HAND poised to have change in leadership

HAND announced they will be searching for a new Executive Director to replace Nate Lichti, its director since 2012. Lichti announced he would be going to work for a regional nonprofit organization.

HAND works throughout Hamilton County to raise awareness of affordable housing needs, and to provide solutions when possible. Since 2012, these efforts expanded considerably.

During Lichti's tenure, HAND conducted a strategic plan and built relationships in all eight cities and towns. HAND's Housing Needs Assessment has been a resource for local nonprofits and communities since it was completed in 2013. It contained community specific data and strategies generated through the public process.

The new Director will have an opportunity to build on a platform HAND intentionally developed as part of its multi-year strategy adopted in 2013. This includes community building efforts coordinated through the Neighborhoods NOW program and Helping HAND.

Housing continues to be a primary focus for HAND. After completing 14 apartments last year, HAND now owns 94 units in Sheridan, Cicero and Noblesville.

Interested individuals should submit a resume and cover letter to employment@handincorporated.org. The position description and more information about HAND is available on its website: www.handincorporated.org. Questions can be directed to Sara Hill, Vice President and chair of the Selection Committee: sara.hill@lakecitybank.com.

Complaint filed against five prosecutors

By JEFF JELLISON

Local attorney Andrew J. Dollard is accusing five Indiana prosecutors of being involved in what Dollard states "is one of the most corrupt, dishonest, and unethical prosecutions in the history of the State of Indiana."

Dollard's accusations include Hamilton County Chief Deputy Prosecutor Andre Miksha, former Hamilton County Deputy Prosecutors Matthew Kestian and Hamilton County Deputy Prosecutor Ryan Overpeck.

Dollard has filed a complaint with the Indiana Disciplinary Commission that states: "Since July 25, 2014, the following Indiana Prosecutors have been involved in one of the most corrupt, dishonest, and unethical prosecutions in the history of the State of Indiana; Andre Miksha, Hamilton County Prosecutors Office; Matthew Kestian, formerly with the Hamilton County Prosecutors Office; Eric Overpeck, Hamilton County Prosecutors Office; Ronald Byal, Howard County Prosecutors Office; Michael Shipman, Wayne County Prosecutors Office."

Dollard's most recent accusation is not his first complaint filed against a prosecutor. Miksha told the Reporter Dollard had filed a similar complaint in March of 2015. "That grievance was dismissed on its face as not raising a substantial question of misconduct," stated Miksha.

Dollard's complaint alleges: On July 25, 2014, a Probable Cause Affidavit written by the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, Diversion Investigative Unit was filed in Hamilton, Howard, and Wayne County Courts. This Affidavit submitted with the Courts was patently false, misleading, and incomplete. The above listed Prosecutors were most assuredly aware and had knowledge of the false allegations contained in the Probable Cause Affidavit, as they had been working very closely with the DEA and State investigators well before July 25, 2014.

Dollard indicates the following people were arrested and charged with multiple felonies: Dr. Larry Ley, bench trial set in July 2016; Dr. George Agapios, case dismissed by the Hamilton County Prosecutors Office; Dr.- Ronald Veirk, pending trial;

Dr. Luella Bangura, pending trial; Joseph Mackey, case dismissed by the Howard County Court; Felicia Reid, case dismissed by the Howard County Court; Cassy Bratcher, cases dismissed by the Howard County, and Hamilton County Courts; Derek Tislow, cases dismissed by the Howard County and Hamilton County Courts; Andrew Dollard, case dismissed by the Hamilton County Court. (Prosecutors Miksha and Overpeck filed a "Motion to Correct Error" with the trial judge, which was denied); Yvonne Morgan, cases dismissed by Wayne County and Hamilton County Court. (Prosecutor Shipman filed a notice of appeal in the Indiana Court of Appeals.); Eric Ley, cases dismissed by the Howard County and Hamilton County Courts; Jessica Callahan, case dismissed by the Hamilton County Court.

Dollard stated, "These false arrests and malicious prosecutions, as well as the extensive media coverage involved; has forever changed the lives of these twelve people, and their families. The above individuals are in financial ruin, have lost employment, have lost homes, have lost their reputations, and most importantly, they have completely lost faith in our Justice System."

Dollard continued to state, "During a staged press conference on July 25, 2014 at the Carmel Police Department, Aaron Deitz of the Hamilton/Boone Drug Task Force stated that the Drug and Opiate Recovery Network (DORN) was nothing more than a "street level drug dealing operation", a strictly "cash-and-carry" operation, an illegal "pill-mill", and in fact, Deitz labeled Dr. Larry Ley as the "Pablo Escobar" of Suboxone. Deitz's comments were clearly designed to sensationalize this tragic event. Some of these prosecutors were present at this media conference."

