House gives overwhelming support to Cook's...

'Workplace' Spanish bill

Cook

The House of Representatives voted 95-1 in support of State Rep. Tony Cook's (R-Cicero) bill to provide high school students classes in newly created workplace functional Spanish, emphasizing common Spanish vocabulary and acceptable grammar usage. Upon successful completion of the classes, students will qualify for credit and special language notations on their transcripts.

According to the United States Department of Labor, nearly 23 million people of Hispanic or Latino ethnicity represented 15 percent of the U.S. labor force in 2011. By 2020, Latinos are expected to comprise 19 percent of the U.S. labor force.

"Statistics show the Spanish-speaking workforce is growing," Cook said. "Being fluent in Spanish will help an individual distinguish themselves from other potential job candidates and give them a leg up in the job market."

Students could start taking elective Workplace Spanish classes that will count for credit and notation on their high school transcript as soon as the 2017-2018 school year. The Indiana Department of Education is charged with the task of providing a course description and outline of acceptable units of study. Cook said the distinction would benefit both high school students and potential employers.

"This is a great opportunity for a high school student who is on the workforce readiness diploma track to show potential employers that they went above and beyond in their studies by becoming vocabulary functional in a language that helps them communicate more efficiently once in the workforce," Cook said. "This program will also help promote knowledge and diversity and may encourage students to take more language course work."

Cook's bill can now be considered by the Senate.

Noblesville Boys and Girls Club selected for...

Youth Bowling Grant

The Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville was selected as the recipient of the International Bowling Campus Youth Development Bowler's Ed grant program for 2016. The Bowler's Ed grants, in the form of mobile bowling kits, include six carpeted bowling lanes, rubberized balls and pins, and instructional DVDs to assist staff in introducing and instructing the game of bowling. The kits, valued at $2,200 each, are expected to appeal to Club members who are not involved in other sports.

"With these kits, our members will be introduced to bowling not just as a recreational activity but as a sport. Members will learn the ins and outs of bowling through daily instruction, practice and competitions with a particular focus on sportsmanship and teamwork," says Abby Rinehart, Unit Director of the Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville. She goes on to say "To align with our priority outcomes, we will utilize the equipment and resources to also instill academics, healthy lifestyles and good character within the program."

Utilized by schools and other youth based organizations across the nation, the Bowler's Ed mobile bowling kits introduce children to the lifetime sport of bowling. The curriculum includes bowling fundamentals, fun fitness activities and academic lesson plans that reinforce science, spelling, math and more.

Heights edged by Marion...

County teams gone at Heights

Hamilton County took a double blow in the only girls sectional action involving local teams Wednesday evening.

In the 3A sectional at Hamilton Heights, Guerin Catholic was drilled 86-36 by Heritage Christian in the opener and then the host Lady Huskies were edged 48-43 by Marion in the second game.

Both Hamilton County teams went down playing strong opponents. Marion has a 21-3 record. Heritage Christian, 20-4, won the Class 2A state championship the last two seasons before moving up to 3A in this year's tourney. Heritage Christian is ranked No. 5, including all classes, in the state.

The Huskies, playing in the first season with Omega Tandy as coach, finished the year with an 11-12 record. Coach Scott Miller's Guerin Catholic Golden Eagles finished with a 14-11 record.

Local basketball action in Hamilton County will flip to the boys side tonight. Girls sectionals will continue with semi-final rounds on Friday and then championship games on Saturday.

Hamilton County will have teams in three of the four sectionals. Only at Hamilton Heights will a county team not be represented on Friday.

At Hamilton Heights, Tipton will play Yorktown and Heritage Christian will take on Marion.

With Anderson's first round elimination by Noblesville, Hamilton County is certain to crown a champion at the loaded Class 4A Sectional being played at Westfield. Friday, Fishers will play Carmel in the opener and Noblesville and Westfield will collide in the nightcap.

Sheridan will carry Hamilton County's colors into the Class 2A sectional at Frankton. On Friday, it will be the Blackhawks against Muncie Burris in the opening game, followed by a contest between Lapel and Frankton.

University still is alive in the Class 1A tourney being hosted by the Lady Trailblazers. In semi-final action, University will face Tindley and Bethesda Christian will meet International.

Hamilton County Traffic Safety Partnership says...

Celebrate Super Bowl Sunday responsibly

The Hamilton County Traffic Safety Partnership, a consortium of law enforcement agencies throughout Hamilton County, in partnership with the Governor’s Council on Impaired & Dangerous Driving and the Indiana Criminal Justice Institute (ICJI), would like to remind all Indiana motorists to celebrate this year’s Super Bowl responsibly by driving sober and safe.

“With increased celebration comes an even greater responsibility to do so safely,” said Hamilton County Sheriff Mark Bowen. “We want to remind motorists during this Super Bowl weekend that drinking and driving don’t mix. We expect our area residents to celebrate responsibly and help keep our Indiana roadways safe. As always, we will be on patrol actively looking for impaired drivers.”

