The County Line

Local taxes are inching upward for some in county

By FRED SWIFT
Local taxes are creeping upward in parts of Hamilton County this year and probably more next year despite recently advertised property tax rates that are lower in most areas. How does this happen in the state's wealthiest county?
It's because not all public entities are not created equal. Even though property owners get a bill for a single amount, the tax bill is a compilation of rates for county, school, city, township and library. And, there are other fees and charges that property owners in some areas are assessed.
Some units of government have plenty of money to offer the basic services they are required to provide. County government has a balance of more than $35 million. Some townships have plenty of money. Clay Township has several million in reserve while small, rural White River Township is raising taxes slightly to meet its needs.

Hamilton Southeastern Schools suffers the constant need for more teachers, supplies and about everything else. This year taxes are going up for Southeastern patrons following adoption of a referendum which about doubles the special tax levied by a referendum seven years ago.
Carmel city taxpayers are paying more this year as the city administration embarks on a new round of public improvements, and Noblesville property owners start paying a mandatory trash collection fee which amounts to a tax.
Next year taxpayers in Washington and Clay townships may be paying 25 percent more in the local income tax (COIT) if a planned referendum for mass transportation is approved by voters.
These increases are planned despite the fact that the county governmental units, except schools, recently received shares of a $65 million onetime distribution from the COIT trust fund.

Other public institutions which do not collect property or income taxes, but rely on fees and charges, are doing quite well. This would include Riverview Hospital, the County Convention and Visitors Commission and the Clay Regional Sanitary Sewer District which all carry healthy balances.
One unit that has not fared so well is the Jackson Fire Territory, a fire and EMS agency that relies on funding from Arcadia, Atlanta and Jackson Township. It may, in fact, be out of business soon for lack of funds.
Overall, taxes of all kinds are considered low in Hamilton County when compared with other counties and other states. Therefore, no outcry is found or expected when taxes and charges inch their way upward.

Richardson earns perfect score from Indiana Chamber

State Rep. Kathy Richardson (R-Noblesville) earned a perfect score on the Indiana Chamber of Commerce's annual Legislative Vote Analysis for her support of pro-economy, pro-jobs legislation.
Richardson's score is based on her performance during the 2016 session of the Indiana General Assembly and her votes cast in agreement with the Indiana Chamber's position on certain bills, including measures providing road funding, workforce education and scholarships to top-performing Hoosier students who enter the teaching field.
"The Legislative Vote Analysis is an important source of information for thousands of Indiana employers and citizens," states Indiana Chamber President and CEO Kevin Brinegar. "The purpose is to keep Hoosiers informed about what's going on at the Indiana Statehouse and how their legislators are voting on issues vital to the state's economic future and their own. This report makes it clear which legislators support pro-economy, pro-jobs bills and which legislators do not."
Indiana is one of the most business-friendly states in the country, recently ranking first in the Midwest and among the top five in the nation for best business climate, according to Chief Executive's annual "Best & Worst States for Business" ranking.
"By investing in education, workforce development, innovation and infrastructure, Indiana is building a foundation critical to the success of small businesses," Richardson said. "Our economy can continue to strengthen by fostering an environment where entrepreneurs feel confident they can start and grow a business, which means more jobs for hardworking Hoosiers."
Richardson received a four-year aggregate score of 94 percent.

Noblesville Schools host...

Unified Special Olympics

Noblesville Schools hosted a Unified Special Olympics event on Friday to conclude a week of disability awareness and inclusion activities.
Indiana University football coach Kevin Johns was a guest speaker at the event, which included hurdles, wheelchair slalom, softball/tennis throw, long jump, obstacle course and more. Dedicated to promoting social inclusion through shared sports training and competition experiences, Unified Sports is part of Special Olympics and joins people with and without intellectual disabilities on the same team. It was inspired by a simple principle: training together and playing together is a quick path to friendship and understanding.
The event was held at Hare Chevrolet Field and approximately 200 Noblesville Schools students (with and without intellectual disabilities) representing Noblesville High School, East Middle School, West Middle School, Hinkle Creek Elementary and Stony Creek Elementary attended. Noblesville is one of only five school districts in the state who have an event like this.

