Noblesville, county receive permit to construct...

Final phase of Riverwalk

Photo provided

The City of Noblesville and Hamilton County have received a permit from the Indiana Department of Natural Resources to construct the final phases of the Riverwalk between Logan and Conner streets and Conner and Maple streets. The area is shown on the map at right.

The project is jointly funded between the city and county and will utilize Federal Transportation funds. While the project is scheduled to bid and start construction this summer, it is necessary to complete clearing of areas affected by the construction prior to April 1 because of the requirements stated by INDR in the permit.

Clearing of the river bank areas in advance of the final Riverwalk construction phase began Tuesday by Morphe Construction. Bank areas affected will be from Maple to Logan streets along the county parking lot and Judicial Center.

Hamilton County Sheriff's Office to begin...

Naloxone/Narcan program for opiate/opioid overdose treatment

Today Hamilton County Sheriff Mark Bowen announced that his deputies will begin carrying Naloxone (Narcan) as soon as final training in administering the medication can be completed. The Sheriff's Office is the first law enforcement agency in Hamilton County to be trained and equipped to administer intranasal Naloxone, a medication that prevents and/or reverses the effects of heroin and other opioids and opiates, including many prescription painkillers and other medications.

As with many areas around the United States and Indiana, Hamilton County has seen an upswing in the number of heroin related overdoses and deaths over the past several years. Citing statistics released by the Indiana State Department of Health and the Hamilton County Coroner's Office, Sheriff Bowen explained, "Hamilton County currently ranks 4th in the State in the total number of opioid overdoses, behind Marion, Lake, and St. Joseph counties. Our country has also witnessed a dramatic 45 percent increase in heroin related deaths." According to the Federal Center for Disease Control and Prevention, someone dies every 19 minutes from a drug overdose, and nearly three out of four prescription drug overdoses are caused by prescription pain killers. "This increase in overdose deaths illustrates that addiction to heroin and other opioids, including some prescription painkillers, represents nothing less than a public health crisis. Every day, this crisis touches and devastates Hamilton County residents from every background and walk of life," said Chief Deputy Tom Gehlhausen.

Sheriff Bowen detailed some of the many efforts used to address the current drug issue, explaining, "The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office has led the fight against drug abuse by arresting individuals in the supply chain, and gathering intelligence on other drug suppliers and users and we will continue to rigorously enforce applicable laws. Education has been supplied to residents of all ages through public education forums, DARE programs, social media platforms, community meetings, programs for individuals incarcerated in the county jail, the Hamilton County Drug Court and a variety of other methods." Prescription Drug Take-Back events and an Rx Drop Box in the lobby of the Sheriff's Office provide opportunities for residents to remove unwanted and unused medications in a safe and responsible manner.

"Adding to the current efforts by training deputies to administer intranasal Narcan allows for a quick and effective response in the event of acute heroin or opiate related emergencies in the field, especially when deputies arrive prior to medics, which happens frequently in rural parts of the county," continued Sheriff Bowen. Narcan temporarily reverses the effects of the opioid, whether illicit or accidental overdose, allowing the individual to regain consciousness and regular breathing. Patrol Division Captain Dennis Quakenbush, whose deputies deal with overdoses in the community, believes, "If we can save a life and put someone on the path to recovery, the program will be a huge success."

The Hamilton County Sheriff's Office has led the way in many lifesaving technologies, including all Patrol Division officers trained and equipped with AED's and Narcan. Funding for the purchase of Narcan was obtained through grants and the project is a collaborative effort involving Riverview Hospital, the Hamilton County Health Department, Overdose Lifeline, the Hamilton County Council on Alcohol and Drugs, and the Sheriff's Office. All Merit and Road Qualified Reserves will be issued Narcan and trained to recognize signs of opioid overdoses and administration of the medication. Officers in the Jail, Juvenile Service Center, Courthouse, and Community Correction facility will also be trained in the application of Narcan and will have Narcan on site should it be needed. Training is expected to be completed by mid-March.

Tigers start the presses, beat Westfield...

Fishers roars to sectional victory

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

How did Fishers react to the pressure of being down 11 points in the opening game of the Class 4A Noblesville boys basketball sectional?

By creating some pressure of its own.

The Tigers turned up the defense late in the second quarter, and thus lifted themselves from that big deficit to a 58-53 win over Westfield Tuesday night at The Mill. With the victory, Fishers improved to 11-12 and advanced to Friday's semi-finals, where it will play Guerin Catholic, a newcomer to 4A. The Tigers and the Golden Eagles have never played each other.

In the first half, it looked as if the Shamrocks would be the team advancing. Westfield got off to a nice start, with Jonah Welch scoring the Shamrocks' first four points on two baskets, the second one off a steal. Soon after, Westfield scored seven unanswered points, with Robbie Lynch's 3 sandwiching four points from Charlie Warner. Kyle Nicole had a 3-pointer as well.

Leading 14-8, the 'Rocks went on another 7-0 run to jump ahead 21-8. The run spanned the first and second quarters. Fishers' Zach Eaton ended it with a 3-pointer, but Warner answered that with a '3' of his own - a shot that rolled in after bouncing a couple times, indicative of how well things were going for Westfield.

Fishers was still trailing 25-14 when it called a time-out with 1:50 left in the first half. That's when the Tigers switched to their press.

"We picked up our pressure a little bit," said Fishers coach Joe Leonard. The Tigers were debating whether or not to use their press because Leonard wanted his team to be sound in the half-court.