"It should be noted that Suboxone is used to treat Opiate and Heroin addiction. Evidence has been brought to light that the seven undercover agents working with the DEA in fact knew well before July 25, 2014 that this was NOT an illegal "pill-mill" operation, but a true recovery center where addicted individuals were properly and successfully being treated and monitored for their Opiate and Heroin addiction," said Dollard.

Dollard said in a news release, "Very sadly numerous people have in fact died since July 25, 2014 in Hamilton, Wayne and Howard County of Heroin overdose.

Hamilton County ranks 9th in the State now in Heroin overdose deaths, since law enforcement closed DORN's Hamilton County rehabilitation centers. There were 19 reported Heroin overdose deaths in Wayne County since DORN's Centerville, Indiana was closed, and 29 reported Heroin overdose deaths in Howard County since law enforcement closed DORN's Howard County office. This is the ultimate tragedy."

"These false arrests have inhibited other Medical professionals from treating Heroin and Opiate Addiction. Thus, access to treatment is severely limited," said Dollard

Dollard's release says, "Evidence revealed that all seven agents met with Dr. Ley between two and three hours during their initial visit in his Carmel medical office. Complete medical and substance histories were taken; urine screens were collected from the DEA agents, by DORN staff. A patient pledge was signed. Here, undercover agents indicated they would abstain from using alcohol or other drugs while in the program. Every undercover agent knew that Counseling through a license substance abuse counselor was mandatory. Attending a 12-step program was mandatory, and employment while in the program was mandatory."

"In fact, two agents were dismissed from the DORN program because they did not have Suboxone in their system when they were given a urine drug screen. DORN suspected those two agents of selling their medication, thus exiting them permanently from the DORN program. Nothing about DORN suggest anything but a viable treatment option for Addiction."

Dollard stated, "It should be noted that this was a Federal investigation. The United States Attorney for the Southern District of Indiana declined to file any criminal charges in Federal Court."

Noblesville man killed in Greenfield Ave. crash

A Noblesville man lost his life after a crash at the intersection of Greenfield Ave. and Watson Blvd. Friday evening. At approximately 9:10 p.m., police officers and firefighters from the Noblesville Police & Fire Departments responded to that intersection in reference to a report of a motor vehicle crash involving a moped and passenger car. Officers and firefighters arrived on the scene a short time later and began to investigate. Based on witness statements and evidence at the scene, it appears that a 2012 Dodge Charger was facing northbound on Watson Blvd. when it pulled out into the path of a moped that was traveling eastbound on Greenfield Ave. The driver of the Dodge appeared to be attempting to turn westbound on Greenfield Ave. at the time of the crash.

The driver of the moped, Terry A. Schippers, 54, Noblesville, was transported by ground ambulance to I.U. Saxony Hospital (Fishers). A short time after arrival, the driver was pronounced deceased. There were no passengers on the moped. There is no evidence to suggest that the driver was wearing a helmet at the time of the crash. The driver of the Dodge was identified as Darius T. Butler, 21, from Noblesville, IN. He reported no injuries as a result of the crash. There were no passengers in the vehicle. Investigators from the NPD Accident Reconstruction Unit were summons to the scene to collect evidence and gather information. As a result of the investigation, traffic on Greenfield Ave. was either restricted and/or closed between Union Chapel Road and Summer Road until approximately 12:15 a.m. Saturday.

Tuesday rally takes a stand...

Teen dating violence is #NotOK

A new campaign is taking a stand against teen dating violence in Hamilton County, Indiana, and asks residents to participate.

The #NotOK Teen Dating Violence Campaign marks the first time a county-wide effort has been launched to address this form of domestic violence.

In its efforts to communicate that teen dating violence is dangerous, prevalent and unacceptable, the campaign has adopted the hashtag and battle cry - #NotOK. This message was announced at the first teen dating violence awareness rally for Hamilton County and will be featured in a stirring Facebook video.

The #NotOK Teen Dating Violence Awareness Rally took place Tuesday at Carmel City Hall. School administrators, law enforcement officers, service providers, and leaders from each of Hamilton County's municipalities gathered against teen dating violence.

Attendees to the rally wore teal #NotOK t-shirts to visually demonstrate their disapproval of dating violence. Carmel Mayor Jim Brainard participated in the rally and a local teen shared her personal experiences as a victim of dating violence.

A provocative component of the #NotOK Teen Dating Violence Campaign was a short video that demonstrates an alarming national statistic about teen dating violence and applies it to Hamilton County. The campaign asked Hamilton County residents to share the video on social media with the accompanying hashtag statement, #NotOK. Philip Paluso of Medium Cool Pictures in Fishers volunteered as the producer of the #NotOK video.