Noblesville High School Assistant Band Director Bethany Robinson returns to secure talent and serve as the onsite host during each of the concerts. ## Noblesville West Middle School student...

Holly Golightly takes first place for video on deforestation

Holly Golightly, a seventh grader at Noblesville West Middle School in Noblesville, Indiana, won first place and was awarded $500 for a video she created on deforestation for the “World of 7 Billion” international student video contest sponsored by Population Connection.

Holly’s video “Why Take it All Away?” was inspired by a book she read in elementary school about deforestation and its impact on the rainforest. She said that before creating her video, she was aware of population growth and its impact but was surprised to learn how population specifically affects deforestation. Holly, who enjoys art, decided to illustrate her video with her own sketches.

“Don’t think of the video as a just a school project but rather look at the video as a means to educate others on a specific topic,” Hollyadvises future participants in the contest.

In her free time, Holly enjoys playing soccer and spending time with her dog, Pepper. Holly aspires to be either a teacher or a guidance counselor. This summer, Holly will travel to Peru with her school through the No Barriers group. She is looking forward to learning about Peruvian culture. She wants to use some of her prize money to purchase souvenirs.

Sixteen U.S. and one Belgian student earned the top spots in the “World of 7 Billion” video contest this year. The competition included nearly 2,000 video submissions from middle and high school students from 28 countries and 44 U.S. States and territories. The videos explored population growth as it relates to deforestation, public health, and water scarcity. Winners received cash prizes and their work was displayed online.

“This contest creates an opportunity for youth to use videos to highlight some of the environmental and social threats facing our world,” said John Seager, President of Population Connection. “Every year, participating students from around the country and the world not only share this message but give us hope with their passion and creativity.”

The contest was organized and promoted during the 2015-16 school year by Population Education, a program of Population Connection; submissions were due February 25, 2016. A panel of 47 judges—including college and high school educators, filmmakers, and professionals working in relevant fields—selected the finalists.

Jonathan Byrd’s closing Greenwood restaurant, moving to Grand Park

Jonathan Byrd's is moving north from Greenwood to Grand Park.

The Indianapolis Business Journal reported Friday that the restaurant - which IBJ called a "south side institution" - will close its longtime location in Greenwood as it prepares to launch a new restaurant in Grand Park. It's another move by Jonathan Byrd's to solidify its relationship with the Westfield's rapidly growing sports complex.

In April, Jonathan Byrd's announced it entered a multi-year partnership with the City of Westfield, Indiana, to manage the commercial business and marketing of the Grand Park Events Center, set to open in July. The company's Event and Entertainment division will manage all aspects of the Grand Park Events Center business, including event scheduling, sponsorship coordination, consumer marketing, special event production, communications, activation logistics, account services and vendor procurement.

Jonathan Byrd's relationship with Grand Park began in earnest last July, when it got the naming rights to the complex's new fieldhouse.

For their newest CD, Nine Is the Magic Number, Joel and Nick called upon the talents of saxophonist Sean Imboden and drummer Brian Yarde, recording the entire album in only one day. ## Northview Church and RecycleForce partner to host electronics drive

Northview Church is partnering with RecycleForce to host an electronics drive on Saturday, May 21, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the East Parking Lot of Northview Church's Carmel Campus. The community is encouraged to bring electronic or battery-operated items such as cell phones, printers, microwaves and more. For a complete list of products that can be recycled at this event, please visit recycleforce.org.

The community's donations at this drive will aid formerly incarcerated individuals in obtaining and keeping jobs through work opportunities provided by RecycleForce.

Melissa Farmer, shipping and receiving manager at RecycleForce, is a success story of this organization. Farmer, a former felon, started out as a temporary hire and has been promoted multiple times, landing her in her current role.

"Felons can change their lives if given a chance," Farmer said. "And RecycleForce gives us that chance. I would probably be in prison and back on drugs if it wasn't for RecycleForce and the love they've shown me."

RecycleForce, a 501(c)3 organization, is a social enterprise offering some of the most comprehensive and innovative recycling services around while providing life-changing workforce training to formerly incarcerated individuals. Taking the electronic waste and other recyclables provided by residents and corporate partners, RecycleForce deconstructs these items, recycles the materials and disposes of the waste safely and cleanly. The scrap metals and other reusable materials collected in this process are then sold to help pay for job training programs and employment opportunities for formerly incarcerated men and women in order to support their re-entry back into society.

