Fishers makes move to prioritize development at 106th and 116th street interchanges

As development pressures grow along the I-69 corridor around the 106th and 116th street interchanges in Fishers, Mayor Scott Fadness wants to ensure what comes is aligned with the city's vision for a corporate corridor. That is why he is proposing to slow things down and require any new development along I-69 at 106th and 116th streets, regardless of underlying zoning, go before the city council for approval.

"Our goal is not to fill up every piece of land as fast as we can. We do not want just any development. We want the right development," said Fadness. "Our goal is to be thoughtful and intentional to encourage building the kind of environment our residents want, including trail connectivity and more entertainment amenities. Today's businesses want the same."

Fadness

The land along I-69 around 106th and 116th streets has been zoned broadly commercial since the mid-1980's with Planned Unit Developments that vary in architectural styles and permit building heights that range from two-story buildings up to the maximum height allowed by state law.

"It's a fruit-salad of zoning that needs to be re-thought to provide a comprehensive look and unified goal for the overall corridor," Fadness explained. "We have one shot at getting this right."

Fadness has worked with the city council on this effort, reviewing the mix of zoning for this area at April's city council work session. The Fishers 2040 comprehensive plan also shows this area as a key employment node, an important factor for the long-term fiscal health of the city.

"If a proposal comes before the city council that is aligned with our vision, then we will support it," said John Weingardt, City Council President. "This is the right thing to do for our city's future, and I look forward to working with Mayor Fadness and staff on the I-69 corporate corridor initiative."

On May 10, the Fishers Plan Commission will conduct public hearings on the two ordinances proposed by Mayor Fadness' administration:

- Ordinance for 106th Street area along I-69
- Ordinance for 116th Street area along I-69

If the plan commission makes a favorable recommendation on May 10, the city council could adopt the ordinances at their next regular meeting on May 16. The ordinances are temporary and will be in effect for 120 days upon adoption. During that time, the mayor and city council will get to work on a plan to address zoning conflicts.

"With Launch Fishers, the recent designation of our Certified Tech Park nearby and access to I-69 throughout this corridor, we have a real opportunity to create a unique place for office and entertainment development," said Fadness.

Motherhood and Apple Pie

By MARY SUE ROWLAND

A day as special as Mother herself is quickly approaching as "Mother's Day" is May 8th, Sunday. This is a day so special that no one can forget to give a tribute to the very person who is responsible for YOU! Something that is common among all of us is that we each have a special Mom. "Mother's Day" is celebrated around the world on different days and in different ways. Since 1912, when the idea was presented, there have been many ideas and struggles connected to the day, like most good ideas. The special day has merged into another commercial holiday with printed cards, flowers and candy leading the list of remembrances. The original idea of "Mother's Day" was to send a hand written note not buy a printed card. There are rules connected to such a special day or at least there were rules.

It could be suggested that every day is "Mother's Day" or should be every day. Those words of respect and love that have gone unspoken for far too long could use a special day to just whisper something nice into the ear of Mom or a glance to the sky. Whether Mom is here and near or so very far away, Mother's Day is set aside to remember all she has done for you and others by Mom's all over the world.

Moms don't always tell us what we want to hear. Especially when we were teenagers, they did not understand a thing about being such an important budding person. Giving unwanted advice most likely learned from her Mother, resulting in an "Oh, Mom" accompanied by a long sigh, is certainly universal. Generally, Moms are very easy to please on her special day. If you can hold her hand along with a "thank you" will usually make her smile. If her hand is not near, then "Mother's Day can be different as reflections of opportunities missed become more important as each year passes.

Mothers are special, you only have one so treat her like a diamond that sparkles and gives you great memories and pleasure. She probably can make a heck of an apple pie too. Happy Mother's Day!

Thank you for special award

By DON JELLISON
Reporter Editor

I'm writing this column as a "thank you." A thank you to the Noblesville Alumni Association for last Saturday naming me Alumnus of the Year.

I'm also writing this column to apologize to the Association for not being able to attend its annual banquet and accept the award.

When you get to be my age, lots of awards come down the pike. When groups run out of people to honor, they usually pick an old guy like me.

I don't feel that way about this award. To be honored by the alumni from Noblesville High School is a real honor. Many of those are folks who lived high school years with me. To receive an honor from folks who know me well is, indeed, a real honor. So, "thank you" all.