During the 2015 Super Bowl weekend (6:00 p.m. Jan 30 through 5:59 a.m. Feb. 2), there were nearly 740 traffic collisions in Indiana. Of those, 45 were alcohol-related, with 60 percent involving a driver with a blood alcohol content of 0.08 or greater. In total, there were 14 injuries and 0 deaths as a result of alcohol-related accidents.

“Accidents involving impaired drivers are something we can all prevent,” said Council Chairman, Todd Meyer. “Together, we can work to keep each and every motorist safe during Super Bowl weekend.”

The Hamilton County Traffic Safety Partnership, the Governor’s Council, and ICJI would like to remind motorists that accidents and deaths resulting from impaired driving can be prevented with the following precautions:

- Before the celebration begins, plan a safe way home
- Do not drive impaired
- If you do drink, use a taxi, public transportation, ridesharing service or designate a sober friend or family member, and give them your keys
- If you see a drunk driver on the road, call 911
- If you know someone who is about to drive or ride impaired, take their keys and help make arrangements to get them home safely

For more information on Indiana’s efforts on impaired driving prevention and enforcement, please visit: <http://www.in.gov/cji/2354.htm>.

Heritage overwhelms GC, Marion edges Huskies...

Tough games at Heights

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

The outcome for both games at the Hamilton Heights girls basketball sectional was the same: Tough losses for both county teams.

The games took different paths, however. In the first game, Guerin Catholic ran into a buzzsaw named Heritage Christian. The Eagles, two-time defending Class 2A state champions that moved up to 3A this year due to the success factor, put the game out of reach right away, eventually flying to an 86-36 victory over Guerin's Golden Eagles.

The nightcap featured the host Huskies against a 20-win Marion team. This one was close all the way, but the Giants scored the game's last six points to hand a young Heights team a 48-43 defeat.

"You only get game experience from playing games," said Heights coach Omega Tandy. "And they're playing basketball games the right way right now, and we were up against a very veteran basketball team, and we had them on their heels. And that is what those girls will remember. And then next year they'll be the veteran basketball team."

Heritage and Marion play each other in Friday's second semi-final, which starts at approximately 7:30 p.m. That follows a 6 p.m. first semi-final, featuring Yorktown and Tipton.

The Huskies came close to getting into the semi-finals, leading the majority of the game. They scored the game's first seven points, with Ana Collar scoring six of them. Collar's two free throws made the Huskies lead 7-0 with 3:32 remaining in the first period.

Marion came back to lead 9-7 at the end of the first period, then Heights scored six points in a row to get back on top 13-11, with Kayla Kirtley hit a 3-pointer. The Huskies held the lead at halftime, 16-15.

led 32-26 with 1:37 left in the third quarter, and were still up 37-34 early in the fourth period after Kirtley hit another 3-pointer.

The Giants scored four in a row to get ahead 38-37, then Kirtley made both foul shots in a 1-and-1 one situation to move Heights back up 39-38.

Marion responded with two more baskets to take a 42-39 lead. The Huskies called a timeout, then made two baskets of their own to jump ahead 43-42. Kirtley scored off a putback, and Collar made a layin to get her team up one.

Heights then drew a charge, but Marion got the ball back and took the lead on a basket by Andrea Persinger. That got the Giants ahead 44-43 with 48.7 seconds left. The Huskies tried valiantly to rush down to their basket, but Marion's defense forced Heights into several turnovers during the last minute. Four points from the Giants' Vironica Drake sealed the win.

"I'm proud of our girls," said Tandy. "They executed the game plan 100 percent. Inexperienced mistakes down the stretch against an experienced team, and that's how that's going to turn out.

"But I am so proud of this team. From where we started to where we are now, this basketball team proved to themselves - not to anybody else - but to themselves, that when they work hard, they can do a lot of things. And I'm very excited about what they'll do in the future."

The sophomore Collar scored 18 points and 13 rebounds to get another double-double. Kirtley, a sophomore, added 12 points while freshman Sydney Griffey grabbed seven rebounds. Still another sophomore, Lexi Branham, dished out four assists.

Those four girls made up all but one of Heights' starting line-up. The fifth was senior Bri Henson, one of three seniors on the team, along with Logan Wiley and Amy Griffey.

"We asked our seniors to do some very selfless things, all three of them, because all three of them have been in this program longer than anyone else, coaches included," said Tandy. "It's going to be tough to replace those kids, their leadership, their positive attitudes, their humor."

The Huskies ended their season 11-12, but this was after going 2-9 during the first half of the season. In the second half, Heights was 9-3, including a remarkable seven-game win streak.

