Riverview Health Foundation hosts...

Women of Vision luncheon

On April 28, the Riverview Health Foundation hosted its 12th annual Women of Vision Luncheon for 350 attendees and successfully raised more than $50,000, which benefits women's services, programs and equipment at Riverview Health. At the luncheon, the Women of Vision Giving Club grants, totaling $28,990, were presented to the following areas and programs at Riverview Health: Employee Wellness, Maternity Center, Radiation Oncology, Rehab & Fitness, Touch of Love and Women's Boutique. These grants are awarded to programs at Riverview Health that impact the lives of women and girls in Hamilton County.

"This event is so much more than just a luncheon and this year was no different," said Megan Wiles, executive director of Riverview Health Foundation. "The purpose is to bring the community together and focus on the amazing stories of talented women so attendees leave feeling inspired to follow their dreams—all while raising awareness and support for women's health."

Pat Fox, who recently retired as president and CEO of Riverview Health, was the featured speaker. She shared memories and highlights of her 45-year career serving the healthcare needs of people and their families across Illinois and Indiana. The Riverview Health Foundation presented Pat with an award in appreciation for all her years of service. The Indiana Hospital Association also presented a proclamation to Pat and the Hamilton County Commissioners presented the Continental Award for her outstanding efforts of service to the community.

The Women's Retreat Impact Award—given to women who best exemplify life balance through who they are and the time, talent and energy they give through business, civic or philanthropic leadership—was presented to Michelle Corrao, assistant director of Prevail, Inc.

To learn more about the impact the Women of Vision Giving Club grants have on the lives of patients, visit riverview.org/video. If you'd like more information on how to join, please contact Jessica Deering at 317.776.7938 or jdeering@riverview.org.

The day was fun, inspirational and benefited a great cause.

Energy and Passion is in HAND

By MARY SUE ROWLAND

A lot can be accomplished with the right people in the right place with the addition of energy and passion. One of the best examples is Nate Lichti, executive director of HAND. You may not know the name but you may know what he has accomplished. HAND is driven by issues of growth, general affordability, sustainability and senior housing. Nate and his supportive and innovative Board of Directors have made a big difference in a short period of time in Sheridan, Noblesville, and Cicero with 94 units of housing including 14 apartments built just last year. HAND stands for the Hamilton Co. Area Neighborhood Development, a small non-profit established in 2003 to promote and develop affordable housing. Helping Hand is the driver of home repair and Neighborhoods Now is working with community building and advocacy in housing development. New housing such as Spicewood Gardens, Plum Tree, The Roper Lofts and Roper Capstone, Pebble Brook Apartments, and Lakeside Gardens are examples of successes of HAND. Pending projects are the Noblesville Granary-Elevator and Lofts and the Blackhawk Commons in Sheridan. All of the work, grants and real vision have resulted in an impressive accomplishment under Nate Lichti direction. It is hard to find a more dedicated individual and as in many cases other people took notice. Nate will be leaving his work in Hamilton County soon, although his work is far from complete. Nate in an open letter encouraged a long term view and suggested that a comprehensive strategy is needed in Hamilton County considering affordable housing. He leaves still with his heart in his work. Nate has called for a Hamilton County Trust Fund to be created to keep the vision in place for the future. Nate also said, “Hamilton County could start a program to help teachers, firefighters and police officers purchase housing in the communities in which they serve. I urge you to get involved and pledge your support and contribute real solutions to the cause”.

Nate Lichti leaves Hamilton County a better place with more awareness of housing needs. Nate Lichti leaves Hamilton County with a challenge to create real solutions. Nate Lichti is one of kind who has given himself and has made a physical difference providing real housing for real people.