I especially want to thank two long time friends who did much to make this happen, Betsy Reason and Perry Williams. It was Perry who last Saturday accepted the award in my honor. It was Betsy who delivered a talk sharing our days together at the old Noblesville Daily Ledger. I'm proud to say that I hired Betsy straight out of college. I'm also proud remembering days with Perry as a player and a coach of the old Howard Insurance baseball team.

Perry has been a real friend and a tremendous help in Jeff and I starting The Hamilton County Reporter.

I apologize for not being at the banquet to accept the award.

For the past nine months or so I've been battling a back injury. Although I walk, it's difficult to walk today. Although I stand, it's difficult to stand today.

I never know from day to day how well I'm going to walk or how well I'm going to stand.

As things turned out, last Saturday was a pretty good day, certainly a day good enough to walk from a table to the front of the room and accept an award.

And, while I knew this on Saturday morning, I thought it was too late to attend the awards banquet, even though Perry consistently urged me to do so.

I didn't want to ruin Betsy's speech. I didn't want Perry to feel he wasted a haircut.

I've never written a column like this before, so this one isn't going to win any awards. But, I want all your Noblesville Alumni friends to know how very special this award is to me.

Thank You.

Town of Cicero awarded Place Based Investment Funding

Lieutenant Governor Eric Holcomb announced yesterday that the Town of Cicero was one of four communities awarded a $50,000 Place Based Investment Fund (PBIF) grant through the Indiana Office of Tourism Development (IOTD) and the Indiana Office of Community and Rural Affairs (OCRA). PBIF is a partner program developed by OCRA and IOTD as a competitive matching grant program to support community and economic development projects across the state. Initiatives that promote quality of life, improve tourism experiences and develop multi-purpose gathering places are specifically targeted for the grant.

"The Place Based Investment Fund is a terrific partnership opportunity between state government and local communities," said Lt. Governor Holcomb. "High quality of life is a trademark of Indiana communities all across the state, and local leaders know better than anyone how to enhance and promote their appeal. We look forward to continued collaboration with the winners and are excited to see the results of their PBIF awards."

With the funding through PBIF and contributions by the Town of Cicero, the Cicero Parks Department, Cicero Friends of the Park, and Hamilton County Tourism, the Town will construct a stationary pier on Morse Reservoir in Red Bridge Park. The pier will be utilized as a gathering space for educational programming, recreational opportunities and an entertainment venue. Additional partners for the project includes Our Town Cicero and Hamilton Heights High School. The anticipated date of completion of the pier will be spring 2017.

"This project would not be possible without all of the partners and supporters who have been involved and who have committed either financially or through volunteer labor and services," said Parks Superintendent Charlie Cambre. "We believe that this project will be a great addition to Red Bridge Park and the entire community."

Artistic rendering provided

The Town of Cicero received a $50,000 Place Based Investment Fund grant through the Indiana Office of Tourism Development (IOTD) and the Indiana Office of Community and Rural Affairs. The town plans to use the funds towards the construction of a stationary pier on Morse Reservoir in Red Bridge Park.

"The Cicero Pier will generate new community and economic development opportunities for the community and provide a great investment into the future of Cicero," stated Planning Director Paul Munoz.

The Towns of Daleville, Nashville, and the City of La Porte will each receive grant funds of $50,000.00 to fund parks, public venues and other quality of place projects.

Brown says thanks to Hamilton County

The election results from Tuesday are still settling in and I feel truly blessed. I have been overwhelmed with the support I received from friends, clients, and my community over the past few months, but in particular, Tuesday, when I was elected to serve as Superior Court Judge in Hamilton County. I will continue to do my best to serve my community and the people of Hamilton County.

Thank you to those that worked the polls on my behalf. Thank you to those that came by my office over the past many weeks to pick up signs and spread the word for this grassroots campaign. I could not have done this without you. Every vote mattered tremendously.

I want to thank my family for dealing with my absence over the past several months. I know it wasn't easy for Molly Cue, particularly since she had a broken leg and a massively sprained ankle. To top things off, we had a newborn at home. I also want to thank my sons, Mitchell and Sam, and my newest, Jane Elizabeth, for their patience and lack of having dad around as much for the past several months. Baseball season is getting underway and I am looking forward to being back in the dugout at Noblesville Babe Ruth and heading to the Philmont Scout Reservation with Troop 101 in July.

I also want to thank David Najjar. We both ran clean and professional campaigns, which is what the public should expect from those that wish to be public servants, and it has been a pleasure to get to know him and his family over the past several months.

Thank you to all that came out to the polls yesterday. Every vote matters.