The #NotOK Teen Dating Violence Campaign was created as a community service project through the Hamilton County Leadership Academy. Five members of HCLA's current class formed a project team to address domestic violence as an under-told issue in the county. The project team members are Hamilton County residents Adam Aasen, Tanya Hand, Jason King, Jocelyn Vare and Brittany Winebar. In-kind contributors are Hamilton County Leadership Academy, DCG: Digital Color Graphics and Bright Ideas in Broad Ripple.

The #NotOK Campaign's video and messages are focused on a startling national statistic about the prevalence of dating violence. The campaign's project team noted that Hamilton County couldn't be immune from teen dating violence situations given the alarming fact that one in every three teen girls experiences it.

HCLA project team member Brittany Winebar is a Youth Advocacy Supervisor at Prevail, Inc., a Hamilton County that advocates and serves victims of crime and abuse. Winebar states, "Teen dating violence can take many forms- physical, sexual, emotional, or verbal abuse- or abuse that is online or through technology."

The #NotOK Campaign shares a warning with Hamilton County residents and encourages conversations between peers, parents and teens. The project team hopes to recruit a Hamilton County organization to continue the #NotOK message into high schools and all neighborhoods of Hamilton County on an ongoing basis.

To view and share the video, visit www.facebook.com/NotOKwithMe. To take the online pledge, visit www.NotOKwithMe.org.

Ryan Lipe still soaring...

Carmel wins indoors title

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

Just how high can Carmel junior Ryan Lipe soar in the pole vault this season? Competing in the Large School Division in the Hoosier State Relays at Purdue, Lipe cleared 16-3 to win the state championship and lead his Greyhounds to the team title.

“Ryan Lipe has been amazing as he has added about 10 pounds of muscle over the summer,” said Carmel coach Ken Browner. “This added strength has made him a better vaulter, but I did not expect him to go 16 feet this early.

“In the three indoor meets he has competed this season, he has cleared 16 feet each time. He went 16-6 on March 18 at DePauw. He was coming off the flu going to the HSR finals but still gutted it out and got the win.

“I believe he has a chance to vault 17 feet, but he has to stay healthy,” Browner added.

Carmel got a break to win the meet. “We definitely got some help from Ben Davis dropping the baton in the 4x200 relay, but we knew when that happened we had a chance to steal the meet,” said the Carmel coach.

Carmel edged Ben Davis by 4 ½ points. “It was important for us to win the distance medley relay,” Browner continued, “and the pole vault to accomplish this feat. Ben Veatch ran an amazing 1600 leg of the DMR, running it in 4:13 and leading that squad to victory.

“Overall, I was proud of how the team competed at the HSR Finals and I believe it has given us confidence going into the outdoor season,” Browner said.

Hamilton Southeastern finished 6th in the boys standings.

“The Royals put together a solid team performance,” said HSE coach Christopher Swisher.

The bulk of Southeastern’s 28 points came from the 3200 run where Gabe Fendel finished second and Ben Wagoner made a charge in the late stages to come home third.

Carmel’s Ryan Lipe soared at the Hoosier State Relays Saturday, winning the pole vault with a leap of 16-6. The Greyhounds won the boys team competition and finished second in the girls team standings.

“Fendel and Wagoner doubled back in the distance medley relay to help that team win all-state honors,” Swisher said.

“Ethan Bray also had a strong showing in the pole vault, finishing third (15-3),” added Swisher.

Westfield’s boys also had a good meet. The 4x200 meter relay team of Evan Manley, Chris Zolto, Nolan Rodgers and Charlie Miller earned the first medal in that event in school history with an eighth place finish and a new school record.

The Westfield distance medley relay team of Aaron Bennett, Miller, Sam Henthorn and Alec Hartman placed fifth. The DMR showed a lot of heart, especially Bennett, who raced despite falling ill with a viral infection two days prior, and Hartman, who has missed several weeks with various illness.

Carmel’s girls also had a great meet, finishing second to Warren Central, 54-51. Westfield placed fourth, Noblesville sixth and Fishers ninth.

“We had a very successful night with lots of personal bests,” said Carmel coach Aaron McRill. “We also had some great learning lessons when it comes to competing and how every point really does matter. The meet was a great way to leap frog us into the outdoor season.

“Warren Central has a great team and will be fun to watch in the outdoor season,” McRill added.

Carmel’s distance medley relay team of Megan Kress, Rachel Dixon, Stacy Morozov and Sarah Leinheiser placed third. The 4x800 relay foursome of Sam Miller, Anna Morozov, Alex Waples and Megan Kres was fourth.

In the 3200 run, Leinheiser was second, Christina Geisler third and Stacy Morozov fourth.

