Riverview hosts groundbreaking for Westfield facility Tuesday

Riverview Health will host a groundbreaking for its new 105,000 square-foot outpatient care center at the northeast corner of US 31 and State Road 32.

"This new facility—which will serve as a "hospital of the future"—is scheduled to be completed by the fall of 2017, and will enable Riverview Health to provide convenient access to high-quality outpatient and physician services to the Westfield community and surrounding areas," said Larry Christman, COO of Riverview Health.

A short ceremony will be held at 8 am on Tuesday, March 8, at the property south of Westfield Intermediate School and to the west of Shamrock Boulevard.

Riverview Health already has a presence in Westfield, with three affiliated locations. The Riverview Health Pharmacy is just east of US 31, while Westfield Orthopedics and Westfield Medical are on the west side of the highway. In all, Riverview Health operates 25 primary, immediate and specialty care facilities located throughout Hamilton and Tipton counties.

The Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville collected discarded cigarette butts in downtown Noblesville Monday to promote Kick Butts Day, a national event that seeks to raise awareness of the dangers of tobacco to kids, adults and the environment. The project is a collaboration of BGCN and the Partnership for a Healthy Hamilton County's (PHHC) Tobacco Prevention & Cessation program. Mayor John Ditslear stopped by to show support for the club members.

Sustainability workshop brings homesteading to Hamilton County and honey is no longer just for rural homeowners and farmers. It doesn't take acres of land to provide fresh healthy food for your family. Join the Hamilton County Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) and Purdue Extension Hamilton County on Saturday, April 2nd for an introduction to homesteading by several local experts.

"People are increasingly interested in eating locally produced food and knowing more about where their food comes from. The cost savings of home food production or raising chickens and bees enhances that appeal," said Hamilton County SWCD Urban Conservationist Claire Lane. "This workshop will show people how to get started creating a more sustainable lifestyle or homestead on their propertyno matter how large or small it is."

Education sessions on backyard beekeeping and chickens, local food sources, and an introduction to home food production as well as the basics of food preservation, will all be covered by local experts. An urban soil health expert will teach how to develop healthy, productive soils for gardens. Additionally, SWCD and Purdue Extension staff will share with Producing your own vegetables, eggs, attendees the many local resources available to them to start these efforts.

> "Attendees are going to be learning from experts who have first-hand experience in all these efforts and started from square one themselves. Local suppliers will also be on hand to answer questions and connect people with local resources," Lane added.

> Speakers include Kate Franzman of Bee Public; Andrew Brake of Naptown Chickens; Chef Thom England of Ivy Tech and co-founder of Dig IN; Kevin Allison, a local Urban Soil Health Specialist; and Joyce Moore of Urban Path who will provide an intro to food preservation.

> The Sustainability Workshop will take place Saturday April 2nd at the Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds Exhibition Hall in Noblesville. The workshop will run from 9am-4pm and a box lunch featuring local ingredients will be included with the $15 workshop fee. Registration is required by March 23rd and can be completed at www.hamiltonswcd.org.

Kroger celebrates 161st Street fuel center grand opening in Westfield

Kroger Central Division leaders are cel- Kroger Co. Our solid success in the marketebrating the grand opening of a new fuel center with walk-in kiosk adjacent to the nomic and work force investments in our company's 150 West 161st St. store in Westfield, Indiana.

The total economic investment in this fuel center is $2.45 million. Kroger's project was led by Project Manager Reggie Henderson. This investment strengthens Kroger's economic and workforce commitment to Westfield and will create up to 10 additional jobs. The fuel center, which has a train theme and is called Kroger Depot at Spring Mill Station, includes a 900 square foot walk-in kiosk, only the second for a Kroger food store in Indiana. It will offer more merchandise than traditional Kroger fuel centers, including tobacco products, automotive items, sandwiches, snacks, fountain drinks, coffee and cappuccino station and lottery. The walk-in kiosk also is licensed to sell wine and beer. The fuel center includes diesel and, with 20 fueling stations, is the largest Kroger fuel center in Indiana.

The new fuel center follows completion of a $12 million expansion and major remodel of the store completed in September 2015 that brought more than 175 new jobs place allows us to make significant eco-Indiana stores. This additional investment in Westfield is a strong vote of confidence in the community, is part of a $465 million expansion announced in April of 2015 and allows us to continue providing quality products, competitive prices and outstanding customer service, while being a supportive community partner. This new fuel center, with its innovative walk-in kiosk, and the 95 other fuel centers in the operating division will allow us to provide the nation's best retail fuel rewards program to customers in that neighborhood.'

As part of the grand opening event, Kroger is offering an additional 20 cents off per gallon, up to 35 gallons. This offer is good from March 10-13, when you scan your Kroger Plus Card.