HNPL's Tuesdays with Friends feature...

Could I be a Master Gardener?

Whether it's spring by calendar or weather, every gardener's fancy turns to thoughts of flower-bed planning and planting. Some gardeners' thoughts, however, go beyond their own flower beds and garden plots. They wish to cultivate their knowledge of gardening, native plants, and using land wisely. Who better to learn gardening from than a horticultural expert?

This month's Tuesdays with Friends at Hamilton North Library features Master Gardener Laurie Greenlee, who will discuss the Master Gardener curriculum and certification requirements. This Purdue University course, available through the Hamilton County Extension office, is open to anyone interested, as is the Tuesdays with Friend program, which begins at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday at the Cicero branch.

Greenlee, a longtime Cicero resident, also will share her tips and techniques on growing irises. Having cultivated more than 20 different species of iris, she brings a specialized proficiency to the iris garden.

The public is invited to Greenlee's program on Master Gardener certification on Tuesday, May 10 at 6:30 p.m., taking place in the meeting room at the Cicero branch of Hamilton North Public Library, 209 W. Brinton Street. Hosted by HNPL's Friends of the Library group, Tuesdays with Friends meets the second Tuesday of the month and offers a variety of programs open to the public.

Don't keep family in the dark about your plans

By COREY SYLVESTER

You might work diligently at building a financial roadmap for your retirement years and a comprehensive estate plan. But you can't just create these strategies – you also have to communicate them. Specifically, you need to inform your spouse and your grown children what you have in mind for the future – because the more they know, the fewer the surprises that await them down the road.

Let's start with your spouse. Ideally, of course, you and your spouse should have already communicated about your respective ideas for retirement and have come to an agreement on the big issues, such as when you both plan to retire, where you'll live during retirement, and what you want to do s retirees (volunteer, travel, work part time and so on).

But what you both might have let slip through the cracks are the important specifics related to financing your retirement. You'll need to answer several questions, including these:

- When will you each start taking Social Security?
- Are there strategies for maximizing both of your Social Security payments?
- When will you need to start tapping into your respective retirement accounts, such as your IRA and 401(k)? And, once you do start withdrawing from these accounts, how much should you take out each year?

You may want to work with a financial professional to address these issues, but however you proceed, you and your spouse need to be "on the same page" regarding the key financial components of your retirement.

Now, consider your grown children. You need to clearly communicate your estate plans to them, not only for the sake of openness and honesty, but also because they may well play active roles within those plans.

So when talking to your children, make sure you cover these areas:

- Durable power of attorney – You may well decide to give one of your grown children the durable power of attorney to pay bills and make financial choices on your behalf if you are unable to do so.
- Estate executor – An executor is the person or entity you name in your will to carry out your wishes. An executor has a variety of responsibilities, so you'll want to choose someone who is honest and capable of dealing with legal and financial matters. Again, you could ask a grown child to serve as your executor, but, to avoid potential conflict of interests among your children, you might want to go outside the family. Talk with an attorney about how best to name your executor.
- Status of will and living trust – Assuming you have already drawn up a will, share it with your grown children. The same is true with a living trust, a popular estate-planning tool that may allow your survivors to avoid going through the time-consuming, public and expensive process of probate. A will and a living trust will obviously contain a great deal of information your children should know about – so take the time to explain your thinking when you created these documents.

You want to enjoy a comfortable retirement, and you want to leave a meaningful legacy through your estate plans. To help accomplish both these goals, you need to include your loved ones in your arrangements – so open those lines of communication.

Edward Jones, its employees and financial advisors are not estate planners and cannot provide tax or legal advice. You should consult your estate-planning attorney or qualified tax advisor regarding your situation.

Aretha Franklin to perform at The Giving Gig 2017

Community Health Network Foundation officials have announced that "Queen of Soul" Aretha Franklin will headline The Giving Gig® 2017, the non-profit's annual fundraising event to support Community Health Network's cancer patients facing financial difficulties.

The Giving Gig will be held on February 11, 2017, at the Indianapolis Marriott Downtown. Franklin's performance will round out an evening of giving for the 1,034 attendees in attendance. All proceeds benefit Community Health Network's Oncology Patient Assistance Fund, which provides $250 vouchers for food, gas and medication to cancer patients in financial need.

Given its popularity in recent years, The Giving Gig 2017 is expected to sell out. Ticket sales open to the public on July 1. Individuals interested in attending are encouraged to join the priority mailing list, accessible via the following Web site: eCommunity.com/GivingGig or by calling 317-355-4483.

