romeo) Langford. They are extremely quick at all positions and pressure defensively. They really play together and are very talented."

"We will have to be at our best both games. We are looking forward to the challenge. We need to shoot better from the perimeter and rebound."

Carmel is 2-2 with victories over Zionsville and Noblesville and losses to powerhouse foes Lawrence Central and North Central, falling to NC 48-46 last time out.

University faces conference foe...

Burris will come calling

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Friday evening at home, University will get its second test of the season in the new Pioneer Conference, playing Muncie Burris.

Halbleib

"We got great play off the bench from Josh Alford.

"I was proud of the way my young group handled themselves for the majority of the game and hopefully we can build off it. Liberty is a great team and I have a good feeling they will likely make another deep run into the tourney in March."

A night earlier, on Friday, University won at Bethesda Christian.

"The Bethesda game was a great road test for us," Lafferman said. "Bethesda always plays us tough and they jumped out early. Our boys responded with a great run at the end of the first quarter, and from that point on we really never looked back. Our defense was strong all game, and we were able to grow out lead over the course of the game for a nice double digit win. Emerson Hableib was fantastic in that game, scoring 28 points."

Halbleib leads University in rebounding at 6.8 a game. Holly is the leading scorer, averaging 16.4 points a game.

University's only game this weekend is a Friday home tilt with Muncie Burris.

"That is good," said Lafferman. "It will give our boys a chance to focus on their final exams."

"We face another conference opponent, Muncie Burris. They are a hot team right now, coming off three straight wins and looking to keep it going against us. The best news for us is we are at home, which after playing back to back road game will be a great treat for our team."

"Muncie Burris is a 2A team with decent size and good ball handlers. They like to put a lot of full court pressure on a team. Our ball security and shot selection will be important, for sue"

Muncie Burris is 4-2 with wins over Cristal House 67-40, Yorktown 59-58, Southern Wells 78-56 and Daleville 58-44 and losses to Cambridge City 63-51 and South Adams. 80-61.

University, with a 5-2 record, has played none of those teams.

The game with Liberty Christian last week was a conference game, so that puts more pressure on beating Muncie Burris.

Culver standouts lead Player of the Week honors

Ignas Masiulionis and Marie Steiner walk the same campus in northern Indiana, and the Culver Military/Culver Academy standouts are among the honorees in the IBCA/Subway Player of the Week program for the week of Dec. 7-12.

The Eagles' duo is joined by Clinton Prairie senior Kale Morris, Castle junior Jack Nunge, Delphi senior Myka Roth and Evansville Central junior Zion Sanders as weekly winners in the recognition program coordinated by the Indiana Basketball Coaches Association.

Masiulionis and Steiner are respective boys' and girls' winners for District 1, Morris and Roth for District 2, and Nunge and Sanders for District 3.

The 6-1 Masiulionis averaged 29.5 points in leading Culver Military (2-2) to a pair of victories. The Lithuanian sharpshooter opened his week by scoring 30 points with two rebounds and one assist in a 50-48 victory over Tippecanoe Valley. The junior guard followed by tossing in 29 points with eight rebounds and one assist in a 66-53 triumph over Portage. For the week, Masiulionis sank 19-of-31 shots, including 13-of-21 3-pointers, plus 8-of-13 free throws.

Steiner, a 5-9 senior guard, averaged 22.3 points and 4.3 rebounds over three games for the Culver Academy girls (7-5). The Hamilton (N.Y.) College recruit netted 30 points with four rebounds, three assists and two steals as the Eagles defeated Culver Community 59-42. Steiner then tallied 26 points with five rebounds, two assists and three steals in a 60-30 decision over North Judson. She completed her week with 11 points and four rebounds in a 57-21 decision over South Bend Riley.

Morris averaged 29.5 points, 7.0 rebounds and 3.0 assists in two games for the Clinton Prairie boys (4-1). The 6-4 forward produced 28 points with five rebounds and four assists in a 75-47 rout of Tri-County. He followed with 31 points, nine rebounds and two assists in a 58-43 victory over Delphi. For two games, Morris made 21-of-31 shots, 10-of-18 3-pointers and 7-of-8 free throws.