Kroger is widely acclaimed for having the most generous fuel rewards program in the country. Customers can earn points in increments of 100 by purchasing $100 in food or household items, filling two qualifying prescriptions in the pharmacy or purchasing $50 in participating gift cards. Each 100 points equals 10 cents per gallon in fuel savings. Customers may use up to $1.00 per gallon savings per transaction, up to a limit of 35 gallons. If a Kroger Rewards Visa card is used to pay for the fuel, an additional 5 cents per gallon discount is added. For Kroger Central Division fuel centers, an automatic 3 cents per gallon discount is added for any customer using a loyalty card at the time of fuel purchase. At current fuel prices, the Kroger rewards program could reduce the per gallon price to less than half Kroger's already very competitive market price.

According to Central Division spokesman John Elliott, "The grocery, pharmacy and fuel markets are very competitive in Indiana, but also very important for The

Westfield medic honored for service

A Westfield paramedic was honored by St. Vincent Health Wednesday evening for her performance on the job.

Renee Webb, an EMT-P with the Westfield Fire department, was given the St. Vincent Angel Medic Award along with 12 other departments for exhibiting exemplary performance.

"The whole department is proud of Renee and is grateful to her for what she's done over the years," Division Chief of Westfield EMS Alan Hensley said. "During her tenure, Renee started Westfield's advanced life support service, has mentored new medics and has been consistently knowledgeable and infinitely proficient in her duties. We are lucky to have her working for our community."

Recipients of the Angel Award are nominated by their peers. Criteria judged includes volunteerism, community service, core value commitment, leadership, professionalism and appropriate medical care. According to the St. Vincent website, recipients of the award "represent the best the industry has to offer."

Passport to Hi-Tech is Saturday at Conner Prairie

Press Release

Courtesy connerprairie.org Jocelyn Dunn is well on her way to becoming an astronaut, a dream she's had since she was a young girl.

At age 28, the Purdue University industrial engineering doctoral student has accomplished some impressive feats, earning a bachelor's degree in aerospace engineering, a master's degree in biomedical engineering and living eight months in a simulated Martian habitat.

In 2014, Dunn and a team of five other researchers lived in abandoned quarry about 8,000 feet above sea level in a domed structure on a volcano slope on the Big Island of Hawaii. The team was part of a NASA-funded study of human factors that affect team performance during long-term space travel, like a mission to Mars.

"We as a team went out and explored the area in full space suits as if we were the first Mars explorers," Dunn said. "We would get tasks assigned to us from our Mission Control and explore the terrain. This was the most astronaut-like thing that we did and the most enjoyable part for me was putting on the suit and feeling all of the physical and mental challenges of exploring."

Nearly 1,200 girls with aspirations mirroring Dunn's when she was young can talk with female science and technology leaders and participate in hands-on, interactive activities Saturday at the third annual Passport to Hi-Tech, a partnership between Conner Prairie and Women & Hi Tech.

Passport to Hi-Tech is an event for girls ages 7 to 12 to learn about careers in science, technology, engineering, and math. The event runs from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. inside Conner Prairie's Welcome Center, located at 13400 Allisonville Road in Fishers. Free for museum members, general admission is $8. Admission for area Girl Scouts in uniform and their family members is $6.

Girls can participate in hands-on experiments and interactive exhibits throughout the day and explore biology, chemistry, engineering, manufacturing, computer science and other disciplines.

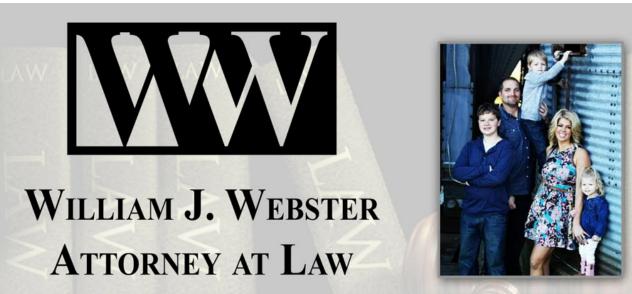

At 30 stations located throughout the museum's Welcome Center, girls can engage with female experts and professionals working in STEM-related fields and ask questions, help with hands-on experiments, participate in interactive tasks and learn more about careers. Girls will have their passports stamped after visiting each station, helping them decide what fields they found most interesting.

In addition to Dunn, several other female STEM leaders and achievers will be present at Passport to Hi-Tech, including Mikaela Gilbert, a student at the Kelley School of Business at Indiana University who as a high school senior launched a business called Chatter Eggs, and Lisa Laughner, founder, president and CEO of Go Electric, a green-tech startup developing energy services solutions that accelerate a renewable energy future. Passport to Hi-Tech is sponsored by Roche and supported by technology hosts Dow AgroSciences, Cummins, Garrity Tool, Rolls-Royce, CIM System Robotics, Eleven Fifth Academy, Lilly, CE Solutions, Go Electric and Angie's List. Education hosts include Indiana University, Purdue University, Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis, Indiana State University, Butler University, Ivy Tech, Marian University, Anderson University and St. Mary-of-the-Woods College. Program hosts include Girl Scouts of central Indiana, Engineering for Kids, STEM Scouts, INFirst Robotics, 1st Maker Space, Video Game Palooza, Microsoft Store, Starbase Indiana and Link Observatory.