A table accommodating 10 guests is $5,000, a VIP couple's package is available for $1,750 and individual tickets cost $500. All guests will enjoy a cocktail reception and silent auction, a four-course gourmet dinner, a live auction and dancing during the concert. In addition, those purchasing the VIP package will receive complimentary valet parking, access to an exclusive after party, an overnight stay at the Indianapolis Downtown Marriott and premium gifts donated by local and national retailers.

Joyce Irwin, Community Health Network Foundation's president and CEO, says the event aims to raise additional financial support needed to fund Community's on-going commitment to helping cancer patients in need of crucial assistance.

"The battle against cancer is a struggle for everyone, yet it is multiplied for those already struggling to access essentials like food, transportation and medicine," said Irwin. "The need is great, and donors at The Giving Gig are able to make a direct impact in the lives of our cancer patients—alleviating the financial burden that cancer can cause and enabling them to focus on fighting the strongest fight possible. With our courageous cancer fighters in mind, we invite members of the community to join us at The Giving Gig 2017 for an evening filled with both tremendous generosity and soulful fun."

In 2016, The Giving Gig raised more than $1.4 million to support the Oncology Patient Assistance Fund, with $1.2 million raised in 2015 and $825,000 in 2014.

Aretha Franklin's musical legacy spans six decades, helping to earn her Rolling Stone magazine's No. 1 place on the list of "The Greatest Singers Of All Time." The recipient of the United States' highest civilian honor, The Presidential Medal of Freedom, Franklin has also earned eighteen Grammy Awards, a Grammy Lifetime Achievement Award and a Grammy Living Legend Award.

Franklin's many hits include "(You Make Me Feel Like) A Natural Woman," "Chain Of Fools," "I Never Loved A Man (The Way I Love You)"; her own compositions "Think," "Daydreaming" and "Call Me"; her definitive versions of "Respect" and "I Say A Little Prayer"; and global hits like "Freeway Of Love," "Jump To It," "I Knew You Were Waiting (For Me)," her worldwide chart-topping duet with George Michael, and "A Rose Is Still A Rose." Her performance at The Giving Gig is expected to include a mix of both her classics and more recent songs from her 2014 album, Aretha Franklin Sings The Great Diva Classics, covering hits from other female artists.

The Giving Gig 2017 is presented by Alderson Commercial Group.

"Each year, The Giving Gig grows in size and popularity, but the focus remains the same – it's all about helping as many patients as possible," said Tony Alderson, President and Founder of Alderson Commercial Group. "Next year's event is no exception, and support generated will go far in impacting oncology patients across Central Indiana. As presenting sponsor of The Giving Gig 2017, Alderson Commercial Group is honored to play a part in giving back to members of our community in need as they fight cancer."

Carmel girls win as more records fall

The Carmel girls track and field team won the team trophy at the Hamilton County Track and Field Meet on Friday. The Greyhounds won five events.

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Let the record show that many new records were set at Friday's Hamilton County Girls Track and Field meet.

The annual showcase at Carmel Stadium saw four new times enter the record book. In the team standings, the Greyhounds girls outdistanced Hamilton Southeastern 132-108, although the Royals had a couple record-setting performances from Camille Christopher.

Christopher dominated the sprints, lowering the records in both the 100 and 200 dashes. First up was the 100, which Christopher won in 12.22. That broke a mark that had stood since 1993 - the 12.50 by Alicia Bundy of Hamilton Heights. Fishers' Danielle Harrison placed second in 12.27, also under the old record.

In the 200, Christopher won that race in 25.44, edging out the 25.47 set by Westfield's Karen Hubbard last year. Hubbard ran in the 100 dash and as part of the Shamrocks' 4x100 relay this year, finishing fourth in both events.

The Tigers' 4x100 relay team of Paris Carver, Kayla Crose, Brooklyn Banks and Harrison broke its own record from last year, lowering it from 48.57 to 48.23 in a winning effort. Southeastern finished second, also getting under the old record at 48.52, with Alexa Jenkins, Christopher, Deneen McKinney and Mia Mackenzie running for the Royals.

Carmel's Sarah Leinheiser, winner of the individual cross country championship last fall, earned a record in the 3200 run. Leinheiser's winning time of 10:41.20 broke fellow Greyhound Renee Wellman's 2012 mark of 10:44.18. Carmel's Stacy Morozov finished second at 10:44.08, also under Wellman's time.