North of 146h Street to Allisonville Road...

State Road 37 pavement preservation project continues in Noblesville

Contractors for the Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) are continuing a $3.4 million contract to preserve pavement on two sections of State Road 37 in Hamilton, Madison and Grant Counties.

E & B Paving will patch and seal existing pavement on State Road 37 north of 146th Street to Allisonville Road on Sunday night before milling part of the existing surface and applying an ultra-thin bonded wearing course starting Monday night. This work will require recurring nightly lane closures through the week between 9 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Milling and paving crews have been working south from a section of State Road 37 in Madison and Grant counties between State Road 26 to State Road 28 and will be finishing the application of the wear course to turn lanes this week. Motorists on this two-lane section should be alert for slow and/or stopped traffic as flaggers direct traffic around a mobile work zone during daylight hours.

All work on the project is expected to be complete in July.

About ultra-thin bonded wearing courses

Ultra-thin bonded wearing courses consist of applying a thick coat of polymer-modified liquid asphalt, which provides flexibility, immediately followed by paving a thin layer of hot mix asphalt, which provides strength.

The surface treatment is intended to preserve and extend the life of higher-traffic roadways by about 9 years, depending on traffic volumes.

The one-pass application is a fast-moving operation that allows traffic to drive on the surface treatment within minutes and causes minimal traffic delays.

Community invited for grand opening of Saxony Hall

Last fall Fishers Parks & Recreation announced construction on a new facility, Saxony Hall, situated on Saxony Lake and Beach. Just in time for the 2016 season, the City of Fishers is excited to announce the grand opening of Saxony Hall on Thursday, May 26th from 4 to 6 p.m. During the grand opening, residents are invited to explore the 4,500 sq. ft. building and learn more about its features and availability for private event rentals.

"I'm constantly challenging our parks staff to identify and solve unmet needs in our community," said Mayor Scott Fadness. "Saxony Hall is a vibrant addition to our community offering practical uses for residents and visitors."

During the grand opening various preferred vendors will be onsite as residents visualize how the facility can meet their diverse event needs. Though the beach won't be open for the season yet, residents will be able to explore how the atmosphere and ambiance at Saxony can enhance their upcoming celebrations.

"Saxony Hall is great addition to our park system," stated Fishers Parks & Recreation Director, Tony Elliott. "The facility ensures we can offer residents programming and rental options in the northeast area of our community, and the space can be transformed to meet a variety of event needs."

Saxony Hall is available for private rentals, and individuals interested in learning more should contact the Saxony Hall events coordinator at (317) 677-2812 or visit the website at www.Fishers.in.us/SaxonyHall.

HCC boys track and field meet...

County teams pick up wins; Bray, Rogers get new records

By RICHIE HALL
Reporter Sports Editor

Avon ran away with the Hoosier Crossroads Conference boys track and field trophy on Friday, but the other HCC teams managed to get their names in the books at the meet, which took place at Hamilton Southeastern.

The Orioles scored 135.5 points to earn first place, with the host Royals scoring 98.5 to place second. Fishers was next with 83.5, Westfield finished not far behind with 82. Noblesville scored 63 points.

"I think Avon's an excellent team," said HSE coach Chris Swisher. "I thought going in, us and Zionsville had a shot, but we definitely had to bring our 'A' game and would've needed help from some of the other teams to win some events. With that said, I think we came out with a pretty solid performance, but Avon is a really good team."

Southeastern won two events, including a record-setting effort by Ethan Bray in the pole vault. Bray eclipsed his own record in the high-flying event with a new vault of 16 feet, 2 inches. Bray bettered the mark he set last year by one-quarter inch.

"I've been injured most of the season, so I haven't been able to get over 16 until this meet," said Bray. "So it's a big confidence booster to be able to do it again and it feels great."

The Royals' other winner was Gabe Fendel, who paced the 3200 run in a time of 9:29.67. Fendel had just run the Mini-Marathon last week, so he admitted to being "a little tired." Fendel also has long-distance plans for the sectional which takes place Thursday at Carmel.