Meanwhile, the Golden Eagles were frustrated from the beginning, as Heritage Christian flew through the first quarter 21-0. The halftime score was 42-5.

But Guerin Catholic dug in, and played a solid second half against the Eagles. Leading the way in the third quarter was senior Sarah Yount, who drained three 3-pointers. She finished the game with 14 points. Yount made history last week by becoming Guerin's first girls basketball player to reach the 1000-point mark. She finished her outstanding career with 1031 points, and a school record 196 3-pointers.

"I think it speaks to the character of our kids that they didn't quit," said Guerin coach Scott Miller. "And they finally said, 'Hey, we don't to leave the game with only five or 10 points. We at least want to show them we were on the floor tonight.'"

Abbigail Wampler added 13 points for GC, including a nice 9-of-9 effort from the free throw line.

"They are a tremendous team, maybe the best team in the state," said Miller of Heritage. "Our plan was, we wanted to limit the number of possessions, and we just turned the ball over way too many times in that first half.

"Our kids never gave up. They played hard, even when they were down by a lot of points. In the last seconds of the game, you know they're at least trying and had a nice steal there at the end and got to the free throw line. So I was proud of our girls."

Guerin Catholic finished its season with a 14-11 record.

Don’t rule out Noblesville as a

Conference contender

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

If you’re a pure fan of the Hoosier Crossroads Conference, you’re probably enjoying the three-school race among Hamilton Southeastern (4-1), Fishers (3-1) and Zionsville (3-1).

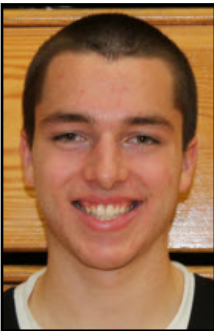

Hello, Noblesville. Have we missed the Millers?

Noblesville is 2-2 in the HCC.

It could happen. Noblesville could climb into this race for the championship.

Lots of things would have to go Noblesville’s way. Like, for example, Brownsburg would have to upset Southeastern. Fishers would have to fall to Westfield. Then, Fishers would need to beat Zionsville.

And, of course, the Millers would need to knock off Brownsburg and Avon.

Flinchum

Brownsburg, a road game, is coming up tonight. Avon, a home game, won’t be played until Feb. 19.

Coach Brian McCauley’s Millers certainly seem capable to doing their part. Noblesville is 9-6 overall and has won three straight and four of five.

Inside the conference, Noblesville has beaten Westfield 48-37 and Southeastern 67-54 and lost to Fishers 58-54 and to Zionsville 61-59 in two overtimes. The Millers also have defeated Avon, 53-39, in a non-conference game.

But, first things first and first up is the trip to Brownsburg tonight. Then on Saturday Noblesville has a tough act against Mt. Vernon in Fortville.

Brownsburg is struggling. The Bulldogs are 3-13 and have lost five straight.

The Millers have won three straight and four of five.

“Winning on the road in the HCC is always very difficult, and Brownsburg presents a lot of challenges for us,” said McCauley.

“They are very athletic, strong and very defensive minded. Their schedule reveals how competitive and defensive minded their team is. In addition, they have balanced scoring with four players averaging between 7-11 points per game. We will have to play at our very best in order to be successful on the road,” the coach added.

Noblesville’s bigger problem, although not a conference game, could be Saturday when the Millers travel to Mt. Vernon. The Marauders are 14-2, having lost only to Decatur Central 57-48 and to New Castle 55-54. They have won six straight times since the New Castle game, including a 59-51 victory over Hamilton Southeastern.

“Mt. Vernon is having an outstanding season,” said McCauley. “They have great athleticism, skill and experience. They are led by Ertel, who averages 17 points and 4 assists a game. Beside Ertel, they have four starters who average between 8-14 points a game.

“It will be a very challenging road game against one of the top teams in Central Indiana.”

Mt. Vernon faces some problems of its own, including John Kiser, who is averaging 21.9 points a game for the Millers. Max Flinchum is scoring at an 11.5 clip and Corby Mertens at 9.9.

Key conference game

Westfield at Fishers

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Heading into a home Hoosier Crossroads Conference game tonight with Westfield, Fishers is smack in the middle of the conference championship race, thanks to Noblesville’s win over Hamilton Southeastern last weekend.

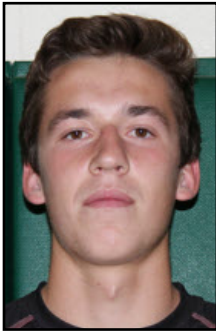

Southeastern still leads the way with a 4-1 mark. Fishers now has a chance, standing at 3-1. Also at 3-1 is Zionsville.

That’s the good news, for Coach Joe Leonard and the Tigers.

The not-so-good news, or perhaps, better put, the challenging news, is that tonight the Westfield team coming to Fishers is one of the hottest over the last two or three weeks. Coach Shane Sumpter’s Shamrocks are 7-9. They had a four-game winning streak snapped by Lebanon, 49-46, last time out.