The 'Hounds won the most events with five. Leinheiser was joined in the winner's circle by Jessi Cowen (300 hurdles), Natalie Cotherman (discus), Kara Deady (pole vault) and the 4x800 relay team of Maddie Dalton, Megan Kress, Anna Morozov and Sam Miller.

"It was one of our goals this year, and we're glad that we could obviously compete with Hamilton Southeastern, but it was great to fulfill one of our goals," said Carmel coach Aaron McRill. "The girls are pretty excited because I guess they haven't won this in a while."

Noblesville was victorious in four individual events. Abi Little zoomed to a win in the 1600 run, and Shelby Tyler was first in the high jump. And then there's Maria Anderson, the winner of the 400 dash and long jump.

Anderson also placed second in the 200 dash. All that led to her being awarded the high point scorer of the meet; for which she received a trophy after all the events were concluded, followed by endless pictures taken by and with her teammates.

"It was kind of a surprise," said Anderson. "I was just happy to come out here and do my best."

In addition to its record-setting 4x100 relay, the Tigers were also winners in the 4x400 relay, which consisted of Carver, Toni Grace, Crose and Harrison. Kady Thompson finished first in the shot put.

Westfield's two wins came from Emily Robertson in the 100 hurdles, and Devon Leahy in the 800 run.

The Carmel boys track and field team defended its Hamilton County Track and Field championship on Friday. The Greyhounds won six events, including new records in the pole vault and 3200 run.

Carmel wins again...

LiPe, Veatch set records at Boys County Meet

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Could you imagine going for a new record in the pole vault - perhaps the most daunting event in track and field - and not know what it was?

That was the strategy for Carmel's Ryan Lipe Friday at the Hamilton County Boys Track and Field meet, which took place at Carmel Stadium. Lipe was trying to best last year's already astounding mark of 16-3, set by Hamilton Southeastern's Ethan Bray, who was battling Lipe for the vaulting championship again this year.

Liipe eventually cleared his unknown height, which was revealed to be 16 feet, 4-3/4 inches. It was one of two records that fell at the county meet, which was won again by the Greyhounds. Carmel scored 152 to the Royals 106.33. (A three-way tie for sixth in that eventful pole vault led to the splitting of points into thirds.)

"I didn't want to get it into my head that it's too high or it's too hard to clear," said Lipe when asked why he didn't want to know what he would be vaulting when he tried for the record. "I just came off an injury, so this is really my first meet back. I feel really good to have vaulted that high," and he is, of course, looking to go even higher.

Bray finished second in the pole vault in 15-6, still a foot above the IHSAA state standard of 14-6. And of course, the two will likely meet again at the Carmel sectional, which takes place May 19.

The other record to fall on Friday was the 800 run. The Greyhounds' Ben Veatch took down the 30-year standard set by Mark Rodholm - 1:54.3 in 1985. Veatch finished the race strong and in a new record time of 1:53.94. Westfield's Aaron Bennett placed second with a time of 1:54.35, not too far off from the record.

In all, the Greyhounds won six events. Peter Soderstrom took the 100 dash and joined Jacob Abrams, Lipe and Marcus Perkins to win the 4x100 relay. Jalen Walker was first in the 300 hurdles, and Bryce Sharp was victorious in the discus.

"We ran some kids in some off events - with Ben Veatch in the 800, just moving some kids around - and the kids responded really well," said Carmel coach Ken Browner. "I love the way the kids competed today and we were just good enough to get the win."

The Royals placed first in four events. Gabe Fendel took the 1600 run, while Madison Norris won the 110 hurdles. Ben Wagner ran away with the 3200 run, winning by over 10 seconds. Southeastern then finished the meet with a victory in the 4x400 relay, provided by the team of Jake Ledford, Zach Zuber, Justin Hornbuckle and Aaron Matio.

Meanwhile, Fishers, Noblesville and Westfield all picked up two wins.

The Tigers got both of their victories from Noah Rogers, who also received the high point scorer trophy at the meet's conclusion. Rogers led the way in the high jump and the long jump.

The Millers opened the meet with a win in the 4x800 relay, as Levi Neuzerling, Gavin Miller, Cole Martin and Max Runningen edged out Carmel by 0.17 seconds. Eric Ferguson continued his strong throwing season with a shot put victory; he was also second in the discus.

Westfield got its wins in the sprints, with Evan Manley pacing the 200 dash and Charles Miller taking the 400 dash.

Fishers' Noah Rogers won the boys high point scorer trophy, earning the award with wins in the long jump and high jump.