The 5-11 Roth averaged 19.7 points and 9.3 rebounds in propelling the Delphi girls (8-3) to a trio of victories. Roth started her week by scoring 18 points with nine rebounds and three assists in a 65-36 triumph over Harrison (West Lafayette). She followed with 27 points and 15 rebounds as the Oracles knocked off Rensselaer Central 67-47. Roth then tallied 14 points and four rebounds as Delphi edge Lafayette Central Catholic 56-54.

Nunge paced the Castle boys to a 77-65 victory over Evansville Harrison in his team's only game of the week. A 6-11 forward, Nunge poured in a career-high 35 points with 15 rebounds as the Knights improved to 3-0. He converted 12-of-19 shots, including one 3-pointer, plus 10-of-11 free throws en route to his big game.

The 5-8 Sanders averaged 24.0 points, 9.0 rebounds and 5.0 assists over two games for the Evansville Central girls (9-0). Sanders produced 28 points with nine rebounds and five assists in a 73-49 victory over Castle. The standout guard followed by netting 20 points with nine rebounds and five assists in a 73-53 triumph over Gibson Southern. Over two games, Sanders made 21-of-29 shots and 6-of-10 free throws for the Bears.

Monta Ellis scores 19 over former team...

Pacers turn tables on Mavericks, 107-81

By GREG RAPPAPORT
Courtesy nba.com/pacers

Last season, when the Pacers beat the Mavericks in both their meetings, Monta Ellis was donning the uniform of the Mavs. But on Wednesday night at Bankers Life Fieldhouse, the Pacers were thankful to have Ellis in the Blue & Gold, as the kinetic guard used a combination of incisive drives to the hoop and 3-pointers to dispatch his former team 107-81.

Ellis started the game off on the erratic side, missing a few layups that on most days he'd make. But just four minutes into the third quarter, Ellis — who finished the night with 19 points — knifed his way into the lane on a fast break, euro-stepping for a bucket to put Indiana up by four at the time. Ellis tallied all 19 of his points in the second half.

"I had some good looks, just wasn't going down," Ellis said of his scoreless first half. "Coaches just told me to attack, to keep taking my shots, and I was just able to get out in transition in the beginning of the second half and get some easy buckets."

When asked if he was nervous to be playing against his former squad, Ellis demurred.

"I've been playing basketball too long to be nervous," he said.

In the fourth, still looking to put away the Mavericks for good, Ellis drained two from beyond the arc with just under six minutes remaining in the game, pushing Indiana's lead to 22 points and effectively ending the night of the Mavs.

Dirk Nowitzki missed 3-of-4 3-point attempts in the first four minutes of the fourth quarter — and made just 1-of-7 in the game — while the Pacers continued to pile up points on the offensive end. Threes from C.J. Miles and Rodney Stuckey helped open up the Pacers' lead to 14 points, forcing Mavericks head coach Rick Carlisle to call a timeout with 8:20 remaining in the game.

But coming out of the timeout, the Pacers continued their onslaught, receiving timely buckets from Ellis, Rodney Stuckey, and C.J. Miles as they began to put the Mavericks away for good.

With both teams scrapping to shoot over 30 percent in the first half, the Pacers' offense began to take form during the third quarter, in the shape of a 12-2 run to help Indiana take an 11-point lead into the final frame, thanks to Ellis' 13 third-quarter points. The quarter was ended by a Rodney Stuckey steal in which Stuckey (12 points) rifled a pass to a streaking Ellis for a dunk against his former team.

At the first half buzzer, the Pacers trailed the Mavericks by just two, holding a lead until the final moment when Mavericks guard Raymond Felton (16 points) connected on a 3-pointer in the final seconds to give his team the advantage at the break.

But once the second half began, the Pacers never looked back, outscoring the Mavs 62-34 over the final two quarters. It was the Pacers' second win in a row, and third in their last four games.

When asked what turned the fortunes of the Pacers in the second half, Paul George — who finished his night with 19 points on 7-of-18 shooting — recited a familiar formula that has carried the Pacers early on this season.

"Defense," George said. "Same thing every night: Defense."