Westfield gained all-state honors by wining the 4x800 relay with Lauren Bailey, Gabby Brown, Madison Smith and Devon Leahy.

Westfield’s Jada Caldwell earned sixth place in the shot put.

Leading the way for the ninth-place Fishers Tigers was the 4x400 relay team of Kayla Crose, Toni Grace, Paris Carver and Danielle Harrison, placing third. The 4x200 relay foursome of Carver, Crose, Brooklyn Banks and Harrison place fourth.

Carver was seventh in the 60 meter dash for Coach Andrew Belloli’s Tigers.

Noblesville Deja Cox, Grace Briscoe, Lily Ealter and Maria Anderson set a school record in the 4x200 relay.

Southeastern’s 4x200 relay team of Mia Mackenzie, Alexa Jenkins, Tierra Sydnor and Camille Christopher ran a 1:46.25, which is the second best time in school’s indoors history. Coach Julie Alano’s 4x800 squad of Grace Andritsch, Sabrina Bippus, Abbie Lohman and Kaitlyn Weldy ran a 9:42.08, which is the third best time in school indoors history.

At the Small School State Finals...

Defoe put on a show

The Hoosier State Relays, held last Saturday at Purdue University, were separated by classes, based on enrollments. Hamilton Heights and Guerin Catholic were in the Small School Division, which was good news for those who competed in the hurdles and dashes in the Large School Division. They did not have to face Hamilton Heights' Michael Defoe.

Defoe won the state championships in those two events and also placed fourth in the long jump. He led the Huskies to a fifth place team finish. He got help from Brandon McQuinn, who placed eighth in the pole vault and from Heights' 4x200 relay team which included Defoe in a fourth place finish.

Guerin Catholic's Carter McGinnis placed seventh in the long jump.

In the Girls Division, Guerin Catholic placed its marbles in the relays, finishing second in both the 4x800 and 4x400; third in the 4x200 and fourth in the district medley relays.

Those relay finishes led the Lady Golden Eagles to a fourth place team finish.

Guerin's Megan Slamkowski finished third in the 3200 run.

Butler's basket lifts Bulls past Pacers

By WHEAT HOTCHKISS
Courtesy nba.com/pacers
For the third time this season, a game between the Pacers and the Bulls came down to the final possession. And just as they did twice in Chicago, the Bulls (37-37) held off the Pacers (39-35), coming away with a 98-96 win on Tuesday night at Bankers Life Fieldhouse that snapped a four-game skid and breathed new life into the Bulls' playoff hopes.

With the win, Chicago climbs within two games of Indiana for the East's final playoff spot with just eight games remaining in the regular season. More importantly, Tuesday's victory gave Chicago the head-to-head tiebreaker over the Pacers by virtue of winning the regular season series, 3-1.
"The same game, losing the same way, it's frustrating," Pacers forward Paul George said after the loss. "It's real frustrating."

As always seems to be the case when these two Central Division rivals clash, this particular contest was tightly contested throughout the night. The two sides were tied at 84 entering the fourth quarter before Chicago opened the period with a 9-2 run.
Indiana answered by scoring the next eight points, taking the lead on Myles Turner's jumper with 5:46 to play. George's Hill layup with 3:03 remaining broke a prolonged scoreless stretch by both teams before Nikola Mirotić's 3-pointer with 2:19 to play — Chicago's first points in nearly seven minutes — tied the game at 96.

The score remained the same until the final seconds. With the shot clock turned off, Bulls head coach Fred Hoiberg drew up a play for All-Star guard Jimmy Butler at the top of the key. With Paul George guarding him, Butler went around a Mirotić screen and drained an open jumper from inside the right elbow that put Chicago in front with 3.7 seconds remaining.
"It was kind of a miscommunication," Pacers center Ian Mahinmi said about the Pacers' defense on Butler's game-winner.
"We fell short. It's painful. It's one of those games that we feel like we should have took, but there's plenty to learn."
The Blue & Gold had a chance to win it at the buzzer, but C.J. Miles' 3-pointer just missed and Chicago escaped with another narrow victory.
Butler might have won the game, but Mirotić was the star for Chicago on this particular night. Chicago's versatile big man led all scorers with 28 points and 10 rebounds, going 7-for-13 from behind the 3-point line.
"He just stayed hot," Pacers forward Solomon Hill said after the loss. "The ones that he missed were the ones where we left him wide open. He made all his contested shots."
Butler added 14 points on 6-of-10 shooting, while Pau Gasol made his presence felt all over the box score, finishing with 10 points, 11 rebounds, seven assists, and four blocks.
George led Indiana with 20 points, nine rebounds, and four assists.