"So we were 'Should we, or shouldn't we?'" said Leonard. But once Fishers fell behind like it did, the coach acknowledged there wasn't much choice.

It worked immediately. Zach Eaton made two steals, and both times that led to baskets. Lance Dollison went first, then Reid Stephens scored with 37.8 seconds left. Stephens made another quick basket right before halftime, but Nicole made two free throws with 0.6 seconds left to make the halftime score 27-20.

The second half started with Fishers cruising on an 11-0 run, giving the Tigers a 31-27 lead. Dollison started the half with a long jump shot. Dollison would later hit a 3; that was after Cameron Wolter added four points to the run.

"So we went with the press, we saw it working," said Leonard. "The boys were upset at halftime. Just kind of turned them loose, and then Lance came out and hit that first one."

Ian Kristensen ended the run with a couple of free throws; his points at the 2:50 mark were Westfield's first points of the third quarter. With Fishers leading 35-32, Warner hit a 3-pointer to tie the game, but Dollison swished his own '3' at the buzzer. The Tigers led 38-35 after three periods, and would not trail again.

The seniors had stepped up big for Fishers in the third quarter, but a freshman led the way in the fourth. Willie Jackson poured in nine points for the Tigers, including a 7-of-8 performance from the free throw line. His foul shots helped Fishers slowly extend its lead in the period, while Wolter added four free throws (in four attempts).

In all, three Tigers reached double figures. Dollison led the way with 16 points, Wolter was next with 15 and Jackson totaled 11. Reid Stephens led the rebounding with Fishers’ Reid Stephens (left) scored two baskets with less than a minute to go in the second quarter that helped the Tigers overcome a double-digit deficit and go on to beat Westfield 58-53 in the opening game of the Class 4A Noblesville sectional Tuesday at The Mill. The loss ended the Shamrocks' season at 11-12, still a remarkable turnaround for a team that had won just six games in the past two seasons. Warner scored 23 points, with Kristensen adding 12. Warner also pulled four rebounds.

Points may be precious at The Mill...

Millers, Carmel battle

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

If fans going to The Mill tonight expecting an offensive fireworks between host Noblesville and Carmel in Class 4A, Sectional 8, try out these numbers.

Max Flinchum
Noblesville

Garrett Covington
Carmel

*Noblesville is averaging 57.5 points a game. Carmel is scoring at a 53.3 clip.

*Carmel is allowing 48.7 points a game. Noblesville is giving up 52.5 points a contest.

*In their last regular season games, Noblesville defeated Lebanon 41-34 and the Greyhounds defeated Brebeuf 57-43.

*When the two Hamilton County rivals met way back on Dec. 5, at Carmel, the Greyhounds won 49-45.

These two teams know how to play defense, with the best of them.

All of which doesn't mean Carmel and Noblesville can't play offense. They can. Noblesville has one of the most explosive players in Central Indiana in John Kiser, averaging 21.4 points a game. Max Flinchum is scoring at an 11.7 clip and on any given night can score a bunch more. Corby Mertens is netting points at a 9.2 clip. Carmel has double digit scorers in Sterling Brown at 13.4 and Preston Flamion at 12.8 and Garrett Covington close at 9.9.

Kiser handles nearly all the rebounding (7.0) for the Millers. Next on the list are McGwire Plumer (3.4) and Ryan Ogden (3.3). Carmel's board leaders are Covington (5.9) and Flamion (5.7).

Zach Gunn
Southeastern

Both teams are playing well. Noblesville has won 8-of-10, losing only to ranked teams Mt. Vernon and Lawrence Central. Carmel has won 8-of-11, losing only to ranked Lawrence North, ranked Carroll and Warren Central.

Both teams 14-8. Unless things get out of hand early, for either team, don't expect coaches Brian McCauley of Noblesville and Scott Heady of Carmel to surrender the basketball all that much.

Lots of Questions

There are questions entering the opener at The Mill between Hamilton Southeastern and Anderson.

Anderson is just 3-19 and has lost 13 straight, including a Guerin Catholic 90-64 blowout in the Indians' regular season finale.

But, back on Jan. 16, at Southeastern, Anderson pushed the Royals before losing 69-61.

Southeastern's leading scorer, Zach Gunn (17.8) just returned to the Royals' lineup last Friday after missing 6 games. He scored only 8 points.

Tickets available at The Mill

Tickets are available at the gate for this week's Noblesville sectional games. Doors will open one hour ahead of the scheduled tip each night: 5 p.m. on Wednesday, 5 p.m. on Friday and 6:30 p.m. on Saturday. Only single session tickets are now available, the cost is $6.

Tickets can be obtained at the Noblesville High School Athletic Department during its regular hours, 7:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m.

Games on TV 40

Tonight's Noblesville sectional games will be shown on WHMB-TV 40. The Hamilton Southeastern-Anderson game will be broadcast at 8 p.m., with the Noblesville-Carmel game to follow at 10:30 p.m.

Southeastern coach Brian Satterfield has done a lot of juggling with Gunn sidelined. The Royals won only 2 of those 6 games, beating Columbus North and Brownsburg.

Anderson hasn't played well. Since giving Southeastern a scare, the Indians have come close only once in 9 games, falling to Richmond 48-46.

David Howard University

Southeastern is 13-11 entering the sectional.

Young & Good

A very young and very good University team tonight will kick off its play in the Bethesda Christian Sectional, playing in the nightcap game against Indianapolis International.