Westfield cleanup continues with mobile reporting feature

Westfield’s spring cleanup continues with a mobile-friendly way to report litter and also improve road conditions. WeConnect, the customer service portal for Westfield’s residents and visitors, will now feature a litter locator button, as well as a road hazard button. These will allow residents to report areas of the city where trash has become a problem, as well as alert the city to debris in roadways, line of sight issues, or other problems that may make travel unsafe. “Our hope is that we can go to where the residents are and meet their needs more effectively,” Mayor Andy Cook said. “As the city’s cleanup efforts continue, we encourage residents and businesses to inform our employees of issues they may notice, as we want everyone to take pride in our community.” Residents can utilize the WeConnect reporting tools by either visiting weconnect.westfield.in.gov or by selecting the WeConnect tool through the city’s mobile app, available on iTunes and GooglePlay.

WTHR’s Jeremy Brilliant emceed the ceremony for the fourth year. Certificates of Appreciation: Jessi Emmerson and Shawna Scheumann were recognized by the Noblesville Fire Department and Local 4416 for their dedication to the Hamilton County Fallen Firefighters Memorial, and its fundraising efforts. The Firefighter’s Calendar raised more than $40,000 and played a major role in completing the statue.

Mr. Marc Wagner was recognized by the Noblesville Fire Department for his very calm, clear and professional demeanor during emergency radio communications as a 911 dispatcher. Firefighters recognize his voice and how he always provides relevant information in an understandable manner.

Emergency Medical Technician of the Year - Engineer Gary Pitcock’s professionalism, work ethic and compassion for patients as he provides the best level of care to every patient regardless of the severity of the incident earned him the EMT of the Year Award. Pitcock’s ability to consistently make patient care and contact the highest priority is noticed by his peers. His willingness to rotate to an ambulance and allow others to gain experience in other areas of our profession is greatly appreciated as well. Firefighter of the Year – Firefighter/EMT Joe Scheumann was recognized for his dedication, work ethic, character and reliability. During 2015, Scheumann showed leadership by spearheading the “Nozzle Forward” initiative, volunteering his time to assist with Fire Ops 101, the annual pancake breakfast, and food and toy drive. Scheumann utilized his “talents” to help raise funds for the Fallen Firefighters Memorial as Mr. April in the calendar.

Kenneth L. Gilliam Leadership Award – Battalion Chief Mike Cook’s dedication, leadership and devotion to the development of the Hamilton County Fallen Firefighters’ Memorial netted him the Officer of the Year Award. He has never wavered in his enthusiasm for the memorial and been key since the idea of the memorial in 2007. Cook has been the face of the memorial group and represented all Hamilton County Firefighters – past and present – in the memorial’s feature video. He also displays exceptional leadership on a daily basis and has set a very high standard as a battalion chief. Cook and his family have always been active in the fire department. All these things collectively, or alone, epitomize the significance that this award represents.

News: Carmel—Carmel Clay School Board President Weymouth Fogelberg has squelched, for the present, plans for a special meeting of the school board to hear opponents of the controversial decision to keep freshmen at Carmel from participating in senior high school athletics.

Sports: The Indiana High School Athletic Association has settled the month-long question of the winner of the April 1 track and field meet involving schools from Noblesville, Carmel and Lapel. The affair was held at Noblesville Memorial Field, The scoring question popped up after Lapel, because of bad weather, left the meet with eight of 14 events completed. The IHSAA has ruled that the meet should be scored as a triangular affair, and that Jim Butler, who was awarded third place in the pole vault, was not eligible for that position since he hadn’t cleared the opening height. Thus, the meet ends in a deadlock between Noblesville and Carmel. The Millers and Greyhounds, finished with 67 points for each team, with Lapel in third with 11 points.

Aleksandra Andersen receives full scholarship to Michigan State University

Andersen

A graduating senior at Noblesville High School has received a full scholarship to attend Michigan State University (MSU) beginning this fall. Aleksandra Andersen of Noblesville, Indiana said, “I chose MSU because it truly is an outstanding university that provides many academic and extracurricular opportunities. Not only are the campus and the facilities beautiful, but it also provides an environment for me to continue to learn and grow as a person. I truly feel that I will be exposed to a plethora of information and events that will help prepare me for my future.” During her time at Noblesville High School, Andersen participated in pole vault, peer tutoring and dance, including helping to host Noblesville’s first Riley Dance Marathon. Andersen will be a member of the Honors College at MSU with plans to major in actuarial science.