"I'm going to double for the mile (1600) and two mile (3200), and then see what happens there," said Fendel.

Avon won six events at the meet, with Brownsburg taking four. All of the other schools triumphed in one event.

Fishers had a big night from Noah Rogers, as he won the long jump with a new record distance. Rogers' winning leap of 23 feet, 3-1/2 inches broke last year's mark of 23 feet, 2-1/4 inches, set by HSE's Tiger Guillory. Matthieu Picard took second for Fishers in the 110 hurdles, with Peter Werling the runner-up in the 800 run.

Westfield got a victory from Evan Manley, who zoomed to the finish in 22.59 seconds in the 200 dash. Manley also had a nice performance in the 100 dash, where he placed second in 11.16, and was also part of the Shamrocks' second-place 4x100 relay, with Chris Zolto, Dorian Henson and Nolan Rodgers.

Westfield's Alec Hartman was second in the 1600 run, just missing Zionsville's Oliver Rigg by 0.08 seconds. Hartman finished in 4:23.31. The 'Rocks 4x800 team of Sam Henthorn, Desmond Herrell, Nick Leahy and Aaron Bennett was fourth, but at 7:59.10, broke the eight-minute mark.

The Millers' Eric Ferguson continued his solid year in the throwing events. Ferguson defended his conference championship in the discus with a toss of 160 feet, 10 inches, marking the second time in a week that he has bettered the 160-foot mark. Ferguson also took second in the shot put, with a best effort of 48 feet, 11-1/2 inches.

"It's a confidence builder coming into your next meet, for sure," said Ferguson of breaking 160 feet twice in the discus.

Hamilton Southeastern's Ethan Bray set a new Hoosier Crossroads Conference record in the pole vault at Friday's boys track and field meet at Reynolds Royals Stadium. Bray broke his own record with a vault of 16 feet, 2 inches.

Noblesville's Jalen Garner was runner-up in the 300 hurdles, while Eric Hoffman placed second and Max Runningen third in the 3200 run. Also of note was the third-place finish of the Millers' 4x800 relay team of Gavin Miller, Levi Neuzerling, Cole Martin and Runningen, in a time of 7:56.22. It's the first time this season Noblesville has finished under eight minutes in the event.

Pagenaud wins pole for Angie's List Grand Prix

Simon Pagenaud is the hottest driver in the Verizon IndyCar Series, and he stayed that way on Friday in qualifying for the Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis.

Pagenaud turned a lap of 1 minute, 8.6868 seconds (127.832 mph) in Firestone Fast Six qualifying to take the Verizon P1 Award, his second pole of the season. The series points leader is on a two-race win streak, including a win from the pole three weeks ago at Barber Motorsports Park in his No. 22 Menards Team Penske Chevrolet.

"It's fantastic," said Pagenaud, who also won the inaugural Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis in 2014. "It's not that simple, it's a lot of work in the background. I just want to take my hat off to my engineer Ben Bretzman for giving me a monster car every time. Firestone also - as soon as I put those Firestone red tires on the car, she became magical, as we imagined. It's a lot of fun for me right now, the whole team is functioning so well."

Race strategist Kyle Moyer had Pagenaud run just one lap in each of the three qualifying segments on the 14-turn, 2.439-mile IMS road course. In the Firestone Fast Six, Charlie Kimball turned the second fastest lap at 1:08.9816 (127.286 mph) in his No. 83 Tresiba Chevrolet for Chip Ganassi Racing Teams. Graham Rahal will start third after a lap of 1:09.1816 (126.918 mph) in the No. 15 Steak 'n Shake Honda of Rahal Letterman Lanigan with Theodore Racing. Rounding out the top six were James Hinchcliffe, Josef Newgarden and Jack Hawksworth.

Will Power, last year's Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis champion and polesitter, will start 12th after failing to advance to the Firestone Fast Six, though he did set the track record with a lap of 1:08.6746 in the first segment of qualifying before failing to advance out of the second segment.

"It was just a mistake, I touched the wall going into Turn 12," Power said of his last qualifying lap in the No. 12 Verizon Team Penske Chevrolet. "I was on time, good enough to get there. I just locked up, went in the grass, got out of the way and was all over the marbles. We'll do our best tomorrow."