Heights in "showdown" battle with Marion....

Guerin takes step upward

By DON JELLISON Reporter Editor

History will be made tonight in The Mill when Coach Pete Smith brings his Guerin Catholic Golden Eagles for the first time into a Class 4A Sectional.

In semi-final action of Sectional 8. Guerin Catholic will face Fishers in the opening game tonight. That will be followed by the other semi-final round battle between Carmel and Hamilton Southeastern.

Smith, the only coach in Guerin Catholic history and a man who once coached Noblesville to a sectional title, is playing Class 4A basketball this year after nine seasons in Class 2A and Class 3A.

Guerin's move upward is called the "success factor," a rule the IHSAA applies to teams based on previous successes. In Guerin's situation, the Eagles have won three sectional, three regionals, two semistate and two state championship while playing Class 3A the last four seasons.

During that four-year period, no Class 3A program has been more successful than Smith's program at Guerin Catholic. In regular season competition, the Eagles won 85 games and lost only 23 while playing a very strong schedule.

Tonight, Guerin Catholic will carry a 13-11 record into battle against Fishers. Guerin drew a first-round sectional bye.

Coach Joe Leonard's Tigers finished the regular season with a 10-12 record and then Tuesday in The Mill defeated a Westfield team, 58-53, which back on Feb. 4 had defeated Fishers 59-58.

Guerin Catholic had not faced any Sectional 8 opponent this season until finishing the regular season with a 90-64 blasting of Anderson, which was a 73-47 loser to Hamilton Southeastern in a Wednesday sectional contest at Noblesville.

The Golden Eagles finished their regular season strong, winning their last eight games.

Fishers, meanwhile, broke a three-game losing streak with the sectional-opening victory over Westfield.

Guerin Catholic, although still with a Class 3A enrollment, feels like a natural to be playing in the local sectional. Guerin is located only a few miles from The Mill on the west side of Noblesville.

The Eagles finished 4-4 against Class 4A teams this season, including an impressive Heights and Anderson to end the regular season.

Another Rivalry

Carmel, which already has survived against one Hamilton County rival with the 42-36 double-overtime victory over ago, and Southeastern appears ready for Noblesville on Wednesday, will take on another rival in the second game tonight as Coach Scott Heady's Greyhounds face into the game. Four of those losses were Hamilton Southeastern.

On Feb. 12 at Southeastern, Carmel edged the Royals 47-42.

Sectional headliner In a game which well could decide the sectional championship, Hamilton Heights will face host Marion in tonight's opening game of the Class 3A sectional at Marion. While the Huskies sat and watched with a first-round bye, Marion has defeated Blackford 80-41.

In the other game played at Marion, It has been a roller coaster type of season season. The Greyhounds have won three Yorktown defeated Delta 45-38 and tonight in the second game with take on another powerhouse, Tipton.

Coach Chad Ballenger's Huskies have been hotter than a firecracker. Heights has won three straight and two of those wins were against teams, Twin Lakes and Tipton, which had defeated the Huskies earlier in the season. Heights closed the regular season with an overtime victory over Class 4A New Castle.

The Huskies have won seven of their last nine games, losing only to Tipton (before beating the Blue Devils in the Hoosier Conference Tourney) and to 4A powerhouse Lawrence North.

Heights is 16-8 on the season.

Marion has been just as hot. The Giants will enter tonight's game with a 17-7 record. They have won five of their last seven, losing only to McCutcheon and Fort Wayne Snider.

Two powerhouses

Even with a 20-5 record and 10 wins in its last 11 games, University will carry the underdog role into the second game of the Bethesda Christian Class 1A sectional tonight.

Bethesda Christian will face Math & Science in the opener. BC had a first round bye while Math & Science was beating Indiana Deaf 51-39.

University won an 82-34 first round battle over International. The Trailblazers tonight in Game 2 will play Tindley, an 89-42 first round winner over Metropolitan.

University's only losses in its last 14 games were to Tindley, 48-43, at University and to Heritage Christian 55-54.

Tindley is 19-5 and has lost only to Attucks, 66-65, in its last eight games.

Carmel boys 2nd, girls 5th at MIC indoor meet

The Carmel track and field teams competed in the Metropolitan Conference indoor meet Thursday at Warren Central.

The Greyhound boys team finished second with 92 points, behind only a strong Ben Davis team's 121 points. Carmel won two relays, the 4x800 and distance medley, while also finishing 1-2 in the pole vault. Ryan Lipe won that event with a big leap of 16-4.75, while Mitch Lipe was second.

In the girls meet, the Greyhounds finished fifth with 68 points. Sarah Leinheiser, this year's individual cross country state champion, started her track season with a win in the 3200 run. Carmel also won the distance medley relay.

"As all first meets go, you see things you like and you see lots of things you need to work on," said 'Hounds coach Aaron McRill. "Always great to get those first meet jitters out of the way."

Next up for Carmel is the West Lafayette Individuals Meet, which takes place Saturday at Purdue.