Fishers, of course, is pretty hot, itself. The Tigers are 8-8 and had a four-game winning snapped by Lawrence North, 69-55, one game after beating Lawrence Central, 64-61.

Charlie Warner
Westfield

“We feel we are playing well and happy to get a split vs. two very good Lawrence teams,” said Leonard, who needs one more victory to reach the 100-win mark as coach at Fishers.

Cam Wolter
Fishers

“We are excited to be back in the race, but we also realize we have a lot of work to do vs. a tough Westfield team and then later against a good Zionsville team on the road,” the Fishers coach added.

Anything could happen in this three-team HCC race.

*Fishers has two conference games remaining and arguably the tougher HCC card down the home stretch. After the game with Westfield tonight, Fishers still has a Feb. 19 tilt remaining with Zionsville.

*Zionsville has a trip to Avon tonight before thinking about Fishers.

*Southeastern has just one conference game remaining, at home against Brownsburg. The Royals have been struggling with illness and injuries to a point Coach Brian Satterfield went into Game Day today hoping to piece together a starting lineup. The Southeastern-Brownsburg game is not until Feb. 19.

“Westfield shoots the ball very well, so we will have to defend and work very hard,” Leonard talked about Fishers’ game tonight.

The Shamrocks are led by the 1-2 scoring punch of Charlie Warner (16.3) and Ian Kristensen (9.1)

Fishers has a pair of solid double digit scorers in Lance Dollison and Cam Wolter.

“Our team has continued to play well as of late,” said Sumpter of his Shamrocks. “We will have a big challenge tonight against a tough conference opponent. We will need to do a good job of controlling the tempo of the game and limiting Fishers in transition. It will be important for us to not turn the ball over and be sure to not give up offensive rebounds.

“We look forward to the challenge and the opportunity to get better as we near the end of the regular season,” Sumpter added.

Miles scores 27 points...

Pacers cruise past Brooklyn, 114-100

By WHEAT HOTCHKISS
Courtesy nba.com/pacers

C.J. Miles broke out of his shooting slump in a big way on Wednesday night, leading the Pacers (26-23) to a 114-100 road win over the Brooklyn Nets (12-38).

Miles, who hadn't scored in double figures for seven straight games entering Wednesday's contest, exploded for 27 points against the Nets. His red-hot second quarter helped Indiana open up a sizeable lead that they really never relinquished.

The Pacers found their shooting stroke in the first half of Wednesday's game in Brooklyn, burying 8-of-11 attempts from 3-point range over the first two quarters. Starters Paul George, George Hill, and Monta Ellis set the tone early, all knocking down a triple in the opening minutes.

But it was Indiana's bench that really allowed the visitors to create separation. The Pacers scored the first 10 points of the second quarter to open up a double digit lead. All told, Indiana's reserves accounted for 33 points in the first half.

No player was better than Miles, who scored 15 points in the second quarter. The backup forward had struggled to find a rhythm offensively in recent weeks, but he finally found his shooting stroke on Wednesday, going 6-for-8 from the field and 3-for-4 from 3-point range in the period.

"I played within what we were doing," Miles told FOX Sports Indiana's Jeremiah Johnson after the win. "We played with pace in the second unit. I got some good looks, got off screens...I was able to get to the basket and mix it up."

Indiana led by 19 at the half and never allowed Brooklyn to creep closer than nine points over the final two quarters. The Blue & Gold had plenty of offense on this particular night, particularly from its bench, which combined for 58 points, four shy of the team's season high.

"If we can come in and provide a punch like that, play with energy, not be a drop off — either make leads higher or keep them steady — and keep (the starters) rested, that's always great," Miles said.

Miles' 27 points were his most since Dec. 3. The veteran swingman knocked down 10-of-15 shots overall and went 4-for-7 on the night from beyond the 3-point arc.

"It's great," Pacers head coach Frank Vogel said of Miles' breakout performance. "That's who he is, he goes in and out. He slumps at times, but it usually comes back around and when he gets going, he's pretty unstoppable. He had a great performance."

Four players joined Miles in double figures on the evening. George went just 6-for-18 from the field, but still managed 17 points, four rebounds, six assists, and five steals. Hill knocked down a pair of 3-pointers en route to 13 points, while Lavoy Allen chipped in 12 points and eight rebounds off the bench. Ellis added 11 points, six boards, and five assists.

Center Brook Lopez led Brooklyn with 21 points and eight rebounds. Joe Johnson added 20 points and nine assists, while Thaddeus Young (16 points and 14 rebounds) recorded a double-double in the loss.

After picking up their third win in their last four games, the Pacers will now travel to Atlanta for a nationally televised meeting with the Hawks on Friday night at 7:00 PM ET.