Tony Kanaan, Juan Pablo Montoya and Scott Dixon, all Indianapolis 500 champions, will start seventh, eighth and ninth. Three-time Indy 500 champion Helio Castroneves will start 15th. Noblesville's Conor Daly will start 22nd.

Rain or shine, the Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis will go green at 3:50 p.m. today. Tickets are available in covered areas of the grandstands on the main straightaway and Turn 1 of the oval.

Fans attending Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis encouraged to 'Plan Your Visit' with IMS.com

Fans attending the third annual Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway on Saturday, May 14, are encouraged to "Plan Your Visit" at IMS.com/planyourvisit. The new and interactive IMS web page will be the home base for fans headed to the track for the entire Month of May.

On the Plan Your Visit page, fans will find an event schedule, track map, directions to the track and gate regulations. Fans can also find that information on the redesigned IMS Mobile app available on iPhone and Android App Stores.

"Plan Your Visit is a great resource for fans headed to the Indianapolis Motor Speedway to see the stars of the Verizon IndyCar Series in action," said IMS President J. Douglas Boles. "Make sure to visit the page before this weekend's Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis and for all of the action at the track this Month of May."

IMS has worked closely with the Speedway Police Department, as well as other law enforcement agencies to revamp certain parts of the traffic plan for IMS events. All Speedway patrons should be aware of the following to assure a successful Race Day:

- Free public parking: Fans seeking to take advantage of free parking must enter through Gate 10 and access the facility via 30th Street. They will be directed to North 40 parking. This is the only free parking option and is available while space remains.
- Pedestrian Gate Entry: The following gates are available for pedestrian entry and walk-up cash ticket purchases: 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7 South, 9, 10A and 12.
- Gate 2 & Credentialed Parking: Fans should know that Gate 2 is not accessible via car without a credentialed parking pass. In addition, if you have a Turn 3 credentialed parking pass, you must enter through Gate 10 and not Gate 2.

Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis Race Day road closures

In an effort to increase the safety and security of race patrons, the Speedway Police Department will close Georgetown Road and 16th Street to all vehicular traffic during the running of the Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis.

Georgetown Road will be closed south of 25th Street beginning approximately one hour prior to the start of the race. After Georgetown Road is closed, no vehicular traffic, including placarded traffic, will be allowed to access the road way. Those race patrons with placards who are accustomed to entering IMS Gate 7 will have to enter through Gate 2 (W. 16th Street) or Gate 10 (30th Street).

Local residents who reside on this stretch of Georgetown Road are encouraged to make provisions for this temporary traffic restriction as vehicles will not be permitted to access Georgetown Road from McCray Street, 24th Street, and all other access points in this area.

Upon completion of the race, Georgetown Road will remain closed to vehicular traffic until the vast majority of race pedestrian foot traffic clears from the roadway (approximately one hour after the race).

In addition, 16th Street will also be closed during the Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis between Olin Avenue on the east to the 16th Street roundabout on the west from approximately one hour prior to the start of the race until the race concludes. In addition, 16th Street will not be accessible from Polco Street, as it will be blocked at 10th Street.

Traffic traveling east on Crawfordsville Road from the west will be turned around at the 16th Street roundabout. Traffic traveling west on 16th Street from downtown will be diverted south on Olin Avenue.

In addition, the Speedway Police Department wants local residents and motorists to be aware that a number of parking restrictions will be in place for the Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis weekend. For a complete list, visit http://www.speedwayin.gov/egov/documents/1460213339\_28801.pdf

Angie's List Grand Prix of Indianapolis weekend road closure restrictions and additional security measures are established to ensure the safety of residents, businesses and visitors during and after IMS events. The Indianapolis Motor Speedway and the Speedway Police Department appreciate everyone's cooperation during these temporary restrictions.

Additional resources and information

Drivers can learn the locations of work zones and highway restrictions by calling INDOT's TrafficWise at 1-800-261-ROAD (7623) or viewing an online map at www.TrafficWise.IN.gov. ISP will offer updates on traffic and parking on Twitter and Facebook.

No coolers larger than 18 inches by 14 inches by 14 inches can be brought into the facility, which will be strictly enforced. Fans will be allowed to bring one cooler and one standard backpack or book bag per person.