Andersen was chosen from an MSU applicant pool by the director of admissions and dean of the Honors College on the basis of her interview, high school program, achievements and standardized test scores. “Bright and talented students like Aleksandra help make Michigan State University even greater,” said Jim Cotter, director of admissions. “On behalf of the university, we congratulate her on this award.” In all, 23 incoming MSU students will receive either a University Distinguished Scholarship or an Alumni Distinguished Scholarship. The scholarships – considered among the most competitive awards in the country – are valued at about $200,000 for out-of-state students. They cover full tuition, room and board, and a stipend for up to eight semesters of study. “The Honors College actively recruits and fosters the intellectual talent of students like Aleksandra,” said Cynthia Jackson-Elmoore, dean of the Honors College. “We congratulate her on earning this scholarship and look forward to helping her achieve her goals at Michigan State University.”

Crail is red-hot, but...

Sheridan falls twice to Delphi

Sheridan got outstanding pitching from Jake O'Hara, Sam Crail and Kyle Harwood, but the Blackhawks' offense fizzled in a Wednesday double-header loss to Delphi, 3-2 and 2-1.

One Blackhawk Delphi didn't slow was Sam Crail, who got two hits in the 3-2 loss and three hits in the 2-1 defeat.

Conference tourney is Saturday...

Huskies look for "sync"

Hamilton Heights' bats failed Thursday evening in a 6-0 loss to Eastern at Kokomo.

Mitch Howie had two hits and another bright spot was the first varsity appearance for freshman Sam Fulton, who held Eastern hitless over two innings.

"Right now, we are out of sync and have no rhythm offensively," said Heights coach Matt Wallace.

"We had one of our best nights against Cass offensively and defensively last Friday and need to find that again going into the conference tournament this weekend."

In the conference tourney, Heights will open up with Twin Lakes on Saturday at Northwestern at 12:30 p.m.

Greg Schwoeppe, a freshman from Hamilton Southeastern, was among the five First Varsity letter winners for the Millikin University tennis team this season. Schwoeppe finished the season 15-8, including an 8-1 record at No. 4 singles.

Want to enjoy club-level seating for a day? On Wednesday, May 18, the Hulman Terrace Club, the newest club space at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, will be open to the public. Anyone inside IMS that day is encouraged to stop by and enjoy the new amenities.

Premium food and beverage concessions will be available for purchase inside the club, where guests can enjoy one of the best views of the historic oval. Guests wishing to join should use the south three Hulman Suite Elevators. No pit and garage credentials will be distributed. Coolers are not permitted.

The Hulman Terrace Club, new for 2016 as part of the Project 100 renovations at IMS, is located on the outside of the front straightaway of the famed 2.5-mile oval past the exit of Turn 4. It features more than 1,000 seats plus ADA-accessible seating for fans seeking a club option similar to what is offered at many other major U.S. stadiums. There are great views from the 22-inch stadium seats and from an outside deck area surrounding a large indoor pavilion.

"We haven't had a completely new seating option at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in many years, so to debut the Hulman Terrace Club in time for our epic race season including the 100th Running of the Indianapolis 500 is terrific for our fans," IMS President J. Douglas Boles said. "I encourage everyone to come out on May 18 and enjoy Verizon IndyCar Series practice from a new perspective!"

The Hulman Terrace Club, open on race days throughout the IMS season, is sold out for 2016. Benefits for ticketholders this year include pit and garage credentials every day except Indianapolis 500 Race Day, an event car ride around the oval, a B2B event, Brickyard Crossing Golf Course and retail discounts and an option to purchase seat nameplates.
